SEARCH BEING MADE FOR AVIATORS

McGEER DISCUSSES B.C. METHODS IN GOING AFTER NEEDS

No News Yet of Airmen Who Left France Sunday to Fly Across Atlantic

BOSTON, May 11.—Naval coastguard vessels after 24 hours intensive search from Boston to Newfoundland sent no word of any trace being found of the French trans-Atlantic flyers, Nungesser and Gollé or of their plane the "Whitebird," which left France for New York Sunday morning. Overnight there was an ominous silence as radio operators at the navy yard here listened for some messages from navy tugs which had sped northward on the quest yesterday.

NEW MENNONITES WISH TO BECOME CANADIAN CITIZENS

WINNIPEG, May 11.—Four hundred Mennonites left southern Manitoba recently. The farms vacated by them are already taken over by newcomers from southern Russia. These newcomers come from districts which have been separated from the main Mennonite colony for fifty years. They have more advanced ideas, and one of the first things they did on arrival here was to investigate the educational facilities for their children. They wish to become Canadianized as soon as possible, but their predecessors were in Canada fifty years, and left without becoming Canadians.

McGeer Tells British Columbia Her Political Methods Wrong in Matter of Representation

Alberta Standing Shoulder to Shoulder With This Province in Struggle for Removal of Mountain Scale

VANCOUVER, May 11.—"British Columbia may well take a lesson from the manner in which the maritime and prairie provinces have obtained satisfaction in their transportation claims at Ottawa," declared G. G. McGeer on his return to Vancouver yesterday. "British Columbia," Mr. McGeer said, "with her mountain scale of rates still unremoved, carrying singlehanded the huge burden of the P.G.E. Railway, with no move in sight to provide a transportation outlet for the great Peace River district which would justify the existence of the P.G.E., with C.N.R. uncompleted, and no hotel built here in spite of the fact that an agreement for these things was made and paid for years ago, has much to learn from these other provinces in the matter of her representation at Ottawa."

Mr. McGeer said he was unable to forecast when the judgment of the Railway Board on the general rates case would be given but he deplored the criticism of the time taken and the extent of the evidence, saying that the issues were of the utmost importance to the whole of Canada and had to be inquired into thoroughly. He said that the outstanding feature was the point of view of British Columbia and the fact that for the first time in 25 years this province stood shoulder to shoulder with Alberta in every phase of the struggle for the removing of the mountain scale.

IRISH FREE STATE LOSES ALSO VALERA

NEW YORK, May 11.—Mr. Justice Peters of the Supreme Court dismissed the suit of the Irish Free State claiming to be the successor of the Irish Republic and entitled to bonds valued at two and a half million dollars subscribed for in the United States for the Republican cause.

The court also denied the claim of De Valera and his co-trustees to the bonds and ruled that the bonds be sold and the proceeds revert to the original subscribers.

Reorganization in Customs Services Adding to Revenue; Changes Just Now Announced

OTTAWA, May 11.—For the first four months of the present year the customs revenue was $52,000,000 compared with $43,000,000 for the same period in 1926, according to a statement issued by the department.

The statement further declares "the present indications point to a general upward trend in customs revenue for the fiscal year now entered upon. This is due largely to the placing of the customs service on an efficient, businesslike basis."

Powers of customs officers are considerably increased by a new provision in the Customs Act. In future, any customs officer or person having powers of a customs officer, may arrest without warrant anyone found committing or who is suspected of having committed any offence declared by the Customs Act to be an indictable offence. In the event of a customs officer having reasonable and probable grounds to believe that an indictable offence has been committed, whether it has or not, he is justified in arresting the offending person without a warrant.

KANSAS CITY, May 11.—Prospects for a steadily increasing death list in the huge checker board scoured out of the middle west by a series of tornadoes and storms in which at least 228 persons perished and more than nine hundred were injured today added to the trials of relief workers.

While the casualty lists in Texas, Illinois, Kansas and Louisiana showed little change, the debris razed communities in Missouri and Arkansas yield more bodies and last night several of the injured died in hospital.

REASSURING NEWS OF DEVELOPMENTS

Prince Rupert people will feel reassured at the news that the Seal Cove mill is really to be built and that the work will commence soon. They will also be pleased to know that a lot of work is to be done this year on the road between here and Galloway Rapids which will employ a large number of men. Both of these undertakings will be of benefit to the city. The member for the district has also stated that a reconnaissance of the possible routes between here and Terrace will be made this summer so that it may be possible to continue the road work without making the mistake of building in the wrong direction.

