PRIME MINISTER FAILING—Prime Minister Eamon de Valera of the Republic of Ireland may be forced out of active public life because of eye trouble. He is in a clinic at Utraband, Ireland, fighting to retain the remains of the 70-year-old Irish leader's sight. It is doubtful he will be able to carry on much longer. He is to-day duties of the minister.

LORD CHAMBERLAIN—The Queen has appointed the Earl of Scarborough as Lord Chamberlain of Her Majesty's household to succeed the Earl of Clarendon who has resigned. Lord Scarborough, 56, has been lord lieutenant of the west riding of Yorkshire since 1948. He was governor of Bombay 1937-43 and parliamentary under-secretary for India and Burma in 1945. Both Indexes Show Living Cost Down OTTAWA—Living costs reflected by the new consumer price index declined by one-tenth of a point during September to 116 from 116.1, the Statistics Bureau reported today. The peak of the index, based on 1949 prices equalling 100, was 118.2 last December. The old index basis on 1935-39 prices, equalling 100, measured Septembers drop as 1.5 points, with the index declining to 185.0 from 186.5. The old index now is actually obsolete, but the bureau decided to publish both, the old and new, simultaneously, for the next six months.

Strange Bird Poses Problem For City Woman; Can You Help?

Mrs. John Bremner of 323 Fifth Avenue East wonders if anyone can help her identify a strange-looking bird she saw from her front-room window yesterday. The bird, a little larger than a robin but resembling one, was feeding on the berries of an ash tree in front of her house. The color markings were: dark grey body, a deep red head and a blue ring around its neck. The beak resembled that of a robin's. "I am very interested in birds and looked for identification of this one in my bird book, but couldn't find the answer," said Mrs. Bremner. If any bird watchers, or ornithologists can help Mrs. Bremner, she will be delighted.

Construction of Slip Announced by CNR

Construction of a railway car ferry slip here will get underway shortly, James J. Behan, newly-appointed manager of Canadian National Railways, B.C. District, announced last night before leaving for Vancouver.

First construction will be a temporary slip to accommodate four-car barges to be operated by the Alaska-B.C. Transportation Company, said Mr. Behan.

The company, a subsidiary of Straits Towing Limited of Vancouver, will handle machinery, supplies and equipment for the Ketchikan Pulp and Paper Company, which is building a slip at Ward's Cove, Alaska, near its operations.

Mr. Behan said the slip is expected to be ready for operation next January or February.

He did not disclose cost of the slip nor indicate when a permanent slip would be built but it was learned that an eight-car slip will be constructed after the Ketchikan-Rupert service is inaugurated.

PROMOTE CITY
Norton T. Youngs, President of the Prince Rupert Chamber of Commerce, said the chamber "is very pleased" because any handling of goods here from Alaska helps to promote the city and increases freight handled through the port.

He indicated that other products besides those from the Ketchikan pulp firm, such as lumber from Alaska, undoubtedly would be handled by the barges.

Biggest Guns In War Blast Chinese Reds

SEOUL—The biggest guns in the United Nations' Korean arsenal hammered Communist positions on the central front today and jubilant artillerymen claimed they were winning the bloody battle of the hills.

Allied officers said about half of the 200 Chinese field pieces around Triangle Hill and Sniper Ridge have been destroyed or damaged.

Chinese Reds threw two feeble attacks at Sniper Ridge in the pre-dawn darkness. Allied artillery and mortar fire chopped them to bits.

Retrial Reduces Murder Charge

NANAIMO (CP)—Albert Fairweather, 25-year-old logger, once sentenced to death for the murder of his friend, Thursday was convicted of manslaughter.

He was charged with murder in the death two years ago of logger Raymond Boyce, 24, following a fight near Duncan, B.C. Boyce died in hospital of stab wounds.

When Fairweather first stood trial, he was convicted and sentenced to be hanged. B.C. Court of Appeals later granted his application for a retrial. He will be sentenced at the end of August.

Russia Parades Armed Might; Warns Aggressors, 'Warmongers'

Young Girl Dies From Bridge Leap

VANCOUVER (CP)—A 13-year-old girl, despondent because of poor grades in school, Thursday plunged 200 feet from the centre of Lions Gate bridge spanning the entrance to Vancouver harbor.

She died 2½ hours later in hospital. Valerie Northcott was fished from the water on a pike pole by a passing fisherman minutes after the plunge. The girl's father, D. R. Northcott, said his daughter, a Grade VIII pupil, had been despondent for some time over her school work.

The WEATHERMAN Says

Skies were clear over most of B.C. last night and temperatures again dropped well below freezing in the interior. Coldest spot reporting was Kimberley with a low of 13.

Dense fog formed in the Vancouver area and is not expected to clear in the lower portions of the city until near noon. With no prospect of a cloud cover tonight a repetition of this condition is expected.

Forecast
Fog and low cloud in the morning, otherwise mostly clear in the southern part. Variable cloudiness in the northern part. Little change in temperature. Light winds increasing in the northern part to southeast 15 tomorrow morning. Low tonight and high tomorrow at Port Hardy 34 and 33; Sandspit 38 and 52; Prince Rupert, 38 and 43.

