LIBERAL GOVERNMENT RETURNS TO POWER

WITH PROGRESSIVE SUPPORTERS WILL FORM STABLE GOVERNMENT OTTAWA

Liberal Government Returned To Again Administer Affairs of Dominion by Good Majority

Stable Government Insured for Several Years as Result of Election Yesterday in Which Meighen Defeated

MINISTERS FAIL OF RE-ELECTION

Premier Must Resign and Give Place to Mackenzie King Following Clear Verdict Yesterday

OTTAWA, Sept. 13.—The Meighen Government was defeated at the polls yesterday and the Liberal party and its allies are again triumphant. Returns at present available do not indicate whether the Liberal party will have a clear majority over all others, but such seems probable. Counting the Liberal-Progressives and the Independent Liberals, there will be a majority large enough to insure stable government for the next few years.

Premier Meighen himself and five of his ministers went down to defeat, and it is thought the Premier will tender his resignation at once and Mackenzie King will be called upon by the Governor General to form a cabinet. Before taking any action Mr. Meighen will consult with members of his cabinet. A Liberal-Progressive coalition is suggested, but in any event the Liberal-Progressives will support the Government and some of the members of other groups.

The latest standing of the parties as indicated by the more or less incomplete returns gives the following:

Liberals	118
Conservatives	91
Liberal-Progressives	11
United Farmers of Alberta	11
Progressives	7
Labor	3
Independents	2
To Hear from	2

The places yet to hear from are Kindersley and Last Mountain in Saskatchewan. The Independents elected are Neill of Comox-Alberni and Bourassa, both with Liberal leanings.

MINISTERS DEFEATED
The members of the Meighen cabinet who were defeated are Patenaude, minister of justice; Andre Fauteux, solicitor general; Eugene Paquet, minister of health and soldiers re-establishment; D. Sutherland, without portfolio, and R. D. Morand, without portfolio.

All the members of the former Mackenzie King cabinet who stood for re-election were returned.

Mackenzie King received the election returns by special wire with quiet satisfaction. With a small group of personal friends, he learned the results which favored the Liberal cause.

Following are winning candidates in Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, B.C. and Ontario:

LAST MOUNTAIN GOES PROGRESSIVE.
REGINA, Sept. 15.—Returns from the constituency of Last Mountain show the election of Fansher, Progressive.

