Union Jack Torn to Shreds by Nationalist Agitators at Smuts Meeting in Transvaal Last Night

Free fights followed and a number of cracked heads and bleeding faces were the result

BLOOMHOF, Transvaal, South Africa, October 1.—Fighting with chairs, clubs and bottles, three hundred South African Nationalist agitators captured the platform at a meeting last night and prevented General J. C. Smuts speaking. The Union Jack was torn to shreds. Members of the Smuts party were chased from the hall and free fights continued in the streets outside resulting in numerous cracked heads, bleeding faces and other injuries.

After the meeting General Smuts said: "I have never seen anything so shocking. The country is rapidly becoming a little Russia, but we won't submit to it."

PIRATES LOSE TO CINCINNATI

St. Louis Cardinals Still Have Chance to Figure in Tie for National League Pennant

NEW YORK, Oct. 1.—Pittsburgh Pirates dropped the first game of their final three game series to Cincinnati Reds yesterday afternoon by a score of 2 to 1 and New York Giants leading to Brooklyn Dodgers by a score of 10 to 5, were definitely dropped from any chance to cop the National League pennant. The only chance the St. Louis Cardinals, idle yesterday, now have to take the flag is to win their final two games while the Pirates lose their final two. Then it would be a tie for the leadership. Chances, of course, are largely in favor of the Pirates who need but one victory for themselves or one defeat for St. Louis.

New York Yankees won 4 to 2 over Washington Senators and Babe Ruth set up a new record by making his sixtieth home run of the season. Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns split a double-header and Chicago White Sox won twice from Detroit Tigers.

Ruth's homer came in the eighth inning with one man on base, a tie score with Washington thus being broken. The day's scores were as follows:

NATIONAL LEAGUE

Philadelphia 7, Boston 12.
Pittsburgh 1, Cincinnati 2.
New York 5, Brooklyn 10.

FAIR FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE

Interim Financial Report Indicates That 1926 Deficit Will be Wiped off

BOARD CONGRATULATED

Providing all outstanding accounts covering advertising and donations, etc., can be collected and with the additional receipts from a dance which it is planned to hold about Thanksgiving Day, it is expected that the Fair Board, besides taking care of this year's Exhibition, will be able to wipe out the old adverse balance of $2,800 brought over from last year. Such was the information contained in an interim financial statement presented last night at a meeting of the Fair Board by the finance committee. It was stressed that, to obtain this favorable result, it would be essential that citizens as a whole lend their support to the dance as well as all coming forward with outstanding financial undertakings.

In response to a request made by the Prince Rupert Basketball Association, it was decided by the board to allow the use of the hall for basketball at a monthly rental of $30, the basketball association paying for the lighting and taking care of all breakages.

A letter was read from William J. Bonavia, deputy minister of agriculture, congratulating the board on the splendid exhibits at the 1927 Exhibition and requesting that some photographs be sent of the district displays.

A letter from Hon. T. D. Pattullo enclosed the minister's personal check of $75, $50 of which was earmarked as the first prize for district agricultural display which was won by Prince George.

Those present at the meeting were: President Frank Dibb, Ald. R. F. Perry, Olof Hanson, Ben Self, S. E. Parker, W. D. Vance, Ald. J. Greer, Dan Jabour and George B. Casey.

SHORTAGE OF HERRING BAIT

None Left in Alaska and Only Small Quantities Here; Fishermen Concerned

KETCHIKAN, Oct. 1.—Halibut fishermen have become concerned over a reported shortage of herring used for bait. The last frozen herring on the local market was sold yesterday and nearby towns have likewise exhausted supplies. The increasing use of herring in the manufacture of fertilizer is blamed by some for the shortage. A number of fishing boats at Petersburg are reported to be tied up by lack of bait.

Inquiry at the office of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Company elicits the fact that the local company still has herring which it is doing out in small quantities to fishermen.

PEACE RIVER RAILWAY

Definite action toward the building of a railway giving a western outlet to Peace River has been taken by the Canadian National Railway, according to a statement made by the minister of railways at Edmonton. The idea of the survey is not, apparently, with a view to immediate construction but in order that when extensions are made to the existing railways from the East they may be made with a definite plan in view.