Rubber Firms To be Tried As Combines

OTTAWA (CP)—The Canadian government decided to prosecute rubber companies alleged to have participated in illegal price-fixing combines, Justice Minister Garson announced today.

Trials likely will take place in Toronto. Altogether, 19 companies and the Rubber Association of Canada were named in a report alleging existence of six combines in the rubber industry.

RECREATION MERITS

BLOEMFONTEIN, South Africa—Dr. I. R. van der Marwe, head of physical education at the Bloemfontein University, told a meeting here there was a great need for recreation centres for working youth. "People are not getting recreation when they sit for hours on Saturday afternoons at a football match," he said.

Strong Opposition to Liquor by Glass Voiced by Church Group

"There is no real need for wider avenues for liquor sales, nor is there any crying injustice in the lack of such avenues.

"No alteration in the present set of conditions can do other than to make liquor more expensive and more compulsive, without in reality making it more available."

India Plans New Proposal For Korea

UNITED NATIONS (CP)—India has sounded out Chinese Communists about proposals to end the Korean war-prisoner deadlock and may shortly put a compromise resolution on Korea before the United Nations, Indian sources said Thursday.

Mme. Vilaya Lakshmi Pandit, leader of the Indian delegation, said in an interview that India has been working to solve the Korean problem for eight months.

If the order from her government comes through as expected in the next 24 hours, India will have a resolution to present to the political committee of the General Assembly, she added.

Oil Refinery Planned For Alberta Crude

VANCOUVER (CP)—General Petroleum Corp. announced today it will build a $35,000,000 refinery at Ferndale, Wash., 42 miles south of here to refine Alberta crude oil.

The refinery will have a capacity of 35,000 barrels a day. At the same time, Trans-Mountain Oil Pipe Line Company, now building the 711-mile, $86,000,000 line from Edmonton to Vancouver, said it will spend another $2,750,000 for a 30-mile sidetrack from Sumas to the new refinery.

Operators Set Deadline For $6-Ton Herring Price

Fishermen Told to Start Nov. 16 Or Companies Withdraw Offer

VANCOUVER—British Columbia herring fishermen Thursday were given until Nov. 16 to accept or reject the price offer from operators.

A spokesman for the Fisheries Association of B.C. said the operators have told United Fishermen and Allied Workers Union the offer will be withdrawn if fishing is not under way by that date.

"The Association pointed out that a late start in the operation reduced the oil yield in fish and adds to production costs," he said.

"At a meeting Thursday, operators advised the union's negotiating committee that unless fishermen and tendermen recognize that a reduction in price is essential, and unless companies are given room within the agreement to economize, there will be no herring operation this year."

The spokesman said operators proposed a price of $6 a ton compared to last season's $8.40. This would provide an average earning of $2,500 for the season to tendermen and fishermen, he said.

No Replacement Yet For CPR Luxury Liner

VANCOUVER (CP)—Canadian Pacific is shopping around the world for a ship suitable to replace the luxury liner Princess Kathleen, and while it has made several enquiries with shipping lines, no ship has been purchased, a company spokesman said here Thursday.

"Several ships offered for sale, including the Eastern Steamships Evangeline, have offered some attraction, but we are not committed to the purchase of any ship as yet," the spokesman said.

The statement followed a report from Victoria that the CPR is negotiating with Eastern Steamship Lines of Boston for the purchase of one of their vessels now up for sale.

The Yellowhead Pass Route

THERE ARE signs that renewed force is about to be injected in the demand for a highway running from the prairies to the west coast through the Yellowhead Pass. Those who have long championed this cause are rallying their strength and, as a subject of debate in the coming session of parliament at Ottawa, it is a virtual certainty.

Normally from this distance it would hardly be considered a matter of lively concern since it is usually contended that all such roads should lead to Vancouver.

That contention remains, but arguments favoring the highway are placing more and more emphasis on defence needs, and it is on this score that Prince Rupert makes its decided entrance into the picture. So growingly obvious are the requirements of this city as a defence post that proponents of the Yellowhead Pass route now visualize a forked highway through B.C., at one end of which is Prince Rupert.

In a call for action to the "Citizens of Northwestern Canada," their association headquartered at Edmonton has this to say:

"In case of a global war northwestern Canada will likely be one of the battlegrounds. Therefore a defence highway should be built between Winnipeg and Pacific coast ports which will serve not only western Canada but also northwestern Canada. By the term 'northwestern Canada' we mean northwest of Winnipeg via Saskatoon, Edmonton and the Yellowhead Pass to Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

"This defence highway will also serve Alaska via the Alaska highway. It will also serve strategic Kitimat when a railway is built to it. This defence highway should be built with all haste. It should have every preference. Surely we people of northwestern Canada are not going to be ignored again and brushed aside by a declaration that the Trans-Canada highway is western Canada's defence highway?"