Addison says that nonsense is something which is neither true nor false. It can neither be answered nor contradicted. Good for married people, probably.

UNITED IRELAND POSSIBLE

Judging from the present trend of affairs in the Old Country a United Ireland may be possible in the near future. An editorial on this subject in an esteemed contemporary is worth copying:

As one looks back ten or fifteen years, there is scarcely any direction in which the constructive peace thought of enlightened endeavor has manifested itself more remarkably than in Ireland. For centuries the Irish were enmeshed in the belief that a state of enmity and hatred was an almost inevitable condition of their existence because of the apparently distressing experiences that had long been their lot. Consequently, the fact that there is an Irish Free State actually established and giving complete satisfaction to many inhabitants of the island, and that there is talk of a future united Ireland, seems almost unbelievable to some observers.

It was in the course of a speech before the Queen's University Club, in London, recently, that Lord Birkenhead gave expression to this hope of union, and praised the statesmanship, patriotism, integrity and courage of William T. Cosgrave, Kevin O'Higgins, and Lord Craigavon, as helping to forward it. He did not profess, he said, to "work out the future of two populations whom historical irony has placed on one island." Rather he felt gratefully proud of the part that he had played in bringing to pass the Irish party—prouder, in fact, than he felt of anything else that he had helped to bring about in the course of his public life.

And why should this hope of a united Ireland be considered so entirely beyond the pale of possibility. From the standpoint of what is naturally to be expected, there is scarcely anything that could be more normal than that two peoples living within the close confines of a small island should compose their differences and live at peace. And there is surely nothing more unnatural than that such peoples should live in a state of almost constant animosity. What Lord Birkenhead said, therefore, had great weight, for he urged that if men of the quality of the present governors of Southern Ireland and Northern Ireland continued to wield the reins in each part of the island they must insensibly and gradually come together so that the future would see once again a united Ireland.

If Prince Rupert is to succeed it will be because of the people who have faith in her. Faith is necessary to any cause.

PLAYING THE GAME

British people are noted for their ability to "Play the Game." They like to treat their opponents fairly. Here is what the Toronto Globe says of some who do not always carry out that principle:

The benefit of having been brought up on cricket is again impressing itself on the impartial mind by the invitations being sent from Great Britain to some of the most frantic Anglophobes of the United States to "come over and see us in our own home." The Earl of Derby expressed his eagerness to play the host to Senator Borah, and promised to help him to gain a real understanding of the Briton's point of view on every question, foreign and domestic, in which the Idaho statesman is interested. And now Lord Lee of Fareham is pressing "Big Bill" Thompson, Chicago's Mayor, to "go over" as his guest. "I promise him," Lord Lee declares, "that he will have every opportunity to study England's warlike preparations, especially the preparations she is making against Chicago."

Now, that is a good sporting offer, and no doubt were Mayor Thompson a cricketer he would accept it. But it is to be feared that Chicago's Chief Magistrate knows more about politics as they are conducted in the Windy City than he does about the English national game, which disciplines its devotees in the principles of good sportsmanship and fairness to opponents.

"Big Bill" lost one election in Chicago, and he is determined he will not lose another. So he has decided to mould United States opinion on world affairs in Chicago's City Hall, and to mould it in accordance with the anti-British views of the 100 per cent. Americans who have gravitated there from the various countries of Southern Europe where they were born. He has discovered that George Washington's picture and the story of his destruction of the cherry tree have been left out of United States school histories, and he blames King George for it. The development of that personal quarrel with the British Monarch constitutes the sheet anchor of "Big Bill's" hope of permanently occupying the City Hall. Accordingly, he dare not go to Britain, or even contemplate the possibility of defending his wickets in any game such as Lord Lee has invited him to play on an English green.

PRESBYTERIAN GEN. ASSEMBLY

ANNUAL GATHERING OF CHURCH REPRESENTATIVES TO BE HELD IN JUNE

TORONTO, May 11.—(Canadian Press)—There is one outstanding date in the calendar of a Presbyterian: that of the General Assembly.

The week of this long-established Presbyterian Parliament—the fifty-third in the annals of the Presbyterian Church in Canada—marks the culmination of a year's work and the setting up of program and policy for the coming year. Fifty-three means an historic continuity from 1875 when the different branches of this communion united as one Church, which has gone from strength to strength, and which, even after a division of their ranks caused by the Church Union separation—"disruption" come call it—has a communicant strength that exceeds the membership of 1875.

