MANY ATTEND COSTUME BALL

Event Last Night Brought Day to Happy Close

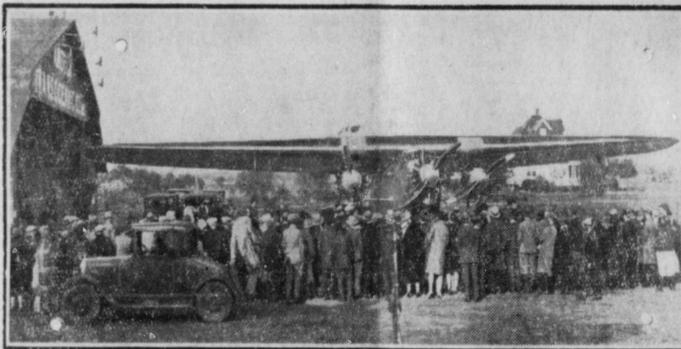

A splendid turnout for the grand costume ball last night at Exhibition Hall brought a splendid day's enjoyment to a finish. A crowd of over 600 gathered and, to music supplied by Mrs. Ponder's orchestra, augmented for the occasion, danced till early morning.

The festive spirit was very much in evidence and all were determined to celebrate with all enthusiasm the Diamond Jubilee celebration. Fred Wesch and Gillis Royer shared the duties of M.C. and saw that all were busy and happy.

The costumes were few but showed a considerable amount of thought and workmanship. Mrs. James Field, representing Canada, was awarded the lady's prize.

The refreshments, supplied by the I.O.D.E., were ample and varied.

Mrs. W. D. Moxley and son and daughter left this morning for an extended visit in Ottawa, Detroit and other Eastern cities.

THE SPIRIT OF CANADA

Country Has Emerged From Colonial Dependence to That of Nationhood

DIFFERENCES OF RACE
Tolerance Prevails Throughout Country so That Differences Are Healthy

(By W. L. Mackenzie King)
The dream of the Fathers of Confederation was realized when the first Parliament of the Dominion of Canada was opened on July 1, 1867. Today, throughout the length and breadth of the land, in confidence and in hope, with thankfulness and with pride, Canada celebrates the Diamond Jubilee of that epoch-marking event. For 60 years Canada has remained constant as the Northern Star to the charter bequeathed to her by the Fathers of Confederation. The 60 years of Confederation have seen their vision given form and body, and achievement carried, in many cases, far beyond their dream. These years have witnessed the settling and subduing of half a continent and the upbuilding of a new nation.

Sixty years Canada consisted of four isolated provinces in the east, facing an unknown west and an unknown north; today the four provinces have grown to nine, tenfold in area and reaching from sea to sea. The prairie provinces, over which Indian and buffalo roamed, now yield more than twentyfold the wheat grown in all Canada at Confederation; and what was held to be the barren and frozen north, rich in unfathomed treasure, is every day being revealed from Rouyn to Cobalt, and from Porcupine to Finlayson. Nor is even that line the northern limit of our endeavor; today Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol posts as many miles north of Toronto as Vancouver is distant from St. John.

INDUSTRIAL PROGRESS
Manufactures have grown fifteenfold, our railways twentyfold, and our financial and commercial structure equally in scope and complexity, until today the League of Nations formally ranks the Dominion of Canada as the seventh industrial nation of the world. Our trade to the outside world has shown an even more startling growth, alike in amount, content, and direction. Our exports of paper made from woodpulp and of motor-cars, articles which did not figure at all in our balance sheet 60 years ago, are alone threefold our total exports of that day; we send to Japan today twice as much as to Great Britain then, and twice as much now to the continent of Europe as then to all the world.

Side by side with these material developments there has grown a marked, if not always even or sustained, development of popular education, advance in the arts, increased interest in the world without and contact with its latest trends. Not all change may have been gain; we may not have held all our pioneer ideals nor fulfilled all the hopes of the men of '67, but the work of the men who have been building Canada, not for the past 60 years only, but through all the years of foundation, is a great work, a robandant work, an achievement which can fairly challenge comparison with any other nation-making task of these or of any

Engineers Here to Look After Building of Road Toward Galloway Rapids

To supervise the construction of the Kaien Island Highway to Galloway Rapids, Guy R. Balloch of Victoria, resident engineer for the provincial department of public works, arrived in the city yesterday morning on the Cardena and will take up residence here, Mrs. Balloch also having come north. With Mr. Balloch also arrived J. Dougherty of Vancouver who will be his assistant.

