H-Bomb Test Results To Be Announced Soon

Eyewitness Stories Told of 'Hell Bomb'

Whole Island Disappears, Writes Sailor Observer

By The Canadian Press

WASHINGTON—The Atomic Energy Commission says it will have an announcement, apparently soon, in connection with snowballing reports that the first U.S. hydrogen bomb has been exploded in the South Pacific.

Vivid eyewitness accounts of the purported "hell" bomb blast—some said it virtually sank Eniwetok Island—have been received in uncensored letters from U.S. sailors to friends at home.

An A.E.C. spokesman said "we will make an announcement" as soon as the current series of atomic tests are concluded.

Previously, A.E.C. officials indicated that for security reasons it might be years before anything would be made public about the new bomb.

Descriptions of a recent explosion—an H-bomb or super atomic—agree that it was an awesome thing.

One sailor wrote that he watched the spectacle through binoculars from his ship 30 miles away. He said he saw a great chunk of Eniwetok Island "which just seemed to melt away" in a fire that burned for six hours after the blast.

Finally, he said the entire mile-wide atoll "actually disappeared."

Several other eyewitness accounts agreed on the time—7:15 a.m. Central Pacific Time—location, and intensity of the blast.

Nanaimo Man Likely Choice To Lead PCs

VICTORIA 9—Dean Finlayson, 33-year-old Nanaimo insurance man, is the choice of a large group of Vancouver Island Tories for the Progressive Conservative party's leadership, which will be decided at the Nov. 29 convention in Vancouver.

Although there has been no official announcement, it was learned today the young former RCAF pilot is the man a well-organized group of Tories pin their hopes on.

Queried in Nanaimo today, Mr. Finlayson admitted:

"I have been approached and asked to seek the leadership. I haven't made a decision yet."

Close friends, however, said Mr. Finlayson will definitely be a candidate for the leadership "unless the picture changes considerably in the next few days."

Mr. Finlayson is a partner in the insurance firm of Evans and Finlayson Ltd., Nanaimo. Born in Vancouver, he has lived in Nanaimo since 1938.

Other possible candidates for leadership are former P.C. leader Herbert Anson and Dave Fulton, Kamloops M.P.

200 Attend 'Most Successful' Legion Banquet Celebration

Most successful annual banquet ever held by the Canadian Legion in Prince Rupert was the verdict yesterday as nearly 200 members of the Legion and the services gathered to pay tribute to their departed comrades, revive old memories and renew acquaintances.

All services, three wars and a wide assortment of ranks were represented there at the Canadian Legion auditorium on an occasion for which, as Branch President Alex Haig said, the keynote was "camaraderie."

"The spirit of camaraderie which always marks life in the service, is at its strongest in times of stress and danger," Mr. Haig remarked. "It is up to us to retain that spirit, and we can do so by turning out often and in full force."

Development of camaraderie is one of the goals which the executive has set for itself and, with the help of every member, there is no doubt that it will succeed, as the banquet today testifies.

He reminded the audience that there were veterans of the South African campaign present, as well as those of the two World Wars.

Mr. Haig extended special thanks to the Ladies' Auxiliary which had a major part in making the banquet arrangements. He also expressed appreciation to all service units and other organizations which had contributed to the success of the memorial ceremony at the Cenotaph.

Speaking on behalf of the Canadian army reserve, Capt. Roy Evans said he hoped the Legion would continue in its efforts to get the "sons and daughters" of Canada into the service.

EMERGENCY RESERVE
"While I hope at the same time that they will never see action, they will provide the background security against another emergency," Capt. Evans said. "This is what the reserve forces are trying to do, and they are making a good job of it."

"In our time we will probably see Canada as the greatest country in the world, and it is up to the services to keep it great. Those newcomers coming to us from other lands must be made welcome because they, too, will become loyal Canadians who will do much to help this country."

Further emphasis was placed on the importance of the Legion by George Hills, M.L.A. who conveyed greetings to the gathering on behalf of the Mayor and City Council.

"I have always been a close observer of the work done by the Canadian Legion in this city, and my experience is that the organization has always been high on the list of those endeavoring to improve civic affairs," Mr. Hills said. When it was remarked that

Yeggs Loot Post Office At Kemano

KEMANO—Theft of $2,500 in cash and money orders from the post office here was reported today.

The robbery was discovered Sunday afternoon. Police said there was no sign of a forced entry and the thieves apparently used a pass key.