The further north and the further west the proposed highway gets, the stronger become the arguments in its favor. If we jump to the very warranted conclusion that the most likely origin of attack is Russia, that puts Alaska and northwest Canada in a place on the map that senior officers will be diligently marking with red pencils in the event of another world war.

When the chips are down, however, red pencil marks are a discouraging substitute for a broad avenue of supply. Consequently it all amounts to this: either this area must be provided with better communication facilities, land and air, or the bleak facts must be accepted and the whole district written off as expendable.

Race Against Time

THOSE concerned with the impending disfigurement of Tweedsmuir Park by flooding will feel a great deal of approval over the conscientious and energetic manner in which B.C. Lands and Forests Minister Robert Sommers is investigating the problem.

Without making any grand and impossible promises, he has nevertheless given an understanding that he will do his best in his race against time to prevent the monumental eyesore which he described. That is a fair and reasonable stand. The situation being what it is, no one man could estimate from the meagre information available just how readily the timber clearance work can be carried out.

This dearth of information is, in fact, one of the tragedies of the case, for it seems that no serious effort was made earlier to determine if the project was completely impractical. There is nothing but amateur guess work on record to indicate the probable cost, or to suggest alternative methods that might be adopted to effect it.

It was evidently assumed in some office miles away that nothing could be done—an assumption that may go down as the most costly mental short-cut in provincial history.

It is hoped that the engineers which Mr. Sommers mentioned will arrive on the scene soon to make their survey. The water is already starting to climb and, as King Canute found out, mere talk will not stop it.

TV And CORONATION

THE SOLEMN guide on our sightseeing bus, in Geneva last year, was not much of a joker but he cracked this one:

"In a few years time there will be only five kings left in Europe—the four kings in the pack of cards, and the King of England."

Everybody on the bus dutifully laughed, and I thought to myself that it is strange how in this century of great shaking of nations—with thrones tumbling like nine pins, kings taking flight all over the place, and whole societies crumbling—the British throne stands more firmly than ever before in the hearts of the people.

For that reason the controversy over whether or not to televise the Queen's coronation seems incredible. Surely if it is a good thing for a few hundred select people in a church to see the coronation it is a good thing for a hundred million, or more, to see and hear as much of it as possible by radio, movie or television.

It is surely a strange die-hardism which decrees that it is alright to take movies of the coronation, but not to show the actuality itself, through the miracle device of TV.

I GOT A BIG SMILE out of the explanation by some pooh-bah or other that if the event were televised the whole world might see some slip-up, some faux-pas, some fumble that the pooh-bah did not think the whole world ought to see.

What rot. If it is alright for the visiting kings, royalists, nobles and political potentates who are actually in the church: to see the ceremony—slips or no slips—then surely the rest of us can stand it—and surely the beautiful young Queen can stand it too.

The over-riding consideration should be: Will the televising of the ceremony benefit the people of the whole British Commonwealth or not?

Surely there is only one answer to that. The very fact that millions and millions of people in all corners of the earth WANT to see and hear the coronation is the best proof that as many of them as possible should be given the chance to see and hear as much of it as possible.

THE controversy about whether or not to TV the coronation seems to me to support the British editors who have been arguing in the last few years that the functionaries who hold jobs around the throne are consciously or unconsciously trying to stand between the people and their monarch.

We had a taste of that last year in Canada when the present Queen and her husband toured Canada. I was out of this country myself at the time, and so missed the show. But from everything I saw and heard on return, there were so many stuffed shirts and high hats standing between the royal couple and the people that only in a few spots in Canada did the visitors get to meet many of the ordinary folk, and only in a few spots did any of the ordinary people—even the school children —get a good look at their own future Queen."

TV is a made-to-order miracle to enable scores of millions of people to see a colorful and important world event. The coronation is made-to-order to be an ace TV actuality event.

Let the whole world see—the more the better. Not only Britons, and Commonwealth people of all (or no) religious classes, colors and conditions—but the whole world, including the Russians and Red Chinese if they want to look, and are allowed to do so.

U.S. Lauds Canadian Economics

NEW YORK (CP)—Confidence in the Canadian economy has been greatly strengthened by the general success of the Canadian government's fiscal and monetary policies, the Federal Reserve Bank of New York reports.

In its monthly review, the bank notes that the economy's balance has been maintained despite strong expansion pressures generated by the Korean war, the Canadian defence program and swift economic development.

Canada's tax program was designed, the bank notes, not merely to keep the over-all budget in surplus, but also to provide additional revenue in a manner specifically calculated to dampen inflationary pressures.

The report also points out that Canada undertook firm regulation of consumer credit, restraint of credit expansion by voluntary agreement between the Bank of Canada and the chartered banks, discouragement of less essential investment projects by discriminatory tax treatment or depreciation allowances and an anti-inflationary debt management policy.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose—harder to regain. Today's tense living, lowered resistance, overwork, worry—any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, that "fired-up" heavy-headed feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better—sleep better—work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter.

Ray Reflects and Reminisces

Republican control of the United States Senate is described as "shaky"—surely a masterpiece of understatement, there being a difference of but one.

