AIRPLANE FLIGHTS PROVE FAILURES

MAJOR MACLAREN MAKES FEW INTERESTING PREDICTIONS

Three Transatlantic Flyers Have Trouble; St. Raphael is Lost

LONDON TO LONDON PLANE LANDS IN MAINE, AND WINDSOR TO WINDSOR AT ST. JOHN, QUEBEC—NONE MOVING THIS MORNING

Flyers this week have been faring badly. The Saint Raphael which left Bristol Wednesday morning carrying Princess Lowenstein, the financier of the expedition, Captain Leslie Hamilton and Colonel Minchin has not arrived on this continent and is supposed to be lost. The London to London plane which left early yesterday for London, England, was forced by fog to land in Maine and the Windsor to Windsor machine which left about ten o'clock for Windsor, England, had to land in Quebec province, after being forced down by friction fire.

NO REPORTS ON HALIBUT

Commission Will Hear Halibut Men Before Taking any Action Says Babcock

VICTORIA, Sept. 2.—The international fisheries commission has not recommended that the halibut banks be temporarily closed and has not made a report to the United States or Canadian governments. John P. Babcock, chairman, said, in reply to Washington reports saying such a recommendation would be made. "In November, after the closed season begins, the commission will hold public meetings in Ketchikan, Prince Rupert, Vancouver and Seattle. A digest of the data collected will be submitted and the commission will listen to the halibut men who care to talk and afterwards the commission will draw up its first reports to the Canadian and United States Governments."

PRINCE SAYS HIS FAREWELL

Eulogizes Canada at Canadian Club Gathering in Montreal

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—The Prince of Wales bade farewell to Canada in an address before the Canadian Club here today. He drew a metaphor from his visit to the mines in the Rocky Mountains and said: "Canada, the heart and soul of Canada and the possibilities of Canada form a reef of precious metals, so vast in extent that no man living can value it. The deeper you go the more astounded you become at the wealth of material and wealth of character which you find. The effect on the man who loves Canada is the feeling that there is at any rate a great country worthy of fulfilling a very great destiny."

PLANE STARTED TURNED BACK

LE BOURGET, France, Sept. 2.—Leon Givon and Pierre Corbu in the bi-plane Bluebird started westward on a transatlantic flight early this morning but returned after encountering fog about one hundred miles from Paris.

CHINESE STEAMER IS TAKEN BY PIRATES

HONG KONG, Sept. 2.—Pirates seized the Chinese steamer Koochow on West River. The captain and chief engineer were shot and one hundred Chinese were taken prisoners.

BOAT DASHED TO PIECES ON ROCKY COAST

Two Fishermen Saved Through Coolness of Light Keeper at Cape Beale

BANFIELD, Vancouver Island, Sept. 2.—C. J. Frank and W. S. Budworthy, Neah Bay fishermen, were saved yesterday as their boat, the Sea Wolf, was dashed to pieces on the surf of Cape Beale, through the cool-headedness of the light keeper, P. C. Cox, who got a line to them.

MYSTERY WHEAT REVOLUTIONIZE GRAIN GROWING

EDMONTON, Sept. 2.—Trelle, the world champion wheat and oat grower, is conducting experiments which are described as successful with "mystery wheat" from the Dominion experimental farm, which may cause a revolution in wheat growing in western Canada. It can be sown later and will ripen eighteen days earlier than present varieties.

LONDON TO LONDON

CARIBOU, Maine, Sept. 2.—The London to London monoplane landed near here last night. Foggy conditions prevailed. The plane will probably remain here until tomorrow if the fog continues. It ran into heavy fog in the St. Lawrence valley yesterday and in attempting to avoid it struck over into Maine across New Brunswick and probably Prince Edward Island. It got thirty or forty miles to sea in the direction of Newfoundland but the fog was so dense they feared they could not find Harbor Grace so turned back, finally landing here.

WINDSOR TO WINDSOR

ST. JOHN, Quebec, Sept. 2.—The Windsor to Windsor plane which left Windsor, Ontario, yesterday morning, was forced down near here in a storm. The Royal Windsor plans to hop off again today if possible. The plane was forced down by a friction fire which did no damage. The tail skid was loosened in landing but has been fixed by a blacksmith.

SAW PLANE'S LIGHTS

HALIFAX, Sept. 2.—The wireless station at Cape Race was advised today in a message from the Dutch steamer BL-JKENDIJK that at six a.m. yesterday they sighted a white light probably belonging to an aeroplane in latitude thirty-nine twenty-eight north longitude sixty-four forty-three west. The light was proceeding in an easterly direction. If this were the St. Raphael she would place her four hundred and twenty miles E.S.E. New York, far south of her course and apparently lost her way as proceeding eastward.

