MINER PASSES GREAT DIVIDE

WILLIAM HAMILTON OF STEWART DIES HERE FOLLOWING ACTIVE LIFE IN WEST

The death occurred at the hospital during the night of William Hamilton, an old timer and prospector of the district who of recent years has lived at Stewart.

Born in Leitrim county, Ireland, he came to Canada in his early twenties and remained in Ontario for a few years. Then he started west and kept on coming. In 1884 he assisted to build the C.P.R. through Kicking Horse Pass. Later he gave his time to mining exclusively and was well known in Rossland and the camps of the Boundary country and as far north and west as Dawson and Nome.

When the Stewart camp was first opened Mr. Hamilton settled there, and he and his partner, C. Larsen, located the Spider group, one of the most promising properties in that district. Only lately they were able to turn over several claims to advantage.

Owing to sickness Mr. Hamilton had been a patient in the Prince Rupert hospital for the past year and three quarters.

WAS DRAWN DOWN AND DROWNED BY OWN NET

EDMONTON, June 1.—Trapped in a fishing net, and dragged below the surface by the lead weights of the net, Gilbert Walters of Fallis, was drowned in Lake Wabamun Monday evening, when the boat in which he and Clarence Hurst of Fallis, were fishing, overturned in 35 feet of water.

Another boat half a mile away rescued Hurst, who clambered aboard as it hurried to the rescue, but Walters was dragged down by the net, and was not seen again alive.

The body was recovered later in the evening by A.P.P. Constable Davis of Evansburg, with a party of searchers, and the funeral will be held at Fallis.

The boat was a flat-bottomed one, with an outboard motor, it is stated, and with the two men and the nets was overloaded.

Walters was 26, and leaves a wife and two children.

WIFE WISHES TO BE WIDOW

HAS NOT SEEN HUSBAND SINCE 1912 AND WANTS HIM DECLARED DEAD

VANCOUVER, June 1.—A petition for a court declaration that Gustaf Beckius is dead was filed yesterday here by Mrs. Susanne Beckius of Prince George, who asks permission to re-marry.

According to the petition, Beckius preceded the family from Sweden in 1903 and his wife joined him at Prince Rupert in 1910 and then he ordered her to go to Vancouver but failed to keep a promise to rejoin her there. In 1912, she asserts he turned up long enough to obtain from her $100 and since then he has not been seen by any member of the family.

According to the petition he will now be 33 years of age and as he was a heavy drinker and suffered from stomach trouble, his wife believes he is probably dead and wishes to be declared a widow.

IF BUSINESS IS POOR, PAINT THE STORE

If business is poor, paint the front of the store, varnish the shop furnishings, brush your clothes, get your hair cut, have an interview with a Christian scientist and then smile a little at each customer. Such action will banish the blues and make you and your place of business attractive. Then make the business over so that it is a pleasure for people to enter and they will be loath to depart. Set your house in order and you may expect people to deal with you.

They say the early day Prince Rupert newspapers were mud-slingers. It's a cinch they're dust-collectors now says the editor of the "Ten Years Ago" column.

MANY FACTORS OF SUCCESS

There are many factors that make for success in business. One of these is cheerfulness and another is persistence. Cheerfulness is usually the result of happiness but happiness is to a certain extent the result of one's own mentality and can be controlled. Those who have read Dickens will remember the persistent cheerfulness of Mark Tapley under the most discouraging circumstances and the blessing it was to everyone around him.

People like to go to a store or office or bank where the people are cheerful. Personality goes a long way in business and all this shows that it is good business to cultivate the cheerful spirit and avoid the frown as one would the plague. Grouching is a disease that is as catching as scarlet fever and much more injurious to the patients.

Faith is just as necessary in city building as in character building. The place whose citizens have no faith might as well call in the civic undertaker at once and carry out the corpse.

GREAT OBJECTION TO BIG CITY

One of the great objections to the big city of today is the transportation problem. To live in a big city usually means to live miles from the office or store or whatever the work may be. It means hours lost each day in travelling back and forth. The man with the motor car is little better off than one without because the streets are crowded and movement is very slow.

So we have an advantage in Prince Rupert. We have plenty of room to move and we do not live far from our work. None of us do. We do not have car fares to pay and we can stay in bed half an hour longer in the morning through not having to come in on the tram from 125th street.

Some great writer once said that to understand a person you must put yourself in his place. Yet it would be too bad to have anyone put himself in the place of the hapless editor who hands out bouquets mingled with brickbats but gets mostly brickbats in return.

