SHAME TO ALL PESSIMISTS

There is an optimist near Terrace who puts to shame all the pessimists who ever lived. He is a living exponent of optimism in its most extreme form. Let me tell you people of Prince Rupert and the country around about what this man is doing.

His name is Parker and his initials are C. W. For years he has lived in the Lakelse Valley but his place was not just the very best in the district and the work he has been trying to do had to some extent proved a failure because the soil refused to respond. Now he has moved to another location and is hewing a new place out of the wilderness.

Mr. Parker is 86 years old. He is a scientist, a skilled mechanic and a farmer. He is taking up that particular branch of farming having to do with the raising of young trees, shrubs and flowers. In other words he is setting out to be a nurseryman at the age of eighty-six on a run down ranch and is doing all the work himself. Can you beat it?

And Mr. Parker is a young man today in spite of his age. He has all the enthusiasm of youth and will probably win out in his calling. At any rate he will enjoy life as long as he lives, and that is the great thing. The struggle is the great thing in life. The other day he showed me around his place. He had been there but a short time yet he took a pardonable pride in much of the work he had done and he pointed out much of what he is going to do. The land is rich and when he plants or sows, he gets a hearty response from his vegetable and flower children. In addition to looking after his ranch this wonderful man is rebuilding his log house and making it habitable for winter so that he may enjoy life within and without.

If some of you poor old miserable men of forty could get some of Parker's enthusiasm and share some of his joy in the work he is doing, how much better it would be for you and the world in which you linger. Terrace beckons. Go out and look at the Parker place and talk to the lad of eighty-six who is beginning life anew on a new place in the woods where nature is kind and gives him plenty of work and the desire to do it, and then blush for shame and get busy.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9.—A western grain crop of 400,000,000 bushels is predicted by Sir John Aird, president of the Canadian Bank of Commerce here. Salmon Cannery Asking Limitation of Number Fishermen on Rivers

OTTAWA, September 9.—Reports made from time to time to the department of marine and fisheries indicate a very unsatisfactory condition in the salmon industry on the Pacific coast throughout the entire season. So acute has the situation become, it is stated officially, that the department has received an intimation that both cannery and fishermen are about to join in a demand looking to a reduction in the number of canneries and also a reduction in the amount of equipment to be used.

BRITAIN ASKS REDUCTION IN ALL ARMAMENTS

VANCOUVER, Sept. 9.—World disarmament unexpectedly caused discussion in the council of the league of nations when Sir Austen Chamberlain, commenting on a plan for organized financial assistance for a nation victim of aggression, declared the project possessed great value and would deter aggression but that Great Britain would want to see a tangible reduction of armaments before supporting the scheme.

This afternoon's train from the East, due to arrive at 3:30, is reported to be on time.

The cannery represent that in the interests of conservation as well as the view to the re-establishing of a more economic basis of operating than that at present in force, some steps should be taken as early as possible toward effecting a substantial reduction in the amount of gear used and limiting the number of canning plants allowed to operate.

The cannery further submit it is imperative that any scheme which can be endorsed by a majority if not all the cannery as well as fishermen must be approved and made effective by accordant action on the part of the government and they have forwarded requests to be advised whether in event of cannery and fishermen working out a joint plan definitely fixing the amount of gear and the number of canneries which in their opinion should be permitted in given areas for a stated period, such action will be taken.

Officers of the department are hesitant, it is said, to express any definite opinion with regard to the requests made by the cannery in the absence of further information as to the extent to which the adoption of the policy suggested would affect the general public interest.

Lasky Will Build Theatre If Others Do Not He Says When Visiting City Yesterday

If other interests do not immediately provide Prince Rupert with improved theatre accommodation, Jesse L. Lasky, multi-millionaire movie picture producer, head of the Paramount Films Corporation and the Capitol Theatre organization, may take steps with such an end in view. Such was to be gathered from a conversation with this prominent figure in the moving picture world who was in the city last night on his way from a visit to the Stuart Lake country to his home in Los Angeles. Mr. Lasky spent over six hours here and, as it was his first visit to the city, he took the opportunity to look the place over and was favorably impressed. He also went into the moving picture theatre situation and expressed the opinion that facilities were wholly inadequate.