TRAIN COMES FROM TELKWA TUESDAY

The Canadian National Railways are arranging to attach a couple of passenger coaches to the stock train which leaves Telkwa next Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock for the Prince Rupert Exhibition, arriving in the city that evening at 9. This will enable local people to go to Telkwa tomorrow morning for the week end and return home Tuesday.

PIRATES LEAD LEAGUE AGAIN

Displaced Chicago Cubs From National Leadership by Beating Them Thursday

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—Pittsburgh Pirates resumed the leadership of the National League by defeating Chicago Cubs 4-3 in the only game played yesterday in that league. In the American League, Cleveland beat Chicago and Detroit took Boston late camp. Other games were put off on account of rain.

The chances of the Chicago Cubs to capture the National League pennant are not thought now to be very good. The New York Giants, in fourth place, are only two games from the lead after a seven-game winning streak from western opposition. Lee Meadows won the game for the Pirates from Carlson, one of the leading members of the Cubs' staff. The day's scores were as follows:

VICTORIA, Sept. 2.—Passengers arriving here last night on the Princess Mary from the west coast of Vancouver Island confirm a previous report that A. E. Leach, Dominion fisheries patrolman, was murdered in the vicinity of Clayoquot. They said Leach was attacked at midnight and killed. The body was found in the launch eight hours after his death. Two or three Indians are suspected of the crime but up to the time the steamer left no arrests had been made.

Air Mail Service May Be Established Between Rupert and Vancouver

THAT IS SUGGESTION OF MAJOR MACLAREN AT ROTARY LUNCHEON—OTHER INTERESTING SUGGESTIONS FOR DEVELOPMENT MENTIONED

Possibly by next spring or at any rate in the near future, the British Columbia coast will be linked with New York and other eastern points by an air mail service, probably flying from Prince Rupert to Vancouver, Victoria and Seattle and connecting with the United States airmail until such time as an all-Canadian airmail is possible, according to Major D. K. C. MacLaren, D.S.O., head of the Pacific Airways Ltd., who addressed the Rotary Club yesterday on the subject of aviation.

The major further said that before very long there should be a daily air service between Prince Rupert and Vancouver, leaving the northern port at about ten o'clock and returning the same day. This would be quite feasible.

The major also announced that the Dominion Government was securing six light planes for the purpose of popularizing these with the people of the country. Two of them, he understood were coming to British Columbia. He would like to see an organization formed in Prince Rupert for the purpose of using one of them here. The scheme was for the purpose of educating people in air-mindedness. MacLaren also urged that planes should be used to a much greater extent by the forestry department. He prophesied that very soon the big fishing companies would use them for spotting fish and for transportation and other purposes in connection with their business instead of fast power boats as at present. They would be much more effective. The railways too would soon be using planes in connection with their services and the mails would be practically all carried by airplanes before long.

Explaining the suggested light airplane scheme of the Government, the major said light airplane clubs would be formed. The Government would buy the plane and half the cost would be borne by the community. This would be a sort of flying school.

The address dealt at length with development of aeronautics. He explained how flying began in a small way, the Wright brothers experimenting with small machines. The war hurried the development, but it was not until after the war that aeronautics became a highly developed science. The Royal Air Force took up the work and was the most efficient and best organized force in the world.

The speaker told of the two different kinds of planes heavier than air and lighter than air. He did not look for the heavier than air machines being used to any large extent for long distance work, but air machines capable of carrying up to a thousand passengers would be developed which would undertake that. Heavier than air planes would be used for short distances. The machine used here was the flying boat, which was found the most useful because there were no landing places except in the water.

The use of war machines had been somewhat of a handicap as they were not suited to industrial purposes. That is where Germany had the advantage as all her machines had been surrendered so she had to start anew. In Canada the population was small so air services had not developed as in the United States. However, he expected to see the services used for the development of mining districts just as they had in the Red Lake country where regular services were maintained, this being the only service in Canada that made profits.

IMPROVING SALT LAKES PARK

The Parks Board has decided to commence the work of improving Salt Lakes Park by clearing a plot of land for the use of picnickers. This is the first definite move toward making a real park of the place in addition to the swimming pool which has been an established institution.

For a number of years the place was used through the courtesy of a syndicate that controlled it. Then the land reverted to the railway company and, through the persistence of Hon. T. D. Pattullo, a grant of land surrounding the two lakes was made to the province and by them turned into a provincial park and a board appointed to have control of it for the citizens of Prince Rupert and district. Dr. W. T. Kergin is chairman of that board.

The condition of the park was pointed out to the member for the district at the time of his visit here this last spring and he promised to try to secure a small grant to commence making improvements there. One thousand dollars was set aside for the purpose and that is the money now to be used.

