MINERS' STRIKE MAY BE SETTLED BY COMPROMISE SUGGEST NEWSPAPERS

Strong Language Used at Anti-Bolshevik Meeting in London Urges Government Take Action

LONDON, July 16.—Strong language was heard at a big anti-Bolshevik demonstration organized in Albert Hall last night by various members of Parliament who are angry at the Government's tolerant attitude towards Russian and British miners. A resolution carried unanimously protecting against "Subversive activities of the Soviet" and offering "full support to the Government in steps dealing with these."

Colonel John Gretton, Conservative, presided, and Sir Hamar Greenwood, former chief secretary for Ireland, said if the home office lacked the necessary power to deal with such interference, it would ask Parliament to strengthen the law to deal with "those who are trying to wreck our civilization."

Commander Locker Lampson faulted the Government with being afraid the withdrawal of recognition of the Soviet Government might be treated as tantamount to a declaration of war.

Canada Must Be First Declares Mayor Martin of Montreal in an Interview Given at Victoria

"All citizens of Canada must do one thing above all others—they must place Canada first," Hon. Mederic Martin said in an interview. "They may be English, Irish, Scottish, Italian or French, Catholic, Protestant or Jew, but if we want to progress as a country we must place the interests of Canada first above all racial and religious inclinations or prejudices."

"That is one of the reasons for the great advance of the United States. The people of that country submerged all their former racial connections and considered only United States first."

"Although I come from Quebec, I as a Canadian realize that the west is my country just as much as the east. This great Canada is all our country from ocean to ocean. We must think of it as a whole, think of it above other ties, fight and preach for Canada first."

Class Differences Drawback

Hon. M. Martin also urged that sectional and class differences be submerged in the interests of the country as a whole. "We must not think of ourselves as farmers, laborites or as belonging to any other group," he went on. "The people of Canada must understand that these questions of class are not in the interests of the country as a whole. There are two big parties in the country, the party in power and the opposition. The only way to have good government in the interests of all is to work through one or other of these parties, instead of breaking them

LIBERALS PREPARING TO CONTEST VICTORIA AGAINST S. F. TOLMIE

"My, but Baron Byng did a bad thing, as far as the interests and solidification of the country is concerned," he went on. "He made a great mistake and he failed to do his duty when he refused to take the advice of Premier King, who was the representative of the people at the time, and grant a dissolution."

He recalled that at the last general election Mackenzie King said in his speeches that unless his party were given a satisfactory majority in the House of Commons he would again appeal to the country.

"The Premier failed to get a substantial majority and after

Peak of Sockeye Run Expected Next Week Following Drop Off After Good Fishing on Monday

With the sockeye run at its peak and springs, cohoes, chums and pinks also running, the salmon fishing season will be at its height on the Skeena River next week and the week following. According to word received from the river, sockeye fishing there at the first of the week averaged 45 to 50 fish to the boat with the high boat reported at 300. The run has fallen off considerably during the past day or so, but a great improvement is expected next week. Spring fishing on the river at the present time is much better than it was last July, but May and June were away below average.

The pink, chum and coho run will start in the river next week. Trollers are now catching cohoes at Dundas Island and Warke Cap-

British Newspapers Say Strike of Miners Likely Be Settled Very Soon

LONDON, July 16.—Rumors of impending developments in the settlement of the miners' strike are given prominence in the newspapers here today, with hints that success may be expected on the basis of a seven and a half hour day and the stabilization of wages for at least six months.

According to the latest reports, nothing substantial resulted from yesterday's conference between the miners' executive and the Trades Union Congress for the current version is that Congress promises support to the miners freely and the miners say it is a re-affirmation of what the Congress had already done to the best of its ability.

DICKIE SEES VICTORY AHEAD

Thinks Conservatives Will Clean Up Skeena, As Well As Another B. C. Seat.

VICTORIA, July 16.—In an interview here G. H. Dickie, Conservative member for Cowichan in the House of Commons, declared that Conservatives would take two seats now held by Liberals and retain the seats now held by them. He did not specify which seats, but it is thought he was referring to Skeena as one of them. He was very eulogistic of the new government formed by Arthur Meighen and said he looked for a sweeping victory all along the line, especially in Ontario.

THE DAILY NEWS

PRINCE RUPERT - BRITISH COLUMBIA

Published Every Afternoon, except Sunday, the Prince Rupert Daily News, Limited, Third Avenue, H. F. PULLEN, Managing Editor.

DAILY EDITION

Friday, July 16, 1926.

