PARLEY TELLS WHAT CANADA IS DOING TO AID BRITISH COMMERCE

Imperial Conference Talked Empire Trade at Friday's Meeting

LONDON, October 23.—The Imperial Conference spent Friday discussing means for the stimulating of Empire trade. The texts of the Dominion premiers' speeches will not be available until later.

It is understood that Premier King intimated his government had in view the extension and maintenance of Canadian exports to Britain. He also mentioned the trade agreements concluded with Australia and the West Indies and generally the course of trade between Canada and other parts of the Empire.

Premier King also commented on the use of moving picture films, predicting that the use of United States films in the countries of the Empire would lessen in time and that the films of Britain and the Dominions would win increased popularity.

Not until next week will the premiers express their views on foreign policy.

CHIEF JUSTICE QUASHES FINE

MAN WHO IS DELIVERING UNLAWFUL LIQUOR FOR EXPORT IS NOT GUILTY OF OFFENCE HE FINDS

VANCOUVER, Oct. 23.—Whether W. Hyslop, convicted and fined $200 at Seattle for having unsealed liquor in possession, was the agent of Joseph Hyslop Ltd., Vancouver exporting agent, or of I. C. Sherman, Bellingham, whom the liquor was said to be sold when arrested near the Washington boundary last April while allegedly transferring the liquor from a launch, was the question dealt with in Supreme Court yesterday. Chief Justice Gordon Hunter stated that the Kennedy Company was allowed by the export liquor.

They handed the liquor to Hyslop as agent," continued His Lordship. "I do not see how that makes him an offender. If there was anything wrong in the transaction that's up to the defendant. The conviction is quashed."

Seven cases of liquor that were seized from Hyslop were ordered to be returned.

The yacht, aboard of which were Capt. Snyder, his wife, son and three daughters, who were taking motion pictures and hunting big game last spring and summer, is valued at $45,000.

ENOUGH GRAIN FOR TWO SHIPS IS NOW ON HAND

There is now in the elevator considerably more grain than is needed to fill the Aden Maru, which is now loading for Hamburg, Germany. In fact there is probably enough for the Yefuku Maru which will go on berth at the elevator about Monday.

Last night 26 cars of grain arrived from the East and this morning 29 came in. This brings the total number of carloads so far arrived to 370 or about 555,000 bushels. Up to this morning no word had been received of the position of the Tofuku Maru which is the next boat coming for grain and which is due on Tuesday.

PEACE RIVER GRAIN MOVING

SHIPMENTS TO EDMONTON ARE IN EXCESS OF SAME PERIOD LAST YEAR

EDMONTON, Oct. 23.—With 454,882 bushels of grain already shipped, the crop movement from E. D. & B. C. districts this season has been considerably in excess of the corresponding period in either of the last two years. Up to October 14, 1925, only 308,979 bushels had been moved, while at the same date in 1924, shipments amounted to but 201,923 bushels.

Of this season's total, 403,776 bushels represents shipments of wheat, and 51,106 bushels, shipment of other grain. That grain is moving fast at the present time is indicated by the fact that 165,051 bushels have been shipped within the past week.

Grain in store at elevators along the line includes 139,500 bushels of wheat and 27,400 bushels of other grain.

NO DAMAGE TO PRINCE CHARLES

VESSEL ARRIVED HERE LAST NIGHT FROM ISLANDS—WAS ASHORE ON SAND IN DELKATIA INLET

C.N.R. steamer Prince Charles, Capt. Neil McLean, which was aground in Massett Inlet for a day on the way from Vancouver to Prince Rupert via the Queen Charlotte Islands, arrived in port at 9:20 last evening. The vessel is reported to be undamaged as her contact was with sand only. There will probably be a survey made of the vessel this afternoon but it is expected she will get away on her return south via the Islands on schedule time at 8 o'clock tonight.

The Prince Charles' grounding occurred on Wednesday at the mouth of Delkatia Inlet. As the vessel was leaving the New Massett wharf, the strong current swung her around on to the bar. Attempts were made on Wednesday, with the assistance of a number of launches, to float the boat but the tide was falling fast and it was not until Thursday afternoon that she floated on the high tide.

NOVA SCOTIA JUDGES DIVIDE

CAN REACH NO DECISION ON STATED CASE SUBMITTED BY PROVINCIAL GOVERNMENT

HALIFAX, Oct. 23.—The Supreme Court of Nova Scotia divided two to two today on a stated case submitted for decision as to whether or not membership in the legislative council could be increased at the instance of the provincial government and whether or not members of the council held appointments at the pleasure of the provincial government.