The park is a public playground and the board has the right to prevent building or cutting of trees there and is given full control of it. The chief difficulty is in finding means of making it useful to the people. The Swimming Club was given control of the swimming privileges and they have kept the floats and dressing rooms in shape and given a general oversight to the activities but it has been difficult to raise money and many needed improvements have not been carried out for that reason.

It is reasonable to expect that the people of the city will take a real interest in the work and that money will be forthcoming to provide a safe and suitable swimming pool for the children. The money for this should undoubtedly be put up by the people of Prince Rupert who use the swimming pool or who realize what an attraction it is and how desirable such a place is near the city.

NAVIGATING THE AIR

Major MacLaren yesterday gave a most interesting address at a luncheon of the Rotary Club in which he showed how rapid had been the development of air navigation and what were some of the possibilities of the near future. It is a most fascinating subject and one in which all will soon themselves be interested. When it is remembered that it is only a very few years since automobiles have been used, it is easy to visualize the future of the airplane. Happily the plane is not handicapped by the necessity of road building. The air is free and while rules for navigation will be necessary, there will be no upkeep for highways. Landing places will be necessary and that is one thing Prince Rupert will have to think about soon. A landing field will be necessary in every progressive community before long.

WONDERFUL LIFE WE LIVE

This is a wonderful age in which we live and the opportunities for a young man are greater than ever they have been in the past. We sit back and watch the passing events like a continuous panorama. The development of flying is only one of the many lines in which the race is making progress. No one can forecast with any hope of accuracy what will be the next new thing to attract attention. Records are broken almost every day and the recounting of them tends to make us blasé. We are taking things for granted today that a few years ago would have astounded the world.

The privilege of living in this age is a great one and especially is the privilege of being young a very great one. Compare our life with the life of the middle ages and we must feel that it is worth while to have lived and been a part of the great development which is going on around us.

TO CLEAR LAND AT SALT LAKES

Parks Board Decides to Expend About $800 on This Work at Once

SURVEY MADE FIRST

Balance of Government Grant to be Used for Other Improvements

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Parks Board yesterday afternoon, Dr. W. T. Kergin presiding, it was decided to ask the engineer of the Provincial Public Works Department to survey a plot in the Salt Lakes Park at the head of the bay where the boats land, with a view to having it cleared and leveled for the use of picnickers. At present this area is partly cleared but it not fit for races and games such as are carried out at the big gatherings of the various organizations.

As soon as the land is surveyed, tenders will be called for clearing and grading it and it is expected to have the work completed this fall so that it may be ready for use at the opening of next season.

Of the thousand dollar grant made by the Provincial Government, it is proposed to expend approximately $800 on the clearing and grading and to use the other $200 for erecting lavatories, repairing walks and other needed work.

Those present at the meeting were in addition to the chairman, C. H. Orme, James H. Thompson and H. F. Pullen. By invitation the executive of the swimming club was also asked to attend the meeting and from that organization there were present Fire Chief MacDonald, Captain Swanson, Alex. Saint and E. C. Gibbons.

The necessity of a better bathing beach for children was discussed and the proposal to improve the present swimming pond at the second lake was mentioned and also the possibility of damming the first lake and using it for swimming. It was felt however, that the grant should be used for clearing and trail making as was the understanding with the member for the district and work on the swimming pool should be undertaken by the citizens of Prince Rupert through the Swimming Club.

Other work such as clearing land around the lake and making other trails was discussed as possible improvements at some other time. Also the question of making a charge for those having summer cottages in the park was talked over. It was also mentioned that the Gyo Club was prepared to make a playground in the Park if the land were cleared.

A committee consisting of Dr. Kergin and C. H. Orme was appointed to get the work under way as decided on by the board, and Chief MacDonald and Captain Swanson was appointed from the Swimming Club to co-operate.

The meeting was held in Dr. Kerin's office.

GETTING CHEAP ELECTRIC POWER

Expert Suggests That Coal Will Soon be Cheaper Method of Generation Than Water

WINNIPEG, Sept. 1.—A great revolution and expansion of industry in western Canada, based on cheaper electric power from lignite coal, the sweeping away of hydraulic electric power with its enormous construction charges, the establishment of by-products plants, and the transmission of electric power from end to end of the continent, is foreseen in the present projected development of western coal fields, by Maj.-Gen. W. Bethune Lindsay, chief engineer with the Canadian forces during the war, formerly of Winnipeg, who has been spending considerable time in the west studying the project.

The plan will be to have a few large central generating stations erected at the coal mines, and the country covered from coast to coast with a network of transmission lines, which will serve every small town as well as large industrial centres and entirely scrap the present more expensive methods of generating electric power.