FAIR CLOSES HERE TODAY

Prospect is That Association Will End up on Right Side of Ledger

The 1927 Prince Rupert Exhibition of the Northern B.C. Agricultural & Industrial Association will be brought to a close with the big Cow Boy Ball in the Fair Building tonight at which the drawing will be made for the Second Avenue lot being raffled in connection with the sale of membership tickets. Exhibitors started this morning removing their entries so as to clear the hall for the dance.

The native baseball final between Greenville and Port Simpson was played this morning and at 5 o'clock this afternoon the football final between Greenville and Kispiox will be pulled off. In the meantime, the Stampede is going on this afternoon.

The 1927 Fair, on the whole, bids to be one of the most successful in the history of the city. It is understood that, if today's events, are only fairly well patronized, the Association will be on the right side of the ledger after having wiped off last year's deficit.

Stampede Proved Great Drawing Card Yesterday and Was Much Enjoyed

Several Local Men Took Part in Events and Acquired Themselves Very Creditably on Horses and Steers

By far the largest crowd of people that ever patronized a sporting event in the history of the city of Prince Rupert entered Acropolis Hill grounds yesterday afternoon for the stampede in connection with the Exhibition—the first event of its kind ever held here. The weather was propitious and, even before the scheduled hour of starting, the stands were filled to overflowing and people were perched on the fences at all hands with others peering between the wires and from the high points overlooking the field. The number paying admission was 2356 and the sum received $2314. The event was a fitting climax to Fair activities this year that have been most successful.

There was a splendid program of broncho busting and wild steer riding and many novel features, such as the antics of local riders more or less amateur, were introduced. The whole thing left little to be desired and there were few who went away after a thrilling two hours and a half, feeling that they had not had their money's worth and something to boot. The skill of the visiting riders was fully apparent; the steers were just wild enough to make things interesting and the horses, although some of them were not natural buckers and had to be taunted into doing their stuff along this line, were full of spirit. Travelling of the stock might have toned some of them down and a few were too well fed to be very skittish. Nor was there an accident although the ambulance was parked beside the field and a first-aid man was in waiting should his services have been needed.

The stock, gathered from all parts of the central interior and driven by noted riders, started their mad careers from the saddling corral on the near end of the field and careened across the field to the feeding corral at the far end. There were the usual number of spills which only go to make the rodeo the more interesting. Both saddled and bareback the bronchos and steers were ridden.

DAILY EDITION Friday, Sept. 9, 1927

THE LORD IS WITH THE BULKLEY VALLEY

That the Lord is with the people of the Bulkley Valley seems certain. They have been taking chances for the past year or two and so far no great harm has come to them. They have been driving about the country wildly at an unholy speed over roads that are only passably good and the accidents have averaged about two or three a week. Men and women have been pitched from their cars into the ditch, have been rolled over and over in closed cars, have been upset against logs and thrown down hillsides, yet not one has been killed and there have been few serious injuries. Ordinarily a number of the best citizens should have been doing time in paradise or sweltering in a tropical clime. It is only the protecting hand of Providence that has saved them, perhaps for a worse disaster, unless they mend their ways.

Frankly it does not pay to take too many risks with a car either in Prince Rupert or Smithers or Telkwa or anywhere. Automobiles do not carry whiskey or beer very successfully. They are apt to shy at shadows and leave the road on the slightest provocation. Possibly when a few people have been killed and others seriously injured the people will act reasonably and drive like sensible folks.

TAKE LAST LOOK AT HORSES

This may be the last opportunity people here may have of seeing horses in action. Gradually the horse is disappearing before the motor car and his absence is regretted by many. However, it is decreed that flesh and blood shall give place to engine and gasoline and speed shall increase.

Possibly it was this thought that prompted so many people to attend the stampede yesterday. They enjoyed seeing the horses rather than the men. Many had never seen them in action in that way before. Today another opportunity offers and we are told the program is different from that of yesterday. The horses are being given their last chance and they will probably never come again. They are passing and from this time on we shall use the ubiquitous Ford or travel in the Essex or Chev. or possibly the purring McLaughlin. See the horses today and say "goodbye." Their knell is being rung.

