Halibut Fishermen Here Decide Favor of Longer Close Season and Would Protect Chickens

W. F. Thompson Gives Valuable Information in Outlining Result of His Scientific Investigations for the Commission

Prince Rupert fishermen, in conference with the International Fisheries Commission last night, went on record as favoring the extension of the present close season on halibut for one month (two weeks at each end). Their views were taken by standing vote by which means they also favored the protection of baby chickens and the exclusive use of large hooks in fishing. There was general unanimity in the matter of extending the close season while views were more divided on the matter of the protection of baby chickens and pital of Chin Sing, fifty year old According to a list of charters pub- the size of hooks that should be permitted. VANCOUVER, November 22 .- "General Sutton is trying an impossibility. The P.G.E. always was a white elephant and always will be. The logical outlet for the Peace River is not across the mountains to Vancouver but along the river level to Portland Canal." This was stated here today by P. A. O'Farrell, financier and journalist, who has just returned from an extensive tour of the Peace River with Premier Brownlee of Alberta.

"Why should the farmers of the Peace River send their wheat 800 miles overland to Vancouver at a cost of not less than 20 cents a bushel, when they could reach an *outlet on Portland Canal only 400 miles away at a cost of approximately ten cents a bushel. I believe the railroad from Stewart could be built in less than a year. Once the tunnel of about 2,000 feet was built from Stewart, the construction would be easy."

Mr. Farrell predicted that "some day there would be a great city in the region of the Grand Canyon of the Peace which would be to this territory what St. Louis is to the /Mississippi. PEACE RIVER PROPAGANDA

The propaganda in favor of Vancouver as an outlet for the J. J. Muldoon sang very sweetly, Mil-Peace River country still continues. The people of British Columbia's biggest city keep up the clamor like a bunch of schoolboys or I.W.W. strikers. No matter what the cost, they want Vancouver made the terminus of the road that will handle the Peace River output.

Were it not that there is a possibility of success, the move would appear ridiculous. What favors the Vancouver people is the fact that the Provincial Government wants to get rid of the P.G.E. was the bride's mother, gowned in black which is a heavy load for the province to bear.

The proposal is for the country to build a railway which crosses hat a small model of black chiffon the present railway already built and fully equipped and operated, velvet. Roses formed her corsage bouand spend the people's money in taking the grain to Vancouver. Any business man will say that the road should not be built beyond the C.N.R. main line, no matter which route it takes. To go farther is to squander away the people's money for something that is not needed.

If the railway comes out to the main line of the C.N.R. it will pleted the table arrangement. A bufthen ship the grain by way of Prince Rupert, which is the logical fet luncheon was served. Those serving port. As it is proposed, the grain would be taken to Vancouver.

It is futile to say the line may be built by a private company. If a private concern does the work it will be aided by the other governments. It will be bonused by valuable lands and possibly by cash. At any rate it will get valuable concessions from the government of the province and also from the Dominion in order to enable it to build a road which is not at present needed.

OPERATIONS OF WHEAT POOL

In criticizing the operations of the Wheat Pool, the Northwest Grain Dealers' Association claims that except for December and January the grain of pool members was sold last year at less than was paid to farmers outside the pool. The dealers have prepared a chart showing the condition as they see it, evidently for the purpose of influencing farmers to sell their grain direct to the dealers. It is an interesting document and would be especially so to those growing grain.

GOOD SPIRIT OF FISHERMEN

The halibut fishermen both here and at Ketchikan have shown a good spirit by asking that the fishing season be shortened and by also favoring other steps to preserve the industry. Miss Agnes Elizabeth Gratton Married This Morning to George C. Arseneau of Premier

A pretty wedding of widespread interest took place this morning at 11 c'clock in the Church of the Annunciation when Agnes Elizabeth, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfria Gratton, of this city, became the bride of George C. Arseneou, eldest son of J. C. Arsentau of Fremier, B.C. Rt. Rev. Bishop Buncz performed the ceremony, and Rev. Father Leroy of Stewart said the auptial mass.

The bride was a picture of girlish eauty as she entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains the bridal chorus (Mendelssohn). played by C. P. Balagno. She wore a period gown of shell pink chiffon taffeta, with overdress of cream lace. A picture hat of pale pink georgette, and gold kid slippers completed her costume. Cream Victoria roses, and liliesof-the-valley formed her bouquet.

Miss Irene Bourassa was charming as bridesmaid in a period gown of two-tone lanvin green georgette, with silver trimming. Her hat was of similar shade, and she wore silver slippers. Pale pink and white carnations were carried. Thomas McKay of Premier supported he groom and the ushers were Edward

BETTER COWS BETTER MILK

IN order to bring to you, under the red and white Carnation label, as fine milk as the world produces, we are constantly introducing the high milk producing strain of our blue ribbon "Contented Cows" into the herds that daily supply milk to the Carnation Condenseries. In fact, one of the most famous Holstein herds in all the world is owned by the Carnation Milk Farms.