Those who regard the modern Church as merely an occasional gathering for a Sunday service or a mid-week prayer meeting are mistaken. A modern church is a large and many-sided enterprise and when the program of a thousand or more congregations is regarded then it becomes "big business." So the agenda of the General Assembly is an imposing document that will take a week of intensive work on the part of its 300 or 400 commissioners to deal with and dispose of. The personnel of the "House" will be half clerical and half laymen. They will meet in Stratford, Ont., during the first week of June next in Knox Church, which has been newly decorated for the notable gathering.

HOME MISSIONS

The program will, however, be not only Dominion-wide but almost world-wide in its scope, for this historic old denomination believes in and supports a great missionary enterprise, home and foreign in the old terminology; national and overseas in more modern phrases. One report will claim that this Church is carrying on a home mission work greater, relative to its strength, than ever before, including an interest in many of the diverse human elements in our varied population from coast to coast, both of English speech and of non-Anglo-Saxon stock. Ukrainians and Hungarians, Scandinavians and Persians, Chinese and Hindus are among the different nationalities in which Presbyterians are vitally interested. Who shall say that this is not the best type of patriotism, that of helping to make a nation Christian?

FOREIGN MISSIONS

Beyond the boundaries of our far-flung Dominion a world map of missions will indicate Presbyterian activity, in many distant lands in the mission fields allocated to this Church under an amicable division made by the Presbyterian and the United Churches. The former thus has a missionary responsibility for three million of a non-Christian population of that British possession; in North Formosa, continuing the work inaugurated by George Leslie Mackay—the "Black-Bearded Barbarian" as this stalwart son of Zorra is known and in two areas of Central India—the Bill field, still superintended by Rev. James Buchanan, and the Gwalior field, a monument to the life work of another grand old man of missions in Rev. John Wylie.

Rev. Jonathan Goforth, another pioneer, represents his Church in China and Manchuria, during these troubled days there, as one who knows well both country and people. If the missionary program of the Women's Missionary Society, in Canada and in the above-mentioned fields is added, as it should be, with its large staff of trained workers, the total undertaking is an important and extensive one worthy of the Church at its back and its long and honorable missionary history.

SANKEY APPEAL MAY NOT COME UP TILL OCTOBER IN OTTAWA

Counsel for Joseph Sankey, Port Simpson Indian, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Miss Loretta Chisholm at Port Simpson a year ago, are attempting to have the appeal to the Supreme Court of Canada at Ottawa heard at a session of that court which is now in progress. Should the court accede to this request, the hearing will take place this month; otherwise, it will not be heard until October. It is expected that a further reprieve will be given Sankey, whose execution is now set for May 23.

The Bald Mountain Copper Group on Porcher Island has been acquired by New York capital and work is about to start on the property which is considered quite promising.

RACE QUESTION SOUTH AFRICA

BILLS BEFORE UNION ASSEMBLY DEAL WITH STATUS OF BLACKS IN THAT COUNTRY

LONDON, May 11.—(Canadian Press).—New interest in the Union of South Africa in its native problem, rather than reactionary native policy, is evidenced in the four bills introduced by Premier J. B. M. Hertzog and known collectively as the Native Administration Bill. These after having been given first reading in the Union Assembly were referred to a select committee for consideration and evidence will be heard and full public discussion allowed before they are again placed before the Assembly, so that when they reappear they will doubtless be changed in some particulars. There are six million natives in the Union, a million and a half whites, half a million Indians and 160,000 colored inhabitants (Malay, etc.).

IMPORTANT EXPERIMENT

It is quite clear that South Africa is embarking upon a tremendously important experiment affecting the relations between black and white, in the Union. It is an experiment which will have far-reaching consequences, not only in South Africa itself but on the territories to the north, for which Great Britain is directly responsible, and on color line problems all over the world. Philip Kerr, who has investigated the question, says in the Observer:

The four bills now being threshed out represent the solution reached by the Nationalist-Labor pact government in the native problem, which still remains the dominant question in the Union. The Bills in effect are:

FOUR BILLS

(1) The Native Franchise Bill proposes to take away from the native in Cape Colony the right, which he now has if he possesses the necessary qualifications, to vote for members of parliament on the same terms as the white man. It substitutes seven constituencies for the whole Union in which the natives, on a restricted franchise, will elect Europeans to represent them in the Assembly. These representatives will have restricted powers of voting. All these restrictions are believed necessary by the white population, which fears that equal franchise might end in a majority of native voters, and which dislikes dragging the native into all the political controversies of a country where the difference in civilization is still so wide.