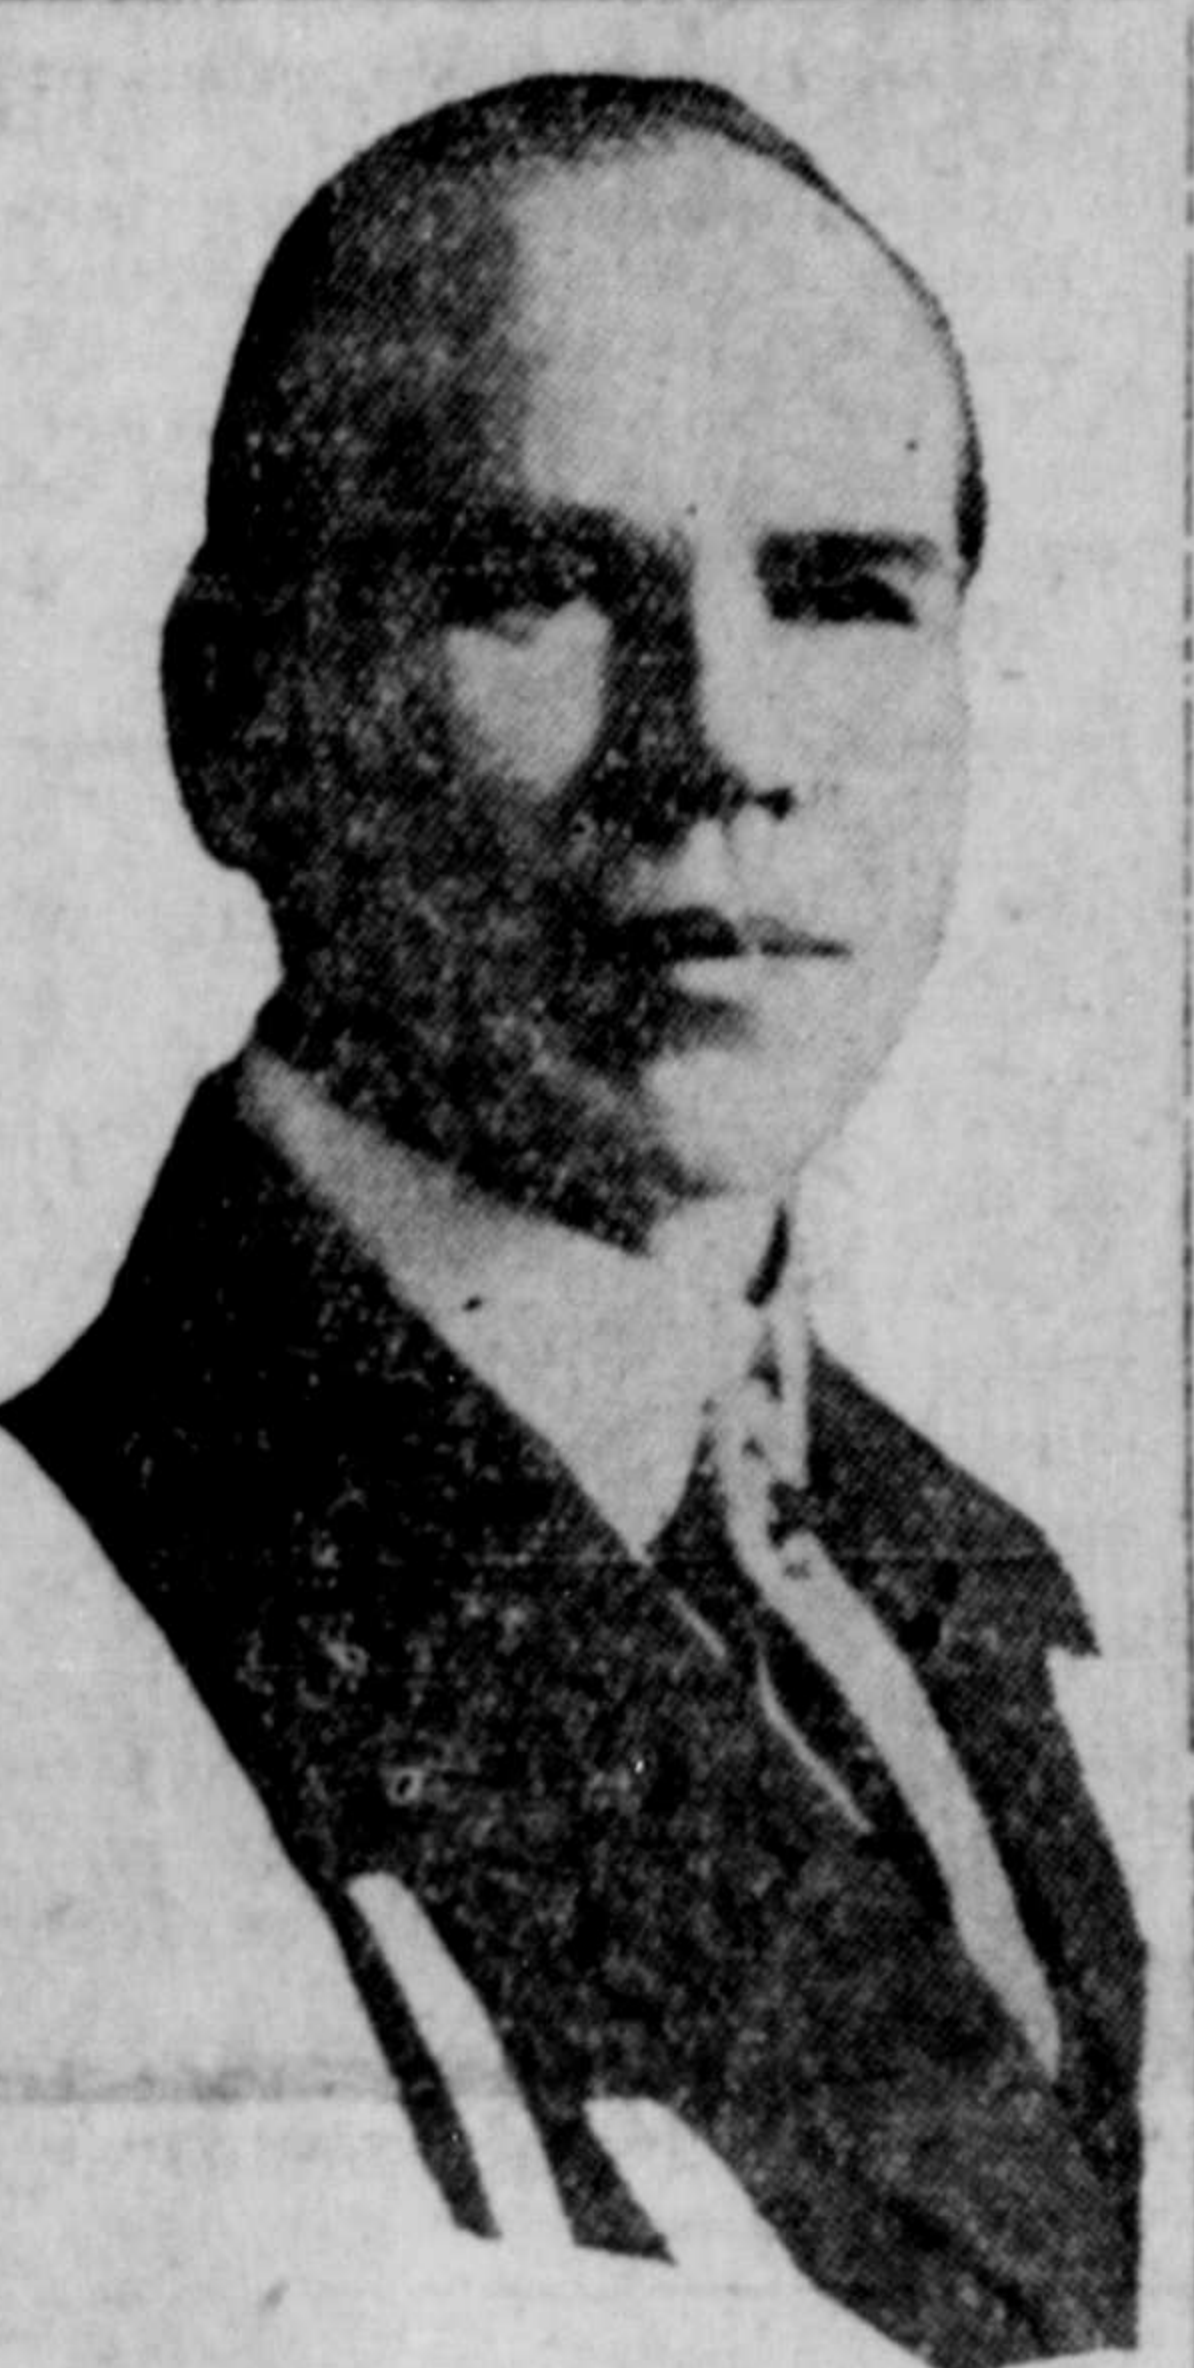

PRINCE EDWARD ISLAND
Kings—Hon. J. A. Macdonald, Conservative.
Prince—A. E. McLean, Liberal.
Queens—R. H. Jenkins and Hon. J. E. Sinclair, Liberals.
One Liberal gain.

NOVA SCOTIA
Antigonish-Guyboro—Hon. J. C. Douglas, Conservative.
Cape Breton-North Victoria—Dr. L. W. Johnstone, Conservative.
Cape Breton South—Finlay MacDonald, Conservative.

As the results stood this afternoon, Mr. King falls short of a clear Liberal majority, requiring at least 124 members but in the normal course of events a Liberal-Progressive cabinet would carry with it 18 Progressives and Liberal-Progressives elected yesterday and already there is talk of a Liberal-Progressive coalition.

ADMISSIONS TO FAIR GREATER THAN LAST YEAR
Six hundred and twenty-four adults and 83 children paid admissions totalling $324.70 at the Exhibition last night as compared with 524 adults and 144 children who paid $145.50 at the opening night last year.

Dancing and Vaudeville at Exhibition Hall this Evening

Vaudeville and jive dancing to the famous Calgary Rainbow Orchestra, as well as specialty dances are the side attractions at the fair tonight. Will Lea, the comedian, is making a decided hit. His program tonight will consist of vaudeville turns of a most humorous character. Misses Edna Ireland and Elizabeth McLeod give dancing specialties that are most entertaining and the music for this is by Thomas Reid, Reeve of Surrey, who is an expert with the pipes. He will also play bagpipe selections. The hall is so arranged that dancing can be enjoyed without interfering with the exhibition visitors and a large crowd is expected. The admission is 25 cents.

E. r y Returns Indicate that J. C. Brady is Elected Member for Skeena in House of Commons

J. C. Brady has been elected to represent Skeena in the next House of Commons, although the returns are not all in and until they arrive it is impossible to say anything definitely. Until the time of going to press these will be coming and no totals can well be given, but it seems clear that a substantial majority of the electors have voted for Brady. He will in all probability be the new member.

The election arrangements went off smoothly at the auditorium yesterday and one feature was the large number of women who voted and who, presumably, turned out to support the Conservative candidate. The votes were

F. G. Dawson Declares People Made Mistake in Voting as They did at Polls Yesterday