It is expected that the Vancouver Pile-driving & Contracting Co. will soon get started on the four and a half miles of roadwork for which it has been awarded the contract.

The contract was awarded on the unit-price basis, the cost depending upon the yardage of material moved. On the basis of official estimates of quantities, the scheme is expected to cost $129,340. This tender was the lowest received. Four other bids ranging up to $178,000.

BYRD LANDS IN NORMANDY

Plane America, After Crossing Atlantic, Makes Forced Landing

PARIS, July 2.—Her navigators blinded by fog and her compass out of order, the plane America landed in the sea off the village of Versmerre on the Normandy coast, 125 miles west of Paris, at 3:30 Friday morning. The aviators made their way safely ashore in a raft they carried. The plane, in shallow water two hundred yards off shore, was towed ashore. It is hoped it may be restored to flying condition.

Bert Acosta, pilot of the plane, suffering from a fractured clavicle, received it is believed in the landing, must wear his arm in a sling. Byrd, fatigued and nervous, must rest three weeks.

The fliers were taken to the town of Caen near Versmerre yesterday and given dinner at the Prefecture Palace where they later retired. They are guests of the French government.

COLONEL LINDBERG FLIES TO OTTAWA

OTTAWA, July 2.—Col. Charles Lindbergh, bearing a message of greeting from President Coolidge to Premier King in commemoration of the Diamond Jubilee of Canada's Confederation, with an escort of twelve United States army planes, flew over the city and landed at 1:20 yesterday afternoon. One of the accompanying airplanes from St. Louis had the misfortune to crash while landing here and Lieut. Thad Johnson was instantly killed.

Spark from Burner Causes the Destruction of Interior Lumber Plant and Product

TERRACE, July 2.—The Vanarsdol Lumber Co.'s sawmill at Vanarsdol was wiped out by fire Friday afternoon. The conflagration was supposedly caused by a spark from the burner. The disaster being reported to Terrace over the government telephone, Ranger Cooper with George Little and others left by speeder for the scene and were successful in saving some lumber and ties.

RECEPTION HERE IS APPRECIATED

Commander R. G. Coman of U.S.S. Reno Never Met More Hospitable People Than Here

In all his experience of cruising the ports of the world never was a more enthusiastic and wholehearted welcome given an American warship in a foreign port than that which the people of Prince Rupert gave U.S.S. destroyer Reno on her visit here. So stated Lieut. Commander R. G. Coman of that vessel which pulled out at 1:30 this morning for Bremerton after a three day visit here for the purpose of participating in the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation celebration. It was a great pleasure to be here, said the commander who was desirous of expressing the appreciation of himself and his officers and men.

Yesterday at noon Commander Coman was host to some dozen local persons, including the mayor and Hon. T. D. Pattullo, as well as members of the celebration committee and others whom he had met while here. After luncheon, the vessel made an hour and a half cruise outside the harbor with about 150 local people on board.

OFFICERS AND MEN OF WARSHIP GIVEN SMOKER LAST NIGHT

Officers and men of U.S.S. destroyer Reno were entertained last night at a smoker by the Canadian Legion and the city in the premises of the former. There were speeches, songs, music and refreshments in abundance and the evening proved of great success and enjoyment for all who were present.

STREET PARADE GREAT SUCCESS

The most spectacular and outstanding feature of the celebration yesterday of the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation was the great street pageant in which something over one hundred splendidly decorated vehicles participated under most auspicious weather conditions before practically the entire population of the city.

Led by Corp. Thomas Brice, R.C.M.P., on horse, the parade formed up at the Court House Square and, covering a length of some ten blocks, marched along Second Avenue to the Junction, thence along Third Avenue and up Fulton Street, along Sixth Avenue to Hays Cove Circle, and thence back and down McBride Street to the Court House.

In the line of march were a detachment from the U.S.S. Reno, followed by naval reservists, sea cadets, Boys' Band, Boy Scouts and school children. Then came the decorated vehicles.