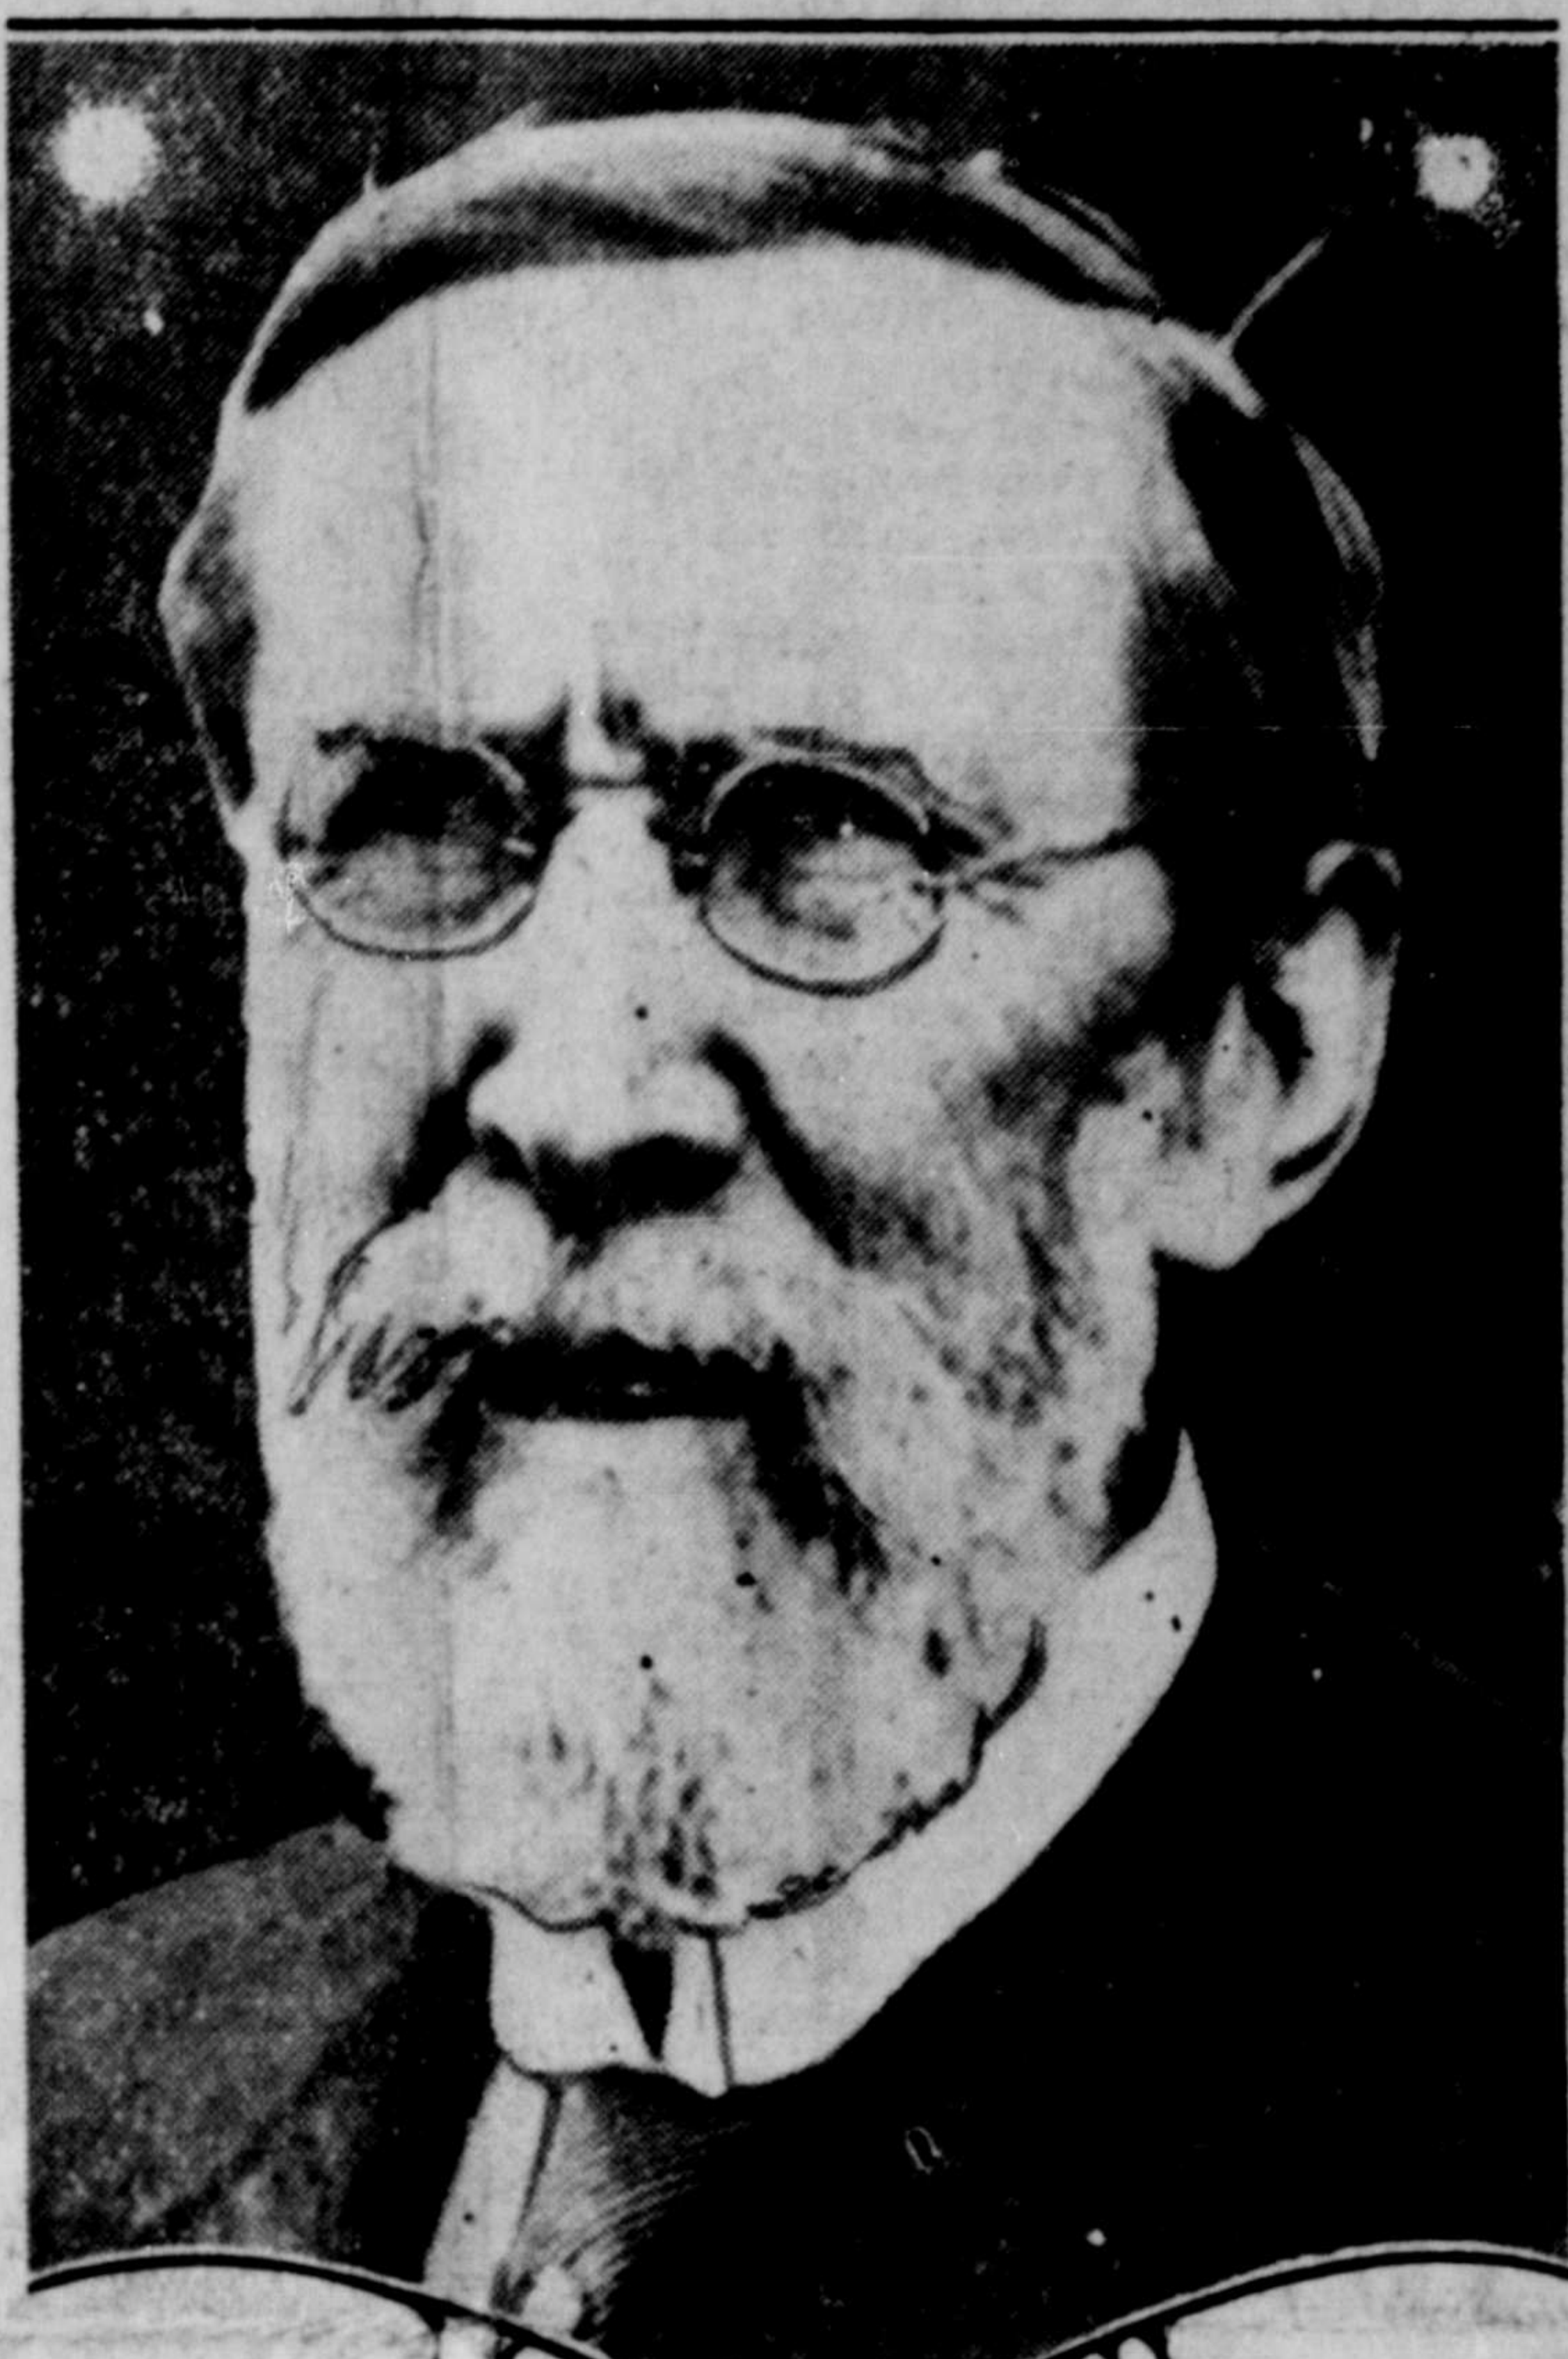

Chief Justice Harris and Mr. Justice Chisholm upheld the contention of the law officers of the crown that membership could be increased and that councillors held their appointments at the pleasure of the crown. Mr. Justice Melish and Mr. Justice Carroll dissented from this opinion.

The judgment leaves the question at issue where it was before submission to the court. The case will now be transferred to the Supreme Court of Canada or the privy council.

ISLE OF PINES WAS SUFFERER

THIRTY-TWO KILLED AND ONE HUNDRED INJURED IN WEDNESDAY'S HURRICANE

HAVANA, Oct. 23.—The Isle of Pines, celebrated for its grapefruit, suffered severely from the hurricane on Wednesday. Thirty-two were killed, including seventeen Americans, and one hundred were injured.

SIR GEORGE FOSTER is the Canadian representative at Geneva. He it was who objected to the United States' fourth reservation in accepting the world court. He submitted that American consent for amending the court statutes gave power without responsibility to the American government, more power than the members of the league themselves.

Crazed with Liquor, Father Kills Three Daughters with Axe as They Were Sleeping

BROCKTON, Massachusetts, October 23.—Crazed with liquor, James Stoddard, a 36-year-old laborer, killed three young daughters with an axe this morning as they slept. The fourth, awakened when her father struck at the sister sleeping with her, escaped and notified the police. Three girls, Mildred, 7; Edna, 11; and Florence, 13, apparently died instantly. The police found Mildred's body in bed with a rag doll still clasped in her arms.

