SHANGHAI, February 24.—The general strike of Chinese workers which, at its height, involved more than one hundred thousand persons and caused some forty of its fomentors to be beheaded, was called off this afternoon by the General Labor Union. General Pao Chang, officer in charge of Shanghai defence, issued a proclamation urging all workers to return to their posts without fear, stating that executions were at an end. Conditions showed rapid improvement and it is expected that the city will be back to normal on Friday. Foreign officials expressed the belief that more than one hundred agitators had been executed behind defence enclosures in addition to those who had been publicly beheaded in the city streets.

RAILWAY COMPANY AND ASSESSMENT.

To all appearances, the municipal court of revision has arrived at an equitable solution of the railway company's assessment. Of course, there are a great many factors involved in the matter that require specialized knowledge and it is a difficult matter for a layman to comment on the question although from the ordinary point of view the decisions reached appear to be satisfactory. The city authorities have, however, taken a commendable stand that the railway company should bear its burden of taxation along with the other taxpayers. Concessions have been given the company with respect to taxation ever since the city was incorporated on the strength of certain undertakings being promised by the company in return. Very few, if any, of these promises have been effected so it would seem proper now for the city, as it has done, to discontinue the concessions and deal with the railway company on its merits, just as it does with other taxpayers.

SUDDEN DEATH OF ARTHUR LITTLE.

The late Arthur Little, news of whose sudden death in the East was received yesterday, was a prominent and exemplary citizen of Prince Rupert for many years. With the general regret that is being expressed and the many tributes that are being paid, the Daily News wishes to join. He was an outstanding and picturesque member of the community and remembrance of him will long live among the many people with whom he came in contact and by whom he was unanimously respected.

IS ANGER DUE TO ILLNESS.

Why are so-called rational human beings so easily angered? A scientist is working on the theory that every fit of anger and every bad disposition can be traced back to some illness. He is convinced that people who have disease histories are more quick to anger than those who have never been sick.

Now that he has called it to the public attention it will be observed by many that there is a certain resemblance between the sick and the irascible. For one thing, both anger and fever make one red in the face. And then, are not the ill always irritable, splenetic and petulant?

If this theory holds true, it would appear that the past has witnessed an appalling amount of sickness. Many times during the course of the day the average person "loses his temper" or sees others lose control of themselves. A toe is stepped on, a train or street car is late, the car won't start, the dinner burns, a cake "falls"; and then, somebody's tongue slips, there are hasty words, and a few minutes later regret and a resolve to practice self-restraint.

This anger-after-illness theory may be productive of some good, and it may be dangerous. True, society would be more tolerant of the ungovernable temper if convinced it came invariably from sickness, but it might have the undesirable effect of discouraging honest attempts at self mastery.

However, it is not safe at this stage of the investigation to presume too far on one's privilege of getting "mad" because of illness. There is a certain hazard in resenting too strongly and overtly a fancied wrong or an unintentional tramp on the toe, even though that which appears to be the provocation for the resentment is not the real cause.

FURTHER PEACE RIVER DEBATE

ROUTES REFERRED TO AT OTTAWA
—MONKMAN PASS AND PRINCE RUPERT FAVORED

"I am not going to argue for any specific route, but I say to the minister of railways (Mr. Dunning) that in my opinion he could very well examine more closely the Monkman Pass and the Pine Pass routes," said D. M. Kennedy, member for Peace River, in the course of the debate on a Pacific Coast outlet for the Peace River country in the House of Commons at Ottawa. "The survey today is merely a temporary one, and I think the mileage obtainable both to Peace River and to Prince Rupert justifies that survey. It means a difference, from one or two of the main points in Peace River, of 400 miles to Prince Rupert as compared with the present route."

MINISTER OF RAILWAYS
"For the route via Sturgeon Lake and Obed, new construction of 204 miles would be required for the assumed minimum traffic," said Hon. C. A. Dunning, minister of railways. "The capital investment would be $13,335,000, or to Prince Rupert $13,335,000."

