In the division, the Progressives split evenly—ten for amendment and ten against. With the Liberals voted two for members and A. W. Neill, Independent for Comox-Alberni, E. N. SLAAN-M'RAE LIBEL TRIAL

Appeal Court Unanimously Rules That Hearing Take Place in Nanaimo.

VICTORIA, June 30.—The appeal of Hon. Wm. Sloan against the order of Mr. Justice W. A. Macdonald transferring the hearing of his $50,000 libel suit against General A. D. McRae from Victoria was unanimously allowed by the Court of Appeal yesterday. The result is that the trial will take place in Mr. Sloan's "home town" where it was originally instituted. Chief Justice Macdonald of the Supreme Court said that no arguments had been offered to show why Mr. Sloan should lose the right of having the trial at Nanaimo. The only argument was that his popularity would prevent a fair trial at Nanaimo, but there had been no facts submitted to prove it.

LOS ANGELES, June 30.—A joint investigation by the police and district attorney's office has failed to produce a single clue to substantiate Aimee McPherson's story that she was abducted from Ocean Park beach on May 18 and held a prisoner for five weeks. Mrs. McPherson insisted her story "must stand" and contends the burden of proof falls upon those who doubt her.

SHIPPING LIVE FISH TO EASTERN MARKET

Interesting Experiment May be Tried With Alaska Slackfish

CHICAGO, June 29.—The possibility of transporting Alaskan blackfish to Chicago by freezing them into solid blocks of ice, and bringing them back to life by a thawing process is being investigated by Walter H. Chute, associate director of the $2,000,000 Shedd Aquarium to be erected here. Early investigation has determined that the fish, principal food of northern Alaska, have unusual vitality, and are as lively as ever when thawed out after weeks in their icy prisons. Cases have been reported, Mr. Chute said, where fish have been revived after being swallowed whole by Eskimo dogs. In these instances, the fish were thawed out by animal heat of the stomachs, their movements causing the dogs to eject them alive.

Chain of Evidence Connecting Wallace Gaines with Murder of Daughter Obtained by Police

SEATTLE, June 30.—Prosecutor Colvin announced last night, after Wallace G. Gaines had been arrested on a first degree murder charge in connection with the death of his daughter Sylvia two weeks ago, that he had at last obtained the missing links in the evidence which convinced him that Gaines killed his daughter. One of these was that Luke May, a private investigator, had found blood stains on the clothing of the father, and the other was the statement of Louis Stern, a friend of Gaines, to whom he went on the night of the killing. Stern said: "Gaines came to my house on the night of the murder and told me to hurry up for God's sake and give him a drink." Continuing, Stern said: "I asked him what was the hurry, and he replied that 'if you had been through what I have been through, you'd want a drink in a hurry too.'"

Commons Advances Bill Providing Increase in Miners' Working Hours

LONDON, June 30.—Continuation of a state of emergency was proclaimed today owing to the non-settlement of the coal strike. Secretary Cook of the Miners' Federation announced that the executive council will consider the question of the withdrawal of safety men from the mines, making the situation seem as hopeless as it was weeks ago.

The House of Commons last night passed through its second reading the bill raising the working day of the miners from seven to eight hours. The debate was marked by sharp criticism of Premier Baldwin because he owned two thousand shares in Baldwin Ltd., a steel company owning small coal areas. Laborites continually interrupted and the singing of "The Red Flag" was squelched by the speaker.

Damage consisted chiefly of fallen chimneys and broken windows. Surrounding towns were jarred by the tremor.

DAILY EDITION Wednesday, June 30, 1926.

The First Dominion Day.

Lord Carnarvon, in introducing the Canadian Confederation Bill in the House of Lords, said: "We are laying the foundation of a great state—perhaps one which at a future day may even overshadow this country, but come what may, we shall rejoice that we have shown neither indifference to their wishes nor jealousy of their aspirations, but that we honestly and sincerely to the utmost of our power and knowledge fostered their growth, recognizing in it the conditions of our own greatness. We are in this measure setting the crown to the free institutions which more than a quarter of a century ago we gave them and therein we remove, as I firmly believe, all possibility of future jealousy or misunderstanding."

