Signor Oses has denounced the official who supervises the distribution of salaries. He says he has been seeking the town for more than a year but without success.

FEW FOREST FIRES SO FAR THIS YEAR

Two or Three Reported Burning But Are Under Control

Total forest fires reported to date number 45, of which 37 are in the interior to the east of Prince Rupert, and eight on the coast. Twenty have had to be fought at an estimated cost to date of $1,000. At present two small fires reported under control are being fought at Gienanna and Doughty in the vicinity of Smithers, and one at Tiel, Queen Charlotte Islands. A fire is also reported to be burning in some fume killed timber west of the smelter at Anyox.

In view of the extremely hot weather with low humidities prevailing, the situation is on the whole good, but the department would like to make an appeal to the public for increased caution until the present spell of dry weather breaks.

One of the greatest hazards at present is from railroad travel, as owing to the intense heat in the interior, windows in the train are raised, and even the normally careful may inadvertently throw lighted smoking material to the track. Owing to the long spell of hot weather, vegetation is parched and ignites very easily. A little care exercised by smokers may save a conflagration.

PORPOISE CAUSE FISHERMEN'S TROUBLE

Destroy Fish in Saguenay River; Cod Yield Fallen Eighty Per Cent

QUEBEC, Aug. 5.—The fishing industry on the north shore of the St. Lawrence River, from Pigou, in the Saguenay region, 20 miles below the Maisie River, to Mingan, about 70 miles further down the river, is faced with ruin this year on account of the waters being infested with porpoises. Oscar Morin, Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, returned to Quebec today from the district, and he states that he finds the population there very alarmed. Quoting figures provided by the Government Inspector of Fisheries in that district, he shows that this year the cod yield has fallen 80 per cent.

In previous years the porpoises have come after the cod season, which ends about July 20. But this year they came at the beginning and stayed throughout the season, rendering fishing almost futile. Mr. Morin himself declares that, while on the river, he passed one school of porpoises two miles long and half a mile wide.

The population is wholly dependent on the fishing industry, and it is claimed that unless something is done by next year the district will have to be abandoned as a result of the harm caused by the porpoises this year, starvation facing the fishermen. The government is being asked to put the matter in the hands of experts.

The Canadian Pacific railways and steamships form the largest transportation system in the world.

O. B. Bush, well-known in mining circles in the north was a through passenger on the Prince Rupert today en route to Stewart.

EITHER PAY OR KEEP QUIET

The Manitoba Free Press is an estimable journal but it sometimes feels itself very important. Just now it is out to settle international questions. It is scolding Britain and the United States, and particularly Britain, for not making a treaty with Uncle Sam in regard to the navy and even mentions that Canada had no part in the negotiations.

When it is considered that Canada contributes only the Patriotic and possibly a little boat on the east coast to the work of the navy, this country could hardly expect to be represented in a matter of naval disarmament. Here is what the Free Press said: Perhaps when the naval "Disarmament" conference blows up, which seems to be its probable fate, we may look for an understandable statement from the government of each of the negotiating powers explaining to its own nationals and to the world just what there was in the program of the other powers that it would not accept, even though this involved the collapse of the gathering. We trust there will be, in each country, a public opinion that will scorn the appeals to national feeling that will be made and will demand to be "shown."

The United States and Great Britain—we use the words Great Britain as the more accurate because the Dominions have played no real part in the negotiations—may have to tell the world that while they were agreed upon equality in naval strength they could not agree upon what this parity in total tonnage should be.

The public will want to know just what totals were suggested and the reason for them. If the United States put the level which it demanded below the existing British strength, the informed public judgment in both countries will be that it was an unreasonable and improper demand. If, on the other hand, it appears that Great Britain insisted upon a much greater cruiser tonnage than she now has, the admiralty will have, we should say, some task in convincing civil opinion that this was a legitimate reason for a breakdown.

British Columbia may be a sea of mountains and an unimportant part of Canada but she can produce winning football and cricket players and that should be preliminary to the conquest of Canada commercially.

WHAT ABOUT A NAVY?

But what about a navy in Canada? Either we should have one or leave it alone. It is useless to train boys for the service if there is no service to join. The only thing is, if we are going to stand back and let someone else pay we should refuse to take part in any discussions which would involve the use of the navy or in which the British navy, which today means the navy of England, Scotland and Wales, is concerned.