Considers They Did Worse Yesterday Than When They Voted Against Hydro-Electric Scheme Ten Years Ago.—"Thanks For the Buggy Ride."

F. G. Dawson, who has always taken a keen interest in the welfare of Prince Rupert and has been a consistent Liberal and supporter of a forward policy for years, was seen by a representative of the Daily News this morning and asked for an opinion on the result of yesterday's election. He spoke rather forcefully in regard to the local situation as follows:

"It is absolutely inconceivable to me how the electorate of Prince Rupert could possibly vote against Fred Stork as they did. Ten years ago Sir George Foster (Conservative) was here when Mr. Pattullo was elected and the Provincial Government assumed office. He stated at that time that Prince Rupert was a city that lay under a curse. We all at that time of course took exception to his statement. Today I join with him in his expression of opinion. He prophesied better than he knew. The electorate of Skeena and particularly of Prince Rupert have demonstrated to my entire satisfaction that he was entirely right.

"After what the Liberal government

Prince Rupert Fair Opened Last Evening Before Large Crowds

Hon. T. D. Pattullo Expresses Gratification at Display and Urges Encouragement of Agriculture

"Great as our timber and mining industries in British Columbia may be, the time is coming when agriculture will be more important than any of them," declared Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands and member of the Legislature for Prince Rupert, in opening the fourteenth Prince Rupert Exhibition last night. Mr. Pattullo referred with gratification to the increasing progress and importance of agriculture in this district as indicated in successive Prince Rupert fairs. Agricultural production, Mr. Pattullo declared, should be encouraged in every way possible and one of the best means of giving such encouragement was through exhibitions. The speaker stated that it was with a great deal of pleasure he saw such a splendid exhibit from the Fraser Valley in Prince Rupert and, without further preliminaries, declared the fourteenth annual exhibition of the Northern B.C. Agricultural and Industrial Association open to the public. Mr. Pattullo then presented a prize of $10 to Miss Irma Nelson for the best progress made in swimming this year and promised that he would offer another similar prize next year. A cup was also presented to Miss Myra Harvey for 25 yards swimming championship.