There are a great many efforts being made just now to interest people in the building of the railway. Vancouver is making efforts to see that the outlet of the railway shall be at that city. The provincial government is interested in unloading the P.G.E. which is at present a burden on us all. Private interests expect to make something out of any scheme promoted. The Canadian National Railway is interested in securing a new feeder for that line without incurring much new overhead expense. All citizens of western Canada would like to see some move made to open the new country for settlement and especially to provide an outlet that will give the Pacific Coast a chance of getting more business.

It seems to us that this is the time for us all to put as much pressure as possible on the government with a view to having the line built at as early a date as possible.

ST. LOUIS DISASTER

The disaster at St. Louis is one of those terrible things that it was impossible to avoid and with which we can all sympathize. There have been similar events happen in Canada, such as the partial destruction of Regina a few years ago. Such visitations simply remind us of the insecurity of our tenure and of the impossibility of man with all his resource and cleverness coping effectively with the strong arm of nature.

DEMAND FOR PROPERTY

There is a little improvement in the demand for city property. The tax sale of yesterday was rather a satisfactory one in that it caused over seventy people to pay up their taxes just before the properties were offered and a number of the lots offered for sale were purchased at more or less satisfactory prices.

Because a person purchases a lot for $150 at a tax sale is no indication that the adjoining lots will be sold as low as that. Often people let their property go to tax sale in order to tide them over a crisis. Before the expiration of the two years before which the sale is made final, the properties are redeemed.

Often, too, the lots offered for taxes are subject to some disability by which they are not as valuable as adjoining properties. In any event the purchaser does not get titles for two years and during that time the money is tied up. Unless tax sale lots can be purchased away below actual market value they are not a good buy. This is mentioned simply to show that tax sales are not an indication of actual values in a neighborhood. The fact that there is a good demand for lots at a tax sale is, however, an indication of the trend of affairs in the city and it is reassuring to those who are interested in the city, that there is an improved demand for that class of property. It is a straw which points out which way the wind is blowing.

GET PEOPLE TO PURCHASE LAND

We firmly believe in the principle of getting people to purchase city lands wherever possible. Every lot that is held by private owners means so much more taxes being paid to the city. If the city could get rid of all its lots, the taxes on the rest would be lessened. It may possibly in some cases interfere with a sale by a private owner but in the long run it would be better for all the property owners. There are cases where the city cannot expect to get out of the property all the charges against it. This property we think should be sold for what it is worth and not held indefinitely.

Many close in properties are held today at high figures. Prices in some neighborhoods are quite high. There are very few cities in the west where real estate values have held as well as they have in Prince Rupert. We are now inclined to think that there will be no more dropping off but a tendency for prices to stiffen, except in those neighborhoods which are already high enough. There is also a possibility of something happening here which might add greatly to real estate values.

VALUE EMPTY PURSE WELL ILLUSTRATED IN IRELAND TODAY

(Edmonton Bulletin)

The Cosgrave government intends to carry on in the Irish Free State, and hopes to be able to live out a year. The Government has a majority of only five, supporting the farmers' group and the independent group stand firm in their support. If either breaks away the Ministry is doomed.

With a majority so small, and so composed, the Ministers are not without optimism in hoping to stay in power for a twelvemonth. They are probably counting on a factor which does not appear upon the surface but is none the less powerful. All the parties are "broke" and elections cost money.

Rather than precipitate another campaign, without funds, the expectation is that the groups will stay "put" and save the Government in order to save themselves.

The "Irish question" having been sent back to Ireland for solution, it is, strictly speaking, no business of outsiders how the solving of it is done about, and it is the affair of Free Staters, how they fare in the process. But recalling that the Irishman is by no means devoid of humor, it would be worth something to know just what he thinks about a situation in which his one chance of anything resembling stability of government depends upon the universal bankruptcy of his numerous political parties.

VISITS CANADA AFTER ABSENCE FIFTY YEARS

Octogenarian Sheep Rancher From New Zealand Here to see His Nephew, D. McD. Hunter

A visitor to Prince Rupert, after an absence from Canada of fifty-two years, is George Hunter of Waverly, New Zealand, who arrived in the city on yesterday afternoon's train from the East. He is on a tour of the Dominion visiting from coast to coast with relatives, many of whom he has never previously seen. In Prince Rupert for a week or so, he is the guest of his nephew, D. McD. Hunter, 618 Fifth Avenue East.

