DECISION OF THE MAYOR

Many Prince Rupert people will regret the decision of Mayor Newton not to again enter the mayoralty contest. He has held the position as chief magistrate of the city for eight terms, and if offering would have a good chance of being elected for a ninth. He has held the confidence of a large section of the community through good report and evil and even though often powerless to make his influence felt to any extent owing to an adverse majority in the council.

We have not always agreed with the mayor but we have always recognized the position he has held in this community and on many occasions have been able to give him wholehearted support.

Just now it will be difficult for the paper which he controls to express the regrets of the community, so we take pleasure in doing it.

GOOD MAN NOW NEEDED

It is to be hoped that the people of Prince Rupert will make wise choice of a successor to Mr. Newton. There is possibility of several candidates being in the field. Already at least three names have been mentioned and more may yet decide to enter the race. Either Alderman Greer, Alderman Stephens or Colonel McMordeie would make good executives and there are a number of others in the city who also could qualify for the position. This is a time to choose a good man rather than show personal preferences.

SCENE IN BRITISH HOUSE

When there is nothing else doing in the world the British House of Commons comes to the rescue and stages a theatrical scene. It used to be a fracas with the Irish members but since the Irish question has been settled the Laborites have taken the floor and put up a show for the amusement of the world, but more particularly to impress their constituents that they are on the job and putting up a proper fight.

In Britain, just as in Canada, they play politics. They do things for the effect it will have on the multitude. The average voter elects a man who is ready to put up a good fight, no matter whether right or wrong.

LEADERS ARE PEOPLE WHO LEAD

Leaders are people who lead but Lord Grey in a speech in England mentions that often people who today pose as leaders are those who keep their ears to the ground in order to discover the trend of thought and then adapt themselves and shape their policies to cater to it. On the other hand the leader is one who becomes enthused with an idea, who shapes a policy and then goes out to the hustings and shows the people that he is right. He carries them with him through the force of his eloquence, his logic and the righteousness of his cause. That is the man who leads. We have very few of them in the country today.

VANCOUVER PRICES IN CITY

Some firms are beginning to advertise their goods at Vancouver prices or at eastern prices and some at least do sell as low here as the merchants in the south. The tendency is toward that condition. As the city increases in size and shipments of goods become larger, prices are shaded more closely. It is more in the little things that prices are kept up. In the larger cities the fifteen cent stores keep down the prices of notions and it will not be long before something of that sort will happen here. On several occasions the fifteen cent store officials have been here to look over the ground.

At any rate what we need is to be able to do business on an equality with Vancouver. Often local merchants undersell the south. Again and again we see goods offered here at prices lower than they can be purchased in the larger cities and this is because rents are lower here. It is an end much to be desired. We do not want any differentiation between this city and others in the cost of living in order that we may be able to compete in the industrial world and thus bring business here.

SUGAR DUTY PEOPLE PAY

Proposal to Amend Law to Prevent Refiners Bleeding People

CONSUMPTION LARGE
Prices in Canada 50 to 60 Cents per 100 lbs. Higher Than in States

(By R. J. Deachman)
W. M. Thrasher, secretary of the United Farmers of Saskatchewan, made application for reduction of the duty on sugar. It was a private application—at least it was not signed by the United Farmers of Saskatchewan, but by Mr. Thrasher personally. The sugar refiners and certain financial papers in the east are very angry. Personally, I see no cause for their ire. If sugar refiners desire to charge the people of Canada 50 to 60 cents a hundred extra for sugar and put the said 50 or 60 cents in their own pockets and succeed in having a law passed which permits them to do that sort of thing, there is no reason why Mr. Thrasher, or Mr. Smith or Mr. Jones or myself or some woman who wants cheaper sugar, or any other ordinary mortal should not try to prevent them from doing so by having the law repealed or amended. Anyway, Mr. Thrasher did ask for a reduction—I had the pleasure of handling the case before the Tariff Board. Now let us examine some of the facts. There will be no guess work either. Every figure will be taken either from the statements of the refiners themselves or from official figures.

WHAT IT COST
We refined in Canada for domestic use in the year 1926, 760,667,545 pounds of sugar. We imported approximately 30,500,000 pounds. As a rough figure to hold in your memory you are not far out when you say that we consume in Canada, 800,000,000 pounds of sugar in a year.

The refiners in the brief they submitted showed that Canadian prices in 1925 ranged from 55 cents to 68 cents per hundred pounds above American prices. The current quotations as I write show Canadian prices 45 cents to 55 cents a hundred higher than American prices. We would be safe in taking 60 cents as a fair difference over a period of time, but let us take 50 cents as the additional price. Multiply that by our sugar consumption and you have $4,000,000 as the sum we pay above American prices for our sugar.