Stoddard, who has a long police record on charges of intoxication, when arrested, exclaimed: "I have just killed my three kids and I want to get the other one. A hallucination that a former employer had chased his children and was going to burn them made him resolve to kill them himself. Stoddard asserted in a coherent narrative.

QUAKE IN ARMENIA

HUNDREDS KILLED, THOUSANDS INJURED AND POPULACE IN PANIC

LENINAKIN, Armenia, Oct. 23.—Hundreds of persons were killed, thousands injured, and many others were made homeless as a result of an earthquake which shook all Armenia last night. Many buildings in this place were damaged and the population was thrown into panic. The Near East Relief at New York has been advised.

WINNIPEG FREE PRESS REPORTS SHOW CONDITIONS TO BE BETTER THAN WAS ANTICIPATED

WINNIPEG, Oct. 23.—Despite continuous wet weather on the prairies, the actual loss in the wheat yield will be relatively small according to the Free Press crop report. The newspaper states that the analysis of reports, while indicating a serious loss of grade, shows "conditions on the whole better than people anticipated."

Central Interior Expects to Benefit from Movement of Grain to Prince Rupert

Interior papers unanimously proclaim the benefit that will accrue all along the line as a result of the operation of the Prince Rupert elevator. Stating that the chief topic of conversation on trains and elsewhere is wheat and that the country seems to have taken on new life, Editor C. H. Sawie in his Omnica Herald, published at New Hazelton, says that the whole interior is benefitting as a result of the grain movement. From Telkwa, the Herald continues, carloads of wheat are being shipped to the coast, more train crews are operating and 16 or 18 telegraph operators are being put in stations that as yet have only been occupied by section men. Next year, the paper says, the district will ship much more grain than it is doing this year.

