KING OPENS HIS CAMPAIGN IN MARITIMES

IMPORTANT CIVIC QUESTIONS DISCUSSED AT CITY COUNCIL MEETING

Cry of Disloyalty and Annexation Responsible For Condition of Trade

Mackenzie King Flays Tories at New Brunswick Town When Opening His Campaign in Maritimes

WOODSTOCK, N. B., Aug. 25.—"Had reciprocity carried, I ...ture to say that you would not have any maritime rights prob... as at present," said Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King at ... first meeting in the maritime provinces last night. "There ... great natural market at your door which you would have had ...y but for the old false Tory cry of disloyalty and annexation." ...s had worked to the great detriment of the country at large, ... no part suffered more than the maritime provinces, he said.

"Far reaching measures of reform affecting these provinces, ...ked by export opinion," was predicted by the Liberal leader, referring to two commissions now considering maritime problems. To the railway commission the last government assigned the task of revising the freight rates with special instructions to consider the claims of the maritime provinces. The intercolonial railway commission on maritime rights had been appointed by the Liberal government and when these two commissions concluded their work, measures of reform might be expected.

INDIAN SHOT HIMSELF AFTER BEATING WIFE CHILCOTIN COUNTRY

WILLIAMS LAKE, Aug. 25.—After a brutal attack on his wife, the aftermath of drinking homebrew, an Indian named Negani is alleged to have shot himself at Death Eagle Lake in the Chilkotin district, according to word brought to Redstone, 100 miles from here. Ian McRae, chief of police here, left for the scene of the tragedy to take the evidence of witnesses and if necessary to hold an inquest.

Negani's wife will recover although she is seriously injured, it is said.

Shakeup in the Department of Utilities Suggested Following Report of Council Last Night

The city council last night accepted a report from the board of works recommending the appropriation of $5,000 for the repairing of the 45-inch water main leading from Woodworth Lake dam to the Shawatlans power house. The report was backed up with recommendations from the city engineer and superintendent of utilities and there was considerable discussion in the course of which Ald. Perry, chairman of the board of works, charged members of the utilities with "lying down on the job" in allowing the situation to come to such a pass and the officials with misrepresentation. He threatened to present a motion at the next meeting which would bring the matter to a "showdown" by proposing a change.

Superintendent's Report

The report of J. J. Little, superintendent of utilities, stated that the 18-inch main from the power house to the pumping station was in excellent condition, due to the maintenance work that had been done on it. The same could not be said, however, of the 45-inch main from the dam to the power house on which there had been no maintenance work since 1922 and which in places was in bad condition. At least $5,000 would be needed to place the line in safe condition by installing concrete piers, renewing cribbing, etc. The report referred to the order that had gone out at the first of the year that as little money should be spent as possible. In view of that, $1,800 had been placed in the estimates this year for maintenance work and it had been proposed to spend a similar amount next year. The work was now under way and $400 of the $1,800 had been expended. To carry out the work completely, however, it would cost $5,000 or $6,000 and the line might still be subject to abnormal strain and possible rupture.

Engineer's Report

City Engineer H. A. McLean, in his report, gave an estimate of $5,000 covering the installation of 20 concrete piers, renewal of timber blocking, uncovering joints and lead caulking. He urged that the work be proceeded with forthwith. If there were a blowout, the cost to the city might be much greater than the cost estimated for repairs.

Ald. Perry told of making an inspection of the pipe line and finding it in bad condition and a great deal of work necessary. Referring to the valve in the line which was the sole protection of the power house from possible destruction, Ald Perry said he had been told this valve was not at the dry dock at all, but was lying

TIGER SHARK SOOKE TRAPS

Huge Man-Eater Weighed 1,000 Pounds.—First Caugt Off Vancouver Island.

VICTORIA, Aug. 25.—While hauling in their catch at the Sooke salmon traps yesterday, a number of salmon fishermen were surprised to see a large shark, believed to be of the man-eating variety, which they succeeded in landing after a stiff fight.

The appearance of the tiger shark was entirely unexpected and before he was subdued he pulled a score of his captors into the water. The creature measured eight feet two inches from the tip of his nose to the end of his tail and weighed approximately a thousand pounds. Some observers stated it was the first tiger shark caught off the coast of Vancouver Island.

LOCAL MAN MARRIED AT CHRIST CHURCH

John Gwendraeth Johns of This City and Miss Clara Francis Gwyn of Dundas United at Vancouver.

A quiet wedding took place on Monday, August 23, at Christ Church, Vancouver, when Miss Clara Francis Gwyn, daughter of the late Gerald Gwyn and Mrs. Gwyn, of Dundas, Ontario, to John Gwendraeth Johns, of Prince Rupert, Rev. Canon Smith officiating. Fred Clark was the best man.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of General Arthur Clark, Nelson St., Vancouver.

Mr. and Mrs. Johns arrived here this morning on the Prince George and will make their home on Sixth Avenue.

Proposal to Purchase Electric Plant of City by International Utilities Company Been Made

That E. W. Bowness, consulting engineer of Edmonton, who recently visited the city, took preliminary steps at that time on behalf of the International Utilities Co., which he represents, with a view to opening negotiations for the taking over of the municipal electric light plant was made public at last night's council meeting when Ald. Jos. Greer inquired if anything further had been heard from Mr. Bowness since his conference with the finance committee when the matter was first taken up. Ald. Greer explained that Mr. Bowness' company had already taken over the power plants at Nanaimo and Duncan and that it was interested in supplying power for a pulp and paper project at Prince George. He had asked the finance committee if the city would consider an offer to take over the local plant and operate it. He had been told that a conference with the city council would be arranged when he returned from Prince George, where he now was.