WHAT WE GET
In 1925 the total wages paid by all the refiners of Canadian sugar amounted to $2,897,109. Now don't go too fast, please. That is total wages paid and includes wages paid for refining the sugar exported. Exports that year were not large—100,000,000 pounds, but deduct the cost of refining this and we reduce by 1-8 the amount paid to Canadian labor for refining sugar for Canadian consumption, leaving net wages at $2,333,000 as wages paid by Canadian refiners. Salaries amounted to 931,000. Salaries in this business are very high in proportion to wages. Managers in the business get good pay. Add salaries and wages and we get roughly $3,400,000. The conclusion of the whole matter is very simple. We pay in extra prices of sugar at least $4,000,000 in order to protect an industry which pays in salaries and wages less than $3,500,000. There is no guess work in this argument, the figures are the figures of the refiners.

OTHER FACTORS
In answer to this, the refiners tell us that other costs must be taken into consideration. We have colder weather in Canada. So they tell us. Then why tax sugar which is a heat forming food? Surely sugar refiners do not suffer from the cold any more than other people. They say that other raw materials used cost a pile of money. Yes, but they are very careful to have other raw materials used—aside from sugar—on the free list.

The whole problem narrows down to this one point. Is it economically profitable to encourage industries in Canada when the Canadian people must pay in the prices charged for the commodity produced, a super charge over world prices of more than the entire wages paid in the industry? In other words—will we keep Canadians at home by taxing them more than they earn and giving the taxes to our millionaires?

What does it cost? How does it figure out in Saskatchewan, taking that as a typical province merely because the application came from there. We consume 800,000,000 or roughly 80 pounds of sugar per head of population. The added price—taking 50 cents a hundred as the basis is—40 cents for every man, woman and child in Saskatchewan. At 40 cents, with a total population of 221,042, we have a tax in that province of $323,416.80—the rural population alone it amounts to $231,390.40. Should these people by law be compelled to pay this tax—not to the federal revenues, but to our sugar refiners? Imagine if you will, an average western rural family of five. After paying all the expenses of the year, the head of the family sticks his hand in his pocket and pulls out $2.00—which he hands to our sugar refiners. If this were the only outfit assessing the farmer it might be let pass, but there are hundreds of others.

OBJECT OF TARIFFS
That in a nutshell is the problem. That is what tariffs in this country are for. They are made to make the rich richer at the expense of the poor. We were told by the sugar refiners that sugar prices have made a smaller advance than other prices since pre war days. They may be quite true, but the sugar refiners are still getting their share. All this assertion means is that sugar growers are not getting fair prices. It does not imply that refiners get less for their services. Growers generally aren't the same position all over the world. It is reflected in Saskatchewan as well as in Cuba. It is not a special argument in the sugar case. Well, what should be done about it? We give the refiners now approximately $4,000,000—let's cut it to $1,000,000. The good Canadian public may continue to shell out a cool million and do it with good heart if it feels so inclined—but will it continue to do so? The sugar refiners think that it will. We shall wait and see—wait and hope—hope that it won't!

—and no wonder, for it is "creamed" with Eagle Brand condensed milk. Eagle Brand, extra-rich milk, finely blended with sugar, gives a velvety "feel" to coffee, brings out the best flavor and color. With Eagle Brand you require no sugar, so you not only enjoy a more delectable cup of coffee, but you also save on the sugar bill, to say nothing of how much more economical and dependable Eagle Brand is than daily cream. Whenever you order coffee, order Eagle Brand, too.

The Least Excitement Made Her Heart Palpitate and Flutter

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Elginburg, Ont., writes:—I suffered for some time with a bad heart which seemed to be controlled by my nerves. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate, and at times I would have real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when, one day, I saw

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

Because Carnation is just pure, fresh milk evaporated to double richness and kept safe by sterilization, it meets every need for milk or cream. Undiluted, it takes the place of cream at one-third cream cost. Diluted it gives superior results in all cooking. It is the most completely useful milk you can buy. ### YUKON PLANE HAS SUCCESS

Will Revolutionize Winter Transportation in North States Bishop Stringer on Way South

Following a brief trip into the territory, before the full force of winter set in, Rt. Rev. Isaac O. Stringer, Bishop of the Yukon, was a passenger on the Princess Mary yesterday afternoon bound for Vancouver. He will pay a brief visit to his son, Dr. Herschel Stringer, who is in charge of a logging camp hospital at Rock Bay, north of Vancouver, and will probably spend the most of the coming winter in Toronto where Mrs. Stringer already is. About two weeks ago, Bishop Stringer passed through Prince Rupert bound north, having come here from Edmonton following an extensive trip through the vast diocese of the Northwest Territories over which he is acting administrator. On his trip to Yukon Territory this time, he only went as far as Whitehorse.

Winter was beginning to set in in the Yukon Territory as he came out, reported Bishop Stringer. The temperature had gone away below zero at Whitehorse although, up to a week ago, there had been little snow.

