LIQUOR BOARD INQUIRY ENDS

Reifel Denies That Money Was Paid to Members or Employees of Liquor Board

VANCOUVER, Dec. 15.—Mr. Justice Denis Murphy, sitting as a commissioner inquiring into the charge that payments had been made to employees of the Liquor Control Board and the Government liquor stores in Vancouver, concluded the investigation yesterday.

Henry J. Reifel, Jr., who was not available last March, was heard yesterday. There is little hope that Wilcox would appear as he is now domiciled in Yokohama, so the investigation closed.

Mr. Reifel, questioned by J. P. Hogg, counsel for the commission regarding certain sums of money paid by the firm of Joseph Kennedy Ltd., ostensibly for the company's agents in the United States, denied that these payments were made for advertising purposes. Witness denied that any money, either directly or indirectly, was paid to liquor board employees.

EVERYBODY WANTS TWINS AT EDMONTON SUPPLY TOO SMALL

EDMONTON, Dec. 15.—"Have you any twins to spare?" The demand at present is very heavy, according to Chas. B. Hill, of the department of neglected children. On Wednesday there appeared in the Journal an advertisement, seeking a good home for bonnie twin sisters who will attain the age of one year on December 28. Scarcely had the staff of the department doffed their overcoats before replies began to pour in. Some came by phone, others were personal. Before the morning was over the twins were happily placed, and had there been twelve more pair available, they, too, could have been provided with parents and homes before noon. All of which goes to show that not all people consider twins a burden.

THIRTY-ONE GIRLS LOSE LIVES AS FIRE DESTROYS ORPHANS' HOME IN QUEBEC

QUEBEC, December 15.—Fire late last night destroyed the Hospice St. Charles conducted by Sisters of the Good Shepherd, the known death toll now standing at 31—all girls—with twenty-three children missing. The death list may reach fifty before a check-up is completed. Eleven of the victims have been identified. Three hundred and seventy-one children were in the institution. Suffocation accounted for the most of the deaths.

Various rescues were made. Many children jumped to the streets while others dragged their companions out. The east wing of the building is a heap of ruins while the new section is undamaged. Cries of those trapped were heard through the flames. Most of the children were orphans with their fathers or mothers dead or their parents too poor to care for them.

Rose Anna Gouldreault, aged 17, an employee in the babies' ward, died on making her fourth entry into the dormitory to rescue children.

Lindbergh Lost His Way But Picked Up Landmark and Arrived Hours Late

Famous Aviator Flew From Washington to Mexico City and Was Given Delirious Demonstration on Military Flying Field

MEXICO CITY, December 15.—Lindy has done it again. Without a stop Colonel C. A. Lindbergh, piloting the airplane, Spirit of St. Louis, which earlier in the year carried him to Paris, flew from Washington to Mexico City. For more than 27 hours he was at the controls.

A huge crowd, estimated at from fifty to one hundred thousand, awaited his coming and gave him a rousing welcome. President Calles waited for hours on the flying field and in extending the welcome of his country embraced the flyer.

There was a delirious demonstration of joy when at 2:30 p.m., after some three hours' apprehension that misfortune had befallen the flyer, the plane settled on the Vanbuena military aviation field.

The delay was caused by the fact that the aviator lost his way but floated around until he picked up a landmark. He missed the route from Tampico because of the fog.

SETBACK FOR COMMUNISTS

The setback for the Communists in China seems to indicate that the country is not going to follow, immediately at any rate, in the wake of Russia and that there is possibility of a reaction against Red propaganda even in that country. The difficulty there is an immense illiterate population, superstitious, and easily influenced by anything that seems likely to give it a temporary advantage. However, there is also a very strong movement of young educated Chinese who have the interests of their country at heart and who see in the Nationalist movement the hope of their country.

PATH UP MOUNTAIN

Several years ago W. E. Williams enthused the people of this city with the idea of making a trail up Mount Oldfield for the use of tourists but, owing to lack of funds and organization, the scheme was allowed to drop. The chief difficulty was to decide on the route to be followed, it being then suggested that the proper approach would be from the other side of the mountain. The building of the new highway makes that route possible. If the trail is made on a route that can be developed into an automobile road it will be part of a permanent work which will be one of the finest things possible for the city. It is to be hoped that this time the scheme will be carried out and the trail actually built.

LINDBERGH'S FLIGHT

Another record has been made by the young American aviator, Colonel Lindbergh. He has made a flight from Washington to Mexico City and although he got lost in a fog en route he picked up his bearings and proceeded, reaching his objective a few hours late. Lindbergh is a winner, perhaps a matter of good fortune or perhaps because he knows his business better than others. At any rate, so far he has made good and more than ever will be the idol of his countrymen.