GERMANY USES COAL
"Germany," he stated, "is the most electrified country in the world and 95 per cent of the power is produced from cheap brown coal, not so good as the lignite in our west. We are on the fringe of tremendous development and no one can say how far it will go."
Continuing, General Lindsay pointed out that Canada seemed obsessed with the idea that hydro electric power is the cheapest form of general electricity. In nine out of ten cases this is a false idea, he stated. There have been such advances made in the methods of generating and using high pressure and high temperature steam, well known to experts in Europe and America, that, except in a few cases, this is the economical way of generating electricity.

General Lindsay explained that the heavy fixed charges on the capital investment involved in hydro construction meant heavy overhead charges which the consumer had to pay. There is the dam to construct, spillways, canals, flues, penstocks, rights-of-way to acquire man-damages to pay in erecting storage reservoirs, the possible re-location of roads and railways, and, in addition, the construction of power houses for the generation of electricity. If there is any variation of the water supply, due to excess cold or drought, a steam stand-by plant has to be used.

EFFICIENCY

On the other hand, the engineering expert stated, the efficiency in the use of fuels with improved combustion, particularly the perfection of the methods of feeding pulverized coal which enables the cheapest forms of coal to be used to great advantage, has very considerably altered the difference previously existing between the two methods.

"Here on the prairies," General Lindsay states, "the greatest resources from the standpoint of potentiality is the great supply of coal fuel. Heretofore the soft quality of most of this coal from the standpoint of methods previously used is interfered with utilizing it for many purposes where hard coal or coke is needed. The successful methods of generating and using steam of maximum pressures and temperatures produced from this coal have been demonstrated, and it is not considered that hydro-electric power, except in isolated cases, will be able to compete with electric power from these cheap fuels."

RECENT INVENTION

The greatest progress in the development of western coal deposits is foreshadowed in the recent invention of a practical, cheap and continuous process of separation of oxygen from the air. The use of oxygen for combustion instead of air will completely alter many industries and among other things will enable coal supplies of western Canada to be utilized in a way never thought possible before. It is now considered quite feasible to produce from these lignites extremely cheap electric power as well as by-products in which they are very rich.

The agricultural lands of the west are underlain with coal containing practically all the by-products which form the basis of the German aniline dye industry and in addition have natural gas, some of it containing helium, as well as indications of extensive oil fields in Alberta. There is no reason for pessimism regarding the possibility of developing the west. When due consideration is given to what Germany has accomplished along these lines, it is obvious that the development of coal supplies and the generation of cheap electric power, the creation of by-products industries, is a much sounder proposition for the west than the insistence on cheaper freight rates for the transportation of western coal to Ontario. What cheap electric power has done for Ontario it may do for the prairies. It is certainly considered by experts that the development of these enormous coal supplies should be given precedence over the persistent chase for and development of hydro-electric propositions, the general declared.

Colman's Timely Recipes for SEPTEMBER
As the Fall approaches we begin to feel the need of more substantial dishes.
The following seasonable recipes will help you to serve meals that are appetizing and satisfying. The finest flavours in the ingredients are subtly developed by Colman's Mustard. Try them. Clip them for future reference.

ROAST BEEF BROILED
6 slices rare roast beef; 1 tablespoon sharp horseradish; 1 tablespoon Colman's Mustard; melted butter.
Mix the condiments and rub thoroughly into the slices of beef. Brush with melted butter and broil only enough to heat them through. Serve with lettuce and tiny pickles.

BAKED MEAT LOAF
1 cup chopped or minced meat—beef, ham or mutton—3 hard boiled eggs, (chopped); 5 soda crackers (chopped fine); 1 pint milk; butter size of an egg; 1 teaspoon flour; 1 teaspoon Colman's Mustard; pepper to taste.
Boil milk, thicken with flour, add butter ham, crackers, eggs, Colman's Mustard and pepper. Bake 1 hour.

CHEESE PUDDING
Butter a baking dish. Place in it a layer of bread and butter cut in small squares, then a layer of grated cheese. Sprinkle with a very little Colman's Mustard and paprika and salt. Repeat until the dish is full. Beat up two eggs, stir them into one and one-half cups of milk. Pour this over the bread and bake thirty-five or forty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve at once. If desired, strips of bacon may be laid on top when the pudding is half done.

TOMATO SAVORY
6 large tomatoes (peeled); 2 large onions; 3 cups bread crumbs; 1 heaping teaspoon Colman's Mustard; ½ cup chopped parsley; any left-over meat; pepper and salt as desired.
Chop meat, parsley and onions or run through mincer; mix in bowl with crumbs, mustard, pepper and salt. Heap deep baking dish with alternate layers of crumb mixture and sliced tomatoes, having crumb layer at the top, dot with small pieces of butter and bake in moderate oven for 30 minutes. If tomatoes are not very ripe and juicy, pour in a little cold water at sides of dish before putting in oven.