On their return to the Court House, Confederation medals and sweets were distributed among the children. Some of the outstanding floats were that of the Native Sons of Canada, representing the Fathers of Confederation; the Elks, country schoolhouse with all the appurtenances; Moose, Mooseheart, which was accompanied by members of the order, both men and women; Gyro playground; Deep Sea Fishermen's hall; boat; Knights of Columbus, Santa Maria; Trades & Labor Council, St. Andrew's Society, Lord Selkirk making treaty with Red River Indians, and Moose Jazz band.

The floats will appear again tonight in the illuminated parade, after which the prizes in the various classes will be awarded.

For the success of the parade credit is due R. V. G. Le Pine, L. W. Waugh and the members of the committee. It was the first time such a thing had been attempted here and it was indeed a great showing. Sergeant J. P. M. Hann and his officers of the city detachment rendered invaluable assistance in directing the traffic, the like of which the city had never seen before.

POSSIBILITIES OF THE ISLANDS

There are great possibilities for development on the islands which form the outer fringe of the British Columbia coast. We have often spoken of the Queen Charlotte Islands but refer more particularly on this occasion to the smaller group nearer the coast. One of these is Porcher Island.

Just now there is a gold mine being developed there on what is known as the Patterson property and the new owners expect to ship from 20 to 25 tons of ore a day from it. This is no experiment, because already shipments from the mine have brought good returns.

There are other prospects on the island that may prove valuable and there are agricultural prospects in the valleys.

One possibility that has been overlooked is that of raising cattle on the island. There is plenty of good feed there in the summer and even in the winter the deer thrive and keep fat. It is suggested that cattle in large numbers could be raised there and this industry might prove to be a good one on other islands on the coast. There would have to be a sufficient number to make it worth while looking after them and if possible sufficient hay lands should be secured to raise most of the feed necessary to keep them during the short cold snaps in the winter. Possibly the screenings from the elevator might be utilized for the purpose.

Working for the purpose of acquiring is ethically incorrect. The true man is he who works to become.

You do not mind the sting of a bee because the insect earns its living and benefits mankind but the bedbug is beyond the pale. It gets in its dirty work at night and its habits are disgusting.

ROAD CONTRACT LET

The road contract is let and the firm is one that is fully qualified to carry it through to completion. It is satisfactory to know that it has been taken at a low figure so that the province will get a good deal and it will not be so difficult to get more work done in future. It is to be hoped that the work will be proceeding within a very short time and that before long it will be possible to drive, not only to the narrows, but to Port Edward.

God established a kindergarten and he called it The Earth and all the inhabitants take part in the games. In a few million years the inhabitants may have developed to the adult stage.

When hate ruled the world, it was personified and called The Devil. With the passing of hate The Devil is losing his tail, his cloven hoofs and his brimstone and some day he will disappear altogether.

DON'T FORGET PEACE RIVER

Prince Rupert people must never forget the Peace River and its possibilities. We get very enthusiastic over a proposal and then tire of it and allow our interest to lapse. That seems to be the case now in connection with the Peace River. The interests of this port are tied up with that northern agricultural district and we must insist that the route for the western outlet shall be one in which Prince Rupert will share equally at least with the cities to the south.

Every man is a tyrant if he can only find someone to tyrannize.

SITE FOR A SMELTER

Just now there is a committee of the Board of Trade busily at work gathering data on the mines which would be available to supply a smelter if it were established in this neighborhood. At least it is supposed it is working, for it was recently appointed for that purpose. With the recent impetus given to mining and the possibility of a great many properties becoming shipping mines it seems as if this is the right time to prepare and not after the ore has been diverted elsewhere.

There is no place so well suited for a smelter as is this. It could not be on the townsite, of course, but at Port Edward or Tuck's Inlet or some other suitable location on deep water and also on the railway so that it could receive ores from all the mines in the district without entailing heavy expense.

LUNCHEON FOR NAVAL GUESTS

Commander of U.S.S. Reno and Officers Entertained

The entertainment committee of the Diamond Jubilee Celebration were hosts to the officers of the United States destroyer Reno at the Commodore Cafe on Thursday afternoon. Commander Coman, Commander E. R. Root, Lieut. A. M. Hledsoe, Lieut. R. S. Farwell, Ensign Nickerson and Ensign Gardner were present as well as Alderman M. M. Stephens, who occupied the chair. Consul Wakefield, Hon. T. D. Pattullo, minister of lands, J. C. Brady, M.P., Mayor Newton, Lieut. R. P. Ponder, A. J. Prudhomme and F. J. Fuller.