Canadians always admire anyone who is a good sport and they will be glad to know that Lindy succeeded. Possibly now he may turn his attention to the Pacific where there are plenty of honors to be won.

ALASKA FISHERY PROTECTION

Fishery protection in Alaska is to be a real thing. The fish are to be protected at any price. That seems to be indicated by the regulations published yesterday for that territory. Traps seem to have come under the ban to some extent and it is generally conceded that traps have done a great deal of injury to fish.

Both in Alaska and British Columbia there must be protection, for without it the fish would soon all be gone. Protection without injustice is the ideal but it is difficult.

ROCK FOR CEMENT TO BE QUARRIED AT DAHL ISLAND IN ALASKA

Word has been received by Captain L. H. Jennings that a 2000 ton barge loaded with machinery is about to leave Seattle for Dahl Island, where the Pacific Coast Cement company will construct a plant the coming spring for taking out cement says the Ketchikan Chronicle.

Wharves and warehouses and landing facilities will be constructed as well as a plant which will be equipped for taking out the lime and loading it on the steamers for shipment to the plant in Seattle where it will be manufactured into commercial products.

From all accounts Dahl Island, on the west coast and near Ketchikan, will be a busy place as soon as the first barge arrives with its material.

METLAKATLA BUSY ON CHURCH WORK

Goodly Sums Collected by Organization in the Neighboring Village

METLAKATLA, Dec. 15.—The harvest festival here was very successful this year, donations of produce, fruits and vegetables being made and the sum of $62 in cash taken in. The Church Army collected $62.95 and the Salvation Army $54.40. This is considered very good for so small a place.

Last week the women of St. Paul's Church undertook to give the interior of the Church a thorough overhaul supervised by P. Haldane.

VARIETY DANCE BY ELKS' LODGE VERY ENJOYABLE AFFAIR

Owing no doubt to unfavorable weather conditions there was not as large an attendance as might have been expected at the novelty dance held last night by the Elks' Lodge in aid of the Christmas Cheer Fund. Nevertheless, it proved a very enjoyable event which was in progress from 9 to 2 o'clock with a break at midnight for the serving of delectable refreshments. Alf Smiles, who was master of ceremonies, also led the orchestra which consisted, besides himself at the piano, of Bob Arthur Jr., John Kenny Rood, saxophone, and Jimmie Currie, traps and rums. W. D. Sance acted as cashier of the event which was under the direction of the dance entertainment committee.

During the evening boxes of chocolates were raffled and tickets were sold in the fur coat which has been presented in support of the Christmas Cheer campaign.

SEES BEAUTY IN CANADIAN HOME GARDEN

Premier of Britain Points to This Country as Object Lesson

LONDON, Dec. 15.—Premier Stanley Baldwin, in formally opening the new Kingston by-pass road recently, said he was struck, during his recent visit to Canada, by the beauty of the homes and gardens of the people of all classes, along the roads on which he had been driven. Speaking of the roads in England Mr. Baldwin declared there was nothing that visitors from overseas cared more to see than the country villages and country lanes. He advocated their development and deprecated any "ugly surroundings" or "hogish behavior" on these roads.

Speaking of the Kingston road, which he was opening, the premier said:

"The origin of this great road may be traced back to those days when we were most anxious about unemployment, shortly after the conclusion of the Great War. The government of the day felt great anxiety on the subject, and they set up large schemes of road work."

ENGLAND A SANCTUARY

"New roads such as these will do for London what is of the greatest importance. They will bring along these great arteries a wealth of real country. If we make these roads what they may be, the roads of our dreams, we shall incur the gratitude not only of our own fellow countrymen, but of visitors from overseas. There is nothing that the visitors from overseas care more to see, nothing that touches them more than our country villages and our country lanes. They like to look on England as a sanctuary and a shrine. We are making a new start with these roads. Local authorities today have far-reaching powers. We can regulate advertising, we can go in for town planning, and there has been recent legislation on the control of building lines."

"Roads around London for too many years past have consisted of mean-looking houses and dingy forecourts. Let us try, if we can, to have along these roads houses with gardens. Nothing struck me so much during my recent visit to Canada, right through the cities of the west, as to see beautiful little houses and gardens, not of rich people, but belonging to people of all classes right up to the road, carefully tended and looked after. It made it a pleasure to drive out into the country from any of those western cities."

ROADSIDE MANNERS

"It is supposed to be an advantage to a doctor to have a good bedside manner. I wish to goodness all our people had good roadside manners. Let us try to start today to inculcate it both in people who use the roads and in people who live along them. There ought to be an unwritten code that the defiling of any of them, or by upsetting or spilling litter upon them, should be to bar any man from entering any decent club or any decent home circle."