City Treasurer Matheson stated that a letter had just been received from Mr. Bowness in which he said that he had been delayed at Prince George and that he expected to be back in Prince Rupert in about three weeks' time. He had returned a report covering the local power situation which he had obtained from the superintendent of utilities while here.

KING EXPECTING TO GAIN EIGHT SEATS ONTARIO PROVINCE

OTTAWA, Aug. 24.—With the landslide in favor of Liberal policies and Liberal candidates growing more pronounced daily in the east, Mackenzie King is assured of a minimum gain of eight seats in Ontario, these gains being conceded even by Tory organizers. This would make 20 Liberal seats in ntario instead of 12 by Conservative reckoning, and those behind the Liberal organization declare that if they can get 20 seats they can as easily get 25.

In the Maritimes, another minimum gain of five Liberal seats is looked for, two in Nova Scotia, one in Prince Edward Island and two in New Brunswick, so that with 11 supporters from the Maritimes, 63 from Quebec, 20 from Ontario and more gains west of the Great Lakes the return of Mackenzie King to power will be assured.

PITTSBURG IS IN THE LEAD

Defeats St. Louis by Score of Ten to One.—Chicago Wins Double Header.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25. — Pittsburg returned to the top of the National League yesterday by subduing Brooklyn ten runs to one, while St. Louis was splitting a double header with Boston. St. Louis and Cincinnati are now tied for second place.

Chicago batted Philadelphia hard and won a double header. Hack Wilson scored his nineteenth homer of the season in the second game, while Catcher Hartnett knocked the ball over the fence twice in the second inning of the first game.

In the American League all games were stopped by rain except that between Washington and St. Louis.

BOWSER IS COMING HERE ON FRIDAY

Will Share Platform With J. C. Brady at Conservative Meeting That Evening

Hon. W. J. Bowser, former premier of British Columbia, will arrive in the city from Vancouver on Friday of this week and that evening will share the platform with J. C. Brady at a public meeting in support of the Conservative candidate's campaign in Skeena riding.

The Canadian Australian freighter Waiatopu arrived last night at Ocean Falls to load pulp and paper for Australia.

MEIGHEN AND HUDSON BAY

Pledges Himself to Complete Railway, But if Cost Too High, Will Go Slowly.

TALKS AMALGAMATION

Says Falsehoods Revamped To Steal Votes of Employees of Canadian National.

MELVILLE, Sask., Aug. 25.—Premier Meighen yesterday afternoon reviewed his pledge to complete the Hudson Bay Railway on the grounds that "we owe it to the settlers interested in that portion of our country. Having spent millions of dollars on it, we have to go on and finish it and give it a fair test," he added; "however, if we find it is going to take a colossal sum in the neighborhood of fifty million dollars, this country in its present shape just has to be patient because this country cannot afford that much money at the present time."

The premier declared that everywhere along the Canadian National line he found the untold falsehood revamped, warmed up again that "he intended to amalgamate the system with that of the Canadian Pacific, the idea being to steal the votes of the National employees, making them afraid for their position or seniority."

Regina Meeting

REGINA, Aug. 25.—Mr. Meighen's speech last night here followed the speeches of four other places earlier in the day. The premier spoke in passing of the war time elections act and turned particularly to statements made in this connection by Hon. C. A. Dunning. "I was a member of the government which passed the act," Mr. Meighen said, "and I always took my full share of responsibility, have done so before audiences in this city and will do so again."

Mr. Meighen received an enthusiastic greeting but there was a running fire of comment from the crowd. The meeting at one point halted for several minutes while one interrupter wanted to put questions.

The Premier declared it his intention to introduce a new soldiers settlers revaluation bill if returned. "There will be a judicial revaluation and not a political revaluation," he said.

BOMB EXPLODES IN SAVINGS BANK

Bomber and Special Policeman Killed and Others Were Injured.

PITTSBURG, Aug. 25.—An unidentified man of foreign appearance entered the Farmers' Deposit Savings Bank late yesterday and presented a demand for two thousand dollars to the teller with the threat: "I'll blow up the bank."

When the special policeman, George Ortmann, approached to arrest him the man placed a satchel on the floor and gave it a kick. A violent explosion followed, the bomber being instantly killed and Ortmann fatally injured while a score of persons in the bank received minor injuries.

The explosion created consternation in the business district, many patrons of the theatres rushing to the streets.

Useless Efforts of Some Politicians.

Some local politicians have been trying their best to discredit the Mackenzie King Government by making insinuations and innuendoes which cannot be backed up by statement of fact. They have been blaming the Government for building the Hudson Bay Railway, yet Mr. Meighen has also definitely promised to do the same work.

How futile it is for people to try to forward the interests of a party by that kind of talk. They just make themselves ridiculous in the eyes of thinking people.

How much better it would have been in this constituency if the Conservatives had acknowledged that Stork, having been the only representative who got anything worth while for the port, should have been sent back to Ottawa by acclamation. Even yet it is not too late. Seeing there is absolutely no hope of electing Brady, why not make our protest against past Conservative treatment emphatic and all back one man. Everyone knows he is the only person who can do the work effectively.

King Reigns in Eastern Canada.

A curious anomoly has arisen in the affairs of Canada. Mackenzie King, leader of the Government which recently resigned, again and again came out in favor of a strong western policy. He insisted that railway rates to the Pacific should be equalized with those going East and in many smaller matters he took the part of the west as against the east. Yet he is the idol of the east. The despatches yesterday told of how the people of Sherbrooke county refused to let him pass in his car without addressing them. So much was he delayed by the concourse of people at different points that he was three hours late in arriving at his destination.

Mackenzie King is not only King by name but reigns in the hearts of the people down there.

Curb the Power of Canadian Senate.

The Mackenzie King group, if sent back to administer the affairs of the country, as seems likely to happen, will curb the powers of the Canadian Senate. Their proposal is to bring it into line with the British House of Lords, which has had its claws trimmed on several occasions. It had to submit in order to save its own life.

