COW BAY CONTROVERSY AGAIN AGITATES CITY FATHERS

Cow Bay Question Again Subject for Discussion at Meeting of Council

Mayor supports deal with Provincial Government but Aldermen Casey and Stephens are opposed to it

The 1926 city council, at its opening meeting last night, was baptized into the Cow Bay question which, as it has often been in the past, was once again the main topic of discussion.

The matter was brought up in connection with a communication from Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, setting officially before the council for final approval an understanding reached between himself and Mayor Newton whereby the city would waive objection to the filling in of Cow Bay by the railway company and in return would receive 400 feet of waterfront from the provincial government on which it is stipulated provision shall be made for the accommodation of the mosquito fleet and the Yacht Club.

Views of Commissioners on Railway Rates Order Given When Appeal Failed to Carry

OTTAWA, Jan. 22.—Three different viewpoints were revealed in reasons for the judgment given by the Board of Railway Commissioners confirming a former disputed order of the board making the rates to Pacific ports equal with those to the Atlantic seaboard mile for mile. The judgment was given on an appeal made by the Montreal Board of Trade against the equalization.

Chief Commissioner McKeown, deputy chief Vien and Commissioner Frank Oliver concurred in the view that the order giving reduced rates westbound on grain was valid and that the rates filed under it should remain effective. While dismissing the motion to rescind the order, the three commissioners mentioned they would like to make it clear that further representations may be made as part of the general rate investigation, and also that the railway companies were at liberty to ask that the order be varied.

Assistant Commissioner McLean gave his opinion that the order should be rescinded and that rates filed under it should be cancelled.

The two remaining commissioners Boyce and Lawrence while not admitting the validity of the order, express the view that it should stand until the general rate investigation in view of private interests which have grown up since the reduced rates went into effect. They say, however, that the railways should have full liberty to come to the Board and ask for relief from the order.

Development of Pulp and Paper Industry is Limited Only by Power

H. R. McMillan sees great prospects ahead for forest development but not in lumber manufacturing

While there will always be a good market for clear spruce and there will be a demand for baby squares for export to Japan, the hope of the future so far as the timber industry of the north is concerned is in the pulp and paper business, according to H. R. McMillan of Vancouver, part owner of the Big Bay Lumber Company's mill at Georgetown, who addressed the Prince Rupert Rotary Club at their luncheon yesterday.

Mr. McMillan pointed out the difficulty in competing here in the markets of the world with the fir lumber area where the trees were bigger and taller and the stand thicker and logging conditions easier. For pulp, however, the logs here were just as good as those in the south and he considered the industry was limited only by the amount of water power available.

Development of the baby square market would go with the grain shipping. Also there might be some cedar log export to Japan. This market could not develop in advance of the wheat trade.

Mr. McMillan said he did not think the people of British Columbia realized the value of their forests for pulp and paper manufacturing. He was in close touch with eastern paper concerns and he was always hearing of the scarcity of raw material. Practically all the available areas were taken up. The Royal Commission estimated that the forests of Ontario and Quebec would last from thirty to forty years but the rate of consumption was increasing and the estimate would be shortened. Also the use of paper products was increasing rapidly. Very soon the manufacturer must come to the Pacific coast. Already this coast was exporting to the east some grades of paper and the market for newsprint was widening.

RAILWAYMEN REJECT AWARD

Refuse to Submit to Reduction of Wages on English System

LONDON, Jan. 22.—A conference of National Union of Railwaymen has rejected the award of the National Wages Board by a large majority. It was announced by J. H. Thomas at the close of today's meeting of special delegates. Another meeting will be held Friday.

The railroads demanded a wage reduction and the men counterclaimed for an increase, while the board decided on a virtual maintenance of the status quo with some small concessions to the companies.

Possibilities Of Pulp Industry.

