WESTERN MAN GIVEN TORY MANTLE

CHOICE MARKED WITH SCENES OF GREAT ENTHUSIASM

Hon. R. B. Bennett Chosen Leader of Dominion Conservatives at the Winnipeg Convention Last Night

WINNIPEG, October 13.—Amid scenes of excitement and enthusiasm, the mantle of the Conservative party of Canada for its Dominion leader fell upon Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., of Calgary, former minister of justice and later minister of finance in the regime of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen as Premier of Canada. Though six candidates were in the race—those besides Mr. Bennett being Hugh Guthrie, Hon. Robert Rogers, Sir Henry Drayton, Hon. Dr. R. M. Manion and C. H. Cahoon—it was soon apparent that Bennett was to be the logical choice. Finally, Bennett's support, which was practically unanimous from the prairies, British Columbia and the Maritimes with Ontario an even break, carried the day for the Calgary aspirant who thus received the highest honor in the power of his party to bestow—firstly, the leadership and eventually, perhaps, the premiership of Canada.

The choice and the enthusiasm attending apparently healed, for the time being at least, the discord that prevailed during the early hours of the big convention.

Richest of all the candidates for the position, Mr. Bennett's fortune is variously estimated at from one to five million. A powerful speaker, the new leader, it is said, will really lead. He is strong for everything British and for the National policy as set forth by his great predecessor, Sir John A. Macdonald.