BALDWIN CALLS ON JOURNALISTS

Speaking in the Parliament Press Gallery Expresses Regard for Influence of the Press

LONDON, Dec. 15.—The Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin, prime minister, penetrated the other day into a portion of the Houses of Parliament which it is doubtful if any man holding his august office has explored before during his term of office. Mr. Baldwin's excursion was to the Press Gallery—or rather that variety of rooms set aside for the exclusive use of newspaper men having the entrée to the Houses of Parliament. Mr. Baldwin unveiled a tablet containing the names of the "Gallery" Chairmen since 1881. "I am glad to have the chance," he said, "of meeting the people who really make and unmake men and governments. I present myself with trepidation before you. I perhaps have been a little less effusive than some of my colleagues in tributes to the press as a whole, but I have a most warm regard for the working journalist wherever I meet him."

The English parliament is perhaps the most hospitable parliament in the world towards journalists. Practically what the British parliament gives to journalists is a club. Not only are there writing rooms and typing rooms, but there is a dining room, a smoke room, a library, a newsroom, a chess room and a tea room. The writers in the chief writing room are warned by an automatic indicator of what is going on in the House. Telephones are simply squandered all over the gallery rooms, and connections are made so quickly that the London telephone service might very well learn from the system in use how these things can be done.

NIGHT WINDS IN MOUNTAINS

A meteorological phenomenon found among the high mountains and noticeable in many places in Waterton Lakes national park in southern Alberta is the night wind from the mountain tops. During the heat of the day the warm air rises from the valleys but at sunset a current of air from the peaks rushes downwards, bringing with it the scents of pines and larches and it may be of the flowers of some alpine meadow a couple of thousand feet above.

The Least Excitement Made Her Heart Palpitate and Flutter

Mrs. Ambrose Orser, Eginburg, Ont., writes:—"I suffered for some time with a bad heart which seemed to be controlled by my nerves. The least little excitement would cause it to flutter and palpitate, and at times I would have real bad spells. I suffered in this way for some time when, one day, advised, so decided to try them. I had only taken a few boxes when I noticed that I felt better, so I continued taking them and in a short time my heart felt entirely different." STUDY WHALES IN FAR SOUTH

Steamer Discovery Returns After Cruising for Two Years Far From Civilization

FALMOUTH, England, Dec. 15.—After two years of cruising in Antarctic polar seas, where each day's log was a novel of adventure, the three-masted auxiliary bark Discoverer has put in at Falmouth Harbor.

As cargo it brought thousands of specimens of deep-sea life, some of them fished from a depth of three miles. With massive cross beams and the timber sides two feet thick it pushed through ice fields hundreds of miles long, penetrated far beyond Cape Horn and was out of touch with civilization for nine months at a stretch.

TO STUDY WHALE A study of the humped-back whale big fellow of the deep, was the mission of the Discoverer's crew. In its quest it skirted dangerous shores of impassable ice, through uncharted seas and shifting gulfs, beneath the million-starred skies of the polar nights and the faint sunhaze of the days.

The Discoverer is a famous vessel. In 1841 Scott made his first Antarctic expedition, lasting from 1901 to 1904, and on it Shackleton served as third officer. Captain J. R. Stenhouse, who went to Shackleton's relief in 1914, commanded the vessel on its latest quest.

Financed by the Falkland Islands Government, the Discoverer went in 1925 to the South seas to learn the habits, food, method of living and migratory habits of whales.

In view of the threatened extinction of whales in the Southern seas and the serious impairment of the industries depending on whale products, the expedition proved of great importance. The tribe of the humped-back whale has largely diminished in some areas, though blue whales and fin whales seem as abundant as ever. A hundred thousand whales are killed each year.

How long whales live, whether they have many wives or only one piece, what the whale birth rate is and how far whales travel were some of the problems for which the adventuresome explorers sought solution.

A special apparatus was designed to shoot silver-plated darts into the heavy hide of the whale, with the object of studying his habits and migration. The dart bears the date, latitude and longitude of the spot where it was fired. Whenever the whale is killed the identity disc is reported and the distance the whale has travelled can be computed.

FOOTBALL CUPS ARE PRESENTED

Dinner and Dance Held Last Night by Moose Lodge With Some 175 Persons Attending

For the purpose of making due presentation of the Stuart Shield and Dominion Day Cup football trophies, which were won this season by the Moose eleven, a dinner was held last night in the Moose Hall, some one hundred and seventy five men and women sitting down for the repast over which Gillis Royer, dictator of the Moose Lodge, presided.

