FOUR INDIANS DEAD ON NAAS

Were Poisoned on Eating Fish Eggs From Granite Pail Near Arrandale

Eating of stale salmon eggs has caused the death of four Indians in the vicinity of Arrandale on the Naas River and two others are in a precarious condition according to reports reaching the city this morning.

An old woman had the fish eggs in a granite pail and it was from this that the Indians ate. They soon sickened with the result stated.

The incident occurred three days ago.

The dead are Bob Lincoln, Mrs. Edward Robinson, Mrs. Walter Haldane and an old woman, all of Arrandale.

It is the usual method of the Indians to leave the fish eggs in a stream till they wash white, then burying them in the ground. In this case the use of the granite pail kept the poison in with fatal results.

The tragedy is being investigated by the Indian department and Kincolth doctors are making analyses.

DAILY EDITION Tuesday, Aug. 16, 1927

DEATH OF E. H. GARY

As head of the great United States Steel Corporation, Elbert H. Gary, who died yesterday, constantly was confronted with two problems of the most vital importance to the two directly opposite groups of people concerned in them. One was the successful direction of the huge business organization with assets of nearly $2,000,000,000 and involving the investments of thousands of persons; the other, the human consideration of the more than 300,000 employees of the steel corporation and its subsidiary companies. That he was eminently successful in dealing with both problems from the standpoint of employer and employe was proved by the tributes that were paid to him by the leading men of the industrial world who made up the steel corporation, and those who worked in the ranks of its various companies.

One of the most pleasing tributes ever paid to Mr. Gary was at the annual meeting of the American Iron and Steel Institute at New York in October, 1919. The steel strike had been in progress several weeks and the steel men, nearly 1,600 of them, had gathered to hear what Mr. Gary had to say. His entrance into the gathering was the signal for a remarkable demonstration. These staid, solid business men, catching sight of the leader of their industry, broke into a spontaneous salvo of cheers, which were continued several minutes.

On the other hand many stories could be related to illustrate the feeling between the head of the steel corporation and its employes. A characteristic one involves the strike of elevator operators, if office buildings in New York several years ago. During the strike every man was at his post in the Empire Building, which had been purchased by the United States Steel Corporation shortly before the strike. Asked for the reason for the men being at their posts, one of the operators replied:

"As soon as the corporation bought this building our wages were raised. We are getting as much as or more than the unions are demanding. Judge Gary has treated us 'white,' and you can just bet your life we are going to stick by him, strike or no strike."

During the years he was head of the steel corporation Mr. Gary negotiated and consummated many important matters, but perhaps the one that gave the greatest measure of satisfaction to his country generally was the elimination of the 12-hour day in the steel industry.

HIS RISE WAS PHENOMENAL

The rise of Mr. Gary to be the chief executive officer of the United States Steel Corporation—he was chairman of the executive committee and later of the board of directors and of the finance committee—may be said to have been due to an incident in the practice of law, for which he was educated. In 1898 as general counsel for and a director of the Illinois Steel Company, he was called upon to take charge of the organization of the Federal Steel Company, a merger of the Illinois and other companies. It was he who first suggested the amalgamation and it was here for the first time he was brought in touch with the late J. Pierpont Morgan, whose financial assistance was being sought in the formation of the new company. Gary's business ability so impressed Mr. Morgan and his associates that they insisted upon Mr. Gary being made president of the Federal Steel Company.

Gary wanted to have a steel company that could compete with Germany and Great Britain, which were dominating the international market. Mr. Morgan finally decided to give his backing to the formation of a giant steel merger along the lines Gary had proposed. With the organization of the United States Steel Corporation the business created by Mr. Carnegie was purchased in 1901 for $492,000,000, and in all 10 large companies were taken into the merger with a combined capital of $867,550,394. It was the biggest undertaking in the industrial world and the financial world gasped when the corporation announced its plans for an authorized capital of $1,100,000,000 in stock and $304,000,000 in bonds. Charles M. Schwab became president and Mr. Gary chairman of the executive committee.

