AMUNDSEN THINKS THERE IS NO CONTINENT IN NORTH POLAR REGIONS

Pole is Surrounded by Million Square Miles of Water and Ice Fields Declares Raoult Amundsen

Fears for success of Wilkins Expedition but thinks his own flight from Spitzbergen will succeed

VANCOUVER, Feb. 25.—"My experience has taught me that the north pole is surrounded by a million square miles of water and enormous ice fields," stated Raoult Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, in an interview here. He said he regretted that the Wilkins expedition had decided to use airplanes and he said he feared for the safety and success of the expedition on that account. He said he was satisfied that airplanes were useless for polar work at that time of year.

Amundsen expressed confidence that he would be able to fly over the pole from Spitzbergen next May. "Of course I will make it," he said in answer to a question. He said he would be flying in the polar regions at a time when atmospheric conditions would be ideal. He was not only confident of passing over the pole but expects to go from Spitzbergen to Point Barrow in two days and from there proceed on to Nome. From the Alaskan city he proposes to come south to Seattle by steamer.

VANCOUVER, Feb. 25.—Reports of the sale of Spiller's and the Alberta Grain Company's elevators to a British and Canadian syndicate is current here but no confirmation is available. Orient Takes Most of Grain Shipped from Vancouver This Season Says Report Just Issued

Over Forty Million Bushels Sent Out by Western Route so Far This Year Against Sixteen Last Crop

WINNIPEG, Feb. 25.—Of the 1925 crop of western Canada that had been moved to ocean ports up to February 19 practically 40,000,000 bushels went to the port of Vancouver, according to figures issued by the Canadian National Railways here. Of this amount 35,000,000 bushels had been shipped at that date, 44 per cent to the Orient and 56 per cent to Europe via the Panama Canal.

These figures are interesting when compared with those of the previous season which at the same date showed a total of 16,483,930 bushels exported from Vancouver. The destination of this was, however, 16 per cent to the Orient and 84 per cent to Europe.

Bookings at Vancouver between February 19 and March 31 amounted to 2,142,000 bushels for the Orient and 5,099,000 bushels for European ports, which will bring a total grain shipped and booked during the present season up to the end of March to 17,648,671 bushels for the Orient and 21,224,127 bushels for Europe. The same date for the previous season was 3,013,137 against 15,207,785 bushels, showing the tremendous increase in grain exports from the western Canadian port particularly to Oriental countries.

SHIPPING TIED UP BY STORM

Several Vessels Were Reported in Shelter at Bull Harbor this Morning

The storm which raged here during the night seems to have been general along the coast and his morning wireless reports indicated that a number of vessels, particularly the smaller ones, were in shelter from the high winds and heavy seas. The storm is also believed to have been responsible for the fact that no halibut vessels arrived with catches this morning.

Wireless reported this morning the following vessels in shelter at Bull Harbor: Freighter

Salvor; Canadian schooners Norman, Pauline J., and Maid of Hawaii; American schooners Arcade, Fremont, Westford, Mariner, Katana and Thelma No. 2, and four small Canadian trollers.

HOW THIS CITY GOT ITS NAME

Interesting Item in "Twenty Years Ago" Column of Vancouver Province

The following item of local interest appeared in the "Twenty Years Ago" column of the Vancouver Province on February 22: "Prince Rupert will be the name of the city to be created at the Pacific terminal of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Miss E. MacDonald of Winnipeg, a niece of Sir Daniel McMillan, lieutenant governor of Manitoba, suggested the title."

RESIGNS FROM PUBLIC WORKS

P. W. Anderson, Road Foreman For Many Years, Will Re-enter Contracting Business Here

P. W. Anderson, who has been general road foreman for this district with the provincial department of public works for the past nine years, has resigned his position effective the end of this month. The reason for Mr. Anderson's resignation was that the requirements of the district were such that he was unable to give it the supervision demanded.

Mr. Anderson intends to re-enter the general contracting business which he successfully carried on before entering the government service since his first arrival in the city in 1906.

The government service loses in Mr. Anderson an official who has been popular and energetic during his long tenure of office and his many friends will wish him success now that he is re-entering business for himself.

J. E. Milne, who was formerly located on the Queen Charlotte Islands, has been appointed assistant district engineer with headquarters in Prince Rupert and will take over Mr. Anderson's duties.