AIR CHIEF TO RETIRE—Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, 59, Chief of the Air Staff, centre, gives his congratulations to Air Vice-Marshal C. R. Slemmon, 48, Air Officer Commanding, Training Command, Trenton, Ont., who has been appointed to succeed him when he retires on January 31, 1953. Looking on at right is Defence Minister Brooke Claxton who made the announcement. A/M Curtis, under whose guidance the post-war RCAF has emerged as one of the world's leading air forces, was appointed Chief of the Air Staff in September 1947 after serving successfully as Deputy Commander-in-Chief of RCAF forces overseas and Air Member for Air Staff at Air Force headquarters in Ottawa. A/V/M Slemmon held senior appointments in the RCAF's No. 6 Bomber Group and RCAF headquarters overseas during the Second World War then became Air Member for Supply and Organization at AFHQ.

Hundreds Pay Tribute to War Dead as City Observes 34th Year of Remembrance Day

Hundreds of citizens here paid silent tribute on Remembrance Day to the servicemen who gave their lives in war.

Throughout Canada, other thousands also honored their war dead. More than 120 Legionnaires and members of the women's auxiliary paraded through downtown streets to the Court House grounds where wreaths were placed at the Cenotaph.

At precisely 11 a.m., as St. Andrew's Cathedral bells rang out, all activity ceased and the throng stood with bowed heads in a two-minute silent tribute.

The Prince Rupert Civic Band, under the direction of Peter Lien, then played "O Canada" as the citizens sang. That was followed by the sounding of "The Last Post" by bugler W. J. Rance, just prior to Canon Basil S. Prockter's address to the veterans.

Wreaths were placed at the Cenotaph while the pipers played "The Lament."

First to lay a wreath was Alex Haig, president of the Canadian Legion, who was followed by Mrs. Darrow Gomez, representing the women's auxiliary.

They were followed by Lt. Cmdr. T. A. Johnstone, RCN; Mrs. G. G. Withers, IODE; Mrs. S. Darton, Women's Canadian Club; John Lawrie, Oddfellows; Mrs. Jordis Hill, Orange Lodge; a representative of the American Legion, Post 25 at Ketchikan; Inspector W. M. Taylor, RCMP; Capt. George Williams, army; John Laurie, Columbia Cellulose Company; and Bob Schruball of the Elks Club.

After the singing of the National Anthem, the parade marched through downtown streets before disbanding at the naval drill hall.

Leading the parade was the Shrine Band, followed by members of the Legion and the women's auxiliary, the RCMP, officers, men and Wrens from HMCS Chatham; sea cadets; the reserve army, boy scouts and girl guides.

Similar ceremonies were held throughout the nation as thousands bowed heads on the 34th observance since the cease-fire of the First World War.

In Ottawa, Governor-General Vincent Massey placed a wreath at the national war memorial while thousands watched. Later Veterans Minister Lapointe placed the cornerstone in the government's new $5,000,000 Department of Veterans Affairs building.

Maj. Joe Jeffers of the Command's information section said "there is no doubt in their minds that this is it."

Although no one had yet been able to reach the 12,000-foot high crash scene, Jeffers said "it is their opinion that there are no survivors."

The "flying packet" vanished in flight Friday with 19 men aboard—five crew members and 14 soldiers.

Elderly Man Plunges to Quick Death

VANCOUVER (CP)—An elderly man described as a chronic invalid plunged to his death Tuesday night from the fourth story of Mount St. Joseph's Hospital.

It was the third death from a fall here within six days. Police said Low Yew, 66, locked himself in the bathroom and squeezed through a half-open window overlooking the lane behind the hospital.

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (CP)—An Alaska Air Command officer said last night that search leaders are convinced an airplane wreckage sighted on Mt. Silverthorn is that of the missing C-119 troop carrier from Miami, Fla.

Maj. Joe Jeffers of the Command's information section said "there is no doubt in their minds that this is it."

Her big brown eyes sparkling, pretty Greta Menzel stood at the rail of the Prince Rupert as the ship swung neatly into the dock here this morning and gazed with amazement "at your lovely green mountains."

The rain didn't bother her. The sunshine always makes me feel so good" and the chilly air "it is not so bad." She had a taste of all these types of weather within the first half hour of her visit.

In short little sentences, the lovely lyric soprano of opera, radio, lieder and concert fame told how she has yearned for years to visit Alaska, and "your lovely coast."

Veterans Ask More Aid Government

PRINCE RUPERT (CP)—In the wake of Remembrance Day mourning Canada's war dead, the local Legion told the cabinet today that many of the veterans fought and lived are in "extreme hardship."

Leaders called for greater aid for the aged and needy veterans, he said, existing conditions can't cope with the situation.

Plans prepared for submission to Prime Minister St. Laurent and other ministers, the strong veterans' organization said flatly that improvement in the War Veterans' Act by Parliament have not nearly solved the problem.

Jaycees Campaign for Good Citizenship Award Fund

A campaign got underway today for public donations to the Alex Hunter Good Citizenship Award sponsored by the Prince Rupert Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Donations from three local citizens and one from outside the city now total $50.