"For the route via Monkman Pass, the new construction required, assuming the line goes to Prince Rupert, would be 188 miles for the assumed minimum traffic. Assuming the line goes to Vancouver, the construction required would be 198 miles, and assuming it goes via the Pacific and Great Eastern, which is British Columbia's railway, 310 miles of new construction would be required."

"The capital investment on the Monkman Pass route, taking Prince Rupert as the destination, the shortest route, would be $16,092,000. The capital investment on the Peace Pass route would be $21,472,000."

VIA C.N.R.
"New construction via the Canadian National to Prince Rupert would require 502 miles. New construction via Canadian National to Vancouver would require 512 miles, new construction via Pacific and Great Eastern to Vancouver 542 miles, and new construction via the Fraser River to Vancouver 850 miles. That is via the Peace Pass. The Pine Pass is dismissed in favor of the Monkman route by the engineers."

"Then another interesting alternative is the route to Stewart on the Portland Canal. Instead of going to either Prince Rupert to Vancouver, the possibility of going to Stewart on the Portland Canal, via the Findlay Forks is dealt with, and the minimum construction for assumed initial traffic in that case would be 611 miles, and the capital invested $30,370,000, or including the connecting line to Prince George, $37,750,000."

"According to the engineers, the Monkman route is so much superior, and so nearby, that it was not necessary to go into detail in the report on the Pine Pass route."

MONKMAN PASS BEST
"On account of the high country to the Pine Pass, the line would have to return east for a considerable distance on the south side of the river before the ground becomes low enough between it and the Pine River to allow a feasible line south to the Pine River Valley. The recently discovered Monkman Pass is in turn more advantageous than the Pine Pass for this traffic on account of its lesser gradients and distance. Pine Pass is approximately 175 miles from, and nearly due west of Spirit River, and approximately 155 miles nearly due north of Prince George."

Two Kinds

You can get Quaker Oats in two forms—the large plump whole flake or the half flake, rolled thin, and partly cooked. Both are of the same Quaker Quality, famous in 58 countries.

If you wish to make porridge while you boil the coffee or make the toast, use Quick Quaker. It cooks in 3 minutes.

The 4 most important hours

When food must satisfy and "stand by" you

Most people have to do more than two-thirds of their most important work in the forenoon. To supply this energy, they need a breakfast that satisfies and will "stand by" them throughout the morning.

That is why health authorities urge good breakfasts—why the matchless flavour of Quaker Oats makes it the breakfast of millions of people. Its delicious taste awakens lazy appetites and thus promotes easy digestion. Its bulk and tender bran assist in the assimilation of other food and aid in one of nature's most important functions.

Quaker Oats is the most perfect of all cereal foods. It supplies the elements which build tissue and give energy, as well as the important vitamins and mineral salts. It contains 16% protein and 65% carbohydrates.

For better mornings, have Quaker Oats for breakfast. No other is "just as good", for no other has 50 years' experience in grain selection and milling behind it. See that the picture of the friendly Quaker is on the package.

For the last few weeks a blue flame has been observed issuing from a spot where the fire had burned deeply into the peaty soil. Many local people think that this flame probably issues from a pocket of natural gas, and the owner intends to investigate the possibilities of a gas field when the snow has gone.

STOMACH TROUBLE

Bad indigestion and poverty to the point of starvation were recognized as equal evils as far back as the time of Rabbie Burns. Of what use is money or food, if the stomach fails in its duty?

The healthy person does not and should not even realize that he has a stomach. Digestion of wholesome, normal food should be automatic. But this cannot be if the stomach is receiving less than its full supply of vital energy.

When the stomach fails in its functions, two courses of relief are available—you can reduce the quantity and variety of your food to fit its subnormal capacity—or, you can have the cause removed by spinal adjustments which restore the flow of vital energy to full capacity. Which is best?