SWIMMING BEST POSSIBLE EXERCISE

The swimming season is approaching and with the facilities for the sport offering here it is a wonder that more do not take an interest in it. When swimming, almost every muscle in the body is being exercised and the exhilaration of the cool water is something that cannot be obtained in any other game.

It is not difficult to get to the Salt Lake across the harbor and the facilities there are excellent. The only excuse for not taking part is either one of indolence or of the prior claim of some other occupation.

Now that government control has been given a pretty good trial, what about trying a little self-control?

If you are out of repair, put in the necessary stitches or get someone handy with the needle to do it for you.

There was a visitor came to town last week who was so shabby he was several times mistaken for a millionaire.

Make this Test

To Find out if you need Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.—A study of these symptoms will enable you to decide.

This blood and nerve restorative was devised for use in two great classes of diseases, one of which usually develops from the other—Anaemia or bloodlessness, and Nervous Exhaustion. If the blood is thin and watery, as is indicated by pallor of the lips, eyelids and gums, or if you are afflicted by some form of nervous trouble, you will find in Dr. Chase's Nerve Food the most certain means of relief and restoration. Some of the symptoms and ailments which come under this heading are:

Thin blood, sallow complexion, pallor of eyelids, lips and gums, tired feelings, loss of energy and ambition, tendency to fear and anxiety, loss of breath and easily fatigued, weak heart action, loss of flesh and weight, neurasthenia, nervous prostration, nervous headache, indigestion, sleeplessness, irritability, nervousness, twitching of nerves and muscles, sensitiveness to sound and light, gloomy forebodings, loss of memory, inability to concentrate the mind.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is easily the greatest of restoratives. By forming new red corpuscles in the blood this food treatment nourishes the starved and depleted nerves back to health and vigor. Try it when you are run down and out of sorts. It will restore vigor and energy and make you feel that life is worth living.

Music and Other Entertainment on London Streets Told About by Former Resident of Rupert

Some Really Good Turns and Money Contributed Freely: Clever Revue Named "Splinters" Done by Men Only

(By Sid Webb)

LONDON, June 1.—The variety of beggars, street musicians, and miscellaneous entertainers in London, and the various methods adopted by this class of fraternity to eke out a livelihood from the pockets of the producing British public strikes a "Colonial" as quaint and in many cases very amusing.

Hardly a street in the busy parts of London, including the suburbs, can be traversed without one meeting, or being met by, several beggars of one description or another. From match selling to solo cornet playing, organ grinding and thence to light and heavy opera musical and vocal selections, the round of entertainment goes on, and many of these street artists derive a big financial income from their efforts. While many of them are nothing more or less than beggars there are others who are really clever and deserve patronage from those who enjoy their "turn."

VARIETY ENTERTAINERS

During a two hour walk in the vicinity of the west-end of London recently the writer encountered no less than three separate bands of variety street entertainers, but having boasted of his Scotch friendships in Canada watched the proceedings from the "other side" of the street where one can easily get away before the inevitable money box is handed about among the onlookers. The first entertainment consisted of a man with a barrel organ, another member of the "jazz orchestra" played a trombone, another a banjo, while two young men kept time to the various tunes with plates and spoons very cleverly manipulated to sound like the old "bones" in the original minstrel troupes. This "orchestra" rattled out all the latest "jazz" tunes, and in spite of the absence of a leader kept wonderfully good time. There were at least some hundred people standing around taking in the fun and the street artists must have collected a goodly sum, judging by the ready manner in which the pennies and sixpences bounded into the collector's hat. A few streets farther on the writer ran into a regular concert party, consisting of three musicians, and a real up-to-date affair it was. A piano was mounted on an old "Ford" covered truck, with strings of bells hanging around it. A lady presided at the piano while two men took care of the bells and vocal part of the entertainment respectively. The tunes on the bells, accompanied by the piano, were well rendered, mostly old favorites, while the man with the voice, although a cripple, was remarkably good. The latter performer sang sentimental songs in a very fine voice and received the plaudits of the crowd. This trio raked in the money easily and were doubtless doing as well by entertaining the public on the streets as they would have been entertaining the public from the variety stage.

The third street entertainment was put on by a bunch of returned soldiers in the form of a miniature "Military" band. The band consisted of a big drummer, a side drummer, a trombone, two cornets and clarinet, and they made as much noise as a real band. This form of music was confined to military march tunes interspersed with popular jazz selections, and while there were a few flat notes in the renderings the performers doubtless meant well, and seemed to be well patronized.

