HON. A. M. MANSON ADDRESSES GYROS; URGES ACTIVITY OF YOUNG MEN

Optimistic Address by Attorney General was Heard by Local Gyros

Prince Rupert is bound to take her share of British Columbia's prosperity asserts Mr. Manson Though Prince Rupert so far has not enjoyed its share of the progress and general prosperity of the province of British Columbia it is bound inevitably to come into its own fair due, which was the firm conviction expressed by Hon. A. M. Manson, Attorney General for British Columbia, in an address yesterday afternoon before the Gyro Club which he urged, as an organization of young men, to jump into its place in the matter of development of public affairs and force the city, with common business sense and confidence, even more rapidly into the destiny that it is yet bound to enjoy.

CALIFORNIA 'QUAKE

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 18.—A sharp earth tremor was felt here this morning lasting five seconds. No damage is so far reported to have been done. Los Angeles also felt the shock.

In the course of his address, which was characterized by the Attorney General's well known eloquence, Mr. Manson made mention of some of the difficulties encountered in the government of British Columbia, referred to the great progress that had been made despite obstacles by the province in the last decade and concluded with a stirring exhortation for the people of the city, especially the young men, to carry on the battle for the recognition and development to which Prince Rupert is entitled.

Mr. Manson opened his address by thanking the Gyro Club for the privilege of addressing its members and friends. Prince Rupert, he said, had always been kind to him and he sometimes wondered why he had left the city in the attempt to serve his fellow citizens in another capacity. Often, during the stress of public duties, there were times when he wished that he were back practicing his profession in Prince Rupert.

Unwarranted Impression
The inclination that seemed to be so general for people to wash their hands of public affairs or so called politics was regrettable and such an inclination should not exist said Mr. Manson. If politics left an unsavory impression with many people it was the politicians themselves who were perhaps most to blame for such an impression. It was no wonder that the public often believed of the politicians what they said about each other. It was such talk by the politicians themselves that placed them so often in ill repute and made the average citizen loath to enter public life. Public duties, Mr. Manson asserted, could only be successfully discharged with personal unselfishness and intelligent interest in the problems presented.

Speaking on aspects of the government of the province of British Columbia, Mr. Manson stated that the task differed greatly and was much more complex than it was, for instance, in the prairie provinces. In the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta one main industry, that of agriculture, was dominant, while in British Columbia there was a great diversity of industry and many of these industries were in themselves highly variegated in nature. This made government and caring for everything much more difficult.

Varied Agriculture
In agriculture, for instance, the government was called upon to deal with problems in connection with the vast grain area of the Peace River Valley, the mixed

Aim of Wade Flying Expedition is to Get Ahead of Bolsheviks in Discovery New Arctic Lands

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—A race with air squadrons of Russia to claim land which might be used as a military flying base north of Alaska or Siberia will probably be the result of the polar flying expedition which will be commanded by Flight Lieutenant Leigh Wade, the round the world flyer told the Associated Press.

"It is the firm opinion of every member of our party that the Bolsheviks plan to beat us in finding the continent which we feel assured lies in the uncharted seas above Alaska. While we have no direct evidence of this, there is much circumstantial evidence. We are planning the trip with the definite idea of getting ahead of the Bolsheviks if we can," Wade said.

farming and dairying of Central British Columbia, the Kootenay, the Fraser Valley and Vancouver Island, the ranging and grazing country of Kamloops, Cariboo and Chilcotin and the fruit districts of the Okanagan. Even in the one Department of Agriculture in British Columbia there were a great many more phases than in any of the agricultural provinces of the prairies.

In mining, the situation was similar. Though British Columbia had originally attained its reputation as a mining province through the placers of the Cariboo, every mineral, base and precious, with the possible exception of diamonds, were now mined in the province. Moreover, the mines were located from one end of the province to the other and in all districts. Problems arising in connection with mineral development were transportation, smelters, trails, etc. After all, one of the main problems of government was the development of such natural resources.

In fishing, there was also a wide variance of activity including the supervision of sporting and commercial fisheries. There were also the problems in connection with game which was a source of recreation to the people, an attraction for tourists and a commercial pursuit in the fur trade.

Last Timber Stand

Then there was the tremendous problem of the timber made all the more important through the fact that forests in other parts of America were now depleted or nearing depletion and in British Columbia there remained the last great stand of timber on the continent.