The program opened with the singing of "O Canada" after which Mayor S. M. Newton was called upon for an address. His Worship responding with a suitable talk. The cups were presented by R. M. Winslow, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, with a few humorous and appropriate remarks. Sam Currie, captain of the Moose football team, receiving the trophies and replying suitably. J. S. Wilson spoke on behalf of the Regimental team, Ben Self of the Grand Territorial having also been invited, being, however, unable to attend on account of illness. Other speakers included L. R. Parry and Percy Cameron.

There was a splendid musical program, the feature of which was the serio-comic monologue of Samuel McPherson which brought the house down. Other good numbers were comic songs by Frank Moore; violin solo by Bert Cameron, and solos by J. S. Wilson. The last mentioned also led in community singing, the accompanist of the evening being Cliff Cameron.

The dinner, opening at 9 o'clock, was concluded at 11 and dancing followed, music being by an orchestra consisting of Dave Eastman, J. Underwood and Arthur Sharpe with Gillis Royer master of ceremonies.

The committee responsible for the success of the evening's proceedings consisted of L. R. Parry and A. O. Franks (chairman, assisted by D. C. Schubert, A. G. Bartlett, W. H. Derry, B. J. Bacon, Jack Preece, Ben Sampson, Aiof Stegavig, Sam Haudenschild, Albert Oigini, J. Squarchuck, Kenneth Messinger, Billy Bacon and Ed. Saxon on the door.

Jack Preece acted as "grand carver" at the dinner, Mrs. E. Unger looking after the preparation of salads and jellies.

SPORT CHAT

Construction work in connection with the skating rink established by the Gyro Club on Morse Creek is now completed. The new earth dam has been erected and the tops of the stumps cut off. Now there is but to be awaited the filling of the reservoir with water and the work of another cold spell and the facility will be ready for the public. Judging from the general appreciation which the club has received in this project, the new skating venue should prove most popular. In keeping with the general objective of the local service organization, the establishment of the dam was designed primarily for the use of the juvenile population. Doubtless, however, full advantage will probably be taken of it by the adult skaters of the city. It will be the most centrally located rink in Prince Rupert and should meet a long felt need.

Vic Foley, who is matched to meet "wildcat" Carter in Vancouver next Monday night, has been under intensive training for the bout. Foley's eye, which was slightly cut in the last Carter battle, has healed and he is ready to stand the bangs of a rough training period. Foley has been eager to get the Everett sensation over the 10-round route and is confident that he can score a decision over that distance. Carter has been training in Seattle and is now in Vancouver several days in advance of the bout.

PLAY MUCH BETTER WITHOUT ANY GIRLS

DES MOINES, Ia., Dec. 14. — Knute Rockne believes that the success of his Notre Dame gridgers, in part at least, is due to the absence of co-eds from the campus of the South Bend University.

"How can the boys get along if they have a girl around?" he asks. "Football takes two hours, study takes from two to three hours and if they have a girl, she must have at least two hours a day. That means that sleep or football or study must suffer. No, we have no girls."

WOMEN'S SPORT IN UNIVERSITY

Writer in College Paper Bemoans Lack of Interest of Late Years

TORONTO, Dec. 14.—The editor of "Varsity" has two editorials of interest to women. In speaking of hazing and the ban enforced by authorities, he says there is not much objection by students themselves. The coming of the co-eds has brought stress—and as men turn daily more and more to teas and dances the memory fades away of the "he-men" of old and their joy and comfort in breaking up a show with vegetables and rotten eggs on Halloween.

The other item deals with the crowding out of women's sports by social engagements and conflicting organizations. In fact, it is a question whether women's sports are being "recognized" by the great majority. In some colleges players have to be coaxed, yes, almost dragged out to the practices by those few who are keen, while position on the team are no longer gained by competition, but would seem to constitute an endurance award for practice attendance.

This fall, at a great effort and some expense, a Women's Intercollegiate Tennis Tournament was inaugurated, in which players came from Queen's and Western. The splendid courts of the Toronto Tennis Club were secured, and a handful of supporters turned out to cheer. Anyone passing might have thought it a debutante's tea party, instead of a live and interesting college contest. Why carry on the farce?

Can the existence of women's sport as it stands at the present time, and as it tends to become, be justified by the thinking woman undergraduate. The making of schedules, arranging for games, and the appointment of coaches are now in the hands of the students but, if it is able to survive at all, women's sport is travelling in the right direction toward supervision, and complete control.