POORER ENTERTAINERS

On Saturday nights the street musicians and beggars do quite a thriving business, when Pa and Ma and the kiddies are abroad with the week's wages to dispose of, and the odd pennies find their way into the pockets of the needy. The publichouse constitutes the great rendezvous for the poorer class of musicians and hawkers, and the latter peddle anything from patent medicines to jewellery. Some of the players even go as far as to dress up in costume. One old fellow pulls off the Chirgwin—the White Eyed Kafir—stunt and strolls about disguised with a black face, with a guitar, and white diamond over the eye and is dressed up in a high silk hat and frock coat. Standing outside the doors of the bars he winds out some of the old favorites and seems to make quite a good business out of it. This class of people who are not gifted in any way, musically or vocally, push a perambulator with a gramophone thereon and rely upon the squeak of the instrument to attract the attention of passers-by in the hope that the odd penny will drop into the cup.

ALL SCOTCH, TOO

The English public seems to fall very heavy for anything with a Scotch twist to it, even a Scotch joke, and one of the biggest street crowds the writer has yet seen around this form of street entertainment was gathered about a Scotch bagpiper accompanied by two Scotch lassies doing the Highland sword dance. It looked to the writer as though the performers consisted of father and two daughters, and they could sure do their "stuff." Naturally all three were dressed in Highland costume and looked very neat in their kilts and sporrans. The old gentleman, with the bagpipe sported the regulation Scotch sandy whiskers, plus brawny legs, and possessed some excellent lungs judging from the size to which he blew the bagpipes and the distance the sound reached. The girls were neat limbed and danced beautifully, and were amply repaid for their exertions, even the writer donating a couple of pennies to the cause.

THE DOGS LIKE IT

There is so much "music" in the air in the City of London that the dogs seem to have become quite used to it, in fact it is very seldom one hears a dog howl. The only instrument which does get the dogs "goat" is the cornet, and this instrument seems to jar upon their nerves. It is laughable to see a street cornet player outside a "pub" trying to put pathos into "Queen of the Earth" with about a dozen dogs sitting around him on their haunches howling heavenwards.

WHY IS IT?

As to why returned men, men who served their country honorably when it needed them, should be forced to resort to this kind of thing for a living, in an empire so rich in worldly goods as the British Empire is rated to be, is another matter. But it certainly does not reflect any credit upon the land of the Union Jack. Of course some of them make a very good living, in fact better than if they worked, but the system, to say the least, is a rotten one.

A CLEVER REVUE

The writer witnessed a very clever and pretty revue at one of the London theatres recently. The revue was entitled "Splinters" and the company taking part therein, consisting entirely of men. It was originated by a Canadian and Australian soldier in France during the Great War. The entire production was portrayed by men, and the chorus of "beautiful girls" had to be seen to be believed that men could possibly "take off" women as they did. Unless one was acquainted with the fact beforehand they would naturally suppose that they were actually women. The dresses and scenery were superb, while the dancing, both jazz and classical was excellent. The production spoke volumes for the organizers and it must have taken a long time to collect such a galaxy of men that could perform the parts of women as they did in "Splinters." The "leading lady" part was taken by Reg. Stone, who is reputed to be a Canadian born young man, and his portrayal was, to say the least, wonderful. In figure, speech and gesture he was every bit the real "lady," and did some really clever work. It is only in the last act when Father Time turns all the women into men, and the men take their wigs off, that one can really realize they have been hoaxed.