Mr. Gary was known as a harmonizer in the steel industry. When he became a leading figure in the work there was bitter warfare among competitors and between employers and employes, but he worked constantly to bring them closer together. In all his efforts, no matter how great the task, he was guided by a framed motto that hung in his office: "It can be done."

LABOR'S FOE, YET FRIEND

While Mr. Gary was known as a foe to union labor, nevertheless he always was interested in the welfare and human side of the corporation's employes. It was at his behest that the United States Steel Corporation adopted the plan of voluntary compensation to injured workmen long before such action was made compulsory by the laws of many states. He also was largely responsible for the corporation's extensive system of welfare work for the benefit of employes. In this work, which included among other things, playgrounds, schools, clubs, gardens and pensions, the corporation in the 10 years between 1912 and 1922 expended more than $108,000,000.

HORSEMEN FOR PRINCE RUPERT

Stampede Draws Participants From the Great Hinterland of the Bulkley, Nechako and Cariboo Ranges

At the cost of many thousands of dollars arrangements are now perfected for the staging of Prince Rupert's first stampede.

An energetic committee, in co-operation with J. J. McNeil of Telkwa, known throughout the district as "Barbeque Jack," has secured the necessary riders, hazers, cincha and chute men together with three carloads of wild range mustangs, cow ponies, steers and cows.

The bucking stock are untrained buckers, raw as they make 'em, straight off the ranges, fleet of foot, vicious in movement, and eyes wild, white and weird.

Rounding up such a herd, mixed, wild and scattered, has taken over three weeks with the best of cow men it was possible to hire. Their camp is now established on the slopes of Grouse Mountain, 15 miles east of Telkwa. It is there the wild 'uns are now busy rarin', pullin', buckin', rollin', and breakin' halter shanks.

For three days cowboys and cowgirls will match their skill and pluck against these raw mounts, cayoses, mustangs, cowponies, steers and cows—the latter mentioned being far more tricky to ride than a northern steer.

The riders are the best that can be secured. Heading the list is Marvin Curtis, the champion broncho rider of B.C. Marvin won this belt at Williams Lake stampede on July 1. One of his brothers, Ray, who promises with the experience of a few more rodeo arenas to eclipse his brother, will also be on deck. Also Doug Curtis, the 1926 champion steer rider. Doug, is a marvel, and every woman and child in Prince Rupert will fall in love with him, as it is no small distinction to be the holder of such a belt at the age of nine years. Among the other cowboys will be the famous McAbee, John David (Indian champion of the Bulkley Valley), Hutchins from the Chilootin, Eric Strimbolt and Alkali Pete of Rainbow Creek.

GIRL RIDER

In the constellation of riders, the star that will outshine all others is Ollie Curtis, the famous Cariboo cowgirl, who defies any steer, cow or bronch to throw her. For the past two years she has battled with "the worst and wildest" in the Cariboo country. Ollie can be relied upon to give a performance that will capture the hearts of all on-lookers. Plucky and pretty, daring and delightful are the adjectives that best describe her riding.

At the outset, some considered the activities and wild dream of the committee to be hazardous in the extreme. But now such an attractive program of horses, steers, cowboys and cowgirls—the latter being of proven ability and ranking high as exponents in their particular calling have been arranged for—everyone has only words of the highest appreciation for the committee's efforts and the entire coast will make special efforts to view the broncho and steer riding, wild cow milking contests, rope work and trick riding which will be presented at Prince Rupert's first stampede.

