City Hands Over Policing of City to Provincial Force at Special Meeting of Council

Estimated that two thousand dollars will be saved through making change and greater efficiency expected to result; Mayor opposes

Defeating an amendment that the question be put to a plebiscite of the people, the city council last night by a vote of five to three decided to transfer police authority in Prince Rupert from municipal to provincial control. The decision followed a conference with Col. J. H. McMullin, superintendent of provincial police, and the resolution effecting it, moved by Ald. M. Brown, seconded by Ald. R. F. Perry, was that the city enter into an agreement for the policing of the city along the lines set out by Col. McMullin.

GIVENCHY HAS AN ACCIDENT

Strips Propeller in Massett Inlet and is to be Towed Here For Repairs

STRUCK SOMETHING

Malaspina on Way From Nanaimo to Pick Her up and Take Her to Drydock

The Canadian government steamer Givenchy, which left here last Friday for Queen Charlotte Islands, is crippled in Massett Inlet awaiting the arrival of the steamer Malaspina from Nanaimo, where she has been bunkering, to tow her to Prince Rupert for repairs. Last Monday, the Givenchy struck some submerged object in Massett Inlet and all the blades were stripped from her propeller and the vessel was anchored pending the arrival of assistance.

The Givenchy made the trip to the Queen Charlotte Islands having a party of government officials on board including J. E. Miller, inspector of customs; T. Mason, his assistant; M. Pollard, excise tax collector; J. P. Ford, district engineer for the federal department of public works; and E. M. Haynes, post office inspector.

Word was received at the Dominion Fisheries office today that Adam Mackie, inspector of fisheries, and James Boyd, overseer, who were aboard the Givenchy, expected to return to the city aboard a Wallace Fisheries cannery tender tonight. It is expected that balance of the party on board the crippled vessel will return by the same means.

Mother is Worth $32,000 but Brother Only Six Cents While Father of Child Valued $12,000

QUESNEL, April 22.—In the eyes of an American court a mother is worth $32,000 to a child, a father is worth $12,000 but a brother is worth only six cents. That such is the ratio of values was made clear in a judgment given by the superior court of New Jersey in connection with the claims of a boy now residing at Williams Lake near here.

Word was received yesterday from Jersey City, N.J., of awards totalling $64,000 in favor of six-year-old Tommy Ross for the value of his father, mother and two-year-old brother and also for injuries sustained by himself set at $20,000 when the Pennsylvania Railroad train crashed into an automobile driven by Thomas Ross Sr. at Millway, New Jersey, in November, 1923.

Having no nearer relative, the orphan boy was brought to Williams Lake by his uncle, Rae Elliott. Damage actions were launched on behalf of the child who received $32,000 for the loss of his mother, $12,000 for the loss of his father, six cents for the loss of his brother, and $20,000 for injuries sustained himself.

Deadlock Result of Conference of Miners and Mine Owners This Morning Regarding Wage Scale

LONDON, April 22.—A conference of mine owners and members of the executive of the miners' union executive meeting this morning in an endeavor to find a basis for settlement of the wage dispute ended in a deadlock. As the government subsidy which made possible the existence of the present scale expires at the end of the month, the failure of today's meeting indicates that outside influences must be brought to bear to prevent dislocation of the industry.

Northern Alberta Wheat to be Shipped Through Port of Prince Rupert

George McIvor, export manager of the Consolidated Pool, will visit Prince Rupert in company with H. W. Wood, president of Alberta Pool

Hope For Success Selling P.G.E.

It is to be hoped Premier Oliver will succeed in selling the P.G.E. with the help of land grants from the governments concerned. These lands are at present unused and the railways will settle them much more rapidly than will the province or the Dominion government. While the best thing that could happen, it would seem, would be for one of the big railway systems to operate the road, the next best plan would be for some private company to take it over and pay themselves for their trouble out of the lands to be opened up. However, we rather doubt the ability of Premier Oliver to persuade anyone that it would be a good investment. We hope he can and that the purchasers will make a good thing of it.