(2) The Native Councils Bill provides for a Union Native Council of 35 members elected by natives on a restricted franchise, through which the natives will be able to discuss their own affairs and voice their own opinions.

(3) The Native Lands Act purports to secure more land for exclusive native use—which is urgently needed—and, at the same time, to deal with natives working or "squating" on white-owned farms.

(4) The fourth bill makes provision for the ultimate incorporation of the "Cape Colored" (half-caste and Malay population), some 500,000 in number, among the enfranchised citizens of the Union.

FEATHERS WORRIED JUDGE IN TORONTO

Down Filled Air and Clung to Counsel and Spectators of Court

TORONTO, May 11.—Feathers featured a certain recent case in court. They filled the air and got on garments of counsel and spectators. A large feather quilt was unfolded before Judge Morson and feathers were taken out in handfuls by lawyers and witnesses. The story of the quilt was tragic. Mrs. Yetta Harris had carefully kept goose-down for years and cleaned it and put it away. Then when she had enough she gave two bags of beautiful down to an individual to have two quilts made. When she got them they were heavy. Ripping one open she found dirty chicken feathers mixed with her down. She sued the man and got

BRINGING UP FATHER

FOUGHT BEAR THREE DAYS

READS LIKE FICTION BUT WAS NOT THAT TO MAN WHO FACED GRIZZLY

EDMONTON, May 11.—A special despatch to the Journal says: Fighting off for three days, a grizzly bear which had taken possession of his camp, while he himself was delirious from the pain of a .44 Colt revolver bullet in the left lung, was the experience of Morris Paquette, a trapper of the Liard river district.

Paquette was found by his partner, Morris Worth, three days after the accidental shooting. Worth shot the bear, and the wounded man comfortable, and later, Paquette was able to leave for Hudson Hope, en route to the nearest doctor at Pouce Coupe.

The story Paquette told to his partner, reads like a "wild and woolly" fiction yarn—only it happens to be true.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

Both men were working on trap lines, one following one line of traps, and one following another, going in opposite directions, and meeting again at their cabin, every few days, when the round of the circle had been made.

Paquette was but three or four miles from the cabin, outward bound over his trap-line, when he stopped to take a drink of water from a creek.

In stooping, his Colt's revolver slipped from its holster and struck a rock, causing the weapon to go off. The heavy bullet entered Paquette's left lung just above the heart.

Though bleeding profusely and suffering great pain, the trapper contrived to crawl back to the cabin which he had so recently left, there to await as best he might the return of his partner.

And in the meantime, a huge grizzly, realizing with the uncanny and unerring precision of the creatures of the wild, that nothing was to be feared from the presence of a sick white man, decided to take possession of the camp.

Each day was a fight between the trapper, delirious and weak from loss of blood and lack of food and sleep, and the grizzly bear, which kept up an unceasing effort to enter the cabin.

DOGS KEPT BEAR AT BAY Only the vigilance of Paquette's dogs kept the animal at bay or the outcome might have been a terrible one.

On the fourth day of the battle between the delicious trapper and the grizzly, Worth, having completed the circle of his trap line, returned to the cabin, to find his partner a very sick man.

He dropped the grizzly before the animal had a chance to make its escape, and then turning nurse, soon had Paquette comfortable and sleeping.

After a day's rest, Paquette was able to leave for Hudson Hope, en route to the doctor at Pouce Coupe.

KING'S PLATE FIELD RACES

TORONTO CUP ALSO IMPORTANT EVENT AT SPRING MEETING OF O.J.C.—RICH STEEPLE-CHASES

TORONTO, May 11.—(Canadian Press) —One of the finest fields of thoroughbreds ever raised in the Province of Ontario will race in the 68th renewal of the King's Plate, historic feature of the Spring meet of the Ontario Jockey Club at Woodbine Park. The race as usual is run on opening day, which this year is May 21. The King's Plate is the oldest fixture on the continent and one of the most popular and the substantial increase in value—there is $15,000 added this year—makes the race of even greater interest to owners and turfgoers.