Boost your town and the town will boost you.

Give Good Welcome
To Our Visitors.

There is one thing Prince Rupert can always do and that is extend a hearty welcome to visitors. In that way we make them feel that this is a good place to visit and they carry with them pleasant remembrances of the city.

Next week H. M. S. Curlew will be here. The officers and men doubtless remember the good time they had when they were here before and they are glad to return. They will be here for some days and Prince Rupert people will not forget to show them what can be done locally. Already a good many events have been arranged in their honor.

Don't Believe

Everything You Hear.

Our advice to the people of this district now that the election is approaching is not to believe everything they read and hear. The difficulty is that most of us believe the things we want to believe. For instance, the man who was born a Conservative and has always voted Conservative, is ready to believe anything that supports his party but discredits as lies everything that favors the other groups. So with the Liberals and the Laborites and the Progressives. The principle is the same. Happily there are a lot of people who are not tied and bound by any party and on them rests the salvation of the country. They are the citizens who turn elections, the controlling elements to which all parties pander. Win them and the election is won. To them we suggest that they weigh well everything they hear and sift well everything they read. Do not believe it because it is in this paper or that. People who send out despatches are human just the same as the rest of the people. This is a time for serious and deep thought and careful research.

Problem in India

Largely Religious.

Religion has always been a fruitful cause of strife. After many hundreds of thousands of years of paganism, there arose a prophet in Israel who preached peace on earth and good will to men, and since his time his followers have been quarreling among themselves as to which are his true followers.

In India today the chief strife is between Hindus and Mohammedans. Each has his own method of worshipping the higher power and each objects to the method of the other. Millions of Hindus disagree with other millions of Mohammedans and sometimes they disagree with such effect that bloodshed ensues.

Tolerance is the one thing we lack today. We are all too prone to look for the evil in our neighbors, our contemporaries or our coreligionists instead of searching out the good points and finding out where we agree rather than where we differ.

Nature has made us all different. Members of the same family differ in disposition and in appearance and we have many differences in religious matters. What is necessary is to agree to differ.

It Is An Issue For Canadians.

Now that it has been raised the constitutional issue will have to be fought out in the coming general elections, says the Manitoba Free Press. Those who imagine that the Governor General's action should not be reviewed by the people of Canada are trying to blind themselves to the facts of the situation. It has been announced that the action of Baron Byng will be a matter for consideration at the next Imperial Conference. Prof. Arthur Berriedale Keith of Edinburgh, the noted constitutional authority, writes in the Manchester Guardian that "the matter is one far transcending Canadian politics because it affects the status of the Irish Free State." In view of the import of the Governor's decision to the other Dominions and to the British peoples themselves it is folly to hold to the opinion that the matter is not one of vital concern to the people of Canada. The Manchester Guardian pointed out this week that if the United Kingdom and the Dominions have an equality of status then the precedents in relation to the King that hold in one should hold in another, and that when Baron Byng created a precedent in Canada by refusing to take the advice of his prime minister that precedent will have to be taken into consideration in the relations of the King to the Prime Minister of Great Britain. Thus the people of the United Kingdom have, too, a vital concern in the precedents established in Canada.

DELEGATE REPORTED AT ROTARY LUNCHEON

Sid Johnston Told of Big Doings
at Denver, Col., When 10,000
Delegates Attended.

At the regular weekly luncheon of the Prince Rupert Rotary Club Sid Johnston, delegate to the annual international convention, which took place this year at Denver, Colorado, reported to the local club. He told of the wonderful gathering of ten thousand people and the manner in which they were entertained by the people of the Colorado city. Thousands of automobiles were kept at the disposal of the visitors all the time and there were rounds of entertainment in addition to the business sessions and public addresses. Throughout the time there was not a dull moment. Wives of the delegates were looked after by the ladies of the city and everything possible done to make the visitors have an enjoyable and instructive time.

One of the entertainments was a Rotary pageant in which 4,000 people took part and at which 30,000 spectators were present.

Several visitors were present at the luncheon and W. T. Chute, who is here for a couple of months, sang most acceptably.

THE MAN IN THE MOON

says:

WHEN a woman tells another woman not to tell because she promised another person not to tell, that's a secret.

A SECRET is something that is told with much more relish than ordinary gossip.

HERE is a story
But don't you tell.
My friend told me
And I know full well
She would be mad
If I let you know;
So don't tell anyone
I told you so.

WHEN a man boasts of his decency you may be sure it is a recent achievement.

IF you are not feeling well enough for work, how in the name of Diogenes do you expect to enjoy a holiday?