The Herald also suggests that interior sawmills would be able to get more fully into the business of supplying lumber for lining grain ships at Prince Rupert if they were not "handicapped by the same burden that the spud growers have got to get over—namely freight rates that are all and more than the traffic will bear."

The Prince George Citizen says an extra train crew was put to work on that division on Friday for the handling of the grain traffic which is now moving to Prince Rupert elevator. The railway officials are doing their utmost to rush the grain to the elevator. To cope with the new business the railway company will put on ten additional operators between Red Pass and Prince Rupert as a twenty-four hour service will be required at all divisional points.

STEWART MINE DEVELOPMENTS

MUCH WORK WILL BE DONE ON INDEPENDENCE BY SEATTLE CAPITAL—NEW ORE BODY IN DUNWELL

VICTORIA, Oct. 23.—Completion of the reorganization of the Independent Mines was announced yesterday on the arrival of S. P. Fitzgerald and Charles and E. W. Durrwachter of Seattle from Stewart. Mr. Durrwachter announced: "We have the money and will go through with our end of the deal."

On the same boat was Robert Stewart, managing director of the Dunwell Mine, who announced the discovery of a new ore body in the mine which was revealed when debris was being removed for construction work. "This latest find," Mr. Stewart said, "indicates that there are wonderful possibilities in an area which is as highly mineralized as the Dunwell is."

AIMEE WISHED TRIP BE MADE

OFFERED TO PAY EXPENSES IF OFFICIALS WOULD GO INTO DESERT COUNTRY

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—Aimee McPherson, through her attorney, W. I. Gilbert, yesterday offered to pay the expenses of all court officials attached to the criminal conspiracy case against her if they would go into the desert country where she declared she was held captive by kidnappers. The offer came when T. F. Sims, deputy marshal for Arizona, was excused from the witness stand after testifying that he had found the women's tracks fifteen miles from Aguaprieta, ten miles further than the state contends the evangelist's tracks were traceable. Judge Blake said, however, that he did not consider the trip necessary.

JUST ABOUT TIME TO THINK OF CIVIC ELECTIONS.

There is no intention to stir up strife or make people uneasy or to be always trying to precipitate elections, but it is nearly time people were beginning to think about the civic elections which are in the offing. The time is drawing near and it is well to get good men interested in civic work. Too much is left to the last moment.

No intimation has been given as to who are likely to be candidates this year. No one seems anxious for the positions that offer. The pay is quite inadequate for the work, which perhaps is as it should be. Some people are of opinion that there should be no pay. At any rate every year there is a tendency for a lot of the best men to draw back from undertaking the work. Possibly a little pressure brought to bear might change things.

NEEDS OF BOOSTERS IN ANY COMMUNITY.

There seems to be always a goodly supply of pessimists in any community but boosters are often at a discount. The Ketchikan paper has this:

"Alaska needs boosters. And there is so much to boost. There is the civic pride of healthy surroundings, beautiful homes, fine roads and streets, playgrounds and parks to be created by industry and constructive co-operation. There is the pride of empire building; the saving and use of pioneer capital for creating and developing new industries and converting raw material into productive enterprises."

Now what is true of Alaska is just as true of British Columbia and particularly of Prince Rupert. There are a lot of good men and true who are firm believers in the future of this place but on the other hand there are a lot of cynics who make light of every effort to force the speed. We need men with faith and energy who are always ready to speak a word for the place or push a pound or put up a dollar. Any such are always welcome.

POOL SEEMS TO BE PERMANENT ORGANIZATION.

The wheat pool has wound up another successful year, and is now making final payments which bring the price secured by its patrons up to $1.42½ per bushel for No. 1 Northern at Vancouver, says the Edmonton Bulletin.

The pool last year handled 45,000,000 bushels of Alberta wheat, more than half the total estimated yield, and about twice the amount marketed through the pool last year.

How much the pool has affected prices, or how much it has saved the farmer in marketing costs, is not officially stated or estimated; is perhaps not to be calculated with any degree of assured accuracy.

But there is every appearance of permanence in the position of the pool.
 It is handling each year the grain of a much larger number of farmers than in the preceding year. Which means that it has established itself in the confidence of the farming community as a selling organization.

ASK KING AND QUEEN TO TOUR DOMINION.

It is understood that the King and Queen are to be asked to tour Canada next year on the occasion of the diamond jubilee of confederation. This is a fitting thing to do. The King is King of Canada just as much as King of England, if it is true that all the nations of the Empire are equal. The step suggested would be in the nature of a recognition of this equality and would be appreciated by the people of Canada.

FRIENDLINESS TO OUR VISITORS.

Prince Rupert has started well in showing friendliness to the visitors who are coming here to load with grain. This was commented on by the Japanese captain who is here in charge of one of the grain vessels. It is to be hoped that this will be kept up. It is worth a great deal in the way of business. The tendency is to make a great fuss at first and then forget to entertain the visitors.

Possibly it would be a good plan to have some suitable entertainment for the first British ship coming here to load grain. It would be quite a right and proper thing to do.

SAYS ROBBED
 IN A FRACAS

GEORGE DRAPICH WAS RECENTLY
 FROM CASSIAR GOLD FIELDS
 WITH GOLD DUST

A series of wild yells for help and cries declaring a man was being thrown into the bay awakened Suedman hotel
 guests and residents in the Tongass
 and Ryus buildings early this morning and as an outcome of the fracas Oscar Berg and Harry Hanson are being held in the federal jail, while George Drapich, the man who made the out-cries, claims he was robbed of $82 and a gold watch box says the Ketchikan Chronicle of recent date. Another man said to have been mixed up in the melee is being sought by officers.

All four of the men were employees
 at the Salt Chuck mine and were going to leave on the motorship Fairbanks for Salt Chuck at 4 o'clock this morning to get their remaining effects. Drapich claims that the three men attacked him
 on the boat and tried to throw him overboard after they had gone through his pockets and taken what money he had and yanked his watch box from his gold nugget chain.

VOCIFEROUS CRIES
 Drapich's cries attracted early morning
 pedestrians and when they arrived at the Dock Street float, where the Fairbanks was tied up, Drapich was on the deck swinging a broken oar, still vociferous in his cries that his attackers
 were trying to throw him overboard.