CROP PROSPECTS IN EDMONTON DISTRICT ARE VERY FAVORABLE

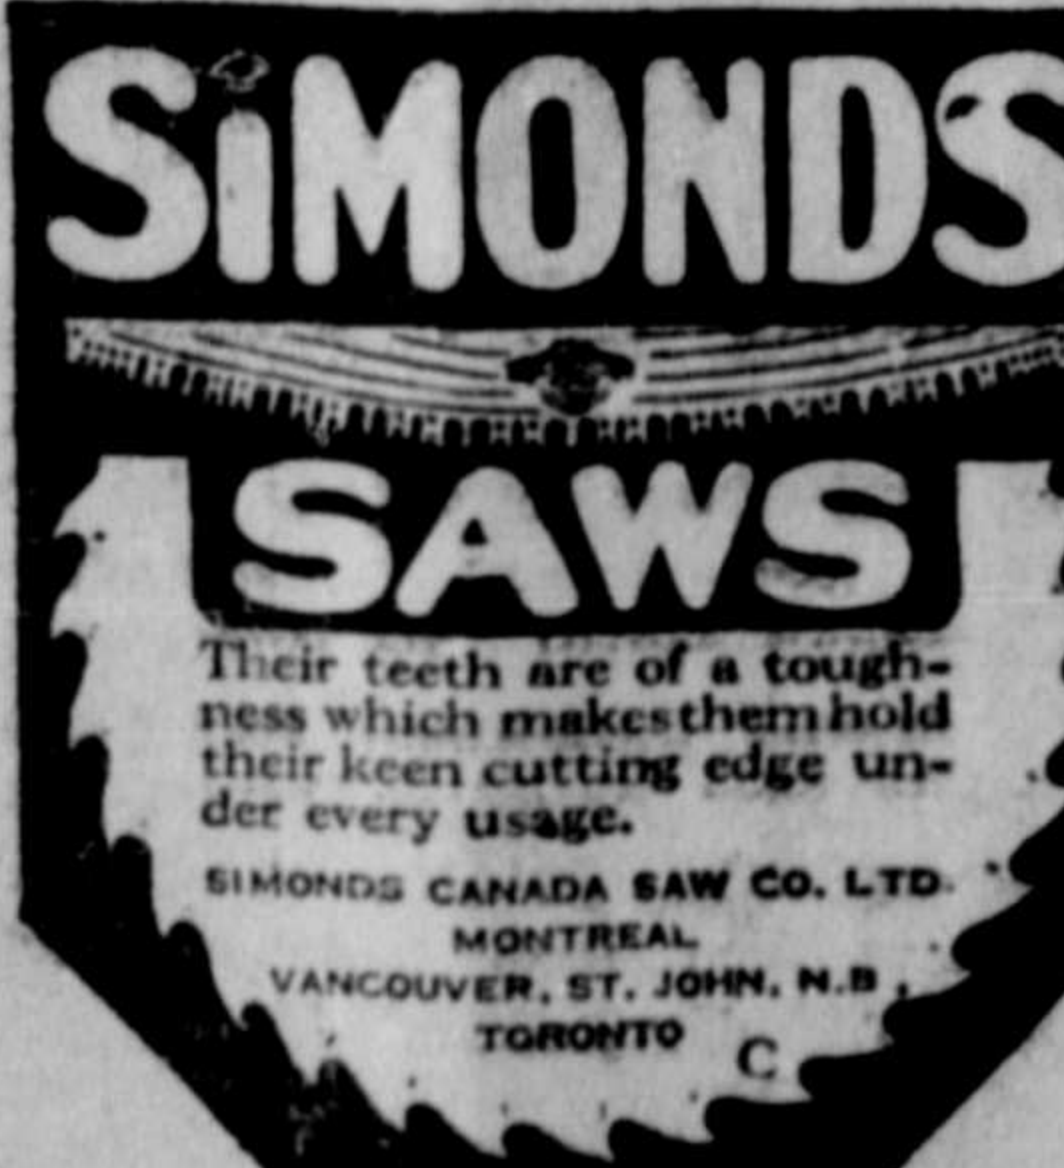

Speaking of the area known as Edmonton district, latest reports on crop conditions are, on the whole, very favorable says the Edmonton Journal. Although the present season is all of two weeks later than that of 1926, it is now anticipated that approximately the same acreage as last year will be put under crop. At least 90 per cent of intended wheat area has been seeded, and of the coarse grains something like 40 to 50 per cent. On the whole, the land is in excellent condition. There has been an ample supply of moisture to carry the crop well through June.

Grande Prairie reports today intimate that wheat seeding is practically completed and oats well advanced. It is probable that there will be an increased acreage of 20 per cent. in oats and a slight increase in wheat, when all seeding for the season is finished. There was a fall of snow in Grande Prairie district on Thursday night, with cool weather prevailing. The outlook, however, is very promising and with fine weather assured splendid results may be looked for.

In the six months that Hon. Dr. Simon Tolmie has been leader of the Conservative party he has made a good many speeches. The speeches have been very human, very bright and very optimistic. This, as a feat of memory, is altogether praiseworthy, and it is a splendid and reassuring thing that any politician is so well informed.

REGULATION FOR BUS SERVICES IN ALBERTA

License Fee Based on Number of Miles to be Travelled and Passengers Carried

EDMONTON, June 1. — Regulations issued by the provincial government regarding the operation of public vehicles on auto bus lines carrying passengers and freight on the highways, have been issued.

No public vehicle shall be operated by any person with defective sight, or who has not the full use of both arms and hands, and both legs and feet, nor by any person under the age of 21 years.

Licenses to operate public vehicles are revocable unless service is commenced within 30 days. The fee for operation is one-tenth of a cent per passenger mile of travel over class A roads, and one-fifteenth of a cent over class B roads, and passenger miles of travel are to be calculated by taking the maximum seating capacity of each vehicle and multiplying this by the number of miles to be travelled in the month, on the scheduled route for which the license is issued. Fees are to be paid each month.