ONE of the most famous after dinner speeches recorded in history is that of the man ten years married who remarks: "Now sweetheart, let us do the dishes together."

A THING of beauty is a flint forever.

WITH young married people, the thing to worry about is not their future but their present.

CANADIANS must be a wicked lot else why should they be punished by another election this year?

"I HOPE we shall meet again," said the Prince Rupert merchant last year when he added up his losses.

"THE eyes have it," declared the short skirted flapper who presided at the men's meeting.

IF only the hot air generated and wasted at the forthcoming election could be stored and utilized, there would be no fuel bill next winter.

FIGURES don't lie any more. They did once when girls padded their limbs and covered themselves with long dresses.

IF you employ a night watchman to guard your character, your reputation is likely to suffer.

HEALTH is a thing you do not get out of bottles.

THERE'S one thing about bobbed haired girls. Some look funnier than others.

PEOPLE used to speak sarcastically of three sexes, males, females and curates. Now they have to add flappers.

EDUCATE THE PEOPLE

Financial Gain of the Country at Large Would Follow If U. S. Ports Not Used.

VANCOUVER, July 16.—A strong plea that as a patriotic duty Canadian grain and Canadian products generally should be shipped through the ports of the maritime provinces was made before the convention of the Canadian Credit Men's Association here by E. J. Murphy, of Halifax, N. S.

Mr. Murphy referred to the transportation problems that have faced different sections of the Dominion and to the enormous expenditures made with a view to solving some of these problems through utilization of the maritime ports.

Rates the Same

"Yet," he added, "notwithstanding the fact that export rates through Canadian Atlantic ports are exactly the same as through American Atlantic ports, what do we find? This year out of an estimated export of 330,000,000 bushels of grain, not less than 180,000,000 bushels will probably go through American ports, 80,000,000 through the port of Vancouver, 60,000,000 through the port of Montreal and probably less than 42,000,000 through the maritime ports of Halifax and St. John, though both of them are well equipped with grain handling facilities."

Mr. Murphy referred to the fact that the Grand Trunk, now absorbed in the Canadian National, had for years made Portland, Maine, its winter port for Canadian business.

It was true that the distance was shorter and it cost the railway less to haul their freight, but another fact must not be lost sight of—the fact that all the employees of Canadian railway spent their earnings in an American port and the boats loaded with Canadian freight paid harbormasters to American officials.

Complete Cargo

"It is even a fact," he continued, "that within the last few weeks steamers, loaded mainly with Canadian grain have called at Halifax on the route across the Atlantic to complete a small portion of their cargo. Are you surprised that we sometimes lose patience and express indignation in rather forcible language?"

"It seems peculiar that the railways contend that there is no money for them in handling grain. When the annual statements are issued, the profit-producing months are, as a rule, the months in which the bulk of the grain is moved by them."

Mr. Murphy concluded by stating that he had been told that the railways had no control over the routing of the grain and that they were obliged to carry it as routed.

Vancouver Enterprise

"If such is the case," he said, "a campaign is in order to educate Canadians to be patriotic and to assist one another by co-operating as far as possible in using the ports of Canada for the financial gain, not merely of these ports, but of the country at large."

The speaker complimented the people of Vancouver on the enterprise shown in the advancement of their port and said that the people of the maritimes were not envious but merely desirous of obtaining fair treatment.

ANNUAL PICNIC OF BAPTIST CHURCH S. S.

Enjoyable Events Took Place Yesterday Afternoon on Digby Island.

The annual Baptist Church Sunday School picnic took place yesterday afternoon at Digby Island. There were about 100 youngsters and parents in attendance and the event was one of much enjoyment. The launch "23" and private boats were used to convey the crowd to the island where there was a full program of races and games with refreshments in abundance. The first of the picnickers left at 1 o'clock in the afternoon and by 8 o'clock in the evening all were safely home.

The committee in charge of the event consisted of Clifford Gilker (chairman), Joe Harvey, P. H.

BRINGING UP FATHER

FORMAL ANNOUNCEMENT RIGHT TO FISH BAIT

Alaskans Now May Get Order Allowing Herring to be Taken and Stored for Halibut Fishing

KETCHIKAN, July 16.—Modification of the Alaska fisheries law to permit the taking of bait during closed seasons, approved recently by congress, was officially announced in Ketchikan through a bulletin from Stephen Davis, acting secretary of commerce.