If the country should happen to vote Conservative on the present occasion it would mean a setback of many years in the reform of the Upper House. By the way the old Senators are dying off it seems as if within a year or two Liberals, if returned now, will have a majority there pledged to reform. Should they be defeated now, however, the Senate will be filled with Tory Senators who will refuse for another decade or two to submit to any change in the constitution in this regard.

Any person wavering in regard to the matter of voting should consider this a good and proper reason for voting Liberal on the present occasion.

Big Majority for King is the Thing.

What is needed now is a big majority for Mackenzie King. Let us have stable government, but not of the Tory kind. We do not want Tory stability. What we want is a free government for a free people. We want no autocratic senate, no enroachments from the Governor, no rule of the wealthy. Give us today a real Canadian Government for a free Canadian people. Mackenzie King's grandfather fought for freedom and today we reap the benefit. His grandson is again entering the lists in the same sacred cause. It is ours to support him and elect a man who will back him up in his policies. The only man who is in sight who will do that is Fred Stork.

And said she was much in the wrong

I am inclined to think the Limerick editor was right in excluding the verse. It would hardly win a prize.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

August 25, 1916.

Pleased with the reception he received and confident that he will be re-elected in the approaching provincial election, Hon. William Manson returned today from a campaign tour on the Queen Charlotte Islands. Tonight an informal smoker will be given in his honor in the committee rooms next to the Bank of Montreal.

Due largely to the efforts of William Goldbloom who has advertised the place extensively, Prince Rupert is now becoming one of the most important fur marketing centres on the Pacific coast. Yesterday Mrs. Hyland of Telegraph Creek placed $11,000 worth of furs in the Hays Block.

Plans are now well under way for the approaching exhibition. In addition to a fine lot of exhibits, there will be many attractions including sports, fireworks, vaudeville, baseball and football and the usual Hard Times dance will wind up the event.

WOODSWORTH TELLS WHAT HE MEANT BY EDMONTON SPEECH

WINNIPEG, Aug. 25. — J. S. Woodsworth, Labor nominee for Winnipeg North Centre, who returned from the western provinces, in explanation of a statement he is reported to have made at a meeting in Edmonton, to the effect that the Liberal government had submitted proposed legislation to Wall Street before bringing it before parliament, said that he had been referring to international relationships. He had attempted to show that some people feared the dominance of Downing Street. "I was of the opinion the we were more likely in Canada to be dominated by Wall Street," he said.

At this particular meeting, Mr. Woodsworth stated that someone in the audience had asked him if the submission of legislation to the financier swas any worse than a man having to consult his bankers. "I replied, 'No, it is precisely the same thing,'" said Mr. Woodsworth. "That's the point I want to drive home—governments are not independent of national and international capitalists."

EFFORT MADE DISFRANCHISE MANY VOTERS

Edmonton Newspaper Tells of Wholesale Move to Strike Liberals Off List

The Edmonton Bulletin of recent date says: Disgraceful conditions under which the election machinery in East and West Edmonton is being handled, resulting in the disfranchising of hundreds of voters, many of whom have been resident in their ridings for from five to fifteen years, and in one case for more than 20 years, came to light Wednesday evening when Liberal committee rooms were rushed with old time residents and supporters who had received notice that they had been struck off the lists.

Hi-Jacking Work

The "hi-jacking" of the election lists has evidently been conducted in a wholesale manner and with an organized and systematic plan according to H. H. Parlee, K.C., Frank McMillan, J. D. O. Mothersill and other Liberal workers who were flooded with requests on Wednesday night by indignant voters who asked them to take legal action against the men who swore to the false affidavits by which they were taken off the lists.

Here is one case which came to the Blatchford campaign headquarters. Theo. George, merchant, who has conducted the Rustic confectionery at 9718 Jasper Avenue for the past 11 years and who has resided in the Rudyk block for the past three years, this block being just across the way from his store, has been illegally struck off the list on the grounds that he "was not qualified because he was not a resident of the electoral district on May 21, 1926."

An Example

"I've been in the district for over 11 years and I've been in the Rudyk block over three years. I never saw anyone regarding my name being left on the list and no one saw me. As far as I know I don't know the man who swore he knows I was not a resident on May 21, 1926," said George last night. "I was there, so he swore to a lie."

More in Mails

The man whose affidavit deprived him of his vote signed the declaration as John Camil Landry, and gave his occupation as a lawyer, and his address as the Alberta Hotel. He swore in the body of the affidavit that George is a machinist, and George says he never followed this occupation at any time.

Different Handwriting

Four different handwritings are shown on the face of the affidavit, and apparently the form was filled in wholesale at some office and the maker of the affidavit came along later and signed it. On the face of it the affidavit looks as if the parties making it out did not know who was to swear to it when it was being filled in.

All the affidavits turned into the Blatchford headquarters on Wednesday night are in the same handwriting as far as the body of the affidavit is concerned, but they have been sworn to by different men and before different registrars.

David Thomson, Fair manager, returned to the city on the Prince George this morning after a brief business trip to Vancouver on exhibition business.

Mrs. W. Beveridge, who has been on a vacation trip south for the past several weeks, returned to the city on the Prince George this morning.

Gus Spartos, the Greek wrestler, left today for Prince George and will be back in the city in the course of the next few days. It is expected that a match will be arranged for Spartos here during Fair Week.

V. E. Brown of Vancouver, representative of the American La France Co., manufacturers of fire fighting equipment, is a visitor in the city having arrived from the South on the Prince George this morning.

After an absence of three months during which time she visited her former home in Prince Edward Island and other parts of the East, Mrs R. Tupper of the Rupert Table Supply office staff returned to the city on the Prince George this morning.