Mr. Hunter, the youngest of a family of ten, was born in Glasgow, Scotland, and came to Canada with his parents when still an infant. The family settled in Upper Pilkington, Wellington County, Ontario, in what was then virgin forest but which, before long, what with inflexible determination and perseverance of the early settlers, was reduced to a state of fertility and abundance. In his twenty-sixth year, Mr. Hunter decided to go to New Zealand to join two brothers already living there. Before leaving he was married and he and his bride set out on the long journey. No Canadian railroads were then in existence and Vancouver and Prince Rupert were unheard of so they went via Chicago to San Francisco and there embarked on a sailing vessel for the Antipodes. Off Tahiti after a rough thirty day trip their ship sprung a leak, but on another sailing vessel they finally reached Auckland in safety.

Pioneering in New Zealand as he had done in Canada, Mr. Hunter eventually became the owner of two large sheep and cattle ranches on which thousands of head of stock were ranged. New Zealand, a country with no extremes of heat or cold, is particularly adapted to the raising of stock which can graze outside all the year around. It was not so many years before Mr. Hunter became a successful rancher.

SEES GREAT CHANGE

Although in his eightieth year, Mr. Hunter retains a springy step and a clear eye. Of course, after an absence of so many years, he has hardly recognized Canada so great has been the development all over the Dominion. Where half a century ago was nothing but virgin wilderness, he has found great cities and prosperous towns with two great railways spanning the country, one of them fifty years ago having not been yet projected. One of the interesting changes which Mr. Hunter has observed in Canada is the great decrease in the volume of water at Niagara Falls which, in his day, completely covered the rocks.

Mr. Hunter is of the opinion that the period of depression in New Zealand is at an end. Land is now very much cheaper and conditions have generally improved. "New Zealand," he says, "has entered into a new period of prosperity."

Arriving in Canada in May aboard the motorship "Aorangi" from New Zealand, Mr. Hunter plans to embark at Vancouver on October 19, on the steamer "Niagara" on his return to the southern Dominion. The scenery while coming west over the Canadian National Railways to Prince Rupert has proven of much delight to him and he is taking a keen interest in the city of Prince Rupert which he has never previously seen but which, even at the length of New Zealand, he has often heard of as a potential new port of the world.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

OCTOBER 1, 1917.

Nicol Thompson, fuel controller for British Columbia, returned last evening from a trip to Hazelton on private mining business and will size up the local fuel situation before returning to Vancouver.

An interesting wedding took place in the Clapp Block yesterday afternoon when Miss Annie Birnie became the bride of Harry Mobley. Rev. W. W. Wright officiated and the attendants were Miss Eva Birnie and M. F. Nickerson. Mr. and Mrs. Mobley sailed on the Princess May to spend a honeymoon in the south.

Father McGrath officiated at the wedding which took place this morning of Miss Amelia Besner, recently arrived from Montreal, and Eugene Lajonde, a well known local telegraph operator.

Man in the Moon

AND now comes a Winnipeg man who suggests there is no difference between a banker and a bunker. But you can get away from a bunker.

ONE year I lived in Rupert
A city on the coast
The finest place to live I know
Though I do not care to boast.

EVE went fishing and she said "I do not care, Adam, what I catch."

A MAN is apt to have matrimonial disappet when his wife does not agree with him.

Statistics compiled by the tireless Literary Digest show, among other things, that only one American housewife in ten has a full-time servant to do her work. This sounds like a studied attempt to ignore the hard-working and uncompaining American husband.

THE kindergarten teacher asked one of her young pupils what the eyes were for, and was promptly answered, "To see with." Another was asked what the nose was for, and the answer was correctly given. Then she asked the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Watts, "What are your ears for?" The child replied, "To keep clean." She got a 100 mark.

"YOU haven't anything on me," as Salome declared to the stage manager.

POSSIBLY you never heard of that man who spoiled his appetite every time he ate a big dinner.

THERE'S a dining room in Juneau that is advertising itself as the cleanest place in Alaska. But why mention the others?