The fund is required to purchase a plaque of honor which will be awarded to the Good Citizen of 1952, in memory of the community service rendered by the late Alex Hunter, managing editor of The Daily News.

A two-week limit has been set in which to accept funds, so ample time will be had to order the plaque and have it engraved, the Jaycee committee sponsoring the award said today.

During January, 1953, one adult person residing in Prince Rupert, male or female, will be selected as the recipient of this award. He, or she, will be elected by public ballot, in the following manner:

The donations already received are from Phil Lyons, $10; E. J. Applewhaite, $20; W. J. Raymond, $10; and from Bruce Boreham, CNR public relations officer, $10.

The award will be made by a committee from the popular choice of the public. The award will be a token of appreciation for the Good Citizen's community effort in the form of an engraved plaque.

"This is a perpetual award to be made every year in future, and will represent the contribution of all citizens . . . and to that end it is necessary that each of us contribute money in any sum, large or small," says the award committee.

Camaraderie Prevails

ALEX HAIG, president of the local branch of the Canadian Legion, yesterday brought attention to a point that we are sometimes inclined to forget.

These years provide the real meaning for Remembrance Day, and our thoughts are with those who did not survive them.

Yet, as Mr. Haig remarked, we are in danger of doing the departed an injustice if we fail to remember one remarkable thing.

This relationship among service personnel was, and still is, the greatest stimulus to morale the armed forces have ever discovered.

Those who did not return shared this camaraderie with those who did. It is, in fact, in the recollection of this spirit that they are best remembered by their comrades today.

The reason is that life in combat is not made up of heroics. While the youth who is decorated for bravery thus gets deserved recognition for his action, he, like his undecorated friends is better known in the service for the small things which show him to be a good kid who is in there doing his best.

It was on this point that Mr. Haig made his reminder. Although they are to be honored for their courage and final sacrifice, those in "Flander's Field" must not be forgotten as men and women who could share the jokes, banter and friendship of the life in which they were.

In keeping the ties of camaraderie intact, the Canadian Legion has served their memory well.

The Pulpit and Politics

ALTHOUGH it is a commendable quality anywhere at anytime, the strong religious aspect of the Social Credit movement as personified principally by Premier Ernest Manning, of Alberta, is bound at times to lead to public misunderstanding.

This is almost certain to be true of Premier Manning's current tour of Quebec and Ontario where, by his own explanation, he is conducting a series of revival meetings which are in no way connected with politics.

Social Crediters having confessed their ambitions in the federal field, their movements across the country from now on will be highly suspect, no matter how innocent they appear to be or really are.

In his own province Premier Manning, besides proving himself a capable political leader, has established himself as a sincere advocate of religious principles whose role in this respect has taken him much beyond that of an average church-goer.

This evidence of strength in convictions is admirable. But when the Premier feels a compulsion to carry his religious gospel so far afield, it becomes difficult to disconnect this motive from his political aspirations.

"After all, neither Mr. Manning's brand of religion, nor his Social Credit party have a monopoly on people who try to live up to the tenets of the Sermon on the Mount and who are sincerely concerned with the greatest welfare of all Canadians," the Financial Post observes.

"How would Canadians generally react if Messrs. St. Laurent, Drew and Coldwell engaged themselves formally in various forms of religious revivalism, especially on the eve of an election?"

The answer is that they would feel the pulpit was being assigned the function of a political rostrum. As this is surely not Premier Manning's intention, he would be well-advised to avoid confusion on the point by holding off the revivalist campaign, at least until after the election.

As I See It

1939 Notes on Drew

ANYBODY who writes for newspapers over a period of years makes some good, and many bad, guesses.

But I pride myself on the accuracy of this prophecy I wrote for western Canadian papers on October 27, 1938, before George Drew had taken any real part in politics:

It is header COL. GEORGE DREW IS A FIGHTING ARISTOCRAT—MADE TO ORDER TYPE FOR TORY LEADERSHIP.

I met George Drew on my first day at the University of Toronto, the year before the 1914 war. We were both among the hopeful horde of freshmen who went out to try for places on the football team.

George Drew of course is about the made-to-order type for leader of the Conservative party in Ontario. My guess is he will carry the convention next December by an overwhelming majority.

George Drew wrote a red-hot reply and sold it to Maclean's magazine. A couple of years later Drew wrote a truly magnificent series on the armament makes in various countries.

I have been personally strongly opposed to many of Drew's ideas. His attitude toward trade unions has always seemed to me not much different from Hitler's and Mussolini's.

VICTORIA REPORT

... by J. K. Nesbitt

VICTORIA.—Hospital insurance keeps bobbing up. It disturbed the Coalition government, now it causes the Social Credit government to have nightmares.

But perhaps it was ever thus with great social reforms—which, of course, hospital insurance most definitely is.