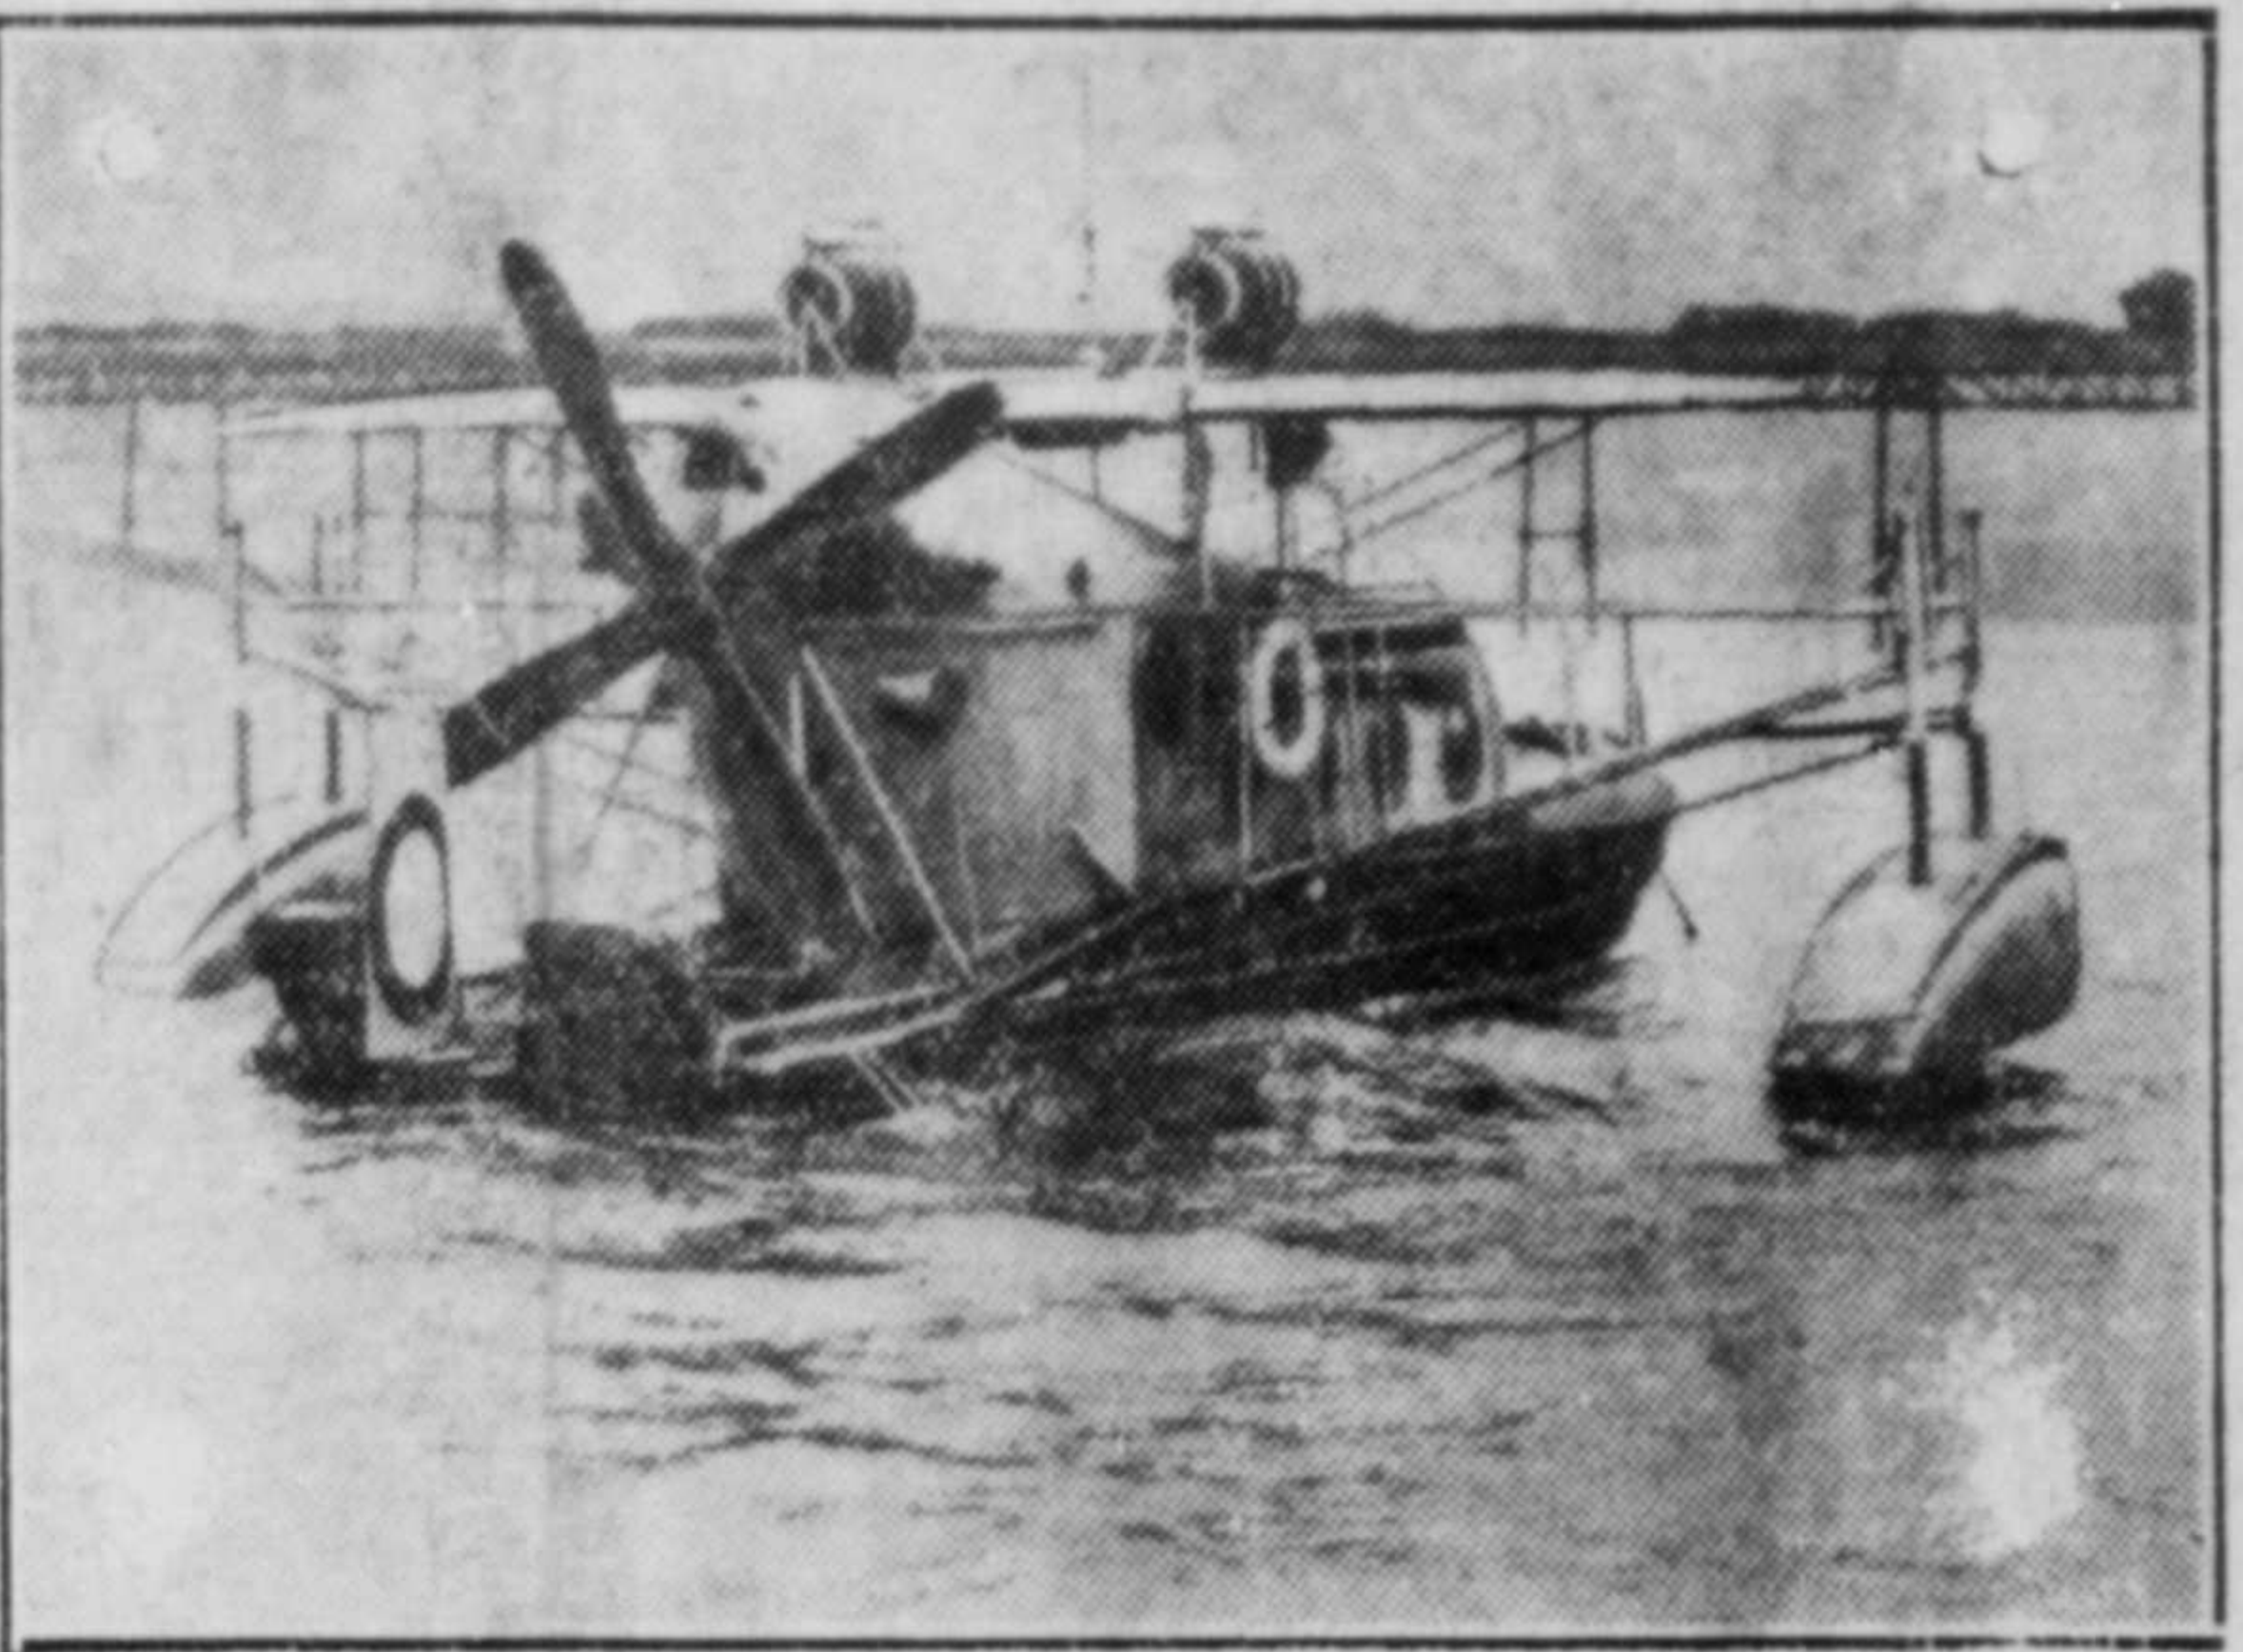

He was just Dick Bennett when he left the old home in Hopewell, N.E. In that village he first saw the light of day some 57 years ago. Proceeding, after preliminary educational steps, to Dalhousie University, he came back to New Brunswick to study law with his preceptor, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, and was called to the bar in 1894. Before the bench of New Brunswick he practised with good effect; finding time meanwhile to take an interest in municipal politics, being for a year or so a member of the first town council of Chatham, N.B. But in 1897 he heard the call of the West and by 1898 he was found a member of the firm of Loughheed and Bennett in Calgary and a member of the legislature of the North-West Territories.