Canadian commerce is increasing. Canadian ships are sailing the seven seas but they are absolutely without protection except such as is given them by one little section of the Empire known as Britain, or which the people there mostly call England. Either that is their protection or they turn to the United States and hide themselves beneath the shadow of the Munro doctrine. In any case, it is not anything of which to be proud. If we are to be a nation and not rely on others for defence, we must have our own navy. If we are to be the small boy at our mother's knee, looking to her for protection, or seeking the aid of our big brother, let us carry on as we are.

Canadian newspapers usually carefully avoid this naval question taking their cue from the Canadian people generally, who try not to think about it. But the problem is facing us. What shall we do?

Now that the Island road is being pushed ahead to Galloway Rapids, the next thing to talk about will be a bridge across the narrows. Let's get to the other side.

Chickens may sometimes find themselves in the soup, but not often, judging by the flavor.

A straight flush is still heard of among poker players but seldom among young ladies.

CAPTAIN KIDD AGAIN LIVES

Haunts Coast of Nova Scotia Where Treasure Supposed to be Buried

HALIFAX, N.S., Aug. 5.—This summer the hoary legend of piratical treasure buried somewhere along the coast of Nova Scotia took a new lease on life and the ghost of Captain Kidd, cutlass, pistols and all, revived to haunt isolated harbors. Many amateur treasure seekers furiously resumed their operations with pick and shovel, but thus far no Spanish gold has been brought to light.

Captain Kidd, who according to some histories was a much-maligned mariner, is supposed to have scattered his loot in carefully selected hiding places along the coasts of New England, Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. If all the local legends be true, then he must have spent the greater part of his life not in acquiring gold but in burying it, for there is scarcely a harbor from Virginia to the Miramichi which has not at one time or another claimed to possess one of his hoards. One is forced to the conclusion that the dreaded buccaneer led the unromantic existence of a navvy.

NEW CONVERTS

For many years a small group of islands in Mahone Bay, near Chester, was strongly favored by the adherents of the legend. Occasionally some unearthing of a scrap of old ship wreckage, a rusted axe, or even a solitary coin. These finds strengthened the believers and brought new converts to the cult of Captain Kidd. No actual treasure was ever discovered, but there are still those who believe that the pot of gold is just around the corner for them. Years ago a particularly favored island was christened Captain Kidd's Island.

Whether or not the treasure myth is entirely without foundation, it has given birth to a varied list of minor legends, each with its individual twist and dash of local color. Supernatural agencies are called in to heighten the romance of these folk tales. Thus a wild and secluded cove near Saint John, N.B., is credited with the special guardianship of a titular demon of the old buccaneers. Fisher folk will tell you more by implication than by direct statement, that the cove undoubtedly harbors a fabulous wealth of doubloons, pieces of eight, rings and precious stones, but that indescribable dangers beset the path of the would-be treasure hunters.

BECAME MANIAC

One venturesome romanticist sallied forth by night, armed with spade and lantern. When he was found in the morning he was a gibbering maniac. Others who claim to have braved the unknown horrors relate that, when they had dug a few feet below the surface of the sand, their lights were extinguished and a thunderous voice ordered them to be gone.

They were. It is highly probable that the captain, who is reputed to have been a thrifty man, did salt away some of his "earnings" against a rainy day. His known addiction to islands and caves probably arose from the fact that he was not in good odor with the banks of his day. So, there is still a chance that one of the myriad coastal legends will turn out to be truth and that some credulous fisherman will blossom into a millionaire overnight.

COMMUNITY PICNIC AT PORT CLEMENTS

Enjoyable Time Spent by People of Islands and Address Given

PORT CLEMENTS, Aug. 5.—On Sunday a community picnic was held at the McQuaker Ranch two and a half miles up the Yalou River. The crowd left town at one o'clock p.m. The walk was made very pleasant by the shady trees and the slight breeze coming from over the water gave everyone a good appetite, so lunch was served soon after reaching the ranch.

After the clearing up, the Rev. C. O. Darby gave an open air church service to the largest congregation he has had since coming here.

After the service both young and old enjoyed the swimming in the river. Lunch was again served, after which the crowd of seventy walked back to town feeling none the worse for their long walk.