Learning To Swim Important To All.

Several lives have been lost this year because of inability to swim. Boys and girls grow up in a place highly favored like this and go out into life without being able to keep themselves from sinking if they fall into the water. It's a pitiful condition. It is difficult to understand the mentality of a boy or girl who does not yearn to get into the water and of a parent who refuses to aid in the satisfying of that urge. Many lads from inland points learned to swim in a dirty creek or a stagnant slough. Water they craved and nothing could stop them. Here things are too easy. We have a fine swimming pool with fair dressing rooms and all the conditions suitable to swimming and yet there are those who fail to take advantage of the opportunity. This seems foolish on their part.

Value Of Health Must Not Be Forgotten.

One of the greatest things in the world is good health. Most of us are born with fairly strong bodies but we do not always treat them right. We forget that they are important and we do things which we know are likely to injure them. Some of us eat too much, others drink too much. Others do not take proper exercise, while breathing and the supply of fresh air are both neglected.

Without a strong body it is difficult to do one's work well and physical discomfort is apt to react in mental discomfort. A condition of happiness helps keep the body in good condition, so the cultivation of a happy disposition is something worth while both because of its effect on ourselves and also because it is more pleasant for others.

Greatness Consists In Actions, Not Words.

Greatness consists in actions, not words. Sometimes also it consists in refraining from action. Often it is harder to hold back than to do something. Once a teacher tried to illustrate this by telling his pupils that if struck on the cheek, the noble thing to do was not to up with the fist and hit back but to turn the other cheek and suggest perhaps he would like to hit that, too. Possibly the illustration is a little far fetched but the lesson is that self-control is necessary, is indeed the first thing for a young man to learn.

Games As A Factor In Controlling Self.

Games are very important in teaching a boy or girl self-control. When games cease to do that they cease to be of value. Football, lacrosse, and other sports in which there is team work and in which self-restraint has to be practiced to insure success are the most valuable. As long as the players keep their tempers and play the game like men they are learning lessons in self-control which will last throughout life.

Bilious Headache

Mrs. John Ireland, Nobleton, Ont. writes "I was a great sufferer from severe headaches and bilious spells. I tried a number of remedies without obtaining any benefit until I was advised to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. These completely relieved me, and made me feel like a new person. I am very grateful."

THE pains, the aches, the tired feelings, the depression, the bodily discomforts are the result of the accumulation of poisons in the body. When they fail they must be aroused to action by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. They are so direct in action on the liver, kidneys and bowels that relief comes quickly and serious ills are avoided. Only the liver and kidneys can purify the blood.

STEWART MINES MAKE PROGRESS

Spokane Paper Tells of Work Being Done There in Letter From Field Correspondent

A special field correspondent of Northwest Mining Service of Spokane writing in the most recent issue from Stewart says:

The main cross-cut tunnel of the B.C. Silver Company's property, adjoining the Premier Mine on the north, is expected shortly to open up two more parallel veins which have been strongly indicated by diamond drilling. Concurrently with this work the development of the high-grade ore shoot by up-raising is being prosecuted vigorously. A month ago it was conservatively estimated that in this ore body alone there was now in sight more than one million dollars.

B.C. Silver is consequently looking better than ever, although some time must elapse before it can be put on a regular dividend paying basis. It is the most extensively and deeply developed property, as well as the best equipped, in the whole Portland Canal District, with the single exception of the Premier Mine.

Premier's New Ore-Shoot

Drifting and cross-cutting on the No. 2 level of the Premier has demonstrated conclusively that the new high grade ore body does not exist on that level. It now proves that the shoot of high grade being opened up on the No. 1 level is an off-shoot or fault displacement from the parent ore body. One hundred feet of drifting will bring the new workings on the No. 1 level into old worked out stopes. No. 1 level will begin shortly. As the situation now stands there is a good body of ore available above and probably for some distance below the No. 1 level in the new shoot. Although it is not a separate ore body and does not persist to great depth, it is an important asset.