A boy in Soviet Russia is a juvenile delinquent just once. The application of a lead-tipped cat o' nine tails, with a hurried trip to the salt-barrel immediately afterwards has been found fully effective.

There was a heavy frost in Prince Rupert during mid week. And now comes word of the CNR getting an order to ship box-cars for Christmas trees.

THE FIRST MILLION

To go back a bit, in the middle of all the other kinds of excitement—in June, 1909, five hundred Prince Rupert townsite lots were auctioned in Vancouver and Victoria for $1,500,165. Selling Agent C. D. Rand, described the auctioneer J. J. Miller from Australia as a "jimdandy." The foregoing appeared in The Empire, Prince Rupert's first newspaper.

General U.S. Grant, the Union Army's triumphant leader in the war between the States, became also the president, serving two terms. In war he excelled, but in peace his government did nothing of the kind. Grant, the man, was honorable and just. Those around him were not. What will the story be this time?

No occasion to wonder if Canada is to have a general election early in the summer, or possibly earlier. The coronation, June 2 comes first. You can count on that.

Legion WA Holds Bazaar; Mayor Whalen Opens Event

A successful bazaar was held Wednesday by the Ladies' Women's Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion, opened officially in the auditorium by Mayor Harold Whalen.

President Mrs. Darrow Gomez introduced the mayor. She then welcomed guests at the door during the afternoon.

Mrs. G. Hanley was convener of the bazaar. Other WA members served as follows:

Mrs. J. S. Black, cashier; Mrs. P. Pettersen, Mrs. M. Stegavig, Mrs. E. Bitterman, Mrs. S. Downing, Mrs. R. J. Bone, Mrs. G. Ganton, serviteurs; Mrs. M. Skinner and Mrs. V. Scherk, home cooking; Mrs. A. McDonald Jr. and Mrs. W. Murdock, candy booth; Mrs. W. Wallace and Mrs. V. Deane, fish pond; Mrs. S. Carpenter, baby sitter for the afternoon; Mrs. F. Reich, Mrs. G. Lewis, Mrs. M. Montgomery, Mrs. J. Stannard, Mrs. G. Hebb, kitchen help; Mrs. J. Gillis, in charge of novelties; Mrs. S. Downing, in charge of fancy goods; Mrs. G. Holbrook in charge of sewing booth.

The sewing club raffles were in charge of Mrs. K. Twaites and Mrs. W. Osborne. Mrs. T. Glenn, Mrs. F. Marshall, and Mrs. M. Ritchie were in charge of the woolen department; Mrs. V. Duncan and Mrs. R. Michaloff, apron table. The grand drawing was in the charge of Mrs. D. Keehn and Mrs. Sheila Chater.

Those winning prizes were:

M. Wide, H. S. Whalen, Mrs. W. Field, W. Ericksen, Doris H. Johnson, Jacob Miller, Smithers, Mrs. R. C. Brown, Miss Sheila Haudenschild, Mrs. W. Petersen, and Miss Sheila Ramsey.

The tea room was attractively decorated, all small tables having a centerpiece of Popples.

The hostess table had a centerpiece of autumn flowers. Mrs. V. Ciccone and Mrs. A. Simpson were pourers during the afternoon.

Grand prize drawing was held at 6 p.m. by Mrs. D. Gomez, president, ladies auxiliary.

Fish Ideal Protein Food

Mild flavor, delicate texture and high nutritional value combine to make both our fresh water and salt water fish one of Canada's best menu items, points out Home Economist Edith L. Elliot of the federal Department of Fisheries.

"Too few Canadians fully appreciate the possibilities of fish and shell-fish in the diet or enjoy it as often as they might," declares Miss Elliot in a magazine article.

She goes on to divide fish into two broad classes, the non-oily or "dry" fish and the oily species. The latter, which include salmon, herring, shad, tuna and mackerel, supply about three times as much energy as the non-oily fish. The non-oily group includes bass, catfish, trout, pickerel, pike, perch, cod, flounder, halibut, haddock, pollock and sole.

Non-oily or "dry" fish although not so full in flavor or so high in calorie value, are very easily digested. Their connective tissue is gelatinous and breaks down easily in cooking.

The water content of fish is high, but the water in the tissues contains soluble protein and minerals — phosphorus, iron, copper, magnesium, fluorine and other minerals are present in small amounts; and in the case of oysters, sardines, sprats and smelts the iron and copper are in good supply.

City Youth Recovers In Vancouver

A Prince Rupert-born youth is slowly recovering in Vancouver General Hospital from a serious smash-up Thanksgiving weekend.

His father is jubilant today following word that his son's leg will be saved.

Doctors said at first that a badly fractured leg of 22-year-old Gordon Rothwell might be amputated. Now they say it has set satisfactorily.

Gordon is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Rothwell, 444 Sherbrooke Avenue.

Mrs. Rothwell has been in Vancouver with her son since she was notified of the accident which happened near Golden, B.C.

Scanty information of the accident was received here at the time. Gordon was taking the week-end holiday, driving from Calgary where he worked, to Revelstoke, B.C., on his motorcycle when the accident occurred.