The possibilities of the pulp and paper industry in this part of British Columbia were mentioned by H. R. McMillan, the lumber exporter, millman and expert forester, formerly chief forester of British Columbia, who addressed the Rotary Club yesterday afternoon on the subject. He sees little hope in the lumber industry here for export, apart from the pulp or paper industry, owing to the difficulties of operation but he says the pulp and paper industry is limited not by the supply of material but by the amount of water power available.

This opinion should help to guide the board of trade in causing it to turn its efforts toward the attraction of pulp interests to this district. There are in the neighborhood pretty good power possibilities and these could be utilized to advantage by those wishing to establish mills.

Great Activity On Queen Charlottes.

Again word comes here of increased activity on the Queen Charlottes. The logging camps are already reopening and the mill at Queen Charlottes is operating a double shift. The demand for airplane spruce is making the operation profitable. It is to be hoped that very soon we shall have got beyond the point where people can say the Queen Charlottes are useless and that it is wicked to advocate their settlement.

What Helps One Hurts Another.

Here we in Prince Rupert have been rejoicing to think we were cheap and that the cost of living was consequently lower, when we hear from the egg producers that they cannot make their business pay and that some of them are killing their hens because it does not pay to keep them. They are being hurt and we get the benefit.

It is difficult to get anything like stability in the production of food products. Nobody can say exactly how much is likely to be produced or how great the demand will be. Crops cannot be regulated. The powers that are greater than ourselves regulate the crops. All we can do is provide the most favorable conditions possible.

No one could have foreseen such a mild season as the present. It could not have been foreseen that the hens would feel spring coming while December was yet here and commence laying rapidly. It could not have been foreseen in British Columbia that the hens on the prairies would have laid better than usual. No amount of human control could have arranged that the things should have been otherwise.

So it is with the wheat crop. The prices go down when production is too great. We do not know when it is going to be a large crop so we cannot say when prices are likely to change.

Stealing Vices From The Men.

Men have been generally supposed to hold an option on all vices and women have been supposed to be without any. In the old days, when they took to gossiping or nagging too much, their lords and masters, the men, took them out to the pond and ducked them. Ducking stools were kept on purpose for this. Something similar was done to get rid of evil spirits, if they had any. They were not allowed to have vices or evil spirits. Men had an option on them all and would allow of no encroachment.

Today women are daring to do things that men do and they are talking about a single standard of morality. If it is right for a man, it is right for a woman, they say. Perhaps they are right, but it is difficult to get used to allowing women the privilege of sinning without cutting them off from polite society.

FATE OF BOYS' BAND PLANNED

Rotary Club is Considering How to Finance Organization For Next Six Months

At the Rotary luncheon yesterday afternoon Colonel J. W. Nicholls laid before the Rotary Club a proposal in connection with the financing of the boys' band and the matter was referred to the executive committee for recommendation at the next meeting.

Mr. Nicholls said that already the club had financed the band to the extent of $325 for bandmaster's salary and music. Instruments had been secured so that today the band of forty boys has the use of thirty instruments, part of which are owned by them. Now they need another $300 for bandmaster's salary for the next six months and something like $650 more for additional instruments. They want enough instruments of their own so that if the Regiment called in theirs they may be able to carry on. There is $175 in the treasury but that will soon be exhausted.

In The Letter Box

ADVANCE PRINCE RUPERT

Editor, Daily News.

It is with much pleasure that I read your editorials, on how best to promote the interests of Prince Rupert. Your ideas, in my humble opinion are very sound. For instance, your idea of sending out an experienced grain man to drum up business for the elevator is good, and incidentally he might interest some milling man to operate a flour mill in the city. Fostering better trade and social relations between Edmonton and Prince Rupert is to the interest of both. We should not forget Edmonton when we want coal, flour, etc. Some Alberta coal firm might be willing to put in coal bunkers to furnish ships with coal.

The booklets the Board of Trade are putting out are a credit to the city and also the author. Every U.F.A. local in N. Alberta should have one!