An indemnity bond must be provided for each bus, and all accidents must be notified to the government. Ten days' discontinuance of service is cause for suspension or forfeiture of the license.

Buses must be provided with chains, brakes must be tested daily, and a fire extinguisher carried.

A time-table showing the scheduled times of arrival and departure of each bus, must be filed with the government for approval.

Maximum amounts payable in respect of injuries to persons, or of property loss or damage, are fixed as follows: 12-passenger vehicle, $30,000 maximum covering all claims in any one accident, and a maximum of $10,000 to any one claimant; more than 12-passenger busses, $50,000 and $10,000 respectively.

TERMINALS AND REGIMENT DRAW

LAST NIGHT'S STUART SHIELD FOOT-BALL GAME RESULTED IN SCORE OF 4 TO 4

In a game which they deserved to win, the Regiment but tied 4-4 last night with the Grand Terminals in the third and so far best played Stuart Shield fixture. The excellence of their combination and general play merited a victory for the soldiers but misfortune attended them about the middle of the second half when their goalkeeper, J. Sim, sustained an injured arm after which the Terminals put through the evening goal.

Outstanding players were Angus McDonald, Percy Tinker, C. J. Norrington and P. Russell for the Regiment, while A. Dickens, Jimmy Parquhar and George Hill starred for the Terminals. Dickens scored all goals for the Terminals, two in the first half and two in the second, while J. S. Wilson scored two goals and Pat Doherty one in the first half for the Regiment, the fourth being made by Norrington in the second half. The soldiers were leading 3-2 at half time. One of Wilson's goals was fumbled in by Spiro Gurvich, the Terminal goalkeeper.

Gus Krause was referee and the teams took the field as follows:

Regiment—J. Sim; McKay and Hunter; Tinker, McDonald and Wallace; Norrington, Doherty, Strachan, Russell and J. S. Wilson.
Grand Terminals—Spiro Gurvich; George Howe and Dick Howe; J. Sims, G. Hill and Bronson Hunt; J. Parquhar, V. Meagher, A. Dickens, J. Baker and J. Hamilton.

The Stuart Shield series standing to date is as follows:

	W.	D.	L.	Pts.
Moose	2	0	0	4
Regiment	0	1	1	2
Terminals	0	1	1	2

FRENCH AFTER THE DAVIS CUP

EXPECTS TO WREST TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIP FROM U.S. THIS YEAR

PARIS, June 1.—France expects to wrest the Davis Cup, emblematic of world tennis supremacy, from the United States this year. Moreover, she expects to keep it, and is training young players in super tennis with that idea in mind.

Never has the racquet game aroused such popular enthusiasm in France as at present. The loss of Suzanne Lenglen from the ranks of the amateurs served rather to intensify than diminish the interest of all classes. Scores of youngsters, who a few years ago would have played tennis merely as a pastime, have gone into serious training for international events.

The successes of Lacoste, Borotra, Cochet and Brugnon have made it plain to most Frenchmen that 1927 is the French Davis Cup year. And they point to boys, hardly out of knee pants but who already have tasted blood in the defeat of famous old-timers, as players who will defend the trophy in the future against all challengers.

Chief of the younger players of great promise is Christian Bousset, 19-year-old schoolboy, who started off the season by defeating J. R. Gilbert, the British International, in a terrific five-set battle on the courts of the Dulwich Club in London. His style, much like that of the champion, Cochet, attracted the attention of French and foreign critics alike, and he is regarded as one of the likeliest choices for the international team matches that will precede Wimbledon and the Davis Cup preliminary rounds this summer.

Two other youngsters of great promise are Paul Barillet de Ricou, not yet 18, and Maxime Guillemot, a few months older, both of whom have stepped out of the ranks of the ordinary into those of the phenomenal. Barillet de Ricou, despite his youth, is hailed as the most finished of modern players while Guillemot's great strength has served him again and again in long grueling contests with older players.

Girls who bid fair to display the winning ability of even a Suzanne Lenglen are by no means rare. The most promising, say the critics, is Mile. Jacqueline Gallay, whose coolly-calculated play has been likened to that of Helen Wills. She is 18.

After EVERY MEAL

SPORT CHAT

What may be lacking in Senior baseball in the city this year will be fully made up for in Intermediate activities which have been started enthusiastically this season. The Elks, Native Sons and Grotto are now well away and as the season advances, the boys will settle down and should provide some real good ball. Prince Rupert has suffered in recent years through lack of Senior material. That has possibly been because little if any effort has been made to encourage the more elementary stages. Well supported Intermediate baseball now may be expected in a few years to develop into capable and possibly abundant senior material. It would be well for the patrons of baseball to lend their support to the efforts of the youngsters at this time.