SALMON HASH
Cut up in small square pieces 1½ lb. fresh salmon and place in a saucepan with ½ cup of water, a little salt, white pepper, 1 clove, 1 blade of mace, 1 teaspoonful sugar, 1 shallot and 1 teaspoonful Colman's Mustard mixed with ½ cup vinegar. Let boil and add 6 skinned tomatoes cut in small pieces, a few branches of parsley and a wineglass of sherry. Let the whole simmer gently for ¼ of an hour. Serve very hot, garnish with toasted bread cut triangular. This dish is also very appetizing when served cold at dinner or supper.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

REGIMENT AND MOOSE PLAYOFF

Grand Terminals Failed to Score Sufficient Goals to Get in Final for Gilhuly Cup

Though all three teams in the League each won a game and lost one in the semi-final series, Regiment and Moose will play off in the finals next Wednesday for the Gilhuly Cup. Last night the Grand Terminals defeated the Regiment 1-0 but this was not sufficient to put the team in the final on total goals count. The final standing of teams is as follows:

	W.	L.	F.	A.	Pts.
Regiment	1	1	3	2	2
Moose	1	1	4	4	1
Terminals	1	1	2	3	3

The Regiment was lucky to get away last night with as light a defeat as it suffered and the Grand Terminals were on the other hand, unfortunate to no score more goals for they had the best of things all the way through. After scoring the first and, as it turned out only corner of the game for the winners, Dickens missed two open goals successful negotiation of which would have put his team in the finals in place of the Moose. Play, on the whole was of a fast nature, giving the fans assembled a good run for their money.

Star players for the Regiment were Haddon and Dido Gurvich, while Angus McDonald and Campbell were outstanding for the Regiment.

Gus Krause acted as referee while A. Clapperton and W. Murray presided on the side lines.

SPORT CHAT

Can Tunney repeat his 1926 success in the Dempsey of 1927? Three weeks from to-night and Soldiers' Field, Chicago, will be the scene of the night's struggle in history. Men who have followed the ring battles of the last quarter of a century, doubt if Tunney will retain his championship against the real Dempsey. They point out that Dempsey, when he lost the championship to Tunney, did not take the affair as seriously as he should have done. Condition alone defeated Dempsey, and there are thousands of light fans who firmly believe that Tunney will take the count before the fifth round.

In the previous fight it was a case of nothing to gain or lose by a victory over Tunney. Had he won, he would have had to fight some more set-ups or a few years until a good man came along, and youth might then have been served. But this defeat at the hands of Tunney, has put him on edge once more. Had Tunney punished him so severely that he destroyed the old Dempsey confidence, this come back of the superman would have been regarded as a joke. But Tunney has not been tested since, and it appears to many that Dempsey just got tired of wearing the crown and shifted it to Tunney's shoulders for a year.

No matter who wins it will be a record breaker in many ways. Soldiers' Field, Chicago, is an ideal setting for such an important bout. It is expected that a crowd of over 150,000 people will be able to view the fight. Westerners and Easterners alike will have an opportunity to go. Every town of any importance within a radius of 3,000 miles will have its contingent. The betting now looks like even money and take your choice, with the old reliable backing Dempsey.

BRITISH AFTER POLO TROPHY

Team Representing Army in India to Meet Yankees Next Monday for Championship

MEADOWBROOK, B.C., Sept. 1.—Perhaps the greatest gathering in the history of the game will assemble at the Meadowbrook Club to watch the series for the international polo trophy to determine the supremacy as between Britain and the United States. The United States has selected its best team while the team representing the British army in India has been training for almost a year.

The international trophy now remains in the possession of the United States. The American team this year will have two members who are rated as ten goal men, which is the highest rating ever made. They are Hitchcock and Milburn. The British team has two players rated with nine goals, Roark and Atkinson, and the team shows a goal getting strength of 33 against the Americans' 34. This is not significant, but it is probable that the Americans will trot out on the field at Meadowbrook for the first game of the series on September 5 slight favorites.

At least it can be said that Great Britain never set out more determinedly in her history to win an international trophy than in the present case. The team has been training ever since last October. The Indian Army asked permission of the autocrats of the game at Hurlington to get together a team to win back the cup and when it was granted the prospective players were ordered to report for practice ten months ago. Throughout last winter the team, or rather a dozen prospective candidates for it, played polo in India, and finally a selection of half a dozen was made. This group sailed for England and there played only one formal game, preferring, as Col. Tomkinson said, not to lose the feel of the fast turf of India, a type of field which he expected to find in the United States.

WOMEN ARE LOSING THEIR MASCULINITY

Hips Again Discovered and Waist Line Appearing with Longer Hair

PARIS, Sept. 2.—Knees are going into eclipse next winter. Waist-lines will be worn and hips have been reinstated.

This bulletin from the sanctum of the dressmakers, where winter fashions are being shown to buyers from foreign countries may have immediate effect on the white bread and pastry consumption of the world.