GET ON VOTERS' LIST

Any whose names are not on the list of voters should at once get busy and register. Delay is dangerous. Those who daily by the wayside usually find themselves left in the final roundup.

This warning is meant for Conservatives, Liberals, Laborites, Socialists, and red roaring Soviet sympathizers. We have no politics in this matter of registration. We urge upon friend and foe, if we have any, that they get in touch with the powers that be at the Court House building and prepare themselves to vote whenever the election may be called. Nothing but regrets will follow if it is found on the great day that the place where your name should be is nothing but a blank of white paper.

ART EDUCATION NEEDED

This week we have drawn attention more than once to a wonderful display of pictures at the exhibition. Now it is too late to see them if any of you have failed to do so. The Fair Board provided the opportunity but a good many did not take it.

What we want to say now is that everyone should cultivate a love for beautiful things. Beautiful pictures, beautiful gardens, beautiful faces, beautiful characters, all are desirable. But it is not an easy matter to learn to enjoy beauty. Art education is necessary. We are told that most of the young people taking lessons in artistic expression by means of color or form are foreign-born children and that the native born English speaking children do not take up a study of this form of art. Many learn the art of musical expression but fail to take advantage of this wonderful faculty possessed by many of expressing beauty by form or color.

Many passed by the pictures at the exhibition this week without being able to enjoy them. Had they studied art, they would have had a new field of pleasure open before them. They are not living life as fully as they might.

SKAGWAY AS CANADA PORT

Juneau Resident Suggests Deeding Part of B.C. to U.S. in Return

Forest J. Hunt of Juneau writes the following interesting letter in this week's Vancouver Sunday Province in the matter of ceding of Skagway by the United States to Canada:

Sir—My attention has been called to a suggestion made by Sir Hugh Denison, before the Canadian Club of Vancouver, on August 2, that an effort be made to secure the internationalization of Skagway harbor, as a benefit to Skagway as well as Canadian interests more or less affected by the status of this harbor. I am glad to see this subject given attention and feel constrained to do what I can to stress the importance of some public movement to remedy the existing situation of this port.

During the early years of the Klondike rush, Skagway became the metropolis of southeast Alaska, but today, poor Skagway is nothing but a remnant of the past.

NO RESOURCES

With no mines or commercial resources in that vicinity, on U.S. territory, it stands "neglected and alone" by the government; it is the port of entry to all Canadian interests throughout the vast region of mineralized territory tributary to the head waters of the Yukon and the Atlin country. This is a port of value to Canada, and if owned by her, no doubt, new life and increased value would come to all Skagway, as well as increased interest in all Canadian enterprises throughout that section.

The suggestion of Sir Hugh Denison will, perhaps, find judgment and support among interested Canadians but, I think, if we would arouse mutual interest there must be some direct benefit offered to this country.

I would call attention to the topography of the country lying between the head of Lynn Canal and the southern boundary of interior Alaska. South-easterly from the 141st parallel of longitude, west, lies what is known as the panhandle of Alaska, which consists of a mountainous rim of rocks and glaciers, without habitation, except at Yakutat harbor, for the entire southerly distance to Glacier Bay.

AN EXCHANGE

I have not explored the territory east of this boundary, but have been reliably informed that there is quite a considerable tract or comparatively level country, much of it mineralized, and it is my judgment that if Alaska's boundary line could be extended back to the interior to a line extending in a northeasterly direction from just above the port of Haines, on Lynn Canal, to intersect the southerly boundary of interior Alaska, it would give new life to Haines and would inaugurate a move to construct a highway along or near this boundary to interior Alaska and thus stimulate research and development of a section now not receiving any attention.

Instead of nationalizing Skagway harbor, I think an exchange feasible, and mutually advantageous, by a cession of Skagway harbor with the needed tract extending to the boundary from the United States to Canada, for a tract from Canada to the United States embracing the territory between a line extending north-easterly from above Haines, to the southeasterly boundary of interior Alaska. I am fully convinced that such an exchange would benefit both parties concerned, and stimulate commercial activity in sections now neglected.

Frank Johnson of Barrett Lake, Eddie Raut, Roy Wilkinson, and Dan McDonald.

During the afternoon prizes were awarded to Earl Buck and Frank Johnson who were adjudged the best representative cowboys in the parade that preceded the stampede. The presentations were made by Frank Dibb, president of the Fair Board.