Owner of Vessel Takes Patriotic Ground For Protest Against Treating Union Jack as Joke When at Mast Head

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25.—If the British embassy seeks information through the state department about the alleged bombardment of the Eastwood, 21 miles off Long Island, the facts will be probed, officials of the treasury department under which the coastguard operates, said yesterday afternoon.

LUNENBURG, Feb. 25.—"I will surely make a formal request to the government at Ottawa," said B. B. Gann, owner of the Eastwood. "I intend to fight this case to the very last, not because of damage to my vessel or expense to myself but because I am a Canadian and will not stand idle and allow any country to treat the Union Jack as a joke when it is hoisted on the mast of a British merchant ship."

Transmission Of Human Thought.

Since the late Archbishop Du Vernet experimented in the transmission of human thought and published his conclusions to the world, he has had a great many followers in that line of experimentation. Others are taking credit to themselves for work which the Archbishop did and for which he will be known long after his work as a Christian clergyman has been forgotten.

A story comes from Leningrad in Russia that Professor Vladimir Beherev has been studying these thought waves and he believes them to be electro-magnetic. He says they are thrown off by other animals as well as human. He thinks that his experiments will lead to the automatic transmission of human thought to a distance.

There is nothing new in this except the suggestion that the thought transmission is by means of electro-magnetic waves. The Archbishop sometimes spoke of "thought radio" in connection with his work and he proved conclusively that messages could be carried long distances, even as far as from Prince Rupert to Vancouver.

The Russian professor also suggests that the more accomplished a man is the better he transmits and the worse he receives. That seems contrary to the Du Vernet experience for the Archbishop proved himself to be a successful receiver as well as sender and no one would suggest that the Archbishop was not an accomplished man.

Man Can Receive Better Than Woman.

Dr. Ivan Chakhovsky suggests that a man can receive messages better than a woman. That may be because a man can exercise better control of his mind than a woman. The sender has to exclude every other thought but that of sending the message, while the receiver has to keep himself in a receptive attitude and also to exclude foreign thoughts. It is plain to see from this that it is easier to send than to receive. It is easier to concentrate on a positive idea than a negative.

Should Carry On Work Done Here.

It seems a pity that the work commenced here by Archbishop Du Vernet cannot be carried on and his name still be connected with it. Unless some action is taken with that end in view there is a possibility of his fame being obscured by those who come after and by men who did not originate the idea. Many before the Archbishop suggested that thought might be transmitted and believed that it was, but the local man was the first to prove that it could be done at will at any place and at any time by persons who were trained to transmit and receive.

Canadian Bonds Sold In States.

Canadian government bonds must have been in great demand in New York yesterday for forty million dollars worth to be taken up almost directly they were offered. It speaks well for the government of the country and for the faith the Americans have in the stability of our institutions. National credit is a great thing. We must be in a position to borrow if we expect to carry on and develop the country. With Canadian bonds selling well, provincial bonds in demand and city bonds being taken readily, we seem to be in an enviable position so far as credit is concerned. The next thing for individuals to do is to keep their own individual credit good.

Good Health for All the Family

Mrs. Mary Fourgere, Larry's River, N.S. writes: "I was troubled with constipation for years. At last a friend suggested that I try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I did so and must say that they have given me more relief than all the medicine I have taken during the last ten years."

The newest idea in medicine is to prevent serious disease by looking after the "minor ills." Since about ninety percent of serious diseases develop from constipation and torpid action of the liver and kidneys the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to arouse the action of these organs is the most effective of preventives. Backaches, headaches, indigestion, constipation, etc., soon disappear when this great regulating medicine is used.

PORT CHARGES AT VANCOUVER

Need of More Elevator Accommodation is Stressed by Swan

VANCOUVER, Feb. 25.—"Local port charges compare favorably with other competing ports on the coast," said Major Swan, chief engineer of the harbor board, "charges here being $1.33 as against $1.25 in Seattle and round $1.80 in San Francisco." The Major said he favored a gradual downward revision of port charges consistent with the growth of the port. In regard to the setting aside of waterfront areas for future development he said that investors must not be charged too much for the land. Grain storage facilities now stand at between 6,000,000 and 7,000,000 bushels and an increase to 15,000,000 or 20,000,000 bushels would not be overbuilding, but this does not necessarily need to be by the port authority, provided the private investor were given proper protection. In conclusion Major Swan declared that the place for sawmills was on the Fraser River and not on False creek or the central harbor.