If women follow Paris—and they have done so for centuries—curves will again be worn without apology. Bread and potatoes fit right in with the Be-more-Feminine campaign, which includes everything connected with the fashion trade from hair goods to jewelry.

Short hair is threatened, if not actually doomed, by fashion-makers. Now that ruffles are back, with all they stand for, almost anything may happen in the world of style.

Not all the important dressmakers have shown their collections as yet. Some of the leaders are still to come. But even if well-known houses contradict curves, the buyers have seen and liked them and placed many orders for clothes which are fitted to the waist-line.

Many of these models have circular skirts and nearly all of them reach several inches below the knee. They give back to women that old familiar "fair sex" look, of which shingles, slims and trouser skirts had robbed them. Even designers who have not gone the whole way toward curves and the new silhouette have edged away from masculine styles.

The rediscovery of hips is the most startling development of the style changes. The reducing parlors and deluxe gymnasiums which thrive in Paris already are worried by the threat to slenderness contained in the new curved line.

Part of the back-to-femininity move is the partial eclipse of sport clothes for day wear and the reinstatement of afternoon dresses.

SUCCESSFUL TEA AND SALE BY MOOSEHEART WOMEN HELD THURSDAY

The tea and sale of home cooking held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. Whatman Sr., 1269 Beach Place, by the Women of the Mooseheart Legion, was well attended. A cake donated by Mrs. C. R. Biggart was won by Mrs. J. M. Graham, the lucky number being drawn by B. J. Bacon. Mrs. Whatman was assisted in entertaining by Mrs. J. A. Strang, Mrs. L. R. Parry, and Mrs. W. Rance, and the proceeds of the affair amounted to $22.

TERROR ABOARD LITTLE VESSEL

Ship's Cook Tried for Murder Following an Unlucky Voyage to Africa

NEW YORK, Sep. 1.—Terror and the superstition of the sea were aboard the Kingsway during that unlucky schooner's voyage to the African Gold Coast in the Gulf of Guinea, according to testimony in the Federal Court at the trial of the ship's cook for the murder of his wife on the trip. The dread settled on the veteran salts after the cook, a wiry little negro, had twice slipped the irons that held his wrists. He had used a rusty razor with terrible effect on his wife, and with that vivid memory the crew scanned the shadowy decks at night fearful of another escape and another crime.

Many things stimulated the imaginations and the uneasiness of the able seamen. The flap of a loose rope, the ghostly flight of a piece of white paper along the dusty companionways, the screech of timbers in the bulkheads, complaining under the buffet of a wave, these quickened the fears of the sailors as they padded about barefooted or on rope-soled shoes, often startling each other by unexpected encounters in dark corners.

MATE DIED

Arousing the superstition bred by wild nights amid the desolation of the restless wastes, were other events that seldom come to proper craft. First, the mate, a quiet spoken old man, who had been mild as a lamb after he got too old to keep on being a lion, curled up in his bunk and died. There had been a funeral at sea, with the skipper reading a prayer, and all hands on deck, and a splash as the weighted canvas went over the side.

Then Earl Battice, the cook, had slashed his wife and her groans had sounded on the ship for seven days and nights when there had been another splash alongside. Bad as all these had been for nerves of men who had signed on merely for a peaceful venture, involving lumber and cocoa beans, there had been other happenings and persons. There had been an emotional Spanish girl with a knife in the pocket of her skirt—it really wasn't carried there but she had it and it was out of sight—who had whipped out the weapon and begged to be killed when the cook's plan to ship her instead of his lawful spouse went astray.

NIGHT SCREAMS

Another knife there had been, a keen-edged affair, which the cook hoisted in the mattress of his berth. And screams at night over the water of the harbor of San Juan Porto Rico, a woman's angry outburst heard by the wondering skipper and the two men rowing him from shore to ship.

None of this had been in the articles signed by the crew, nor had they expected to see the master waving a clenched fist under the nose of the donkey-engine man, and there had been no appreciation of the grim humor of the cook's threat to drown himself unless the captain curbed his appetite for cake when the makings of such dainties were not to be had.

U.S. NAVY IS VITAL ISSUE

Political Writer Suggests Great Expansion of American Sea Power

DISAPPOINTED AT BRITAIN

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The failure of the recent Geneva conference to bring about a further limitation of naval armament by Great Britain, the United States and Japan, will bring the issue of America's future cruiser strength squarely before the next Congress and likely will result in a definite program of naval expansion, in the opinion of Frank H. Simonds, noted international political observer.

"Nothing is more certain now than that Congress and not the White House will take over the naval debate," declares Mr. Simonds, surveying the post-conference situation in the September issue of the Review of Reviews. "Congress was with difficulty restrained from a naval program during the past two years by the insistence that first the Disarmament Conference of the League of Nations, and later the Anglo-American-Japanese meeting, would insure an arrangement by which the United States would obtain equality with economy," he points out.