GIANT METEOR FELL SIBERIA

Estimated to Have Weighed Nearly Half Million Tons

WASHINGTON, D.C., Oct. 13.—Scientists here said that the site of the fallen meteor, estimated to have weighed nearly half a million tons, stretches a mile in diameter in an almost inaccessible section of a marshy forest. Falling in pieces, the heavenly body pitted the ground with deep funnels from 50 to 100 feet wide and scorched tree trunks all over the area.

The Soviet Union Information Bureau made the discovery, is planning to extract the meteoric fragments, believed to consist of iron, nickel and platinum, and to photograph the terrain from airplanes.

Prominent Visitor from Yukon Tells of Mining Operations in That Part, Especially Mayo

Marked Activity in Silver-Lead Production and Gold Dredging Makes Dawson Better Than in Past Ten Years

Among the visitors in Prince Rupert today is C. R. Settlemier, for years editor of the Dawson News, in which he still holds an interest, now engaged in mining in the new Yukon quartz camp in Mayo Mining District, Yukon Territory, with headquarters at Keno City. He is enroute south for the winter and stopped off at Rupert to visit a number of old-time Yukoners who are located here, and took a run for a week up Portland Canal, where he visited the Premier and other mines of the vicinity, and also took in the Granby Smelter at Anyox. He reports a remarkable spirit of optimism prevalent in the Portland canal district, and the belief among all residents of that locality that the country is on the verge of an era of great and substantial development. Mr. Settlemier was much impressed with the showings on various properties he visited, and believes that the mineral belt of that district will be one of the greatest producers of mineral wealth on the coast. Speaking of the situation today in the Yukon, Mr. Settlemier says:

"The Yukon just now is experiencing marked activity in lode mining in the Mayo Mining district, where silver-lead ores predominate, and in development of copper properties adjacent to Whitehorse southern Yukon, and in gold dredging in the old Klondike district in the vicinity of Dawson.

"In the Whitehorse district, the Richmond Yukon Company, backed by Spokane capital, has taken over the old Byron White interests, including the Carlisle, the Tamarack and the Pueblo, and have an option on the War Eagle. A diamond drill is being used in prospecting, with Thos. Kerruish in charge, and it was understood when I visited Whitehorse recently that the tests were highly satisfactory, with indications of the ore continuing at depth and giving every promise of warranting installation of mills. Several other copper properties of the locality are expected to be similarly exploited shortly, while in the Wheaton and other southern Yukon localities quartz properties of promise are being prospected with promise of becoming producers of an appreciable tonnage.

GENERAL GOMEZ BADLY BEATEN BEING HUNTED

Military Revolt in Mexico Crushed and President Calles Master of Situation

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 13.—With the same drastic swiftness with which it started, the military revolt in Mexico has been crushed, leaving the government of President Calles, absolute master of the situation in the country and General Obregon as the only presidential candidate in the field to succeed Calles.

Disastrously defeated in a pitched battle in the hills of western Vera Cruz, Generals Gomez and Hector Almandares are being hunted by the victorious federal troops.

"This is the end," was Calles' jubilant statement upon receiving news of the victory. The triumph, it was reported here, came after a six hour battle ending in the capture of 600 rebels, the killing of 50 and the wounding of 100.

Fishing on Queen Charlottes Improved Toward End of Season and Pack Better Than Expected

Queen Charlotte Island canneries made good on the last week of fishing according to reports reaching the city on the steamer Prince John yesterday afternoon.

During the last week, the Langara Fishing & Packing Co.'s cannery at Massett almost recouped itself from the first of the season shortage and brought its pack for the year up to 25,000 cases.

Just before the end, the B.C. Fishing & Packing Co.'s cannery at South Bay also did well, its season's pack being now placed at 36,000 cases. Alford Bay was lower with 14,000 cases.

Fishing on the Queen Charlotte Islands, like all points on the coast, is now closed down for the season.

YUKONERS WHO PROBABLY LOST

Newspaperman in City Tells of People Who Are Reported Week Overdue

Old-time Yukoners of Prince Rupert and vicinity are much interested in the telegraphic report appearing in the News last evening to the effect that three well-known people of that territory are a week overdue in a trip from Stewart City to Dawson and are feared lost in the Yukon River. They are Dr. J. O. Lachapelle, of Dawson; John Timken, of Stewart City; and Miss Bessie Ray, of Keno City. C. R. Settlemier, old-time Dawson newspaper man, now mining at Keno City, who arrived at Rupert recently from the north and is leaving tonight for Vancouver on a trip to the south for the winter, referring to the report, says:

"I had started to run in the Yukon River about the time that Dr. Lachapelle and party left Stewart City for Dawson, and it is feared they found difficulty travelling in a small boat because of drifting ice or ran on a shoal in some blind slough or riffle and were drowned. No doubt the mounted police, who are very diligent in looking up lost parties in the Yukon, are making a search for the missing parties, and if any trace is obtainable of them the police surely will find same.