ARMY CONGRESS GREAT SUCCESS

Marred Only by Death of John W. McKay, Son of Capt. Mark McKay of Kitselas

PROMOTIONS CONFERRED

With some 150 workers present from various parts of Northern and Central British Columbia, the annual congress of the Salvation Army at Port Essington on Saturday and Sunday was a most successful gathering according to Capt. Stobart, local commandant, who returned to the city on yesterday afternoon's train after attending the meeting. Marring the proceedings with a pall of gloom, however, was the untimely death of John W. McKay, son of Capt. Mark McKay of Kitselas, who was drowned when he fell off a float at Carlisle Cannery as he was about to embark for Port Essington to attend the congress.

The congress was presided over by Lt.-Col. J. S. McLean of Vancouver, territorial revivalist for Western Canada, who was assisted by Major Walter L. Carruthers of Wrangell, divisional commander for Alaska and Northern British Columbia.

Promotions included that of Envoy Mark McKay of Kitselas to the rank of captain. This was the second promotion in Northern British Columbia of a native to the rank of captain. The other native captain is Andrew McKay of Port Simpson.

Among other promotions were the following:

Treasurer Clifton of Metlakatla to the rank of envoy, replacing Envoy Auckland who has retired from active service.

Sergeant Major Jeffries of Andimault to envoy.

Sergeant Major Ben Brown of Port Essington to envoy.

All wore frocks similarly fashioned of organdie, coral, green and mauve shades, respectively. Large rosettes of self material adorned the skirts, and black velvet streamers tied in a single bow at the neckline at the back, and draped to the hemline. A flower ornament and large organdie hat to match the dress completed each charming ensemble. Hat trimmings were finely braided organdie. They carried pastel shaded sweet peas with asparagus fern.

Mrs. Paterson, the bride's mother, was handsomely gowned in sea green canton crepe in semi-tailored mode with overskirt of cut pleats. An open-work girdle lent a blouse effect to the bodice. The sleeves and collar were also completed with the same distinctive pattern. Her hat was large and of blonde velvet with applied leaves touched with gold. She wore also a corsage bouquet of Ophelia roses.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the rooms were lovely with baskets of gladioli and ferns. Pink and white sweet peas, tulle and silver appointments were chosen for the tea table, and tall pink tapers in silver sconces for lighting the tea room. The bridal cake was in four tiers, and was circled with tulle.

Bride's Aunts Assist

The bride's aunts presided at the tea table. Mrs. T. W. Paterson of Victoria, Mrs. Alec Paterson, Mrs. A. Davie, Mrs. E. Telfer and Mrs. C. Tait, Mrs. A. Y. Johnstone, Mrs. T. H. Tait and Mrs. W. I. Paterson, also aunts of the bride, cut the loes. Serving were Mrs. R. Stevens, Mrs. J. Kyles, Miss Lillian Williamson, Miss Kathleen Paterson, Miss Helen Lamb, Miss Doris Allan, Miss Nan Fetterley, Miss Grace Andrews, Miss Laura Wilcox and Miss Dorothy Paterson.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorsteinsson left by midnight boat for Victoria, and will spend their honeymoon trip motoring on Vancouver Island over the Columbian Highway. For travelling the bride wore a white jersey sports dress with steel buckle and shoulder flower; white poke hat with touches of black, and white serge coat with deep fur collar. They will live in Anyox.

The groom's gifts to the bride's attendants were silver bracelets engraved with totem poles and initials; and to the bride a double choker of pearls.

Crown Colony Days

Away back in the late sixties thousands of acres of British Columbia's timber were sold for one cent per acre, which looked like a fair price—then. Today similar timber is worth from $150 to $200 per acre, so tremendously has timber appreciated in value within the scope of an average lifetime.

What the young growth of today will be worth sixty years from now is beyond computation if it is protected from fire and allowed to reach maturity.

The moral is obvious.

SPORT CHAT

Fair week and its attendant activities will be the next big step in local sporting circles. Arrangements are being made for a big program at which no one should be disappointed.

This will be the first time that anything in the nature of a stampee has been held in Prince Rupert. Horse racing, broncho busting and the other items attendant to such an event are new here but the public seems to be warming up and, given a little good weather, the innovation should prove a great success.