Ami-ta-ya To' -O-G... s.p. lisa. 60
There was a large crowd in attendance at the first night of the Fair. Though the hall has been arranged in such a manner as to provide more particularly for the staging of carnival features, the general appearance of the place is much improved over past years. Practically all the exhibits have been placed on the upstairs balconies and downstairs around the sides are the commercial and manufacturing booths including L. Murray Fuller's lunch counter, P. Burns' display, J. Bourne Bros., Kaitum Garage, Mrs. Clark's palmistry parlor, postal exhibit, Raleigh Good Health Products, 46 Musselmen Grocery Co. refreshment stand, F. G. Dawson Ltd., Big Bay Lambert Co., manual training, Swift Canadian Co., Indian section and the splendid Fraser Valley exhibit. Outside at the rear are the usual midway concessions.

Some of the judging had been completed last night but in a number of classes awards have not yet been made. The prize lists will be appearing daily until the end of the week. After the opening formalities last night, dancing was indulged in to music furnished by the Imperial Rainbows Orchestra of Calgary. Many persons remained in the building until late to watch the election results which were bulletined throughout the evening.

BANTAM CHAMP IS SUSPENDED

CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—"In order to protect boxing" the Illinois Athletic Commission today disqualified and suspended for life Phil Rosenberg, bantam-weight champion of the world, and handed the title to Bud Taylor, who was scheduled to meet its holder in a bout here Thursday.

The commission said Rosenberg and Harry Segal, manager of all the boxers who trained with the champion, was also suspended because the rules pertaining to forfeits was ignored "after our commission was considered enough to grant several days grace and further because of the injection of political and other influences pertaining to our appointment of a referee."

DAILY EDITION

WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 15, 1926.

Glorious Victory For Liberalism.

It was a glorious victory for Liberalism. Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King will be premier again directly. Hon. Arthur Meighen is down and out. Liberalism is triumphant almost everywhere except in British Columbia, the province which benefited most from the administration of the Liberal Government. Ontario, the old stronghold of Conservatism is seeing the light and turning once more to the Liberals for help.

It is a glorious victory for it means the carrying out of Liberal policies such as a democratic country like this needs.

Congratulations to Conservative Member.

The Conservative member and the Conservative party in Prince Rupert are to be congratulated on their success. It is somewhat of an empty honor with the return of the Liberals to power, but it is a political success anyway and is largely the result of good organization, hard work and the plentiful use of money.

We believe that Mr. Brady will do his duty as he sees it at Ottawa and will do his best to serve the constituency well. He has promised a degree of independence in Parliament and we hope he will exercise that and not be driven by the party lash to oppose measures which are for the country's good. He has always spoken against blind adherence to party. Now we hope for an object lesson on how a member can show his independence at Ottawa.

Sovereign People Gave Decision.

Yesterday the sovereign people gave their decision who was to represent them in Parliament during the coming term. From the returns now in it seems as if they have chosen J. C. Brady. To that decision all must bow. We have just what we ask for.

Fred Stork is probably defeated. He has worked faithfully for the constituency and got more for it, according to its size, than any member got for his constituency in the whole Dominion and he got the usual reward for his work. He was turned down in the hour of triumph just when the city was awaiting the arrival of the first train load of wheat for the elevator which he secured.

However, in politics, there is no such thing as gratitude. Vancouver secured large appropriations from the Government, appropriations which helped to make it the prosperous city it is today, yet it too voted down the Liberal candidates. People do not reason. They vote according to the present mood or the fad of the hour.

What of Governor Who Turned Down King?

What of the Governor General who refused to take the advice of the people's representative and called on Hon. Arthur Meighen to form a government? His action has been repudiated by the people who rule. If he has any sense of delicacy he will resign at once. He took the power into his own hands temporarily and it has been wrested from him by the vote of the sovereign people. What action will he take? There is but one decent thing to do and that is to vacate at once. As long as he acted constitutionally he could do no wrong, for the ministers took the blame. The moment he acted on his own initiative, he became an active participant in the political life of the country and should abide by the result.

CROW CAMPAIGN IS BEING CRITICIZED BY VICTORIA PAPER

(Victoria Colonist)
The campaign for the destruction of crows in British Columbia has proved largely an abortive one, and it is an exceedingly good thing for the province that this should be the case. The number of crows that have fallen to the prowess of bounty hunters is negligible. The crows are with us still despite a Government ukase that they should be exterminated. It is a dispensation where Providence has taken issue with the decree of man. It is recalled in connection with the recurring periods of invective against crows that early in the last century, the farmers of several New England States had a law passed placing a bounty on the heads of crows. At that time thousands of the birds were slaughtered. Readers of Longfellow will find, in his "Birds of Killingworth," the result of this campaign. The destruction of crows caused such a plague of insects that the farmers were saved the necessity of harvesting their crops. The crow law was hastily repealed.