The police lights were flashed on and Patrolman Williams arrived on the scene in a few minutes. Later he picked up Berg and Olson in a cafe on Mission street and took them to the police station. The men were turned over to the federal authorities this morning and taken to the jail on the hill, while search is being continued for the third man claimed to have participated in the assault on Drapich.

Drapich recently returned from the Cassiar mining region and brought a considerable amount of gold dust with him, which it is said he was prone to exhibit to his friends. He is said to have deposited the gold dust in one of the banks within the last few days
 for safe keeping.

ILL FEELING OR HOLIDAY
 Ill feeling is reported to have existed between Drapich and other members of the crew at the mine, where Drapich has been working since his return from the Cassiar, and there appears to be some conflicting opinion as to whether the fracas this morning was a result of ill feeling or a holiday.

After the excitement was over, Drapich did not discover that the money was gone until he returned to his hotel room to change his clothes, although he declares the three men and himself battled around the deck and they attempted to throw him overboard until he got hold of the oar, broke off its blade and brandished it in the air to protect himself.

Drapich wore a valuable gold nugget chain attached to his watch but these were not molested, the fob being the only part of the jewelry missing.

ALASKA MINES
 CLOSELY ALLIED WITH CANADIAN

REVIEW OF THOSE IN TERRITORY
 INTERESTING TO MINING MEN
 ON THIS SIDE

The mines of Alaska are closely associated with those in Canada as many of them are in the same fields. This was Alaska Week and the Ketchikan Chronicle tells of the mines of the territory as follows:

The high spots in Alaska history are linked with one of her great industries, that of mining. Wrangell was the first of the Alaska towns to feel the impetus which comes from the presence of stampedees in the search of gold. During the late 70's and early 80's, it was the outfitting point for 30,000 miners who stampeded up the Stikine river and into the Cassiar district, British Columbia. Again in 1897, after the discovery of gold on the Klondike river,
 many stampedees outfitted at Wrangell,
 thinking that they could reach this El Dorado by way of the Stikine river, Telegraph creek and Teslin Lake, thus avoiding the Chilkoot pass and Whitehorse rapids.

FIRST PLACER
 The first placer gold mined in Alaska came from the Silver Bow basin, Juneau, the oldest American settlement in Alaska, in 1880. About the same time the Treadwell quartz mine was developed in a small way and was later enlarged until it was second to no gold mine in the world at the time of the big cave-in and flooding of the major part of the workings in the spring of 1917. Gastineau channel has been the centre of considerable mining activity from the time of the first discovery of gold in Silver Bow basin to the present time. The Alaska-Juneau mine, in 1922, produced one-sixth of all the gold mined in Alaska.

KLONDIKE DISCOVERY
 The discovery of gold in the Klondike region, Yukon Territory, in 1898,
 was responsible for a period of increased activity in Juneau during the succeeding years when the stampedees were en route. Skagway came into being over night and in 1897-98 was a city of some 15,000 inhabitants. Although depleted in population at the present time, this little town stands at the gateway to the Yukon Territory and is of commercial importance for this reason.

ON FORTY MILE
 The placer mines of the Forty Mile river district were discovered in 1887,
 those of the Rampart district in 1893,
 those of the Sunrise district, Cook Inlet, in 1894; and those of the upper Koyukok river in 1899. The first real stampede to Alaska Territory, however,
 occurred with the discovery of placer
 gold on Anvil creek, near Nome, in 1898. The stampedees arrived by the thousands during 1899 and 1900, when gold in paying quantities was discovered on the beach at Nome. Following the Nome stampede other placer deposits
 were opened on the Seward peninsula,
 notably at Candle Creek, Council City
 Solomon and in the Kougarak country to the northward. After the days of the rush Nome's population declined until 1905, when renewed activity occurred for a few years as the result of the discovery of gold in the old beach level
 on the tundra back of the present beach.

TANANA DISCOVERY
 The discovery of gold near Fairbanks in 1902 created a new mecca for the disappointed stampedees who had visited the Klondike, Nome and other districts, and thousands flocked to Fairbanks, which soon developed into a thriving city. For several years following the first discovery of gold in this section, new finds were made on the creeks in the district, and Fairbanks thereafter had a rather prolonged period of prosperity. The district still holds much promise both as a mining and agricultural section.

The discovery of placer gold near Hot Springs on the Tanana river in 1906 resulted in the establishment of a permanent settlement there. Iditarod is among the last of the large placer camps. The district was discovered in 1909 and is still producing approximately one-half million dollars in gold annually. Gold was discovered on the creek back of Ruby in 1912, resulting in the establishment of a permanent settlement at that point. The Toiyana strike in 1914 resulted in a great influx of gold seekers to that section.
 The Kantishna, Hyder and Willow creek districts now loom large on the gold mining horizon.

OTHER MINERALS
 In addition to the settlements mentioned as being founded largely as a result of gold mining activities, other

The sale of Beer by the glass Vindicated

THE Government Control of beer sales to the people of British Columbia in licensed premises has been vindicated by the orderly manner in which these premises are conducted.

These quiet and comfortable establishments prove that the open and above-board sale of pure beer has in great measure ended the evils attending the illicit sale of strong drink. They have proved that the self respect and good behavior of the people of British Columbia are more to be depended on than the opinions of those who wish to prevent the people from having any beer at all.

You may find citizens enjoying a healthful and invigorating glass of beer in the quiet and ease that the well-to-do have in their clubs. Licensed premises in the colder winter months are more than ever the working man's club, where he finds the company and comfort that is his right.

The supervision and regulation of licensed premises by the Government is a guarantee that the excellent conditions under which beer is sold shall continue. Efficient Government Inspectors see not only that such licensed premises are operated in a strictly sanitary manner. They look for a high standard of conduct.

The purity and wholesomeness of all beers served—supplied by the Amalgamated Breweries of British Columbia—is guaranteed by the frequent and strict analyses to which they are subjected by the Government. In the present administration of Beer Parlors the interests of the public are completely protected.

FISHING DONE MASSETT INLET

CANNERIES CLOSED AND INDIANS WILL SOON BE HOLLING UP FOR WINTER

MASSETT, Oct. 23.—The chum fishing for this season is over. The catch in this inlet was small. According to the Indian fishermen, the heavy rains at the time of the run caused the streams to rise quickly. Consequently the salmon went straight to the spawning grounds instead of remaining in the inlet for a time as is the case in a drier season.