THE sun is shining bright today; I like to see its glow. Forget that it is blue beyond. What's there we do not know.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

SKAGWAY WAS IN DISPUTE

Boundary Tribunal Decided That Town Belonged to United States in 1903

(Juneau Empire)

The proposal of Sir Hugh Denison, Trade Commissioner from Australia, for the internationalization of the port of Skagway recalls that Skagway was the principal objective of the Canadians in the Alaska-Canadian boundary dispute that occupied attention beginning shortly after the start of the Klondike stampede and continuing for a half-dozen years. It was finally settled by the Alaska Boundary Tribunal, sitting in London in 1903, which gave Skagway to Alaska. The Alaska Boundary Tribunal consisted of two Canadians, two Americans and one Englishman—Lord Alverstone, then Lord Chief Justice of England. The American members of the Tribunal were Elihu Root of New York and former Senator George Turner of Washington. Jacob M. Dickinson of Nashville, later secretary of war in the cabinet of President Taft, was chief counsel for the United States. He was assisted by the late William Watson of Alabama and Philadelphia and other assistants, among them former Senator James Hamilton Lewis.

JOINT COMMISSION

Prior to the trial before the Alaska Boundary Tribunal, a Joint High Commission, created in 1898, had considered various American and Canadian matters in dispute, the Alaska boundary among them. Senator Charles W. Fairbanks of Indiana was one of the American members of the Joint High Commission and Chairman of the American Commissioners, and as such visited Skagway in 1899. The Joint High Commissioners failed to reach an agreement on the Alaska boundary question and the matter was referred to the Alaska Boundary Tribunal.

There were two points of dispute between the United States and Canada in the interpretation of the English-Russian treaty in 1825 which established the Russian-American boundary. The treaty provided that the boundary should be along the summit of the coast range of mountains except where it was more than ten marine leagues from the coast, then it should be ten marine leagues inland from the sinuosities of the coast.

DIFFERENCE OF OPINION

The Canadians contended that "sinuosities" of the coast meant a line that would be drawn from headland to headland where there were bays, inlets or other indentations. The Americans contended that it meant the actual coast line, that the boundary line should be thirty miles inland from the heads of indentations just as it would be thirty miles inland from the ocean line where the mainland extended to the ocean.

The Americans also contended that there was no coast range of mountains; that the mountains along the coast were simply groups of mountains, broken at many places by rivers and valleys and, therefore, the line should be thirty miles inland at all points. The Canadians disputed this claim.

Lord Chief Justice Alverstone held the balance of power in the Tribunal. He held for the United States as to the sinuosities of the coast line and for Canada as to the existence of a coast range of mountains. The American members of the Tribunal concurred in the decision of Lord Alverstone, and it was accepted by both the United States and Great Britain.

friend abroad wants to come to the United States, where wealth is relatively easy to obtain. But the quota law stands in the way, so the request is made for the loan of a birth certificate, which will greatly simplify matters. And all too frequently it is granted in a purely friendly spirit, with a feeling of certainty that no harm can come to the United States through such an act and that, therefore, it can not be a crime.

Nevertheless, the law takes no cognizance of the friendly nature of such a violation. It is just as much a violation as if the certificate had been sold or loaned for a consideration, as often happens.

Occasionally, one is found which is an outright forgery, and many actual certificates are altered, although in most cases the would-be immigrant takes the simpler course and merely changes his name to that of the citizen who loaned it to him. All, however, are checked very carefully by the State Department, with the aid of various government agencies, and officials here believe that few spurious "citizens" get into the country.

It is suggested that anyone interested in the game and wishing to take part this season with this club should attend the meeting Monday night in the Daily News rooms.

SPORT CHAT

Organization of winter sports seems now to be well under way in Prince Rupert. The Prince Rupert Billiard Association has its preparations practically completed and should get started in about ten days' time; the Cribbage League has met and the Whist League annual meeting is called for this week. Monday night the badminton people will meet to get their affairs straightened out in anticipation of an active season. Only basketball is lagging. Up to yesterday, nothing definite had been heard about it.