Truly we are witnessing not only the "foundation of a great state," but the rearing of its superstructure and one may well concur in the lines of Morgan-Powell:

"Our greatness is where wheat fields are, Where foundry hammers swing, In groaning dray and falling spar, Our land's awakening, In axe heaving some new track, In pick the miner plies, In out-thrust vale and lonely shack, In hearts that fight the forest back, Canadian history lies."

Farmers Are Firm in the Saddle.

Alberta is apparently satisfied with her Farmer Government. With no unmistakable voice, the voters expressed their preferences at the polls on Monday and Premier Brownlee retains control of the legislature with all his followers holding three-quarters of the electoral seats and other parties scarcely represented. The result of the election speaks for itself. This Farmer Party, made up as it is of former members of the original two parties, has survived as a third party never did before in the Dominion. It has a great opportunity now of proving itself by giving good government, as it certainly will not be hampered by opposition in the legislature.

British Columbia's Credit is High.

British Columbia's credit has been high for some time now; but it still seems to be soaring if the excellent price which Dr. MacLean received for the latest issue of bonds means anything at all. Thirty-two banks and financial houses competed for the business and the figure obtained was 95.85 for $6,000,000 worth of thirty-year serials. This gives the province its money on a 4.79 basis and represents the best average price obtained by any provincial government securities this year.

Financial experts no longer have any qualms about the financing methods followed by this province. Only a few years ago the money market had lost interest in British Columbia securities. Our bonds were called "deficit bonds" and the general advice given to us was to borrow no more until our affairs were in a better shape. That day has long since gone and our securities nowadays always are eagerly sought after and good prices offered.

BUFFALO ARE MOVED NORTH

Being Taken 1,860 Miles From Wainwright, Alta., to Great Slave Lake.

WAINWRIGHT, June 30.—Starting on their 1,860 mile journey by rail and boat to join the trail breakers sent up north last summer, 250 young buffalo from the Buffalo National Park were loaded into specially reinforced Canadian National box cars here yesterday for the west. This is the first shipment of buffalo to leave the park this year for the new home of prairie buffalo who took up their residence in the Wood Buffalo Park south of Great Slave Lake in the Northwest Territories last year. Altogether the National Parks officials propose moving 2,000 animals this summer from the park here to the open range up north. From here the buffalo are moved to Edmonton by the Canadian National Railways, thence by A. & G.W. to Waterways. There they will leave the box cars for specially constructed scows, on which they will make the final 500 mile journey down the Athabasca River to their new home. It is understood that this year's quota for the north will move in lots of 200 to 250 weekly until 2,000 animals have been shipped.

Imitations Galore—Only One ORANGE-CRUSH

Don't let the unscrupulous or inexperienced dealer cheat you with an inferior imitation for the sake of a fraction of a cent more profit per bottle.

Orange-CRUSH is such a delicious drink—so pure and healthful that you deserve to get it when you ask for it. And the dealer who does not hand out a substitute deserves to be patronized. He pays more for Orange-CRUSH than for inferior imitations, but the Krinkly Bottle builds constantly increasing sales for him. In the end, Orange-CRUSH profits are always greater because Orange-CRUSH is the most popular fruit-flavored drink in the world today.

From Sun-Bathed Orange Groves

THERE'S nothing like a sparkling, fruity drink filled with flavor of the luscious orange. That's Orange-CRUSH—just the purest, finest, fruit-flavored drink in the world! From California's sun-bathed orange groves it comes.

And the Orange-CRUSH Krinkly Bottle with the name Orange-CRUSH blown right in is always your guide to the genuine.

Drink sparkling Orange-CRUSH any time—everywhere. Here's what makes it so good:—To healthful, carbonated water is added the juice of luscious oranges—the delicate flavor of their peel—the zestful tang of the fruit acid found in oranges, lemons and limes—a pure food color, such as you use in your cakes and candies—pure cane sugar. A truly delightful, true-fruit drink.

LICENSE BYLAW BEFORE COUNCIL

City Fathers Engage in Considerable Discussion With Respect to Peddlers.

