LIQUOR BATTLE IN THE U.S. COURTS

NEW CANNERY TO BE BUILT ON THE QUEEN CHARLOTTE

Great Possibilities for Trouble Seen in Federal Ship Matter

CAPTAIN SAYS SHELLING BOAT WAS AN ACT OF WAR—CANADIAN OWNERS ON WAY FROM VANCOUVER TO FIGHT CASE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 4.—There will be a battle in the courts between the United States government and the Canadian liquor exporters over the steamer Federal Ship and her million dollar cargo of whiskey which was seized under coastguard fire this week on the high seas and which is now swinging at anchor in San Francisco Bay under guard. That it will be an unusual fight is promised by the fact that Capt. S. S. Stone, the rum ship's skipper, and the only member of the crew arrested, insists that the coastguard ship committed an act of war by shelling his vessel five times with six-pound shells, taking effect on the main deck and splintering the rail and cutting away the hatch. Capt. Stone says that he will ask the Panama government, under the flag of which the Federal Ship was sailing and in which country the vessel is registered, to declare war against the United States unless amends are made for the use of the guns.

FOUND GUILTY STOLEN BOOZE

MR. AND MRS. SPOSITO WILL BE SENTENCED AT VANCOUVER FOR HAVING CHRIS MOELLER LIQUOR

VICTORIA, March 4.—Angelo Sposito and his wife, Marion, were found guilty at the Supreme Court assizes here of retaining in their possession two cases of whiskey knowing the same to have been stolen. The charge arose out of theft of liquor from the schooner Chris Moeller by Capt. Percival Warrington, first mate, who was recently sentenced to six months in police court. The vessel at the time was being held at the order of the royal commission investigating the customs.

ARTHUR BAILEY DIES IN SOUTH

DEATH COMES AS HAPPY RELEASE TO SUPPLYING OF B.C. NATIVE SON AND PIONEER OF THIS DISTRICT

BORN AT YALE

Many friends and acquaintances in city and district will learn with shock of the death which occurred in Vancouver last night of Arthur Bailey, a native son of British Columbia and pioneer resident of the Skeena River district. His demise came as a happy release to illness which overtook him soon after he and his family moved south from Prince Rupert less than a year ago.

The late Mr. Bailey was born one of twins forty-eight years ago at Yale in the Fraser Valley. He had pioneered in almost every part of the province and was an authority on matters pertaining to the early history of British Columbia. For many years he was identified with Inverness cannery in the Skeena slough, not far from Prince Rupert, and for some time was on the staff of Lippett-Cunningham in the city, which position he relinquished about a year ago, moving in the spring to Victoria.

Beside his widow and daughter, Lola, to whom the sympathy of many local friends will be extended, the late Mr. Bailey is survived by five brothers and four sisters resident in various parts of the province.

GOLD RUSH IN NEVADA

BONANZA IN PROSPECT FOLLOWING DISCOVERY OF TWO YEARS ARRIVING AT TONOPAH

TONOPAH, March 4.—With a rush across the desert in search of a bonanza in prospect, residents of Tonopah and surrounding districts are anxiously waiting in hope that two boys who said they had made a big strike would make public the location. Plans for the rush got under way yesterday when the two youths staggered into Tonopah with two sacks of gold ore which assayed $78,000 a ton. They refused to divulge the location.

Mining engineers said that, if the ore given the assays was of the free milling variety, it must have come from Death Valley famous in the history of gold in the West.

WOMEN'S DAY OF PRAYER IS HELD

LADIES OF ALL DENOMINATIONS GATHERED FOR SERVICE THIS AFTERNOON PRESIDED OVER BY MRS. G. A. RIX

Complying with a custom that is observed on the First Friday of Lent throughout the Christian world by women of the various Protestant denominations, "Women's Day of Prayer" was being observed in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral, Prince Rupert, this afternoon with ladies of various local churches in attendance. The object was more especially to pray for foreign missionary work. Mrs. G. A. Rix presided.

Miss Marjorie Lancaster acted as organ accompanist for the hymns which were "Spirit Divine, Attend Our Prayer," "Jesus Shall Reign Where'er the Sun," "The Church's One Foundation," and "God Save the King." The scripture lesson was read by Mrs. J. R. Frisell of the Presbyterian Church, while Mrs. McCookie (Anglican) gave the devotional address and Mrs. W. F. Price (Baptist), the missionary address. Various prayers were taken as follows: "Canada," Mrs. F. W. Hart (Lutheran); "China," Miss Isabel Haddock (United); "Moslem World," Mrs. Mastin (Baptist); "Japan," Miss Eleanor Lenox, M.D. (Japanese Anglican Mission); "India," Mrs. Stobart (Salvation Army); "League of Nations," Mrs. G. G. Hacker (United); and "All Other Fields," Mrs. J. W. Ledlie (Baptist).