D. C. Paterson, manager of the Bank of Montreal, and Mrs. Paterson returned to the city on the Prince George this morning after having spent a three weeks' holiday in Vancouver and Victoria. They were accompanied north by Mrs. Paterson's mother, Mrs. Davidson of Duncan, Vancouver Island, who will spend a week or so visiting with them here.

LARGE CROWD DANCES STRAINS OF VISITING CALGARY ORCHESTRA

A large crowd of young people turned out last night to enjoy a dance at the auditorium to the strains of the Imperial Rainbow orchestra of Calgary which is here for a day or two. There were something like 250 people present and they danced from nine to one. Many favorable comments on the music were heard. It is a five piece orchestra and it will play again at the same place to night.

BRANCH OF GRAHAM AVENUE GETS WATER

Report of Board of Works Was Adopted by City Council Last Night

To give water connection to Block 5, Section 2, where E. Tuiloch plans the erection of a residence, a report from the board of works that a one inch pipe line be installed at an estimated cost of $120 was adopted by the city council last night. The line will go along the branch road from Graham Avenue leading to the elevator. Ald. Brown felt that if a line was to be put in at all it should be larger than one-inch which was ineffectual in case of fire. Ald. Stephens expressed diffidence as to the city extending its mains to such lots when there were plenty of lots available right on the water lines. The fact that the street was graded, however, put the matter in a different light and the report was adopted with the understanding that a larger pipe than one-inch be put in if available.

CONSERVATIVE OBJECTION

Editor, Daily News:

In your editorial of yesterday's paper, you try to take a fall out of the local Conservative organ for not giving both sides of a question.

For the last two weeks you have given front page prominence to the publicly expressed views of a Conservative candidate in Edmonton. In order to back up your reputation for fairness which you claim for the Daily News, would you not like to give the publicly expressed views of a Liberal candidate in Edmonton, Ex-Mayor Blatchford. While he was mayor of that city he expressed identically the same views regarding the routing of grain that you have attributed to the Conservative.

Another example of Liberal friendship for Prince Rupert may be shown in ExMayor Harry Gale who is running in the Liberal interests in Kootenay. Mr. Gale, while he was mayor of Vancouver, referred to our Drydock as Prince Rupert's white elephant and advocated towing it to Vancouver. Evidently the Liberals are not such great friends as you, Mr. Editor would like the public to believe.

Apparently there is another joker in the Liberal party besides yourself. Mr. Gardiner, the Premier of Saskatchewan, said on the public platform, that those who were behind Meighen were not men. Considering that seven out of nine provinces gave Mr. Meighen's party a majority in the last election, there must be a great number who are not men; but perhaps it was just a joke. You yourself made a statement that anyone who voted Conservative should have their head examined, and then you said it was only a joke. The real point of the joke appears to have escaped you, and that is that no one takes the Daily News seriously, least of all the Editorial column. Thanking you for space, Mr. Editor, yours very truly,

G. HILL.

AUSTRALIAN CRICKET TEAM BEATS SOMERSET

TAUNTON, Aug. 25.—Australia defeated Somersetshire in a two-day game by a margin of 56 runs yesterday. The scores were for the first innings: Australia 225, Somerset 153, and for the second, Australia 197 for three wickets, and Somerset 245.

INQUIRIES AS TO COST OF POLICE

Request of Ald. Larsen That Statement be Given City to be Complied With

Ald. Larsen, at last night's council meeting, referred to a request he had previously made that accounts of the police department should be submitted for the information of the council.

Mayor Newton explained that the province was to draw on the city every three months for a quarter of the annual cost and that fines were turned in to the city treasurer from whom the government received its share of one third. Each month a statement was issued as to the fines collected and, in future, this statement would be submitted to the finance committee.

An Eggless Cake

Mrs. W., on Saturday, mixed up a devil's food cake. Her recipe calls for sour milk, but she used Pacific. It also requires eggs. In her hurry she forgot the eggs completely until she saw them on the workboard after the cake was in the oven. The result was so good she has decided that eggs are not necessary when she uses Pacific Milk.

COOK BADLY USED BY MEN

Barrage of Flour and Rotten Eggs Greets Secretary of Miners' Union

A special despatch to the Winnipeg Free Press from London, England, says: A. J. Cook, secretary to the Miners' Federation, was mobbed at the Chelmsford railway station Wednesday night. He was subjected to a barrage of flour and rotten eggs, but escaped unhurt, although one of his companions, R. B. Walker, of the Agricultural Workers' Union, had a tooth knocked out. Cook has always been disliked by the moderate element among the miners and he has now incurred the hostility of the extremists. All his promises as leader have been falsified and it will not be surprising if a demand is made for his resignation but it must be remembered that the majority of the members of the federation executive are in the same boat as Cook, and the miners are wonderfully loyal to their leaders.

Frank Hodges, who was Cook's predecessor as federation secretary, said Wednesday that there was nothing to show for fifteen weeks of struggle except the poverty and debt of the miners' families and the loss of the export markets and the disorganization of the national economic life. These words are only too true, and it will be some consolation, however, if the settlement is made for a long term, say three years. This will give the industry a chance to recover, and it will set an example of stability to other British trades. A miner member of the House of Commons predicted the other day that Cook would turn out to be a second Jim Thomas. He meant that Cook would switch from the left wing to the right wing, and that he would co-operate with the owners in trustifying the coal industry so that the community generally would have to pay higher prices for coal and thus make possible higher wages for the miners. Many of the young miners have recently enlisted in the army.

BACKS LABOR VERSUS SENATE

Mining and Industrial Record Declares House Has Degenerated

A staid institution which has been steadily degenerating is the Senate, and there is much to be said for the plank in the Labor party's platform which calls for its abolition, says the Mining and Industrial World.