Though its neighbor town of Telkwa has long been interested in such things, the occasion of the Bulkley Valley Fall Fair will also be marked with the first institution of anything in the way of a stampee in Smithers on any scale.

SUGGESTS PRESSING HAY IN THIS CITY

Export Market for Hay Requires Special Preparation and Farmers Have Not Plant

There is at the present time great quantities of hay in the Bulkley Valley and it is exceptionally good hay, especially this year's crop says the Onimca Herald. For local consumption it is safe to say there is enough hay to last two or three years. The hay was not raised for local consumption, but conditions are changing and the biggest market is now the export market and to enter it the hay must be double pressed.

This year the Valley lost the sale of a thousand tons of hay because there was no outfit available to double compress. A thousand tons is quite a considerable quantity of hay. Yet that is what could have been sold and the farmers of the district have not yet gone after the export market.

The farmers of Washington State get their hay double pressed in Seattle and it would be very good business for Prince Rupert men to provide a hay press in Rupert to handle the export shipments. The plant is not one that any one farmer can handle alone and at Rupert hay could be handled from numerous districts.

Public Confidence and Space

The Daily Newspaper as a vehicle of contact, between the Retail Merchant and the Public, is today the most potent force known to Modern Merchandising.

The use of Newspaper Space, for properly prepared and intelligently constructed—Display Advertising—will produce results, almost unbelievable, to the Amateur.

Without Newspaper Publicity, the Special Sale would die a natural death—for no matter how great the bargains offered—unless it is possible to notify the majority of possible purchasers—RAPIDLY—operating costs, running for weeks, instead of DAYS, would soon total more than the Business could bear.

BUT—Advertising to be successful, MUST BE HONEST, advertising will render a twenty-four hour service—will notify the Public the advantages to be derived, by visiting a certain Store on a certain Day or Days—and then?—if the advertising is honest, success is assured—but if the advertising is misleading—PUBLIC CONFIDENCE—in this Store is destroyed—and eventual failure is certain.

I am at present writing Advertising copy for a very sensational Selling event—I am about to Close-out the ENTIRE stock of J. Bent's Ladies-Ready-to-Wear on Third Avenue. To get IMMEDIATE action the prices will have to be so low as to be almost unbelievable—the ENTIRE stock—Fixtures, Fittings—everything MUST be disposed of IMMEDIATELY—and I have RIPPED PRICES TO PIECES.

But—when you read my advertising dealing with this remarkable CLOSE-OUT SALE—I want you to believe—that this Advertising is HONEST—TRUTHFUL—that the SALE IS AN ABSOLUTELY GENUINE CLOSE-OUT SALE—that Mr. Bent is positively SELLING OUT—and that I never append my signature to any transaction that I cannot recommend.

Some Were For and Some Against But They Did Not Talk of Sharkey

(Edmonton Bulletin)

If you want to start an argument this week go to the Capitol theatre where the Dempsey-Sharkey fight pictures are showing. It doesn't matter which Jack you favor, you'll get the argument.

At the invitation of Manager Wilson we saw the first showing of the big fight films on Monday, and we were lucky enough to get away with our new panama hat. Honest, if the arguments around the ringside were any hotter than those we heard in the lobby of the theatre coming out, it's a wonder the jails in New York were big enough to hold the free fights that must have been started among the ring worms when the battle was over.

In five minutes we heard that Jack Dempsey was a "bum," a "hero," "the greatest fighter that ever hit the pike," the "biggest tramp that ever crawled under the ropes," a "has-been," "a never was," "the greatest fighter of all times," that he "never will come back," that he "never was away," that he was "on the level," a "frame-up," "all for the gate," "on the up and up," "crooked as a dog's hind leg," "straight as a string,"

SWEETENED UNSWEETENED

"Just a big build up," "and the real goods with no frame up."