Having consideration to a newly drafted license bylaw, the city council last night engaged in considerable discussion on the point of peddlers' licenses. Difficultly arose with respect to the license fee what should be charged such persons as were engaged in the peddling of local produce such as fruit and vegetables grown in the city or district and fish caught locally. The unanimous desire of the members of the council was apparently that some consideration should be shown such persons and that they should be relieved of the regular peddlers' license fee of $50 per six months. The city solicitor gave the opinion, however, that to exempt such persons or to give them a reduced fee would be discriminatory and might invalidate the whole bylaw. Mr. Jones cited cases in other cities where on grounds of discrimination license bylaws had been successfully attacked.

Ald. Casey was in favor of showing consideration to the peddlers of local produce. The community around the city should not be penalized, he felt, in order to satisfy some foolish point of law. It was desirable to give as wide and free a market as possible to the farmers and fishermen. It seemed ridiculous to have a fee if it was not possible to do so. He for one was not disposed to submit to any such foolish law until it became compulsory to do so. The city ever since its inception had left such an avenue open to local produce and he did not see why it should not continue to do so. He was not disposed to accept the advice of the city solicitor.

Mayor Newton was also in favor of showing some consideration to the local producers in the manner suggested.

Ald. Stephens did not see what else the council could do than accept the advice of the solicitor on the point in question. The council had yet to be wrongly advised by Mr. Jones and he felt that his advice in this case should be accepted.

If the peddlers of local produce and manufactured articles could not be differentiated, Ald. Casey was in favor of making the license fee in all cases $10 per six months and he so moved.

Merchants and Peddlers

Ald. Jos. Greer did not think it would be fair to put the retail merchant who had established permanently in the city in the same class as the transient peddler. The one constituted the backbone of the city, paid taxes or rent, contributed towards the city's utilities and was called upon for financial assistance to various causes; while the other had no investment in the city and was in a position to move out at any time. In no other city in the Dominion was the transient peddler placed on the same basis as the established merchant.

After some sarcastic references as to the "poor merchants," Ald. Casey argued that the country did not depend on the merchants as it did on the men who came in and developed the land and built up the country. If the $50 license fee were imposed it would tend to starve the farmer on one hand by depriving him of his market and, on the other hand, would deprive the working man in the city and his family of the opportunity of obtaining good produce at a reasonable price. Which was the council going to stand by—the merchant or the farmer?

Ald. Jos. Greer pointed out that it was not the peddler of produce or fish that the merchants of the city objected to but to peddlers of manufactured goods who hawked their wares indiscriminately. The merchants would be perfectly satisfied to have the peddlers of produce continue with the $10 fee as they had done since the inception of the city.

Discretion of Collector

Ald. Larsen thought the only way out was to continue the policy of the past. While the $50 fee was written in the bylaw, he felt that the license collector might use his discretion in collecting the fees and not press for payment from the farmers and fishermen.

Ald. Casey felt that the council should decide on a fee and write it into the bylaw. It would be folly to pass a bylaw and then say that it should not be enforced.

A man named Morris, who said that he had been unable to get a job from the city and so had started peddling, then addressed the council. He said that the retail merchants had threatened to put him out of business and that he had been boycotted by the wholesalers. Every difficulty had been put in his way in obtaining and selling produce. He objected to the $50 license fee.

After further discussion, Ald. Casey amended that a fee of $10 be imposed on all peddlers instead of $50 was seconded by Ald. McKechnie and put to the vote. It was lost. Alderman Casey, Ald. MacKechnie and Ald. Larsen voting for it while Ald. Jos. Greer, Ald. Stephens, Ald. W. J. Greer and Ald. Perry voted against, expressing themselves in favor of retaining the $50 fee as set out in the bylaw. The putting of the bylaw through its first readings then proceeded.

Schedule of Charges

Under the bylaw, license fees are imposed as follows per six months: Pool and billiard tables—$10 for one table and $5 for each additional. Bowling alleys—$5 for each alley. Shooting galleries—$5 for each range or target. Wholesale merchants, $25. Retail merchants, $10. Milk vendors, $10. Peddlers, $50. Agents, $50.
