U.S. PARTIES HAVE TROUBLES

ANOTHER SMITH-McADOO BATTLE FORECAST IN 1928-WET AND DRY ISSUE TO BE PRE-DOMINANT

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 9 .- William G. McAdoo and his friends have no intention of beating a retreat and refusing to face Governor "Al" Smith of New York and his backers in the fight over the Democratic nomination for president in 1928. This is the information that is reaching Washington, despite an impression in some quarters that Governor Smith is the dominant factor in his party and will capture the nomination.

McAdoo, it is generally felt, is not as strong with his party as in 1924. Nevertheless, those in touch with him declare he is full of fight, and is determined to make war on Smith to the

But that is not all. McAdoo and the men supporting him intend to force the dry issue on the Democratic party inasmuch as Smith is pressing the wet issue. They make no concealment of their plans. ALL WOODS CAN BE USED NOW.

Woods which few years ago were regarded as useless for that purpose are now being successfully utilized in the manufacture of pulp in British Columbia pulp and paper plants.

Several of the large pulp manufacturing concerns of the coast have been experimenting with new woods for some years, and the tests in the majority of cases have been surprisingly satisfactory to chemists and engineers in charge of the work.

According to some pulp experts, it will be possible in a few years to use large quantities of fir and cedar in the manufacture of pulpwood. Hemlock, spruce, and balsam are now being used principally, but the range of species usable is steadily being widened as a result of the experiments.

If fir and cedar can be used for the manufacture of pulp on a practicable basis, it will mark an important step in the industry WESTERN BRANCH because these species are obtainable in greater volume and much more easily than those that are at present being utilized. Every year the pulpwood logging contractors are forced to go further afield for their supplies of raw material.

Cottonwood and poplar, which grow extensively in the northern interior regions of the province, may be used in the event of a pulp mill being established near Prince George or Prince Rupert. Such projects are now said to be live issues, likely to materialize during the next few months.

CHURCHES SHOULD FIGHT BOLSHEVISM.

Bolshevism and Communism are being taught in the foreign sections of Winnipeg, and the people of European nationalities are accepting the teachings because they are not given the opportunity of learning Canadian ideals, states Mayor R. H. Webb, of Winnipeg.

According to Mayor Webb, this is the greatest problem confronting the city and presented a menace which should particularly making such rapid progress that, with arouse the churches to action. He declared that the money being spent in foreign mission work would be much better devoted to remedying local conditions.

The mayor stated that foreign born of Winnipeg wanted to become Canadians and to be treated as loyal subjects. He believed that great strides would be made in relieving the problem, if the churches put aside their "petty jealousies."

COMPLIMENT IS PAID TO CANADA.

Canadians will not fail to recognize the compliment which has been paid to Canada by the United States in the appointment of Mr. William Phillips as the first minister to represent the neighboring republic in this Dominino. It is probably unique in the annals of the diplomatic service for a high official of such a great country as the United States to exchange the position of Ambassador at one ft reign capital for the lower rank of minister at another.

Recognizing, as it so clearly does, the necessity of selecting is to asist new concerns to find the the best possible man, the Washington government invited Mr. Phillips to consider a transfer from Brussels to Ottawa, without any obligation to accept, and he has decided to come to Canada. The State Department declared officially that he had taken this course because he realized "the importance of the position and the great" further service he can render to his government."

With Mr. Massey in Washington to relieve the British Ambassador of those many details of purely Canadian concern, and Mr. have enjoyed expansion and are now Phillips in Ottawa to attend solely to those questions in which the on a firm commercial footing two countries are directly and exclusively involved, it can be predicted that a new era in the economic and social relationship between Canada and the United States is about to dawn—with considerable benefit to both.

Numerous complimentary references were made by British statesmen and by the British press on the happy choice which Canada made in Mr. Massey. No doubt their recognition of the compliment which the United States now has paid to Canada, in sending so able a man to Ottawa as Mr. Phillips, will be none the less hearty.

COAST PORTS

DEVELOP TRADE RELATIONS FOR BRITISH COLUMBIA ONE OF MAIN OBJECTS OF VIC-TORIA MEETING

WILL URGE UNITY

Coast convenes in Victoria next summer it is hoped to have representatives of the principal British Dominions pre-

The chief program before the convention will be the development of trade relations between the seaports of the Pacific ports of Canada and the United States and those of the Far East and Australasia. The question of co-operation among the various ports of the coast will also be dealt with. It is expected that from 1,000 to 1,-500 delegates will attend the sessions. The entire coast being represented by financial and commercial leaders.

According to William A. Pigott, of Seattle, president of the Foreign Trade Council, the slogan of this year's convention will be Pacific, Coast trade unity for world trade expansion.

"Men engaged in the same line of business were competitors to the extent of almost being enemies a few years ago, "said Mr. Pigott, in describing the aims of the convention. "Nowadays business men solve their problems together. Their problems of production and marketing are adjusted by men engaged in the same lines of endeavor in an effort to avoid duplication. uniformity of practices and equitable considerations are continually being held in all lines of industry in the United States and Canada and by dedevelopment of international co-opertion we are bringing about business expansion that knows no border and no restrictions. The vast and growing trade between Canada and the United States is striking proof of the value of such friendly relationship, and an unanswerable argument for the spirit of co-operation in developing trade."

INDUSTRY DEP'T.