Transportation this winter in the north will be somewhat revolutionized as a result of the operations of the newly organized Yukon Airways Ltd., states Bishop Stringer who reported that Lieut. A. D. Cruikshank had already made a number of successful flights in the passenger carrying monoplane "Queen of the Yukon." On Armistice Day, flights were made from Whitehorse to Mayo, thence to Keno and Dawson. The plane made its first arrival at Dawson on that day, it being the first occasion on which the Yukon River was sufficiently frozen over to permit of its landing there. The plane is running well, states the Bishop, and has suffered no mishaps. The only problem of any consequence it had was making its departure from the beach at Skagway on its first flight. This, however, was successfully negotiated.

Bishop Stringer will be returning to the Yukon in the spring.

At the meeting of the Queen Charlotte City Board of Trade, November 7, a motion was passed giving full support to the resolutions of the Queen Charlotte Salmon Trollers' Association passed at their meeting held in Skidegate Mission on October 25 and I have been instructed to write you to this effect.

In supporting these resolutions the Board feel they are assisting in protecting the fishing industry which is of vital importance to the people in general of the Queen Charlotte Islands.

SPORT CHAT

Each game has its own supporters who claim for it preeminence in the field of sport. There is little doubt, however, that of all games hockey is one of the fastest and most interesting both for the players and spectators. Its essence is speed—which explains, perhaps, its capture of the United States' public—and its demands from those who play it the highest degree of stick-handling and skating as well as endurance and the ability to take and give hard knocks without loss of temper. There is no lack of contacts in hockey.

But above all, the game puts a premium on team play and quick thinking. In no game is the well timed pass or the swift out-guessing of an opponent more effective and this is, possibly, one of the reasons why hockey is so attractive to the spectator. The player, too, is soon forced to realize that without team play individual prowess is almost useless and, sometimes, worse than useless. A team of all-stars has frequently been beaten by a well-trained team.

Although modern hockey is essentially a Canadian product, the beginnings are much more ancient. The English have played ground hockey for many years and a relief in the National Museum in Athens shows two Greek boys facing off while a surfaced referee stands ready to drop the puck. It is unfortunate from the Canadian point of view that the people of the United States have taken such a violent liking to hockey. It appears, as a matter of fact, that the United States is establishing the same economic empire in hockey that it has set up in other fields.

In spite of this, however, the amateur game should always flourish in Canada more than in any other country. To paraphrase the old saying, we have the men, we have the ice, and we have the weather, too. Of the last two of these, at any rate, the United States cannot rob us. Perhaps hockey may some day become definitely established in Prince Rupert. There are many who hope so.

The good start that has been made by skaters this month of November during which in a normal year there is not usually much of this kind of sport, should augur well for the coming season although we in Prince Rupert are used to all vagaries of the weather and, who knows, this may have been the only cold snap we get here this winter. However, that should not be the case for, if it should be, many plans will go awry. One thing is certain and that is that we have more skating venues here this year than we ever had before. This should make the organization of hockey possible although, of course, it will never be much of a certain quantity until an artificial rink is established.

We wonder what has happened to Prince Rupert's gymnasium project. They say it's wisdom to let sleeping dogs lie but the season is coming around again when this particular dog should be awake and, perhaps, as a matter of fact, it would be just as well to disturb its slumbers about now. Some progress was made last winter in connection with plans for the undertaking. It would be too bad if another season should pass without seeing some further action taken toward the materialization of this badly needed facility in Prince Rupert.

Officials of the A.A.U. of C. and the Canadian Olympic Committee express the thought that amateur track and field athletics are coming back strong in public favor. The instance that the talent which participates in the Dominion championships of the A.A.U. of C., the Ladies' championships and the Olympic Marathon Trials proved to be the most promising in years, while public favor was evinced in the surprisingly large crowds of spectators.

ENGLISH VIEW OF TROTSKY EXPULSION SEES THE INEVITABLE

(Manchester Guardian)
Every party has its minority ready to follow any member who will denounce its leaders as untrue to the party principles. For this demagogic agitation Trotsky and Zinovieff, both Sadducees in their loyalty to the forms and phrases of the Communist doctrine, are marked out by career and personality. They have been cast down from high office, and are unable to work with the leaders who represent the blending of realism with the pure gospel of Bolshevism which the necessity of living in some tolerable relation with the outer world steadily forces on the Soviet Union. They are inevitably leaders of the opposition, whether opposition is tolerated or not. They were recently expelled from the executive of the Communist International, are now to be expelled from the Central Committee of the Russian Communist party, and are threatened with early expulsion from the ranks of the party. If they remain active in opposition, and if Bolshevism is the red Fascism which it is painted, they may be expected to be removed sooner or later by violence.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS
Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.
Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.
Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.
Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.
Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.
For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."
Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partly free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