After an excellent luncheon, Ald. Stephens, on behalf of the committee, welcomed the guests stressing the fact that their presence in Prince Rupert was an indication of the general friendship existing between the people of Canada and the States.

Mayor Newton was particularly pleased that the visit of the battleship was possible as neither the Japanese nor the British governments had been able to send a ship. He assured his listeners that the whole citizenship was never more pleased than when they were informed of the arrival of the Reno and of the desire of the American government to be represented in the celebration. They would be able to carry back very vivid and sincere memories of the kindly feelings of all to the republic to the south.

Mr. Pattullo was glad to have the opportunity to join in the welcome of the visitors. Though they came in a destroyer, an emblem of destruction, yet they came as harbingers of peace and only of destroyers of those who would wish for the destruction of the goodwill between the nations.

Mr. Brady congratulated Consul Wakefield on his success in getting the Reno here and congratulated Prince Rupert on its guests. Only recently were the people of the world thrilled by the exploits of Capt. Lindberg. He rejoiced that Canada was a young country and assured his listeners that they had much to see here in Prince Rupert. The commercial world was swinging westward and Rupert was certain to be a port of great importance.

Commander Coman said they felt that they were not visitors so much as they were one of the Canadians themselves. He thanked the people of Prince Rupert for their very generous hospitality and hoped that the citizens would feel that the Reno was their's while in port.

Mr. Wakefield explained that when in response to his request, to the American naval authorities to send a battleship, he was informed that manoeuvres made it impossible, he reiterated his request adding that Prince Rupert was now recognized as a great ocean port and hoped that it would get the same consideration as ports to the south. As a result we had the Reno here and he was very glad for he knew that the people of Rupert would justify themselves in welcoming their guests.

The singing of the National Anthem brought the luncheon to a close. During the forenoon, as the guests of the celebration committee, the officers were taken round the city and shown over the Drydock and the Canadian Fish and Cold Storage plant.

CABARET DANCE FOR ROTARIANS

Ketchikan Visitors Entertained by Local Club on Thursday Night

The Prince Rupert Rotary Club was host to Ketchikan members of the organization at a cabaret dance in the Commodore Cafe Thursday night. There were between 80 and 90 persons in attendance and the function was in progress from 9:30 to 1:30 o'clock.

Principal speakers were Col. J. W. Nicholls, president of the local club, who presided; Dr. W. E. Peterson, president of the Ketchikan Rotary Club, and J. Beagle, also of Ketchikan.

There was a fine musical program which included vocal and instrumental numbers and a feature was the playing of the Ketchikan Rotary Club orchestra.

The presentation to Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Rochester, as a wedding gift, of a beautiful engraved silver entree dish was one of the happy events of the evening.

Miss Irene Morrison's orchestra furnished music for dancing. The Ketchikan visitors returned home on the Princess Alice yesterday morning.

STEWART

The Stewart Tennis Club will open two new courts on Eighth Street, West, now nearing completion, next Sunday. The occasion will be marked with the playing of a tournament, participants in which will be three teams each from the local club and one each from the Premier, Dunwell and B.C. Silver.

The only reason for the reports in southern papers that the Premier mine has struck new and phenomenal ore bodies is attributed by the management to the fact that for some months past the company has been mining high grade ore in one or two of the stopes

The wedding took place in Salt Lake City, Utah, last Friday of Miss Agnes Pitt, sister of Dale L. Pitt, manager of the Premier mine, and Sebastian Embleton of the Premier mine staff. Both bride and groom have many friends in this district.

J. N. Turvey of Vancouver is visiting his cousin, Dr. J. H. Carson, at Premier.

Charles O'Neill, former foreman at the Indian mine, has returned to Stewart after an absence of three years.

One of the most remarkable freight moving feats ever undertaken in this district has been completed by Jack Rennie in taking fifty tons of freight into the Prosperity property, on the north fork of the Marmot River, for the Premier Gold Mining Co. With a crew of four men, Mr. Rennie took in the supplies and machinery over one of the most precipitous trails of the north coast, climbing along the mountain side to an elevation of over 5,000 feet in less than five miles.