LIKES CRICKET BEST OF GAMES

No Wrangling in it Says Aged Ottawa Sport Fan

OTTAWA, Ont., Dec. 14.—(By Canadian Press)—Canada's oldest sportsman and one of the most ardent sport fans in the capital, recently celebrated his 5th birthday. He is Emmanuel Hyman Benjamin, a native of New Orleans, but resident of Canada since babyhood. He is hale, hearty and still enjoys sports of all kinds.

His favorite sport is cricket, because, as he states, it is one of the few games where there is no wrangling among the players of fault-finding with the umpire or referee. His chief hobby is game fowl and beside keeping a collection of these he is noted as a judge of this kind of bird.

"Ben" as he is familiarly known to thousands in the capital, was always fond of sport from the time that he was old enough to play the games of his period. While his favorite sport was always been cricket, he played baseball in his younger days and became a noted boxer.

Many years ago he became connected with the Ottawa Cricket Club. He was scorer in the match played here by the first English eleven that visited Canada. The famous cricketer, W. G. Grace, was the great attraction then,arrying his bat, as Ben says, for a hole day. Ben was also an umpire in the match played by the first American cricket team to play in Canada.

"Ben's" parents moved to Canada when he was only three or four weeks old. They made what is now Toronto their home for a short time, before going east to Belleville, where the father founded the Belleville Intelligencer, which was later owned and edited by Sir MacKenzie Bowell.

Mr. Benjamin's memory of early events in his life is still clear. He well remembers going to a school kept by a Miss Kaskins in Belleville in the thirties, and then went to a school conducted by a Mr. Burden. Following this he attended Upper Canada College when Mr. Barron was principal.

In 1875 he received an appointment in the Federal post office department under Hon. Robert Spence, who was then postmaster general. He retired during Sir William Mulock's regime as postmaster general.

"CAT" BURGLAR GOES TO JAIL

LONDON, Dec. 15. — Robert Delaney, described as "the original cat burglar," was sentenced at the Derby Assizes recently for the theft of a motor car and a safe at Swineshead, near Bolton, Lincolnshire.

Delaney has had a remarkable life. He was caught while attempting to break into the London residence of the Duke of Rutland, and his capture resulted in the breaking up of what Scotland Yard considered a very dangerous gang of cat burglars. He was sentenced to three and a half years' penal servitude at the Old Bailey.

Born in Capetown, Delaney came to England 13 years ago and joined the army. Whilst stationed in Lincolnshire he met the widow of a well-to-do fruit farmer, and persuaded her to marry him. She had a fortune of £23,000, which Delaney squandered in three years. When his wife came to the end of her resources he left her destitute, and eloped with her niece, who left him soon afterwards.

Subsequently he went to Westcliff and bought a boarding-house. A fire destroyed the house and Delaney drew the insurance money. He then came to London, where, after being bound over in connection with cheque frauds, he became an expert cat burglar. One of 30 feet up a stack pipe into a Mayfair his exploits included a climb of nearly 100 feet.

He is 32 years of age.

GEORGIA MINE LOOKS WINNER

Has Ore of High Grade and Apparently Plenty of it Says Authority

VICTORIA, Dec. 15.—A report on the Georgia River Gold Mines covering the situation as he found it at the property this fall has been presented by Seymour Campbell. Mr. Campbell is a practical miner and prospector of wide experience, who has a very intimate knowledge of the coast and the Portland Canal district in particular. He says with respect to what he found at the mine:

"I may state that the results of the work carried out only confirms my hitherto expressed opinion concerning this property which, in my estimation, only requires a reasonable amount of capital intelligently expended to develop a remarkably valuable mine. My experience in the north and elsewhere has brought me into contact with many outstanding properties, but I consider the Georgia River excels all of them; it is in a class by itself. In fact, I have never yet seen a mine at the same stage of development which gives so much promise as this."

"The southwest vein has been further developed by open cuts and trenching," he further states, "and it is now proven to be continuous for the greater part of three claims, a total distance of over 3,000 feet. This vein attains a width, in places, of from two to six feet, and the mineralization is very consistent throughout. It has already been extensively sampled. On this occasion three samples were taken from two exposures 1,800 feet apart on the extension of the ore recently uncovered. These gave respective returns of: (1) 7.80 ounces of gold and 13.60 ounces silver, total value, $164.28; (2) 2.80 ounces gold, 4.60 ounces silver, total value, $58.76; (3) 9.70 ounces gold and 12.70 ounces silver, total value, $201.62. The vein has continued to improve with the work performed on it."

"A sample was taken of the ore from the shaft on the Bullion Vein, which gave 23.60 ounces gold and 16.40 ounces silver, total value $481.62. The Bullion Vein parallels the southwest vein already referred to, and is developed by a tunnel and shaft. Ore is exposed in the tunnel for a distance of 130 feet and vertically to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of eighty feet."

nel and shaft. Ore is exposed in the tunnel for a distance of 130 feet and vertically to the bottom of the shaft, a distance of eighty feet."