"Dr. Lachapelle is an experienced hunter and boat man, and was on his annual fall hunt up the river and returning home. The doctor is a pioneer of Yukon of the vintage of 1898, for many years prominent in the life of the country both as a physician and member of the local legislature, known as the Yukon Council, and physician to the various branches of the government service. He is past grand president of the Yukon Order of Pioneers, past president of the Dawson Aerie of Eagles, No. 50; and member of other organizations in Dawson, and one of the leading factors in the Conservative party of the Yukon. He is survived by a widow and a little daughter, Joy, seven years of age, now in Victoria, B.C. Dr. Lachapelle came originally from Quebec.

"Mr. Timken is an old-time Yukoner, long resident at Stewart City and vicinity. Miss Ray has made her home in Keno City, the new quartz camp of the Yukon, for several years, and hails originally from Oregon, where her fam-

INJURED BOYS DOING NICELY IN HOSPITAL

Fisher is the more seriously injured of the two.

The cars involved in the accident were a delivery wagon of the Seventh Avenue East Meat Market, driven by Ernest Yager, and a 34 Taxi car, driven by L. C. Rogers.

DETAILS COME OF DROWNING

Father of Jack Martin Writes of Tragedy to Local Collector of Customs

Further particulars of the drowning last Sunday evening in Massett Inlet of Jack Martin, deputy customs officer, are available in a letter received by J. H. McLeod, local collector of customs, from James Martin, father of the unfortunate youth.

Young Martin, who was only 18 years of age and the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin, the latter of whom is prostrated with grief as a result of the tragedy, had come down Massett Inlet aboard the steamer H. W. Baxter from Ferguson Bay. The vessel was anchored about one mile above Massett waiting for the tide to rise in order to pass over the bar. When Edenshaw's launch arrived on the scene to take Martin off and home to Massett it was dark. Martin started down the ladder on the ship's side and somehow slipped his hold, missing the launch and plunging into the water. He was swept away in an instant between the launch and ship. As he did not come to the surface again, it is assumed that he must have struck his head.

Young Jack Martin was well known and very popular about Massett where he had lived practically all his life. He was loved by everyone and even the Indians are mourning his loss.

A dozen or more boats are attempting to recover the body.

QUEEN CHARLOTTE CITY SAWMILL MAY REOPEN

Negotiations Under Way for Purchase of Plant Which is in Hands of Receivers

The rumored possibility that the sawmill at Queen Charlotte City, formerly operated by the Sitka Spruce Mills Ltd., may be reopened, is confirmed by H. R. Sereth, one of the principals of the old Southern Alberta Lumber Co. Mr. Sereth stated this morning that, while the mill was still in the hands of the receivers, negotiations were under way for a sale which would result in the plant resuming operations.

Mr. Sereth, who arrived from Queen Charlotte City yesterday afternoon, will sail tonight on the Prince George for Seattle.

VANCOUVER DREDGE FOR WRANGELL NARROWS NOW

Two Tugs Safely Delivered Unwieldily Tow to Ketchikan From South

Word was received today that the tugs Prospective, No. 1 and Prospective reached Ketchikan safely yesterday having in tow the Vancouver dredge Burford No. 2 which will be employed in the dredging of Wrangell Narrows. The dredge formerly used in the work has broken down.

Frank Morris, manager of the B.C. Undertakers, has returned to the city from Terrace where he went to take charge of the funeral of the late Miss Florence Vaaderlip.

DAGSON GOLD MINING

"Dawson is more active this year than for the last ten years. The Yukon Gold dredged out some sixty or seventy miles of the richest gold creeks with a fleet of gold dredges, operating chiefly in Bonanza, Hunker, Eldorado and Gold Run. They also washed down many miles of the richest bench gravels along Bonanza and turned over a yard-are rivaling that handled in the construction of the Panama canal, contributing many millions of dollars to the world's gold yield. A fleet of large modern dredges, including some of the largest in the world, also dredged many miles of the Kyondike valley, Dominion Creek and Hunter Creek under the indomitable enterprise of the late Col. Joe Boyle, and his successors, known as the New Northwest Corporation, and allied subsidiaries. These properties and others, including Sulphur Creek, Quartz Creek, and remaining unworked portions of the Klondike valley, Dominion Creek and Gold Run, have been taken over by a new company, backed by English capital, organized by A. N. C. Treadgold, who years ago was instrumental in bringing the Yukon Gold Company into the field. Mr. Treadgold has succeeded in getting additional millions of capital for the new work, and this year inaugurated the new work on a large scale, employing all available men in the camp, and extending a power line to Quartz Creek and putting to work three huge dredges on the Klondike valley, two on Dominion creek and a new style of gold diggers on other creeks. He hopes to continue operations for years.