Seven or eight among the 40 nominees appear to share popular approval. J. P. White's Listerine filly by Rockville, Miss Jean, earned bracelets four times as a two-year-old. Quartzite, the Seagram stable's four-year-old, is eligible, because he did not have a win last year. Other prominent candidates are R. H. New's Troutlet and Taurus, the latter a four-year-old; Seagram's Gay Parisian; J. C. Fletcher's Lazibones; W. Allan's Matchmaker and Mrs. E. Glasco's Capitol. The King's Plate and Toronto Cup

40 years old. Three previous winners are again entered: Dunk's Green (1925), Guineamp (1924), and Lieutenant Seas (1922). Guineamp also won the Aintree steeplechase in 1925, and like most of the Woodbine 'chase aspirants is nominated in the shorter steeplechase. Other important races which go to make the Woodbine spring meet one of the outstanding events of the turf, are the Woodstock Plate, $5,000 added; 1 1-6 miles, for three-year-olds; Breeders' Stake for Canadian-bred 3-year-olds with $5,000 added, 1 1-6 miles; King Edward Gold Cup, with $5,000 added, 1 1-6 miles, 3-year-olds and up and the Cornnaught Cup handicap, $2,000 added, 1 1-6 miles.

SPORT CHAT

Now that the city has expressed its willingness to convey a site for the structure, the way is open for some real action in the matter of the establishment of a gymnasium and swimming tank in Prince Rupert. There will have to be some responsible body formed to take over the property and one of its first duties will be to devise ways and means to raise the several thousand dollars that will be required to erect and equip a suitable building. For a cause as worthy as this one, there should be a generous response from the public in the way of subscribing money and otherwise lending their support. The site is as central a one as could be obtained and it is to be hoped that it will be used well. There should be no delay now in bringing into being a facility here that has long been needed.

With the leading teams—St. Louis and New York—losing more than they have been gaining lately and the cellar aggregations—Brooklyn and Cincinnati—showing a distinct upward movement, the baseball race in the National league is tightening up and it may still be said to be anybody's old pennant. A little consistent winning or losing might now, in a few days, bring about some signal changes in the entire outlook. In the American League, the situation at the top is equally uncertain with seven teams not so very far apart. All the fun here has been so far at the expense of the Bostonians who will have to do some tall hustling if they are to get out of the basement even before the end of the season. They are now thirteen games behind Cleveland which is hanging around the 500 mark even though it is the seventh team in the standing.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

APPROVE BRITISH TRADES UNION BILL

Victoria Conservative Paper Endorses Law Recently Passed by British Parliament

The Victoria Colonist, one of the oldest Conservative papers in the province, endorses the British Trades Union Bill in an editorial as follows:

The Trade Union Bill which has just passed its second reading in the British House of Commons has become involved, as it were, in a cloud of controversy. Probably the Laborites are fully justified in using it as a political weapon, and in doing so they have been successful in a measure in beclouding the real points at issue. What they are not justified in doing is in indulging in mis-statements and in endeavoring to pose before Labor in other countries as being placed in the role of martyrs. It is being described as class legislation. The Budget is the same inasmuch as it has levied new taxes on the rich. Most legislation, in some form or other, is of the class variety but the Trade Union Bill is of a character designed to afford a nation protection against the dislocation of its economic life and the consequent infliction of all round suffering. In this particular it is national legislation. It clearly enacts, and perhaps in a way re-enacts, that certain principles with which the vast majority of people are in agreement shall be established, namely:

In the Matter of the Delta Copper Company Limited (N.P.L.)

TAKE NOTICE that an application will be made before the presiding Judge in Chambers at the Court House at Prince Rupert, British Columbia, on Tuesday, the 20th day of May, A.D. 1927, at the hour of ten thirty (10.30 a.m.) o'clock in the forenoon for an Order permitting the above named Company to be restored to the Register of Companies in the Province of British Columbia, in the office of the Registrar of Companies, Victoria, B.C.

DATED at Prince Rupert this 19th day of April, A.D. 1927.

- (1) That a general strike or lockout shall be illegal.
- (2) That a man or woman shall not be intimidated so far as the law can protect them.
- (3) That no trade unionist, again so far as the law can operate, shall be compelled to subscribe to the funds of a political party with which he is not in agreement.