Sam Deschamps received word last week of the death of his youngest brother, Louis, in Walkerville, Ont., whom he had not seen since he left home forty years ago.

BUSTER KEATON HERE TONIGHT

Comes in "The General" and Takes Part in American Civil War

Since the announcement Monday of the movie program for the week a change has taken place and it is a change for the better. Buster Keaton is coming in "The General."

Here is what one reviewer says of the picture: "Not so many moons ago, Buster Keaton offered a comedy in which he played around with an antiquated train. It furnished so much laughter that the stone-face comedian cannot be censured for doubling in his tracks. 'The General,' his first opus under the United Artists banner, places him in the cab of an old-style-big-smoke-stacked engine—from which the film gets its title—and he proceeds to measure out a fair amount of fun.

"Buster visualizes an actual detail of the Civil War—the Andrews railroad raid at Big Shanty, Ga., in 1862. Unable to get into the Confederate army, he uses his engine to pilot the boys in gray. Naturally it becomes more melodramatic than humorous, though the piece is lightened with timely gags here and there."

Neglected Eyes

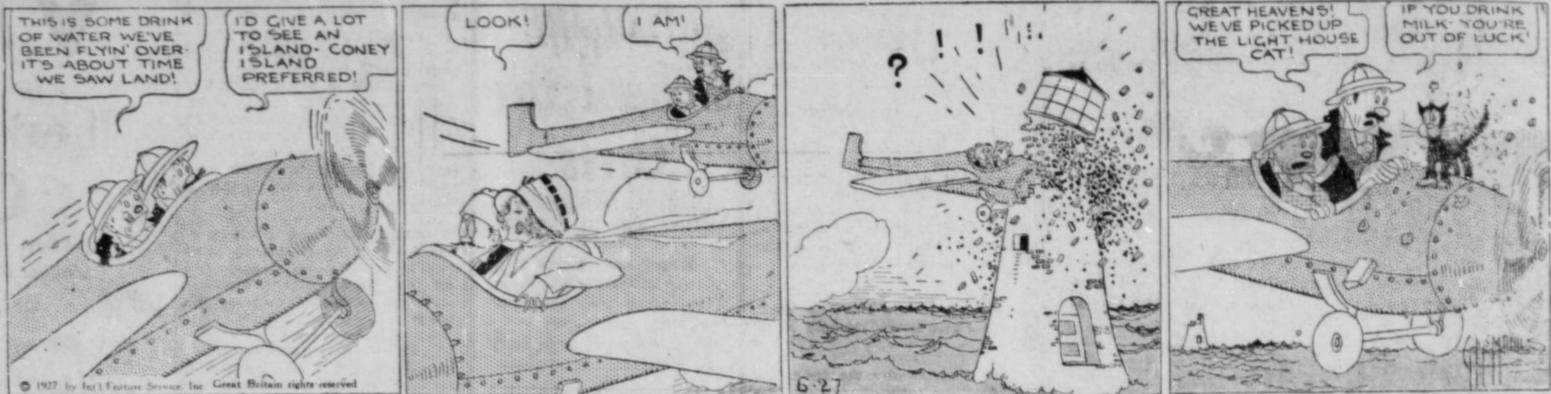

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

HONORS EVEN IN BASEBALL

Ketchikan Won First Game of Series and Prince Rupert Second

Ketchikan and Prince Rupert shared honors in the Diamond Jubilee baseball series.

Thursday evening, the visitors won 6 to 4 in a game that was featured by a couple of fatal fielding breakdowns on the part of the locals. Good tight baseball was played for the first three frames and, in the fourth, Ketchikan took the lead with four runs though there were only two hits. Rupert was from then on playing behind although the hopes of the fans rose high in the fifth when the locals made seven hits with, however, only three runs. In the seventh, Ketchikan got two more runs across but Rupert was not able to overcome the lead, their only further score being one run in the ninth. Prince Rupert excelled in batting and pitching honors were fairly even but it was in field work where the locals fell down.

