LONDON, February 11.—The House of Commons last night rejected a Labor amendment to the address in reply to the Speech from the Throne moved by Charles Trevelyn challenging the government's policy in China. The vote was 320 to 113.

Foreign Secretary Chamberlain gave an important explanation of the government's policy which included the concession that, for the sake of advancing negotiations looking to a settlement of the difficulty, only an Indian brigade be landed at Shanghai unless unforeseen dangers arose.

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—"Under present conditions, the government feels that no useful purpose could be served by the despatch of Canadian troops to China," stated Premier King in the House of Commons yesterday afternoon in answer to a question. If the circumstances should change, he said, the government would promptly consult Parliament as to the policy of Canada.

"We have full sympathy," the Premier continued "both with the desire of the British government to secure a peaceful settlement of the Chinese question and the desire of the Chinese to secure control of their own destiny but, at the same time, we have full regard for the safety of foreigners in the country."

ATHOL FRASER DIES IN EAST

PICTURESQUE PIONEER CITIZEN OF PRINCE RUPERT GOES TO HIS LONG REST IN ONTARIO

It will be with general regret that citizens of Prince Rupert, particularly pioneers, receive the announcement of the death in the East of Athol Fraser, one of the real old timers of the city. His demise occurred on February 1 at Horning's Mills, Melancthon Township, Dufferin County, Ontario, whence he left early in December to join his relatives in the hope that the change would be of benefit to gradually failing health. Seventy-one years of age, he passed away at the place of his birth. His funeral took place on February 4 from the residence of his sister.

The late Mr. Fraser was one of Prince Rupert's oldest and most picturesque pioneers. He has a host of friends in city and district.

Of a most active nature in his younger days, the late Mr. Fraser was a world traveller. In his younger days he went to Australia to engage in a railroad contract and returned home by way of the Suez Canal thus making the globe circuit. In British Columbia he worked at various times on the transcontinental railways and in mining and logging camps. Coming to Prince Rupert in 1906, before there was any trace of a city, he was engaged in survey and clearing of the townsite and also in harbor soundings. As a permanent VANCOUVER, Feb. 11.—After an investigation into charges that the Children's Home at Vancouver was mismanaged, the public accounts committee yesterday issued an ultimatum to the effect that "there will be no more money advanced by the government to the home until A. H. Hanna, superintendent, is removed."

Members of the committee declared that the building in which the home was situated was a fire trap, that the moral conditions prevailing there were rotten and that action must be taken immediately for the sake of the children.

Conservative Member Proposes Drastic Action in Legislature Against Oriental Penetration

VICTORIA, February 11.—"We should take no foreign dictation as to what we should do in the matter of legislation," asserted C. F. Davie, Conservative member for Cowichan-Newcastle, in the legislature yesterday answering objections made by the Chinese consul-general at Ottawa against the introduction into the legislature of anti-Oriental bills. "I would say to the consul-general that money which has been extracted from the soil of British Columbia has been sent to China and is being used to drive Britishers out of that country. What is good in China is good here. I am not the one to say that we should stay our hands because of representations made by any part of the world." He warned the House that British Columbia could not afford to delay any longer in dealing with the Oriental menace and suggested that no radical treatment of Orientals already established in business be devised but that measures be taken to prevent future encroachment. He urged that they be barred from certain industries and prohibited from owning land and be left to educate themselves. Such laws, he thought, would not only discourage further Asiatics from coming here but might induce those already in the province to leave.

Chris McRae, Liberal member for Vancouver, wanted something done to deal with the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. He thought, if it were grappled with in a proper way, it would be, before long, a valuable asset. The government, he believed, would be well advised to make less out of liquor sales.

F. W. Browne, Labor member for Burnaby, also spoke.

It is believed that the budget debate will be concluded today when R. H. Pooley, Conservative house leader, will speak, followed by Premier Oliver.

JERRY McGEER TAKES IT BACK

FORCED BY CHAIRMAN OF RAILWAY BOARD TO WITHDRAW SUGGESTION AS TO C.P.R. OFFICIALS' VERACITY

OTTAWA, Feb. 11.—Immediately on the resumption of the freight rates hearing after the noon adjournment yesterday, Chief Commissioner McKeown dealt with an incident in the morning in which G. G. McGeer, K.C., counsel for British Columbia, questioned the veracity of William Neil, C.P.R. operation expert, thereby disrupting the proceedings.

After refusing McGeer permission to discuss the affair, Chairman McKeown asked: "Do you withdraw or do you not?"

"Well," replied McGeer, "if the board insists, I withdraw."