And another item of importance to the city is the maintaining of cordial relations between the management of the C.N.R. and the city, they can do us lots of good or much harm.

Yours resp.
JAS. A. SCOTT.

LET WORLD KNOW

Skidegate, B.C.
Editor, Daily News.

We have received through the mail a pamphlet printed in Vancouver called the B.C. Sportsman. This pamphlet goes on to recommend all the best places to fish for trout and salmon, to hunt bear, ducks, geese and pheasants. All the places mentioned are near Vancouver.

What I would like to know is what is the matter with the wonderful opportunities for the sportsmen around Prince Rupert? Take our islands as an example. In Skidegate Inlet the largest King salmon are found on the Pacific during the months of April and May. Last season one was caught here which tipped the scales at 95 pounds.

I think we have all the best bird shooting on the B.C. Coast. Geese, brant, ducks of all sorts and pheasants. Bears are becoming so numerous that they are getting to be a nuisance.

We have trout streams here where it is common to get from fifty to one hundred fish in one afternoon.

For deer hunting the islands around Prince Rupert, Banks, Pihl, Campania, cannot be beaten anywhere in North America. I suggest that we get out a pamphlet of our own and let the outside world know what we have to offer the sportsman.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space.

ANXIOUS FOR GRAIN TO PASS THROUGH THE ELEVATOR IN RUPERT

That the Canadian National Railways were anxious to see grain going through the Prince Rupert elevator and that business this way was sure to develop soon was the short message given to the Rotary Club yesterday by N. B. Walton, now of Winnipeg but formerly of this city.

Talking of business generally, Mr. Walton said Winnipeg was already feeling the effect of the big crop and he thought Prince Rupert would also feel it to some extent. There was more money in the country today than there has been for a long time and all businesses would be stimulated as a result.

MAYOR WELCOMES TWO NEW ALDERMEN

Mr. Newton Gives Brief Inaugural Address to 1926 City Council

In addressing the 1926 city council at the opening of its first meeting last night, Mayor Newton welcomed the two new members to the board—Ald. Jos. Greer and Ald. W. J. Greer. "It is a strange co-incidence," said His Worship "that the two new members should both be of the Greer clan. However, they are known to be of pretty good calibre and, in wishing them success, I have no doubt they will make good."

The mayor said that he would be desirous of presenting certain recommendations in regard to wider aspects before the council at some later date. In regard to such phases, he said that it was his intention to act in accord with the wishes of the majority of the council.

How to make perfect beef tea

You cannot make real "Beef Tea" simply by boiling beef! You cannot make it from ordinary "beef extracts," because they do not contain the vital principles of beef. But Bovril does! That is why Bovril is different—why doctors, nurses and dietitians recommend Bovril—why it has such extraordinary powers of building, enriching and vitalizing the human body, because it contains the albumen and fibrine as well as the extractives and flavours.

A spoonful of Bovril in a cup of boiling water—that's all you need to make perfect beef tea!

William S. Henry, well known Smithers broker, is a business visitor in the city. He arrived from the interior on this morning's train and is registered at the Prince Rupert Hotel.

H. A. Barnett, representing the British Corporation, marine underwriters, arrived from Victoria on the Catala last night. He is here on official business in place of Alex Wallace who is at present in hospital in the south.

Ald. G. B. Casey, Ald. Jos. Greer, Ald. Oscar Larsen, Ald. W. J. Greer and Mayor Newton were appointed at last night's council meeting to the committee of revision on the 1926 assessment roll which will sit on February 10.

It is expected to have the G.G.M.M. freighter Canadian Farmer, which has been in the local dry dock for the past month being converted from a coal to an oil burner, completed and away by next week. The next boat to have similar work done, the Canadian Rover, will probably arrive about Saturday or Sunday of next week.