The St. Andrew's Rooms, quiet these past summer months, will soon be busy again and off the scene of exciting engagement. A snooker tournament is now under way and billiards will follow, the Scots' table being said to be one of the best in town. A single handed carpet bowling tournament will open shortly for those who prefer the floor and such violent and heartrending sport over the peculiarities of the green baize.

LAND FOR SALE

THE G.T.P. DEVELOPMENT CO., LTD. will now consider applications for purchase of its holdings in the Township of Prince Rupert and also adjoining acreage. For particulars apply to G. P. TINKER CO., LTD. Agents.

DAY-TO-DAY CHECK ON BOOTLEG DENS IS ASKED BY JUDGE

WINDSOR, Oct. 1.—A day-to-day tab on suspected blind pigs and gambling dens was demanded by County Judge J. J. Coughlin at a meeting of the Windsor Police Commission. This and the suspension of Constable James Silver for alleged irregularities are the latest developments in the crusade against vice at the border.

Chief Constable Daniel Thompson should institute some means to check up on laxity among the constables, and in all cases where there is strong suspicion that liquor has been kept for sale the more serious charge of selling, rather than the minor charge of "having," should be pressed," Judge Coughlin said, in demanding drastic action to end blind pigging and gambling.

"Step on the gas," said Mayor Cecil E. Jackson, addressing the Chief, "and put as much punch into the drive to clean up 'blind pigs' and gambling dens as you are doing to bring violators of the downtown parking regulations into court."

Chief Thompson declared his officers were consistently raiding and doubling back on suspected places, but, he explained, it is difficult to secure evidence of selling and find the proprietors of places where liquor and gambling were allowed. The Chief admitted that men were "taking the fall" for the real operators of blind pigs and gambling dives.

BADMINTON CLUB TO DECIDE ON ACTION

Meeting Monday Night Will Consider Where to Play this Season

A meeting has been called by the Prince Rupert Badminton Club for Monday evening to elect officers and make plans for the winter. This is the club that introduced badminton into Prince Rupert. It played the first year in the old McIntyre Hall and since that has made its headquarters in the DeLuxe Hall.

The objection to the DeLuxe Hall is that the ceiling is rather low, otherwise the place is quite suitable and very central.

Toward the end of last season interest in the game by this club fell off but now a number of the members seem keen to get started and at the meeting Monday decision will probably

WRONGFUL USE CERTIFICATES

Recent Method of Getting Into United States Discovered by Officials

WASHINGTON, D.C., Sept. 29.—Bootlegging of birth certificates is a mushroom growth that has developed under the rigid provisions of the restrictive immigration law.

The practice stems from the fact that children of aliens born in the United States are citizens and, therefore, entitled to enter the country without references to immigration requirements. No matter how alien their names may be, they can get in without difficulty if they can prove they were born on American soil.

Much of the bootlegging of birth certificates is not a commercial, but a friendly act. A relative or a friend of a relative, or an acquaintance of a

Forced Air —the Greatest Heating Discovery of Modern Times

Do you suffer from large fuel bills? Cold rooms? Sluggish air flow? Slow heating or extremely hot air?

All these cause discomfort and ill health. Yet all may be eliminated by using Forced Air—the greatest home heating discovery of modern times.

Miles Automatic Furnace Fan attached to your present furnace transforms it from a gravity to a positive pressure system. Large volumes of air are forced over the heating surfaces, pushing the heat units into the rooms before they have time to escape into the basement or out the chimney. Result—a great saving in fuel, better health and solid comfort in bitterest weather.

Miles Automatic Furnace Fan is also wonderfully effective in keeping the house cool in summer. Can be used with all makes of warm air furnaces, old or new. Mail coupon for interesting particulars.

Waterfront Whiffs

Imperial Oil Overhead Line Being Pulled Down—Boats Change Hands and New Ones to be Built—Hunting Still Not Good

Another well known old waterfront landmark in Prince Rupert is about to disappear. Because age has set upon it and since a better device seems advisable, the imposing 1500-foot trestle, which since the inception of the Imperial Oil Co.'s plant some fourteen years has carried the pipe mains from the tanks on Hays Cove Hill to the waterfront, is about to be torn down and, in future, the mains will run through an 8 by 4 foot concrete conduit underground, excavation for which is now under way. A good-sized crew of men is now employed on the work which will involve an expenditure of several thousand dollars. Removal of the old trestle will make a considerable change on that part of the "front" for it has become a familiar sight, not considered ungraciously since it has become accustomed to the eye.