ABSURDITY OF TWIGG CHARGES.

The Twigg charges in the Legislature bear absurdity on their face. The thoughtful observer cannot help but wonder. Is it probable that ministers of the crown, even if they had corrupt designs, put themselves in the hands of such men as Gauthier and Carlow? Is it likely that men, so far involved as the Opposition says the Liberal ministers are, would refuse, as they have done, the demands of blackmailing individuals? Is it to be imagined that men like Gauthier would expose a $5,000 contribution, such as is alleged, unless, possibly, the other side raised the ante? Is it not, however, very possible that Gauthier and Carlow are political extortioners, fabricating their charges, with or without the knowledge and assistance of the politicians who are bringing them forth in the Legislature? Have the actions of Premier Oliver, Attorney General Manser, Minister of Public Works Sutherland and Speaker Buckham in defying Gauthier and Carlow, been those of men guilty of corruption?

POSSIBLE RETIREMENT OF HON. WILLIAM SLOAN.

Reports emanating from Victoria suggest that Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines, owing to ill-health, may be compelled to drop out of the cabinet. Such reports, it is to be hoped, may prove untrue. A widely popular man whose private means have made it possible for him to devote all his energies to his public duties without concern over his own personal affairs, the Hon. Mr. Sloan has been for many years one of the real and outstanding forces in the provincial government. He has been the author of many valuable pieces of legislation and has put the department of mines in a position where it is of real service to the industry. What would be the country's loss in his retirement would be no less than that of the Liberal party from a political point of view for there is a well known saying that "Billy" Sloan has never lost an election in which his talents for organization were injected.

BRADY IS MAKING NAME FOR HIMSELF.

Mr. Brady is apparently making a name for himself as one of Ottawa's precocious members. The Ottawa Citizen's parliamentary observer says he "speaks on everything and labors under no handicap of excessive modesty." What a polite way of saying he has "unmitigated gall!" It is to be noted that Mr. Brady's well known loquacity does not desert him even in the presence of such seasoned warriors as he faces across the chamber. Whether or not it will avail him anything, he has had his little say about the iniquity of his predecessor. Now we hope he will not follow in his alleged footsteps.

FEW TRANSGRESSORS. MANY SUFFER WITH

The many suffer for the transgressions of the few. This would be a platitude if it were not that modernity has given it greater significance.

The most common way the blameless many are made to expiate the wrongs of the few is through legislation. Things carried to excess invite prohibitory and restrictive legislation, although in moderation they would have escaped the lawmakers. But once they are embodied in the statutes the temperate are punished with the intemperate.

It is conceivable that there would be no speed laws compelling the motorist on the straight, broad and untraveled highway to drive as slowly as the one on the winding, narrow and busy thoroughfare if a thoughtless few had exercised reasonable care.

Among those enterprises resorting to poster advertising the complaint is common that there would now be heard no talk of legislative restrictions against advertising signboard along highways if a few of the advertisers and board owners had been more politic in their choice of sites.

It is a defect in the governmental system that it does not permit discrimination in favor of the petty offender.

UNITED CHURCH SUNDAY SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

FULL HOUSE GREETED SPLENDID PERFORMANCE DISCOURSED LAST NIGHT BY YOUNG PEOPLE

A full audience which required extra seating to accommodate greeted the Sunday School of the First United Church last night when it staged an entertainment which was both novel and well conducted.

The first part of the program was of a varied nature including clever vocal solos by Miss Dorothy Fraser, recitation by Edna Ireland, and selections by Professor H. Aubrey Pryce and his junior orchestra. Beside the orchestral numbers there were violin solos by Miss Bernice Ross and Miss Nellie Lawrence, a violin duet by Miss Kathleen Bulger and Miss Bernice Ross, string quartette by Misses Swana Olafson, Nellie Lawrence, Kathleen Bulger and Bernice Ross.

Much interest was taken in the "Empire Pageant," staged by Misses Ruby Krikevsky, Mona Yates, Annie Baduk, Elizabeth Wilson, Maxine Hellbronner, Jean Scott, Gwendolyn Morgan and Agnes Guyon. These young ladies, in appropriate costumes, represented the various units of the Empire and sang choruses suitable to the roles.

A clever exhibition of gymnast work was put on by Eddie Smith, Billy Patmore and Rudolph Nelson.

