Confessed Kidnapper Says Did Not Intend to Injure Parker Girl

PENDLETON, Oregon, December 23 .- Captured in a breakneck race with police officers on the Columbia River Highway yesterday William E. Hickman, aged 19, on whose head a reward of $100,000 had been placed, last night told a broken story of the kid- ing yesterday were as follows: napping of Marian Parker, twelve-year-old Los Angeles girl, and at the same time endeavored desperately to shift the blame for the horrible mutilation of the girl upon the shoulders of his partner, a man he named as Andrew Cramer. Escaping the cordon of many thousands of police officers, 160 bushels.

Hickman slipped through the net in Los Angeles and ran unchallenged through San Francisco and with 600 bushels.

PEACE AT CHRISTMAS

Peace is an appropriate theme for Christmas but that is not Coupe, a distance of ninety miles. From however, connot see its way clear to why we are just now giving so much news about the Peace River and a railway to tap it. Yesterday we published part of a momorandum prepared by Theo Collart and today we have an interesting Automobile stages make the trip in article by Stephen Dumas. The idea is that we should all become so saturated with Peace Railway propaganda that we shall be ready to talk about it at any time and quote facts and figures to all and sundry whom we may meet.

If we seem to be giving too much Peace River Railway news twenty-nine claims are staked and Railway would be another "white eleand views it is because the subject is of paramount importance to us just now.

BRITISH NAVAL POLICY

The policy of the government of Great Britain is always interesting to us because the British navy, kept up by the overtaxed people of England, Scotland and Wales, is the only navy we have to which to turn for protection in time of need.

Just now it is the policy of the Balwin government to go slow son's Hope. Near the foothills is plenty ing the government in the matter of on building of warships, keeping along the line that would have of timber which could be used for the Peace River but rather its unwillbeen followed if a treaty had been made with United States and general purposes. The land is mainly ingness to buck the people of southern Japan to limit the number. The government took advantage of the of a black loam nature, capable of British Columbia. The government closing of parliament to put words in the King's mouth dealing with ripening any kind of vegetables. But knows full well that if it should build this matter, so that the world may know Britain is not going to be a competitor in armaments with any country.

Announced in this way it goes forth to the world as the official policy their answer were in the affirmative I from one hundred to two hundred per of Great Britain.

BRITISH WAR DEBTS

During the war Great Britain loaned a lot of money to countries fighting against Germany. She also borrowed large sums from United States. The amounts loaned were greater than the amounts to Stewart or Prince Rupert and forget existing conditions—the prices of all borrowed. Now the government, speaking through the King, declares the Pacific Great Eastern! that all Britain will do is to collect enough money from her debtors to satisfy the war debts of her creditors. If France not believe, and I am not alone in my objects to paying Britain, the retort is that only sufficient is to be collected to pay United States. If the United States reduces her service or efficiency, mainly because it Edmonton, Dunvegan and B.C. and claims then Britain reduces hers on other countries just that much. The result is that the money loaned by United States to Britain is and back down again which it would terminus. The most of those I spoke to would go to the British Columbia side of the Peace River valley where the winters are not so severe and where there are mineral lands as well as agricultural and the greatest water power in the whole of Canada-namely the Peace River canyon near Hudson's Hope. The land between Hudson's Hope and North Fort St. John is the best in the whole Peace River valley and there are millions of acres of it including the Rollo and Pouce Coupe districts. forehead. I have stolen into your room alone. Just a few minutes ago, as I sat reading my paper in the library. a hot, stifling wave of remorse swept over me. I could not resist it. Guilitly I came to your bedside.

"These are the things I was thinking. son: I had been cross to you. I scolded you as you were dressing for school because you gave your face merely a dab" with a towel. I took you to task for not cleaning your shoes. I called out angrily when I found you had thrown some of your things on the floor. SPILLED THINGS

"At breakfast I found fault, too. You spilled things. You gulped down your food. You put your elbows on the table. You spread butter too thick on your bread. And as you started off to play and I made for my train, you turned and waved a little hand and called. 'Good-bye, Daddy!' and I frowned, and said in reply, 'Hold your shoulders back.'

"Then it began all over again in the late afternoon. As I came up the hill road I spied you, down on your knees playing marbles. There were holes in your stockings. I humiliated you before your boy friends by making you march ahead of me back to the house. Stockings were expensive—and if you had to buy them you would be more careful! Imagine, that, son, from a father! It was such stupid, silly logic.

"Do you remember, later, when I was reading in the library, how you came in, softly, timidly, with a sort of hurt, hunted look in your eyes? When I glanced up over my paper, impatient at the interruption, you hesitated at the door. 'What is it you want?' I snapped. GOOD-NIGHT KISS

"You said nothing, but ran across, one tempestuous plunge, and threw