The old trestle, when it was put in, was not alone the conception of the Imperial Oil Co. Part of the scheme of Prince Rupert's proposed developments in those days, it was designed not only to carry the oil mains but also to be used as an overhead pedestrian's approach passing above the then planned busy railway roundhouse and yards. Thus, like many other things, the old trestle, though long in service, never filled its full usefulness and it is to go, the whole work being scheduled for completion this fall.

Other improvements and renovations, extensive in scope, are planned by the Imperial Oil Co. for execution next spring.

With storms of the earlier part of the week receding and a period of fine weather in prospect, there was quite an exodus of halibut boats to the fishing grounds on Thursday afternoon. One firm outfitted nine boats for departure during the day.

The past week has been marked with the sale of two well known local halibut fishing vessels.

Contemplating leaving shortly for Norway where he will take over the management of his deceased father's business, Capt. Ed. Wintner, well known and popular skipper, has sold the no less well known vessel Oslo to Alex. Olsen, formerly of the Rose Spit. The Oslo, built some twelve years ago in Seattle and formerly known as the Valorous, is a real old timer. She is fifty feet long and derives her power from a 35 h.p. Atlas engine. Having been changed about a year ago from American to Canadian registry, she has since made Prince Rupert her home port.

The other sale is that of the Pair of Jacks, also well known, by Capt. Jack Iverson, who is contemplating the construction of a newer and larger vessel this winter, to Pete Liland and Adolph Wick who have been sailing as members of the vessel's crew. Built in 1918 at the McLean shipyard in Prince Rupert for Jack Iverson and John Wick, from whom she derived the title "Pair of Jacks," the vessel is 47 feet long and is powered with a 27 h.p. Carliss engine. Less than ten years old, she is still considered one of the better vessels of the Prince Rupert halibut fleet.

BOATS MEET DISASTER

During the week disaster befel two boats engaged in connection with the salmon fisheries down the coast from Prince Rupert.

its intended destination, the K. and S., of Vancouver ownership, for some unexplained reason, had an explosion on board while running and it was with some difficulty and as much haste that the members of the crew got safely to shore. The vessel is now lying on the beach near Lowe Inlet a total loss. He was 35 feet long and derived power from a 12-16 Frisbie engine.

On Monday, the seineboat Silvy Island, owned by Steveston Japanese, being under tow and anchored for the night, broke her tow line and drifted on an island in Wright Sound, being damaged rather seriously in the impact. Arrangements to salvage the vessel are now being made by the B.C. Towage & Lightering Co. She is 45 feet long and is powered with a 20 h.p. Atlas Imperial engine.

There was spirited bidding on Thursday afternoon when Auctioneer G. F. Brine put under the hammer a 28-foot gill netter designated S.R. 1744 and offered by a Kitimaat Indian. Bidding started at $500 and finally the tidy vessel went to Charlie Mordant, local halibut fisherman, for $500. She has an 8 h.p. Palmer engine.

Gus Anderson, head carpenter at the dry dock, is away with Mrs. Anderson on a holiday trip to Jasper Park. It has not been confirmed that Gus had a round of the golf course with the Governor General but we'd bet a rusty nail against a flea bite that he'd make his Excellency look like a piker in a ship caulking contest.

John Currie & Son have their pile-driving outfit at the dry dock putting in some fender piles.

HUNTING STILL SLOW

Further reports on last week-end's hunting activities show that the deer are still running high and handsome with bucks particularly shy.

The few successful huntsmen included Dr. Cade and son who took one at Smith Island and Skipper Hinton and son who took another at Warke Channel.

Unsuccessful parties included Jack Lawrence and Bill Willisdraft who were stormbound until noon Monday at Welcome Harbor with the Argo; Dr. Alexander, Claude Kirkendal and Charlie Starr at Spiller River, and Hubert Ward and party also at Spiller River.

Copious rainfall was general and it is suspected that some of the boys chose comfort and postponed the really serious hunting stuff.