"As no work had been performed on the main vein, little attention was given to it. However, for the purposes of information a sample was taken from the open cut on the surface over cross-cut tunnel, which gave returns of 3.28 ounces in gold and 9.55 ounces in silver, total value, $74.00."

"Some time was employed in opening up the Summit Vein which actually consists of three separate veins paralleling each other and which will in all probability unite at depth. The combined widths of the mineralized portions of these veins run from six to eight feet. Samples taken from two cuts gave respectively 3.90 ounces gold and 3.34 ounces silver, total value $80.00, and 0.80 ounces silver, total value $16.44."

"The Danny Vein is the lowest of the cross veins so far exposed. The mineralization differs somewhat from the other cross veins in that considerable galena is in evidence. A sample taken from open cuts gave 0.20 ounces gold and 28.00 ounces silver, twenty-five per cent lead $31.25, total value $50.63."

ALICE ARM

Recent cold weather has formed a crust on the snow which now prevents those in the upper Kitsault River country who are running short to take in fresh supplies.

J. Strombek and Gus Pearson, who have taken a bond on the North Star property, were in town during the week. They report that, owing to bad weather, a start has not yet been made on the driving of a tunnel which will be undertaken as soon as there is an improvement.

Albert Davidson is driving a tunnel on the Wildcat property in the upper Kitsault Valley.

Jack Anderson made a trip to Camp 8, at the head of the Dolly Varden Railway, over the crust during the week.

Jack McDonald has left for his home in Victoria where he will spend the holiday season. On his return to Alice Arm he will relieve on the Anox ferry-boat Awake in place of H. F. Kergin, M.L.A. who will be going to Victoria to attend the legislature.

W. J. Crawford, formerly of Alice Arm and now in Anox, paid a brief visit here at the end of the week.

W. A. Talbot, assistant district engineer for the provincial department of public works, was here at the week-end on official duties.

PRINCE GEORGE MEMBER FIGHTS

Argues Strongly in Favor of Completion of P.G.E. to C.N.R. Line

FIGURES PRESENTED

By H. G. Perry, M.L.A.

Before an audience of thousands in Vancouver last Thursday Premier MacLean boldly announced that his policy for the Pacific Great Eastern railway was to complete it to Prince George and finally to the Peace River, if no acceptable offer for its purchase were received by his government.

This clear-cut statement of policy is received with particular enthusiasm in all the territory affected by the railway, and by all citizens anxious to see definite action taken regarding the investment by the people in a railway which shows very little change year by year in its deficits, and has neither beginning, end, objective nor destiny, but is merely a railway trail, offering each year its account for $300,000 loss on operation, and over $2,000,000 for interest from the general revenues of the province in order to be kept going in its present state.

This enthusiasm was somewhat chilled by the startling editorial in the Vancouver Province (the same issue in which is reported the premier's speech) to the effect that the completion of the P.G.E. to Prince George will entail extra expenditure of $14,000,000. The following is a quotation of the editorial in the Province of Friday, December 2nd:

"About five years ago, at the request of the late Premier Oliver, J. G. Sullivan, consulting engineer, made an examination of the P.G.E., and estimated the cost of completing it from North Vancouver to Prince George. His estimate was that to build and equip the twenty-nine miles between North Vancouver and Squamish, and the forty-five miles still without steel between Quesnel and Prince George would cost $6,000,000. In addition, he figured that $8,000,000 would have to be spent within ten years on betterments on the entire system. If Premier MacLean can show us how the completion of the P.G.E. is likely, within any reasonable time, to yield sufficient revenue to meet the extra operating costs and the fixed charges on the $14,000,000 extra expenditure, we shall hold up both hands, and applaud his project. But if, as seems certain, the only result is to be an increased operating deficit and an extra half-million or more a year in fixed charges, where is the province to benefit in any way? And how can the aggravation of the difficulties which face us be regarded as in any way a solution?"

Mark the question they put and the impression it leaves in the average mind that $14,000,000 is the expenditure entailed by the completion of the railway. What are the facts? On page 7 of the Sullivan report we quote the following, in reference to the cost of the uncompleted gap between Quesnel and Prince George:

"To complete this gap and put the line in condition to be operated is estimated to cost from $500,000 to $600,000. If this additional line is put in operation it is estimated that extra equipment to the value of $1,500,000 will be required; that is to put the line from Quesnel to Prince George into operation will require over $2,000,000 new capital."