There is some difference of opinion as to whether Vic Foley really lost prestige as a result of his defeat last Saturday night by Tod Morgan from whom he was endeavoring to wrest the junior lightweight crown of the world. It is generally admitted that Foley was beaten and beaten well, in fact some of his supporters will admit that he was outclassed. However, there seems to be a general impression that Foley, for some reason or other, was not at his best Saturday night. Of course, such an explanation is often offered as an alibi. Perhaps, Foley was overrated though there are many who would still back him in another contest for the crown.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

DUNWELL STOCK AGAIN CLIMBS

BETTERING OF PRICE DUE TO GOOD RECORD MADE AT MINE IT IS SAID.

VICTORIA, June 1.—Dunwell stock is again increasing in price, the upward move being due, it is thought, to the record being made at the mine during about two months' operation at the mill with necessary continued experiments in the handling of the ore, there has been a gradual stepping up in the tonnage handled, and with the still more important factor that the grade of the concentrates produced is constantly improving.

With approximately 500 tons on concentrates a month now being produced from $500 to $600 a day profit is being made, after deducting all expenses, which include freight and handling charges in Vancouver, which is the point of delivery to the purchaser. While this may be considered very satisfactory, the further announcement is made that it is not to be taken as the ultimate goal to be attained.

Continued progress is being made in the matter of ore treatment at the mill with the objective of materially increasing the returns obtained. As the operation of the plant proceeds there will be manifold improvements in the work at lesser cost to the company.

IMPROVED FACILITIES

Speaking of the progress that is being made in the operations, the directors announce that shortly there will be installed two McIntosh Reclaiming Cells, which will not only improve the savings, but will eliminate practically all waste at present floating in the Mineral Separation Cells. This will bring the product up to a still higher point of concentration, which is the constant aim of the management. This is important, as by this means the freight and smaller charges on the product will be considerably reduced.

It will be with no small measure of surprise that the shareholders of the Dunwell Mines, and the public generally, learn that the gold values in the concentrates from the mill production of the mine almost equal the combined values of the silver and lead therein contained. These gold values are being maintained with wonderful consistency.

POLAR PARTIES OUT THIS YEAR

WILKINS, McILLAN AND COMMANDER BYRD AMONG THOSE SEEKING TO DISCOVER

NEW YORK, June 1.—Although three expeditions have reached the North Pole and one the South, the push into the polar regions this year is greater than ever before.

At least six parties will explore the icy wastes at the ends of the world before fall. The Wilkins, MacMillan, and Putnam expeditions go north from North America, Russians and Germans will make dirigible flights over the pole from Europe and Lieutenant Commander Richard E. Byrd expects to reach the South Pole by plane after his jump across the Atlantic.

Captain George Hubert Wilkins, now in the Arctic as leader of the Detroit News expedition, is looking for undiscovered lands northwest of the Siberian coast. He also seeks data on tidal and mineralogical conditions within this territory.

Captain Donald MacMillan has a different objective. "I plan extensive explorations in the Labrador and Greenland regions," he says. I expect also to throw fresh light on the remnants of an early Norse civilization in Labrador.

Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, famous Norwegian explorer, who will lead the scientific investigations in the German expedition, expects to chart new air routes over the top of the world. The flight will be made in a super-dirigible commanded by Dr. Hugo Eckener, builder of the Los Angeles.

"This expedition," says Dr. Nansen, "will seek also to determine the existence of the mythical 'Harris Land' or 'Lost Continent' supposed by many to lie between the Pole and the coast of America."

The practical value of these expeditions is summed up by Sumner N. Blossom, editor of the Popular Science Monthly, who sees the explorers impelled by three motives: the search for new natural wealth, the quest for scientific knowledge and the mapping of shorter routes across the world.

AIR BICYCLE LATEST THING

JULES PALMER USES GAS BAG ATTACHED TO FRAME AND FLIES MILE OR MORE

ANDOVER, ENGLAND, June 1.—Jules E. Palmer, of Andover, an electrical engineer, has become known here as "bicycle man of the air."

Palmer for months has been making experimental flights with a one man propelled flying machine which is a rough design of an air bicycle which he hopes soon to perfect.

Numerous flights of a mile or more at the height of 30 or 40 feet have been made by Palmer in his "aerial bus" with fan shaped paddles strapped to his arms and suspended by a small balloon.