The canneries have closed for the season. Many of the crew of the Langara Fishing and Packing Co.'s cannery at New Massett crossed to Prince Rupert on Margaret III. on Sunday. Some left by the Prince Charles.

The Indians are returning to the village. With the exception of the picking of spruce cones for the government and for an eastern firm, their year's work is at an end.

NATIVE COUPLE AT MASSETT MARRIED

Mrs. Lucy Adams Recently Became Bride of George Price at Pretty Ceremony

A very pretty Indian wedding was solemnized by the Rev. J. Gillett at St. Paul's Church, New Massett, Tuesday evening, October 12, the principals being Mrs. Lucy Adams and George Price. The bride, who was dressed in pale blue silk with conventional bridal veil, was given away by her father, Thomas Nutcomb. The bride was attended by Mrs. Emily Parnell and Mrs. Alfred Adams. Mr. Philip White acted as groomsmen.

After the ceremony a delightful supper served at the Massett Cafe, where numerous friends from New Massett as well as many from the Reserve were entertained.

A beautifully appointed table was centered by a lovely four-tier wedding cake, made by friends of the bride.

After a sumptuous repast speeches and toasts were made to the bride and groom. Rev. Gillett made a humorous speech followed by Mr. Martin, Mr. Reid and Mr. Alfred Adams. Mr. Harry Weir spoke in Halda. Rev. Gillett acting as interpreter which caused much amusement. Mr. Dowling, Dr. Dunn, and Robert Ridley also wished the happy pair every happiness and success in the future. Thomas Nutcomb then thanked the Indian and white friends of the bride and groom, especially Rev. Gillett, Mr. Martin, and Mr. and Mrs. Simpson for their generosity. The speeches were then concluded by John Bell, Mrs. Fanny Wilson, Mrs. Dowling and Mr. Bailey.

The merry-makers then repaired to the hall, kindly loaned by Mr. Martin, where dancing was indulged in until a late hour.

SOUTHERN STATE SEEN ON SCREEN

Furnishes Novel Background in Tom Meighan's "The New Klondike"

Florida jammed before the season opens. A glass of water, fifteen cents. Baggage, five to seven days late. Scores sleeping in hotel lobbies. Hundreds living in tents. Freight embargo. Merchants unable to procure stock. Stenographers making seven hundred per cent in real estate deals and riding in Rolls-Royces. Thousands of Iowans selling farms and flivvers to Florida. Millionaires, clerks, Broadway stars, speculators, housewives, and chorus girls pouring in. The Eldorado of today. The New Klondike.

Against this seething, roaring, infinitely colorful background, Thomas Meighan has made a great comedy-drama. "The New Klondike" was written for him by the well known humorist, Ring Lardner. Lila Lee appears opposite the star in this picture which opened at the Westholme last night and will be shown again today.

SPORT CHAT

The stock of Vic Foley, the Pacific Coast featherweight, has gone up considerably since his draw battle this week with Kid Roy of Montreal for the Canadian title. There are many who believe that the Vancouver lad will take the crown away from the Eastern champion when they meet again next Thursday night. Foley supporters emphasize the fact that the referee's decision in calling it a draw was not popular with the fans who thought it was Foley's win. It is usual that a victory must be very decisive before a referee will declare in favor of a champion's opponent.

Jim Gleeson, one of Winnipeg's foremost billiardist and at one time professional champion of Manitoba, claims to have established a Canadian record for a high break in a match here recently with C. Horton of this city. He compiled the excellent count of 579. Of this total 402 were made off the Permanent repair of waterfront road is being requested--local salmon packers are returning--halibut total under 1925

A petition drawing the attention of the city, provincial and federal authorities to the unsatisfactory condition of the road running from Third Avenue to the Cow Bay bridge and beyond toward the dry dock in one direction and the government wharf in the other and asking that immediate steps be taken to repair the road is being widely signed by concerns and people doing business along the waterfront.

The petition is worded as follows:

"We wish to draw your attention to the present condition of the road running from Third Avenue to the Cow Bay bridge and on the other side of bridge, one section running to the provincial government wharf, the other to the Imperial Oil Co. property.

"We would point out that this road was never built properly from the first to stand up to the heavy traffic going over it each and every day.

"It has been temporarily repaired from time to time but the method and material used will not stand for any length of time.

"The condition of the road to those who use it constantly causes rapid depreciation of cars and trucks, especially trucks carrying heavy loads.

"We would ask immediate action on the repair of this road so that excessive wear and tear on all trucks and cars will be eliminated, and will greatly help reduce the cost of upkeep which at present is very heavy and unnecessary if this road were properly built.

"We are sending this petition to the city of Prince Rupert, provincial government and deputy minister of railways, Ottawa, as the last two have leases with some of the firms interested and we consider the city of Prince Rupert should do its share as every car in this city must use these roads."

Powerboat Pachena made a trip this week to Murder Cove, Macaulay Island, and towed in a scow containing 25,000 feet of lumber which had been bought last week for Albert & McCaffery by Capt. Swanson who went down in the Myfanwy. The Schaeffer sawmill at Murder Cove is now closed for the winter.

Capt. Alex Saint aboard powerboat 28 took Capt. Larry Thomson out Wednesday night to meet the Japanese grain steamer Yefuku Maru. Putting the pilot aboard the big freighter off Triple Island about midnight, the 28 hung around in the fog and got back to port about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. Bob Thomas sailed on the 28 as cook and while Captain Thomson can recommend his coffee, he says that Bob fries a very rubbery steak. At that it might have been Pat Burns who was at fault.

Jim Bacon is erecting a new and commodious smokehouse at the rear of his new premises on the government wharf.

Furniture and equipment is being moved into the biological station on the government wharf. Chris Elkins and Bill Brown are finishing furnace installation in the building while the finishing touches are being put on the interior decorations by Painter Bissett. D. B. Finn, who will be director of the station, is well pleased with the layout and expects to carry out a good deal of valuable and interesting research work therein.

George Fritz returned to port with the Margaret II. this week from the Queen Charlotte Islands where he has been packing this summer and has left for the westwards on a halibut trip.

Merrill Sollows, captain of the halibut schooner Ringleader, which was tied up this week for the winter, left Thursday night on a trip to Vancouver.

His many friends along the waterfront will be interested to know that word has been received from Earl Haines who is now at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., and that he is making satisfactory recovery following treatment for a recent injury.