The other day Premier Bennett called the press to talk about hospital insurance.

The whole government, indeed, has been playing both ends against the middle in hospital insurance, and such a game is now catching up. It's easy to see the government's worried.

Mr. Bennett took off his glasses several times as he talked; he wiped them vigorously. He didn't give the Coalition government any credit for bringing in hospital insurance, merely indicated that the previous government left it in an awful mess.

But the awkward point is that Social Crediters campaigned on a plank of voluntary hospital insurance—whatever that means. You can see that now Mr. Bennett, too, is wondering what it means.

And so it is that the government is now trying to make hospital insurance both compulsory and voluntary—and this of course just cannot be done.

The Premier—and he can be quite convincing—did a lot of talking at his press conference about Social Credit being opposed to bureaucracy and compulsion, and believing in taking off controls in an orderly manner, to prevent what he called anarchy and chaos.

This reporter asked Mr. Bennett if hospital insurance is compulsory, or isn't it. This reporter was curtly told by the Premier to wait until he had finished making his statement.

The Premier then got along to saying the hospital insurance act calls for compulsory hospital insurance. "We have no power to change the act by regulation," Mr. Bennett said.

ENTERTAINMENT

In a full entertainment program, Mrs. Margaret Smith received a warm response with her singing of "Flander's Field" and "Bless This House." Opened with singing by members of the Ladies Auxiliary and some lively numbers by Mike Colussi on his accordion, the program included old marching songs by John Morrison and guitar selections by Jack Devison.

Margaret Kain got encore after encore with her Scottish airs, and the mood was sustained by Jack Ewart and Jim Robertson on their bagpipes. Bill Smith sang about the old army game "Pass the Buck." Peter Lien expressed appreciation for Prince Rupert's support of the Shrine Band.

At the close, Charlie Youngman, first president of the Legion here, was brought on the stage by Keith DeWitt, who acted as the energetic master of ceremonies. At the end Canon Basil S. Procter expressed the hope and prayer that "we meet again next year in peace."

City Girl Married in Flin Flon

A wedding of wide-spread interest took place in Flin Flon Oct. 17 when Donna Kerrighan became the bride of Leonard Guglieimin at a candlelight ceremony.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kerrighan, 1955 Fifth Avenue East, and the groom is the son of Mrs. and the late Mr. A. Guglieimin of Trail, B.C.

Wedding was held in St. Anne's Chapel with the Rev. Father James Tate reading the service.

For her wedding, the bride chose a tailored smoke-grey dress with grey and black accessories, accented by a corsage of American Beauty roses.

A three-tiered wedding cake, made by the bride's mother, was cut at a reception at 43 Callinen Street, where the couple will reside.

The bride was given away by her father, who with Mrs. Kerrighan was an out-of-town visitor.

Both the bride, formerly of the Daily News staff, and the groom, a graduate in applied science, attended the University of British Columbia.

Good Soup Wins Uncertain Appetites

By KAY REX
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Soup is the best food to win uncertain appetites, and frequently serves to encourage an appetite for more solid food.

From the Jubilee Guilds of Newfoundland and Labrador comes this recipe for an onion soup that's fairly packed with nourishment:

Ingredients: Five small onions (thickly sliced); three tablespoons butter; six cups brown stock of water (boullion cubes may be used).
Cook onions in butter until soft. Add stock. Salt to taste and simmer at least 30 minutes. This soup is best when prepared the day before.

POPULAR DISH

A recent survey of Canadian eating habits showed 63 per cent of Quebec's families serve soup at the noon meal. The average is higher than for the whole of Canada. Two out of five Canadian families serve soup at noon, and one in four serves it a night.

Another recipe from the Jubilee Guilds, for potato soup, may sound interesting to housewives elsewhere.

Ingredients: Three small potatoes, one quart milk, two slices onion, three tablespoons butter, one tablespoon flour, 1 1/2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon celery salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, few grains of saffron and one teaspoon chipped parsley.
Scald milk with onion. Remove onion and add milk slowly to potatoes, mixing well. Melt half the butter, add dry ingredients, stir until well mixed and then stir into hot soup. Boil one minute. Add remaining butter and sprinkle with parsley. Thin with hot milk if desired.

YOUR SPECIAL TREAT

Home economists of the consumer section, Canadian Department of Agriculture, suggest "stuffed cucumbers" as a distinctive luncheon touch.

Ingredients: Six cucumbers (about six inches long); two cups sausage meat (one pound); two-thirds cup finely chopped celery leaves; one-third cup chopped onion; 1 1/2 teaspoons salt; one teaspoon sage; two cups soft bread crumbs.
Cut cucumber in half lengthwise, remove seeds and soft portion with a spoon. Cook cucumbers in boiling salted water for 10 minutes. Drain well. Brown sausage meat in hot frying pan. Add seasonings and crumbs and mix well together. Pile stuffing in cucumber shells.