Fractures also included a broken jaw which will have to be reset, said Mr. Rothwell today. His son, who completed high school in Prince Rupert, is expected to remain in hospital a year.

Miss Solveig Mork, RN, arrived here by plane yesterday. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Mork of 108 Seventh Ave. East, she will begin nursing in Prince Rupert General Hospital next week.

Travelling New Mexico Pastor Likes Prince Rupert Weather

A man who appreciates Prince Rupert's rain is Rev. Eual Lawson of Albuquerque, New Mexico, a visitor here this week.

Mr. Lawson, who arrived Monday from Ketchikan, Alaska, says there are just over four inches of rain in his state each year and expensive irrigation is necessary. Rainfall here totals about 80 inches a year.

Here as guest speaker at First Baptist Church, where he has addressed enthusiastic audiences all week, he takes great delight in strolling in the rain. He'll speak each night this week, including Saturday, with the final service on Sunday.

While in Alaska, where he conducted a similar campaign last week, he went fishing for the first time in his life and says he caught a number of big fish. He changed the old fish story around, saying, "the small ones grow not the big ones."

Father of three sons, one in the U.S. Marines, the other in the U.S. Navy, and the third in college, Mr. Lawson leaves by air Monday for Ketchikan where he will board another plane for the trip home.

He says he's going back to tell his people about Prince Rupert's wonderful rain.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD
 Mrs. Rhule Bids No-Trump, Provokes Partner's Ire

Mrs. Rhule is the kind of player who would rather take a bad set than be guilty of overlooking the text-book rules and regulations on bidding. To her, system is more important than the game itself.

In today's deal Mr. Champion opened the bidding with one spade. Mrs. Rhule thought a long time and finally came up with the bid she thought best—one no trump.

Mrs. Keen doubted to show her good hand and Mr. Champion considered his hand better suited for a spade contract. His two spade bid was promptly doubled by Mr. Dale.

The queen of diamonds was opened and there was no way for Mr. Champion to avoid the loss of three spades, a heart, two diamonds and a club for a 500 point set.

Mr. Champion's remarks concerning his partner's bidding were not complimentary. Piously, Mrs. Rhule called attention to the fact that she had six points and that the books say you can't pass your partner's opening bid with that much strength.

"I thought you would surely bid one of the other suits on the second round," she added, in a voice which implied Mr. Champion had grossly erred in not doing so.

"I don't care how many points you had," said Mr. Champion, angrily, "you didn't have any bid."

"You mean you think I should pass?" asked Mrs. Rhule.

"I know it," replied Mr. Champion, modestly. "Don't ever bid to no trump when you're blank in my suit."

Mr. Champion was right. When you keep the bidding open for your partner, hoping he'll bid a suit you will like better, it's amazing how often he will rebid in the same suit...

IN RE ESTATE OF ALEXANDER MacLEAN, DECEASED
 TAKE NOTICE that as Administrator duly appointed by the Court of the estate of Alexander MacLean, who died at Alice Arm, British Columbia, on the 30th day of July, 1952, I require all creditors and others having claims against the said estate to send the same to me, properly verified, at the address mentioned below on or before the 27th day of December, 1952, after which date I shall proceed to distribute the state to those entitled by law, having regard only to such claims of which I shall then have been notified.

AND further take notice that all persons indebted to said estate are required to pay their indebtedness to me forthwith.

DATED at Prince Rupert, B.C. this 30th day of October, 1952.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — Sugar Ray Robinson, widely regarded as the greatest fighter of the present era, pound for pound, is rehearsing practically night and day for his heralded opening as a tap dancer and master of ceremonies in one of Manhattan's gilded traps next week.

The middleweight champ, they say, might easily become noted within a short time as one of the two or three top soft-toe artists in the world.

From every indication, the Sugar boy is serious as sin about his new career. He is starting out near the top at better than $10,000 a week and is working like a horse at it. He expects additional offers to pour in from night clubs and theatres across the country.

Robinson has not said in as many words that he will not fight again, but he has managed to convey that impression to a lot of persons around Broadway and Harlem. Some feel that he permanently lost his taste for the rough sport when he collapsed to fight heavy weight Champion Joey Maxim in the terrible heat at Yankee Stadium last June. It could be that he almost lost his life in that one, as his large manager, George Gainford, claims.

Gainford, just returned from an expansive three months in Paris, believes he can talk his tiger into fighting again, providing a thorough examination convinces Robinson he can do so without hazarding his stage career.

Actually, the question of whether the Harlem Flash retires from the ring, at 31, is not quite so burning at this time as it might have been.

Until a month ago Robinson was by far the greatest draw in the fistie world and the International Boxing Club needed him sorely as its prize attraction. The heavyweight division was dormant if not dead.

Now there's a fellow named
Rocky Marciano the most electric fighting figure to come along since Joe Louis 20 years ago. The I.B.C. can count upon at least one $1,000,000 humdinger per year for some time to come.
Nobody around the I.B.C. offices appears to be seriously concerned about Robinson's intentions.