"I EAT MOST ANYTHING."
"I have suffered from a bad form of stomach trouble for as long as I can remember—at least ten years. I have vomited my food even when a school boy and have also been suffering a great deal from bladder and kidney trouble. I commenced to take adjustments taking 36 adjustments in all. Now, three months later my stomach is in good condition, and I can eat most anything I like without it hurting me. My severe bladder and kidney symptoms have also disappeared, and I feel fine." — Archie Preston, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2077-X

URGES SEXES NOT COPY EACH OTHER

Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign minister for Germany, in a recent interview warned the sexes against seeking to resemble each other, insisting that otherwise men will lose that which distinguishes him and woman that which makes her lovable.

"Personally I believe the sphere of woman is essentially in the home and in the family," he said. "I do not know of a higher conception of a woman than to be just a woman and a mother."

"I am glad to have the cooperation of women in political life, and especially on educational questions. I admit it is good that women should have achieved important things in other spheres, including the social sphere, so that everything may not be left to men, but no general rule should be deduced from this. Remember that nature has given us two sexes, and that it is the will of providence that each sex should develop individuality and not seek to resemble the other. If they do try to be alike, the man will lose that which distinguishes him, and the woman that which makes her lovable."

SHAKESPEARE MEMORIAL THEATRE AT STRATFORD

Simplicity, Beauty and Convenience are Main Desires of Promoters

LONDON, Feb. 24. — Simple beauty and convenience—these are the main desires of the promoters regarding the designs to be submitted for the new Shakespeare Memorial Theatre at Stratford-on-Avon.

The honorary assessors and the assessor appointed by the Royal Institute of British Architects to obtain by competition (open to British and American architects) a suitable design for a theatre to replace the building which was destroyed by fire have forwarded to the secretary, the Memorial Theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, a complete schedule of conditions and instructions.

The outer walls of the old building remain and these may, if the competitor wishes, be incorporated in the new scheme. It is stipulated that the stage must be adequate for handling any production with ease. It is suggested that the old theatre and part of its stage should be reconstructed as a conference hall.

FARMERS MUST KNOW THE LAW

"CANADIAN FARMER AND CANADIAN LAW" TITLE OF ARTICLE BY INSPECTOR PARSONS

Probably there is no civilian calling in which a knowledge of law is more useful than to those engaged in the business of farming writes Inspector T. W. S. Parsons in the British Columbia Public Service Bulletin. No man is more intimately touched by legislation, and at some time in his career what farmer has not desired a little information or an immediate remedy in the matter of annoyance caused by man or beast, damage to property, trespass, theft, or on some other equally important subject? Perhaps a crisis occurs, one's attorney lives miles away, the law must be taken into one's own hands, yet something—and the right thing—must be done at once. What?

Under the by no mean unusual circumstances outlined possibly preliminary information and advice may be reasonably offered by one who for many years has served in a Canadian Provincial Police Force and who, from listening to scores of ill-founded complaints, feels that a knowledge of legal principles—however elementary—would tend to prevent many common misunderstandings. They are wise men who consider that an appeal to the courts should be a final recourse, and then only to be undertaken after every other attempt to arrive at an honest settlement has failed. Be the result what it may, there is no money in it, an established fact their patient brethren usually learn by bitter experience. Another and more regrettable feature is that quite often the outcome of some trivial prosecution, which might easily have been avoided in the first place, has ultimately engendered a hatred which only bloodshed would appease.

Although time, mutual forbearance, and common sense effectually smooths over many a complication, there will always remain bona fide causes for complaint, causes requiring an acquaintanceship with law to effect their speedy, satisfactory, and inexpensive settlement. Believing, then, that the Public Service Bulletin is a singularly happy medium through which to acquaint the British Columbian farmer with his country's laws, this series of articles is intended to serve as a brief introduction to our Criminal Code and various Federal statutes. Conciseness with clarity will be attempted, and because overmuch law is a tedious and wearisome thing, only its bare and necessary essentials will be presented.

B. N. A. ACT
One of the greatest, if not the greatest constitutional change in Canadian history was signalled when the British North America Act was passed in the year 1867, and before dealing with our main subject some explanation will be given in regard to this most important Imperial statute. Important, because it is the legal foundation of the Canada we know today; this measure abolished an old regime with, among other things, its Upper and Lower Canada—our modern Ontario and Quebec. It also made possible the subsequent creation of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, and Alberta, and permitted the Confederation to include British Columbia—a separate colony until 1871.