In reference to renewal of trestles bridges, etc., on page 8 of the Sullivan report it states the "$8,000,000 new capital will be required for these renewals within the next ten years." Where are these renewals required? On the existing road now operating.

But the Vancouver Province deliberately adds the cost of $8,000,000 for renewals required on the "existing road," adds again the $4,000,000 estimated cost from Squamish to Vancouver onto the $2,000,000 estimated required from Quesnel to Prince George and asks the premier to show how the completion of the P.G.E. will yield sufficient revenue to meet the operating cost and the fixed charges on the $14,000,000 extra expenditure.

The premier advocated the completion to Prince George for the present. To quote Sullivan, this entails $2,000,000. Why should the Vancouver Province want to be shown, before it gives its blessing, that the territory between Quesnel and Prince George can produce operating and fixed charges on fourteen million dollars when the cost for that area is two millions?

Sauce for the goose is sauce for the gander.

Why did not the Vancouver Province use the same argument, or ask the same question, when $3,000,000 was requested in the last report of the P.G.E. directors for renewals on the existing road which is losing $1000 a year?

In an editorial of the Province on December 22, 1926, it said:
"There is another reason, too, for keeping the P.G.E. in shape to serve the country through which the line runs. That the country is gradually opening up. There are more settlers here and more traffic. The line is gradually reducing its operating deficits, and there is something to be said for the contention of the manager that if the government took account of the extra revenues from taxes and timber dues which the operation of the P.G.E. brings to its coffers there would be no deficit at all."
"The thing to do, then, is to keep the line going and keep it in shape to go. We have no choice but to spend the money for upkeep, and we have little hope of an immediate return. The only way we can get a return is by rendering the railway more useful, and there seems no means of doing this except by making it a real colonization road which will colonize the country through which it runs. Traffic alone will save the P.G.E., and traffic will not come without people."
This $3,000,000 was part of the $8,000,000 now counted in the Province's $14,000,000, and it was voted by the legislature and is already largely spent to "maintain the present road."
"If that $3,000,000 was necessary to render the present railway more useful surely the expenditure necessary to complete the road to Prince George and tap the trade of the whole north country is justifiable. If it is not justifiable, the sooner we know the better; then Prince George can realize its destiny is not as the link between the north and Vancouver and Prince George (and Central B.C.) can work its own development and future in co-operation with Edmonton, Peace River, Northern Alberta and Prince Rupert."
The growing sentiment throughout the north, which is becoming bitterly anti-Vancouver, and which has been demonstrated recently in the demands at Peace River and by the Prince Rupert board of trade for a "new" province, needs only leadership to crystallize into a powerful movement, and misleading editorials by influential newspapers at the coast are damaging the cause of economic and political unity and co-operation, so much more to be desired than division and separation.

B.C. VIEWS AT CONFERENCE OF DOM. PREMIERS

Premier MacLean and Hon. A. M. Manson Disappointed at Opposition to Federal Road Grant

Grant Dexter, writing to some of the western papers from Ottawa in regard to the recent provincial conference says in part:
From British Columbia's viewpoint, the benefit from the conference is very real. Premier MacLean, apart from exercising a strong influence over the conference in general matters such as the reform of the Senate, and the amendment of the Constitution, succeeded in presenting the needs of British Columbia so effectively that favorable action of the Ottawa government may be looked upon practically as a certainty.

Upon the question of subsidies, he showed that the physical needs of British Columbia, the need of roads, was so great that an increase in federal aid was essential. So forcibly did Dr. MacLean present the case for his province that other provinces in a more developed position and with plenty of revenue for their needs, announced that the Federal government could proceed to make special arrangements with British Columbia. Usually the provinces complain if one is preferred above the other, but in this case Premier MacLean convinced the conference that British Columbia stood in a class apart. Of course the province has been dealt with on a separate basis in the past, but the arrangements whereby an additional $100,000 per annum was paid by Ottawa has now lapsed.

RAILWAY LANDS.
In discussing subsidies, Premier MacLean made a strong plea for the return of the railway lands. This matter is already under investigation by Royal Commission, and a précis of Dr. MacLean's remarks will be forwarded to Hon. Mr. Justice Martin, the commissioner. He urged the Federal government to retire from the income tax field. The provinces, restricted to direct taxation, are finding it increasingly difficult to finance their services. Already British Columbia has lost the fuel oil tax and, in Manitoba, the province has lost the tax on trading in grain futures. Other sources of revenue were now in jeopardy. Premier MacLean recommended an inquiry into the whole question of subsidies and fields of taxation by royal commission, and while the Federal government was careful not to commit itself to any policy, it was stated unofficially that the advice would be accepted.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LEAD
In social questions, British Columbia took the lead. Hon. J. H. King, Federal minister of health, and British Columbia's representative in the Cabinet, told the delegates that one-third of the children of Canada were undernourished, not from lack of food, but from careless diet. He advocated control of infectious diseases in a more vigorous manner and offered to co-operate to