"Tungsten"

CAPITALIZATION

The company is incorporated under the laws of the Province of British Columbia, with an authorized capital of $3,000,000 divided into 3,000,000 non-assessable, non-personal liability shares of a par value of $1.00 each. Issued for properties are 750,000 shares of which 650,000 shares are held in escrow subject to release only at the discretion of the Superintendent of Brokers of the Province of British Columbia. Approximately 400,000 shares have been sold for cash. Upon completion of the sale of the current offering of 200,000 shares, which is the first public offering by the company, there will be 1,650,000 shares remaining in the treasury.

LARGE TUNGSTEN HOLDINGS (22 Claims)

DEVIL'S ELBOW, STIKINE RIVER, B.C.—Latest report, October 5th, submitted by D. A. French, the Company's Engineer in charge of operations at Devil's Elbow, was most encouraging. He advised the Directors that all surface work had been completed and that the property was now ready for diamond drilling. Mr. French strongly recommended such a diamond drilling program be embarked upon, based on the continuity of surface showings and the high channel assays obtained from open cuts on surface. Two 4-ft. sections at either end of the No. 2 open cut across a width of 15 ft. on ore assayed 2.39 per cent and 1.05 per cent tungsten. Below No. 1 open cut values across 7 ft. averaged 7 per cent tungsten. Bed "C" over No. 1 adit 3.5 ft. averaged 1.43 per cent tungsten. No. 2 adit across 2.5 ft. averaged 2.04 per cent tungsten.

PRECIOUS AND BASE METAL

USK, B.C.—The Bell-Grotto group (22 claims) was purchased on the advice of the Company's managing director, Dr. Joseph T. Mandy. This property is located in the Omineca Mining Division between Terrace and Smithers on the main line of the C.N.R., one hundred miles east of Prince Rupert. A road 2 1/2 miles in length has been constructed from the railway to the mine. Camps have been built and all the necessary machinery and equipment is installed on the property to commence regular shipments of high grade copper-gold-silver and lead-zinc ores. It is estimated by Dr. Mandy that the returns from ore shipments will be sufficient to cover the cost of developments to block out the necessary tonnage to justify the building of a mill on the property. The following representative samples of shipping ore have been assayed as follows: From tunnel on No. 1 vein—averaged width 1.5 ft., 1.12 ozs. gold and 47.7 ozs. silver per ton with 2.70% copper for a gross value of $95.63 per ton; from tunnel on No. 2 vein—average width 1.5 ft., 2.16 ozs. gold and 90.0 ozs. silver with 3.2% copper for a gross value of $172.60 per ton; and from the average of three open cuts on the lead vein, an average width of 1.8 ft., with grade of 0.03 oz. gold and 12.0 ozs. silver with 40.8% lead and 14.6% zinc for a gross value of $180.97 per ton.

RICH ANTIMONY PROPERTY

FORT ST. JAMES, B.C.—The Snowbird group of 13 claims is on the lower end of Stuart Lake. Apart from a considerable tonnage of high-grade shipping ore valued at $300 per ton, there is also $250,000 worth of milling-grade ore blocked out. It is planned to initiate production at an early date.

Police Chief Takes Issue With City Man

VICTORIA (CP)—Victoria Police Chief John Blackstock today took issue with statements made in Supreme Court last week by Lloyd Ritter of Prince Rupert. Ritter is suing Duack Chevrolet Oldsmobile Ltd., a Vancouver auto firm, for alleged malicious prosecution. In presenting his case, he complained about treatment received at the hands of city police in Victoria.

He was arrested here in May, 1951, on two charges of passing cheques without sufficient funds to cover them. He complains now that he was "thrown in with drug addicts and drunks."

Chief Blackstock today checked records of those in custody at the time Ritter was held here. He said there definitely were no persons charged with any drug offences.

He conceded there were some awaiting trial for drunkenness but maintained Ritter would not have been in the company of any who were "under the influence."