Progress of a country cannot be by accident but business co-operation and government assistance played a great part said Mr. Manson. From the government standpoint in British Columbia it meant that the various departments were busy six days every week and every hour of the day.

The fact that the great bulk of the population of the province was concentrated in the three cities of Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster and that less than one per cent of the area of the province was municipalized made the task of the central government of British Columbia much greater than in Eastern provinces where a much greater area was municipalized. Where municipalities were established, there were governments to relieve the provincial government but in other parts the people were demanding and deserving as much attention—even more—than in the cities. With more than 99 per cent of the province giving no municipal assistance, there was indeed a tremendous problem which added greatly to the work of the government.

Progress of Decade

Mr. Manson then proceeded to review some of the progress that had been made by the province during the past ten years. Though Canada, of which British Columbia was a part, had gone through the trying times of the war and had been, during all that period, a paying nation whereas United States had been a receiving nation and had piled up a staggering national debt, although thirty per cent more men returned to British Columbia from the war than went to it and in spite of other great difficulties, there had been unmistakable signs of progress. School population had increased 65 per cent during the past ten years, agricultural production had increased by leaps and bounds, shipping and the grain movement had jumped, lumber production had increased to a stupendous level, the industrial payroll of the province had risen from $78,750,000 in 1917 to $162,000,000 in 1925, mineral production had increased from $16,000,000 to $63,000,000 in a single year from 1924 to 1925 and industrial stocks had risen on the markets. These things ought all to be matters of encouragement for the people here.

Mr. Manson referred briefly to the process of evolution in transportation methods. First there had been the highways and then had come the day of the railway. Now the tendency was back to the highways. The fact that the province of British Columbia, with a population of 600,000 people, had an investment of $56,000,000 dollars in highways was an evidence that the people of the province were alive and making demands.

Local Conditions

Dealing with local conditions in Prince Rupert, Mr. Manson repeated the saying that the few hardy pioneers who hung on would come into their own. Unfortunately the pioneers of Prince Rupert seemed to be getting few and now they formed a rather small and select company.

"For myself," declared Mr. Manson, "I am just as firmly convinced as I ever was that Prince Rupert must inevitably come into its share of the general prosperity of the province—a share which it so far has not enjoyed. We should be alive at the time to the possibilities and imbued with optimism and no one should take a greater interest in the development of this place than you young men—such as you members of the Gyro Club. If the old boys who have gone through things in Prince Rupert that it is perhaps just as well you have not gone through, can no longer show enthusiasm, you should jump in and carry on. You, I say, can force development in spite of difficulties that may seem to be in your way. There should be no limit to your confidence. Compare the hinterland of Vancouver and your own hinterland lying back of this city of Prince Rupert—its wide valleys and its wonderful possibilities for industrial development. Why you have right at your back door all the resources of an Empire. All that you need is business common sense and energy. Governments must give you what you need if you force your demands based on business reason. Take part I say you young men in the public affairs of your city, join the Board of Trade, make yourselves felt in every way possible and the city of Prince Rupert will be all the better for having such an organization as the Gyro Club in its midst."

Exploration Of Farthest North.

Another flying expedition is to go to the farthest north this year. Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of the young flyers who spent a few days here when on their way round the world, is to head the expedition and his assistant here will still be his assistant in the far north. We shall watch with interest this attempt to explore the polar regions.

Exception is sometimes taken to the money and lives given in attempts to explore the polar regions. While we do not agree with governments undertaking such work, we see no reason why private individuals or associations should not spend their money that way if they wish. It will develop the art of flying, will develop the hardihood of the race and may result in some material benefit of which we are at present ignorant.

Electrical Phenomena May Be Explored.

While we have no idea what Wade's idea is in exploring the north, it is possible that some explorer in the near future may learn something about the aurora borealis and other electrical phenomena of the Arctic regions. They may also learn to control it, which is after all the chief reason for investigation. First we get knowledge of how and why and then we learn to control or to utilize.

Another Technical Jail Delivery.

A Chinese who was found with opium in his possession at Port Essington has been allowed to go free by Chief Justice Hunter. This is another technical case and is one of a long series that have caused much worry to the law officers of the crown. No other judge seems to find these appeals legal and the criminal class always try to get their cases before the chief justice, it is noticed.

During the war when Mr. Justice Martin insisted on taking action which was not in the best interests of the country, he was quickly relieved of his commission as judge of the prize court. That was in war time. It seems a pity that there is not some such peace time power that would give the Ottawa government power to act similarly.