The "air bicycle" which I am building," said the engineer, "consists of an aluminum cycle frame weighing three

USING MOUNTED POLICE AMBULANCE SERVICE

LONDON, June 1.—London mounted police will hereafter form a new mobile ambulance service. They are equipped with first-aid dressings to enable them to deal promptly and efficiently with all cases of road injury to man or horse. Dressings identical with those carried by all ranks on active service are attached to the saddle so that aid can be given quickly.

This new move on the part of the police authorities is necessitated by the growing frequency of accidents and also in order to bring the mounted police more into line with requirements of modern road transport in London streets.

5000 Crippled Children helped to health by the JUNIOR RED CROSS

THROUGH the Junior Red Cross the Children of Canada are not only TAUGHT health principles—they are inspired to PRACTISE them—and to serve others!

Today 137,486 Canadian school children in 5421 classrooms are banded together for Health, Service, Citizenship.

In ways children love, they learn to keep healthy . . . to drink milk and lots of water . . . to go to bed early and get lots of sleep . . . to care for their teeth . . . to be clean and tidy . . . to avoid passing disease germs to others.

Teachers welcome Junior Red Cross with its voluntary pledge of Health, Service and Citizenship. It brings the spirit of play into the acquiring of health habits . . . it is an invaluable aid to the teacher. It develops consideration for others . . . the idea of service for the common good. A gospel of doing which succeeds!

Red Cross Juniors, are healthy and happy . . . they wish to help others to be the same.

That other children, crippled by disease and injury, may be made well, they earn or save money to provide needed treatment.

Red Cross Juniors are not allowed to ask their parents for money for this purpose. In countless little ways which they themselves devise, they provide the small sums which together do such great service.

Since the war over 5000 crippled children whose parents could not meet the cost have been restored to health by the unselfish efforts of Red Cross Juniors.

To inspire our future citizens with a passion for healthy living! To encourage them to help their less fortunate fellows! Isn't the job worth while? Teachers and health officials say it cannot be done so well in any other way. This is only part of the work the Red Cross is doing for the soldiers, women, children and settlers of Canada. To YOU the Red Cross appeals for support in carrying on this and its other work.

Since the War THE RED CROSS has disbursed 7 Million Dollars for the Soldiers, Women, Children and Frontier Families of Canada. "STILL SERVING"

MALLARD DUCK HAS NEST IN TREE AWAY BACK IN ALBERTA

EDMONTON, June 1.—Wainwright naturalists who proudly boast of a wild goose that nests in a tree, must now look to their laurels, if the story of an experience that befell a well-known provincial civil servant on May 24—and vouched for by another civil servant of unimpeachable reputation—is to be accepted as truthful.

The gentleman in question spent the holiday at his hunting grounds at Big Lake, and was wandering around through the woods, when he saw what he took to be a new crow's nest in a tree, some twelve feet from the ground.

Scaling the tree to investigate, what was his astonishment when a full-grown lady mallard duck flew out of the nest, expostulating loudly. After the manner of her kind, at this intrusion of her privacy.

There might have been some doubt that the mallard was actually nesting there, but further investigation revealed a clutch of a dozen duck-eggs, all warm and snug in their bed of down.

Now the civil servant wants to know if Alberta is developing a new species of aquatic fowl—the tree-duck.

PAULINE DOES ACTIVE WORK

AGENT GENERAL IN LONDON LAUD-
ED AS EFFICIENT OFFICIAL OF
B.C. GOVERNMENT

VICTORIA, June 1.—British Columbia House in London is doing invaluable work for this Province, and F. A. Pauline, agent-general, has proved himself an outstanding figure among the many Empire representatives in London, according to W. B. Ryan, prominent Victoria businessman, who returned recently from Britain.

After being in close contact with the work of B.C. House during his residence in London, Mr. Ryan has come back to British Columbia delighted with the institution. In an interview he condemned criticism of Mr. Pauline's work as based on ignorance of the facts. People familiar with conditions in England, he said, know that the province is benefitting in a big way from the activities of the agent general and his staff.

"It is not generally known in the Province that British Columbia House in London is operated at a very small cost to the taxpayer. During the present year, after making due provision for all expenditures, including salaries, advertising and the general conduct of the office, the total cost will not exceed $14,000. This would be after providing for the interest on the mortgage now outstanding against the B.C. House, land rentals, cost of upkeep, etc., and the reason that the expenditures are kept at about this figure is due generally to the satisfactory manner in which the offices are rented and let.