Under its provisions, too, the Federal Parliament at Ottawa was enabled to pass laws applicable to Dominion necessities as a whole; in other words, legislation dealing with crime, trade and commerce, taxation, postal service, navigation, railways, banking, insolvency, currency, Indians, naturalization, marriage and divorce, defence, penitentiaries, quarantine, fisheries, weights and measures; in fact, with everything pertaining to national welfare.

SCOPE OF PROVINCIAL LAWS
On their part the various provinces, either then brought into existence or formed later, were given the privilege of exercising powers necessary for their internal requirements; that is to say, within their boundaries they might legislate upon education, local taxation, company incorporations, the solemnization of marriage, the administration of criminal and civil justice, and all other matters of a purely domestic nature.

Of peculiar interest to farmers was the mutual agreement with respect to their chosen calling. The Act declared that both federal and provincial governments might pass laws in connection with agriculture, and that both have done so goes without saying. The Canadian farmer in consequence is surrounded with a rather bewildering array of legislation specifically designed for his protection much of which, and perhaps, fortunately, he will never even hear about. This may be regarded as especially so when it is remembered that between 1867 and the present day the federal and nine provincial governments have passed laws and amending laws sufficient to fill many a large volume!

THE KING'S PRINTERS
However, as it is with some of the provincial Acts that farmers are mostly concerned, a general idea of their purport will be given later, but with this recommendation, when information beyond the scope of these articles is desired, the full text of whatever statute deals with the subject should be procured from the printing department of your provincial government. These printing bureaux, both federal and provincial, are in charge of an official known as the King's Printer, one of whose duties is to print and supply copies of parliamentary Acts for a purely nominal fee.

GREAT INCREASE IN PRODUCTION

PUBLIC MAY GAIN SOME IDEA FROM FIGURES OF TIMBER AND MINING EXPANSION IN B.C.

VICTORIA, Feb. 24.—Some idea of the enormous increases in production from the primary industries of British Columbia may be obtained by the people of this province from a study of statistics recently compiled by the various departments of the public service at Victoria.

It is shown, for instance, that forestry production has grown in value from $35,528,000 in 1916 to $84,802,000 in 1926. The most striking comparison under this heading is that furnished by the increase in the value of pulp and paper manufactured in the province. In 1916 it stood at $3,520,000; but last year this had advanced to no less a sum than $16,315,000. Lumber value increased from $21,075,000 in the decade under review to $42,516,000. Similarly encouraging is an increase in the value of shingles, from $4,500,000 in 1916 to $10,500,000 last year. In every branch of this basic industry, in fact, operations in 1926 were strikingly in excess of the returns for even a year or so ago.

BOTH FORESTS AND MINES
What is true of forestry production is true of mineral production. In this industry the total value in 1916 was $42,290,000 as compared with a value in 1926 of $67,718,400. It should be remembered, however, that the year 1916 was one of large war demands at prices far above the normal; consequently the two totals do not bear the same relationship as might otherwise be the case. At the same time the total value of metallic minerals in 1926 amounted to $52,985,400 compared with $29,895,680 ten years ago. The largest increase under this head was in respect of lead, the value for 1916 being $3,007,492 and for 1926 no less than $17,680,000. Copper, on the other hand, the principal war requisite, represented a value of $17,784,494 in 1916 and only $13,650,000 last year.

These figures form an interesting study of solid progress in two of the most important basic industries of the province. Their expansion very naturally has contributed to the prosperous conditions which British Columbia now is enjoying—of which many prominent economic and commercial experts have spoken so enthusiastically during the last few months.

Another charge against Raine of stealing a watch chain is also being heard this afternoon.