STRUCK HIGH GRADE AT SILVER TIP MINE

STEWART, Aug. 5.—No. 1 vein of the Silver Tip has been encountered in the tunnel, and samples brought down by the manager, J. V. Clegg, are rich in native silver and silver sulphides such as are characteristic of the upper Salween basin and have given it a reputation as a high-grade section.

The vein was struck 113 feet from the portal of the tunnel and will be cross-cut to the hanging wall, then drifted upon until its contact with the big north and south vein is reached.

RAILWAY EARNINGS FOR JUNE ARE DOWN

Small Carry-over of Grain Largely Responsible for Condition This Year

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Gross earnings amounting to $22,545,250 and net earnings of $646,564.99 are shown in the summary of earnings and expenses of the Canadian National Railways for the month of June.

These figures compare with gross earnings of $23,114,696.35 and net earnings of $2,027,380.66 for the month of June, 1926. This indicates a decrease in gross earnings of $569,446.35, equivalent to 2.46 per cent in June, 1927 in comparison with June of the previous year, and also a decrease in net earnings for last June of $1,381,015.67 when compared with the same month of 1926.

Working expenses in June, 1927, totalled $21,898,685.01 as against $21,067,315.69 in June 1926, an increase of $831,369.32 or 3.85 per cent.

A number of factors enter into this condition, one being grain traffic. Owning to the smaller carry over this year there was less grain hauled in June, the result being a reduction of approximately a million dollars in earnings from this source in comparison with June, 1926. On the other hand, general traffic earnings improved to the extent of approximately five hundred thousand dollars when compared with those of June of last year.

While the month of June last shows a decrease in gross earnings when the figures are compared with those of June, 1926, the past month compares quite favorably with the similar months over a period of six years, while June of last year represented the highest gross for that month since the amalgamation of the various lines into the present system.

Man in the Moon

THESE English may be modest in demeanor but here is Premier Baldwin saying both Canada and the Clyde are parts of England.

THE editor says that a lady asked him quite seriously if he thought Prince Rupert was showing decline of population and would the elevator be used this year. He says he admitted a possibility even that Prince Rupert might not be here at all next year. The questions knocked him all of a heap, so to speak. They were much too wholesale.

I MUCH prefer a dam in conversation to a flood of words.

PREPARATION

HE walked across Third Avenue. He tramped it near and far. And not once in all that time. Did he dodge a motor car.

NOW that Nanaimo has the soccer cup, is it a credit to British Columbia, to Scotland or to Wales?

POSSIBLY you would like to have repeated a few of the things I have heard in the past. The road across the island will never be built. The roads in the city will never be graded. The elevator will never be built here. The elevator will never be operated. The court house will never be built. The Daily News can never be a success. Nobody in Prince Rupert will ever make any money. There will never be a western outlet to the Peace River.

LILLIAN DAWSON ACTRESS AND FLYER

Girl of 14 Already Aviator, Movie Girl and Artist's Model

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press).—To be a film actress, a famous artist's model, and an air pilot by the time one is 14 years old is quite beyond the wildest dreams of the average girl, but little Miss Lillian Dawson has a record of achievement which many an older member of her sex might envy.

Passing through Montreal with the other members of the Pilgrimage to Lourdes, she seemed just an unaffected little school girl with bobbed blonde hair, simply dressed as befits her age, and quite as enthusiastic about flying and acting as in a former generation girls were about their dolls. She is an honorary pilot and member of the Pittsburgh, Aero Club, and has been flying since she was three years of age, and at Roger's Field near Pittsburgh, it is almost an everyday sight to behold her in a little Waco or "Jenny" plane, skimming the blue heights above. She expects to fly over Rome with Pinedo.

Miss Dawson has already played in education films. She will take part in the "Story of the Lady of Lourdes" film as Jeanne, the friend of Bernadette. Lillian Dawson won for herself the name of "America's Liberty Bond Baby," and served as model to Charles Dana Gibson for his Liberty Bond Poster.