The court accepted this and the investigation proceeded.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE AT WASHINGTON REFERS QUESTION TO UNITED STATES SUPREME COURT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—The Department of Justice asked the United States Supreme Court yesterday to decide whether search warrant provisions in the Alaska dry laws and the Alaska code were available to the government in enforcing prohibition in the territory. Evidence seized under an Alaska search warrant from the home of O. Berkness was recently excluded from court on the ground that the building in which Berkness dwelled was not specified. The Alaska code makes no distinction between a private dwelling and a public building.

THE UNFAIR PART OF IT.

After four weeks strenuous endeavor by the Conservative opposition to find some flaw in the government armor which would prove the Oliver administration guilty of misconduct or wasteful use of public funds, the attempt apparently has been given up in disgust. Probe as they will, no such evidence has come to light.

Before the public accounts committee an accusation was made that the files of the public works department had been tampered with. Hon. W. H. Sutherland explained that where a bidder on contracts asked and received permission to withdraw his tender permission was granted. The notation was then wiped off the tabulation sheets. He challenged the opposition to show where a five-cent piece had been misappropriated, promising in such an event to quit office at once. He said all business of his department was open for inspection.

Thus another bubble burst as others will. The only unfortunate thing about this system of tactics being that unfair and false impressions are banded about the country where there is not the slightest foundation in fact.

B.C. GIVES LEAD TO REST.

British Columbia may give a lead to the rest of the country in purging the political parties of the campaign-fund stigma, says the Toronto Globe editorially. Payments for "protection and assurance" have loomed so large in the customs investigation at Vancouver that the brewers have revolted, the Legislature has staged a verbal combat around the question, and the public has taken to guessing as to the size of the bag and why. The newspapers have called for a show-down, after printing the damaging evidence. While the government has declined to order an investigation on their say-so, a select committee is to be appointed to decide upon what action should be taken. Premier Oliver has also promised that if the published statements are corroborated by the transcripts of testimony legislation will be introduced to control contributions to and expenditures of campaign funds in the future.

It has not been shown that the provincial government or members of the legislature have been under the spell of liquor gold; but Premier agreed to an investigation if this were charged. As to the fact that money was paid for political purposes and was so recorded in the brewers' books, there is no dispute. President Reifel of the British Columbia Breweries, Limited, told the Royal Commission of sums aggregating $100,000 or more paid to the political parties. Both Liberals and Conservatives had their hands out. It was a custom of thirty-five years' standing, and it is time the meaning of it began to sink into the public conscience.

IS NOT PECULIAR TO WESTERN CANADA.

The country as a whole would like to see British Columbia proceed with determination to get at the bottom of the evil. It would be stretching the imagination to say that the malady of liquor contributions for "protection and assurance" is peculiar to the West. The inquiry of the Special Parliamentary Committee showed that political payments were made by Ontario distillers. Both parties shared in them, and the leader of neither party would disclaim responsibility, although repeatedly asked to do so. If a cleansing process is started in British Columbia it should encourage a general clean-up. Legislation to protect the future will hardly answer the purpose.

The intimate relations of the customs and the liquor business cannot be overlooked. It would be a source of public gratification to learn that campaign contributions had no part in influencing administration of the department. On the other hand, until this is known, suspicion will have reasonable justification. Possibly the plans of the Royal Commission will open a way to settle the point, but an investigation prompted by the provincial government would at least show a desire to clear the names of the local members and the provincial organizations of participation in funds which seemed to be available any time politicians wished to obtain them.

LABOR COUNCIL TALKS OF CHINA

PASSES RESOLUTION FAVORING "HANDS OFF" POLICY, RESPECTING THAT COUNTRY

Considerable discussion took place at the meeting of the Trades and Labor Council last night on the following resolution which was finally passed:

Whereas, the spread of Imperialism to the Orient has introduced into China an intensified form of industrialism which by exploiting cheap, unorganized labor, including children of tender age, under unhealthy and intolerable conditions, has enabled the foreign capitalists to reap large profits at the cost of human suffering;

And whereas, the Chinese nation has for some years been torn with civil strife by military despots, fostered and sometimes financed by rival foreign trade interests having further designs on the economic and political life of that unhappy country; and

Whereas the awakening of China to a national consciousness and the education of her people has produced a desire to assert her complete independence, and to free herself from the economic dominance, territorial aggression and political subjugation of the foreigner; and

Whereas, this is manifesting itself through a workers' and a students' movement by a series of strikes, boycotts, and demonstrations, some of which have been particularly directed against the British;