GRAND NATIONAL ON NEXT MONTH

GREATEST SPORTING RACE IN BRITAIN IS AS POPULAR AS EVER

LIVERPOOL, Feb. 23.—(Canadian Press Despatch).—Publication of the "weights" has quickened public interest in the Grand National steeplechase and the Lincolnshire, which are to be run near the end of next month. The great steeplechase will not seem quite the same this year, because of the death of Old Tay Bridge, veteran 'chaser, who has had a long and notable career in the National. He never won the race, but was second in 1925 and 1926, and had been allotted top weight of 175 pounds for this year's National. Jack Horner, winner of the race last year, is 10th in the table of weights with 162 pounds.

In the Lincolnshire, first of the spring flat race handicaps, King of Clubs, winner last year, is handicapped only 98 pounds, being about 40th in the table.

Entries for the Grand National, to be run over the famous Aintree course at Liverpool on Friday, March 25, four miles and 856 yards, number about 70; and there are about 60 entries for the Lincolnshire, a straight mile, run at Lincoln on the preceding Wednesday.

The Grand National is probably the greatest purely sporting event left in racing. Unlike the other outstanding races of the year, betting on the National is not large, but for the very good reason that a four-mile course with numerous and dangerous jumps plays havoc with any field that starts. A good horse can fall as badly as a poor horse, while a poor horse in falling can bring down the horses behind him, be they the best of jumpers.

LUCK COUNTS
Accordingly, while many horses are in the entry list with apparently not the remotest chance of winning, it does not follow that they cannot win. Jack Horner was little fancied at this time last year, but he won. Double Chance in 1925 and Master Robert in 1924 were both practically "outsiders," but they both won. It is the element of luck and its truly sporting nature which make the race what it is. It cannot be a championship because it is a handicap, unlike the three-year-old Classics or the Ascot Gold Cup.

Another thing helping to make the race so popular, is the annual conflict between the best of the amateur riders and the professional horsemen. The Grand National is the supreme test of horsemanship, and not merely of racing. Amateur riders can and do hold their own over the Aintree course. The most successful riders have always been men who hunt, and so are accustomed to making quick decisions and often quick recoveries.

So that the real attractions of the Grand National are the facts that the hottest, comparatively slow but sure hunting steeplechasers are meeting the blood horses who have become steeplechasers; and that the riders are the best of the professionals and the best of the amateurs.

LINCOLNSHIRE
The Lincolnshire, first important race of the flat racing season, will be run two days before the National. Tolgus and Weissdorn, the latter a fast German horse who has been raced here for some time, have been coupled at the top of the table of weights with 126 pounds. Tolgus has won every one of his six starts, and Weissdorn in the short time he has raced in England has created a good impression. The distance is a straight mile.

SPORT CHAT

With most all the indoor sport schedules drawing to a close in the city, it will soon be in order to arrange for outside sporting fixtures. The spring is generally conceded to be the best time for field and track events, although not much has been done in this line locally except on Dominion and Labor Days. The early summer also finds lacrosse teams busy in the different parts of Canada and this sport has been receiving quite an impetus during the past couple of years. Ocean Falls made a brilliant try for the amateur championship of Canada when they journeyed to Winnipeg for the play-off last fall. The presence of such a fine team so near to Prince Rupert should stimulate greater interest in the game here. Then, of course, when considering sport, the grounds question

Always comes to the front. Are the grounds suitable? Can they be improved or would it be better to adopt a new playing field? The answer to these questions means much to sport in Prince Rupert.

It is quite possible that George Young will be one of the attractions this year at the Canadian National exhibition, Toronto, when a 30 mile swimming race will be staged on the lake. As this is where George has been practising for sometime he will no doubt be willing to meet all comers. Swimming in fresh water is not considered to be an easy task as in the briny ocean, although possibly the contestants will not have to contend with many currents.

Delaney's defeat by Maloney will not interfere with his light heavyweight championship as, in accordance with the rules of the New York boxing commission, he weighed less than 175 pounds when he met Maloney, who weighs around 200 pounds. In his class, Delaney does not seem to have any serious contender in sight at the present time.

According to the provisions of a bill recently introduced in the Ontario legislature, professional sport will be taxed and the money thus raised will be used to help promote amateur sport.