It was a case of "you pays your money and you takes your choice." All the fight fans had seen the same picture, but that all had a different answer. Sharkey was fouled. Sharkey wasn't fouled. Dempsey was licked all the way. Dempsey won in a walk. Dempsey was through. Dempsey was staging a come-back. He was an old man. He was still the tiger of the ring. He was all in after the first round. He was just stringing the Polack, and had him "in the bag from the going."

EDMONTON TO VOTE ON THE PROPORTIONAL METHOD OF ELECTION

Proposed Reversion to Former System is Strongly Opposed by Labor

EDMONTON, Aug. 16.—The electors of Edmonton will have a chance next December, or when the next civic elections are held, to decide whether the "P.R." system of voting will continue or otherwise. Over the pronounced protests of all labor aldermen, the city council Tuesday evening went on record as favoring Alderman Dr. Keillor's motion to leave the question of the voting system up to the people, but the matter of reverting to the so-called "ward system" met with a reverse. There was a distinct cleavage of opinion developed during the meeting the first that has found the Labor members pitted solidly against the representatives of the so-called Civic Government association.

CLAIM "SLIP OVER"

While the recriminations that passed were undoubtedly due to the heat of the argument at times, there was a feeling that an undue advantage had been taken of the Labor group in debating the question during the absence of Alderman Dineen, a strong Labor advocate and a firm believer that the "P.R." system of voting gives to the minority a voice that otherwise would be lost.

INCREASE OF MOOSE IN ATLIN DISTRICT

Twenty-five Per Cent More in Country Last Sixteen Years Reports Walter Owen

Returning from an inspection through Northern British Columbia, Walter Owen, assistant superintendent of provincial police, reports that the moose population in the Atlin district has increased 25 per cent during the past sixteen years.

Likewise coyotes are more plentiful and are killing off small game such as rabbits and grouse. When desperate with hunger, coyotes have been known to attack larger animals.

Accompanied by Major Montague Furber, chief game inspector for the province, Mr. Owen visited Atlin. There the assistant superintendent renewed acquaintance with many old-timers, whom he knew when in charge of the district sixteen years ago.

Leaving the coast steamer at Prince Rupert, Mr. Owen took the train to Quesnel, Barkerville, Bowron Lake (where there is a large game reserve), Clinton and Ashcroft.

Mining activity in the Atlin district is increasing, he stated; sixty men are employed on the famous Engineer gold mine at Taku Arm, near the Golden Gate. Many tourists are visiting the district this summer.

SCIENTIFIC FLY-TOX

Science Again Contributes to the Joy of Living

Among the great benefactions that science has bestowed upon mankind is Fly-Tox. Touch any fly, mosquito, roach—any bug or insect—with its cleanly, fragrant spray. They cannot breathe. They are caught, held, doomed to sure death. Fly-Tox is the scientific insecticide developed at Melon Institute of Industrial Research by Rex Fellowship. And yet Fly-Tox is harmless to humans. A child may use without danger. But Fly-Tox is certain death to all kinds of household bugs and insects. Advt.

DEER COLLIDED WITH EDMONTON MOTOR CAR

EDMONTON, Aug. 16.—If you don't believe that Edmonton is still in the wild and woolly west, where coyotes bark at strangers and the jack rabbits go tandem up the hills, Pete Standell, driver for Paul's taxi service, will prove it to you with a badly dented engine hood.

Monday morning about 11:45 Standell was driving north on 109th Street near 89th Ave. when a deer leaped down the C.P.R. cut, near the sign "Edmonton" which is made with stones, crossed the tracks, climbed the east side of the embankment, and leaped onto the front of his car. The animal fell off and started across the high level bridge with Standell in pursuit. However, the deer was faster than the car, and at the north end of the bridge disappeared over Parliament hill.

This deer, evidently lost and bewildered in the city where it had wandered along the river, was seen by numerous people on Monday. The last reports are that the animal is injured probably by its collision with Standell's car.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 3,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 19, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 400 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partly free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