In Ontario, and particularly in Wellington County, thousands of acres of turnips and barley, etc., are being destroyed by insects. Experts of the government have been experimenting in the use of enormous quantities of nicotine in the effort to kill the pests and save the crops, but the results have been largely nugatory. It is probable that the campaign against crows is the cause of the pest, for it has been carried on intensively in Ontario. The farmers of Wellington County are beginning to realize this, and there is a reaction against the propaganda of crow killing. Crows, no doubt, eat grain and other products of the field, but on the other hand they are potent agents in the destruction of insect pests. In fact, most naturalists who have studied the subject believe that crows are a necessary factor in Nature's dispensation, and it is interesting to note that Nature has gained the upper hand in British Columbia, and that the crow-killing campaign has had such infinitesimal results as to be almost negligible.

AIRPLANE LANDING FIELDS IN ALASKA

Twenty-Five Already Constructed in Territory From Funds Provided By Legislature.

Juneau, Sept. 14.—By the end of the present season 25 airplane landing fields will have been constructed, mainly from Territorial funds made available by the 1925 legislature, it was made known by Highway Engineer R. J. Sommers who returned home after an absence of three months in the field.

Twenty-three of the fields are completed and are in service. Mr. Sommers said. Two others will be finished before work is suspended for the winter. The first fields were built last year when five were put into commission. These were located at Lake Minchumina, Takotna, Flat, Ruby, Livengood, Wiseman and Fort Yukon, all in the Fourth Division. Fields were constructed this year at Beaver, Chicken Creek, in the Eagle section, Circle Hot Springs, Chena Hot Springs, Rampart, Chandalar, Manley Hot Springs, American Creek, below the Hot Hot Springs, Nulato, Kantishna, McGrath, Ophid, in the Fourth Division; in the Second Division fields were built at Golovin, Moses Point, on Norton Sound, Unalakleet, Keewalik, and the field at Nome completed. Fields are still to be completed at Circle and at Talida.

Airplane Comes to Stay
The provision of landing facilities at so many points has placed virtually every section of the interior and far north in easy reach of Fairbanks and the Alaska Railroad. Mr. Sommers said. Planes are operating out of Fairbanks regularly, carrying passengers, mail and freight. Their trips are such common occurrences that no more mention is made of them. Everyone has accepted the airplane as an everyday factor in transportation in the interior and it is there to stay, he said. It has brought remote settlements into touch with the larger towns and is playing a big part in reviving the interior mining industry, he added.

SHIPMENTS OF GOLD

1—Each of these barrels contains $50,000 in gold.
2—Weighing the gold against a standard measure; a quicker method of checking than counting.
3—Several millions in gold leaving the Bank for deposit in the Central Gold Reserves.

MOST of the gold coming into Canada at the present time is deposited by the banks with the Government as a guarantee for their note circulation. The Government hold the gold in what is known as the Central Gold Reserves. Under the Bank Act each chartered bank is allowed to issue its own notes in denominations of $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100, up to the amount of its Paid-Up Capital. A restricted extra issue is allowed during the crop moving period, which extends from September to February. If the banks desire to issue notes above the amount of their Paid-Up Capital, the equivalent in gold may be deposited in the Central Gold Reserves as a guarantee of redemption. Prior to the war such shipments were frequent, but during the war and for some time afterwards when the Canadian dollar was at a discount, all shipments of gold were suspended. Recently shipments of gold coins were resumed between the banks in New York and those in Canada. The above pictures show a recent shipment of several million dollars made to the main Montreal office of The Royal Bank of Canada. Gold coins shipped in sturdy little oak kegs, each key is carefully sealed and contains $50,000 made up of ten bags of $5,000 each. The kegs, when full, are heavier than the weight of the average man; they weigh 180 lbs. Upon receipt of a gold shipment, each keg is broken open and each bag of gold is weighed against a standard measure as it is taken from the barrel. This is the usual manner of checking and is quicker than counting

Miss Margaret Lindsay, who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Lindsay, will sail on the Prince George tomorrow night for Vancouver where she will resume training for a nurse in Vancouver General Hospital.

Joseph Russ, Indian, was fined $10 this morning in the city police court for drunkenness. The police reported this morning that it was very orderly in town last night in spite of the fact that it was election night and far opening.

A bonfire set by youngsters just west of the McMorde Apartments caused an alarm to be sent in to the fire department at 9:30 this morning. There was no damage other than the burning of a children's playhouse.

CATHEDRAL WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON

Young Lady From Naas River Becomes Bride of Charles S. Barton of Kincolth

A wedding took place yesterday at 4 p.m. in the St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral when Miss Alexandra Williams of Alyshay, Naas River, became the bride of Charles S. Barton of Kincolth, Rev. J. B. Gibson officiating. The best man was George Barton and the bride was given away by her father, George Williams.