Early in the present month production of the mine will be somewhere between 400 or 500 tons a day, utilizing to the utmost the enlarged capacity of mill, power plant and tramway. Earnings for some time in the future are consequently likely to show a material increase over those of the last half year or so.

Big Missouri Promising

Although I have not yet had an opportunity of examining the Big Missouri, I am informed on all hands that it has every earmark of a real mine, under progressive management. Although the Big Missouri was turned down by the Premier people, it is the general impression here that they made a mistake.

To Acquire Indian Mines

Engineers in the employ of the Premier Company are constantly examining properties and are now reported to have gotten good results from their recent sampling of the Indian Mines Company's property. A deal for that property is now being negotiated and it seems certain that one will eventually be closed by which the Premier will take over the development and operation of the Indian group. It is located a short distance north of the Premier and on the opposite side of the valley.

Dunwell is doing well and looks like a safe speculation at its present price. Many unusually good speculative opportunities are now to be found in this district and it is confidently expected that others will be disclosed as a result of this season's work.

CITY HANDS OVER POLICING OF CITY TO PROVINCIAL FORCE AT SPECIAL MEETING OF THE COUNCIL.

single and more uniform enforcement. It would be more easy to trace fugitives and there would be relief always at hand when required.

"The question, however," Col. McMullin concluded "is entirely up to the council to decide. I have not come here to ask you to make the change but merely to give you such information as you may desire."

Ald. Jos. Greer inquired, if it were decided to make the change, could the provincial police absorb members of the present city

force. Absorb Local Force
Col. McMullin replied that, while he could make no definite promise at this time, it was possible that the local men might be absorbed in the provincial force and stationed somewhere else. He felt that it would be better to make an entire change here.

Ald. Perry inquired specifically regarding the chief and Col. McMullin replied that he thought he could safely say that the chief would be taken in.

Ald. Brown asked if the city police station would be used by the provincial police. Col. McMullin replied in the affirmative stating that the city would, of course, be required to pay for water, light, fuel and phone as it did at present.

Mayor Newton brought up the question as to whether six men would be sufficient to police the city. It had often been complained that the present city force was not large enough. Col. McMullin, in answer to this, said that the staff of the district office here would always be available if necessary.

Aldermen's Views

After asking some questions as to what other cities in the province had already made the change, Ald. Casey expressed the opinion that no other thriving and growing city in the province such as Prince Rupert had yet transferred its police authority.

Ald. Stephens felt that it was a step in the right direction to make the change. There were too many police forces in the city and there would be a saving by combination.

Stating that the city stood to save money at a time when it was desirable to save every dollar possible and expressing the belief that the city would be better policed by making the change, Ald. Brown moved that an agreement be entered into with the provincial government to police the city along the lines set out by Col. McMullin. The motion was seconded by Ald. Perry.

City Solicitor Jones enquired as to the term of such an agreement, Col. McMullin replying that it was customary to make it for one year subject to three months' notice thereafter.

Flying in Public Face

In moving an amendment that the question be put to a plebiscite of the people, Ald. Casey stated that he was in no way ready to submit a right that was vested in the people to a foreign authority without first consulting the people. The city was presuming to give away a privilege that the people had long fought for and for some time enjoyed. As to the financial side of the question, he could see no guarantee that a saving would be effected. It was all supposition. By making the change proposed, the city would be going backwards and resolving itself into an autocracy. He did not believe the change would be in accordance with popular sentiment. Before making a step so reactionary and drastic, the mover and seconded he felt would be well advised to give the people the opportunity of expressing themselves. Instead of flying in the face of public opinion and selling the liberty of the people without consulting them, he moved that a plebiscite on the question be taken at the earliest possible date.

Ald. Larsen seconded the amendment.