C.N.R. PLANS EXTENSION OF ITS ACTIVITIES ALONG THIS LINE

WINNIPEG, Feb. 9 .- The extension of the activities of the industrial department of the Canadian National Railways to the lines of the western region forshadowed by William Phillips, manager of the department, who has arrived in Winnipeg from Montreal Mr. Phillips, who is staying at the Fort Garry Hotel, stated that the industrial development of western Canada a view to assisting, the Canadian National Railways have decided to establish an office in Winnipeg to supervise industrial development and to enourage the establishment of new industries throughout the west. The appointment of a commissioner to take charge of this work will be announced

Commissioners of industry, employed by the company, are already located in Toronto and Montreal where they have been co-operating with industrial or ganiaztions, boards of trade, chambers of Commerce and other agencies seeking to establish industry on a soun commence operations in Canada.

The soundness of this policy has been demonstrated during the past three years by the fact that where the department has been active in eastern Canada many new industries have been located so advantageously that the majority of them

When food must satisfy and "stand by" you

Most people have to do more than two-thirds of their most important work in the forenoon. To supply this energy, they need a breakfast that satisfies and will "stand by" them throughout the morning.

That is why health authorities urge good breakfasts—why the matchless flavour of Quaker Oats makes it the breakfast of millions of people. Its delicious taste awakens lazy appetites and thus promotes easy digestion. Its bulk and tender bran assist in the assimilation of other food and aid in one of nature's most important functions.

Quaker Oats is the most perfect of all cereal foods. It supplies the elements which build tissue and give energy, as well as the important vitamines and mineral salts. It contains 16% protein and 65% carbohydrates.

For better mornings, have Quaker Oats for breakfast. No other is "just as good", for no other has 50 years' experience in grain selection and milling behind it. See that the picture of the friendly Quaker is on the package.

NEW MOTIVE METHOD REVOLUTION-IZING INDUSTRY IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

VANCOUVER, B.C., Feb. 9,-The logbeing revolutionized by gas motive power which is rapidly replacing the logging engine and horse.

On the Pacific Coast, in the days before the gas engine, little hauling was done by truck. There were several reasons. Trucks, in order to hold the mighty tree trunks, had to be of such solid construction that even when empty one of them was a pretty good load for a team of horses. Good hauling roads were scarce, and, as it took more than one team to haul a log load, truck loading was costly. It was a good deal easier and less expensive to build skid roads, grease them well and drag logs along them in "turns" that is, a dozen or so coupled end to end in a single line.

East of the Cascade mountains and in the pine country generally wagon and truck played a greater part in the transportation problem of the woods. This was owing to the trees being smaller, the logs being shorter and weighing less. But even there most of the hauling was done in winter by sled when snow covered the ground. When gas trucks appeared, experiments were made with a view to fitting them into the log haul problem, both over paved and unpaved roads. The result has been a type of truck especially suited to this kind of work. Now truck logging is a recognized and extensive branch of the logging industry. By the help of gas logging trucks operators of small means have been able to log off isolated patches of timebr owned by farmers or other private individuals that otherwise would not have been considered as lumber factors, and find a profitable market

Logging authorities believe that in steamer Camosun, near Namu, south- future gas trucks will do much of the logging that is now done by loco-DEAD TREE POINT .- Barometer, 30 .- motives. As lands are to be logged grow more rugged and precipitous through the march of the logging camps towards the mountains in search of stumpage, railroad building grows more expensive and difficult. The temptation will always be to use the rough roads and motor trucks rather than build railroads and operate costly

MIGRATION OF BIRDS IS UNSOLVED RIDDLE

Larger Ones Fly by Day While Smaller Wing Their Way by Night

WASHINGTON, D.C., Feb. 8 .- The annual migrations of birds remain unsolved by scientists who have been studying these meanderings for 200

The basic reasons for the movements and the cause of the varying lengths of the journeys have never been definitely ascertained, Dr. Alexander Wedmore, president of the American Ornithologists Union, said recently. He has just completed an extensive study of bird migrations from many vantage points in the western hemisphere.

Large birds, such as cranes, ducks. geese, loons and hawks, fly by day, Dr. Wetmore said, while smaller birds like warblers and sparrows, fly by night. The smaller birds have to obtain their food during the day, while fasting for a day is no hardship for the larger onec. The birds fly at an average altitude of 3,000 feet although some attain an altitude of 29,000 feet. Small birds, he said, fly at from 20 to 37 miles an hour, the large from 42 to 59 miles.

Exhibition Association Has Enthusiastic Meeting; Board Elected to Carry on Affairs

At a largely attended meeting held last night in the council chamber of the city hall the Northern B.C. Agricultural and Industrial Association decided to carry on the Prince Rupert Exhibition and elected Olof Hanson, Frank Dibb, Ben Self, S. E. Parker, Joe Brown, Bert Morgan, W. D. The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare--should make a habit of reading the ads.

Last night saw some postponed games in the men's whist league played, bringing the schedule up to date. The Moose have firmly established themselves in first place with three teams vicing for the second position. Interest in the remaining games of the schedule be keen as all the teams have four games yet to play.

Interest in the billiard league has somewhat revived recently due in part to the two wins of the Moose over the Terminals and the Gyros. Nine games remain to be played extending over five weeks so that anything might happen before the end of the schedule.