QUALIFYING ROUND OF GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP JASPER PARK COURSE

JASPER, Sept. 15.—Stanley Thompson of the Mississaga Club, Toronto, was top man in the qualifying round of the Jasper Park Lodge Silver totent pole trophy which was played today over the beautiful Jasper course. Mr. Thompson required 83 and scores generally were high because of a stiff wind which came out of the north and handicapped many players.

Following the leader came fifteen entries representing leading clubs in Canada and these sixteen will meet tomorrow in the first round leading to the final on Saturday. The fortunate sixteen are Stanley Thompson, Mississaga, Toronto; Harry Jones, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver; V. G. Cardy, Marlborough, Montreal; D. B. Mulligan, Summerlea, Montreal; C. C. Ronalds, Mount Bruno, Montreal; M. H. Stewart, Edmonton; Ben Cool, St. Andrew's, Calgary; J. G. Gardner, Brockville; B. L. Anderson, Lambton, Toronto; D. G. Grant, Royal, Montreal; Alex. Wilson, Grant, Montreal; Noel Jones, Shaughnessy Heights, Vancouver; Tom Chard, Edmonton Municipal; Hugh Macdonald, Edmonton Golf and Country Club; J. H. Waghorn, Shaughnessy Heights; and Donald Macdonald, Jasper.

FLOWER SHOW IS EXCELLENT

POSSIBILITIES OF CITY ALONG THIS LINE AMPLY DEMONSTRATED AT EXHIBITION

The Flower Show is undoubtedly one of the most attractive features of this year's Exhibition. This class is to be found in the wing of the building in which the government paintings were housed last year. The many varieties of flowers are thus shown off to the best of advantage in cool quarters away from the hum and bustle of the crowds. A quiet visit to the flower corner amply demonstrates the possibilities of Prince Rupert along this line. One of the most commented upon exhibits in this class is the excellent collection of mounted wild flowers entered by Richard Pillsbury of this city who has spent a great deal of time this year in assembling various species of the wild flora of this vicinity.

The prize-winners in the Flower Show are as follows:

- Plants
- Six pots, flowering plants—1, R. L. McLennan.
- Three pots, foliage plants—1, Mrs. A. Akerberg; 2, Mrs. Hellman.
- One pot, tuberous begonia, deciduous—1, R. L. McLennan; 2, Mrs. O. Guelpa.

BIG INSURANCE ON MOVIE STARS WHILE AT WORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—Monetary value of movie stars to producers is indicated, among other ways, by the heavy insurance carried on several of them.

Mary Pickford is one of the most heavily insured women in the world, her policies aggregating $5,000,000.

Douglas Fairbanks, her husband, during the course of production sometimes carries insurance amounting to $2,000,000, the figure being smaller in proportion to the cost of the film, play being made.

Personal insurance of Rudolph Valentino totaled approximately $4,000,000. He always was insured for an amount equal to the cost of the picture being made.

Buster Keaton has increased his personal insurance with the growth of his family. His beneficiaries now include his wife, Natalie Talmadge, their two young sons, and his mother and father.

Samuel Goldwyn, the producer, pays premiums on a $500,000 policy carried on Ronald Colman, one of his stars. Vilma Banky, another, had her eyes insured for $100,000 when the producer brought her to this country several years ago, and also has $250,000 to cover her life.

SPORT CHAT

All boxing records for attendance and gate receipts appear certain to be shattered when Jack Dempsey crawls through the ropes in the Sesqui-Centennial Stadium at Philadelphia to defend his title against the ex-Marine, Gene Tunney, tomorrow.

Rickard reached astonishing promotion heights in 1921 when he attracted a throng of 90,000 fans who paid $1,600,000 to see Dempsey knock out the spectacular Frenchman, Georges Carpentier, in four rounds in the wooden sancer at Boyle's Thirtieth Acres, Jersey City.

It has been only in recent years that boxing, especially in the heavyweight class, has reached such planes of frenzied finance. The era of big bowls and stadiums, plus great popular interest has made million-dollar affairs of these big title bouts.

The title-holder already has earned more than $1,000,000 with his gloved fists, but mismanagement of enterprises in which he was interested cut deeply into his fortune. No matter if he loses his entire pile of money and belongings, he says he never will be an object of a benefit.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Mayor S. M. Newton announced that he will be a candidate at the next federal election for Concho-Alin riding. H. S. Clements is the official Conservative nominee.

Sir Robert Borden, Premier of Canada, has answered a telegram of the mayor to the effect that no objection will be taken at a private concern operating the Prince Rupert dry dock.

Rev. and Mrs. J. B. McCullagh have returned to Aiyansh on the Naas River after a trip to the Old Country.

FAMOUS BATTLES FOR THE HEAVYWEIGHT TITLE

Fought Sharkey

James J. Jeffries defended his title against Tom Sharkey in 25 rounds at Coney Island on November 3, 1889, in a bout that was not satisfactory to either principal.

Both criticized Referee George Siler, Jeffries saying the challenger should have been disqualified, and the loser picturing himself the winner on points.

So much speed was developed when Sharkey pulled the glove from Jeffries' left hand that the referee could not call a halt until several blows had been exchanged with the champion sans one glove.