"There is a point that I would like to emphasize, and that is the evidence of the change in the feelings of the Britisher towards Canada. Four years ago it was almost impossible to interest any of the people in the British Isles in Canada. Today this feeling is absolutely reversed, and no doubt, in so far as British Columbia is concerned, the change has been brought about

VICTORIA PLAN FOR JUBILEE

WILL HOLD GRAND HISTORICAL BALL AS ONE OF GREAT FEATURES FOR OCCASION

VICTORIA, June 1.—"Greater Victoria, including Saanich, Oak Bay and Esquimalt, will be joined by many of the Vancouver Island communities to the north of this city in a joint celebration on Dominion Day, which provide an appealing review of the past with its pioneer labors, its period costumes, and its brave adventurers in a strange new land, the land of awakening opportunity, Canada," said Reginald Hayward, M.P.P., chairman of the local diamond jubilee celebration committee.

"It is fitting that the chief aim of the celebration will have an historical significance, telling as it will the story of Canada's growth, step by step, to her position of Empire solidity of today. History can be a dull subject, but we propose to present it in a fashion that will bring the past to life, to move and live again in the eyes of our citizens.

COSTUME BALL

"A grand historical costume ball will be a feature of the celebration, showing the dress of our forefathers through the successive generations to the present day. Incorporated in the largest parade ever attempted here will be a moving pageant, showing scenes from the early pages of Canadian history.

"Over 2,000 school children will take part in another pageant, tracing the history of Canada by provinces, from where the Atlantic rolls upon ice-bound shores to the Far West slope, gently laved by the rolling breakers of the Pacific. National games, including lacrosse, and other features will be staged for Vancouver Island championships.

"The lumber industry of British Columbia has been heard of the world around, at our celebration you will have axe-men from Vancouver Island woods competing against the pick of the lumber crews, and again in a log rolling contest for the Island trophy.

DECORATIONS

"A treasure hunt for a worth-while purse will be used as a means of awakening contributions to the general fund, as the entertainment that is contemplated will have to be financed by public subscription. The committee has outlined a novel plan of store, automobile and other decorations, and is prepared to advise on how decorative schemes may be carried out with effect. Victoria in the Diamond Jubilee period is making preparations for the entertainment of 75,000 people, many of whom will come from outside points on special excursions now being planned.

WHEAT ACREAGE IS DECREASED

RAINS OF LAST WEEK ON PRAIRIES RESPONSIBLE FOR FURTHER DELAY

WINNIPEG, May 31.—Heavy rains which were general over the whole of western Canada during May 23 and 24 interfered seriously with seeding operations which had been vigorously resumed and it can now be accepted as a fact that the acreage sown to wheat in the west will be less than last year.

The extent of this decrease will vary according to locality but the Canadian National Railways report that it will amount to approximately 10 to 15 per cent in Alberta; 15 to 25 per cent in Saskatchewan and from 20 to 30 per cent in Manitoba. On the other hand reports from all sections of the country indicate that farmers are preparing to sow this acreage to coarse grains and that excepting Manitoba, where rainfall has been almost continuous, good progress has been made already. All reports from Saskatchewan and Alberta indicate a compensating factor in as much as wheat already sown is germinating rapidly and in a number of places is reported to be from two to four inches above the ground. Warm weather is needed over the whole of the west, however, and as there is plenty of moisture in the ground all points state that the decrease in acreage may be offset by the general yield, if favorable growing conditions occur immediately. In Alberta and Saskatchewan from 85 to 100 per cent of the wheat has been seeded and from 70 to 90 per cent in Manitoba.

In southern Manitoba and Saskatchewan soil conditions have hampered the sowing of coarse grains, and only about 25 per cent is in. A number of places state seeding operations will be suspended for several days. In the rest of Saskatchewan and Alberta from 25 to 45 per cent of coarse grains have been sown. A notable feature of the report is that no where are the farmers showing alarm but are looking for warm weather to offset unfavorable conditions.

ATLANTIC SHIP MASTER COMING

CAPT. K. S. IRGENS, COMMANDER OF NORWEGIAN-AMERICAN LINER STAVANGERFJORD, TO VISIT—CITY

An interesting visitor to Prince Rupert at the end of this week will be Capt. K. S. Irgens, commander of the liner Stavangerfjord, flagship of the Norwegian-American Line's transatlantic fleet. Capt. Irgens, whose home is in Oslo, Norway, and who left his ship at New York recently, is on something in the nature of an educational trip through Canada and the United States. He passed through the city aboard the steamer Princess Alice on Monday and, after making the round trip to Skagway, will depart here from that vessel on Friday and spend the night here before proceeding the next morning by train to the East, visiting various important centres in Canada before returning to New York to rejoin his vessel.

Capt. Irgens, who is the senior master of the Scandinavian-American Line, has made 220 trips across the Atlantic as shipmaster in the course of a noted maritime career.