MUST BUILD

"That argument is exploded now.

A TREAT FOR YOU!

Congress is seized with the fact that we have not achieved equality and cannot get it unless we are prepared to build.

"The American people are also informed," "Contentedly, they may not care to embark upon a great naval expense, but they are hardly likely to agree to any convention which under color of nominal equality imposes enduring inferiority."

"From the Congressional point of view, Ambassador Gibson did not fail at Geneva. On the contrary, he successfully maintained the only American thesis which Congress or the country will accept, namely equality, as both see it. We emerged from an international conference for the first time having lost nothing, having given nothing."

PRESENT POSITION

As the situation stands, Mr. Simonds points out, British cruisers outnumber those of the United States by three to one and the comparison in tonnage is 400,000 tons to 100,000, with Britain taking the position that America to achieve parity should build up to 400,000 tons, not in the 10,000 ton cruisers deemed fitted to American needs, but in 6,000 ton boats, which class includes the bulk of the British cruiser fleet. Further, Britain would reserve the right to equal our 10,000 ton boats on the ground that her 6,000 ton class is essential for patrol work among her scattered dominions and not to be considered in discussions of equal war strength.

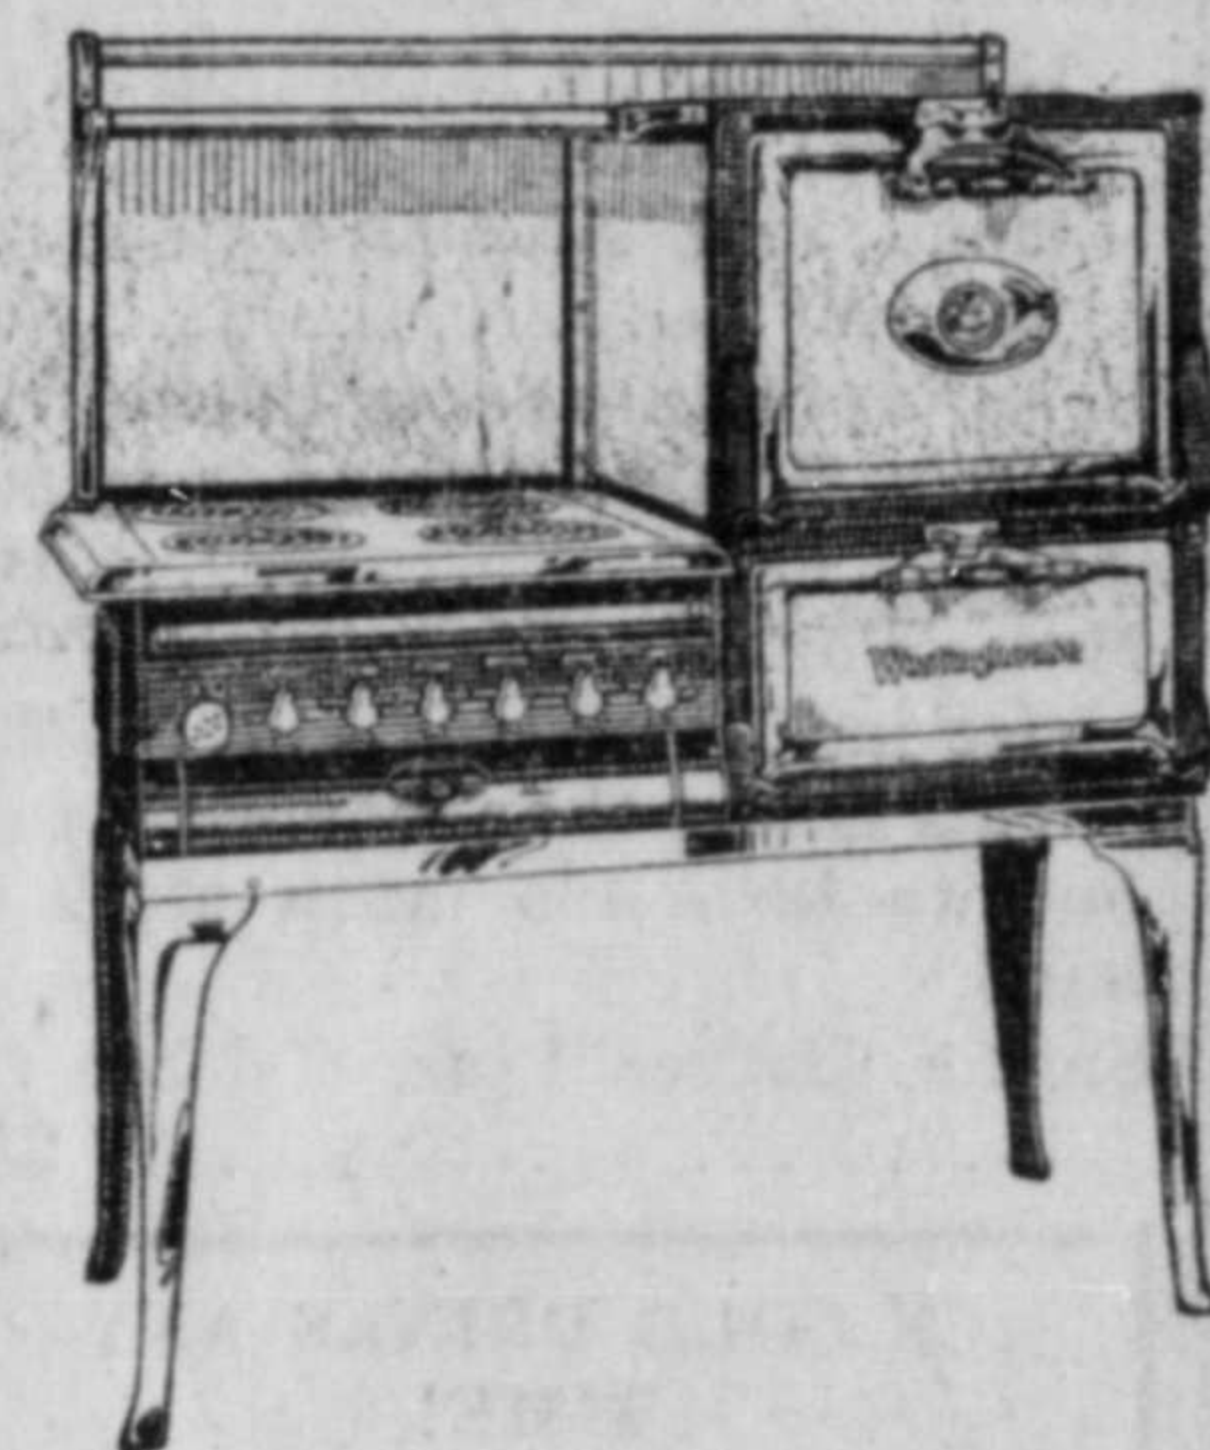

"We went to Geneva on a false basis and with a complete misconception of the possible," says his Review of Reviews article, which holds that Britain had never considered sacrificing its superiority in cruisers as America had given up its superiority in battleships at Washington.

NEEDS PRESENT TONNAGE

"London at all times had insisted that it would not scrap ships and that it needed its existing tonnage. The idea of combining economy with parity was at all times preposterous because it sought to obtain an American end

PRICE OF TEA AND PEACHES GOING HIGHER

McIntosh Red Apples Arrive in Town and Italian Prunes Due Next Week or so