The official declaration of E. F. Jones, city solicitor, announcing the election of Mayor Newton, Aldermen Jos. Greer, R. F. Perry, M. M. Stephens, Oscar Larsen and W. J. Greer, Police Commissioners George Frizzell and W. H. Montgomery and School Trustees G. A. Bryant and Thomas McMeekin at the polls on Thursday last, was received and filed at last night's council meeting.

The case of James Dancy, epileptic, whose presence at the hospital has become an annoyance and whom it has been found impossible to keep in the jail, was again before the city council last night. The finance committee is endeavoring to have Dancy admitted to the home for incurables, but little hope of getting him there is held out by provincial authorities. In the first place, the home for incurables is already crowded and, furthermore, it is questioned whether Dancy is a fit subject for that institution. This was the situation as laid before the council in a letter from the provincial secretary's department.

In these days of exactitude it is just about impossible for a man to go without a watch.

ANNUAL REPORT OF FIRE CHIEF

Loss During the Year was $229,920.35 With Insurance Covering all but $25.

Fire loss in the city during the year 1925 totalled $229,920.35 on which $229,895.35 in insurance was allowed, leaving an actual loss of $25, according to the annual report of D. H. McDonald, fire chief, which was submitted to the city council last night.

The report stated that there had been 61 alarms during the year—54 telephone calls, 5 box alarms, one test alarm and one still alarm. The main causes of fires were chimneys, 17, and grass fires, eleven.

During the year, the report stated, 10,000 feet of hose was laid, 300 feet of chemical hose and 300 feet of ladder had been used.

The property involved in the year's fires totalled $850,000 in value.

There was no great loss except in the case of the sawmill fire.

During the year the department made 300 inspections.

Owing to the frame construction which was general in the city, the chief pointed out the necessity of keeping the department and its equipment at the maximum of efficiency.

Recommendations Made

In the interests of better fire protection in the city, the report recommended the following improvements:

A six inch main along Fourth Avenue East to Green Street, with hydrants in each block, up Green Street to Fifth Avenue and along Fifth Avenue to Hays Cove Circle with hydrants in each block.

An eight inch main from McBride Street along Third Avenue to Block 16 below the Pioneer Laundry.

An eight inch main from First Street to Third Street along Second Ave. with two hydrants.

Expenditure of Department

The expenditure of the department for the year, the report set out, had been $15,347.83 including salaries amounting to $12,940.

"In conclusion," the report said, "I wish to convey my thanks to the mayor and aldermen for their co-operation and assistance. I also appreciate the faithful attention to duty and the successful work of the members of this department throughout the year. I also wish to thank the different departments of the city for assistance rendered and the public and press for their courtesy."

Rev. J. Gillett, sky pilot and skipper of the mission boat Western Hope, has been putting on picture shows for the settlers and others in this neighborhood and holding services at suitable points. His visits are much appreciated and usually his picture shows are crowded.

Ald. Brown asked the Board of Works at last night's council if something could not be done to improve the condition of Second and Third Avenues between Eighth Street and the junction and Second Avenue from the junction to Morse Creek bridge. Ald. Perry replied that the street foreman had been given instructions to make temporary improvement and that it was possible something might be done in the summer in the way of putting on a sixteen-foot centre.

SPORT CHAT

Among other honors going to Stanley Covelskie of the Washington Senators during the 1925 American League season was that of winning the most consecutive games. Starting his winning streak on May 9, Govey was credited with thirteen consecutive victories. The streak ended on July 30 when the White Sox hammered him out of the box in three innings. Ted Blankenship of the White Sox ranked second in consecutive wins, ten in a row between July 4 and August 21. Sam Gray of the Athletics had an eight-game winning streak before he was hurt and forced out of the game and Charles Ruffing of the Red Sox was the champion in suffering the greatest number of defeats in a row. He lost nine games before he put across a victory.