As originally constituted this was designed to be a non-partisan Upper House, composed of men of little experience in State affairs.

It has degenerated through the constant appointment of men who had proven themselves poor members of the Lower House. During the last session one appointment was made of an ex-minister whom the Premier had found it necessary to remove from his cabinet. In the past appointments have been made of men whose conduct in executive positions had made it essential that they be removed. A Senate composed of men appointed for party service, failures in some instances, cannot be deemed a body fitted to hold authority, especially when such men are appointed for life to positions in which they are not answerable to anyone.

Active Interference

Added to this is the active interference in party politics, contrary to all intent of the British North America Act. There should not be Liberal and Conservative senators. Senators should not be in any cabinet. The Senate should function as does the Judiciary, untramelled by partyism, when it would command respect.

We have at least one glaring example in British Columbia of a Senator lowering himself to stand on a party platform and indulge in tirades of mud-slinging and innuendo, in the mistaken idea that he thereby helps his party.

The Senators themselves are responsible for the demand for Senate reform. The Senate can be reformed most easily from within by amending its rules and it has that remedy in its own hands.

TORIES SORRY TOOK OFFICE

Political Correspondent of Ottawa Citizen Sees Liberal Victory at Election

IS NOT GOING WELL

How it Was all Brought About is Described by Newspaperman at Headquarters

Conservatives throughout the country this year do not display the spirit that they did last fall. As a matter of fact, they are sorry they took office, says the Ottawa Citizen political correspondent. They feel that their chances would have been infinitely better if Mr. King, instead of Mr. Meighen, had been given dissolution. What, apparently, influenced their decision to seize the ship and attempt to navigate it was the assurance of the bolting Progressives that they could be relied on and the supposed readiness of other Progressives to co-operate. It was figured that the Western party would want to get through its legislation and there was open-faced trafficking to bring that about conditional upon Liberals being ousted. The Conservative majority in the Senate was prepared to pass the Campbell Grain Act although in doing so they would slaughter their friends of the Winnipeg grain trade. Likewise, the Rural Credits Bill would have gone through and the vote for the Hudson Bay Railway.

Met Waterloo

The plan worked well for a couple of days and then Liberals attacked the constitutionality of a prime minister carrying on without being in parliament himself or, what was more important, without a sworn-in-cabinet. The Alberta wing decided that they would sooner temporarily stand off the pending legislation than be parties to the contravention of all constitutional precedent. And so, two days after Mr. King resigned, Mr Meighen went down. Even then, had he followed the usual course, Mr. Meighen could have advised His Excellency to send for Mr. King and give him dissolution. But he didn't do so. His council of war advised that, being at the wheel, he should stay there and bring on the election with the rather questionable advantage of controlling the machinery. If any advantage really lies in such control, it now appears to be more than neutralized by the circumstances which have developed. The Liberals have been handed a very large issue and that it is taking hold is evident from the later tactics of the government party.

A Very Grave Error

These consist of imputing disloyalty to those who question the propriety of Mr. Meighen attempting to carry on government single-handed and outside of parliament. Conservatives now think a very grave error was committed and admit that it may cost them the election. The campaign has not gone at all well and it has been injured by the "breaks" that have occurred in unerring succession. A. J. Doucet and G. B. Nicholson divide honors for the booby prize.

The election campaigns are considered too long. An issue needs to be very deeply rooted to last for two months and a half. A supposed scandal is usually ephemeral in its effect, particularly when things happen to explode many of its vital features. The fiasco over the "Margaret" affair reacts on the whole business and instils in the public mind doubt as to whether any of the other charges are true.

Completey Disproved

The "log" of the Margaret recently produced at Quebec, but not yet made public, is known to completely disprove Doucet's allegations against Hon. Ernest Lapointe and to justify the admission of counsel before the commission that there was not an "atom" of evidence to support the charge. When the "log" is made public it will show that, even at Charlottetown, Mr. Lapointe simply went aboard the ship for a cup of tea. The little sail he took around the harbor was not on the vessel but on her launch. Government counsel knew what they were about when they admitted that Doucet's allegations, repeated all over the Maritimes from the prime minister's platform, was utterly devoid of fact.

The Fight of Fights

The fight of fights is in Center Vancouver between Stevens and Donaghy. A story came over the wires on Saturday about Liberals attempting to strike thousands of Conservative names off the list, but it is not clear how that could be done with Conservatives controlling the machinery and with the election now being only at the stage where names can be put on and not stricken off. The Liberal leader has also replied to Mr. Stevens' attack upon his grandfather who has been in his grave seventy-five years. The utterances of the minister of customs appear to indicate a peculiarly bad temper and are explained by some of his friends as due to his highly nervous condition. The condition is likely to be accentuated before Mr. Stevens gets through his fight in Center Vancouver.

Preachers of Virtue

In the hectic nights that featured the close of the session there were hints from the Liberal side that the Conservatives were not tactically placed to preach political virtue. "Don't fear," said Mr. Lucien Cannon at the time, "I am not going to mention any names," and he didn't, whereat some people seemed relieved. Speaking here Friday night, however, Mr. Cannon talked out. He recalled the cases of W. F. Garland, DeWitt Foster, Hon. J. D. Chaplin, J. K. Flemming, Hon. G. B. Jones and R. B. Hanson, al. Conservative members, who, with the exception of Mr. Hanson, he charged with being involved in war time scandals. Mr. Hanson has simply been debarred from the New Brunswick courts. Mr. Cannon's argument, which, doubtless will promptly be picked up by others, is that the Conservative party is in no position to preach purity when these men stand high in their councils.