MAYO SILVER LEAD

The Mayo Mining district has brought the Yukon into the silver-lead production column in recent years. The center of the district lies about 200 miles easterly from Dawson and is reached by ascending the Stewart River to Mayo Landing, whence it is 40 miles by first class automobile road to Keno City, the center of the producing belt. Ore from the camp is hauled from the hills by horses to the maff road, thence by ten-ton caterpillars and motor cars to Mayo Landing, thence by steamer down the Stewart to Stewart City, and from there by up-river steamers to Whitehorse, and across the White Pass (continued on page four)

JOHN IN AFTER ROUGH PASSAGE

C. N. R. Vessel, From Islands, Brought Bumper List of Passengers and Freight Cargo Yesterday

With a bumper passenger list numbering some 125 persons and including all kinds and conditions of folk from the most humble Oriental cannery hand, of which there are plenty, to millionaires and opera singers, C.N.R. steamer Prince John, Capt. E. Mabbs, arrived in port at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon from Vancouver via the Queen Charlotte Islands completing a passage which the master of the vessel stated was about as rough as he had ever experienced on the run. The equinoctial gales of Tuesday and Wednesday morning made things particularly uncomfortable in spots on Heate Straits and, on the whole, it was a happy bunch of passengers who, amid considerable tumult and excitement, were able to disembark at Prince Rupert which looked like a pretty good port after the storm. The John also brought a heavy freight cargo, principal items of which were 7,000 cases of canned salmon and 300 boxes of mild cured fish, all of which was loaded at Queen Charlotte Island points and is being discharged for shipment south on other vessels.

Tonight at 8 o'clock, the Prince John will return south via the same route. At various points on the Islands, she has further large bookings of freight and passengers to pick up and, on reaching Vancouver at the end of the southbound voyage, will be quite as crowded a ship as she was when she arrived here yesterday.

DID MEIGHEN KILL FERGUSON?

Before the Conservative convention opened it looked as if an effort would be made to force the leadership of the party on Premier Ferguson of Ontario. Not wishing to see him elected and seeing no other way to prevent it, Hon. Arthur Meighen waved a red flag at him and the bull charged. He brought out his old Hamilton speech and dangled it once more before the eyes of the fighting section of the party. Ferguson was at once on his feet to oppose it and in that opposition went his chances of ever being leader of the Conservative party in Canada. Perhaps he did not want it, but if he did, he lost it right then when Meighen took a rise out of him. It was clearly seen that Meighen had many supporters at the convention and a leader would have to be one who was clear of all such sectional squabbles.

The difficulty with newspapers is that they usually have more bad than good on the front page.

VANCOUVER PAPERS ON JUDGES

Both the Vancouver Province and the Sun commented on the recent display of puerility among the judges. The Province goes into it at some length closing with the following couple of paragraphs:

"But it is now most painfully evident that the time has come in British Columbia when public opinion must assert itself in respect to our courts and judges. The unhappy relations which this incident reveals between our two highest courts may come as a disagreeable shock to most of our citizens. Unfortunately, those relations have long been notorious among all the persons who have frequent business in our courts. If this were merely a personal quarrel between certain of our judges, it would be bad enough. But it is worse than that. Who doubts that it must affect the administration of justice? It is a reflection on one or both of these courts, for instance, that altogether too many appeals from the decisions of the supreme court are successful in the court of appeal.

"In any case, and whatever may be the merits of the dispute which is now aired before the public of this province—and which will be seen and heard to the discredit of British Columbia throughout all Canada—the time has come for intervention. We respectfully call this affair to the attention of the Department of Justice at Ottawa."

The Sun seems to think most of the trouble is with the court of appeal and it also asks Ottawa for a remedy. It concludes with:

"The people of British Columbia would like to have full confidence not only in the ability and the integrity, but in the comportment of the justices of both the trial and appeal courts. But can they have that confidence when petty spite and profitless feuds nullify these virtues and a vaudeville burlesque of justice brings the courts of British Columbia into ridicule and disgrace?"

"Is the Federal Department of Justice too remote to be cognizant of these shameful facts?"

The other day a Prince Rupert man was visiting in the south. "Are you from Prince Rupert?" he was asked. "Yes, why do you ask?" Because you dance as if you had gum boots on," was the reply.

People with six cylinder lungs should also be equipped with self-starters.

Man in the Moon

THE hardest thing about skating is the ice.

NOW that winter is approaching Prince Rupert young people will put away their bathing suits until February, unless one or two more enthusiastic get them out for a Christmas plunge.

YESTERDAY I wished I were fortunate enough to have trained myself to go hatless. I just hated chasing the old lid down Sixth Street, especially when so many people were watching from Harry Rochester's chalet.