HEAVY FREIGHT AND PASSENGER OFFERINGS ON COAST STEAMSHIP

An hour late leaving Vancouver on Monday night on account of heavy freight offerings for the north and further delayed at Ocean Falls discharging cargo which included parts for the new paper machine that is being installed at the mill there. C.N.R. steamer Prince Rupert, Capt. Harry Nedden, did not arrive from the south until 2:45 yesterday afternoon. The vessel had a large passenger list out of Vancouver including fifty people for Ocean Falls and 43 members of the crews of the steamers Prince George and Prince John which are being prepared at the dock here for service after their annual overhauls. The Rupert also had an exceptionally heavy freight cargo of 259 tons for Prince Rupert.

DEAL PENDING AT BURNS LAKE

Galena Ore Prospect Near Lake Tchisinkut Improves as Work Proceeds

FRANCOIS LAKE, Feb. 25.—A deal is pending for the Monn Mineral group on a creek running into Tchisinkut Lake between Burns Lake and Francois Lake. The ore is silver-lead of medium grade. It was discovered four years ago by accident and since then development has been proceeding with a view to locating the main ore body. A small crew of six men recently drove into a vein which strengthens and widens as the work proceeds. The property was examined in the fall by a mining engineer for a large American operator but no deal has yet been completed although it is expected to be closed on the basis of a working bond. While no spectacular values have as yet been encountered, the ore being a primary galena of medium even grade, indications point to there being a large belt in the district, the working of which may lead to great developments.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

A SICK husband is a good husband. A LITTLE love is not enough to get married on. A MAN who will not lie for a woman is only half a man. THE person who says he has been too busy to write is hardly complimentary to his friend.

COURTSHIP is a lottery. Young people often draw many blanks before they secure a prize, and even then the prize is of doubtful value.

SOME people express themselves in language; others in neckties and socks.

HELEN Rowland says there are five epochs in the life of a man: A red sled at ten, a red necktie at twenty, a red-headed woman at thirty, a red car at forty, and a red necktie again at fifty.

CHOOSING a wife is something like choosing food. French pastry is pleasant once or twice but as a regular diet it is a failure.

A MAN can no more hide his love than can a girl hide her vaccination mark in a one piece bathing suit.

NONE are so blind as those who are tired of looking.

DARLING, I am growing old. And besides I have a cold. All my bones begin to ache. What's the best thing I can take?

A MAN friend of mine wants to know how he is to know if he is really in love. I am going to tell him he is in love if all other women look like so many wooden soldiers to him and if their sideways glances never penetrate beyond his bushy eyebrows.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

February 25, 1916. The Pacific Fisherman says that halibut fishing has become the second most important industry on the Pacific Coast.

Vancouver papers, speaking of M. A. Macdonald's provincial election campaign in Vancouver, state: "Mr. Macdonald brought to the hall with him a sturdy Northerner, T. Dufferin Pattullo, former mayor of Prince Rupert and the Liberal candidate for that district."

Lieut. Col. J. W. Warden returned to the city yesterday afternoon from Prince George after inspecting the contingent of the 102nd Battalion there which is being trained by Lieut. J. Charles Halsey of this city. It is expected that members of the battalion from the north will be transferred to Comox in about three weeks' time.

BADMINTON IS POPULAR EAST

Ottawa Newspaper Has Editorial Comment on Game That Has Invaded City

Ottawa is apparently one of the cities that has adopted badminton as one of its most popular games. In editorial comment the Citizen of that city says:

The winning for the second time of the men's singles championship by W. M. Stewart of Ottawa and the excellent showing made by other local players in the Ontario badminton championship games at Toronto last week end are striking proof of the quality of game played here and of the increasing hold which badminton takes upon its devotees in the capital. Mr. Stewart and those other players who fought so valiantly at Toronto are entitled to the greatest credit for their splendid play.

Great Winter Game

Badminton has made great strides as a winter game in Canada and especially Ottawa during recent years. The Ottawa Garrison Club has been active for a number of years, but it was not until comparatively recently that the game became so popular. Other clubs have sprung up, and the prospects are for still greater expansion in this district. The success attending the visit of the British badminton players to Ottawa also afforded further proof of the growing interest being manifested in the game.