The feature of the evening was "The Old Maids' Convention," an amusing one-act farce. The costumes were praiseworthy and the acting was of a splendid type. Those taking part were Miss E. M. Earle, president of the convention; Miss Isabel Haddock, secretary; Mrs. J. S. Irvine, Mrs. G. V. Wilkinson, Mrs. Howard Steen, Mrs. G. M. Hunt, Mrs. John Manson, Miss Betty Arney, Miss Olga Kolosoff, Miss M. A. Way, Miss Swana Olafson, Miss Catherine Irvine, Miss Ella Steen, Miss May Thompson, Miss Julia Thomas, Miss Bernice Ross, Miss Victoria Krikevsky and Miss Connie Morgan.

Accompanists for the evening were Miss M. A. Way, Miss Anger, Mrs. H. C. Fraser, Prof. Pryce and Miss Molly Lawrence.

NEW PASTOR IS INDUCTED

REV. J. R. FRIZELL FORMALLY DECLARED MINISTER OF LOCAL PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. Thos. Oswald, moderator of the Westminster Presbytery, formally inducted Rev. J. R. Frizell, late of Vancouver Heights, Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, as pastor of the Prince Rupert First Presbyterian Church last night in the presence of a large number of the church members and adherents. Before the formal induction, in which the usual questions were asked of Mr. Frizell, Rev. Thos. Oswald preached an appropriate sermon on the "Full Orbed Christian Life." Rev. H. C. Fraser assisted in the service and recited the various steps which had been taken in proposing the call to Rev. J. Frizell.

Rev. R. J. Frizell answered the questions presented to him by the moderator, and, according to custom, the latter addressed a few remarks to the new pastor as well as to the congregation. Mr. Oswald expressed his regret that Dr. McBeath was not present to perform the duty and, in speaking to Mr. Frizell, expressed the opinion that he (Mr. Oswald) had more need to sit at his (Mr. Frizell's) feet than for the reverse to be the case. However, he would follow out the established custom and spoke appreciatively of the services, which the pastor would be called upon to perform. It would be his duty to guard well his health and give proper time to the various phases of the ministry.

Speaking to the congregation the moderator said that he had handed the call to Mr. Frizell which the church had forwarded. He complimented the church on the form of the call and elaborated briefly upon the congregation's duty to their pastor. He knew from the nature of the call which had been very representative of the membership and adherents of the church that Mr. Frizell would be accorded every support in his ministry. He also expressed a word of warning against undue or petty criticism of the pastor's work either in the pulpit or in his work outside.

After the service in the church, the elders and Mr. and Mrs. Frizell took up their positions in the basement where they were presented to the members of the congregation who welcomed them to their midst. The Ladies Aid then served tea and a brief social time was spent.

due to "matched impedance" or "smooth flow of sound" a new thing in home music—Nothing else is like it

WHAT people are saying about the new Orthophonic Victrola does sound incredible,—until—you have heard it played. That is only natural. For years you have been listening to old methods of playing music in the home. But today you have a surprise coming. That surprise is due to a new thing in music—"matched impedance" the exclusively controlled principle applied in the design of the new Orthophonic tone chamber. It is this which produces the beautiful music that will astound you when you first hear it, and ever after.

Today you can have the new Orthophonic Victrola with an electrically driven turntable, run from your lighting circuit. This eliminates winding.

The new Orthophonic Victrola is made in various models, from $430 down to $115, obtainable on convenient terms from any "His Master's Voice" dealer.

Eastern Member of Parliament Rises to Defence of Stork as Brady Attacks Him in Commons

"My honorable friend, Mr. Brady," has stated that his predecessor fell down in his duty as a representative because he failed to present the facts as they existed," stated A. E. McLean, M.P. for Prince County, Prince Edward Island, in the House of Commons at Ottawa after the local member had spoken in the budget debate.

After explaining to the House how the word budget was derived and indulging in other preliminaries, Mr. Brady spoke in part as follows:

It may seem strange to the Prime Minister (Mr. Mackenzie King) and to the government as a body that although last year's budget was pronounced to be a great success, although Canada had enjoyed a year of great prosperity and substantial reductions were made in taxation, although an elevator was built by the government in the city of Prince Rupert and by all common logic it would seem that the constituency of Skeena should have returned to this House a government supporter, yet it did not do so. It may seem ingratitude on the part of the electors not to return to parliament a Liberal member because Prince Rupert was held in such affectionate regard by the late Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who looked with fond eyes upon its birth and pledged almost his political destiny that that port should be developed. My predecessor, I am sorry to say, is more to blame for my presence here than perhaps any act of mine during the last federal campaign. I tell the government today that I was sent here to do what he failed to do, to present facts, not fancies, to the government for their consideration. I think it is the duty of a member of parliament, Mr. Speaker, to represent, not a section of the people, but all the people; to be honest and straightforward in his presentation of matters political, and neither to exaggerate nor to minimize conditions as they exist in his constituency. My predecessor did not present to the government the facts as they existed. According to him, everything was well in the land of Skeena. Everything was flourishing, and the people were basking under the beneficent influence of the government. From Atlin in the north to Ocean Falls in the south Skeena was a land, according to him, where everything was well. It is a great land, Mr. Speaker. It is rich beyond the bounds of imagination, but I say to this House tonight that the aspirations of its people, their wants and their legitimate demands, were not presented to the government in order that the conditions under which they were suffering might be ameliorated. When men come from contact with reality, and very often tragic reality, they are apt to have small patience with the ordinary conventions of speech which are sometimes used to conceal the truth. The peoples representative should be a representative of all classes, of all occupations and of all interests, and he should voice the aspirations of the people before the tribunal of parliament, the highest and the greatest tribunal in a democratic country. But, Mr. Speaker, when we see in that land, endowed with all the riches of nature, whole countryside in a stagnant and moribund condition, when we see men and women struggling for a living under conditions that are perhaps too severe, we are looking at sights that should not be seen in Canada today.

WHY HE'S THERE

Coming to my own constituency, by way of supplement to what I said regarding the reason for my being here, let me read a very short extract from the Province of September 17, 1926. This is a telegram sent by the Prime Minister of Canada to the Premier of British Columbia. After thanking Mr. Oliver for his congratulations on the result of the federal campaign, the right hon. Prime Minister said: "I will look to see British Columbia come gradually into line."

If I now read a quotation from the Daily News of Prince Rupert of the tenth of this month, I think the House will agree with me that the hopes of the government appear to be bright and rosy. The late member for Skeena on this particular occasion, in addressing a public meeting, said:

"There is no doubt in my mind that I am still the member for Skeena. The only difference is that I draw no salary and am privileged to stay at home and enjoy my family."

NOT ENVIOUS

Is there any other constituency in Canada today that has the great privilege of being represented by two members, one in the House on the opposition side, pleading the cause of that constituency, and one at home, the real member, who has the interests of the constituency at heart? I give to him whatever honor he deserves, and I add this, that if through his instrumentality the dream of Sir Wilfrid Laurier comes true and the port of Prince Rupert develops into one of the great ocean ports of the world, I shall not feel in the least envious. If my predecessor is still the member for Skeena, then surely this House as well as myself can support him in his demands for better transportation and greater development. And if, as the Prime Minister (Mr. Mackenzie King) declares, Skeena is to come into the fold, supposing that thereby the development of Skeena and the happiness of the people who live there will be furthered, I offer no objection.

I am not here tonight to advance any adverse criticism. I do not blame the government for the fact that settlers today, in the most fertile valleys of the world, are suffering untold hardships through lack of the things they need. It is an old grievance. I do affirm, however, that it is the duty of the government to listen to the voice of a representative who submits to them matter for thought, and who states the facts, which they can easily verify as it is their duty to do.

I come now to the constituency which I represent. An hon. member asked me why it was that my predecessor was not here today. I can reply to him convincingly: the electorate of that constituency by their vote on September 14 gave the answer, namely, that he was not satisfactory to them because he was not placing their needs as they ought to be placed before the government of the country. You need go no further than that. If I thought for one moment that in coming to this House I might in any way interfere with the laudable ambitions and the future prosperity of Skeena I would not be here. I feel that the government of the country is endowed with a wisdom, or at least a judgment sufficiently grounded, to enable it to rise above party politics and to view Canada's needs in a non-partisan, national spirit.

I want to bring to the attention of the government now a few points in connection with the harbor of Prince Rupert and generally of the riding I represent. As this House knows, in 1911 Sir Wilfrid Laurier visited that port, taking a deep interest in its development. He prophesied that one day Prince Rupert would become one of the ocean ports of the world. Tonight, it seems to me, this prophecy is well on the road to being fulfilled. Today the port of Rupert is an ocean port, and before the next few months will have passed, over fifty tramp steamers from Britain and the Orient will have loaded grain for every port in Europe, and for the Orient as well, at the local elevator. This, Mr. Speaker, is the thing I would like to dwell on for a few minutes. I believe there were many members in this House who did not believe it was advisable that an elevator should be built in Prince Rupert. No one should find fault with a man if his convictions are honest and if he believes that it is not advisable to put a large sum of money into an elevator or into a new railway line. But now that the elevator is a success, now that it is functioning to the extent of one hundred per cent, now that wheat from Alberta is flowing into it steadily, the government must undertake to see to it that that port continues to function and to develop, not for the sake of Rupert but for the sake of Canada and the development of Canadian ports. In that port we have wonderful facilities of all descriptions for an ocean-going trade. When the port of Montreal and the great lakes were frozen up and scores of steamers were ice-locked round the Christmas season, there were at the port of Prince Rupert—which never in the memory of man has been ice-bound, and I believe never will—five or six vessels ready to take grain to the Orient or the Old Country. I would ask the government to remem-