Occasion was taken to announce that the championship events of the Prince Rupert rodeo would take place this afternoon and, to that end, the best of the stock was being saved.

LOCAL RIDERS

While designed merely as byplay, the participation of several local men in the stampede proved that some of them could really ride while, of course, others were merely there to give the crowd a laugh.

Bill Findlay of Prince Rupert, who is engaged here in the more modest occupation of a carpenter, showed that he could hang on to a wild steer about as well as the visiting cowmen. By the applause of the audience, he won a place in the championship contests today.

Kenny McQuail can also ride a horse and so can Jack Keefe as they showed in their race around the field. Kenny had a nasty beast who was trying to roll him off. The popular butcher gave the crowd another thrill when, with considerable agility, he rode a wild steer, being thrown two or three times and getting on again.

The wild steer riding contest between Ben Self and Bill Sherman for a side-bet of $100 was declared a draw. Ben stuck on for ten jumps and rejected the services of the ambulance and first-aid man when he was thrown. Bill Sherman lasted about as long. This contest was the afternoon's mirth-producer.

HER CLOSEST FRIEND ELOPES WITH FIANCEE

Kitty Flanders Marries Ted Larrabee as Jean Waddington Says

"Children of Divorce." All of them twenty or twenty-three—but the amount of thrills they jammed into those two short decades is worthy of record. For instance, Jean and Kitty were first introduced while attending convent. At that time both were cute little things. They hadn't reached their teens yet.

Years later, they met again and became close friends. Jean had seen her parents ruining their lives and determined to steer clear of marriage until she was sure love had come to stay. Kitty was a wild jazz orphan, hurrying from one party to the next. Then Ted Larrabee proposed to Jean and she hesitated. But her very hesitation was enough to lose him because a few weeks later, while on a drunken rout with Kitty, Ted married her.

Jean, heart-broken, immediately left for Paris. A year passed and all Europe was agog over the news that Prince Ludovic de Stax, an impoverished nobleman, was about to marry the beautiful American heiress, Jean Waddington. Suddenly Ted and his infatuation arrived.

From that point you are directed to the Westhouse screen this week-end. Frank Lloyd's new Paramount drama, "Children of Divorce," co-stars Clara Bow and Esther Ralston. Gary Cooper is Ted; Einar Hansen, the Prince and Norman Trevor, his guardian are featured.

FAIR BUILDING WELL PATRONIZED THURSDAY

Stampede Swelled Crowds in Late Afternoon While Concert Was Held in Evening

There was a good attendance in the Fair Building last evening. The Stampede tended to draw quite a few people in the late afternoon while special attractions last night were the exhibition drills by the Prince Rupert girls' drill team, selections by the Boys' Band, and cornet solos by Robert Greenfield.

Man in the Moon

I WENT to the hill
To see the stampede
And there were the boys
Making great speed.
And I sat and I thought
As I saw them ride past,
If the autos could speak
Would they say it was fast?

I BELIEVE in evolution because I need it, but of course there are a lot of people who have reached the peak and are looking over the top.

IT was worth at least a dollar to see the crowds at the big stampede yesterday.

SLEEPING in pyjamas is all right as long as you wear both sections.

IF you can't help to make the world better, don't help to make it bitter.

IF you're able to ride
And never have fear
Look out that you don't Get on a bum steer.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

BURNS LAKE

K. W. McGowan, the new school principal here, arrived last week from Kamloops with his family. They are taking up residence in the building formerly occupied by D. Cochrane.

Mrs. A. L. Fakely, who recently drove through from Dundurn, Saskatchewan, to Hazelton, has been a guest at Francois Lake Lodge.

R. T. Ray of Fort Francis, Ontario, and J. E. Nash of Toronto, were visitors here last week.

Dr. J. T. Steele left by motor for Vancouver where he will spend several weeks. During his absence, Dr. H. G. Bruce is taking care of his practice.

Miss L. I. Pringle, lady superintendent of the Burns Lake Hospital, has returned here much improved in health after spending several weeks as a patient in the Hazelton Hospital.

Rev. W. R. Ashford of Burns Lake and Rev. P. McLennan of Wistaria, attended the United Church presbytery in Quesnel last week.