"No more picture machines for me," was a pronouncement from Jeffries after he had protested the heat caused by the high-powered Klieg lights throughout the bout.

Sharkey was in superb physical shape. So impressed was a writer of the period with the challenger's condition that he penned: "Had a king's ransom or his own life been the stake, Mr. Sharkey could not have asked to be better fitted for the battle."

DEMPSEY RICHEST OF ALL FIGHTERS

Is Assured Close to Half Million Dollars For Coming Fight With Tunney.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Jack Dempsey, assured the staggering sum of $475,000 for engaging Gene Tunney in defence of the world's heavyweight championship at the Panke Stadium on September 16, is the richest of all boxers.

The title-holder already has earned more than $1,000,000 with his gloved fists, but mismanagement of enterprises in which he was interested cut deeply into his fortune. No matter if he loses his entire pile of money and belongings, he says he never will be an object of a benefit.

This is because he has a $200,000 trust fund out of which he will receive $1,000 a month as long as he lives. No matter what happens, the champion cannot touch the $200,000.

Dempsey is under tremendous expense. It cost him around $80,000 to live last year. This included an amount used to offset the deficit in operating his hotel at Los Angeles. Also, the expense of maintaining homes for his mother and father.

The "Manassa Mauler" since knocking Jess Willard over and winning the title in Toledo, O., July 4, 1919, has engaged in five contests, including the Willard fight. Dempsey has fought only forty rounds and has earned $1,104,000, an average of $27,600 per round or $9,200 for every minute in the ring.

The financial statement shows: Jess Willard, 4 rounds, $27,500; Billy Miske, 3 rounds, $62,000; Bill Brennan, 12 rounds, $75,000; George Carpentier, 4 rounds, $300,000; Tommy Gibbons, 45 rounds, $240,000; Luis Firpo, 2 rounds, $100,000.

WONDERFUL LIFE OF POTATO BUGS IS TOLD IN BULLETIN

Dig Themselves in Early in Autumn and Remain Until Next Spring

Nearly everyone who was born in eastern Canada has picked potato bugs. On the prairies they also are plentiful and are usually destroyed by sprinkling the potato tops with Paris Green. The department of agriculture has just written a bulletin about its habits from which it is gathered that the Colorado beetle, as it is properly known, is a most persistent insect. It starts to hibernate in August, September or early October, and turns up ready for business in the spring. In Ottawa, as told by the Entomological branch in Bulletin 52 of the Dominion Department of Agriculture on "The Colorado Potato Beetle in Canada," tests have been made as to length of life of the creature and under what circumstances it will retain vitality.

In wintering cage tests with beetles in New Brunswick several lots were forced into hibernation at an early date by confining them in wire cages on the soil with only enough food for one day. All had burrowed within three days after the food had gone. From three lots put in the cages August 30 and September 5, 205 beetles out of 600 emerged the following spring. Out of 200 put in September 10, 42 emerged and out of 3,320 put in the cages on September 13 and later only 360 emerged in the spring. This would seem to indicate as the bulletin says, that the earlier the pests hibernate in the autumn the better they survive.

The beetles commonly go into the soil immediately below the place where they last fed. In a damp, cold clay loam they have been found within two inches of the surface and none at all below six inches, while in loose, sandy soil only a few hundred feet away none were found at less than 14 inches and some at 17 inches. In a dense gravel loam soil only an occasional beetle was turned out when the plough was cutting 5 inches deep, but a number could be found by digging 3 inches more in the bottom of the furrow.

NEW TREATMENT OF PRISONERS

Sir William Joynson-Hicks Says Short Sentence Is of No Value

TELLS OF EFFORTS

British Attitude Toward Men Detained by State Has Changed of Late

Welcoming delegates to the Prison Congress here, Sir William Joynson-Hicks, on behalf of the British government, spoke of the new movement there in regard to the treatment of prisoners.

"The time has passed," Sir William said, "when an executive government considered it had done its duty to society when it had arrested an offender. In depriving a human being of his liberty, an executive government has undertaken a new responsibility of the very gravest kind, that of the treatment and training of the offender during his incarceration. (Applause.) A man does not lose his rights as a human being because he has broken the law. A man must not come out of prison in such a condition of mind and body that he is no longer fit to take his place in society. The State is free to experiment upon prisoners with mental, moral, and physical forces with a view to their restoration to a state of normal citizenship. This is the present object of every one of our prison administrators."

Interesting Experiments

"In the last few years," Sir William continued, "there has been a striking diminution in the number of persons in prison, notwithstanding that there has been an increase of population in the same period. Fifty years ago there were 20,000 people in local prisons; today there are only 8,000. Fifty years ago there were 10,000 people in penal servitude; today there are 1,600. To that must be added

1,100 young persons in Borstal institutions. There were 113 local prisons; and 43 penal servitude prisons in this country 50 years ago; today there are 31 local prisons, and four penal servitude institutions."

"The reasons for this decrease were to be found in better education, in improved sobriety, and improvement of the standard and condition of living, and also in the care taken by judges and magistrates to make the greatest possible use of the alternative to detention. Two experiments were being conducted at present in regard to prisons. One was that Wormwood Scrubs had been organized on the basis of the idea of a separate establishment for first offenders.

