WESTERN OUTLET PEACE RIVER COUNTRY

RUBY DOLAN CONFESSES SHOOTING MAN; CLAIMS TRIED TO FRIGHTEN HIM

Engineers Report on Peace River Route to Pacific Coast Received Ottawa Discusses Prince Rupert

It will not be economic possibility for some time; outlet through Berwin is favored

OTTAWA, June 11.—A railway outlet from Peace River to the coast will not be an economic possibility for some time to come, according to a report of five railway engineers, who have investigated the situation on behalf of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific railways.

Discussing the relative merits of the proposed routes, that direct to Vancouver or Prince Rupert, the report states: "Certain interests intimate that a study of the problem is incomplete without proper weight being given to that vast potential territory tributary to the northern part of the Peace River and Great Slave Lake. We fully agree with this. The natural western outlet for their potential products must pass through a common point at or near Berwin, which is 15 miles west of Peace River Crossing." To ascertain the best operating route to the coast for these products and to find the best route from Berwin to Vancouver it is proposed to choose from the following western routes:

Obed route.
Monkman Pass and C.N.R. route.
Monkman Pass, Pacific Great Eastern and Canadian Pacific route.
Peace Pass and C.N.R. route.
Peace Pass, P.G.E. and C.P.R. route.

The report finds that the Obed route offers less miles and least train miles of any of the alternative routes to Vancouver. "When the traffic develops to amount to six or eight times the assumed initial traffic, over thirty times the present average, all going to Vancouver or Prince Rupert, construction of the Obed line would be justified," the report states.

Dr. James Endicott, secretary of the foreign missions board, was last night elected moderator of the United Church of Canada at the opening session of the second general council. The election was unanimous, there being no other nominations.

Dr. Endicott was born in Devonshire, England, in 1865, and educated at the English schools and Wesley College, Winnipeg. He entered the missionary service of the Methodist Church first at home and then in West China. He served under the old Wesleyan conference in 1887 and later in Lethbridge and Manitoba towns.

True Bill Presented by Grand Jury in Case of Rex vs. Mackenzie, Casey and Capstick

A true bill was brought in by the Grand Jury at the Supreme Court sittings at noon today in the case of Rex vs. Murdoch Mackenzie, Darrow Casey and Lawrence Capstick charged first with unlawful assault on Florence Morrison with intent to have carnal knowledge without her consent and, second, with indecent assault upon said Florence Morrison.

Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald instructed the Grand Jury on the case this morning defining the nature of the charges and reviewing the evidence that would be submitted. Details of the alleged occurrence in McLymont park were mentioned, the judge closing his remarks with the admonition that the Grand Jury should decide the matter before him strictly on the merits of the case without regard to standing of accused in the community or any other influence.

The Grand Jury has not yet given its finding in the case of Rex vs. Gladys Dale, having been instructed to leave the matter in abeyance until the trial of Ruby Dolan, now proceeding, had been completed.

JUNEAU, June 11.—Roy and Hugh Deautremonty, two of three brothers sought as attempted robbers of the Southern Pacific mail train near Siskiyou, Oregon, in October, 1923, were arrested last night. The third man believed to be the other brother, escaped.

The robbery with which they are charged, was one of the most dastardly ever known in the west and resulted in the death of three members of the train crew, when they resisted, and one mail clerk lost his life when his car was dynamited in a vain search for loot. The bandits fled empty handed.

Ruby Dolan Confesses to Shooting of Donald But Did Not Intend To

Confessing to having killed the man with a revolver but without intent to do so, Ruby Dolan, neatly dressed and of slender build, hardly bearing the appearance of such a woman as she is described, is now on trial at the Supreme Court Assizes charged with the murder of James Neil Donald on the early morning of January 1 in the house at Stewart of which she was an occupant. A true bill having been returned by the Grand Jury against the woman yesterday afternoon, hearing of the case commenced before the petit jury. The afternoon was spent in the taking of evidence which was continued this morning. With the addresses of counsel—A. M. Johnson, K.C. for the crown and Hon. J. W. de B. Farris, K.C. for the defence—and the charge of Mr. Justice W. A. MacDonald completed, the jury at an early hour this afternoon retired to consider its verdict.

Delay was encountered in starting the trial yesterday afternoon when the Grand Jury, through error in typewriting the bill, returned the Gladys Gale indictment endorsed with a true bill against Ruby Dolan. This was rectified by having the Grand Jury return to the courtroom to receive and come back with the proper document.