Place in a greased baking dish and bake in a hot oven (400° F.) for 35 minutes or until cucumbers are tender. Yield: six servings. These are "delicious" when served with baked or scalloped potatoes.

Soup Goes With Holiday Meals

A CREAMY soup with nuggets of mushroom has long been a holiday dinner tradition.

With condensed cream of mushroom soup, you're all set to serve the soup course without effort. And during the busy season ahead, you'll often have occasion to use this many-purpose soup. It's grand as extra gravy to have with the holiday bird or with baked potatoes; and use it too as the sauce in creamed turkey and other after-holiday dishes.

For your holiday feast, enjoy mushroom soup just as it comes from the can. Or try it in one of these taste-intriguing soup combinations:

Mushroom Consommé Soup: Blend together a can each of condensed cream of mushroom soup and consommé; stir in 1/2 cup can of water. Heat and serve with a puff of whipped cream on top. Makes 4 servings.

Mushroom-Chicken Soup with Sherry: Combine 1 can each of condensed cream of mushroom soup and cream of chicken soup; stir in 1 cup can of water and 1 of milk; add 2 or 3 teaspoons of sherry as desired. Makes 4 servings.

Mushroom Soup Garnishes: Try any of the following as a festive garnish for cream of mushroom soup:

- Blue cheese (crumbled)
- Onion salt
- Curry powder
- Nutmeg

SOUP SCOOPS

Combine Chicken, Cranberries in Muffins: Marvelous Chicken-Cranberry Muffins are these, made with condensed cream of chicken soup as the liquid. First chop 1 cup fresh cranberries and mix with 1/2 cup sugar. Then in mixing bowl sift together 2 cups flour, 1 tablespoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt; make a well in center. Combine 1 can cream of chicken soup with 1 egg (beaten) and 1/2 cup melted shortening; add to dry ingredients, stirring just until mixed. Stir cranberries into batter. Fill greased muffin pans two-thirds full. Bake in a hot oven (400° F.) about 20 minutes or until done. Makes 12 muffins.

Tomato Soup is Welcome in Lunches: Hot tomato soup is a welcome item in lunch boxes on cool days. Use condensed tomato soup with an equal amount of milk for this good hot dish—it gives your luncheon a double dividend in good food value. Cheese or egg salad sandwiches taste just right with the hot soup.

Can of Spaghetti Makes Short-Order Special: Need a speedy meal during the holiday season? You'll like 1/4 pound of browned ground beef fried with 1 small minced onion, then mixed with 1 can of spaghetti in tomato sauce with cheese. Use the 15 fluid-ounce can of spaghetti and there are 4 portions. Serve piping hot.

Oldsters Prove No Age Limit For Romance

LETHBRIDGE, Alta. — Just-married parties tooting through town aren't unique.

But when the "Just Married" sign on the car carries the numbers "82" and "78"—well, it's worth noting.

Just married were Mrs. Minnie Rogers and Jacob Manly Gier, both of Lethbridge, in a quiet afternoon ceremony. The "82" stood for the age of Mrs. Rogers, while the "78" represented Mr. Gier's span of years.

The bride-to-be entered the room on the arm of F. G. Sanderecock and was attended by matron of honor Mrs. Isobel Lawson of Lethbridge. The groom's son, Ernest Gier of Taber, Alta., acted as best man.

When the wedding ceremony was over, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gier posed for a wedding photo, with the bride blushing to match her red rose corsage.

The Gier romance began in the spring. The Old Age Pensioners' Association got Mr. Gier a room in Mrs. Rogers' home when Mr. Gier wanted room and board after being released from hospital.

This fall members of the elderly folks' group were surprised to hear that the landlady and tenant arrangement was going to become a partnership.

Both the bride and groom are grandparents. The new Mrs. Gier has two grandchildren, while in his family of four sons and three daughters, Mr. Gier has 19 grandchildren.

Following the wedding ceremony the couple were driven through town in ribbon-decked cars.

And now that it's all over, Mr. and Mrs. Gier will reside in Lethbridge—proving once again there's no age limit on romance.

Miss Partridge, R.N. with the Indian Health Services, spent Tuesday and Wednesday calling on patients here.

The congregation of Grace United Church was host recently to three prominent ministers of the United Church of Canada in B.C.

Rev. R. N. McCall of the missionary vessel, Thomas Crosby IV, visited Port Simpson to induct the new minister, Rev. A. M. Greenaway to the Port Simpson charge of the United Church.

Rev. W. P. Bunt, superintendent of home missions for B.C., and Rev. W. W. McPherson, president of the B.C. Conference of the United Church of Canada, visited the village also, to meet the official board of Grace Church and to discuss business matters with them.