Gullible Public Easily Fooled.

Yesterday a report of a case in England showed how gullible people are. It is easy to fool them. It is a simple matter for a Ponzi or some other clever schemer to take away their hard-earned cash. It is being done in Prince Rupert very often.

It is easy to earn money and not difficult to save, but to invest wisely and well is the hardest thing in the world. There are so many pitfalls on every hand and so many clever rogues that the inexperienced and untrained investor has little chance of making good. We have often suggested that a person's banker is the best adviser in regard to investing money. At any rate he will be likely to keep his client on the safe side.

Liberal Turns To Conservatives.

Sir Alfred Mond, for many years among the leaders of Liberalism, has changed his party and thrown in his lot with the Conservatives. He is not in sympathy with the party which he has left, so will oppose them.

That was the honest thing for Sir Alfred to do. There are in the Liberal party here many who should be in the Conservative ranks and there are a lot of people calling themselves Conservatives who really belong on the Liberal side. A readjustment seems necessary. The old lines of cleavage have changed and with them should change the people who formerly held to the policies which the parties represented.

People often change their minds, but they hesitate about changing their parties. Why this should be is not at all plain. It should be a simple thing to move from one side to the other if not satisfied with the policy of the party.

YOU do not think of yourself as being unfit and yet you may not be getting the most out of life on account of "minor ills," which if neglected develop into serious disease.

Later developments are Bright's disease, diabetes, high blood pressure and hardening of the arteries.

AN OPEN LETTER to the Public

Dear Fellow Citizens:—

In business, as well as in private life, circumstances, always beyond our control, sometimes take a hand in our affairs, forcing us along paths directly opposed to those we desire to take. Such a set of circumstances faced us at the opening of this year—a top-heavy stock at the beginning of the quiet season—and unexpected liabilities that had to be met.

Fortunately, the splendidly loyal response of our fellow citizens at a time when loyalty was most needed, enabled us to turn a sufficient quantity of our stock into the cash necessary to satisfy the demands and retake complete charge of our affairs.

Business is reputed to be cold blooded but we believe the most solid foundation for any business is friendship—and at times a little sentiment is justified—and we wish to take advantage of this opportunity to express our warmest thanks to our many good friends and to assure you all that in the future it will be our earnest endeavour to give you the utmost in quality, the ultimate in service, at the lowest price possible in order that all our old friends may continue to look to us for their needs and that goodwill and friendship may constantly add new friends as well.

—Yours truly,

THOR JOHNSON

CANADIAN LAUNDRY IS GIVEN CONTRACT

Underbid Pioneer Laundry by Large Margin in Undertaking Hospital Work For Year

The hospital board last night on recommendation of the house committee, awarded the laundry contract for the year to the Canadian Laundry. The successful tenderer bid $100 per month for flat work and $6 per month for nurses' uniforms whereas the Pioneer Laundry bid $140 and $6.75 respectively. It was pointed out that the hospital would be saving $1,000 this year on its laundry bill.

Regarding tenders for bread, it was reported that three bakeries had declined to submit bids but had offered to supply bread on the basis of the flour market. It was decided to give each bakery its share of the hospital's bread supply.

The purchase of table napkins, face cloths and towelings to the value of $17.35 and ten new mattresses and covers for the nurses' home was approved.

J. H. Thompson, chairman of the house committee, reported that a new heating system had been installed in the operating room and case room and was now in operation.

ENGLISH LACROSSE PLAYERS WILL VISIT UNITED STATES APRIL

University Team Has Decided Not to Play Any Games in Canada

NEW YORK, Feb. 18. — The combined Oxford-Cambridge lacrosse team will not visit Canada when they cross the Atlantic next April, it is announced here. Twelve games will be played and they will all be against United States colleges and club teams.

When the English University players visited North America in 1922, they played two games in Canada and fourteen in the United States. The list was found to be too heavy for the invaders, with the result that they failed to show to advantage in the closing stages of the trip, owing to injuries.

The United States Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, which has been carrying on negotiations with the Oxford-Cambridge team, has received twenty-two requests for games from colleges and clubs in the United States. The campaign will open at Washington on April 3, with the University of Maryland, holder of the southern intercollegiate title in the opposition role.