Capt. Clarence Campbell and his brother left this week on the halibut schooner Joe Baker, which has now discontinued halibut fishing for the winter, for a week's hunting at Dundas Island.

Capt. Jud Thurber used the halibut schooner Muirueg this week to bring a load of sand and gravel for use in external decoration of the Fourth Avenue East residence.

Powerboat P.H.T., Capt. Harris Kerr, made a trip to Georgetown Thursday and brought back a pair of scows with lumber for the Big Bay's local yards.

The boat Double A., on which Andy Akerberg has been trolling this season, is up for the winter on a Cow Bay cradle.

Pete Bruno, the Cow Bay barber, is not expressing any great measure of thanks to the egotistically generous gentleman who dismantled a cradle he had made in order to build one for himself.

After an extensive overhaul job at the McLean ways, Dr. W. T. Kergin's yacht Full Moon is now receiving a thorough painting both in side and out before leaving the shop where she has been for about a month.

The schooner R.W., Capt. A. Wick, after having spent the summer packing for Bella Bella cannery is now being prepared for a halibut trip before the season closes.

SEEING THE NOISE

Hens must have cackles and boats must have whistles and it appears that, on the latter, the noise must be seen as well as heard. In this regard, the increasing use of motorships has created a demand for a new device which one would never have imagined. It appears that mariners have got used to the value of signals on steamers whistles in a double way, the sound and also the appearance of steam. Motor vessels are equipped with a compressor air whistle, and the officer on watch on a nearby vessel is deprived of the corroborative visual signal afforded by the steam whistle. Now comes the "Visible Smoke Unit," which is a device giving a visible smoke puff concurrently and of same duration as the audible signal. The device is put on the market by the Sperry Gyroscope Co. of London. At first they built motor ships without a smoke stack, but they soon had to put on a dummy funnel for appearance sake. Now comes the need for dummy steam for the whistle.

C. S. Williams, the genial if somewhat persistent representative of Canadian Fairbanks-Morse, was doing his stuff on waterfront row this week. C. S. is concentrating his efforts at this time on the putting over of a new full diesel two cycle engine which so far is the only thing of its kind on the market. Other companies are reported to be working on its developments. If there are not some of the new motors in use here next season we will say the energetic C. F. M. agent is not to blame.

Schooner W.T., Capt. Charlie Edwards, has returned to port after having spent the season packing for J. P. Todd & Sons and is fixing up for a halibut trip.

Charlie Edwards, who left here some time ago following the loss at sea of his halibut boat Azores, has been packing salmon down the coast this season with a new boat he had built at Vancouver. He is now working around Vancouver Island where chum seining is still in progress.

At last a real proof has been found that prohibition in the great Republic to the south is achieving success. It is this: A (or "the") Sea Serpent has been sighted on no less than eight occasions recently in B.C. waters, whereas there has been no reported similar occurrence in the water of the Pacific Coast of the U.S. The inference is obvious.

Union Oil Co.'s motorship tanker Olnida was in port Thursday evening unloading at the company's local tanks.

Aboard Skipper Bryant's Harla, Geo. Bryant and the boys and Harry Pullen left bright and early this morning for the Ogden Channel vicinity where they will give terrific pursuit to the wily deer. The party took enough provisions to last a month but Monday & Tuesday will probably see them back with tangible results of their prowess in trophies of the chase.

NEW CANNERY

R. G. Johnston, manager of Inverness cannery, has obtained a site on the Indian reserve at Klenut (China Hat) upon which he will erect a two line cannery which will be ready for operation in time for next year's fall fishing. This explains the recent trips made by the popular Bob to China Hat which is about 130 miles south of here and in the central fishing division.

Port warden's survey fees for grain vessels using this port were set at $45 at a meeting of the council of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade this week. This is the same rate as applies in Vancouver.

The Japanese fish packer Shushona, which has been in dry dock getting repairs following her wreck in Hecate Straits in August, is now about completed.

Eddie Hudson returned to port this week from Bella Bella where he has been packing salmon this season for the cannery there with his boat Alida.

MUSSEL HAS CURIOUS WAY BEING BORN

SCIENTISTS TRYING TO IMITATE NATURE AND THINK THEY HAVE SUCCEEDED

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 23.—A solution of a baffling but industrially important biological problem was momentarily approached this summer by research work at the bureau of fisheries station at Fairport, Iowa.

Dr. M. M. Ellis of the University of Missouri successfully hatched out in a special culture, at the end of a series of experiments, the embryonic spawn of the fresh water mussel.

SHELLS ARE VALUABLE

A sedentary, inedible and unattractive creature from most viewpoints, the mussel ordinarily inhabits the mud bottoms of the Mississippi and tributary rivers in the middle west. In rare cases it secretes a true but misshapen pearl within its shell, and has been long hunted out because of the trait. In recent years, however, its entire shell has been found satisfactory raw material for the manufacture of pearl buttons.

Some time ago it became apparent that the drafts of shell-using industry upon the natural stock of mussels was rapidly exhausting the supply. The government's scientists began to study the possibilities of artificial propagation, and ran into an almost insurmountable obstacle. Nature had but one way of bringing up baby mussels, it was discovered, and that was through the use of a most weird and unduplicated floating incubator.

PRODUCE PEARLS

While the parent mussel released uncounted myriads of its embryonic spawn annually, only such insignificant proportions of the progeny have ever survived as could attach themselves by accident to the gills and inner jaws of certain fishes, on which they had to live for six weeks as parasites. At the end of that period, if they succeeded in detaching themselves and dropping upon a mud bottom, evading the easier chance of getting into the adjacent stomach of the hungry incubator fish, they attained a normal life and perhaps produced a pearl or fabricated the fastening for a blouse.

Until success this summer rewarded Dr. Hill's work, no mussel ever came through its first summer without the intervention of the chance-sent fish foster mother. There are still some details of the new artificial propagation process to work out, but the fishery expert on the basis of success achieved now have considerable hope that the mussel supply can again be built up, and placed upon the firm foundation that has been given by scientific research to the growing of oysters and the hatching of salmon.