Fast and Strenuous

Several reasons exist why badminton has gained in popularity. One was the discovery that it was a fast, strenuous and spectacular game, and not a pastime for those in need of mild exercise. Another is the fact that it forms an ideal winter game for those who play tennis in summer and need to keep in playing trim. Many young players are taking up badminton, and it is true to say that as soon as additional courts can be secured, the game will expand proportionately. The exhibition of prowess by the Ottawa players in the Ontario games will give additional stimulus to this admirable indoor winter sport.

SPORT CHAT

With the Moose meeting the Knights of Columbus and St. Andrew's playing with the Sons of England, league leadership will again be at stake in the men's section of the Fraternal White League tonight. Both teams winning or losing, they will still share first place; losing they will go to second place behind the Elks, and, if one wins and the other loses, the successful one will be in first place exclusively. The Elks, who are at present tied with the Vets and Scots in first place, are not scheduled to play tonight. Other games of the evening will be: Oddfellows vs. Sons of Canada; Knights of Pythias vs. Great War Veterans.

Alice Arm hockey players have just about given up hope of playing any hockey this year on their rink. It looked promising toward the end of last week but along came a rainstorm and dashed the hopes. Some skating had been available the first of the week. During the week, an Alice Arm party made a trip to Lost Lake, a sheet of water that lies about three miles from town and which had never been skated on before. Good luck crowned the efforts of those who made the trip for ice

WORLD GOING PLEASURE MAD

This is Morte Craig's Impression Following Trip East—Visited Various Cities

That the world seems to be going pleasure-mad was an impression gained by Morte H. Craig, local florist and artist, who returned home yesterday afternoon after a trip which included several of the more important cities in the West and Middle West of the United States. The theatres in all these cities seem to be doing a rushing business and the ticket boxes are continually lined up with those seeking admission. Everybody seems to be on the quest for recreation. From a business standpoint there also seems to be a great deal of activity in the large cities. One has to crush one's way through the crowds of shoppers into the big department stores.

Mr. Craig went East particularly to participate in a final family reunion at his former home in St. Joseph, Missouri, prior to the old family house being sold following the death of Mr. Craig's father. He spent eleven days there and the time went "like a dream." Mr. Craig also spent five days in Denver, where he lived before he went to the Yukon; seven days in Seattle, and eight days in Victoria visiting with his daughter, Mrs. D. D. McTavish.

In the interior of the United States the usual cold weather is being experienced. At Winnipeg, while going East, Mr. Craig spent a few hours and there the cold seemed to be intense.

Mr. Craig was 42 days on his trip. He has made up his mind that he is not going on any more such journeys until he has more time to spend in order to see the various cities properly and have better opportunity of renewing old acquaintances.

ALL STAR BILLIARD PLAYERS WON OVER BILLIARD PARLOR

The Prince Rupert Billiard Parlor second division billiard team played a tournament last night with an all star team from the rest of the league, the latter aggregation winning by 924 to 790.

The individual scores were: W. Long (All Stars), 200; R. Howe (Billiard Parlor), 108; J. Andrews, 140; W. Stickney, 200.

W. J. Nelson, 184; Frank Ziemann, 200.

J. Hillman, 200; M. Andrews, 100.

H. Corbett, 200; D. McAuley, 182.

The losers will be hosts to the winners at a luncheon tomorrow in the Prince Rupert Hotel.

TAUGHT CHINESE TO EAT ICE CREAM

Delicacy is Enjoyed by Orientals and Demand is Increasing on Other Side

VICTORIA, Feb. 23. — The Chinese are adopting the ice-cream habit. The product is being shipped from this continent to China already frozen and the demand is steadily increasing. Once the millions of Chinamen get to like the product, it is impossible to say what the result will be. A large business should be done with the Orient from this delicacy for the yellow men.

P. S. Crawley of Seattle, who has just returned from a visit to China, claims to be the man who taught the Chinese to eat ice cream.

VANDERHOOF

A party consisting of George W. Olferson, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Drury, F. W. Vallou, Frank Freidle, Edwin Wright, Joe Klimmer, G. W. Allah, Joseph Milihan and David Pirevis is outfitting here this week for an extensive trip into the Mapson Creek goldfields. The party will take thirty tons of machinery and a full crew with them. It is the largest amount of machinery that has ever been taken into Manson Creek.