Miss Gertrude Wahman returned home last week from a visit to Prince George.

Mrs. V. Schelderup entertained at tea last week in honor of Miss Mary McRae of Prince Rupert who was a visitor here.

PRINCE GEORGE

George Fenwick and Ray Graham, local youths, were found guilty by Judge Robertson on charges of entering the garage premises of Ed. Hall and stealing $134.50 from the safe. Fenwick drew three years' suspended sentence while Graham was sent to penitentiary for two years.

The thirteenth annual Prince George fall fair was held here last week. While there were a number of interesting exhibits, the event was but a shadow of its former greatness. Considerable life was injected into the proceedings by the Prince George city band under the direction of Dr. A. H. Bayne. The most interesting display of the fair was the exhibit of apples by Edward Welsh of Goat River.

Quesnel tennis players were very much outclassed by those of Prince George in the second of three tournaments for the Fraser Cup. Quesnel having won the first tournament, another will have to be played to settle the ownership of the trophy.

Sergeant Walker, chief of the local detachment of the provincial police, has returned after a three months' trip to his former home in Ireland.

R. G. Sutton, district horticulturalist, left early this week for New Westminster taking with him Leonard Larson, Clifford Goodkey and Noble Mann, Pineview boys, to compete in the stock judging competition at the Provincial Fair.

H. E. Campbell has resigned as secretary of the Prince George Curling Club.

Rev. S. T. Galbraith resumed the pulpit in Knox United Church last Sunday, having returned from a two months' visit to Great Britain.

VANDERHOOF

Indian Agent and Mrs. R. H. Moore have returned to Vanderhoof after a motor trip to Vancouver.

The building of several more side-walks this fall is planned by the Village Commissioners.

The past fire season has been the most expensive in the western part of Fort George district since the district was organized in 1912. The fires were larger and more difficult to control owing to the long dry spell, low humidity and strong winds. There have been a total of 32 fires fought since May 1, not including numerous large conflagrations in the country north and east of Takla Lake and in the Manson Creek and National Lake district.

Harvesting operations in the Nechako Valley are well under way and reports indicate good crops in spite of the long, hot spell. Wheat is in good shape although oats suffered from lack of moisture.

Rev. Joseph T. Smeaton of Vanderhoof attended the meeting of Cariboo presbytery in Quesnel last week.

Miss Caldwell of Endako is visiting here as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smedley.

Mrs. Hugh C. Willson left last week for Chicago where she will spend a few weeks visiting with Miss Gordon Willson.

Miss Kathleen Morrow and Miss Mary Melish have returned here to resume their duties in the Vanderhoof Superior School after having spent the vacation at their respective homes in Victoria and Armstrong.

Hon. A. M. Manson, attorney general, is on a tour of his district of Omineca this week.

SKIDEGATE

The Imperial Oil Company's tanker "Imperial" called at the oil station here a few days ago with a big cargo of fuel oil.

W. Searth, the well known lumber broker, has taken over all the lumber at the Queen Charlotte City mill and is having it made into rafts for shipment. Mr. Searth expects to be here about three weeks.

R. Allen, district forester from Prince Rupert recently made a trip to Copper Ray and hiked over to Fort Clements.

SPORT CHAT

When a real baseball team, even though it be from a smaller place than this, comes to town, Prince Rupert finds itself lacking. As witness take the series with Stewart this week. The locals can regale themselves with no credit, even though they were lucky in winning the first game. Prince Rupert has quite as good talent as anything we have seen visit town this year but the unfortunate part of it is that the locals either can't or won't put in the practice which is all that is needed to put them in form. It is a shame to see a visiting team playing around-a-rosies with the locals. Stewart did it on Wednesday, just because the home team isn't in practice.

Tex Rickard is whipping things into shape for the Gene Tunney-Jack Dempsey battle for the heavyweight championship which is to take place at Soldiers' Field, Chicago, on September 22. If the fight draws capacity, the two Spartans will box to a crowd of 140,000 people. The advance sale of tickets for the battle has already passed the $1,500,000 mark and selling agents report them to be moving out at the rate of $100,000 per day. Everything points to the fight having the largest gate in the history of championship contests.

