HEARST-LIKE RIDICULOUSNESS.

"Typically Hearst-Like" may be adequate explanation of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer's story yesterday about a break between the Parent-Teachers' Association and Great Britain and Canada over the transportation home of the crew city authorities and the program for of the wrecked halibut boat Kiltuish. The editor or reporter re- the city and possibly a boat ride on sponsible for such piffle must surely have pleased his master for the harbor as well as a dinner when such stuff is his favorite line of propaganda. It looks like the wish they will be the guests of Mayor Newmay very likely have been father of the thought in this case. Mr. ton and the city council. Hearst has been noted for some time, especially during the last war. as an anti-Britisher. It would no doubt give him a good deal of pleasure if there had been such trouble as was suggested.

The most of Britishers and Canadians, however, will undoubtedly come to the conclusion that a mountain has been made of something a good deal less than an mole-hill. The chief interest in the thing lies in its ridiculousness.

EASTER SEASON AND SPRING.

One cannot dissociate the Easter and spring, no matter how early or late the religious festival may come nor how unseasanable the weather attending its advent. Easter is spring and life is reborn. The dead days are past and the requiem of winter is forgotten as the birds sing the resurrection of nature. The poet sighs, the sun smiles, perhaps, and the woman with a new spring hat looks anxiously at the meteorological emanations from the shrine on Olympus which the irreverent flippantly call the weather works. Enveloping and hallowing it all is the atmosphere that sends the soul journeying beside still waters, through peaceful valleys, soft 15. grasses and awakening buds and soothing it with imaginary scents of flowers awaiting only warmth to spread their sweetness on newly aroused world.

Besides its religious meaning, that is the spirit and significance of Easter and it is older even than the Christian religion. The display of colors and raiment in unison with the earth throwing off its old garments is as ancient as the race. Man always has wanted to sing as soon as the birds did and he has done so. Even the Bible has its beautiful poetic allusions to spring, and the vernal festivals of ancient days were a public expression of the song that was in the hearts of the people as a whole. We do not have anything we did not inherit, so it is not strange that a woman wants a pretty hat Editor, Daily News. at Easter time. As a matter of fact it would be strange if she did not. And it is not to be expected that poets will quit caroling about and crafts, I regret the disparaging respring as long as nature sends winters that inspire poets to say, "Oh, wind, if winter comes, can spring be far behind?"

TIME FOR RENOVATION.

Communities looking about at this time of year for ways of expressing civic pride can find no better vehicle than a "clean-up, being a very fine specimen of what is paint-up" campaign.

Than the present, there is no time of the year when a community can look dirtier and more uninviting or cleaner and purer. Un- of the oldest on the Queen Charlotte disturbed, winter's accumulation of dirt and debris hides all that is Islands. It may interest some of your clean and fresh. Washed off and carted off it reveals a panorama readers to know a little of its history, these totem poles are still highly valued body in a shack south of Prince Rulittle the worse for the wear and tear of the rigorous months.

Every property owner, householder and business man should white man, wars were not infrequent obtained, on account of their historic sense an overpowering duty in the spring of the year to make his buildings and grounds fit into nature's picture of cleanliness and and the Haidas of the Queen Charlotte gard our ownership of them as a trust freshness. And the performance of this civic duty costs little in time, expense and effort.

It is the little thing that counts. A rusty can can mar a of Hiellan near Tow Hill, on the north yard; a new coat of paint can "make" a house. Undesirable neigh- shore of Graham Island, was burned by borhoods are known by the cans they keep, desirable ones by the raiding Indians of the mainland during well kept lawn they keep. Nothing better tells the character of a the absence of the Haidas at their fishcommunity and its people than the size of its public dumps.

So the town one wants to live in is busily engaged these days I visited the site of this old village in clearing away the wreckage left by winter, covering up the scars in 1899 and was particularly interested and helping nature mend her wounds.

THE TOTEM POLE.

As one much interested in native arts marks which have lately appeared in your paper concerning the totem pole on Second Avenue.

While the site chosen for the erection of this old pole may not have proved a satisfactory one, this in no way detracts now a lost art of the natives of B.C.

This particular totem pole was one Years ago, before the advent of the by the Indians from whom they were pert. between the Indians of the mainland associations and traditions and they re-Islands; alternate raids being carried out between these various tribes. Regardless of its unique history, Prince Rupert may consider itself fortunate to possess such an interesting relic. A similar pole of less antiquity was obtained by Oxford University where its value is fully recognized.

As far as "giving it a good coat of paint" is concerned as suggested by your art critic in yesterday's editorial. -if this is done, I would heartily endorse his suggestion that the pole be thrown into the harbour which would then be the best place for it.

In place of such drastic measures, I would suggest that the services of a native craftsman be obtained to touch up the carving with colors as near as possible to the original coloring as was. done in the case of the totem pole

Second article by Inspector T. W. S. Parsons, British Columbia Public Service Bulletin:

In all criminal matters two important facts should never be lost sight of: First, that our codified legal provisions dealing with crime, generally known as the Criminal Code, apply throughout Canada; secondly, that ignorance of the law does not excuse an

The latter axiom is important and it may now be explained what is meant when defending lawyers plead "color of right" in answer to a charge. Over twenty years ago a learned judge gave it as his opinion that to do an illegal act in ignorance is not to do it with color of right. He held that there must be at least an honest belief in the existence of a certain state of facts which, if it actually existed, would at law justify or excuse the act done.

Never forget that any attempt to commit an offence is unlawful, and that even though compelled by threats to do so, no one is excused for assisting in the commission of crimes like murder, forcible abduction, rape, causing bodily harm, or arson. To help in some way, or to procure its commission, is to "party" an offence; and, with the exception that married persons cannot be accessories to each other. to knowingly aid an offender to escape capture is to become an "accessory after the fact."