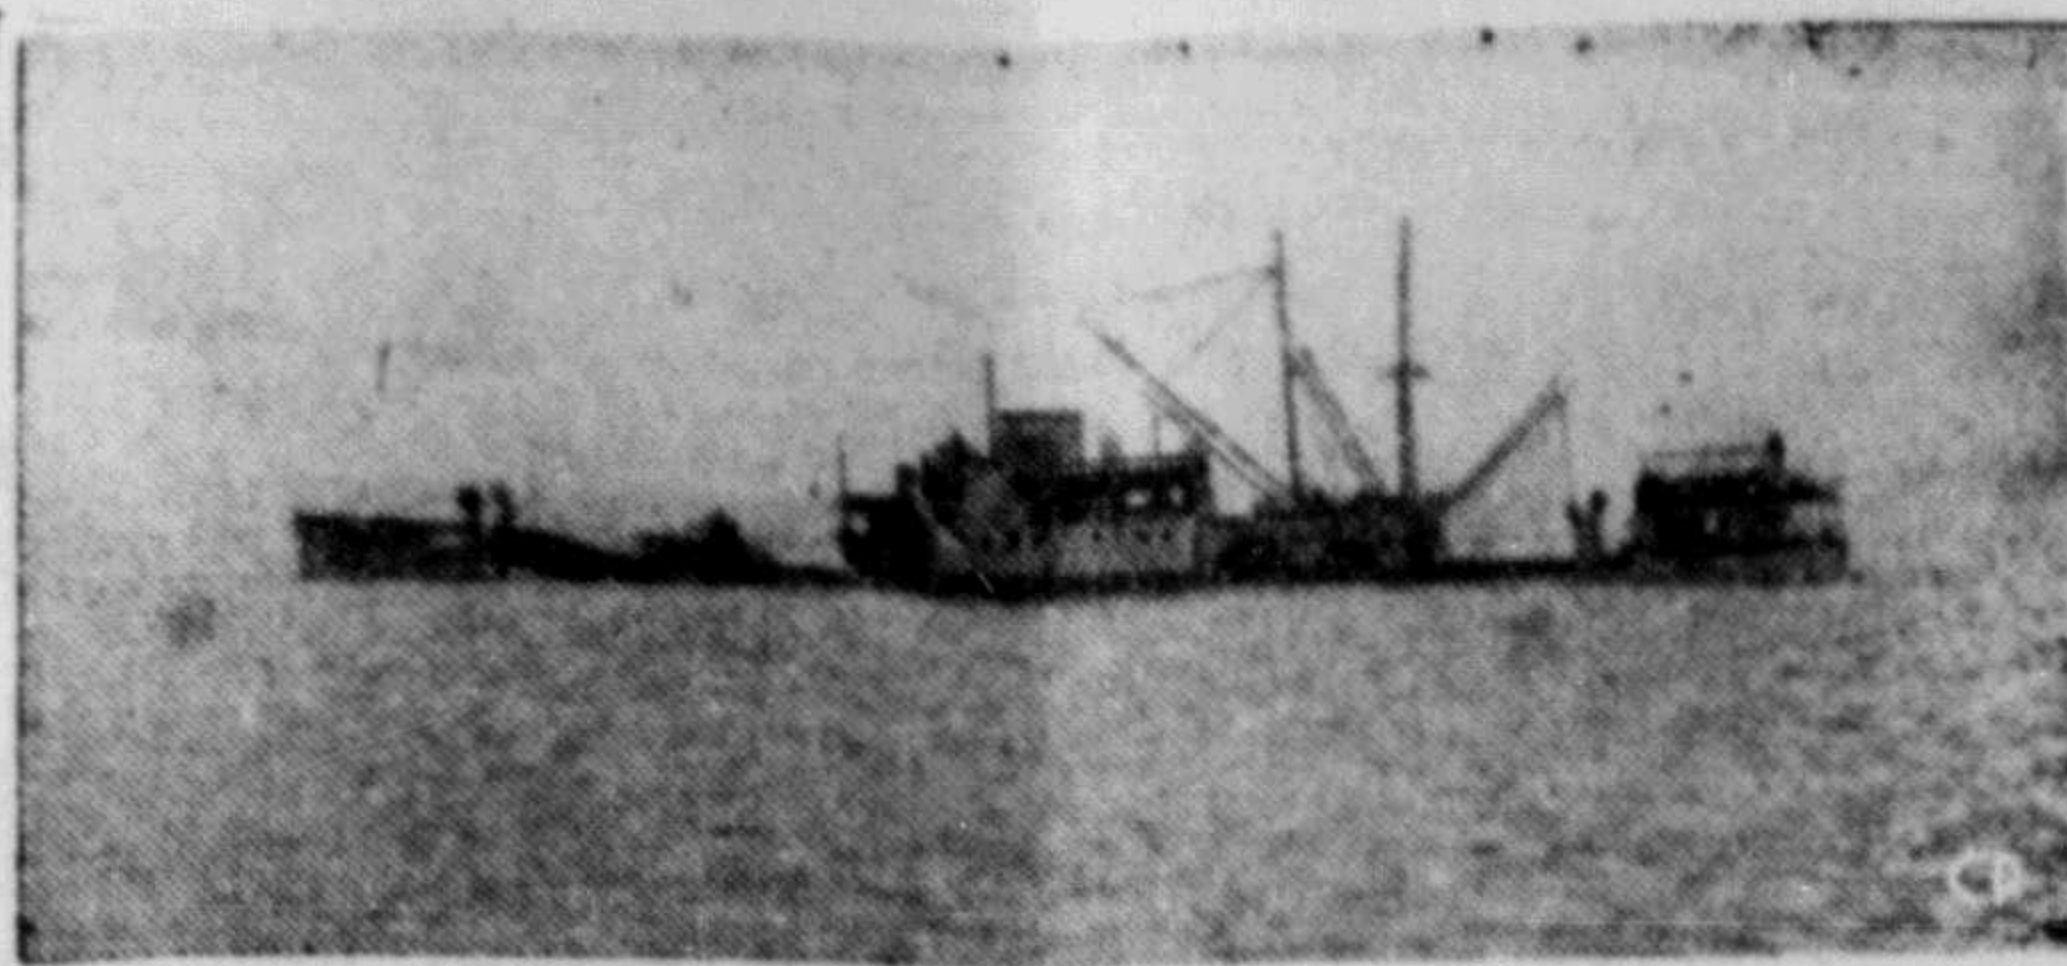

Drunks, when arrested, are housed in a large cell commonly referred to as "the drunk tank" until such time as they become sober.