The Winning Party

The political party that carries the West will be carried into office. There will be changes in the East but to the Liberal column. Conservatives last October reached the maximum. Liberals expect to win the Prairie provinces. In Manitoba there is only one three-cornered fight in prospect and that may be eliminated. In such seats as Selkirk, Springfield, Neepawa, Dauphin, Marquette, Souris, Provencher, Nelson, MacDonald, Lisgar and Brandon, fusion of Liberals and Progressives is complete. Of all things, the West stands for a moderate tariff, while Mr. Meighen is frankly for protection. It is considered to his credit that he goes out there and tells them so, but it is not calculated to heighten his chances. In Alberta, Liberals are supporting Jelliff and Speakman, Progressives, and it is doubtful if they oppose Gardiner, Spencer or Garland. Their own men—Hon. Charles Stewart, C. W. Cross, S. G. Tobin and Dr. Gershaw are considered safe while they expect to carry East Edmonton. From Saskatchewan, a message received Saturday stated that Liberals would carry eighteen seats and elect two Progressives—Miller and Evans—whom they are suporting. If the West is the deciding points, the West is apparently going Liberal.

SPORT CHAT

The sports and attractions committee of the Fair Board is to hold a meeting this week for the purpose of advancing arrangements for the sports program at the Fair, the opening of which is now less than three weeks hence. Present plans are to bring a baseball team from Ketchikan for a series here during the week, negotiations having been opened with that end in view. As for football, it is expected there will be no competition imported this year. Instead, it is being arranged to have the final for the Gilhuly Cup take place during the week.

President Adams of the Boston National Hockey League is determined to put a winner in the "Hub." He has been angling for the services of Western Canada League stars, and it is understood that he has purchased the services of Boucher of Vancouver, Briden of Calgary; Shore, the great Edmonton defenseman, and Frederickson and Oliver of Victoria. These players would make Boston a powerful factor in the race, but the Boston owners may have difficulty in getting them to report. The Western Canada League seems to have collapsed, and many of the players do not admit that their services can be sold. There may be a few interesting announcements in the next week or two. The option held on the Saskatoon team by Chicago interests has expired, and the Saskatoon owners may decide to sell their players to the highest bidders, in defiance of any ruling by the league head. The Chicago Club, which holds a franchise in the league, has been spending money lavishly, and has signed twenty players. In Detroit, however, the situation is different. One group has the franchise, and the other claims to have purchased the whole Victoria team.

DIRTY METHOD CAMPAIGNING

Ottawa Journalist Joints Out Kind of People Premier Meighen is With

(By R. J. Deachman)

A man is known by the company he keeps. During his Maritime campaign the Right Hon. Arthur Meighen had as his travelling companion and associate upon the public platform, one A. J. Doucet, late member of parliament for the constituency of Kent, New Brunswick. During the course of this series of meetings, Mr. Doucet explained every night, how the late Minister of Justice, Mr. Ernest Lapointe, and a number of boon companions, had travelled on a wild joy-ride on a government boat down the St. Lawrence during the past summer. Mr. Lapointe denied this statement, denied it dramatically, emphatically and caustically. Mr. Doucet still continued to repeat the story. He asserted that a Mr. Lapointe was on the boat and that he had no evidence that this was not the particular Lapointe in question.

Now, after that story had been told throughout the Maritime campaign—told by Mr. Doucet on the platform with Mr. Meighen, told with the consent of Mr. Meighen, an investigation was held, and there was not one single spect of evidence to show that a "joy-ride" took place, or that Mr. Lapointe was ever on the boat in connection with any such trip. Now, one might readily imagine that having trafficked in mud to that extent that Mr. Meighen would be satisfied, and that he would select with a great deal of discrimination the companions for his future political platform performances.

Enter "G. B."

However, Mr. Meighen entered Ontario. Doucet was now left behind. Instead of Mr. Doucet, the paragon of political purity, G. B. Nicholson was summoned to the aid of his distinguished leader. I have had the pleasure of watching from the Press Gallery te performances of parliament for an entire session. In my humble judgment, no single member of the House approaches, even remotely, G. B. Nicholson, in the capacity for demonstration of political ignoranec. His mind is dumb beyond power of words to express. He speaks with an utter regardlessness of consequence, with a contempt for fact that is amazing, with a dull and stupid unintelligence, which makes one wonder if he could add two and two together, even if there was a dollar sign in front of them.

Interest in the Rude

Speaking a few nights ago in the city of North Bay, on the platform of Mr. Meighen (don't forget that fact, it was on the platform with Mr. Meighen) Mr. Nicholson said :

"Do you want to endorse a condition in which one of the chief public buildings in Ottawa is practically turned into a bawdy house, and the keeper of that bawdy house is on the payroll of this country at $3,500 a year?"

The statement is a vile and villainous insult to those employed in the Civil Service of Ottawa. I know something of the class of men and women employed by the government in the different departments. I have had occasion with my newspaper work, in this city, to stick a pretty persistent nose into much of the work. I venture the assertion that there is not a finer body of men or women in the employ of any government or of any large corporation on the North American continent. They do a vast amount of earnest and conscientious work. They are just as painstaking in their attention to duty as any other class of people in the whole community; as for morals, they are certainly as good as the morals of G. B. Nicholson, and in that connection I am not casting any reflection upon the undistinguished gentleman, who occupied a position of honor on the platform with Mr. Meighen—and disgraced by his conduct the leader who tolerated him.

How Come.

But let us return to this remark of Mr. Nicholson. He states that in one of the chief public buildings at Ottawa, a highly paid government official is conducting a bawdy store. How did Nicholson develop such a marvellous intuitive insight into such things? How did it come about if this be true, that it escaped the prying eyes of a Stevens, the lofty moral standards of Sir George Perley, the nose for news of R. B. Bennett, the listening ears of Fred Davis, the member for East Calgary? Strange thing, it escaped all these men, and yet it came to the knowledge of Nicholson. He is the first man in all America to have discovered a bawdy house in a public building. I would never have given him credit for it. I have at times accused the member for East Algoma of wild lapses from the path of truth, I would never have accused him of turning a flippant eye to a rosy light. Still, you never can tell what strange passions surge in the breasts of men not apparently attuned to such springs of action.