Probably the outstanding player who will go from the West this year to the Major Leagues is Tony Lazzeri, purchased at what was said to be a "fancy price" by the New York Yankees ranked high in the Coast League averages for the 1925 season because of his extra base hitting and fine work on the bases and in the field. Other Pacific Coast players going East this season are: Paul Waner, purchased by Pittsburgh from San Francisco; Frank O'Doul, of Salt Lake, who will join the Chicago Cubs; Emmet McCann, from Portland to the Boston Red Sox; Jack Warner from Vernon to Detroit, and Clyde Beck from Los Angeles to the Chicago Cubs.

FIERY CROSS AT KLAN WEDDING

Unique Scene at Victoria Crystal Garden When Hooded Couple United

A most spectacular wedding ceremony, according to the ritual of the Ku Klux Klan, and probably the only one of its kind so far staged in Canada, took place last evening at the Crystal Garden, in the presence of hundreds of people, says the Victoria Colonist of recent date. Long before the appointed time the great hall room was thronged with an interested and curious crowd, who waited expectantly for the feature of the evening, a Ku Klux wedding ceremony.

As Ivo Henderson's eight-piece orchestra struck up the strains of the Wedding March, the hooded procession appeared on the ballroom floor. Slowly, with arms crossed, their heads hooded with the Klan headdress, long, flowing robes, white and ghostly, reaching to their feet, about fifty Klansmen approached the centre of the room, where they lined up in cross formation, facing the platform. The lights were dim, but from the stage shone forth a huge fiery cross, illuminated red lights giving a glow to the entire room.

Directly in front of the cross was a table draped with the Union Jack.

Long White Robe

Then came the bride and groom and the attendants, but in place of the conventional wedding veil, the orange blossoms and other accustomed wedding accessories, the bride was completely enveloped in the long, white robe of the Order. Her head, as was that of the groom, was hidden in the white hood, typical of the Klan.

They approached the table and, faintly audible to the breathless and silent crowd of spectators, the ritual was performed. One of the parties, according to Captain W. Laycock, Vancouver Island organizer, was the bride, Miss Leita Newman, and the other, the groom, Herbert Goode, both of Vancouver. Little Sylvia Laycock was a sweetly pretty flower girl, in a charming floured muslin frock and a large pink bow in her fair hair. Her bouquet was a great sheaf of poinsettias, and being the only member of the party who was not in Klan robes, she was the most conspicuous.

The bridesmaid, Captain Laycock said, was Miss Florence Chapman, of Victoria, who was also robed and hooded.

Banquet Precedes Wedding

The banquet hall of the Crystal Garden was the scene of a special dinner, at which 250 guests were present. Rev. Dr. Clem Davies acted as official chairman, and with him, at the head table, was William Winkel, Alderman Shanks, Dr. Cyril Ware and others. After the singing of "O Canada," a toast to the "Imperial Council" was proposed by William Winkel, with a response by Dr. Arthur Barton. The toast to "Our Guests," was proposed by Exalted Cyclops W. White of Victoria, Klan No. 2, response by W. Armstrong and Lionel Ward.

Dr. Ware, in a short address spoke of the aims and objects of the proposed Solarium for Crippled Children at Mill Bay, telling the guests of the wonderful cures which have been made at similar institutions in England and Switzerland.

Alderman Shanks conveyed greetings from the Mayor and Council to the Klansmen, which were received amid cheers and applause. Among the notable Klansmen present were Major Powell and Captain Laycock, who are organizing officials of the Ku Klux Klan in Victoria.

requirements. Could the Yacht Club not do with 100 feet, taking into consideration the fairway that would lie between. Mr. Rorie stated he could make no definite reply to the question but he was reasonably certain that 100 feet, even with the fairway between, would not suffice.

Alex Macdonald pointed out that he did not believe the 400 feet now offered the city by the provincial government would include the present Yacht Club premises.