Vierkoetter averaged 48 strokes to the minute during the Marathon swim at Toronto August 31. In the 11 1/2 hours he was in the water, he made some 33,840 strokes. He won $30,000. His strokes were worth about 90 cents apiece. Michel, the Frenchman, who came in second, swam about 32 strokes to the minute in a different style. He made 32,000 strokes in his 16 hour swim. His prize of $7,500 made each stroke worth less than 25 cents.

Myer Mendelsohn of Montreal and Jan Montenek of Toronto, contestants in the Big Swim at Toronto, were quite unconscious for several minutes after being brought to the hospital before hot rum revived them. Montenek's legs were completely paralyzed and it was a half-hour before he could stand.

One of the greatest "little" swimmers in the marathon was Arthur Compton, aged 14 years, of Long Beach, Calif., the youngest of all the entries. Honestly he comes by his prowess, for his father-trainer, Warren W. Compton, a giant himself, was years ago a champion of champions in the same game in "old Kentucky." Unfortunately it was that darkness forced Arthur, or it should be said, Arthur's father, to withdraw from the contest just before 9 o'clock after he had finished two-thirds of the course. Compton Senior decided that the lad had better not continue.

One myth that the Swimming Marathon exploded was the supposedly menacing lamprey eels. Only two of three of the cases which came to the hospital had any encounters and they were comparatively harmless. One of these was Ed. F. Hanniquet, a good looking young fellow from New York. "I felt an eel come against my leg once," he said, "but it only touched me and seemed unable to take hold through the grease. It didn't bother me. It was the cold water that finished me. I've never felt anything much worse than that water."

"Worry."

SCHOOLS SHOW GOOD DISPLAY
Primary Work and Manual Training Products Show Excellent Results
The consensus of opinion is that the school exhibit this year was very good. Many of the primary displays were particularly interesting.
In the manual training section two boats were shown which are a selection of five made by students under the instruction of Ross. The two boats were built by Tait Gallon and George Minns. A china cabinet by Albert Stiles was excellent work and design and the bookcase made by Jack Ness also was an excellent piece of furniture.
The list of prizes in the school section is as follows:

tomatoes, cauliflower, etc. Prices compare favorably with other years.

Among fruits, local pears, jumble peck are now in, and prices are slightly higher than last year. Italian prunes are also arriving and preserving shipments ought to be in within a few days. Opening prices promise to be around $1.50 per crate. This is slightly less than earlier predictions.

The potato market in Vancouver is fairly low but the quality is fair only. First shipments from the interior are expected shortly and will be welcome. Many local people are awaiting the opportunity to obtain good spuds from the interior before purchasing in sack lots.

Next week Crawford peaches will be on the market. Prices will be higher than Alberta peaches but then the quality is far superior.

The next few weeks will tell the tale about the flour market. If harvesting operations are all successful from a weather standpoint, the price of flour will surely take a drop. Dealers and retail customers alike are allowing their supply to diminish meantime.

MORLEY DIES AT ALICE ARM

Well-known Prospector Passes Away at Mining Camp

ALICE ARM, Sept. 9.—The mining camp of Alice Arm mourns today the loss by death of Gideon Morley, prospector and citizen. Mr. Morley who made his home on the Silver City side of the camp was one of the oldest inhabitants in age as well as in point of residence. He was a typical prospector of the old school, his life being one of in and of the hills and his contact with his fellowman was of the sincerity freedom and faith of the great old doers.

Mr. Morley who was 79 years of age was a native of Oklahoma. Coming further west he prospected in Montana and becoming interested in mining he took a course in the Montana school of mines at Butte. Later he located claims in Nevada, selling out at a large figure. Most of this sum was invested in cattle but with two successive years of drought and cold his venture in the cattle business was a loss.

Settling his family in Seattle with the residue he prospected in Washington and Oregon, turning a manganese property in Washington. Later he came to Canada pitching his camp at Alice Arm in 1910.

Among other claims located by Mr. Morley were the Surprise Group on McGrath Mountain and the Keystone group on Lime Creek. The Keystone group is being developed by the Keystone Mining Company and the Surprise group is under option. Mr. Morley is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Elwood and Mrs. Draper of Seattle. Interment will take place at Seattle.