JAKE says that Tolmie leading the provincial Conservatives without a seat in the Legislature while still holding his seat at Ottawa reminds him of a woman driving a car from the back seat.

ONE reason why people sometimes do not like the naked truth is that it is often bow-legged.

PRINCE Rupert's most favorite author is the one who writes the bargain day advertisements in this paper.

THE difference between Hudson seal and muskrat is largely a matter of price tag.

JAKE says he likes driving on the Prince Rupert roads because he does not have to take another driver's dust.

"There's an old saying that a man who squeezes a dollar never squeezes his wife." After glancing over the subscription list an exchange remarks: "There are a number of married women in this community not getting the attention they deserve."

GIRL HELD UP BY A BANDIT

Screamed When Gun Pointed at Her and Man Was Frightened and Ran

VICTORIA, Oct. 13.—Holding up the youngest daughter of Mrs. Sutton, of 1001 Esquimalt Road at the point of a gun, an unidentified man got away with $18 from the cash box of the candy store which is the only means of support that Mrs. Sutton has.

Chief John Acreman of Esquimalt, arrived on the scene five minutes after the hold-up had occurred. He stated last night that a man, dressed in a blue suit and tweed cap, thin faced and about five feet six inches in height, entered the store and ordered from the girl in charge a soft drink. Drinking half the contents of the bottle he placed it down on the counter and made a motion as if to get the money with which to pay for the drink. Suddenly he whipped out a revolver, and pointing it at the girl within a few inches of her body, ordered her to put up her hands. He then reached over and took from under the counter the cigar box containing some eighteen dollars in bills and small change.

The girl screamed, whereupon the man, apparently frightened that someone would hear, dropped the gun and ran out of the store and down the street toward the city. The girl's older sister came out from the back of the store and, receiving a hurried and somewhat incoherent account of what had happened, gave chase. She followed the man for half a block, but was unable to keep up with him and abandoned the chase to return to the store.

Chief Acreman was then called in. Both girls were rather excited and unable to give a very detailed description of the man. The officer has taken possession of the gun, which is a Colt of .35 calibre, and will endeavor to identify the man by the gun if possible.

Some of the money stolen by the bandit was recovered by the girls, as during his hasty exit he dropped some of it on the floor and on the sidewalk.

WHAT WILL BE DONE WITH BATTLE CRUISER BUILT FOR GREECE?

GENEVA, Oct. 13.—Greece does not want the big battle cruiser of 20,000 tons built for her in a German shipyard during the war and actually contracted for in 1912.

The Grecian claim to the $3,000,000 already advanced to the German firm in part payment was supported by the Polish delegation recently appearing before the Council of the League of Nations. They urged that the money already advanced be returned to Greece.

The Polish delegates argued that the Treaty of Versailles forbids Germany from exporting war materials and that therefore Greece is not bound to take possession of the warship which has been named the Salamis.

A committee was appointed to study the problem, which involves the interpretation of the military clauses of the Treaty of Versailles.

GROUP OF GIRLS ON BEACH THRILL-LESS AS OLD-TIME SEWING BEE

(Vancouver Sun)

Primed by representatives of the Local Council of Women, Police Commissioner H. W. Fletcher rises in an anguish of shocked modesty to protest against the types of bathing suits worn on the beaches of Greater Vancouver.

These suits, declares the commissioner, are indecent.

This charge is not only a reflection on the natural modesty of half the women and girls in Vancouver, but it controverts a fundamental psychological fact.

Mr. Fletcher and the representatives of the Local Council appear to infer that the suits worn are indecent because they generate impure and lewd thoughts in the minds of male observers.

Nothing could be farther from the truth. Being women, the representatives of the Local Council are not expected to know what provokes the male to lewdness. But Mr. Fletcher, being a man, should know.

He should know that in no place in the world is the human form so thoroughly divorced from sex as on a bathing beach, that to the average health-minded male the sight of a group of girls on a beach in one-piece bathing suits is as thrill-less as an old-time sewing bee.

Tut! Tut! Mr. Fletcher, Tut! Tut!

AFRICA EARLY HOME OF MANKIND CLAIMS ANTHROPOLOGIST

NEW YORK, Oct. 13.—A male skull declared to be a perfect specimen of the type of man who existed about 25,000 years ago has been brought to the United States by Dr. George L. Collie, professor of anthropology at Beloit College.

Dr. Collie, who represented the Logan Museum of Beloit in Algerian excavations, borrowed the skull from M. A. Dohrge, its French discoverer, for examination by United States scientists. Africa provide convincing proof, said Dr. Collie, that Africa and not Asia, was the early home of mankind.

BRITISH STEAMER NOW SHARK FACTORY

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The British steamer, Istar, has been turned into a "shark factory."