C.N.R. DEFENDS ACTION REGARD TO MARITIMES

Declares That Reductions Have Been Made in Freight Rates According to Parliamentary Order

MONTREAL, Dec. 15.—In order to place before the public views of the management of the Canadian National Railways on the subject of maritime freight rates, a statement was issued today from the headquarters of the system which reads in part:

"During the past months, since parliament at its last session passed the Maritime Freight Rates Act, there has been almost continual discussion and criticism in certain sections of the Maritime provinces as to the attitude of the National Railways toward the problem of freight rates and in particular as to the manner and extent which the legislation has been effective. In certain instances it has even been claimed that the National Railways have deliberately flouted the wishes of parliament as expressed in the legislation."

Most of the criticism has been based in misunderstanding or lack of information, some of it being deliberately misleading. It is for the purpose of placing the complete picture before the people of Canada, and the Maritime provinces particularly, that this statement of facts is made to clear away many misconceptions which now exist.

Looking at the question as a whole, the direction of parliament to the National Railways seems a simple one and in general it is, but as every person more or less familiar with railway freight rates knows, it is impossible to make an exact 20 per cent reduction in all cases and this is particularly so where only a portion of a rate is to be reduced. As a matter of fact, there has been little or no criticism as to the manner in which the legislation has been made effective where the full per cent reduction was to be given. The difficulty, if there is any is only on traffic moving out of the maritime provinces to the rest of Canada, where only a section of a rate was to be reduced by 20 per cent.

ORDER EXCEEDED
"The officers of the National Railways have given effect to The Maritime Freight Rates Act to the very best of their ability and that they have done so is amply proved by the fact that an actual test of the revenue received on traffic covered by legislation during a representative period since July 1, last shows that the reduction authorized by the tariffs amounted to 20.31 per cent is a slightly greater reduction than that required by the legislation."

"Another feature which does not appear to be understood is that the National Railways and its officers have no reason whatever to deny to the Maritime provinces the full measure of the reduction required by parliament, for the simple reason such does not come out of the railway's revenue."

The National Railways officers however do interpret the legislation as imposing upon them, the duty of according to the Maritime Provinces a reduction of approximately 20 per cent and that both parliament and the people of Canada have precisely the same right to demand that the National Railways do not accord more than 20 per cent reduction, as the Maritime provinces have to demand that they receive the full measure of the reductions. That the fact the reductions have amounted to 20.31 per cent shows how closely the National Railways have come to making the legislation effective.

MACHINERY PROVIDED
The Canadian National management are satisfied that they have carried out the provisions of the act in a loyal and generous way. If such is not the case, it is quite unnecessary for complainants to air their grievances in public as ample machinery has been provided, under the Act for submitting such grievances to the railway commission, to whom full power of adjustment has been given. If the railway commission, upon hearing any proper complaint renders a decision stating that the Canadian National have been at fault in carrying out the terms of the Act, such direction will be promptly complied with and the instructions of the Board of railway commissioners implemented immediately.

DRESS REHEARSAL FOR "FRIENDLY VILLAGE" AT UNITED CHURCH

The dress rehearsal last evening for "Friendly Village" proved very satisfactory and highly amusing.

The characters are well chosen, and those taking part are showing splendid talent for acting. Mrs. Kelly, the warm-hearted, emotional Irishwoman, is a very stirring part cleverly handled by Miss Haddock, who is well supported by the rest of the cast.

A feature of the play is a photograph album showing life-sized pictures, every one of which is a laugh in itself. The costumes are exceptionally good, having been actually worn in the Victorian period between 1860 and 70.

The play shows a little of what people owe to their pioneer ancestors, also the progress that has been made in the last half century. Mrs. E. P. Jenner is directing the play and has gone to a lot of trouble to procure the costumes.

INTERESTING EARLY EXPLORATION

One of the most interesting of the early explorations across Northern Canada was that made in 1771-2 by Samuel Hearne, who travelled from Fort Churchill on Hudson Bay to the Arctic ocean at the mouth of the Coppermine river, and returned by a more southerly route through Great Slave Lake.

EXTENT OF RED PINE FORESTS

The total uncut stand of red pine (Pinus resinosa) in Canada of saw timber size probably amounts to 4,000,000,000 feet board measure, the greater part of this being in the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. The average annual cut amounts to about 95,000,000 feet board measure.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e. carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 16, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 80 acres may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free or partly free permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