Therefore be it resolved that we the Prince Rupert Trades and Labor Council do hereby strongly protest the action of the Imperial British Government in concentrating armed forces to prevent the assertion of Chinese independence, and that we urge upon the Dominion Government to use every endeavor to restrain any contemplated action not in accord with justice and equality; and

Be it further resolved that it is our considered opinion, based upon the irrefutable facts of history, that the only manner in which the foreigner in China, can regain and retain the confidence and friendship of the people of China is to renounce all concessions forced from them in their weakness and unpreparedness and allowing them to resume full control of the economic, social and political affairs of all territories within the boundaries of China; and that we believe that the best interests of China and the peace of the world will be best preserved by the strict adherence to the policy of Hands Off China.

SPLENDID SETTING FOR HISTORIC TALE IN FOX MASTERPIECE

With the vast rugged valley of Jackson Hole, Wyoming, serving as one of the stages and the magnificent peaks of the Teton Range and the Shoshone Mountains for a background, Fox Film's screen production of "3 Bad Men" opens at the Westholm Theatre tonight.

The place once made famous by Teton Jackson, notorious outlaw and horse thief, and his gang of desperadoes, after nearly sixty years, has at last been filmed, and many of their deeds of daring re-enacted on the very ground they once rode as masters.

"3 Bad Men" records that glamorous episode of American history, the opening of the Dakotas to the white man by free grants of land by the government. Playing the title roles of the strangely assorted trio, the card sharp, the horse thief and the desperado, are Frank Campeau, J. Farrell MacDonald and Tom Santschi, while the part of the youthful hero is played by the virile George O'Brien. Olive Borden enacts the role of the winsome orphan and protégée of these well known stars, the cast includes such screen favorites as Lou Tellegen, who plays the gambler, Jay Hunt, who starred in "Lightnin'", in the part of the old prospector; and Alec B. Francis, star of "Thank You," who plays the pioneer minister. Nor must the important roles be forgotten which are admirably portrayed by Otis Harlan, Walter Perry, Priscilla Bonner, Georgia Harris, Grace Gordon and George Irving.

One of the most vivid and never-to-be-forgotten scenes is the rush for the best of the virgin land, when at the roar of a signal cannon, 15,000 people, thousands of head of horses and oxen, as well as hundreds of vehicles of every description, from prairie schooners to bicycles, break out on the open plain in their mad race for the unseen goal.

FALSE TEETH WERE NOT MADE IN OLD TIMES, STUDENT SAYS

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 11.—False teeth making was not one of the arts of ancient man, says Prof. A. H. Kerr, head of the University of Utah Department of Archaeology.

However, the early day cliff dweller, when teeth were missing, had a way for grinding his food. His method involved use of a small stone mortar and pestle in lieu of "store" teeth.

Material which Professor Kerr gathered on an exploration trip in southern Utah from a number of cliff dweller graves, included the skeleton of a man who probably was about 70 years old. There were only two teeth in the skull. In the grave were one of the tiny mortars and a pestle, disclosing, the professor holds, that those implements substituted for artificial molars.

WOMEN SUPPORT WESTERN ROUTE

EDMONTON ASSOCIATION URGES DEVELOPMENT OF COAST PORTS — MISREPRESENTATIONS AGAINST RUPERT AND VANCOUVER

British Columbia's efforts to develop Pacific coast outlets for prairie grain and to keep the matter out of politics are receiving ardent support in numerous circles in Alberta. The most recent evidence of this co-operation comes from the Women's Liberal Club of Edmonton, which has just passed a strong resolution asking the Liberal members of the provincial legislature to make a strenuous effort to combat what they believe is to be an organized effort against the shipment of grain through western Canadian ports.

A general feeling prevailed at the meeting of the Edmonton Liberal women, where this resolution was passed, that a machine-like opposition to the western route exists and that misrepresentations are being made regarding the advantages to Alberta and western Saskatchewan grain growers of an outlet for their products through the ports of Vancouver and Prince Rupert.

OBJECT TO POLITICAL ATTITUDE
The resolution, which is being forwarded by the club to the authorities in order that those most interested may realize that the Edmonton women's branch of the Liberal party feels that the western grain route is being made a political football and objects to that attitude, reads as follows:

Whereas the government of Canada, for the purpose of establishing the western route, has at great expense established port facilities at Vancouver and Prince Rupert and adjusted and equalized freight rates between Alberta and western Saskatchewan and the Canadian ports on the Pacific.