Campaign Thoughts

The fact is that there is a deliberate attempt to carry on a dirty campaign of this kind. Doucet is the first sweet whisperer. Nicholson carries it on throughout the wilds of Northern Ontario. Davis fans the flames through Alberta. When a chance is given, as there was, with the alleged cruise of the Margaret, the lie can be nailed, definitely, clearly and distinctly. But that will not stop its circulation throughout the balance of the campaign. It will still be whispered in the back concessions. Nicholson's falsehood about the Civil Service will be answered, but the whisperings will go on, and there are some stories that cannot be answered, simply because there is no way in which you can bring the truth to bear. If the Premier of this country, Mr. Meighen, chooses to have that type of associate on the public platform then he sets the moral tone of the campaign. But he also establishes the level on which he himself must be judged. A man is known by the company he keeps. You cannot gather grapes from thorns, nor figs from thistles. And you cannot be so absolutely reckless in your disregard of the common decencies of political life and hope to escape the wrath to come.

Latest Things in London Fashions

At Parties Without Stockings; Fancy Dresses; Long Skirt Style and Shorter Skirts; Women in Parliament; Sunshades. Newest in Parasols

Bizarre parasols, novel in length, shape and color, have been brought out in Piccadilly and on the Strand in London this season as a result of the hot wave. Two women out of three are carrying sunshades this summer.

One parasol was shaped like a miniature bell tent, circular at the bottom and going into a long, pointed end at the ferule. The cover was of green silk, striped with orange, and the handle was extremely long—about three times the length of the parasol itself.

Another striking parasol was square with a deep rim around the edge from which hung a fringe. The handle was very short.

Snail Shell Hats

London women have gone to the gardens and hedgerows for something new in hat styles and have evolved a type for the "fall" which is almost an exact replica of the snail-shell.

The colors used in the make-up—green and gray—assist the illusion created by the snail-like swathing of the drapery.

The Neapolitan fisherman's hat often has been copied in knitted material for seaside wear but Bond Street milliners have appropriated the shape for their smartest felt creations and are producing it in many colors.

No Evening Stockings

Some of Mayfairs smartest women again adopted the "no-stocking" fashion for evening wear during the hot spell, but so well were various shades of powder used that it was difficult to detect whether they were or were not wearing stockings. Special shades of colored powder were artistically used to match the gowns worn, and some completed the illusion by having a faint line to simulate the seam of stocking painted down the back of the leg.

Society's Masked Styles

The Duchess of Sutherland's fancy dress ball was the gayest party of the London season. The King and Queen of Spain were much amused by a bull-fight, in which Prince Obolensky impersonated the bull and Michael Herbert and half a dozen other young men, were matadors and picadors.

Constance Talmadge and her husband, Captain Alistair Mackintosh, were dressed as Dutch boys. Lady Lavery was in the costume of a French revolutionary and Lady Cunard, who is also an American, wore a magnificent pink and mauve crinoline.

Lord Blandford created much merriment by his impersonation of a Lady Channel swimmer covered with medals. Lork Birkenhead was a sinister Captain Hook and his young daughter, Lady Eleanor Smith, was charming as Peter Pan.

Parliamentary Clothes

The Duchess of Atholl is the latest person to inauguarate a clothing reform in the British Lower House of Parliament. This she did when she appeared on the Treasury Bench attired in a summery dress and wielding—of all unheard of things—a fan. She achieved this distinction only by a matter of moments, however, for Lady Astor, who arrived soon after, also carried a fan.

Miss Ellen Wilkinson wore a white silk dress splashed with flaming yellow and green. Miss Susan Lawrence, the other woman member of the House of Commons, has consistenely observed the conventions.

Winston Churchill, who inaugurated the American style of appearing without his waistcoat, was so chaffed by his friends that he has put it back on again.

Vogue of Velvet

The vogue for velvet which marked the dances and gala performances that wound up the Paris season so brilliantly, is being continued at the smart casinos at Deauville, La Baule, Etretat, Le Touquet and Dinard. It also is being much used for hats and for delightful little coats intended to be worn over crepe, chiffon and organdy dresses.

Nifty Smoking Effect

Women smokers are recommended by A. G. B., one of the leading fashion magazines in France, to wear narrow stoles made of old-style braid or moire, embroidered and beaded with gold and much resembling the ritual ornament worn by the priest over his surplice. Or a narrow lame or metallised leather stole, well ornamented, can be adopted.

It can be fitted with little pockets for the cigarette case and lighter, the powder puff and rouge for the lips, and can of course be worn with everything, from evening dres to pyjamas.

Stylish Vest Comb

The handkerchief is not now allowed to peep out of the right hand pocket of a woman's dinner jacket. It has been replaced by a smart little comb, which may be red or green or blue, or tortoise-shell incrusted with rubies, emeralds or other precious stones. Its mission is to repress any rebellious lock of hair that threatens to disturb the harmony of the flat and shiny coiffure of the moment, a coiffure that must not show the slightest suspicion of a wave.

Long Evening Dresses

American women, blamed by their British sisters for having started the short skirt style, are now credited with helping put over the new fashion of ankle length evening dresses.

London dances held for the King and Queen of Spain brought out the newest in fashions and many young women noted for their taste in clothing were seen in the longer attires.

Among supporters of the new mode is Lady Diana Cooper, one of the fashion leaders.

New "Short" Creations

"Frocks of ten years ago cut in half" was the remark heard at a London mannequin parade. The show, attended by many fashionable American and English society women, produced the latest up-to-date creations of abbreviated length but containing more "feminity" than has been the case in recent months. The smart straight severe lines were camouflaged under lace used in various ways, while flounces, small but neat, were numerous. Many sashes with large bows at the back were worn on the frocks, which called forth the comment.