Mayor Opposes

Mayor Newton stated that he wished to re-echo every statement of Ald. Casey as his own "honest-to-God convictions." He failed to see where there was to

FEARS CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGE THIS COUNTRY

(Edmonton Journal)

The old rule dating back to the reign of Queen Anne, which required a member, on entering the cabinet, to return to his constituents for reelection, has been abandoned by the mother of parliaments. That its example would be followed elsewhere throughout the empire was inevitable. Legislation to that end is to be introduced at Ottawa and one of the amendments to the Alberta legislative assembly act, which Mr. Brownlee has now introduced, calls for the removal of the provision here.

Under ordinary circumstances it has not served any useful purpose in recent years and was a source of needless inconvenience and expense. But conditions do arise, of which those at Ottawa at the present moment are a striking example, when it is a valuable safeguard. The temptation is great for a government with an insecure hold on power, to offer a member, who has not been elected as one of its supporters, a cabinet position in order to secure his adherence. It is to be feared that this will happen not infrequently, once he is relieved of the necessity of facing his constituents anew and seeking their approval of the course that has been adopted.

ITALIANS DO NOT READ VERY WIDELY

ROME, April 22.—Italians read less than the citizens of the other great nations of the world, it has been found by a committee of distinguished scholars, attempting to create interest in the work of young Italian authors.

Rome, with a population of nearly 900,000, has hardly a dozen important bookshops and these are largely devoted to the classics, technical and political books.

ANNUAL HARD TIMES DANCE

Event at Exhibition Hall Last Night Proved Very Enjoyable

The annual hard times dance took place last night at the exhibition hall and proved a very enjoyable event. The floor of the hall had been specially prepared for the occasion and was in good shape. R. E. Benson was master of ceremonies and kept things moving well.

The scene was a spectacular one, many of those present having disguised themselves in old and odd costumes and changed their general appearance by means of face paint. When the time for judging came, the march was led by the pipers band consisting of J. Stewart, A. Bruce, S. Leslie, A. McDonald, J. Sturgeon, S. Currie and J. McLellan. The prizes went for the best comic lady to Mrs. Fred Scadden and best comic man to "Archie" Robinson. Mayor Newton presented the prizes.

Another interesting event during the evening was the Charleston dance contest, the first prize going to Sam Joy and Miss Marie McLeod. Only three couples entered but they gave good exhibitions of the latest art.

Another feature was the Scottish dances which were entered into with zest even if the dancers did not in every case show familiarity with the steps and precision of movement. For these, music was provided by a special orchestra consisting of J. Bremner, leader, J. Watt, J. McKay, Vaughan Davies and Dave Ross. The director of the Scottish dances was J. Simpson.

The boys' band led a parade through the city prior to the event and also played in the hall on arrival. Arthur's band provided the general dance music. During the evening hot dogs and cider were sold by the Gyros, and tea was served by the Ladies of the Mooseheart Legion. The Elks and the C.N.R. also had booths.

A cake raffled by the ladies of the Legion was raffled and won by Bill Beesley.

The total proceeds of the evening amounted to $274, there being 353 who paid admissions to the hall. Ernie Urwin was cashier and John Williamson on the door.

FELL FROM CAKE OF ICE INTO RIVER AT EDMONTON AND DROWNS

EDMONTON, April 22.—The first city drowning accident of the season on the Saskatchewan river occurred at the east end of the city just beyond the Highlands when a nine-year-old boy named Phillip Forchynuk, Beverly, lost his life. The lad had been playing with a half dozen others of the same age on the north shore of the river about 400 yards east of the city limit in Beverly and it was here that the fatality occurred.

According to the story told to the police by his companions the unfortunate lad had gone out on the cake of ice which was touching the shore. The others, fearing danger, pulled him off but he persisted and took another venture. Just then the ice moved off with the current which was running rapidly and before he could do anything to escape he was far from the shore.

The others, fascinated by the danger watched for a minute and then were horrified to see Forchynuk slip off the ice and into the water. All ran panic stricken for aid but when help arrived no trace was to be seen of the lad.