The induction ceremony was followed by a reception at which addresses of welcome to the new minister and his wife were made by representatives of the Session, the Woman's Association, and Port Simpson Chief Councillor.

PECULIAR DISHES

LONDON — Dr. V. S. Bristowe, a nutrition expert, told a meeting that some spiders when properly cooked taste like chicken. He said his adventures in food included a lizard in Thailand—"rather musty"—and a locust, which he described as neither strong nor pleasant.

Take More Interest in New Men, Holy Name Society Urged

Members of the Holy Name Society were urged at the monthly meeting last night to take a greater interest in new men coming into the parish.

G. R. Brett, president, in his annual report, said it is up to present members to contact new parishioners and also emphasized aims of the society.

He outlined highlights of the year's activities, including the various social affairs sponsored by the men, the work groups on the church and school and urged this be continued.

A nominating committee of three, N. R. Young, John Comadina and Leon Blain, was appointed to facilitate election of officers at the next meeting.

City Youth Group Plans Battle Against Obscene Books, Shows

The Catholic Youth Organization, at a lively meeting in Annunciation Hall Sunday night, discussed steps that should be taken to eliminate obscene books and shows.

It was pointed out that the CYO in Edmonton last year took up the matter of an objectionable touring show with the Alberta government and the show was banned.

While members did not specifically name any books they considered obscene, it was brought to their attention the increasing number of magazines appearing these days on news stands. Some of these books, it was stated, are nothing but trash and do nothing to help improve the minds of growing generation.

On the other hand, said one member, some of these books are undermining the minds of the hundreds of young girls and boys who are reading them.

A Sadie Hawkins Dance will be held November 27. John Leporte was appointed convener. Members also decided that on December 8 a living Rosary will be enacted by the young people in Annunciation Church.

Drug Store Opens in Modern Atmosphere

A new drug store—one of the most modern in the province—opens here Saturday in the Mussallem Block, Third Avenue, to provide a complete prescription, cosmetic and sundry service for Prince Rupert public.

Welcoming the first customers will be genial proprietor C. Jack Deeth, well-known in the pharmaceutical trade across Canada.

Mr. Deeth, originally from England, came to Canada when he was 18 and since then has been engaged in pharmacy. For 30 years he travelled with National Drugs and for five years was sales manager for B.C. For the last five years he has been travelling with his own lines.

During his career, Mr. Deeth has lived in Brandon, Regina and in Vancouver.

Interior of the new store, which features the latest in color scheme and fixtures, has been designed by Mr. Deeth from ideas acquired throughout his travels among western Canadian drug stores.

Prominent and eye-catching in the new store is the perfume bar with its attractive panelling and lighting system.

Assisting Mr. Deeth in operation of the store are his sister, Miss Kay Deeth and Miss Eva Poffenroth, both of whom bring a wealth of experience in two separate fields.

Miss Poffenroth, with 10 years in the drug field and several years travelling for a major cosmetic firm, will be in charge of that section in the new store. Originally from Calgary, Miss Poffenroth apprenticed in a Vancouver drug store, and later travelled coast to coast for cosmetics.

Miss Deeth resigned after 14 years of service with the Canadian Wheat Board to join her brother in Prince Rupert. She will manage the office and assist with retailing. Also from England, she was Wren chaperone for the wartime Navy show "Meet the Navy" among her duties in the service.

Druggist is Ron Chipman, of Saskatchewan.

Mr. Deeth, himself is a graduate druggist of both Saskatchewan and B.C.

Color scheme in the new store which is located in the Mussallem Block formerly occupied by Sheardown's, is in eye-pleasing pastel shades. Each type of merchandise is displayed in departments to facilitate shopping, and special emphasis is laid on cosmetics and the "baby corner."

The Saturday opening will feature a novel attraction when 400 children will be given free grab bags; 20 adults will receive 2-pound chocolate boxes and three valuable prizes will be awarded to early shoppers.

Mr. Deeth says he is "most pleased" with the way the premises of his store have been remodelled by owner Jock Mussallem and adds that "nothing has been spared" to make the quarters attractive.

Northwest Construction Co. are the main contractors. Grant &

Newton provided the electrical installation, including an electric heating system.

Smith & Elkins supplied the plumbing and glass is supplied by Holt Glass Co.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Indications are that horse racing will become truly international in character in the next few years as a result of the great success of the inaugural running of the Washington, International at Laurel, won by the English Wily.

Close to the game are those that within a few years the champions of England and Australia will be in the United States to compete with the U.S. series of rich events on the footing most common to the foreign stars.

Joe Black of the Dodgers is back from making $5,000 on a barnstorming tour with Roy Campanella's club. Says he gave up trying to add a knuckler to his pitching repertoire, as Chuck Dressen wanted him to do, but has developed a good slow curve instead.