On the bill being presented, accused was brought into the courtroom accompanied by Mrs. Sam North, police matron. Slender and of somewhat over average height, of rather dark complexion and wearing eye glasses, accused was apparently controlling nervousness as her trial proceeded. She was dressed neatly in a gray blanket cloth coat over a simple blue silk dress with gray hat. In a low trembling voice, she pleaded "not guilty" after the charge had been read to her.

Hon. J. W. de B. Farris announced that he was appearing for accused and would be assisted by Milton Gonzales.

The empanelling of the jury then commenced and, after many challenges by the defence and a number of stand asides by the crown, the following were selected: Frank Morris, foreman, Frank A. Stevens, R. G. Cunningham, John J. Judge, Peter J. Solem, Howard Steen, J. J. Muldoon, Bert Morgan, Malcolm McLeod, Ernest A. Morgan, William H. McCallum and Joseph Slaggard.

D. McD. Hunter, John R. Deane, Mrs. Margaret Grieve, T. W. Silversides, Mrs. Kate E. Mastin, John Bremner, William Gilchrist, D. C. Stuart, J. C. Gavigan, W. G. Oakley, William Sibbald, W. H. Shortridge, Mrs. Agnes Glennie, John Gawthorn, George Sellars, John McRae and Mrs. Sarah C. Lambie were challenged by the defence and John O. Williamson, Eddie Glapp, Peter Black, Albert Freebourn, John Flewin, K. A. Rood and Ernest Unwin were stood aside by the crown.

In reviewing the case for the crown, Mr. Johnson stated that evidence would be adduced to show that James Neil Donald, alleged to have been killed at Stewart on the morning of January 1, had come to his death in a house of prostitution as a result of a bullet wound. Accused and the other woman, Gladys Gale, in whose house the killing was alleged to have taken place, were commonly called prostitutes but this, Mr. Johnson warned the jury, should not (continued on page four)

Official at Victoria Says Doubtful Cases Are Referred to Ottawa by Him

VICTORIA, June 11.—Commenting on a statement attributed to Prohibition Administrator Green of San Francisco to the effect that Canadian authorities must be aware that the rum running vessels file false clearance papers with the B.C. authorities, Collector of Customs Davey said: "If there is any doubt as to the genuineness of the document regarding vessels purporting to clear for Mexico and suspected of landing the cargoes at any other place, the matter is referred at once to the federal authorities at Ottawa." He said the whole question was now under review.

CHILD DROWNS AT HOUSEBOAT

When Taking Body to Alert Bay Child's Dog Washed Away by Heavy Seas

ALERT BAY, June 11.—While playing with a younger brother at the parent's house boat on Seymour Inlet, Gordon Meland, three years of age, fell from the float and was drowned. John Meland, the child's father, after an unsuccessful radio appeal for assistance from the Church of England coast missionary craft Columbia, left in a launch to take the body to Alert Bay for burial. While crossing the lower end of Queen Charlotte Sound, heavy seas were encountered and the dead child's dog was washed overboard. Eventually the little craft arrived here, where the funeral was held.

Western Route From Peace River.

The western route from Peace River is again being discussed and the relative positions of Prince Rupert and Vancouver as outlets for that district are also being canvassed. The great aim of the engineers seems to be to get to Vancouver, whereas the aim should be to get to tidewater.

Vancouver will have to be connected with the northern part of the province eventually by rail and that connection will probably be by way of the P.G.E. If the C.P.R. gets the Peace River railway from Edmonton it will eventually build through to the coast but what that route will be cannot be prophesied until the time comes. Everything will depend on the conditions obtaining at that time. If Prince Rupert is an established grain port, as she expects to be, there is more chance of her claims to the terminus of the line being taken seriously. Vancouver will also have connection with the Peace country for it is a huge country and will do business with all Pacific ports.

Co-operation With United States.

Canada is gradually trying to co-operate with United States in the matter of liquor smuggling into that country. It is a sign of the times that the two countries are able to get together in a matter of this kind instead of each standing on her rights and becoming irritated at the other.

There is no reason why there should not be the closest co-operation in this regard. Canada has everything to gain from trying to live on good terms with her neighbors and she gains little from the nefarious traffic. This is an age of getting together and here is the opportunity to show how it can be done.

Old Mother Nature Covering The Scars.

Old Mother Nature is gradually covering the scars which were made to the townsites at the time of the initial work here ten to fifteen years ago and the place is gradually becoming more picturesque. Young trees are growing up, grass is growing on parts of the muskeg and stumps are fading into the landscape. In a few years hardly any of them will be seen. Time, the great healer, is attending to her business with good effect.