Arrange the slices one on top of the other in a brick form. Tie securely with string and place in a baking-pan. Bake in a medium oven of 400° for twenty-five minutes or until the ham fat is melted. PRINCE RUPERT MAN'S ALBERTA CROP IS GOOD

G. F. Brine, the local auctioneer, has just received word from Alberta in regard to his crop which is very encouraging. The letter says in part:

"Your farm is yielding a bumper crop and the weather is ideal. It will be ready for the binder in about three weeks. You were fortunate to get your crop in when you did, as the later seeding is not doing as well, but everything in this district in general looks good. I should like to visit Prince Rupert and get some of the salmon and halibut you speak of. It must be a wonderful country. I will see you when you arrive."

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

SIR HENRY HAS BAD STROKE AT JASPER COURSE

JASPER, Aug. 5.—The report which has been circulated that Sir Henry Thornton is in bad health and that his condition is causing his friends alarm are entirely incorrect. Three weeks ago Sir Henry suffered an attack of intestinal flu but he has entirely recovered and was never in better physical condition than at present.

Seen yesterday in connection with the report which also stated he had suffered a stroke, Sir Henry said: "Yes, it is quite true, I had a bad stroke yesterday. In fact I had four bad strokes in quick succession. They occurred near the fourteenth green on the golf course. The first bad stroke one of the worst I ever suffered, got me into the bunker and I had three more bad strokes before I got out."

"Thanks to the recuperative qualities of Jasper, I hope not only to improve my health but my golf as well and to be able shortly to do the course in par. I strongly recommend Jasper to those who desire to improve their health and their golf."

Sir Henry and the executive who are accompanying him on his inspection trip over the lines of the company in western Canada are now on their way to Prince Rupert.

MOOSE WINNER AT FOOTBALL

Rather Listless Game Last Evening Won Four Goals to One

Moose won over Regiment last evening by 4-1 in a rather listless football game. Moose were without Sam Currie, who took a rest. Regiment had several changes in the team and were without Tinker, McKay and Russell.

Moose kicked down hill and attacked early. Murray in goal was safe and deflected several shots. Loblick caught a good cross by Walters. Fred Hardy centred but shot was cleared. Moose now attacked steadily and J. Murray was always dangerous. From a corner kick Murray fastened on the ball at close quarters and banged in the first goal. Shortly after Bye got his head to a corner and put Moose two up. Regiment made occasional break-aways but was mostly on the defensive. Harris and Campbell checked hard. Halftime came with Moose leading by two clear goals.

Playing downhill Regiment had more of the game. Loblick saved at close quarters. Young James Currie defended well and Bobbie Woods played hard. Moose were always dangerous in the attacks on the Regiment goal. Bye showed up and kept the game moving. Loblick caught an overhead shot from Wilson. Harris shot over. McDonald drove past but the Regiment forwards were not playing together. Moose got away and Murray scored with a brilliant first time shot that gave his namesake in the Regiment goal no chance. Then from a corner after a scramble Hardy beat Loblick for the Regiment's first goal. Play was harder but Moose were not in serious danger and Murray got away again to make it four for the Moose. The game fell off and there was not the keenness that there should have been. Full time found the Moose winners 4-1.

Regiment—A. Murray, Campbell, J. Norington, Wallace, Harris, Strachan, Walters, Wilson, MacDonald, Doherty, Hardy.

W. Williscroft refereed and the linesmen were A. Clapperton and W. Murray.

COMMENT

As a whole the game was not up to standard. Several of the players played as if nothing was at stake. When they get that feeling the game is bound to suffer.

Moose were on top most of the game. Loblick is developing into one of the best keepers in town. He has height, a good pair of hands, anticipation and has a strong kick. With him in goal, Moose need not lack faith in their last line of defence.

Young Jimmy Currie played well and has the marks of a good player. He tackles well and has a good kick. Erskine played his usual cool safe game. He still likes to hoist the ball in the air at times.

All the halves were good and had the Regiment forwards in check most of the game. Woods did not feed his forwards as Sam Currie does but he checked hard and booted strongly. Smilie is good and George Mitchell spoiled the opposing wing's game.

John Murray was the best forward on the field. He shot well, played a fast game and kept his wings going. Bye was good too. Chénoski and the brothers Hodgkinson were fair.

The soldiers were a disarranged team. They need to find two backs.

A. Murray in goal played hard both with his body and his tongue. He had no chance with the shots that beat him. He took chances once or twice in coming out but he uses good judgment generally.

