Will Be Impossible to Make Conviction so Dismissal Asked

Evangelist, her mother, accomplice and radio operator to be freed on felony charge---Mirs. Ormiston in Australia says she wants divorce

LOS ANGELES, December 31 .- Dismissal of the criminal conspiracy charges against Aimee Semple McPherson, the notorious evangelist, was forecast as District Attorney Asa Keyes prepared to place his case before the Grand Jury investigating the defendant's disappearance. That the prosecution would move to dismiss the felony charges against Mrs. McPherson, her mother, Mrs. Kennedy, and Mrs. Lorraine Wiseman Sielaff was indicated when Keyes declared that the case was in such a muddle that a conviction was almost impossible.

A cable to the Los Angeles Times from Sydney. Australia, quotes Mrs. Ruth Ormiston, estranged wife of Kenneth Ormiston, co-defendent in the Mc-Pherson case, as saying that she is in possession of a most important letter purported to have been written during the disappearance. While refusing to disclose the contents of the letter, Mr.s. Ormiston sald that she inteded to use it when she returns to Los Angeles early next year in order to institute divorce proceedings against the former Angelus Temple radio operator.

The surrounding communities tributary to the district have as well benefitted in a generally improved state of affairs.

Interspensed with a good deal of humor, the good wishes of the community were conveyed to the bride and groom by Rev. J. Gillett, Robert Ridley, Matthew Yeomans, Capt. Dawson, Henry Edenshaw. L. H. CANADIAN LEGION'S NEW YEAR.

We were sitting down together, our hearts packed full of cheer. Enjoying Merry Christmas, yet thinking of New Year. Some friends of mine walked up to me and broadmindedly expressed Their thanks to all our guardians all of whom had stood the test.

They told of our chief magistrate who'd seen us safely policed. And praises gave to Santa Claus who our kiddles fully feasted. Of the Chief of Police, our Councillors, all wise men of this west, God bless you all our fathers, you freely gave your best.

They spoke of all our roses dear returned from No Man's Land. Their motherly caresses, the cunning of their hand. And their voices turned to melody when this they tried to tell: "Thank God for all our nurses, they've moulded Heaven from Hell."

And then they sang another song to each and every one, Of our doctors who this holiday we'd kept upon the run. They would not go with us below, their's was the upper deck. They staunchly stuck to duty and saved our ship from wreck.

Said a Scotchman sitting close beside, apparently quite witty: "We've Irish and English here and Scotchmen in our city. The English and the Irish played hell on Christmas Eve: Just wait till New Year's Day comes round, we've something up our sleeve."

I admitted that all stores in town their stocks we had depleted. His ambitions at the vendors we also had defeated. To church and child, to halt and blind, we also freely gave, What more can any Scotchman do-"then watched his face grow grave."

Then pointing to ten nickles said, "This is our big Jack pot, Tomorrow all the city will help us spend the lot."

I failed to mention Taffy, but him I ve not forgot, No better class Canadian in this city have we got. He's just packed full of sunshine, never failed me yet. In spite of all our dry days here, he's always kept me wet.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE ON XMAS EVE WAS FINE

SKIDEGATE, Dec. 31 .- A grand conpublic school on Christmas Eve. All were agreed that the event did credit to the young teacher, M. E. Newman.

The mission boat Thomas Crosby called at all the ports around the Inlet and took everyone to Queen Charlotte City and back again, the result being that there was not standing room in the church when the concert opened.

The program included a cantata and there was also a Christmas tree. There are thirty pupils at the Queer. Charlotte City school.

EDITOR EVENS

SOMETIMES IT DOESN'T PAY TO CRITICIZE YOUR HOME TOWN NEWSPAPER

A West Texas editor got tired of being called a liar because of an occasional typographical error or a slight disarrangement of the facts in publishing a commonplace news item. In his wrath

"A lot of people in this town fall out with the editor and brand him a liar when the ordinary mistake of life shows up in the paper. You have a little charity and fellow feeling for every man in town but your editor. You claim that you want facts and d-d if we don't get them to you. Read the next issue of this sheet and you will see facts, with the bark off.

"I admit that I have been a liar, an editorial liar, ever since I have been editing this sheet, but I have never printed a lie in these columns except to keep somebody's feelings from being hurt. I am not afraid of any of you and I'll be dad-blamed if I don't print the truth from now on, or until some of you get out of the habit of calling me a liar every time I make some unavoidable typographical error. Now watch my smoke."