It is to be hoped when attempts are made at artificial beautification of the city that no long rows of trees will be planted here. We do not want to make this city like all others. Often those rows of trees are extremely ugly. Here trees are growing up all over the townsites and the natural trees are much finer than any that could be imported. If we encourage nature to do her work and co-operate with her instead of trying to imitate places that are badly handicapped, we shall some day have a fine city and one that is unique in her northern beauty.

Farmers Benefit From High Prices.

At the present moment the position of the Canadian farmer is much more fortunate than that of the farmer in the United States, since the price of Canadian farm products is above the general price level, while the average price of United States farm products is below this level, says the Royal Bank report. For some months the whole trend of basic commodity prices has been downward in both the United States and Canada, and as usual, raw materials have suffered more than finished goods. The Dominion Bureau of Statistics Index for 236 commodities in April was 160.6 against 163.8 for January, while the April Index number for Canadian farm products stands at 172.9. On the other hand the United States Department of Agriculture Index shows that farm products in the United States stand at 146 as against a general price level of approximately 154. In both cases these index numbers are weighted in relation to the economic importance of the various prices going into the index. The prevailing low prices for corn and cotton go far to explain the low prices in the United States, while the high price of wheat, which is proportionately a much more important product in Canada, is a large factor in the prosperity of the Canadian farmer. From this the conclusion may be drawn that the balance between purchasing power and consumption is being maintained in better proportion in Canada than in the United States.

FINE CONCERT LAST EVENING

Reginald Geen and Boy Soprano
Entertain Large Audience of Local People

The Ladies' Music Club, that small coterie of congenial souls, is to be congratulated. If the club, as a club, never did anything else in the public service, it justified its existence by the recital last evening. With seats down the aisles and standing room only, the United Church was packed to the doors and after listening to a two-hour program, the gathering was loath to disperse. Once again Prince Rupert people have shown that they appreciate the best.

Reginald G. Geen of Toronto was the pianist and the occasion of Mr. Geen's visit to the city was the examination of students entered for the Toronto Conservatory of Music exams. And the large number of pianoforte students who attended the recital went away with a new idea of the possibilities of that instrument. The program was a heavy one, being a splendid selection of the classical, and well known among musicians. The first number was a Bach-Liszt Prelude and Fugue in A minor and was followed by Beethoven's Sonata Pathetique. This was one of the two best known items on the program and Mr. Geen's interpretation was exceptional, the adagio particularly still ringing in the ears of the audience today.

Wonderful Voice

Master Henry Carre took the third number. Master Carre has a wonderful voice and the effortless ease with which he used the upper register and the clarity of his tone give great promise. Tosti's "Maitinata," Schubert's "Who is Sylvia?" and Braga's "Angel's Serenade" were the three items of this third number, to the last of which there was a muted violin obbligato by Professor Pryce.

Brahms' "Rhapsody in B minor," Schumann's "Nocturne in F major," which was well known to the audience, Scambali's Gavotte and the colorful Schubert-Liszt "Soiree in Vienna" showed Mr. Geen's technique and the variety in the items was most pleasing.

Master Carre again showed to advantage in "O Dry Those Tears," "Cuckoo Clock," a light number which was greatly appreciated, and Massenet's "Elegie" with Professor Pryce again accompanying with the violin. The audience was particularly appreciative of these well known items and would have recalled the youthful singer for more. The applause only calmed down when Mr. Geen promised another item at the end of the program.

Chopin Compositions

The last item on the program was six of Chopin's most popular compositions, starting with the ever fresh "Waltz in C sharp minor." This was followed by "Fantasie Impromptu," "Prelude in C minor," "Prelude in G minor," "Nocturne in C minor," and ending with the great "Polonaise in A flat," which really demanded a concert grand piano. These numbers were so appreciated by the audience that Mr. Geen was not permitted to depart until he again charmed them with the seventeenth century Gavotte "Amaryllis," a royal little thing written by Louis the Thirteenth of France.

The extra by Master Carre concluded the program. It was "Home, Sweet Home" which, in his boyish treble, gave rise to scenes of long ago to many in the audience. After singing "God Save the King" and a little speech of thanks to Mr. Geen and Master Carre from Mrs. R. L. McIntosh, the president of the Ladies' Music Club, a wonderful evening finished.

The piano was loaned for the occasion by Mrs. Geo. Bryant. Mrs. Blance attended to the door and the ushering was performed by S. K. Campbell and S. Barton. The precedent having been set, more public service will in future be looked for appreciatively from the Ladies' Music Club.

Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Jackson and family will sail aboard the Princess Louise tomorrow for Victoria where Mr. Jackson will take up his new duties as chief operator at Gonzales Hill wireless station after having been several years in a similar capacity at Digby Island.

TERMINALS WIN BASEBALL GAME

Seventh Inning Blow-up Loses Match For Native Sons

An unfortunate seventh and last inning blow-up turned a 3 to 1 lead which they had built up to a 5 to 4 defeat for the Native Sons of Canada in last night's city league baseball game at the hands of the Grand Terminals. In spite of this it was one of the season's best games with little spectacular play but tight fielding and good pitching. Harry Astori, the Sons' hurler, virtually lost the game in the last frame when he made an over-throw to third allowing two runners to cross the plate. There were also two runs made in that inning. It was the first game of the season between the Terminals and the Sons.

The Terminals' battery consisted of Stickney and McKeown with Astori and Balfour for the Sons. Walter Hudson umpired effectively and fairly with R. B. Skinner adjudicating on the base lines.

The standing to date is as follows:

	W.	L.	Pct.
Grand Terminals	3	0	1000
Native Sons	1	2	333
Gyro Club	1	3	250

TELLS HOW JIM HILL COLONIZED IN STATES

Brought in People and Stock and Helped Them Make Good on Farms

In an editorial article commending the introduction of breeding sheep free of duty, the Vancouver Province tells about how the states were colonized. It says:

Consider the instance of the northwestern states of the neighboring republic. The late president of the Great Northern Railway—known to two generations of westerners as Jim Hill—was more than a railway builder. He was a true empire builder. He drove his line of steel through a wilderness. He planted human beings in that wilderness. And he did more. He cultivated the crop. He helped to colonize the territory of the Great Northern by making it possible for the settlers to live. He carried their seed grain duty free for them. He brought in breeding stock free of transportation charges. He was not afraid to spend a penny now to make a pound with later on. He was hard-bitten and strong-willed, but he had a vision and followed it—he dreamed dreams and made them come true.

Old "Jim" lived to realize his vision. From the Great Lakes to the Western sea, he wrote large the epic of the wheat lands on the face of the wilderness. There is another wilderness today. It lies north of the Great Northern, and under another flag. It lies along the western lines of the Canadian National, it lies even along the line of our own Pacific Great Eastern. It was made for colonization. It awaits the conquest of resolute will and patient toil. And it awaits most of all the quickening of that imaginative quality in man without which no railways are built and there is no increase of the corn in the ear.

H. E. Dickie of the C.N.R. ticket office, Winnipeg, was a passenger from train to boat last night, accompanied by his bride. They are on their honeymoon trip.

SMITHERS MAN LOST HIS LEG

Amputation was Necessary on Advice of Dr. Bantlin, Discoverer of Insulin

SMITHERS, June 10.—Friends of Jack Aldrich, a prospector and old-timer of the district will be sorry to hear that he has to undergo an operation necessitating the removal of his left leg, at a point between the knee and the hip.

Jack has been a sufferer from diabetes for some time and was making satisfactory progress under the insulin treatment, when an infection started in his foot which has confined him to the hospital for several months.

Dr. C. H. Hankinson advocated amputation but this did not meet the views of the sufferer, so when it was learned that Dr. Bantling of Toronto, the discoverer of insulin was coming west, the doctor and Jack's friends made arrangements for Dr. Bantling to visit the hospital during the train's stop at Smithers. Dr. Bantling went through on Monday morning and when learning the facts of the case and seeing the patient advised that an operation should be performed without further delay. The operation took place Tuesday afternoon and Mr. Aldrich appears to be making a satisfactory recovery.

In spite of rain, the main road is very good and motorists are making a great deal of use of it.

A number of Native Sons of Canada of the Telkwa Assembly expected to go to Burns Lake to visit the Assembly there on Saturday, June 12.

One of the best dances ever held at Round Lake took place on June 3. The hall, appropriately decorated in red, white and blue together with masses of flowers was crowded to capacity and the dancers kept going until nearly 3 a.m. The music by Bill Bossons, piano, P. Sparks, violin and Bill Dockrill, drums, was very good and was augmented by the capable assistance of Ronald Prosser of Francois Lake, who played the saxophone. Refreshments were served and ice cream and lemonade were sold during the evening.

Miss Marjorie Jaquet of Evelyn spent the week end as the guest of Mrs. Ray Wakefield.