Who can remember back when the two-platoon system was an unfair device employed by the big schools to grind down the little fellows and was going to ruin football unless something was done about it?

in the past, foreign clubs attempted to run their own composition of players, but our guess is that this poses less of a problem than changing from one set of rules to another. Races over the green tracks of Australia are, for a greater pleasure to those on our own turf.

Eskies Roar Into First Grey Cup Final Since '22 Stage Amazing Comeback Defeat Bombers 22-11

WINNIPEG (CP)—In one of the most amazing comebacks in football history, Edmonton Eskimos Tuesday won their first berth in the Grey Cup final since 1922 by defeating Winnipeg Blue Bombers 22-11 for the western football title.

Skiers Name New Prexy

Odd Eldevick, city accountant, was elected president of the Prince Rupert Ski Club at the annual meeting. He succeeds his brother, Harold, who is attending University of B.C.

Other executive members elected were Eddie Dawes, vice-president; Nina Youngman, secretary-treasurer; Dick Oiske, housing and trail committee chairman, and Ada Barclay, social and publicity committee.

The club will hold a work party at the ski camp on Mount Hayes next Sunday for the purpose of cutting and piling wood for the winter. The camp, composed of a lodge and several cabins, is located on the 2,200-foot level overlooking Prince Rupert.

The 'Rocket' Breaks Record Every Time He Scores

MONTREAL — Every goal that Maurice (Rocket) Richard scores from now to the end of his career will set a record—a record that will be harder and harder to beat.

Saturday night, in a blaze of glory and amid an uproar such as is seldom heard in the Montreal Forum, the flashing Rocket scored the 325th goal of his career, beating the old mark of 324 set by Nels (Ole Poison) Stewart.

The record-book tally came from a backhand at 10:01 of the second period and helped the Canadiens beat Chicago Black Hawks to 6-4.

Only 30 seconds earlier the crowd watched Elmer Lach pick up a pass from Richard and sink the 200th goal of his career.

The only other players now in the NHL who have 200 or more tallies to their credit are Max Bentley of Toronto Leafs, Bill Mosenko of the Hawks and Woody Dumart and Milt Schmidt of the Boston Bruins.

They are all far behind the Rocket and even if Gordie Howe of Detroit, who isn't in that select group yet, keeps going at the pace he has been, he will have a tough time catching up to and passing the Rocket who, most experts believe, has a few more good years ahead of him, barring injuries.

The Rocket's goal came exactly 10 years to the day after he scored his first NHL goal.

On Nov. 8, 1942, he scored against Steve Buzinski, then goalie for New York Rangers. Stewart toiled through 15 seasons to get his 324 total, but the seasons were shorter then. Richard now is in his 11th NHL campaign.

ROCKET ZOOMS

Maurice (Rocket) Richard, Montreal Canadiens' star right-winger, is sailing towards a National Hockey League all-time scoring record of 325 goals. Sometimes described as a taciturn, morose player, he seems all smiles here as he goes after the 324-goal record of Nels Stewart which Richard has now tied.

BLACKWOOD on Bridge

By EASLEY BLACKWOOD

Many Times You Just Can't Play According to Textbooks

Bridge is far from being an exact science. Use whatever system or method of counting you like, and you will still have many hands on which there is no "right" bid.

Sometimes this is because you have a hand on which there is no right bid at all which meets the textbook requirements. And again it is because you have a choice of several bids. What is the right response on

Kin Officers Installed by Regional Head

Praise ran high for the Prince Rupert Kinsmen Club Monday night when Harry Sheardown was installed as president for 1952-53 by district governor Norman Martin.

Mr. Sheardown, who has been active in Kin work here since the club was formed eight years ago, succeeds Stan Saville.

Members and their wives filled the banquet room at the Commodore Cafe to dine and dance after the ceremony at which Mr. Martin also installed Bill Bond as vice-president; W. (Mickey) Fudger, secretary; and Jim Mellor, treasurer.

Kissing Safe For Men If Girls Wear Lipstick

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP) — Kissing usually is safe, from the health view, a check on germs on human lips shows.

It's safer for the man if the girl wears lipstick. The two-second kiss is safer for both than the lingering kind.

Almost all the germs transferred by a kiss are the type that don't cause sickness.

These are findings in a study made on human volunteers by Arthur H. Bryan, Baltimore bacteriologist, reported in a magazine, Drug and Cosmetic Industry.

Bryan paid tribute especially to the male volunteers who "would rather kiss a blonde" but in the interests of science pressed their lips against plates of nutrient agar on which germs could grow, or against sterile glass slides.

He counted the germs, transferred by the kiss, that grew in the nutrient medium. The results, he says, just show trends, not infallible figures.

The number of colonies of bacteria transferred by a kiss ranged from almost none to more than 250 at times.