The proceeds of the concert at the Anglican Church Tuesday evening amounted to $108.55.

INCREASE IN IMMIGRATION

Canadian National Announces 145 Per Cent More This Year so Far

WINNIPEG, April 21.—An increase of more than 145 per cent in immigration over the Canadian National lines into western Canada up to the end of April over the same period of last year is announced by colonization officials of the Canadian National railways. This is taking into consideration those who arrive at Quebec on Saturday and the majority of whom will proceed west to take up farms of their own or engage in agricultural work for others.

An even more striking comparison is that of the Canadian National's farm employment service. From the beginning of the year up to date the company has placed in farm work more new comers than during the entire season of either 1925 or 1926 and 4,000 more than had been placed up to the end of April last year.

BURIED WITH MASONIC RITES THIS AFTERNOON

Services for Late John Thirkle Held in Lodge Temple and at B.C. Undertakers

The funeral of the late John Thirkle, pioneer of the city, whose death occurred in the Prince Rupert General Hospital last Sunday morning, took place this afternoon under the auspices of Tsimpsaan Lodge A.F. & A.M. There were services at the Masonic Temple and at the parlor of the B.C. Undertakers with Mr. W. M. Brown, the worshipful master, in charge. Interment was in Fairview Cemetery. Pallbearers, all pioneers and members of the Masonic craft, were A. W. Edge, Ald. M. M. Stevens, Ald. Joe Greer, Dr. H. E. Tremayne, George W. Kerr and J. H. Thompson.

The late Mr. Thirkle, who was about 60 years of age and a native of Weston, Ontario, came to Prince Rupert before railway construction days and later spent several years at Anxox. About a year ago in this city he was stricken with an attack of paralysis from which he failed to recover, having been a patient in the hospital for the past twelve months. He is survived by a brother in Weston, Ontario, and an uncle resides at Ladner's Landing, B.C.

Among those sending flowers to the funeral were Tsimpsaan Lodge No. 58, A.F. & A.M. and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McRae.

INTERMEDIATE SOCCER LEAGUE

Proposal to Have Series for the Younger Players of the City ORGANIZATION NEEDED

The need of an intermediate soccer league for the present season is mentioned by a good many of those interested in games in this city. The president of the football association writes in regard to this:

At present, our boys are shut out of football from their Junior days, until they manage to pick up somehow enough skill and experience to make the senior teams. This is not a good thing for the boys, or the game, or the city.

We have the boys, and the grounds, and there are good men willing to manage and train the teams. The difficulty is that these boys are not in touch with organizations able to promote and field the teams. The Football Association accordingly suggests that say two of our various city organizations each undertake to put on a team. The upper High School boys report that they are already organized. Two further teams would give intermediate football a good start.

This is a good move, and I trust will be supported.

P. M. WINSLOW.

SPORT CHAT

An official lacrosse guide containing playing rules for 1926 and containing a great deal of valuable information with regard to the history of the game and various records, championships, etc. has been received from the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association. As a means of establishing lacrosse, the Canadian National game, on a firm footing throughout the Dominion, the Association has inaugurated a campaign of education among the school children and letters received by the Association and published in the booklet from various government officials, including cabinet ministers in each of the provinces, and leading men of the country indicate that the campaign is being looked upon with favor from the high places.

The badminton season was closed at Anxox last Sunday with a tournament in which twenty-four players took part and which was in progress from 10.30 in the morning until 6.30 in the evening. Forty-eight mixed double games were played and the balcony of the hall was crowded with interested spectators. Out of a possible 120, Mrs. Kirby made the highest number of points among the ladies with 117 while Mrs. Eve was second with 115. Among the men, Fred Brown and Mr. Moffatt were high with 120, the former being declared the winner in a play-off. Badminton was only established in Anxox this winter but the first season has been a very successful one.