The Vanderhoof Board of Trade has reduced its yearly dues from $16 to $6.

Miss Emmie Violet Day was elected queen of the winter carnival here last week and Miss Marjorie F. Peterson and Miss Ena Pearl Campbell were chosen as her maids of honor.

Mrs. A. A. Hutchinson, greatly improved in health, has returned here from a trip to Manitoba. She was accompanied by her brother, Mr. Mayer, who will remain here a month or so.

Mrs. Ernest Love has returned to Stewart after having spent several weeks visiting in Vancouver.

Three Religions Association Making Arrangements for Event in Japan

TOKIO, Feb. 24.—The Three Religions Association, made up of Buddhists, Shintoists and Christians, is arranging for a World Congress of Religions to take place in April, 1928. It will be thrown open to representatives of all religions, the promoters recognizing the high ideals of all and the general desire of each to benefit the world.

Leaders in religion all over the world are being asked to take part in preparing the agenda and it is anticipated that the event will be the most pretentious ever known.

The Announcement An announcement is being sent out regarding the congress which reads as follows:

1. Following the World War the nations have been, and are, demanding a fundamental reform based on high ideals in every phase of civilization—in politics, industry, diplomacy, science, literature and all the rest. In fact, the most noteworthy and plain of the many signs of the times is a desire expressed in many ways throughout the world for the attainment of universal peace and a better living scale for mankind through reforms in the existing state of things. This desire for a realization of higher things cherished in the minds of the peoples of the world is nothing but a craving for religion in its widest and proper sense. Never, indeed, has the world so keenly felt the need of religious forces as a foundation for a new civilization and the motive of a new and better world than it does today. Nations will be able to accomplish their aims only when the powers are spiritually associated and allied with one another.

Spiritual Alliance Aim 2. All religions stand on the principle of the brotherhood of mankind and have as their aim the promotion of happiness in the world and the realization of world peace. For this reason it behooves the religions of the world to strive for the conclusion of a spiritual alliance of the nations.

3. It does not require, then, many words to make it plain that all religions and religious movements of today should come through a thorough mutual understanding. Religions should aid and support each other in order to do everything possible for the resurrection of the world.

4. No necessity to amalgamate existing religions exists. No new religion is needed, no united religion composed of all the rest. It were far better to have effective co-operation so that each might display its special features to the utmost and respect the excellence of others.

List of Those That Came Near the Top in the Order of Popularity.

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—"Soundings," a first novel, by A. Hamilton Gibbs, headed the list of "best sellers" in fiction in 1925. It never appeared at first place on the monthly reports, but because of its consistent high mark it won the best annual sales record.

The lists follow: Fiction: "Soundings"; "The Constant Nymph," by Margaret Kennedy; "The Keeper of the Keys," Gene Stratton Porter; "Glorious Apollo," E. Barrington; "The Green Hat," Michael Arlen; "The Little French Girl," Ann Douglas Sedgwick, a 1924 book; "Arrowsmith," Sinclair Parrish; "The Carolinian," Rafael Sabatini, and "One Increasing Purpose," A. WHITE PLAGUE VERY GENERAL

Most People Get a Touch of Tuberculosis Some Time in Their Lives Says Doctor

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 24.—Reasons why some persons who have escaped a touch of tuberculosis in their childhood become infected in adult life with fatal results are being sought by Dr. E. L. Opie, director of laboratories of the Henry Phipps Institute, connected with the University of Pennsylvania, who is conducting research in various stages of the disease. Dr. Opie is regarded by physicians as one of the outstanding authorities on tuberculosis.

Less than two per cent of the population escapes a touch of the "white plague" at one time in their lives, chiefly in childhood, he says. The most unfortunate are those who have escaped it and then become infected in adult life, for they have not become self-vaccinated and developed immunity. With them the disease is apt to be quick and fatal.

Nodules in Lungs

X-ray photographs have shown, Dr. Opie has demonstrated, that 98 per cent of the white adults who die from diseases other than tuberculosis have in their lungs small, hard spots through which the X-rays do not easily penetrate. These have been shown to be deposits built up by the body around points of tubercular infection. This type of infection occurs chiefly in children, but the hard nodules continue in the lungs through life.