And whereas the falling off in shipments of grain via the western route since the year 1913 has been most marked and would clearly indicate an effort to discredit the western route.

Therefore we, the Women's Liberal Club of Edmonton, would draw the attention of the Liberal members of the Provincial legislature of Alberta to this organized effort against the shipment of grain through western Canadian ports and would request them to make a strenuous effort to combat the same, and believe that this can most effectively be done by a thorough investigation, so that western grain growers may know the reason for this effort to discredit the western route and who is responsible and the reason for it.

We would also congratulate the government of the Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King on the efforts made to establish this western grain route, which will result in a monetary benefit to the grain growers of Alberta and Saskatchewan.

Deputy Administrator Returns to Juneau From Seattle—Chief Expects to go North

JUNEAU, Feb. 11.—The Prohibition Unit expects to augment in the near future the present force of agents maintained in Alaska, it was announced today by Deputy Federal Administrator O. E. Mr. Birgfeld returned home last night from a visit to district headquarters in Seattle where he attended the annual conference held by Mr. Lyle and his aids. Conditions were discussed and matters pertaining to prohibition enforcement talked over. Mr. Birgfeld was in Seattle two weeks.

His visit, generally, was very satisfactory. He was encouraged by the prospects of securing additional agents for local activities which, he said, would permit the Alaska branch of the unit to

Sciatic Rheumatism

The Sciatic Nerve is the main motor nerve of the lower limbs. Branching off from the spine in the region of the hips, its work begins where it leaves the spinal column. When pressure occurs on this nerve, the victim is crippled.

For this reason cause and effect are more closely related in sciatica than in most other conditions. When a spinal bone presses upon the sciatic nerve, the resultant pain begins right at the point of pressure.

For the same reason, Chiropractic Spinal Adjustments secure results more quickly and surely in sciatica than in most other conditions—because they are applied directly to the seat of the trouble and remove the cause.

HIS CASE NOW DISCARDED
"For months I had been suffering from Sciatica. I was in such shape I couldn't sleep, work or rest, and was hobbling about on a cane. A friend suggested that I try Chiropractic. I was backward about investigating Chiropractic, figuring it would be like all the other things I had tried when I was willing to try anything. Adjustments were started, and I will frankly say that I was relieved from the first one. I laid my cane aside after the fourth adjustment and haven't picked it up since. It has now been a year past and I have not lost a day's work—have had no return of the trouble since."—Grant Taylor, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2088-K.

ENDLESS CARE PROTECTS ITS PURITY

It Looks Creamy
It Tastes Creamy
It is Creamy

MILK is a fragile food, easily spoiled. That is why Carnation takes such extraordinary care with the milk which goes into the Carnation tin.
Carnation quality starts at the farm. Selected farms—selected herds—the Carnation Field Force performing an endless service of inspection and education on the farms—rapid handling—scientific treatment—these are the secrets of Carnation purity and quality.

You'll like Carnation Milk. It is just pure, fresh milk made doubly rich by evaporation and kept safe by sterilization. Use it undiluted in place of cream at one-third the cost of cream. Use it diluted in all cooking—with better results and less cost.
Order several tins or a case of 48 tins from your grocer.

CARNATION RICE PUDDING—Two cups Carnation
Milk diluted with 2 cups water, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup seedless raisins, grated rind of 1/2 lemon, 1/2 cup rice. Combine all ingredients except raisins. Turn into buttered baking dish, set in pan of hot water, and bake in 300 degrees F. oven three hours. Stir several times during first hour to keep rice from settling to bottom. After pudding has cooked
two hours, stir in raisins. Return to oven and finish baking.

PLEASANT AND PROFITABLE EVENING AT UNITED CHURCH LAST NIGHT

Over eighty persons were present at the fathers' and sons' banquet held last evening in the United Church. The delicious repast, which was served by the older boys and men, and a delightful program afterwards, were fully enjoyed. Bruce Stevens made an excellent chairman and called on the various members of the company for their contributions to the evening's program.

Rev. G. G. Hacker, in making a short address, referred to the observance of father and son week and spoke of the co-operation of the boys and parents in the boys' work. During the next two weeks, he announced, special programs for boys and girls would be given in the church on Sunday. This week the young people's service would be taken by the girls as the boys had had charge of the service last year. The girls were also holding a banquet on Friday next. He welcomed the older ones to this annual event and hoped all would enter into the spirit of the occasion and feel young again.