George Bryant has been trying his luck across the bay during the week but, so far, still keeps well within the bag limit. It is reported that he and Jack Judge went over on Thursday to tie one up for Tommy McMeekin to hang away at this week-end.

Aid. M. M. Stephens and Sid Hunter have also been customers across the bay but, judging from the sizes of the bags they brought home they must have been very pernickety about what they wanted.

Charlie Balagoo is being generally welcomed on his return to the ranks of the pleasure boat owners. Under his flag is now sailing the cabin cruiser Khatada, very appropriate name for Charlie, too, formerly the property of his brother Billy, who has left for the more refined precincts of the Capital City. The Khatada is 26 feet long and is powered with a 10-12 h.p. Frisbie engine.

Extensive repairs are being made to the overhead ramp leading to the C.T.P. wharves.

Powerboat "28," Capt. Alex. Saint, left on Thursday night for Stewart with a shipment of mine machinery. The vessel is due back today.

HANS BERQUIST HURT

As a result of a fall in the darkness last Friday night from the wharf at Kinahan Fur Farm a distance of fifteen feet or so to the rocks below, Capt. Hans Berquist is nursing a particularly sore right leg, which has developed infection, as well as other bruises and contusions. It is indeed trying for one of Hans' active disposition.

Powerboat Eleanor Mac has been fitted out with radio so that the intrepid nippers on board may send in a call for a scow to go out and tow the bag home. Bill Nelson, the mechanical wizard, is at the gadgets and all is well. This morning, the Eleanor Mac, Dr. Lou Kergin, Bob Blaine, Bill Nelson and Jarvis McLeod on board and rarin' to go, left for the North Arm on Porcher Island. They are prepared for anything from squirrels to elephants and even a dinosaur should be unfortunately stray along.

Freighter, Salvor, Capt. Rush, is due this week-end to Albert & McCaffery

Don't gamble on the used car you buy

The used Ford car you buy represents so many unused miles of transportation.

The price you pay should be in proportion to the unused mileage which remains in the car.

Whether or not you get the unused mileage you pay for depends largely upon where your used Ford is purchased.

All used car dealers like to handle Fords because the Ford enjoys public confidence and therefore commands a ready sale. But the only safe place to buy a used Ford is from the authorized Ford dealer. He can tell what usage a car has had and knows exactly what reconditioning must be done. He has the men, the equipment and the genuine Ford parts necessary to do this job properly and the Ford you buy from him is a better car than you can get for the same money anywhere else.

Why you should buy your used Ford Car from an Authorized Ford Dealer

1. All used cars sold by authorized Ford dealers are guaranteed to be as represented.
2. All used Fords are reconditioned with genuine Ford parts only by authorized Ford dealers. These are charged against the car at 25% off list prices. The buyer gets the benefit.
3. A clear title is given with every used Ford car, ensuring the buyer against the risk of buying a car that has been stolen or unlawfully converted.
4. The year of the car is guaranteed to be as stated by the authorized Ford dealer.
5. The Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, allows only responsible business men to sell its products, assuring fair and just treatment in all dealings.
6. The authorized Ford dealer is a permanent business institution in this community. He cannot afford to jeopardize future business by selling anyone an unsatisfactory car.

If any used Ford car purchased from an authorized Ford dealer is not as represented, it may be returned within 7 days and the purchase price will be credited on another used or new Ford car.

Two Tudor Sedans specially priced at $325.00 each on easy terms.

1927 Tudor, well equipped, $700.00. This car has run only 1,500 miles.

In The Letter Box

WANTS TO KNOW.

Editor, Daily News.
 Not in any spirit of controversy, nor criticism, but to get a real understanding of what our utilities are doing, would Mr. Rorie be kind enough to explain how it comes about that the report of the inspector of municipalities for 1926 show that our electric light department made a profit of $20,834, our phone a profit of $33,892, and our water a loss of $33,892, which would make a loss on all three combined of $4,734? Why does he use the terms "surplus" and "deficit" when the inspector's report uses "profit" and "loss"? According to the inspector our utilities made a "loss" of $4,745 for the year 1926. According to Mr. Rorie's letter of yesterday they made a "surplus" of $6,679. How is the difference explained.