Apparently this type of childhood infection, Dr. Opie explained, causes the body to develop resistant fluids which attack fresh infections of tuberculosis, and for the most part destroy them. How this resistance is sometimes overcome by the disease in adults is now the object of research Dr. Opie is directing.

In adults the disease takes a different form, as a rule, usually appearing as a more diffused infection of the top portion of the lung. Latent infections of this type have been found by Dr. Opie in the lungs of one of every five white adults examined. In every case latent infections of this type are accompanied by evidence of the childhood type of infection, no longer active.

Childhood Infection

Active tuberculosis of the lungs is always accompanied by evidence of childhood infection, Dr. Opie says, but evidence of the early infection in those who die of tuberculosis is almost always less extensive in those who die of the disease than in those who do not develop active cases.

In some instances, where infection occurs in adults similar to the childhood type, general dissemination of the disease throughout the body occurs because the adult has not been made resistant by infection acquired during childhood, Dr. Opie claims.

NEW LUMBER MILL PETERSBURG, ALASKA

Machinery to be Shipped North from Seattle and will be Installed at Once

KETCHIKAN, Feb. 25.—Announcement of the immediate construction of a new mill at Petersburg, to replace the one burned recently, was made to local friends by E. A. Salonka while here.

The new mill will be of 15,000 feet capacity daily cut and Mr. Salonka stated that it would be added on to as rapidly as possible.

Structural material and machinery for the new plant will be shipped north at the earliest possible date and he said that he and his associates hoped to be able to commence cutting lumber before summer.

The Petersburg mill, of which Mr. Salonka was one of the proprietors, was entirely destroyed by fire several months ago and the erection of a new mill has been delayed while a new company was being formed and plans made.

Mr. Salonka says he has the utmost confidence in the future of the lumbering industry in Alaska and he and his associates

An Infallible Guard

HEIMDAL, according to Celtic mythology, was the perfect sentinel. His hearing was so acute that he could hear the wool growing on a sheep's back His eyesight was so keen he could see everything that happened even though it occurred while he slept.

Advertising, if you use it properly, is an infallible sentinel for you. It guards you against fraud and inferiority. It protects you against making unwise and unsatisfactory purchases.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise must give full value because they have good names to protect. The makers of well-known products and the stores that sell these products often value the names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of these names by selling any but good goods of full measure and fair price.

So, you can bank on this. Advertised goods must be as advertised. That is why it pays to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised products.

ARBITRATION BOARD ALBERTA TEACHERS

Premier Brownlee Promises to Introduce Bill Providing Better Settlement of Disputes

EDMONTON, Feb. 25.—The Alberta Teachers' Alliance was successful in its application to the provincial cabinet, in securing a promise from Premier Brownlee and Hon. Perren Baker, that the school act would be amended to provide a more efficient and more useful conciliation board for reference of disputes between school teachers and trustees.

While Mr. Baker did not promise to adopt the amendment as proposed by the alliance, he stated that he was preparing an amendment looking to a better board plan, and that this would be drafted and presented to the cabinet in a few days.

Premier Brownlee added that as soon as the draft was passed on by the cabinet, the alliance would be informed of its text, so that they would be in a position to discuss it on its presentation to the legislature.

Nature of Amendments

The alliance suggests an amendment to the existing conciliation board clause in the present act, somewhat along the lines of that embodied in the Manitoba act, which provides that there shall be a board of reference for either conciliation or arbitration, to consist of three members, one representing the school trustees of the province, one representing the teachers, and a chairman representing neither interest.

The three appointments suggested on the Alberta board are to be: (a) a nominee of the Alberta Teachers' Association; (b) a nominee of the Alberta Teachers' Alliance; (c) a third member, neither trustee nor teacher, to be appointed by the two members aforesaid, in consultation with the minister.

Present Arrangement

Under the existing section of the Alberta Act, the minister of education names the personnel of the board, but must make choice of a representative of the teachers and trustees respectively, with a neutral chairman. The board may only make report of its findings.

IS CRIME AGAINST A SISTER NATION

Bishop of London Expresses Himself Forcibly Against Smuggling Liquor into United States

LONDON, Feb. 25.—The Bishop of London presided at a meeting held in Church House, Westminster, in response to an appeal from citizens of the United States asking British citizens to set themselves against "the smuggling of intoxicating liquor over the border and through our coastal waters from the lands to which you are loyal into our homeland." There was a very large attendance of people who evidently felt strongly on this subject.