Campbell played hard and is a sure kick. Norington was a trier all through. Both these players were out of their proper places.

Harris was the only half the Regiment

Good sportsmen use good judgment. It naturally follows that "Black & White" numbers a host of friends among the devotees of rod and reel.

ment had. Doherty and Strachan tried hard but the Moose forwards were too good for them. Wallace lacks judgment.

Forward the Regiment were not much in evidence. Fred Hardy came in and played hard. He was the happiest man on the field when he got the goal, and a good one it was. Doherty played hard as usual. MacDonald was off. He plays a much better game at half back. Wilson and Walters were not much in the picture.

TROPHY GIVEN FOR RUNNING

Canadian National Recreation
Clubs Would Encourage Middle-Distance Events

WINNIPEG, Aug. 5.—Presentation of a bronze statuette of a runner by the Canadian National Recreation Clubs to the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada for the encouragement of middle-distance running was announced today by W. H. Kilby, general chairman of the Canadian Recreation Club in Montreal.

The offer of this trophy was made to the A.A.U. of C. at its meeting in St. John in December last and an acceptance has been received. The statuette, which is being designed by Henry Birks and Sons, is about 16 inches in height and represents a runner. The base on which it will stand is to be Canadian birdseye maple and will be made in the Point St. Charles shops of the company. Medals are to be awarded to the first three competitors. These are of ten carat gold, silver and bronze respectively. On the face of them a replica of the statuette will appear and the background will typify the Canadian National activities in sports. The names of the winners will be engraved on the reverse, as well as the distance and the date of the competition.

Competitors for the trophy will be conducted by the A.A.U. of Canada and the finals will be run at the Dominion championship meeting to be held this year at Toronto, August 20.

The statuette will be placed in the trusteeship of the board of governors of the A.A.U. of Canada, who will administer rules and assume charge of the trophy and distribution of awards.

TRACK AND FIELD MEET AT TORONTO

Best Athletes in Dominion Will be at University Stadium for Event

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The 38th Canadian Track and Field championships will be held in this city at the University of Toronto Stadium on Saturday, August 20.

It is expected that this will be the best athletic meet held in Canada this year and the best athletes in the Dominion will be seen in competition. The Canadian Olympic Committee is assisting in defraying the expenses of athletes from outside Ontario who reach the standard set by the Olympic Committee and this action in itself assures a record entry list.

The following events are on the program: 100 yards dash, 220 yards dash, 440 yards run, 880 yards run, one mile run, pole vault, running high jump, running broad jump, throwing 16 lb. hammer, putting 16 lb. shot, throwing discus, 120 yards hurdles (10 flights 3 feet, 6 inches high), javelin throw, one mile walk, five mile run, one mile relay (4 men, each running 440 yards).

CADDY BIRD LATEST WONDER OF NATURE JASPER PARK LODGE

JASPER NATIONAL PARK, Aug. 5.—The pink tea hound and the jounce lizard are well known in most social circles but as far as is known the only caddy bird in the world is to be found on the Jasper Park golf course. It made its appearance two days ago when Sir Henry Thornton, president, and S. J. Hungerford, vice president of the Canadian National Railways, were playing from the seventh tee and it followed them as far as the tenth tee. Each day since, it has repeated the performance and is also favoring other players with its company.

It is a little brown and white bird known locally as the buffalo bird. For its size it shows excellent golfing judgment. When a ball is well hit it flies to the point where the ball stops and waits for the approach of the player. If the ball is sliced into the woods it refuses to follow.

On the greens the bird observes the etiquette of the game by standing off to one side and makes no move until the ball is holed. At the tenth tee it regales itself with a drink from the water of the wishing well and returns to the seventh tee, like any well-mannered caddy leaving the playing of the nineteenth hole to the golfers themselves.

TOO MUCH GEAR USED FISHING

That is Cry in Alaska as Well as in This Country it Seems

Not only in Canadian waters is there too much gear and too many fishermen. The same occurs in Alaska, according to advice just received. It seems that the fishing is to a very large extent a failure in that territory, seines and traps getting nothing like their usual quota. Henry Ward O'Malley, commissioner of fisheries, speaking at a Commercial Club luncheon the other day said:

"This pyramiding of traps and seines, growing each season, will necessarily result in further restrictions and will ultimately mean that none could operate on a profitable basis."