ORIGIN OF UNLUCKY THIRTEEN IS THEORY NEANDERTHAL BRAIN

(Ketchikan Chronicle)

Some industrious statistician has recently attempted to revive the superstition that once attached to the old silver quarters because of the many thirteens to be found in its decorations. Its thirteen stars, thirteen feathers in the eagles' wings, the thirteen letters in the inscriptions, etc., have long attracted attention, but nobody hears of quarters being refused in change because of them. It is very difficult, says a writer in the Manchester Guardian, to get at the reason for the dread inspired thirteen, but we may sense its origin in the paleolithic days when West Europeans began to count on their fingers up to ten. A hairy genius next pointed out, no doubt, that by wagging one's two thumbs subsequently one could indicate eleven and twelve. After that, however, the mathematics of the thing got too formidable for a Neanderthal brain housed in hardly less cramped cranial quarters than that of a modern gorilla, and it may well have been the case that public opinion in Esse, foreseeing that arithmetic would give the world a lot of trouble, chased into the wilderness and slew the first "smart Alec" who devised and sought to popularize the 3-10, 4-10, 5-10 mode of complicating cave computation.

While the parent mussel released uncounted myriads of its embryonic spawn annually, only such insignificant proportions of the progeny have ever survived as could attach themselves by accident to the gills and inner jaws of certain fishes, on which they had to live for six weeks as parasites. MOUNTIES LIVE UP REPUTATION

OFFICER COVERS 1,286 MILES IN NORTH IN TEN WEEKS TRACING MURDERER OF ESKIMO

OTTAWA, Oct. 23.—(By Canadian Press.)—Reports from lonely outposts in the Canadian Arctic islands show that the high reputation of Canada's mounted police force is being sustained. From the stations of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on Baffin, Devon and Ellesmere Islands come stories of single patrol through the Arctic winter in bleak, inaccessible sections of the north. Two of these journeys made by members of the mounted police are given special note. The first, undertaken by Staff Sergeant A. H. Joy, covered a distance of 975 miles and occupied forty days. The second, made by Sergeant J. E. F. Wright, accounted for 1,286 miles of travel between February 15 and May 2, of the present year. The latter patrol was made for the purpose of investigating the alleged murder of an Eskimo several years ago.

The first of these patrols is regarded as a notable piece of travel. Staff Sergeant Joy travelling alone, save for an Eskimo dog-driver and hunter, from Craig Harbor around the southern and western shores of Ellesmere Island and crossed Eureka Sound to Axel Heiberg the large island lying to the west of Ellesmere. Hitherto Axel Heiberg has been regarded as one of the most inaccessible of the Canadian Arctic islands. The report mentions that both Sergeant Joy, and his companion suffered from snow blindness while on Axel Heiberg. The same officer, while ascending a glacier, ran into a network of deep crevasses masked by light snow. He discovered the existence of the crevasses when his dog teams broke through. One trace broke, and the dog was not heard of again.

Sergeant Wright's long patrol took him through a country which is so little known that the latest maps proved to be inaccurate as the situation of several large lakes which it contains. Traversing regions unknown to his Eskimo companions, he visited a tumber of small bands of Eskimos and found much destitution among them. He was able to assist in relieving their distress.

NUMEROUS PATROLS

In addition to these two long patrols numerous others are reported. The mounted police have now patrolled the whole of the seacoast of the southern half of Ellesmere Island. They have patrolled part of the coast of Axel Heiberg; the northern and southern coasts of Devon Island; and the whole of the port and east coasts of Baffin Island as well as part of the west coast. The distance travelled by two detachments on Baffin Island was over six thousand miles, while on Ellesmere Island a distance of 3,300 miles was covered. These figures are exclusive of ground covered in hunting trips.

Thus the work of exploring and policing the north goes on. Through the dangers and hardships of the northern winter, the mounted police continue to push their way farther and farther into the almost unknown sections of Canada's Arctic continent. And down in the temperate zone, the public is informed that the winter in the north-eastern Arctic was one of "great activity."

INTERIOR EDITOR WRITES OF MUSIC

Prince Rupert musicians and music lovers are having a run-in with the Prince Rupert Daily News over what the former claim is a fox's paw on the part of the latter in feeding the folks a diet of jazz in preference to the classical in music. There does not appear to be much room for a squabble until such time as Utopia and Bolshevism arrive to cast all mortals in the same mold. Music hits some people about the same way as booze, and whether they take to jazz or the classical compositions they go the limit and become pests to all with whom they come in contact. In other words they become musical nuts and talk of music as though it was something to eat. There is another branch of the musical family—the social appendix that considers a mouth knowledge of music essential to a lower berth in a so-called society. They mouth about the classical in music, and it has always been a cause for wonder whether they actually knew the difference between a Wagner selection, a Chopin nocturne and a Beethoven minuet, or in what category they would place a refrain from spitting.

Music is just like any of the other arts—it is very nice, and quite elevating—until somebody comes along and makes a fool of it. Meantime the classical chaps of Prince Rupert might be charitable with the editor of the News, because after all he speaks for a big proportion of the population there and elsewhere, and besides, he wrote it only for the same reason that we write this, and that was because this space had to be filled with something. — Interior News.

In The Letter Box

Editor, Daily News.

Our education, particularly along a musical line, has been sadly neglected. For that reason, we probably fail to see the point of the letter written by "Music Lover but not Jazz." However, we think we like music, including a limited amount of jazz. We know of a composer, whose compositions would probably be appreciated by the above mentioned gentleman, who said that the man who could not appreciate a little ragtime (this was before the word "jazz" was invented) could not appreciate music but the man who could not appreciate anything but ragtime did not know anything about music. We cannot agree with M. L. E. N. J. in assuming that ye editor, necessarily belongs to the latter class. "A Smaller Town than Prince Rupert." Massett, October 21, 1926.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Carmichael returned to the city on the Prince Rupert this afternoon, after having spent their honeymoon in Sound cities. They will take up their residence in the Westenhaver Block on Second Avenue. Mrs. Carmichael was formerly Miss Marguerite Young.

THOMAS MEIGHAN

"The New Klondyke"

A roaring comedy-romance of the Florida real estate boom, specially written for the "good luck" star by Ring Lardner. Tommy, a big league baseball pitcher, and his sure does put it over. Florida jammed before the season opens, glass of water fifteen cents, baggage five to seven days late, hotels overcrowded, hundreds living in tents, freight embargo, stenographers making seven hundred per cent in real estate deals, millionaires, clerks, Broadway stars, speculators, housewives, chorus girls. The New Klondyke. The Eldorado of today. Against this seething background Tom and Lila Lee have made a second-to-none comedy-drama. Strong cast.

Thomas Meighan, Lila Lee, Paul Kelly, Robert Craig, J. W. Johnston, Hallie Manning and many others.