Germany is making a bid for the Olympic games to be held in that country in 1936. Before the war it was understood that the Olympic games should be held in Germany in 1916, but of course this was upset by other things of greater moment at that time. It has been tentatively arranged that the games will be held in Los Angeles in 1932.

In place of the regular Senior League basketball fixture tomorrow night, the Grotto and Grand Terminals will meet in a regular Intermediate League game, other games will be Stars vs. the Colts, Maple Leafs vs. the Adanacs, Elevator vs. the Bankers.

WRANGELL, Feb. 24.—The weather was so mild here that Erma Grant, daughter of Mayor J. G. Grant, and Irene Tozier, both high school girls, swam in Wrangell harbor. Townspeople turned out with a battery of cameras in order to record the event. The clear and unusually mild weather for the past few days has been the subject of many remarks from local residents.

GOOD PROGRAM BY BOYS' BAND

ORGANIZATION CONTINUES TO SHOW IMPROVEMENT—A WELL-BALANCED CONCERT

Continuing to show improvement on each public appearance, the Boys' Band, assisted by local talent, gave another excellent concert last night in the Salvation Army Barracks under the direction of bandmaster Thos. Wilson. The youngsters are now able to attempt some of the more difficult numbers with great credit and their performance on the whole was very encouraging. The orchestra composed of some members of the band and other boys also played very creditably and, together with other artists, rendered a delightful program. The various numbers were well received and generous encores were responded to freely so the program was not complete until about 10:30.

Arrangements were in the hands of J. Dore, chairman of the Boys' Band committee, who also presided at the door. The hall was well filled and, while returns from the ticket selling are not complete, it is known that a substantial sum will be realized for the band's fund.

The program was as follows:
March—"S.I.B.A." (Hall), Band.
Overture—"Friendship" (Mackie-Beyes), Band.
Selection—"Peerless" (Huff), Orchestra.
Vocal solo—"Selected," Miss C. Jones.
Mandolin duet—"Selected, Bussanich Bros.
Duet—"Selected, W. Smith and A. Clapperton.
Overture—"Bright and Gay" (Mackie-Beyes), Band.
Waltz—"Sweet Rose" (Howell), Band.
Song—"Selected, Mrs. D. Ross.
March—"Fraternity" (Hayes), Band.
Selection—"The Show Boy" (Hazil), Orchestra.
Duet—"J. E. Davey and A. Clapperton.
Waltz—"Pond Lillies," Orchestra.
Overture—"Bohemian Girl" (Balfe).

FIRST REQUEST FOR AIRSHIP PASSAGE LONDON TO INDIA

LONDON, Feb. 24.—(Canadian Press despatch).—The first request for an airship passage from London to India has been received. It came by cable from Australia and requested berths on the airship R101 for next August. However, no airship bookings to India are likely to be made before 1928. The R101, a government airship, will probably be completed about July of next year and the R100, to be operated by the Airship Guarantee Company, will not be ready for flights much before the R101, so that a year will pass before an England-India airship journey is attempted. The fare will probably be about £100, and the trip will take about four days.

PRINCE RUPERT THRIVING PORT

WHEAT POOL IS PROUD PARENT OF LUSTY YOUNGSTER, SAVS OFFICIAL ORGAN

There is a new grain port in Canada today as a result of the Alberta Wheat Pool's operations says the U.F.A. of Calgary, official organ of the United Farmers of Alberta, and the Alberta Wheat Pool.

Prince Rupert, terminal of the old Grand Trunk Pacific (now the Canadian National Railway) is Canada's baby grain port, and a lusty, thriving youngster, too.

The Alberta Pool is the proud parent of this port. Over four million bushels of wheat has been shipped from Prince Rupert by the Pool since last harvest. Prince Rupert is a Pool port.

The Alberta Pool leased the Government terminal elevator at Prince Rupert when nobody knew just how successful its operation would be. Prince Rupert is now definitely established as a grain port, and the local newspapers of that city are now out for more elevator accommodation.

JUST AS CHEAP

The differential in ocean freight rates to United Kingdom as compared to Vancouver, has been discontinued, and wheat is carried just as cheaply from Prince Rupert as from the latter port.