Dr. W. T. Kergin spoke of the work which was being accomplished today for the youth and expressed the opinion that nothing more important could be undertaken by the church. He had noticed a large increase in the attendance at this annual supper which was a hopeful sign. The doctor then gave to the gathering a very interesting description of his recent trip to California and referred to many things which he had seen which were of particular interest to the boys. He was in California when George Young successfully swam Santa Catalina Channel and was particularly well pleased to learn of the success of this Canadian youth. George Young had later appeared at a local theatre and the doctor had tried to secure seats but found that they had all been sold out for the week. The doctor read George Young's advice to the boys of the country as printed in the Boy Scouts' Magazine. Referring to his trip, he spoke of attending a meeting of a service club where he had listened to a very remarkable address by a New York business man on the boy problem. The speaker had referred to the great interest which business men seemed to be taking in the subject of proper training for boys.

THE PROGRAM

The program for the evening included a dialogue by Rupert Ross and Roger Obata; recitations by Charlie Stuart and F. Derry; instrumental numbers by Clifford Cameron, and James and Wisner Bryant, and a vocal solo by J. S. Wilson. The toast to the fathers was proposed by Bronson Hunt and was responded to by L. W. Patmore. The company was treated to a debate on the subject, "Resolved that the boys of today are superior to the boys of the past generation." The affirmative was supported by Eddie Anderson, R. Irvine and Bruce Stevens, while the past generation (the fathers' side) was upheld by J. S. Irvine, Geo. Johnston and P. H. Linzey.

After the tables were removed an exhibition of physical work was put on by Eddie Smith, Will Patmore and Rudolph Nelson after which the gathering adjourned to the gymnasium where an exhibition basketball game was staged between the fathers and sons and, although no official score was recorded, the fathers felt that they had upheld the traditions of the previous generation.

The whole evening's program which lasted until about 10:30 was of great interest to the many fathers who were present in addition to the many youthful members who were glad of their dad's company. The gathering was larger than in previous years and showed the great interest taken in the boys' different organizations by those who have become interested in their program.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.

MAIL CARRIERS HANDLING XMAS GREETINGS TO AND FROM TRAPPERS, TRADERS AND MOUNTAIN MEN

EDMONTON, Feb. 11.—(By Canadian Press)—Enduring the hardships of Arctic snow and ice, mail carriers are making their way north and south, with Christmas greetings to and from the trappers, traders and Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachments in the Far North. Travelling in relays, the men negotiate the difficult trails, sometimes piled high with snow drifts, with dog teams. When they deliver their mail bags they will have carried the northern post approximately 1,666 miles. This is the distance from the end of steel at McMurray, Alta., to Aklavik—the business "metropolis" of the north.

The first winter mail from Edmonton to the Far North left the city at the end of November, and should reach the men of the north country early in February. The south-bound mail is expected to arrive here about February 11.

SMITHERS

F. Ockleshaw has submitted his resignation as town clerk, a position he has held since 1921. The council has laid the matter on the table for a week.

There will be a slight decrease in municipal revenue here this year. Improvements will make up to some extent, however, for loss of taxable property through reverted lots.

At the court of revision here this week, reductions were allowed in the assessment of property owned by Fred Cook and Dr. Hankinson. The appeal of G. A. Woodland for reduction of assessment on six lots on the hill was not acted upon.

The municipal building bylaw was given a thorough discussion at a recent public meeting. As a result, the regulations will be tightened up, contractors and owners being made responsible for building, wiring and chimneys.

Judging from the opinions expressed by officials of the public works department, there is a likelihood that the high level bridge over the Bulkley River between Hazelton and New Hazelton may be replaced with a new structure at a lower level. Fears are expressed as to the safety of the present structure at Hazelton.

Mrs. A. J. McIntyre was hostess on Saturday evening at a party given in honor of her guest, Miss Louise Wattie, who is returning to her home in Abbotsford.

In a pretty little speech, Mrs. A. E. Campbell, at the regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bulkley Valley District Hospital last week, lauded the ladies for the splendid work they were doing. Plans are being advanced for a children's masquerade dance to be held on February 25.

May 19 has been suggested by the Smithers Board of Trade as a suitable date for the first organization meeting of the Associated Boards of Trade of Central British Columbia.

Rev. George Turpin returned to Smithers yesterday from Prince George where he attended meetings of the Carboe presbytery of the United Church of Canada.

"Jiggs" Graham, who was seized with an attack of appendicitis at Edmonton where he was attending the University of Alberta, has returned to his home here to recuperate.

Word has been received here that Mr. and Mrs. J. Mason Adams are now in Phoenix, Arizona. They are away on an extended trip, which it is hoped, will be of benefit to Mrs. Adams' health.