MORE SINGLE MEN THAN SPINSTERS IN THIS COUNTRY

TORONTO, Aug. 25.—Canada apparently has it all over the Old Country when it comes to opportunities for "spinsters." According to the latest issue of the Canadian Year Book there are a quarter of a million more single men in Canada than there are single women. In all Canada there are two and a half million single men and two and a quarter million single women. These 250,000 bachelors sound good to the women in the Old Country, where they outnumber the single men by a big majority.

There are one and a half million each of married men and women and 119,000 widowers and 236,000 widows. There are 117,000 more widows than there are widowers, so, of course, the "spinsters" will have them to contend with. But there are also the widowers, so chances are fairly even. There were also 36,000 divorced men in Canada in 1925 and 37,000 divorced women.

THREE MINES LOOK LIKELY

Kitsault River Properties Showing Much Promise Under Recent Development.

The LeRoy and Silver Cord properties, situated on the northeast fork of the Kitsault River, and the Eagle near the LaRose, which are being developed by the Kitsault Eagle Mines Ltd., of Vancouver, promise to become real producing mines in the near future, says the Alice Arm Herald.

W. S. Bacon, mining engineer, who recently examined the three properties, took out a large number of ore samples for assaying. The samples from the LeRoy gave returns of 104 ozs. silver per ton. The vein from which these samples were taken is about 4 feet wide and has been traced on the surface for about 1500 feet, states A. McGuire, who is in charge of operations. Several other veins are located on the property which should eventually develop a big tonnage.

Silver Cord Returns

Samples taken by Mr. Bacon from the Silver Cord gave returns of from 816 to 845 in gold and silver. The vein on this property is about 50 feet wide and has been traced on the surface 3000 feet.

Present work on the LeRoy consists of driving surface cross-cuts on the ore body, in order to obtain an idea of its persistency, and to gain definite knowledge as to the location of a tunnel when underground work commences. It is expected that work will be continued until the snow flies.

The Eagle, near the LaRose, is also being developed by surface cross-cuts driven on the ore body. The chief ore showing comprises a vein about 30 feet wide, and which has been traced for over four claim lengths. It is probable that a tunnel will be commenced later in the year, after extensive surface work has been carried out.

Lower Grade

At present, the ore on the Eagle does not carry such high values as the LeRoy or Silver Cord, but underground work will probably result in finding high grade ore that exists on many properties in this section.

All three properties are being surveyed and will be crown granted.

G. W. McMorris, managing director of the Kitsault Eagle Mines Ltd., will arrive from Vancouver about August 26, to make an examination of the properties and lay out plans for future work.

Development work is being done in a systematic manner, and it is the policy of the company to maintain a sane development programme. They are confident that the properties warrant extensive development, which, continued along present lines, will ultimately bring into the producing class three more mining properties in the Alice Arm district.

GASOLINE CAUSED DEATH

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—Cleaning an iron bedstead with a cloth saturated with gasoluine, Mme. Arthur Gauthier died from burns received. The fluid was in a shallow dish, and as she dipped the cloth fell on the bodice and sleeves of her dress. The room was dark and she used a candle so that she could see the corners and crannies.

SHAKEUP IN THE DEPARTMENT OF UTILITIES SUGGESTED FOLLOWING REPORT TO COUNCIL LAST NIGHT.

in the power house. This was only one instance proving that a showdown as far as the staff was concerned was needed. Officials had lied to the council and even the newspapers had given false reports. What had been called slides and washouts were really blowouts in the line due to the neglect of the line. In view of all the circumstances, Ald. Perry announced that he intended at the next meeting of the council bringing in a motion providing for a change.

Defends Staff

Defending the power house staff, Ald. Brown said he was present at the time and Ald. Perry had been told that part of the valve was going to be sent to the dry dock—not that it was already there.

Ald. Perry insisted that he had been told the valve was at the dry dock.

Ald. Brown stated further that the superintendent had been paring down expenses as he had been instructed to do and he should not be condemned for that. The first break in the line last year had been caused by a tree falling on the line. The second break might have been a blowout.

Ald. Perry insisted that the first break was a blowout. The officials were "not faithful and had lied to us." It was time the city got somebody who was responsible.

Serious Situation

Mayor Newton told of events leading up to the inspection of the line by the engineer and the superintendent. It had been Ald. Perry who had first brought the seriousness of the matter to the attention of the committee. To finance the work $1,700 could be obtained from the estimate of the city engineer's administration, there was the utilities estimate of $1,800 for maintenance and $1,500 additional would be needed.

Discussion followed as to who should be held responsible for the pipe line and the work to be done on it. Ald. Perry said his notice of motion would take care of all that but, in view of the notice of motion not coming up for a week, other aldermen were not satisfied. Ald. Perry insisted that the city engineer should be in charge of the work and, addressing the members of the utilities committee, said if they had taken care of their jobs the matter would never have come up. "You lied down on your job," he accused.

Report Adopted

Adoption of the report was moved by Ald. Stephens and seconded by Ald. Perry and carried, it being understood that the work would be under the direction of the city engineer in co-operation with the utilities department.

Raymond Griffiths in

"HAND'S UP"

His high hat highness again hits the heights of hilarity. A spectacular super-comedy of Civil War times in which Raymond puts the merry in America. He had a spy job and wanted to win the war single-handed, so he fell in love with two girls at one time. He didn't mind Cupid's arrows, but when it came to Indian arrows——! Come and laugh at him hob-nobbing with Lincoln and Lee, dodging Indians, and making love to pretty girls. Lincoln frees the slaves in "Hands Up;" Griffith frees the laughs. Strong cast.