GREAT INTEREST IN SESSION OF ASSIZES

Courtroom Crowded and Members of Petit Jury Had to Stand up Several Hours Yesterday

Great interest is being taken in the proceedings at the present session of the Supreme Court Assizes with the result that the seating accommodation in the public section of the courtroom has been taxed to capacity. Yesterday afternoon, Mr. Justice W. A. His Lordship stated that the jurors would probably have to bear with standing a little longer, however, as he was loath to

MODERATOR OF UNITED CHURCH GIVES ADDRESS

Dr. Pidgeon Criticizes Fundamentalists in Meeting of General Council at Montreal

MONTREAL, June 11. — (By Canadian Press). — "There is but one danger that I see before the United Church of Canada—that it should be dwarfed into a sect instead of developing as a church," was the declaration of Rev. Dr. Geo. C. Pidgeon, Moderator of the United Church of Canada, in the course of his moderatorial sermon in connection with the second annual meeting of the General Council of the United Church which opened here yesterday. "No enemy from without can injure the church of the living God, but failure of the spirit within may stunt her growth and rob the nation of the service which her own church should render."

In reviewing the work accomplished by the United Church during the first year of her history, Dr. Pidgeon stated that the Church was proud to present to the world the statistics of what she had accomplished as evidence of the success of her venture in faith. Her numbers and resources, present and potential, her seats of learning and the scholarship which adorned them, the money which she has raised, the congregations which had been organized, the buildings which had been erected, the numbers which had been enrolled, the workers trained and commissioned for service—these, he thought, were the tests of a church's vitality and the signs of the blessing of God. They constituted a record of which any church might be proud.

It's a Long, Long Pull to Jenkin's —

Do You Like Lemonade?

"Lemade" is powdered fresh lemon juice made from fresh lemons in the same way as KLIM. It contains no artificial color, flavor or added acid. Already sweetened; just dissolve in water and you have a cold refreshing lemonade. Send 25c for trial tin.

and when you get there, it seems a longer pull home with the milk! Why worry about it? Have a supply of the new Klim, powdered full-cream milk, at your camp or cottage—it's just like having a cow in your own yard!

The new Klim packs small—but bulks large when water is added and has the flavor of fresh pasteurized milk. It cannot sour or spoil. It is pasteurized, therefore SAFE. It is easy to mix. Replace the water, and you have whole full-cream milk—rich, wholesome, appetizing, pure.

Dr. Pidgeon declared that his criticism of modern fundamentalism, so-called, was not that it considered it necessary to "contend for the faith once delivered to the saints"; there were certain truths without which the church could not live and the world could not be redeemed. It was that modern fundamentalists "insisted on certain interpretations of the old doctrines and added certain others which they considered necessary for the preservation of the saving truth. The Moderator stated that to affirm their faith in a living Saviour was not sufficient for them; the men whom they condemned were sound in evangelical doctrines.

MESSAGES FOR EVANGELIST

Telegraph Offices at Edmonton
Flooded With Wires for Lady Supposed to be There

EDMONTON, June 11. — Edmonton interest in Aimee Semple McPherson, missing Los Angeles evangelist, which flamed into sudden intensity with the report of "Inspector" Middleton, local private detective, that he had the woman under surveillance here, waned again when the evening papers came out with the news that the sleuth's mysterious woman was Mrs. B. T. Potter, a well known Los Angeles artist in Edmonton on a professional visit.

Following the Edmonton report local telegraph offices were flooded with wires addressed to Aimee Semple McPherson, among them being a long message from an enterprising legal firm in Los Angeles offering to act for the missing evangelist in the divorce suit said to be pending against her and in which the wife of the radio announcer employed at the Angeles temple is naming Mrs. McPherson as co-respondent.

All the messages were returned to their senders by the telegraph companies.

In addition to the wires to Mrs. McPherson, Los Angeles and San Francisco papers telegraphed principals of the "No. No. Nanette" company, which comes from Los Angeles, for stories of the finding of the missing evangelist, and in their enthusiasm some members of the company positively identified the alleged mystery woman as Mrs. McPherson, taking the precaution to add that if Mrs. Potter was not the missing evangelist, "the likeness was uncanny."

Reports from the south still indicate that the police believe Mrs. McPherson was drowned and her body washed out to sea, despite another story received that the evangelist, who was an exceptionally strong swimmer, was seen to emerge from the ocean under a pier a few minutes after she had been reported missing, and to enter a waiting automobile in which she was whisked away.