The only change in the existing provisions of the law is the insertion of the clause:

"Provided further, that the secretary of commerce is hereby authorized to permit the taking of fish or shellfish, for bait purposes only, at any or all seasons in any or all Alaskan territorial waters."

This modification enables the promulgation of regulations liberalizing conditions under which halibut fishermen may secure herring for bait at times when commercial fishing for herring for other purposes is prohibited.

Davis' announcement also included an amendment to Regulation No. 3 for the Southeastern Alaskan area stipulating that the closed season for commercial fishing shall not apply to the taking of herring for bait purposes in waters otherwise open to fishing.

At the opening of the present halibut season fishing was retarded somewhat because of the lack of herring bait. The new provision will permit the catching and storing of herring for bait in preparation for the opening of the season.

TEACHERS HEAR ABOUT HEALTH AND DISEASES

Of Total Population of Canada
180,000 are Constantly Sick
Says Lecturer

VICTORIA, July 15.—The population of Canada is 9,215,000. Of this number 180,000 are constantly sick; 70,000 constantly employed in gainful occupation. The loss to industry of work days through illness annually totals $21,000,000. Disease costs the Dominion of Canada the sum of $270,000,000, equal to about seventy-five per cent of the entire Government expenditure for the year 1924.

Bacteriology

These and other arresting figures in connection with Canada's health record were quoted by Mrs. Lucas, superintendent of the Saanich Health Centre, in her lecture on "Bacteriology" to a class of students at the Summer School. The course, like all the others, covers a five-week period, during which time she is dealing with various angles of the subject of public health education. In her lectures she has already given definitions of health, public health, hygiene, sanitation, epidemiology, therapeutics and bacteriology. There will follow lectures on the relation of the public to public health workers, the importance of statistics, nutrition, ventilation, infection and infectious diseases, water, milk, flies, etc.; how a city keeps healthy; school hygiene and the examination of the child for physical or mental defects with a view to correction or removal from contact with healthy children; the value of fresh air, isolation of colds and other infectious diseases; the study of the teachers' health; value of recreation, both to teacher and pupil; importance of proper exercise, sleep, food, dental care, cleanliness, etc.

Sickness not Punishment

"Sickness is no longer considered as a punishment for sin," said Mrs. Lucas in explaining to her class the place of the disease germ in creating disturbances in the human system. The whole of the science of medicine, as well as agriculture and many industries had been revolutionized by Pasteur's discovery of the vegetable forms known as bacteria, which cause putrefaction and fermentation and, when they find a suitable host in living matter, disease.

Of the 1,560 germs already isolated, seventy-five varieties only were known to produce disease, it was explained.

The instructor defined diseases as of two kinds, those, such as smallpox, measles, typhoid, etc., which were transmissible directly or indirectly from one person to another; and the degenerative diseases, such as heart disease, apoplexy, which were non-transmissible.

The expression "contagious," the class was informed, was no longer scientifically used.

Bacteria Necessary

After hearing of the disease-creating germs, the class was introduced to the more cheerful variety known as saprophytes, which, unable to thrive in living tissue and finding their food in dead organic matter, both animal and vegetable, are necessary to the nourishment of plants and vegetables of the higher kingdom, which in turn nourish men and animals.

If it were not for the bacterial activities, vegetable life would become extinct, plant life would end, the animal kingdom would have no food, and would become extinct," said the lecturer.

Parasites

Parasites were defined as bacteria or germs which flourished in living tissue, which tissue was known as the host. Parasites contributed nothing to their host but poisonous substances known as toxins. Every germ had its own disease and its own special haunts. Typhoid, for instance, would pass the respiratory organs and the stomach without doing any harm, but in the intestine, "at last settled down to housekeeping with a vengeance." On the other hand, the germ of scarlet fever or diphtheria stopped at the throat; and the pulmonary T.B. germ sought out the lung.

Some of the commoner diseases were named, the common cold, influenza, pneumonia, whooping cough, tetanus (nowadays seldom heard of), mumps, scarlet fever, infantile paralysis, smallpox (although the germ has not yet been isolated), and chicken pox and measles (the germ of which, strangely, has not yet been identified). The class was warned of the importance of teaching cleanliness of the hand and the keeping of the hand away from the mouth, nose and eyes, "because the human hand is a great carrier of germs, both to and from the body."

"I'll bet," said an acquaintance to a notoriously thrifty Scot. "I'll bet that you didn't even spend money to buy your wife a birthday present this year."

"Well, yes," admitted Sandy regretfully, "I weakened a little when her birthday came round. I spent a dollar putting an ad in the paper that she takes in sewing."