She is now in London docks with 30 tons of sharks aboard, but so determined are her owners to keep the vessel's business secret that a guard has been placed aboard to keep off intruders.

During the war the Istar was chartered by the American navy. Six-inch guns were mounted on her and she was used to convoy submarines.

She was recently fitted up at Antwerp for the conversion of sharks into leather and other by-products.

NEGRO BARBERS ARE PROTECTED BY COURT

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 13.—The Georgia supreme court has held unconstitutional a city ordinance prohibiting Negro barbers from serving white children under 14 years of age. Discussing the claim that contagious diseases are more prevalent among negroes, the court held that if this were true similar action might be taken against Negro cooks, nurses and laundresses.

ROAD PROGRAM FOR ALASKANS

Proposal to Build to Hyder and Stewart and from There to Connect With East

Prince Rupert-Terrace road sinks into insignificance as an engineering and construction program compared with the latest proposal to link up Ketchikan with the rest of the world by way of Hyder and Stewart and the northern route. Here is what is suggested by a Hyder man in the Ketchikan Chronicle:

"Ketchikan and Hyder could outline a road program for several years in advance which, when completed, would be one of the greatest scenic highways in the world, as well as commercial highway, with the slogan of 'From Alaska to New York City in an automobile,'" said D. E. Martin, deputy marshal of Hyder, in the lobby of the Gilmore Hotel, who is here on court business.

"I read in the Chronicle," said Mr. Martin, "that the road commission wants data and facts for road programs in advance. A roadway from Ketchikan to Behm Canal, a short ferry across the canal, and then a roadway from there up the Chickamin River and over the divide to Hyder, would prove a wonderful scenic drive. Along that route are waterfalls, glaciers, lakes and vistas of salt water.

"From the Hyder side the roadway is already constructed nearly to the divide. The time is coming when a highway will be built from Hyder and Stewart, the latter town on the Canadian side, through a low pass to the interior, to connect with auto highways in Canada leading to the Pacific coast and to the East. The three towns named could get behind the project and no doubt the British Columbia province.

NOT MERELY DREAM

"This may seem a dream to some but it can be made an accomplished fact. Already Ketchikan will soon have a roadway as far as Herring Cove. I am told that this road could be extended around George's Inlet, past Swan Lake, in the centre of Rivalla island, and thence to Portage Bay on Behm Canal, opposite the mouth of the Chickamin River. The forest service already has made a survey of the route up the Chickamin River, and the bureau of public roads had men in the field this summer. Aside from the scenic value of such a highway, it will run through a highly mineralized country.

"After it was once constructed, tourists could get off at either Hyder or Ketchikan and make the automobile trip. Hunters and sportsmen would be attracted to this section to spend several months. Summer lodges for the rich would be built.

Rocks are natural soda mineral springs. There are the Belle Island hot springs, and nearby are numerous possible summer resorts for the wealthy.

"With such a highway constructed, biplanes would radiate from Ketchikan to surrounding district and other towns, and the roadway would be heavy with traffic, both of sightseers and from commercial automobiles loaded with freight for the new district that would be opened. Think it over. Get busy and give the road commission something definite to work on for the next few years. Take the matter up with the Territorial legislature and with other organizations. Great things can be accomplished with a little concerted effort."

THIEF PROVES SPORT RETURNS TROPHIES

Steals Silver Cups and Tankards but Declines to Keep Them

LONDON, Oct. 13.—"To the finder: You are requested to take this suit-case to the police."

This message was written on the label of a suit-case which was found recently in a first-class compartment of a train on the Metropolitan Railway at Laobroke Grove station.

The finder did as requested. When the police opened the bag they found nine silver sports cups and two tankards bearing inscriptions showing that the owner, Douglas Scott Clarke, had won them in sporting events at Tonbridge School. The police got into touch with the school, and subsequently traced the owner.

Clarke, who works for a firm of underwriters at Lloyd's and lives at First Avenue, Westcliffe-on-Sea, said the trophies were stolen from his home while he and his parents were away. Other articles in addition to the sports prizes were stolen.

"I should like to thank the person who found the suit-case in the train, and I also wish to thank the thief for being such a sportsman as to return my trophies, as naturally they are of great sentimental value to me."

STEAMERS COLLIDED NORTH OF SAN PEDRO

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 13.—Wireless dispatches to the Federal Telegraph company here reported that the steamers Pomona and Kekoskee were in collision off Point Arguello, 150 miles north of San Pedro.

The message reported that the ships collided in a thick fog, with the Pomona's hull stove in eight feet above the water line, but the wireless operators said that the vessel was not in danger. The Kekoskee was hit hard and was taking water with the engine and fire rooms flooded. The Pomona was standing by.

Neither craft sent distress signals at the time of the accident.