SPORT CHAT

With the Moose and St. Andrew's teams tied for league leadership, the Elks only one point behind with one game to go and the Knight's of Pythias one full game behind, the situation in the men's section of the Fraternal Whist League is now particularly interesting and keen attention attaches itself to the games.

The league leaders, Moose and St. Andrew's, scheduled to meet tonight, have postponed the game. Others scheduled for the evening are as follows: Sons of England vs. Knights of Columbus; Great War Veterans vs. Oddfellows; Knights of Pythias vs. Sons of Canada; Loyal Orange Lodge vs. Elks.

OBJECTIONS TO CLOSED SEASON AT KETCHIKAN

Closed Areas Urged to Take Place of Present Regulations For Halibut Fishing

KETCHIKAN, Feb. 18. — At a recent luncheon of the Commercial Club, a number of fishermen expressed themselves as opposed to the present closed season on halibut and advocated in its place closed areas. Captains Hyatum, Engdal, Naslund and Hege were among the speakers.

All considered the present closed season on halibut a failure and not satisfactory. From five to six thousand men are annually thrown out of work for a period of three months. Captain Engdal declared, and he recommended, as did other of the speakers, that closed areas be established rather than closed seasons.

The closed season preceding it was held directly responsible for the captains for the poor year experienced during the open season in 1925. It was recommended that fishing banks where it was found that the fish were younger than three or four years should be closed to fishing and that if a closed season must be put in force, that the western banks which are as yet unfished, be left open for prospecting trips in order that vessels and crew may not be entirely without employment.

Desire for co-operation between the business men and the halibut fishermen was expressed and pledged.

L. H. Hinton is booked to sail for Victoria on the Prince Rupert tomorrow morning.

Vapors Check a Cold Overnight

Never Let a Cold Get a Start.

There are many ways to treat a cold but only one DIRECT way—with vapors that can be inhaled.

Vapors penetrate immediately into every corner of the air passages and lungs, soothing and healing with every breath.

Vicks is so remarkably successful in treating cold troubles because it acts like a "vapor lamp in saline form."

When rubbed over throat and chest the body heat releases vapors of Menthol, Camphor, Eucalyptus, Thyme and Turpentine. At the same time Vicks is absorbed through and stimulates the skin like a poultice or plaster.

This double, direct action often checks the worst cold overnight.

ADDRESS GIVEN BY INSPECTOR

Parent - Teachers' Association Holds Meeting Last Night and Attends to Business

LARGE ATTENDANCE

Recommendations of The School Survey Explained by H. C. Fraser

The regular meeting of the Prince Rupert Parent-Teachers' Association was held in the Booth School auditorium last evening. The president, Mrs. Annot, was in the chair and there was a fine turnout of parents and teachers.

Business was attended to expeditiously, the chief item of interest being the whist and bridge drive arranged for March 5. Mrs. Winslow has charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Fuller has been appointed convener of the social committee and Mrs. McMillan convener of the program committee. A vote of sympathy was passed to Mrs. Foss on her bereavement.

A feature of meetings in the future will be community singing.

Mrs. H. C. Fraser delighted the audience with the solo "Little Pink Rose" and as an encore sang "A Requiem." Mrs. Harlow was accompanist.

Later Mrs. Harlow sang "Sylvia" and as an encore "I Heard You Pass by." Mrs. Fraser accompanied her.

School Survey

The address of the evening was then given by H. C. Fraser on "The School Survey." The work itself is a voluminous composition of over 500 pages and deals exhaustively with the B.C. system of education. Mr. Fraser gave a very interesting resume of the work, and his audience agreed that there was little left in the system that the surveyors had not covered.

Particularly interesting were the comments on the new system advocated by the Survey. This would divide the school life into three parts—the elementary school for children from 6 to 12 years of age, the middle school for those of 12 to 15, and the High School for those of 15 to 18, at which age university work would begin.

Middle School

The establishment of the middle school would particularly benefit those pupils who do not wish, for various reasons, to attempt the entrance examination, failure in which at present so often is regarded as damning evidence that the pupil is no scholar.

The speaker also reviewed the Survey's Report on the Prince Rupert schools, the tendency to departmentalized school system, the value of manual training and domestic science, the need for consolidation of rural schools, the suggested doing away of free text books, the improvement of writing in the school under the present system, and the tendency to substitute an accredited system of promotion instead of the examinations, which at present are such a strain on pupils, and indeed somewhat of a nuisance from the teachers' point of view.