But 95 per cent of these germs were non-virulent, hot disease inciters.

If a woman was wearing fresh lipstick, the number of germs on her lips was much less than without lipstick. Men who put on antiseptic lipstick cut their germ count

NATURAL MARVEL

A silkworm spins about two miles of unbroken silk thread in its cocoon.

DRY LIPS BETTER

Recent smoking seemed to lower the bacterial count somewhat, especially if the lips were dry. Dry lips gave a purer kiss than moist.

The effect of alcoholic drinks before a kiss was inconclusive. Beer appeared to raise the germ count, hard liquor to lower it. Bad breath was accompanied by high germ counts. The germ count was higher upon rising in the morning, dropped after tooth brushing and face washing. The count may vary from day to day, influenced by air temperature, the season, altitude, foods and other conditions.

There is a real threat of a kiss of death if the kissed partner has diphtheria, acute TB, scarlet fever, strep throat and other ailments. The study didn't give tips on how to recognize such persons, if they weren't in hospital.

Bryan concludes that "kissing can be not only a pleasant but harmless pastime if ordinary lip and oral hygiene is practiced, irrespective of the frequency or how long the kiss."

Similar word came recently from the journal of the American Medical Association. Asked whether there is much chance of getting tuberculosis from kissing games at parties, a physician-consultant replied: "There is almost as much danger from persons coughing or contaminating objects in daily life, and there is a calculated risk in almost anything."

"Since man is a social creature, he must expect risks in social contacts, even in petting parties. The only alternative is to become a hermit or a bore."

P-TA Investigates Hot Lunches

The Booth Memorial High School Parent-Teacher Association has formed a committee to investigate the practicability of serving hot lunches to pupils during the noon hour.

Mrs. Earl Becker, who is also a member of the school board, will solicit the support of the trustees.

Full support by the 50 members present was given Mrs. Becker when she outlined reasons for a new school at Port Edward, building of which will be approved or cast out by voters during the December elections.

Members also discussed a paign to get students to scotch-lite reflectors on bicycles.

Northern Railway Planned To Open Metal Rich NWT

EDMONTON (CP)—The Journal says that a major railway extension to crack open the base metals resources of the Great Slave Lake region of the Northwest Territories is believed pending.

Construction of a railway to serve mining development in the area has been talked for several years. Such a line would be the most northerly in Canada.

SCREEN FLASHES

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"Within five years, virtually every film theatre in the United States will be converted to three-dimensional movies."

These are strong words, but they come from one of Hollywood's soundest business heads, Merian C. Cooper. The movie man has made great early documentaries such as "Grass" and "Chang," and spectacles such as "King Kong." He now is general manager of the Cinerama Company.

Cinerama is the most important word in the Hollywood lexicon these days. Using a huge, curved screen and three projectors, cinerama has brought new scope to the movies. It was hailed as a triumph in its New York debut last month.

BEAT TV

"Hollywood will now have to start thinking in new terms," Cooper remarked. "We are at the same place now as when sound came in. Television is getting better all the time, and we have to beat it somehow. The way to do it is with cinerama, or some other device that will give added scope to the scene."

"Within 18 months, we hope to have a cinerama theatre in every major city in the United States. In five years, I foresee that most of the country's theatres will no longer be showing the flat-screen picture."

Louis B. Mayer, chairman of the cinerama board, is responsible for lining up theatres. Cooper is in charge of production.

"I expect to start shooting a feature-length picture in the cinerama process within 90 days," he reported. "I have others in preparation."

WITHOUT FRAME

"Cinerama is the first form of entertainment to take the picture out of the frame. In the stage, the present movies and television, the picture is framed. But in cinerama, the screen is wide enough to encompass even your peripheral vision.

"The only other example I have ever seen of this is the Sistine Chapel art work of Michelangelo. If you get close enough to it, your entire vision takes in the picture."

Can cinerama pictures be made as cheaply as regular films?

"In some cases, more cheaply. You will need more lighting, because the three lenses take in the whole set. But also you do not need to make up new setups for medium shots and close-ups. The whole scene can be shot from the same position."

B.C. Power Commission Opens North

VICTORIA (C)—B.C. Power Commission's expansion program will brighten Christmas this year in three B.C. communities.

The commission announced today that operation of two new power districts will commence shortly at Fort St. James, 40 miles north of Vanderhoof, and the other in the Queen Charlotte Islands at Queen Charlotte City and Skidegate.

The newly-constructed diesel generating plant and distribution system at Fort St. James is scheduled to be energized towards the end of November to serve approximately 167 customers.

The new Queen Charlotte diesel plant will be operating early in December. Initially some 115 customers will receive service.

The new systems are the first to be built in these communities. They will be operated by an agent of the commission through a contract arrangement.

The commission will be serving 27 power districts throughout the province with addition of the two new systems.