"We have two interests," he said, "first, the perpetuation of fish, and second, those who make their livelihood in the fishing business. It is our aim and desire to harmonize these two factors, but our first duty is to the preservation of product."

Congressman Latham urged territorial business men to unite their strength and efforts in obtaining consideration at Washington.

"There have been few Alaskan issues come up before congress," the latter declared, "that have not been favored by some Alaskans and opposed by others. Naturally we do not know what to do. If a group of representative business men from the various divisions of Alaska would go together and harmonize, putting their appeals before Washington in a logical and business-like manner, there is nothing under the sun you could not get. As it is we are almost forced to take the attitude that you do not know yourselves what you want."

E. G. Morrissey spoke briefly on the perpetuation and Americanization of the halibut industry, mentioning in regard to the latter issue that although 90 per cent of all the halibut consumed in America is caught in North Pacific waters, 50 per cent is packed and handled in Canadian ports.

PARTICULARS OF BIG FIRE AT KETCHIKAN

Further particulars of the big fire which destroyed two apartment houses and a good deal of other property at Ketchikan a few days ago have arrived in the city. The Chronicle says:

A score of persons narrowly escaped death and real and personal property valued at $50,000 was destroyed yesterday afternoon when flames, believed to have originated from a small bonfire, levelled to the water line the two apartment houses on the Charcoal Point Road, owned by Carl J. Foss and A. F. Fredrickson.

Sixteen families occupying the two wooden structures are today homeless with every item of their personal effects, except clothes worn at the time of the conflagration, part of the mass of ashes, twisted iron and charred furniture that once marked the buildings.

FIREMEN HANDICAPPED

Situated outside the city limits, local firemen called to the scene were handicapped with having only one fire hydrant to draw upon. On their arrival the wooden sidewalks in front of the house was a roaring fire, precluding any possibility of workers gaining the north side of the building to ward off spreading.

The fire is believed to have started from a small bonfire built by children under the plank road in front of Foss' two-month-old apartment, the Franklin. Spreading rapidly under the walk and growing larger each second as the flames caught onto several piles of chips and dry wood, the fire reached the front of the Franklin apartment, exploding a large barrel of roof oil. As this exploded the flames shot across the front of the building, spreading to the Boulevard Apartments.

THREATENS OTHER HOUSES

By this time firemen had arrived on the scene but the roaring flames, sometimes 50 and 60 feet high, swept across the road with increasing speed, threatening the Warren, Heath and Lloyd properties.

Persons inside the two buildings were virtually caged in, the front of the structures blazing beyond any possibility of escape there and with no avenue of retreat at the rear. Several people were forced to jump from their windows into the shallow water, where skiffs conveyed them safely to shore.

Within five minutes after the alarm had been turned in, the flames had reached the centre of the Franklin Apartments where a large container of fuel oil exploded, sending sparks and flames high into the air and threatening all nearby residences.

Flames by this time had swept across the road to set afire a garage owned by Carl Warren. His new automobile was totally destroyed and his house badly burned on the outside when gasoline exploded, blowing away the top of the garage.

TELEPHONE POLES BURN

Telephone wires were severed by the high flames and two poles, 50 feet from the fire, were burned through.

Despite the northwest wind, the fire kept spreading north along the board

Dated at Prince Rupert, B.C. July 4th, 1927.

Warren's car was partially insured. The two buildings were levelled to the ground, with even their pilings burned considerably, not more than 40 minutes after the alarm was sounded.

Three hours after the blaze had burned itself out, Commissioner Foss, supervising a crew of city workers, had constructed a 200-foot board road to replace that destroyed. The road was constructed and is owned by the territory. City officials, long realizing the danger of this highway, both from a standpoint of fire hazard and weakness, have been endeavoring for several weeks to have the territory build a dirt road.

LIST OF TENANTS

Tenants of the two buildings included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Perram, Mr. and Mrs. John Goddard, Mr. and Mrs. Bretherton, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown, G. W. Zensen and room-mates, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Treberg, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. Hallem, Mr. and Mrs. Rieterer, Mr. and Mrs. Kjosvik, and Mr. and Mrs. Solberg.