The Bishop of London said that the meeting was not called to express any views about prohibition. He quoted from statistics supplied by the assistant attorney general of the United States showing that from July 1, 1925, to January 1, 1926, 24 foreign liquor vessels had been seized, of which 20 were British. "The traffic," the bishop said, "is most dishonorable to Great Britain. In the autumn he was going on a six weeks' lecturing tour to American universities. He would be ashamed to go if he had not attended this meeting and made his protest against what he considered were acts of treachery to a sister nation.

COUNTESS CATHCART AND MORAL TURPITUDE

Eloped with Earl but Thinks That it is Not a Crime Says Her Attorney

NEW YORK, Feb. 25.—Counsel for the Countess of Cathcart, successful in warding off her expulsion from this country temporarily, are now turning their attention to study of what constitutes "moral turpitude," the grounds on which she has been denied admission.

Although the countess has admitted eloping with the Earl of Craven, a married man, in 1922, this does not constitute admission of a crime involving moral turpitude, in the opinion of Arthur G. Hays, her attorney.

Mr. Hays contends that her relations with the earl did not constitute a crime within the United States laws nor a crime within the countries in which the acts were committed, France and South Africa.

Reply to criticism of the department of labor, W. W. Husband, second assistant secretary of labor, has disclosed that 215 persons have been deported on the "moral turpitude" charge. Of these, he said, 75 per cent were men.

UNION OIL CO. AT KETCHIKAN

Work Commenced on Tanks of 20,000 Gallon Capacity; Tanker to Moor There

KETCHIKAN, Feb. 25.—With the arrival of 40 tons of structural steel for the local plant of the Union Oil Co., workmen commenced preparations for the erection of four tanks, each of 20,000 gallon capacity. A steel working crew arrived from the south on the Victoria to build the tanks.

The tanks to be erected will be for use in accommodating the shore business of the company only and deliveries to marine customers will be made from the tank steamer Radiant, expected to arrive here from the south late this month. Deliveries ashore will be made from the tanks at the station or by auto truck, two of which have been ordered for the plant here.

Construction of the wharf and moorings for the Radiant will be commenced possibly this week, officials of the company said. Contract for the driving of the piling has been let to the Over Reach Pile Driver Co. and they plan to start work immediately upon the arrival of creosoted piling from the states.

Rushing Work

Work on the new plant is being rushed as much as possible and it is the aim of the company to have their local station in operation as soon after March 1 as possible. J. W. Bennett, chief construction engineer for the company, announced.

Upon completion of the work here, the crew of steel workers and others of the construction force, will commence on one of the five other Southeastern Alas-

ENGLISH NAVIGATOR FIRST EXPLORER IN NORTH POLAR REGION

John Davis (or Davys), an English navigator, born at Sandridge, near Dartmouth, England, is the first recorded polar explorer, states The Mentor. Between 1585 and 1588 he undertook three voyages to the northern seas in an effort to find a northwest passage. In the first of these he discovered the strait that bears his name; it separates Greenland from Gumberland Peninsula and connects Baffin Bay with the Atlantic. His voyages extended along the west Greenland coast as far as Upernivik, and along the American side of the strait as far as Labrador. Davis afterward made five voyages to the East Indies, in the last of which he was killed in a fight with Japanese pirates near Sumatra.

DANCING GIRL AND A PRINCE

Commission to Investigate Depends on Attitude of Native Ruler

DELHI, Feb. 25.—In connection with the proposed commission to investigate the connection of the Maharajah of Indore with the attempted abduction of the dancing girl Mumtaz Begum and the murder of a Bombay merchant, the commission, if appointed, will consist of two High Court judges, two ruling princes, and a senior officer of the Political Department. The procedure which will be followed is that which is laid down as the result of a recommendation made in Paragraph 309 of the Montagu-Chelmsford Report for cases where the question arises of depriving a ruler temporarily or permanently of any of his powers or privileges. The function of the committee is to investigate the facts of the case and to offer advice to the government of India.

Whenever the Governor General decides that a case has arisen for the appointment of a court of inquiry the ruler concerned has the option of intimating that he does not desire that the commission should be appointed.

The Maharajah of Indore has been informed of the conclusion at which the Governor General has arrived.