New York Paper Sees Ketchikan as Little Inferno of Gamblers, Liquor Dealers and Red Lights

Speaks of it as the Wickedest City Under the Stars and Stripes; Government is Landlord to Recognized Lawbreakers

The Hearst newspapers do not always keep their offensive remarks for Canada or Great Britain. A recent number of the New York Sunday American has an article on Ketchikan in which that city is branded as the wickedest city under the flag, where vice and crime conditions cannot be matched elsewhere on the continent. The article, which is based on revelations said to have been made recently in the House of Representatives at Washington, follows:

A startling revelation was made in the House of Representatives in Washington recently, that the United States government is acting as landlord and permitting the sale of liquor and dope and the trade of dissolute women and crime of all varieties on its property at Ketchikan in Alaska. It was charged that Uncle Sam, while posing as a moralist, is encouraging and in effect maintaining in Ketchikan and Bristol Bay, Alaska, conditions of vice and crime such as cannot be matched elsewhere on this continent.

Prosperous City

Ketchikan is a city of five thousand inhabitants, a seaport in extreme southeastern Alaska, a marvellous region of island archipelagoes and sounds, with a delightful climate. It is a great fishing centre, made extraordinarily prosperous by the wealth which the ocean yields.

Part of it, called Indian Town, belongs in fee to the United States government, which has set it apart for the occupancy of native Indians, who are civilized and decent folks.

"Disreputable dives, bootlegging, and gambling have been allowed to centre in the section where our homes are located. Our boys and girls are constantly exposed to these evil surroundings, and our children have no place to play but in the midst of vice and disease. We plead with you to change conditions for us, so that our young people may have a chance to grow up to be useful citizens."

It would be a mistake to liken Ketchikan to frontier towns of fifty years or more ago in respect to its wide-open disreputableness. In those towns the saloon was an institution by itself, though commonly supplemented by a dance hall.

But prohibition has closed the saloons, and hence it comes about that in Ketchikan the disorderly houses do the liquor-selling. Bad women are the bartenders. The brothel is a gimmill, with dope-selling as a side line. Liquor, narcotics, and wild women together form one big industry.

City is Rich

As already said, Ketchikan is a great fishing centre; it is also an important call for sea traffic, all ships going north or south stop there. The town is rich, with quantities of money flowing through the hands of business men, many of whom, for the sake of the direct and indirect revenue they derive from vice, are satisfied with existing conditions. Every vessel that stops at Ketchikan finds on the wharves bootleggers and other solicitors of trade in illicit wares.

The plentifulness of money is largely accountable for the mischief. Fishermen make big pay. It is not unusual for a vessel to come in from a ten days' trip loaded with halibut or other fish that sell for enough to allow $500 or $600 for each of the ten or a dozen men composing her crew. The men get the cash when the fish are unloaded; then, their pockets bulging with dollars, they go ashore for a spree.

Much Gambling

The money does not last them long. They spend it quickly in the brothels and gambling places. There is, needless to say, much gambling, in which, as a rule, the chances are in favor of the "houses" are increased to certainty by card sharpening and crooked apparatus. But there are other ways. An organized robbery, with knock-out drops to help on suitable occasions, cleans out the victim who cannot be persuaded by easier means to part with his cash.

It might be said that such conditions have existed in seaport towns all over the world since time immemorial. True enough; but, generally speaking, these towns have been cleaned up. At all events vice and crime no longer flourish in them openly and unashamed. San Francisco had the notorious Barbary Coast, but its infamies have been suppressed by enforcement of law.

The conditions here described exist at Ketchikan and in some other parts of Alaska, notably the Bristol Bay district, because the federal government has not taken the trouble to end them. Recently the department of justice approved the reappointment of officials who are declared by the Alaskan delegate to Congress, Dan Sutherland, to be notoriously unfit. The accused officials deny this.

Formal Protest

Mr. Sutherland has lodged with the Senate judicial committee a formal protest against their re-appointment. The department of justice will be called on to explain why these officials should be continued in office.