Play by play, the first game was as follows:

Waterfront Whiffs

Improvement in Salmon Fishing—Record Number of Boats Engaged in Industry This Season—Halibut Still Gaining

There has been a fairly good appearance of salmon in the Skeena River and along the coast during the past week but, so far, there is hardly enough to go around with a greatly increased number of boats, particularly seining vessels, in operation on account of the demand for every fish that can be caught. The past week saw activities generally started at the canneries for the season and, according to reports, every cannery to be operated on the mainland this season has started packing. The high boat of the week took forty fish and the average was about nine.

Fishing activities in the central division of District No. 2 are said to be unprecedented in volume. One veteran canneryman of the coast states that he never saw anything like it before. With so many boats in operation, the question is: Will they all be able to make it stick? Fears are expressed that some of them will not be able to make a living.

Announcement was made during the week that the aerial patrol of the fisheries is to be resumed this season in District No. 2. Details are not yet to hand but it is supposed that the patrol will be carried on this year by a commercial aviation concern. Government planes took care of this work during the past season but it is understood that there are neither the planes or the men at Jericho Beach station to undertake the service again.

because it would be a distinctly human consideration, to be expected in fairness, and secondly because it would help Prince Rupert.

Well! Billy Bissett and Frank Fortune did get to Khatada after all and, what's more, they got a fine bag of fish. The bird who goes along the street and picks up the news items never did get anything straight but the Waterfront Whiff man never makes mistakes. In fact, he has to come along and straighten things out half the time, just as he is about to do now.

As said before, Billy Bissett and Frank Fortune did get to Khatada and the fish. But it was not without some difficulty and if it could all be told it would make a good story. They set out last Friday night and got as far as Haysport when they had a break-down. Then they started in to drift while repairs were being made and when they got done drifting where had they drifted to? They had drifted to Kennedy Island but of this fact the two intrepid heroes of the tale were not aware. In fact when they started going again they did not know where they were going. They were undeniably lost. Finally they ran across a fishing boat and were told where they were and started blithely on their way again. Finally Khatada was reached and the fish were got but that's only half the story.

What did Billy and Frank do when they started home but break down again. In a drenching rainstorm it gets tiresome to be continually breaking down in an open boat on the Skeena River. No wonder Billy got so mad that he tore a soaking sweater off and threw it at the blinking gadgits which suddenly started up again only to strip the gears and go permanently out of business.

They sent word into town and soon Jack Cook arrived on the scene with the Joy Bird to tow them home. But Frank was then lost in the bush and Billy figured it was no time to waste precious moments searching for him. Billy came home by water and Frank, finding himself thus rudely deserted, boarded a good old Canadian National passenger train and got back Wednesday afternoon fully resolved that, while a good time was had by all he was going to see that the next trip to Khatada is under somewhat more favorable conditions.

LAST SUGA BOAT

The last boat of the season to be completed at the Suga establishment, the seinboat Alberta G., built for R. G. Johnston, left on Tuesday afternoon for Kientu cannery, out of which she will be operated. The vessel is 50 feet long, with beam of 12½ feet and depth of 5 ft. 5 in., and is powered with 30 h.p. Union engine.

It's a cinch that nobody can keep away from the police or the income tax collector very long, even the marine community. Sergeant Alex McNeil of the provincial police, who is also provincial fisheries overseer in these parts, be glad to have those who intend to pursue some arrange with him, for their licenses. If not, the Adams will have to make a little faint one of these days.

Capt. Harold Nesland, well known owner of the American halibut schooner Seattle, has left with his family for a five months' visit to his old home in Norway. During his absence, the Seattle has been chartered to Ben Corneliusen, an experienced halibut fisherman.

The halibut schooner Franklin, which was built in Seattle during the winter, returned to that port from her maiden voyage with a 17,000-lb. halibut fare. Her owners are Alfred Peterson, Carl Sather and Olaf Swanson. The vessel is 62 feet long with a 15½ foot beam and 7 feet 9 in. depth, and is powered with a 90 h.p. Washington-Estep diesel engine.

die for Canada. Canada is our home, there is nothing nearer or dearer than our home, and what could be nearer or dearer than Canada?