The Government Policy

Hitherto, while there have been allegations suggesting that the Maharajah was, connected with the attempted abduction of Mumtaz Begum, which resulted in the death of Bawla, the Maharajah himself maintains that he was entirely unaware of or concerned in the plot. The government of India have therefore adopted a cautious and considered course which should not be open to criticism from the Prince concerned or from the Princes in general. The strongest point in support of the government's attitude is their stand on the Montagu-Chelmsford Report, which has been accepted on all hands as offering the proper guide on various intricate matters of high state policy.

Nor, it is pointed out, can the Maharajah complain that the commission of inquiry to find out whether there is a basis for his alleged connection with the abduction of Mumtaz Begum will not be a competent impartial body, for it will consist of two High Court judges, two of his peers—namely, ruling princes—and a senior officer of the Political Department, who would provide expert departmental advice.

The Maharajah's Attitude

The government, however, has not announced the personnel because, although they are in favor of such an inquiry, they have left it to the Maharajah of Indore to decide whether he desires an inquiry or not. If the Maharajah favors an inquiry urgent steps will be taken to constitute the commission. The government communication also which the commission will follow makes it clear that the procedure will be as if a case had arisen to see whether a ruling prince was to be deprived, either temporarily or permanently, of any of his powers and privileges.

If, however, the Maharajah, who has already been informed of the government's decision declines to have a commission of inquiry, there is not the slightest foundation for the suggestion that such refusal will be immediately followed by compulsory abdication. In such a contingency the government will have to consider how best to arrive at a proper decision in the matter, and the government may, therefore, have to hold an inquiry of its own accord and collect further material before deciding what course of action is justified by the case.

TAME ROBINS PERCH ON VISITORS' HEADS

Lady Near Winnipeg Tells How the Young Were Raised by Hand and Cared by Bell

WINNIPEG, Feb. 25.—Would you not be surprised if, when walking up the driveway to a house, several robins flew around you and perched on your head and shoulders? Such was the experience last summer of many visitors to Mrs. K. J. McDougall's home in East Kildonan, and the story of how the robins were tamed was recently told by Mrs. McDougall to the Natural History Society.

The baby robins were almost fledged and were placed in a large cage on the porch. At first they were fed on earthworms, but it took all the spare-time of the family and of visitors as well to dig enough worms to satisfy them, so they were gradually changed to a diet of baked custard. "Making custard," said Mrs. McDougall, "being much less strenuous than digging for worms, especially so when the robins grew older and a custard of four eggs and two cups of milk lasted them less than 24 hours." The birds were kept in the cage for about a week, and to train them to know their feeding times, each meal was announced by a truly modern bell, a tin can and a can opener.

GREATEST NATION IS NOT MOST WARLIKE

Colonel George O. Falls Tells Victoria People Problems of Peace Greater than War

VICTORIA, Feb. 25.—"The time has passed when boys and girls should be taught that the greatest nation is the one that has the largest army. Rather should they be taught that the greatest nation is the one that gives the greatest service not to its own country alone but to the whole world." This is the lesson which Col. George O. Falls, of Vancouver, presented to the gathering in the Metropolitan Institute recently in his address upon the subject of "The Problem of World Peace."

"I am not a pacifist at any price," said he, early in his address. Those who believe that the problem of war could be settled overnight were among the greatest enemies of peace. War, said Col. Falls, could not be wiped out in that way. He agreed with the remarks of Sir George Foster at the recent meeting of the Canadian Council of the League of Nations which he had just attended at Ottawa, when the statesman said that the problems of peace were almost as great to settle as the problems of democracy.

ARE YOU WEARING The Right Shoe?

Up till a recent date, the shoe trade has been devoting its energies to the improvement of quality and style of shoes, never giving any consideration to the feet. But now a new leaf has been turned and the manufacturers are going hand in hand with science. They now understand that

The Shoes are to Fit the Feet
and not
The Feet to Fit the Shoes

That is why you find that the demand for a scientifically made shoe such as the Arch-defender Shoe, is increasing every day, as well as scientific appliances for the relief of foot ailments, as Dr. Scholl's.

With that aim in view I decided to learn more about the feet and have concluded a special practical course that enables me to give you an absolute satisfaction in shoe fitting as well as relieving you of your foot ailments, if you have any.

Yours for Scientific Shoe Fitting