Calls it a Lemon

Members of the council then proceeded to engage in another discussion of the generalities of the Cow Bay question. The city, Ald. Casey felt, should know definitely how far out it was proposed to fill in Cow Bay before giving its assent to any such filling in. If the bay was filled in to the harbor line, then there would be no space left for the mosquito fleet or anything else.

Ald. Stephens was inclined to believe that the city was being "handed a lemon." The city was asked to relinquish its rights in Cow Bay and in return was offered a liability. Under the proposed contract, the city would be obligated to take care of the mosquito fleet and the Yacht Club. How was it going to do this and who was going to pay? He thought the provincial government was in a better position to negotiate on this matter than the city, first, because the city could not afford to provide the facilities, and second, because he did not agree with the principle of the city becoming a buffer between the provincial and federal governments. It was (in) the city got down to cold business in connection with such matters as this. If the government assumed the responsibility of taking care of the mosquito fleet, he would offer no objection to the filling in of Cow Bay. If the city relinquished its rights as matters stood at present what was going to be done about it? He thought the provincial government should continue to look after the mosquito fleet until some satisfactory arrangement was made—one, however, in which the city was not called upon to assume the responsibility. He thought it was even the duty of the provincial government to take care in this manner of the only means of transportation Prince Rupert had. In other places, it made large expenditures on roads and bridges which it did not have to do here.

Mayor Supports It

Mayor Newton agreed that there was a lot of truth in what Ald. Stephens had said. The province, however, was offering the city no alternative. To prevent the question dragging on year after year as it had already done, he would like to see a solution reached and he thought one that would be satisfactory all around was now presented, especially since Mr. Stock had offered to use his influence with the federal government to have the proper facilities afforded.

Ald. Stephens said he could not see how any relief was to be forthcoming with 400 feet of waterfront when there was already overcrowding in the present six or seven hundred feet.

Ald. Larsen pointed out that plans already put before the council by the federal public works engineer called for four basins with floats 300 feet long which would accommodate 400 boats forty feet long. The federal government had clearly stated that nothing could be done until it received title to the property on which it would work.

The outcome of the discussion was a decision to meet at the ground on Sunday afternoon with a committee from the Yacht Club.

"Jimmie" Yen, product of Yale and Princeton, heads the undertaking. He and his associates have selected from the formidable mass of Chinese characters, a thousand common ones with which they assert books and papers on almost any subject can be written.

A million of the "thousand characters" text books have been put in circulation each costing the equivalent of a dime. Vacant temples or residences have been borrowed for school rooms and the practice of writing in the air with the finger is resorted to where blackboards or slates are not available.

TO APPOINT AN ENGINEER

City Council Will Consider Matter at Next Meeting

The city council decided last night to take steps towards the appointment of a city engineer which office has been vacant since last summer when F. W. Pearson resigned to go to Toronto.

The matter was brought up by Ald. Casey who said he had been approached by a number of rate-payers who felt that, in the best interests of the city, the office should be filled by a duly qualified man. If the people who paid the bill were desirous of filling the vacancy he (Ald. Casey) was in accord and he moved that steps be taken with that end in view. Ald. Perry seconded the motion stating that he would be pleased to be relieved of a good deal of responsibility that devolved upon him since Mr. Pearson left.

A sheaf of applications for the position that were made some months ago will be brought again before the council at its next meeting. The Board of Works may make a recommendation although the final appointment will be in the hands of the council.

A. J. Prudhomme left on the steamer Prince Rupert this morning for Vancouver on a month's holiday trip. From Vancouver he has not yet decided whether he will go south or east.

WIRES FELL INTO CREEK AND LIGHTS OFF FOR TWO HOURS

Last night's gale caused a couple of 4,000 volt wires to come down at the span over Hays Creek with the result that, for about two hours, lights were out in the residential section of the city. Downtown and in Westview, the lights went off for a few minutes at the time the wires went down. A utilities department crew was soon on the job and pulled the wires out of Hays Creek in which they had fallen.
