ARDENT LOVER

"Though we know the salmon is an ardent lover, a lover that pursues his ame to his undoing, we have never been able to establish that the males or the females show any preference for any one particular individual of the opposite sex. In spawning the female selects a suitable spot and there she is joined by one or more males. She will attack and drive away any other female that seeks to spawn too near her, but she does not attack any of the males. The males, on the other hand, fight each other constantly, but never fattack the females.

"In spawning the salmon ranks with a low order of fishes. They have no muscles by which they can eject their milt or eggs. They express the milt and eggs by rubbing and pressing their sides and abdomen on the bed of the stream. At the conclusion of spawning they are emaciated and scarred, their vitality exhausted, and they die and their bodies are drifted down the matter at any great length at the that I was familiar with any such precedent. The lawyer urged that the evidence be taken in closed court, and no particular objection to it being raised at the time, and being impressed by the counsel that the position of his client might be seriously jeopardized, I made the ruling.

"I cannot say that I have heard of closed court in a preliminary in many years. I recall about 1900 or 1902 that we sometimes held preliminaries in camera, but in later years I never held one in camera. In fact I am not in favor of any part of a case being withheld from the public. I think probably it creates an atmosphere of suspicion. which is not warranted.

"Too many people have the idea that a preliminary is a trial. That is not the case. The preliminary hearing is simply for the purpose of determining whether or not there is sufficient evidence against a defendant to warrant his standing trial on the charge laid against him.

"If a lawyer asks for closed court, ex-

LEGAL COMMENT ON DARING NEWS-PAPER REPORTERS FROM CAL-GARY POLICE COURT

ESSENTIAL FOR

CALGARY, Dec. 7 .- Fearing that a harmful precedent might be established by the ruling of Calgary's police magistrate, Col. G. E. Sanders, D.S.O., in a recent preliminary hearing that the press be barred on the request of the defendant's counsel, The Calgary Herald had inquiries made in the principal cities of Canada as to whether such practice had ever been heard of previously in this

The unanimous answer was in the negative and members of the bench and bar united with newspaper editors in condemning the course taken by the Calgary magistrate. One and all of them ntimated that the action was wrong in principle and that it might easily lead to gross abuse of the privilege that belonged alienably to the public-knowledge of what was transpiring in the courts of justice.

"Where there is no publicity, there is no justice," was the dominant note in the replies received by The Herald. J. Seymour Corley, K.C., for fifteen years crown prosecutor in Toronto, declared: "The greatest check on arbitrary proceedings in court is to have the public represented through the newspapers." A. Macleod Sinclair, K.C., a prominent Calgary barrister, said: "Publicity in the