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

country of Atlin, where we have thirty-two producing mines, what do I find? An immense area, rich in its soil and in its mineral production, with thirty-two placer properties, including hydraulics, and a great prospect of further development. What assistance has this country received from the federal government for the last twelve months? None, except an increase in the postmaster's salary, although its people have for years asked federal aid through the provincial members and their federal member that they might get a very necessary thing—simply a road that would enable them to bring in their goods and not have to pay a rate of $65 a ton as they are paying today. It is no wonder that men turn aside and lose faith in government when governments seem to be heedless of their wants. We have likewise in the south of that constituency a great valley rich in resources and in population; but what do we find? The same thing prevails there. The people there, just because there is no road, pay $60 a ton to bring their food supplies into the valley. Therefore I would urge the government to consider the advisability (continued on page six)

CALIFORNIA IS WETTEST PLACE

STEVE JONES HAD DAMP SIX WEEKS MOTOR TRIP SOUTH

VICTORIA, March 4.—When it comes to rain, the wettest place in British Columbia is in the dry belt, compared with California at this time of the year, according to Stephen Jones, who returned this week from a six weeks' holiday trip in the south.

Mr. Jones took his car down from here with him. One day he and a Victoria friend went out on the street to where it was parked, expecting to be able to step in and drive off. They found the street was a river and they had to wade to the car. Fields of parked cars were stranded, as the rain came down so fast and hard that the water could not be carried off. Stores were flooded and highways made impassable. He returned home with his car on the boat. In San Diego the deluges have been tropical.

Mr. Jones was one of the prominent Canadians taking part in the Canadian picnic at Los Angeles in which 30,000 Canadians in California this winter

GREATEST OF INDIAN MEDICINE MEN DIES

"Old Mack" Succumbs on Chehalis Reserve at Over 100 Years of Age

CHEHALIS RESERVE, B.C., March 4.—"Old Mack," more than one hundred years old, and reputed to be one of the greatest of all Indian medicine men in British Columbia, passed on to the "happy hunting grounds" here recently.

For more than twenty years "Old Mack" had been blind and members of his tribe hint that his blindness was caused by another Indian doctor who, in anger, struck him with a "bad spirit" between the eyes; but although the eyes lost their power his mental vision was so well developed that he was not seriously inconvenienced.

All his life, even in the coldest winter months, "Old Mack" bathed daily in the glacial waters of the Harrison river, or in any other river or lake he happened to be. He was a renowned hunter in his youth and in his later years often served as a guide to big game expeditions.

of re-establishing federal aid for highways. I believe that British Columbia exhausted its quota, but last year the federal government spent more than $18,000,000 in the upkeep of our highways.

Another matter that has caused annoyance and disappointment to the people of my constituency is the fact that from the port of Prince Rupert to Canada outside there is not a road nor even a pathway. You may search the geography of the world and you will not find a port as important as Prince Rupert that has not a highway leading from it. I know the government cannot do everything, but I do know that unless federal aid for highways is re-established, the port of Prince Rupert will still wait for many years before those ninety miles of road are built to connect with the great Canadian highway.

have erred somewhat in my presentation of these matters, but I am a new member and perhaps I am not advanced enough to be able to cloak my thoughts. I say with Shakespeare in "Macbeth" that "Security is man's chiefest enemy." There is no government, I care not where they are or how strongly entrenched they may be, that can continue to turn a deaf ear to the aspirations of the people; for if they do the day will surely come for them, as it came for Macbeth, when the hopes they built upon will dwindle away. I am not saying this in any personal way, but it does seem to me that the hour has come, Mr. Speaker, when at least the two great parties in this House, though they may choose to differ on major questions, should at least agree on minor ones and unite in putting through good legislation and in giving good progressive government for the good of the people as a whole. Mr. Speaker, the people are thinking today, and they are wondering why it is that in an era of such great prosperity for Canada, many sections of this country are not participating in that prosperity. May I express the hopes that 1927 will be for Canada a year of progress and prosperity in which every part of the country will share. May we see in our Dominion a great and a happy people without many problems, and leading the way in good, sane and progressive government.