Tea prices continue steady with every prospect of an early advance. Calcutta cables report a decrease in the production of Indian Teas up to the end of July of 12 million pounds as compared with the same period last year. If the Calcutta tea market maintains the advances recorded since that market opened on June 5, there undoubtedly will be an advance in every line of package teas on the market.

McIntosh Red apples have arrived. The initial shipment while a trifle green and lacking usual color, tastes as of old and before long many car loads will be rolling to Rupert. The opening price is $4.25 per box.

PRESERVING PEACHES: The bulk of the movement of preserving peaches is now on. Prices this season are considerably higher than last and it looks like it would be a mistake to wait for lower prices as growers all predict advances as the season progresses. Most stores are quoting $2 per case.

Italian Prunes are due within a week or so. Opening prices have not been named but it is expected that the price on prunes as on other stone fruit will be higher than last year.

FOR PICKLING: Pickling lines are getting more plentiful now. Green tomatoes, large pickling cucumbers, green peppers, pickling onions, cauliflower, celery, red cabbage, etc. are now on the market. Prices are practically the same as last year. Crab apples are also coming in pear boxes averaging 35 lbs. net weight. The retail price is 3 lbs for 25c; per case $2.25.

In the country of the Kazaks every daughter of the house was allowed to make a rug for her "trousseau," composing her own designs, and expressing her own individuality. So the very religiously minded wove into their designs the sacred symbols of the tarantula or the sign of the female element of the sun, the eight-pointed star. One weaver might portray the tarantula in as realistic manner as possible, while another dreamer weaver would work out a symbolical tarantula, with numberless legs, a kind of mythical figure. A native religious symbol almost always found on their prayer rugs is the double hook, the bent hook by which the spider clings to its web, the meaning of this figure being, "When you reach paradise may you be able to stick there." Another maiden, more cordially minded, might work into her design the wooden wine-cup, the significance being "I drink to your health." The wine-cup and the wavy line are motifs often employed in rugs made as gifts to friends.