Before the Bill becomes law its provisions will be made to apply to owners' organizations as well as to trade unions, and that is as it should be. A national lockout would be as dangerous for the nation as a national strike. So far as the prevention of intimidation is concerned it is merely a reaffirmation of the liberty of the subject, a liberty which Labor, as well as all other classes of a community, should honor and protect. The protection afforded under the new legislation against the forcible imposition of a levy for political purposes is a matter where the freedom of the individual is concerned. No man or woman should be forced by any political party to contribute to its funds. That should be an axiom of democracy. Trade unionists, as well as all others, should be protected from the tyranny of their own executives and the good sense of the British people will approve this. The measure, in reality, is one to save both the nation and the individual from coercion and as such must appeal to any liberty-loving people.

HOSPITAL DAY TO BE OBSERVED HERE

Public is Being Invited to Visit Institution Tomorrow Afternoon

National Hospital Day will be quietly observed at the Prince Rupert General Hospital tomorrow. The institution will be thrown open for public inspection between the hours of 2 and 4 in the afternoon but, owing to the place being particularly busy now with an unusually large number of patients, there will be no program and refreshments will not be served. Members of the board will be on hand to show visitors around.

The hospital board, at the meeting last night, took the view that these sufficiently interested in hospital work would call without special attractions. The board was in receipt of a lengthy letter from Dr. H. C. Winch of Hazelton, regional director of the Hospital Day committee, offering suggestions for the observance of the day.

HOSPITAL OPERATED AT LOSS IN APRIL

Deficit for Month was $665.97 — Only $1,000 is Still Owed on Nurses' Home

During the month of April, Prince Rupert General Hospital collections totaled $3,706.18 and disbursements were $4,372.15, showing a deficit of $665.97. There were 1391 hospital days at an average cost per day of $3.64. Another $1,000 had been paid off on the Nurses' Home, leaving a balance still owing of $1,000 which is not due until November 1, 1928.

Such was the report of the finance committee presented at the meeting of the hospital board last night by Aid. G. P. Tinker, chairman of the finance committee. A recommendation that two accounts be written off was accepted.

ALICE ARM

Many Anxox people will spend May 24 in Alice Arm. The Moose orchestra is coming on the night preceding and will play at a dance. The store baseball team will be here to play a game with the locals.

The launch Awake made a trip to Hastings Arm last week with half a ton of powder to be used in development of the Saddle property. The government will appropriate $1,000 for the purpose of assisting in building a trail to the mine.

Prospectors are steadily becoming more active here. In 1926 assessment work on 443 claims was recorded while the year preceding the figure was 377.

Ore is being mined and stored at the Wolf Mine, less than five minutes walk from town, by J. Fiva and P. Peterson. The work is being financed by the operators.

The provincial government will soon start trail work in this region. Side-walks on First Street will be extended to W. A. Talbot, assistant district engineer, who was here from Anxox last week, and, as soon as snow is off the ground, the pack trail on the northeast fork of the Kitsault River will be extended three miles and the trail on Roundy Creek to the Keystone will also be repaired. It is expected that several trails in the Upper Kitsault country

TOPLEY CONSOLIDATED MINING AND DEVELOPMENT COMPANY, LIMITED
(Non-Personal Liability)

CAPITAL $250,000 - ONE MILLION SHARES AT 25c PAR
(Shares Absolutely Non-assessable)

This Company is formed to develop extensive holdings consisting of fifty-five mineral claims owned outright or under option, adjoining and extending from the now famous Richfield mine at Topley. In less than ten months this district has become recognized as the biggest sensation in the mining world in recent years, and

BIG MONEY WILL BE MADE

Ore bodies on the holdings of this Company are not a matter for expensive search. Development work has already started on one vein alone that can be seen for 2,000 feet and has a width varying from four to twenty feet. This property promises to be a shipper in the very near future. The Topley Consolidated Mining and Development Company, Limited, is

Now Offering Its First Issue of 100,000 Shares At 25c Per Share For Immediate Development

Residents of the district should not overlook this splendid opportunity—they are given first chance to participate in this share issue. With the strategic position of these properties right in the heart of the new Richfield camp, and with excellent showings of good ore, there is every reason to believe that shares will increase to many times their present value in the next few months.

NOT MORE THAN 100,000 shares will be taken from the treasury on this issue, and

Every Dollar Is For Development Work

Local men are behind this undertaking—local spirit is behind it—Frank H. Taylor, the original discoverer of Richfield, is behind it and is in charge of development. The public is assured of this: That good mining practice and honest business methods will be carried out in the expenditure of every dollar raised. These local officers are now endeavoring to finance this Company locally to avoid the usual heavy commissions on sale of stock. No commissions are being paid on this issue of Topley Consolidated stock.