What does it mean to be a grain-shipping port? It means the expenditure of about $5,000 on each ship for provisions, coal, stevedoring and other incidentals. Right here it might be mentioned that Vancouver has benefited in this way from the Alberta Pool's operation to the extent of about $1,250,000.

Amid all the clamor about the using of foreign ports and so on, now might be an opportune time to ponder upon what the Alberta Wheat Pool has accomplished in establishing a brand new Canadian grain port.

ONTARIO HAS MOST TIMBER

SO MINISTER OF FORESTS AND LANDS TELLS LEGISLATURE OF THAT PROVINCE TO STOP EXPORT OF PULPWOOD

TORONTO, Feb. 24.—In spite of the enormous demands being made upon its timber resources and a fire menace which has destroyed many millions of acres of valuable forest land, Ontario leads the world in timber wealth. Hon. William Finlayson, minister of lands and forests, told the Ontario Legislature Friday night in moving the second reading of his forestry bill. The bill is aimed at further increasing this wealth and at rehabilitating the forest lands.

"We hope, by a new policy," said the minister, "to perpetuate the timber wealth of this province."

Incidentally, he added, it was the intention of the government to stop the export of pulpwood as rapidly as possible.

The measure proposes to invite the townships and rural municipalities to set aside tracts of land for reforestation purposes. The government would provide trees and attend to planting. After a period of thirty years the municipalities could take over the tracts planted entirely from the government, or return them to the government, or enter into partnership with the government in the reforestation plan.

CANCER CURE BEING SOUGHT

LORD ATHOLSTAN'S PRIZE UNCLAIMED AT END OF TIME LIMITED—NEXT FIVE YEARS SHOULD BE MORE FRUITFUL

LONDON, Feb. 24.—(Canadian Press Despatch).—Will the next five years be more fruitful than the last five in the search for a cure of cancer. This question is a leading topic today, for it is just five years since Lord Atholstan, millionaire proprietor of the Montreal Star, offered a prize of £20,000 to the "graduate or student of any university who within five years after this date is the first to discover a medicinal treatment for the effective cure of cancer, the decision to be left to the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in London, England."

WHAT PROGRESS?

Two separate questions remain to be answered: (1) What causes cancer? (2) What cures cancer? There is no necessary connection between the answers to these questions. It would be quite possible to find a cure—apart from the knife—without having discovered the cause; and on the other hand the discovery of the cause would not make the discovery of a cure certain, although it would probably bring it nearer.

In neither direction can the progress recently made be properly appreciated by anyone who is not an expert. For example, the famous work of Mr. Bernard and Dr. Gye in isolating and examining certain ultra-microscopic organisms said to be associated with cancer is far too technical and ambiguous for the lay mind, which demands clear-cut conclusions. Yet these have been the most striking performances during the past five years in an attempt to answer the question, "What causes cancer?"

Is local irritation the sole cause? Is there a cancer parasite? Has cancer anything to do with the blood stream, and if so, can it be controlled by diet? These are some of the questions to a study of which research workers are devoting their lives.

While Sir Berkeley Moynihan's prescription of the knife represents what may be called the official faith of the medical profession, it is by no means allowed to go unchallenged among the specialists. One of the strongholds of opposition is the Batterssea General Hospital, where non-operative methods appear to have met with considerable success.

ORTHODOX REMEDIES

At present there are only three orthodox remedies for cancer: (1) Sur-

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

The prize has not been won, although research workers throughout the world have been continuously struggling with the problem. Now there is a prospect of increasing sums of money being devoted to research, and Sir Berkeley Moynihan, one of the world's greatest cancer experts, has issued a call for what he describes as a "national uprising against the scourge." Sir Berkeley is president of the Royal College of Surgeons, and in a meeting unique in British medical history he told his audience of 700 persons that 100 of them would die of cancer.

gery; (2) Radium; (3) X-rays. There is also the lead treatment invented by Dr. Blair Bell of Liverpool, which has succeeded in prolonging life in apparently incurable cases, but which is technically still in its infancy. Dr. Shaw-Mackenzie claims to be able to demonstrate the presence or otherwise of cancer by tests of blood. As the fashion at the moment, however, is to regard cancer as a local condition which does not affect the blood, Dr. Shaw-Mackenzie's researches have been coldly received by the profession.