In this, as in many other ways, we insure the quality of Carnation Milk. Insure that it really will add richness and flavor whenever you use it. For Carnation is just pure, fresh milk-evaporated to double richness, "homogenized" so that every drop has its full share of cream. Diluted, it is used in cooking to give greater smoothness and richness. Undiluted, it takes the place of cream at one-third the cost of cream. Plan Not Quite Accurate but Good Enough for General Purposes

When travelling in unfamiliar counry, it very often becomes necessary to determine direction. Most people are able in a general sort of way to do so in the daytime by means of the sun if it is shining or at night (speaking more particularly of the northern hemisphere) by means of the north star.

Some people seem to possess the faculty of telling direction by means of the sun with a remarkable degree of accuracy. To those who have difficulty | in this regard, the well-known method of making use of the watch in connection with the sun may be employed. This is effected by holding the watch level and pointing the hour hand at the sun and accepting the line midway between it and the figure 12 on the dial as the due south direction.

This will not give direction accurately but will be good enough for most practical purposes. The sun appears to go around the earth in a clockwise direction (to those in the northern hemisphere) making the complete circle in twenty-four hours. The hour hand the watch makes a revolution once in twelve hours or, in other words, moves twice as fast as the sun appears to travel. Assuming that the sun is due south when the hour hand of the watch is at 12 noon the working out of this simple method becomes quite apparent after a little consideration.

For two reasons the method is not absolute. One is that at noon by the watch, except on four days in the year. the sun is not exactly due south but is varying in its position. Another reason is that the sun does not move mooth; 8.30 p.m. spoke steamer Camoaround the horizon on a level with the un, leaving Anyox, bound for Stewart. hands of the watch but slantingly, moving up in the morning and down in the Darometer, 29.48; temperature, 30; sea afternoon. EDUCATORS' LIVES UNDER DISCUSSION

Revealed to United Church Young People

The United Church Young People's Society last night discussed the lives of two great Canadian educators Dr. Egerton Ryerson and Dr. William Osler. Miss E. P. Grassie read a paper on Ryerson who was described as the father of the present system of education in Canada. His pioneer work had been copied throughout the Dominion.

Miss Rogers dealt with Osler, the great teacher of medicine. His career was marked for its outstanding spirit of research and charity.

Interesting discussion followed the reading of the papers after which the usual recreational period was enjoyed. W. Vandewater, president of the Large advances have been made b badminton in popularity in Nelson since last winter. One year ago the Twenty-one boats cleared with 6,155,- solid leaders of this sport were predictng that if accommodation were not forthcoming, those interested would undoubtedly build for themselves. Badninton as a game has the elements permanence, just as has tennis. Two or three years from now, instead of there being less badminton than taday. there will probably be twice as much, or up to the capacity of the accomnedation, whatever it then may be.

When the present fair building is replaced, as it shortly must be, one of the steady sources of revenue for the new community Pavilion or Arena o Auditorium that should arise will be a healthy badminton rental. For six months of the year that playing floor could be occupied every afternoon and night by this revenue producer, except when preempted for convention or other special purposes. In the other ix months a different sort of revenue would be derived. Roller skating, autoshows, conventions, the fair-would do their share toward maintenance.

Twenty-five to forty year old male fish weighed from 60 to 80 pounds while females of this age weighed 120 pounds and up. The females grow much more rapidly than the males. and virtually all "whales" over eighty year old male Goose Island halibut would weigh around eight pounds and growth was slower, the Cook Inlet halibut being particularly slow. All this went to show that there could not be any great intermigration, particularly between the southern and western banks.

It was five years after birth before the halibut entered the commercial class. Then it was a chicken for three years and a medium for eleven years. The average fish became mature for spawning at twelve years of age.

"If you take a baby chicken five years old and not wait until it is eight years old and three times the size, it is all to Portlock. Fishing his address-namely that one bank was fresh your minds. But you should take not replenished by another, that migra- care and you ought to set yourselves to

Though investigations on he westward banks were not complete. there was enough information available to show that there was no great migration till the fish became of spawning size. Portlock and Yakutat fish might intermigrate, there was nothing sure about that, but it was practically certain that there was no migration from westward to southern banks.

Speaking of findings as a result tagging operations, Mr. Thompson stated that it had been found that the movment of the immature fish on the Hecate Straits banks averaged twent miles while the mature fish on the Yakutat banks travelled at an average of three hundred miles from the point where they were tagged to the point where they were caught. There were signs indicating that fish moved between the south and west banks. In any case it could be definitely said that there wa little movement up to maturity.

ARTIFICIAL PROPAGATION

"You might as well forget it." stated Mr. Thompson in speaking of artificial propagation. Owing to the abundance of eggs, it would only take two or three mature halibut to fill a hatchery. The eggs would be placed in a jar but they would soon have to be released because they could not be fed artificially. Mr. Found pointed out that even the taking of small fish could not be continued indefinitely.