Separate Prisons

"The prison was set aside entirely about two or three months ago for men committed from the London area, who had never been in prison before," added the Home Secretary, "with the object of training them in an environment free from the prison atmosphere. At Wakefield the prison has been kept for those with sentences long enough to enable them to take advantage of the opportunity of industrial training afforded. No one is admitted to this prison with a sentence of less than six months; and an eleven-hour day—nine hours' work and two hours' education—is enforced."

Sir William said that separate confinement had been almost entirely abolished in our English prisons. Systems of voluntary education in which a voluntary education assistant to the prison governor guided the work of his fellow prisoners, had been inaugurated. The classes took place free from the presence of prison officers and warders, and it was regarded as a point of honor among the prisoners to behave themselves and to do their utmost. At one prison a party of public school teachers took a train journey of 25 miles each way in order voluntarily to give instruction to the prisoners in the evening.

Prison Libraries

Prison libraries had been improved out of all knowledge in the last 50 years. Cell windows were now made to open and prisoners were allowed to see visitors naturally, without bars. The object was to promote self-respect by avoiding unnecessary degradation. Instead of stern repression a new system of strenuous training and education had been adopted.

The Home Secretary declared that he was convinced that the short sentence was absolutely useless. (Hear, hear.) A few weeks' imprisonment did not give the authorities a chance, and was not long enough to make people dread the idea of imprisonment. He hoped that the system of probation and fines would be extended so that first offenders should only be sentenced to detention in very serious cases and that when this was necessary the sentence should be long enough to give the prison authorities an opportunity of influencing the offender while in prison.

"It is stated that we import twenty million artificial teeth annually," says Punch, and comments: "It's horrible to think that the only things we can smash at our American debt are American teeth."—Daily Mail.

Wife of Keen Angler: "So glad to make your acquaintance—but my husband gave me the impression that you were very tall!"

Jones: "Ah—but you must remember that he once fished me out of the river."

Quality That Endures

THE fruits of twenty-one years of experience in building motor cars are evident in the world-wide public acceptance of Ford quality as an enduring characteristic.

Enduring quality has enabled the public to buy these products just as it buys other products of established reputation—with the assurance of receiving good value and lasting satisfaction.

Only enduring quality could instill such confidence in the public mind. More than twelve million owners testify that this confidence is well founded.

UNABLE TO HARNESS HORSE IN ONTARIO

TORONTO, Sept. 15.—The Globe, in an editorial on the passing of the horse from the highways to the back concessions tells of two city youths summering in Muskoka who asked plaintively if anyone could harness a horse for them. Young men in the party admitted ignorance of the art. Then two ladies past middle age came forward and volunteered the benefit of their almost forgotten knowledge. They harnessed the horse and their thoughts went back to the days of their father's stable, to the more leisurely times of buggies and victorias. They were Victorians themselves, but they still had something the world needed—at long intervals.

ently prefer to see us remain a fishing village.
"Furthermore it is demonstrated to my entire satisfaction that the more a person does for his community, the less he is appreciated. Let me say that, and as perhaps one of the oldest residents, that so far, as I am concerned (and I am among the largest individual taxpayers of Prince Rupert) and should be as competent as anyone here to express the opinion) the people of Prince Rupert have done probably worse for Prince Rupert than they did in 1913 when they voted down the hydro-electric proposal, at which time they set us back at least 20 years.
"Canada as a nation demonstrated by the ballot that the country is in favor of a Liberal policy, the policy that will make Canada, but apparently Prince Rupert is again out of step.
"It seems uniquely queer that such an apparently enlightened citizenship as we have in Prince Rupert should have so many, apparently unintelligent people."

WE ARE OFFERING A MODEL MODERN OPTICAL PARLOR A GRADUATE EXPERIENCED REGISTERED OPTOMETRIST

TO SERVE YOUR EYE NECESSITIES
It is the great difference in the results obtained from correct methods of examination for defects; the careful attention to filling the prescription and the details so necessary in correct frame fitting that causes our patients to discriminate in favor of glasses fitted in our Optical Parlor. We use modern methods. We try to give courteous service. That's why you will feel so much at ease when you are deciding on a frame that will exactly suit your particular liking.

REMEMBER—No case presents perplexities to one qualified in the Science of Refraction. Consult our Optometrist as you would a friend. The advice will be just as reliable.

"The Sporting Lover"

A drama of the Great War adapted from the spectacular stage success "Good Luck," as produced at Drury Lane Theatre. Hats off to the king of good fellows, a prince among men, who can ride like the devil, fight like the devil and love—yes sir. One lone girl with everything that makes life worth while stakes it all on a man. You will cheer when he comes through. When the drums of war threaten to shake the courage of most men, his mad fights his way to love. Tremendous race course scenes. Life and love staked on a gleaming thoroughbred. The greatest bet ever placed. You've never cheered more for a win that you will this time. Views of Epsom Downs with their majesties, the King and Queen watching the bet from the royal box. Strong cast.

Conway Tearle, Barbara Bedford, Ward Crane, Arthur Rankin, George Ovey, Charles E. McHugh and others.