According to Charles and Hardcastle and the Jno. R. Beagle and Company, holders of insurance on the structures, an adjuster will be sent from Seattle this week to survey the ruins.

MOVIE CENSORS CAUSE OF ODD POSTER EFFECT

Montreal Theatres Adapt Themselves to Conditions With Curious Results

MONTREAL, Aug. 5.—Censorship of theatre posters in Montreal is conducted in a direct and primitive manner which results in startling displays at the entrance of the cheaper motion picture houses. If one object in a pictorial poster contravenes the censorship regulations, the entire sheet need not necessarily be discarded. The offending portion may be painted out, and the picture, thus mutilated, exposed to the unanalyzing eyes of the populace.

Thus a person strolling along St.
Lawrence Boulevard may be confronted with a dramatic portrayal of a highly infuriated villain pointing a daub of green paint at an obviously horrified lady. Any amateur Sherlock can deduce that the gentleman is supposed to be pointing a revolver. Revolvers are not allowed in the proximity of ladies in Montreal, so in order to pacify the censors, the manager of the theatre had painted out the weapon.

posters shock the sensibilities of the guardians of public morals. When this occurs the hardworked paintpot is again called into service and gowns are suitably lengthened and heightened—with little regard to color harmonization or the edicts of feminine fashion.

A display sheet in front of one of the picture palaces on "the Main" which recently puzzled many passersby depicted a gay party in a cabaret. Several of the dresses had been amplified with more prodigality than artistry, but the
ishment was a young buck in evening attire who extended a handless arm into a large splotch of red, the while he leaned confidentially forward as if to whisper light nothings into a phantom ear.

It developed upon inquiry that in its pristine glory the display included a lady whose costume was too décolleté to yield easily to artistic adaptation. So with one bold stroke of the brush the theatre manager extinguished her entirely—and incidentally amputated the hand of her gentleman friend which had been resting on her too-exposed shoulder.

NO DICE ALLOWED

Dice and women may not be associated—that is in the Montreal theatre posters. One frequently comes upon a display sheet upon which three or four very "sporty" looking males are bent intently over a blank table top, while a disapproving matron looks on from the background. One man has his right hand suggestively suspended in the air. But no dice are to be seen—oh dear, no!—The purifying paint brush has done its work.

A few years ago a church society became incensed over a particular poster and declared war, petitioning the city to ban all display pictures from the fronts of theatres. The local Theatre Managers' Association sprang to arms and succeeded in throttling the dire plot in its infancy.

Walking down St. Lawrence Boulevard, which is Montreal's "Bowery," one may still be edified by sensational products of the poster designers' art, but one must be prepared for strange mutilation. Guns, girls and gambling, as pictured at the theatre entrances, conform to the literal word of the censorial edict.

Offended Dignity (in derby): "Was you starin' at me?"

The Other: "Not me. I seed all I could bear of yer at a glance."

SEEN RIDING IN BUS THEN CHOSEN FOR MOVIE STAR

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—When Miss Dorothy Fowler left her desk in a local newspaper office as usual one night at five o'clock, and boarded the customary bus for her home, she did not dream that fame and fortune were waiting for her in that bus. But that is just what happened, and as a result of that bus-ride she has been chosen to play the star part in the first all-Canadian historical motion picture, "The Policing of the Plains" which is being directed by A.
D. Kean.

So interested was the director's daughter, Miss Louise Kean, when she saw Miss Fowler in the bus that she asked the young man whom she had seen talking with Miss Fowler for that young lady's name and address, and it was upon her later suggestion that Miss Fowler was sent for to come to Trenton, Ontario, where in the Ontario Government Studio the film is being made.
"She has proved a wonderful screen type and will make a big hit in the picture," says Mr. Kean. Miss Fowler disclaims all previous screen ambitions and said that her selection as a leading lady had come as a complete surprise to her.

Kellogg's are delicious. Full of wonder flavor!
Never tough-thick. Always easy to digest.

Serve with milk or cream—and add fruits or honey for extra goodness. Have them for breakfast, lunch, or the kiddies' evening meal.

Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario. Oven-fresh in the inner-sealed red-and-green package. At all grocers. Hotels and restaurants. On dining-cars.