We all hope that never again will it be necessary for any of us to die for our country except in peaceful service. Nevertheless, we know not what the morrow may bring forth. Let us as a nation so comport ourselves as to gain the respect and admiration of other nations. As no man can live to himself alone, so no nation can live to itself alone. We must think internationally. The progress that has been acquired in knowledge and information, and the development which has taken place as a consequence thereof, would have astounded the people of a generation ago. We are becoming so accustomed to new discoveries that we are no longer astounded at anything. How important is it, therefore, in a world that is becoming so closely interwoven, that we should establish friendly and understanding relationships between nations and nations.

with us the officers and men of the United States destroyer "Reno," a destroyer coming not as an instrument of destruction, but as a message of peace and goodwill. We appreciate very much the courtesy of the people of the United States in joining with us on the anniversary of our birth as a nation, and we trust that the officers and men of the good ship "Reno" will thoroughly enjoy their stay among us.

"The best service that we can render to other nations, is to properly develop our own. Wholeheartedly and without reservation let us resolve this day, to consecrate our lives to the upbuilding of our country. This does not involve the making of martyrs of ourselves. It does not require any miracle. It is all very simple. Whether we are engaged in affairs of state, scientific research, industrial endeavor or the thousand and one vocations which we are following, all that is necessary for us to do, is for each one of us each day to give of the best that is in him, in his own particular sphere. Let us remember that the material and moral worth of our country, is the sum total of our individual worth. Let us see to it, therefore, that we make a fair contribution to the national welfare in order that Canada may be honored by all nations."

able to establish national unity in diversity.

NATIONHOOD
The last 60 years have been years of evolution and of national preparation. From a state of colonial dependence Canada has emerged into nationhood. Economic interests may differ in widely separated communities throughout Canada, but it is the stimulating difference of diversified industrial enterprise. From the beginning of Confederation, there have been differences of race, language, and creed, but with tolerance prevailing they are healthy differences.

Throughout the picturesque pattern of a young Canadian nation, running through warp and woof is the golden thread of allegiance to the Crown, the symbol of united Canada, even as it is the bond of union between all the self-governing communities within the commonwealth of British nations.

This Diamond Jubilee year of Confederation is the occasion of national thanksgiving for the wonderful prosperity of Canada in return for years of self-reliant labor in harmony with nature. It is equally the occasion for celebrating with gratitude the heritage of freedom which has come through the gradual unfolding of government under the British Constitution.

MAIDENS BAR MEN WHO HAVE NOT HAD MILITARY TRAINING

TOKYO, July 2.—Young women in other parts of the world may be staunch advocates of peace and frown severely upon the military spirit. But not so in Japan, where members of the Maidens' Association of Ishikawa Prefecture have announced that in the future they will not marry young men who have not had military training.

The maidens' association adopted a resolution to this effect, and the vernacular newspapers state that other associations throughout the empire are considering similar action. The reason given for barring unsoldierly swains is that young men without military training usually are inferior, mentally and physically, to those who have "gone through the mill."

CRAZE FOR DANCING IN IRELAND TODAY

DUBLIN, July 2.—The craze for dancing has extended all over Ireland even to remote rural districts. Imported dances have largely displaced the old traditional Irish rince fada. In Cork complaint is made that the Irish dances are treated as a joke, and one member of the Borough Technical Committee desired to make Irish dancing as compulsory as the Irish language, while another suggested that at dances every third dance at least should be Irish.

POLITICAL DEVELOPMENT
In political development the experiment of Confederation was a bold one. During 100 years various forms of government had been tried in the four original provinces, but none had fulfilled the aspirations of the people, already conscious of the glorious destiny awaiting them. It is true that in the confederation of the provinces a panacea for all ills, social and political, has not been found, but from north and south, east and west, as a result of union and expansion, the chosen representatives of the people now assemble in one Parliament to carry out the pacific struggle of parties for the greatest good of the greatest number.

Half a century ago the vast distances separating the present provinces of the Dominion seemed to offer a permanent obstacle to that freedom of intercourse so necessary to the development of a national spirit. Today, from sea to sea, in comfort and ease, the whole continent may be traversed in a few days.

In expanse the Dominion of Canada is equal to the area of the continent of Europe; it is diversified in natural resources and climate. Since the confederation of the provinces, however, the Canadian people have demonstrated that under freedom of government it is possible to establish national unity in diversity.