Only then are they allowed to mingle with the other prisoners. Ritter is seeking $31,000 damages from the Vancouver auto company on grounds that he was in custody 11 days; that he was subject to many indignities; that he lost work and the charges caused permanent difficulties between himself and his in-laws.

Ritter was not convicted of either charge. One was dismissed and the other withdrawn.

Mr. Justice Whittaker regarded as serious a charge by Ritter that at Oakalla he was ordered to take off his clothes and submit himself to be searched for drugs.

"If this is so, there should be some investigation made, the judge remarked.

RYHOLM SINKS—The 741-ton Swedish freighter Ryholm sinks in 25 feet of water in the St. Lawrence River, 23 miles east of Quebec city, shortly after she collided with the 5,761-ton Swiss freighter Basilea. The large gash in the ship's bow and the stump of the smashed mast are visible in this photo taken by a crew member of the ice-breaker N. B. McLean which answered the Ryholm's distress signal. No lives were lost. The 27 seamen on the Ryholm were rescued by the Basilea which took them to Montreal. (CP PHOTO)

Sunken Treasure Ship Object Of Renewed Salvage Efforts

LEWES, Del. (AP) — Salvagers are ready to battle a tremendous ocean current and a "bad weather witch" in an effort to locate the British sloop-of-war Debraak which sank in 1798 with a treasure reported worth $10,000,000.

Leading the search for the ship, believed to have gone down off Cape Henlopen at the mouth of the Delaware Bay about 100 miles southeast of Wilmington, Del., are two young Lewes dairymen, Archie and Weldon Birttingham.

The job has defied four previous efforts to unloose the sea's secret. A Baltimore salvage firm

New Railway Bridge to Span Red Deer River

WINNIPEG — The Canadian National Railways will re-build the bridge over the Red Deer River near Ardley, 16 miles south of Mirror on the Edmonton-Oakville line, J. R. McMillan, vice-president of the western region, said here today.

Mr. McMillan said the new bridge with approaches will be 1,800 feet long and 160 feet from the base of rail to the water line. Steel spans will be laid across high steel towers.

The previous structure was washed out last April when ice in the Red Deer River rose to unprecedented levels, necessitating stub service by trains on the line and the re-routing of through traffic between Edmonton and Calgary.

The old records say the ship had just returned from a sortie in which it captured a Spanish vessel headed from South America to Spain.

The first newspaper accounts of the sinking of the Debraak mentioned only a cargo of 200 tons of cocoa and a quantity of rum. But one of the Spanish prisoners rescued from the ship is quoted as telling a Lewes resident:

"There's all the way from $5,000,000 to $10,000,000 worth of treasure, mostly in gold bullion, in her hold."

His statement is recorded in the family Bible of Gilbert McCracken, the Debraak's Lewes pilot.

The sloop, constructed of teakwood, was 125 feet long with a 30-foot beam and a 12-foot depth. British Admiralty records say it went down in a spot where the water now is 82 feet deep.

SCREEN ★ FLASHES

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—So you think this election was a rugged one? You should have been around in 1828.

"The contest between Adlai Stevenson and Dwight Eisenhower was mild compared to other presidential races in the past," remarked Irving Stone, noted author and expert on presidential history.

"At least we have reached the point where wives are no longer brought into the arena for slaughter. The most snocking example of this was in the 1828 election between Andrew Jackson and John Quincy Adams."

Stone wrote a biography of Mrs. Jackson, called "The President's Lady." It has just been named with Susan Hayward and Charlton Heston as the Jacksons. The story tells how the 1828 campaign killed the President's wife.

"Henry Clay, who was running the Adams campaign, decided the only way to beat Jackson was through his wife."

Rachel Jackson had previously been married to a cruel landowner from whom she fled. She heard later that he had divorced her, and so she married Jackson. But the divorce was found to be incomplete, and her former husband then divorced her on grounds of adultery.

"Clay dug up the trial and publicized it throughout the country in newspapers and pamphlets," Stone recounted. "She was called 'adulteress' and worse. Copies of obscene songs about her were distributed on street corners."

"Despite these efforts, Jackson won by an electoral vote of 178 to 83. But he lost his wife. As she was preparing to leave for the inauguration, she overheard two women calling her vile names. Already shunned by Nashville society and weakened by the attacks, she fell in a coma and died two days later."

$100 REWARD OFFERED FOR RETURN OF STOLEN CAR

Jack Yager, 830 Summit Avenue, today offered $100 reward to the person who finds his 1950 model car which he reported stolen last Tuesday from his garage.

When he last saw the car, it had a green visor over the cracked windshield. It is a grey Pontiac sedan bearing license number 86-726.