Our Prospectus Will Give You Full Information

All applications for stock must be made to the Secretary. Stock may be purchased on terms of all cash, or one-quarter cash and balance in three monthly payments of one-quarter each.

"NORTHERN LIGHT" WITH SEA SCOUTS ABOARD IS ABOUT DUE HERE

Intimation has been received here that the auxiliary diesel schooner "Northern Light," now in this neighborhood northbound, may call at Prince Rupert on her way to the Arctic. The boat is owned by John Borden, of Chicago, and it is interesting to note that the crew consists of a party of American sea scouts. Mr. Borden spent several months hunting for young men who would be equipped both mentally and physically for undertaking what is quite a hazardous journey to the Arctic Circle, and finally found exactly the type of young men he wanted among the sea scouts. On their trip north from San Francisco they have called in at Victoria and Vancouver at which ports they were enthusiastically greeted by the respective troops of B.C. Sea Scouts.

The "Northern Light" which is probably one of the largest and finest auxiliary schooners on the Pacific coast was launched on January 18 last from the yards of W. F. Stone & Son, at Oakland, California. She has been specially built for Mr. Borden from designs by H. C. Grebe and Co. of Chicago. The design of the vessel is very similar to the Gloucester fisherman. There is no bowsprit, but a raised quarter deck ard top gallant rail aft. As the boat is intended for Arctic cruising, considerable deadrise has been given the hull so that the boat will lift up if pinched in the ice. Her power equipment consists of two 120 two-cycle Fairbanks-Morse diesel engines which will enable her to be driven at 10 1/2 m.p.h. and in addition she has a total sail area of 7563 square feet. Her length overall is 140 feet; beam 30 feet, and draft 15 feet. The construction is heavy, being in excess of the requirements of Lloyds and the American Bureau of Shipping. For protection from ice an outside sheathing of ironbark has been fitted to withstand the shock of breaking ice. The vessel is divided into five watertight compartments consisting of forepeak, crew's quarters, engine room, owner's quarters, and after peak. The equipment includes electric windlass, electric boat and sail hoists, oil engine-driven lighting plants, hot and cold water system, and hot water heating system. She is further equipped with radio in a small deckhouse aft of the forward mast.

The visit of this vessel should prove of great interest to Prince Rupert people, and especially to the boys of the Navy League and the Naval Reserve.

MRS. VANCE NEW FAIR SECRETARY

APPOINTED AT MEETING OF EXHIBITION BOARD LAST NIGHT—NO DECISION YET ON STAMPEDE

Mrs. W. D. Vance was appointed secretary-stenographer of the Fair Board at a meeting last night of the directors of the Northern British Columbia Agricultural & Industrial Association. Management and administration will be handled by the directors themselves, the new arrangement abolishing the office of managing secretary on the grounds of economy.

There was a further report from the sports and attractions committee on the matter of staging stampede features at the forthcoming exhibition but sufficient details have not yet been obtained to permit of a definite decision in this matter. In the course of the next week or ten days there will be another meeting of the board to finally consider this question.

The prize list committee reported its work well advanced and the book will soon be ready for issuance.

A membership drive will shortly be launched, the holder of the lucky ticket to be awarded a lot on Second Avenue, next to the Major Gibson building, which was recently acquired by the board. One dollar membership tickets will be sold and books of six for $5 will be issued.

GYRO CLUB HOLDS MONTHLY MEETING

Visit From District Governor Expected This Month—Will Enter Team in Baseball League.

The local Gyro Club is expecting a visit from E. V. Finland of Victoria, district governor, on May 25 and, for that occasion, it was decided at the luncheon today to have two gatherings—one, the regular club luncheon at noon and the other, a dance party in the I.O.D.E. Hall in the evening. Gyrettes and friends will be invited to the latter function and there will also be guests at the noon meeting.

The club received a report from its playground committee stating that the Acropolis Hill playground project was now at a point where the city might allocate a site therefor. The committee on the recent hodson dance reported that some $325 had been realized by that function for the playground fund.

The club decided to send a delegate to the district convention at Victoria in June, foregoing representation at the international convention in Denver.

It was decided to enter a team in the Senior Baseball League bearing the club's name this season. George D. Tite was named manager.

Dr. Joseph R. Gosse was elected to membership.

A cigarette box was raffied, Dr. L. W. Kergin being the winner.