The Bristol Bay district is in southwestern Alaska, and is a great cannery centre. The waters thereabout, the many rivers and the wide seas, are a vast fishery. The packing plants are of huge size, employing many thousands of workers, most of whom are Chinamen. In that region at the present time conditions as regards vice and crime are described as appalling.

The narcotic drug evil is particularly bad. Dope addicts are numerous in the canneries, for which labor is usually furnished by Chinese bosses who contract to supply it at a stated price per worker. As a side line, the bosses supply opium to Chinamen who act as selling agents for the staff. In many instances foremen in the packing plants act as agents, distributing the dope, not only opium, but morphine, cocaine and a Mexican narcotic called "marihuana."

This bad situation, which affects in no small degree the whites, including those engaged in the fisheries, gives rise to homicides and all varieties of crime. There is also a vast deal of immorality and bootlegging of liquor, with a widespread prevalence of disease. Not a few of the workers in the canneries, actually employed in putting up of food, are diseased in a horrible degree.

Every now and then a dope-seller is arrested, but the influence of the all-powerful packing interests is exerted in behalf of the offender. It is not that they approve of dope, but they do not want any interference with their business. A packing plant has been reported to have bought a dollar's worth of opium daily for an exceptionally efficient Chinaman who refused to work without it. A dope-seller, on being arrested, is taken before a United States commissioner, who often fixes a very low bond. Of course, under such circumstances, the accused persons nearly always disappear.

Law is Joke

In cases where they are actually brought to trial they always plead guilty. That is an easy way out. They are usually let off with a small fine or a brief jail term. Mr. Sutherland asserts.

The influence of the packing interests makes the anti-narcotic law almost a joke in the fishing and canning districts of Alaska, the Alaskan delegate says, and as a result, there prevails a spirit of compromise.

Outside of Ketchikan and Bristol Bay where large cannery operations are carried on the laws in Alaska are very well observed.

The problem has at last been put fairly and squarely up to the department of justice, which is undeniably responsible for the situation. Are bootleggers, dope-sellers, red light women, professional criminals, and other disreputables to be allowed to maintain the colony which they have established on that land, which is government property?

"Imaginary" Rheumatism Caused by Illfitting Shoes

MANY, many times physicians have diagnosed what appears to be rheumatism, as really being pains arising from the effects of Fallen Arches.

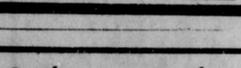

When the foot arches begin to break down, the pain is often ascribed to a sprain or rheumatism. Pain occurs along the inside of the foot, in the heel, also the calf of the leg, and is often located in the knee or hip joints.

This condition brings on general muscular weakness—the ligaments are strained, interfering with proper nourishment of the foot. The circulation becomes poor—attendant symptoms appear—numbness, cold, and at times, undue perspiration.

To prevent and cure this condition the foot must be given support, combined with the utmost freedom of movement.

Arch Defender Shoes give support to the scaphoid bone where needed, while allowing full flexibility and freedom to the muscular structure of the foot.

If you value your health—join the thousands who have banished foot trouble. Get a pair today.

FIRST ENGINE BUILT IN WEST

Transcona Shops Turn Out Freight Locomotive Which Now in Service

WINNIPEG, April 22.—Another railroad milestone for western Canada was passed today when engine 2747 steamed into the Union station here from Transcona where it was built in the Canadian National shops.

This is the first railway locomotive ever produced in the west and was constructed entirely in the local shops, the work being done in addition to the ordinary output of repairs to other engines.

Number 2747 is classed as a 38 per cent engine, is capable of main and branch line freight hauling and has sufficient speed to run the trans-continental.

The weight of the locomotive and tender complete is 193 tons. After the trial runs it will be used on main line time freight trains on the Alberta district where the best use can be made of this class of engine and where the fuel saving devices with which it is equipped will give the most economical results.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 21 years of age and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 3,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditions upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the ranges administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, occupiers and travellers, up to ten head.