Intelligence Tests

It is to be hoped that an opportunity may be accorded Mr. Fraser to speak at a later date on "Intelligence Tests," a remarkably interesting subject, now well past the experimental stage, and which based on recognized laws, provide many startling results, not always gratifying to those undergoing the test.

A very hearty vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Fraser for his address and the meeting adjourned for the little less interesting part of the program—refreshments.

HOSPITAL BUSY ALL THE TIME

Patients Had to be Prematurely Discharged to Make Room for Others Coming

The hospital is very busy at the present time with a preponderance of male patients and an unusual number of operations it was reported to the board last night by Miss Jean Harrison, R.N., lady superintendent.

President Campbell supplemented the report to this effect by stating that even yesterday it had been necessary to have doctors discharge patients in order to let others in and every available accommodation in the hospital was taken up. In view of present conditions, Mr. Campbell was of the opinion that the board would shortly be faced with the problem of extending facilities.

Miss Harrison reported that one student had finished her course of training, one probationer had resigned and two new ones had been admitted.

DRYDOCK BUSY

Steel Arrives for New Okanagan Lake Power Craft

Work preparatory to the building of the large power boat at the local dry dock for service on Okanagan Lake has been started. The first steel for the job arrived from the south yesterday and actual construction will start without delay as the vessel has to be ready for service this coming summer.

The freighter Canadian Rover has completed annual overhaul and installation of winches at the dock but will remain here until next Wednesday when she will proceed to Ocean Falls to pick up her schedule in the Ocean Falls-California paper carrying service.

The next boat to go on the pontoons at the dry dock will be the Prince John for which a new shaft, to replace that broken at Queen Charlotte City recently, arrived yesterday. Already annual overhaul of the John is proceeding.

The Prince George, which has been in the dry dock all winter, will leave the plant about the middle of March to relieve the Prince Rupert which will then be taken in for annual overhaul.

PREPARING TO ERECT TOTEM

Will be Placed on Hill Opposite Bank of Commerce and Walks Constructed

MEN NOW AT WORK THERE

Pole Nearly Forty Feet High is One of Finest in Northern British Columbia

Men are at work preparing the place for the erection of the totem pole purchased by Vice-president Dalrymple when he was here about a year ago. It is to be placed on the small hill opposite the Bank of Commerce on Second Avenue. A path leading to it is being constructed from the walk at the corner of the C.N.R. office building near the engineer's office. It winds up the hill and will also connect with another path from Second Avenue.

The pole will be set in cement in the centre of the mound and a wooden platform is to be built around it. The top of the hill is being levelled, sufficient to allow of this being done.

From Upper Naas

The pole, which came from Gittlakdamix on the Upper Naas River, is surmounted by a wolf and the carvings below tell the story of the origin of the family. It is in good state of preservation, having been overhauled and repaired and painted by an expert, old Fred Alexeev of Port Simpson, an Indian who has done a great deal of totem pole work and who understands the native coloring.

The pole was secured by W. E. Allison, Indian agent here, with the idea of retaining it for the city. When Mr. Dalrymple was here he was shown the pole and at once agreed to purchase it and to have it erected. The plan is to have it ready before the arrival of the summer tourists as one of the added attractions of the city.

Among those making the trip with Mr. Manson are S. E. Parker, Ald. W. M. Brown, Howard White, James Dick, Thomas McMeekin, Walter Longwell, Walter Maloney, W. D. Christison, E. Enwin, Frank Rice, G. P. Tinker, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. S. Sims, D. Munro, Ald. M. M. Stephens, W. H. Wilson Murray, R. R. Rose, Robert Stuart, Frank Dibb, S. Thomson, C. V. Eivil, C. H. Elkins, R. E. An Infallible Guard

HEIMDAL, according to Celtic mythology, was the perfect sentinel. His hearing was so acute that he could hear the wool growing on a sheep's back His eyesight was so keen he could see everything that happened even though it occurred while he slept.

Advertising, if you use it properly, is an infallible sentinel for you. It guards you against fraud and inferiority. It protects you against making unwise and unsatisfactory purchases.

Merchants and manufacturers who advertise must give full value because they have good names to protect. The makers of well-known products and the stores that sell these products often value the names at millions of dollars. They cannot afford to jeopardize the worth of these names by selling any but good goods of full measure and fair price.

So, you can bank on this. Advertised goods must be as advertised. That is why it pays to deal with advertisers and to buy advertised products.