It is at any rate a point gained that the stimulating example of the New Health Society should have spurred the British Medical Association into adopting methods of publicity which would have been thought shocking only a few years ago.

A MOONSHINE SONG.
Sing a song of sixpence,
A papa full of rye;
For and twenty blackbirds,
He thought were in his pie.
When the pie was opened,
The birds began to sing;
Wasn't that a D.T. dish
To set before a king?
The king was in his parlor,
That's what papa thought;
The queen was in the kitchen,
'Twas awful stuff he bought.
The maid was in the cellar,
Sampling papa's rye;
Out popped a blackbird,
And socked her in the eye.

SHAW SARCASTIC ABOUT WOMEN

"G.B.S." CHIDES BROADCASTING COMPANY DURING DEBATE BETWEEN LADY RHONDA AND CHESTERTON

LONDON, Feb. 24.—(By Canadian Despatch).—The recent debate on the question of whether or not the woman of leisure was a "menace to the community," in which G. K. Chesterton, Lady Rhonda and George Bernard Shaw participated, furnished great entertainment to the large audience. The debate was broadcast.

Before the discussion opened, Mr. Shaw explained a great difficulty as chairman.

"Now the condition on which broadcasting is conducted in this country," he said, "is that nothing of a controversial nature must be spoken from the platform or anywhere else except by members of the government. How any animated, possibly embittered, controversy is to be carried on this evening without either of the speakers becoming controversial I cannot tell you."

"I am sorry to say that I cannot undertake to keep order in that respect, because one of the conditions of broadcasting is that nothing of a controversial nature must be spoken from the platform or anywhere else except by members of the government. How any animated, possibly embittered, controversy is to be carried on this evening without either of the speakers becoming controversial I cannot tell you."

"GOVERNMENT LIQUOR ACT"

casting in this country is that I individually and personally am not to be allowed to broadcast on any terms whatever. Probably at this moment the Postmaster-General is listening in. He is realizing that I am speaking. His horror is probably growing with every sentence that falls from my lips.

"How am I to be stopped? How are the speakers of the evening to be stopped from becoming controversial? Well, I don't know. But it occurs to me that the Postmaster-General may call out the guard. If you find, then, an energetic force of military and police breaking into this hall, shattering the microphone and leading me away in custody, I must ask you not to offer any resistance. Your remedy is a constitutional one. You must vote against the government at the next election, or you may write to the Postmaster-General telling him what you think of him."

LADY RHONDA

Lady Rhonda held that the beleaguered woman was a menace. She instanced the futility of the idle woman's life and included in her indictment such things as the high heel and the big shops.

Mr. Chesterton thought there was a great deal to be said for any man or woman having a good deal more of the glorious thing—"nothing to do." It was a fallacy that service to the community necessarily meant going outside the home. The home was the only place left where there was any liberty, any individuality, any creative power or any possibility of the human personality developing as such.

"Yes, but whose home?" asked Mr. Shaw in summing up. Once a man got into the home he hardly dared to think at all.

"I wonder if there is a lighthouse-keeper in this audience?" asked Mr. Shaw. "I should call upon him to give his ideas of home and home life."

"My own opinion," he said, "is that if you were to rise and challenge Mr. Chesterton, also to rise upon this platform and dance the Charleston with Lady Rhonda I don't believe he would be able to do it."

WOULD PLACE TABLET ON MONTREAL HOTEL WHERE DICKENS STAYED

MONTREAL, Feb. 24.—A suggestion that a tablet be placed on the building, formerly known as Roscoe's Hotel, where Charles Dickens stayed while in Montreal in 1865 was recently made by Judge E. Fabre Surveyer, president of the St. James Literary Society, in remarks to that body. It will be considered by the Antiquarian Society.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,999 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,999 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes, minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 19, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtained after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