AUSTRALIA AND THIS EMPIRE

Country at War If Britain at War Says Attorney General of Commonwealth

UNITY OF POLICY ASKED

Objects to Indifference of Many in Regard to Foreign Affairs of Country

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 22.—(By the Canadian Press Australian Correspondent)—The question of how far the great self-governing British Dominions should enter the field of international politics has exercised many of the ablest minds in the Dominions.

Should the Foreign Office in London formulate the policy for the whole of the Empire, unaided by Dominion statesmen? Or should the Dominions take an active part?

Australia's position was definitely outlined in Sydney by the Federal Attorney General, Hon. J. G. Latham—a constitutional lawyer of note, who was on the advisory staff of the Prime Minister of Australia, Hon. "Billy" Hughes, at the Versailles Peace Conference in 1919.

Indifference.

Mr. Latham said that in regard to the relation of Australia to international affairs, there was a disposition in Australia to deny the existence of any problems. There were many in Australia—some in responsible position—who assumed what might be termed the pose of indifference as far as the question of Australia and foreign affairs was concerned.

The suggestion, for instance, that any Australian should be sent to London for the purpose of assisting in the solution of problems of foreign affairs met sometimes with expressions of contempt.

There were, however, despite this attitude, very urgent matters in relation to foreign affairs, which affected intimately the well-being of Australia, and we were not going to solve this problem of our relationship to foreign affairs by refusing to admit that it existed and by receiving with contempt any suggestions that might be made for the solution.

Foreign Reaction

Australia's attempts to deal with her own local problems, urgent and important as many of them were, were not as significant in the life of the nation as the reactions of Australia to foreign affairs. It was international affairs which affected the very existence of a nation.

The very existence of Australia, for example, as a democratic, self-governing community, was at stake during the war. Our very destiny, our fate, our chance of dealing with internal affairs, were all bound up with what happened in international affairs.

Mr. Latham went on to say that to take no part in international affairs meant that the destiny of Australia as a British self-governing community was to be left entirely in other hands.

Surely such a position was unworthy of a people with any claims to nationhood. Did we really believe that we were to have no voice in determining a policy which might, for example, throw Australia into the scale between contending nations?

Must Face Facts

A great many Australians were today shutting their eyes to the facts, the Attorney General said. It was impossible to escape or avoid international relations. They existed, and that being so, there must be a considerable determination of policy with regard to them. Supposing a war, in which Great Britain was involved, should break out. Some people appeared to think that a Dominion in such circumstances could say: "I am not in the fight; you cannot touch me." But it was what the other fellow did that mattered. A big issue such as that depended not upon what we thought or said but upon what other nations and we ourselves did.

To think, when Great Britain was at war, that we were not in the fight, was to live in a fool's paradise. In the British Empire Australia had the part and the influence of one of the most powerful nations on the face of the earth. On the contrary Australia by herself was one of the minor powers. We had a race pride and a national pride. But whatever our nationality might be, Australia, standing alone, was one of the small powers of the world.

Unity of Policy

Mr. Latham emphasized the importance of unity of policy within the Empire; the fact that the Empire, of which Australia was a part, was, in fact and in law, an international unit; and what he termed the insanity of an attitude of independence. He contended that to allow Great Britain to determine foreign policy without any reference to the Dominions at all was inconsistent alike with the growing sense of nationhood in the Dominions and the responsibilities of the Dominion Governments. For the Government of Australia to wash its hands of foreign affairs was gravely to neglect the vital interests of the people. Surely, again, Australia had reached a stage in her development when she owed also a duty in this regard, not alone to herself, but also to the world, irrespective of considerations of self-interest, self-protection and self-defence.

Australia had a duty to try to offer some contribution to a solution of world problems.

M. Viennet, who was charged with assault in the city police court yesterday and who was dismissed on the charge, states that the chief witness in the case against him was unable to identify him and mistook him for another man.
