MUCH SPECULATION AS TO OLIVER AND NEXT PREMIER

Announcement Expected Follow Liberal Caucus

NEW PREMIER WILL BE NAMED IF OLIVER DECIDES TO RETIRE AND McLEAN IS THOUGHT TO BE THE MAN

VICTORIA, July 15.—Following the adjournment of yesterday's cabinet meeting without an announcement being made, Monday with the Liberal caucus is looked to for an announcement of the future plans of Premier Oliver and his government.

That the Premier will resign either immediately or announce his retirement at some near date and that Hon. Dr. McLean will succeed him seems to be the generally accepted opinion. Yesterday's meeting was secret but it is presumed there was a thorough discussion and a decision on the course to lay before the caucus.

GIANTS SCURRY FOR POSITION

Two Crushing Defeats From Tail Enders; Ruth and Gehrig Are Hitless

NEW YORK, July 15.—Suffering from two crushing defeats from the tail end club, the Giants are scurrying to keep in the first division. Cincinnati took a double header.

Both Pittsburgh and Chicago won yesterday, returning to their respective positions.

Cleveland stopped her eight game losing streak, beating the Yankees. Both Ruth and Gehrig were hitless against Miller.

Held to five hits the St. Louis Browns beat Boston.

AMERICAN LEAGUE

BOBBY JONES BEAT RECORD

Did 72 Holes in 285 Strokes at St. Andrew's Links in Open Tournament

ST. ANDREW'S, Scotland, July 15.—Bobby Jones won the British open golf tournament today, doing the 72 holes in 285 strokes. Today's round was done in 72. He broke his own record of last year and that of James Braid in 1908 by six strokes and was one over America's best open gold score by Chick Evans in 1916.

Fred Robson and Aubrey Boomer, runners up, did the 70 holes in 291, equalling their old record.

BYLAWS PASSED BY VICTORIANS

VICTORIA, July 15.—The ratepayers yesterday endorsed bylaws providing for support for the establishment of a motion picture industry here and for construction of cold storage houses.

BIDS FOR REPAIRS TO CHALLAMBA ARE HIGH

VICTORIA, July 15.—Bids for the repair of the Challamba, which stranded at Whitecliff Island ranging from $120,000 to $150,000 were opened here yesterday and referred to Loyds for decision.

WOLVES ARE RAIDING ALASKA RESIDENTS

SEWARD, July 15.—For the first time in years wolves are appearing in the Keni Peninsula raiding the yards of the residents and playing havoc among the moose.

AIRPLANE FELL ON THE OCEAN

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—The Smith transpacific plane was forced down on the water at 7:39 this morning from lack of fuel when 700 miles from Honolulu. A steamer is rushing to its aid.

HONOLULU, July 15.—The transpacific monoplane struck water 400 miles from the nearest land at 7:45 Pacific time. Four steamers are going to aid the flyer, the nearest being the Wilhelmina, 75 miles from where the last S.O.S. was heard.

The plane covered the 1700 miles in 21 hours, 5 minutes.

How long the plane can float is a matter of conjecture. She was equipped with sufficient supplies and had a rubber lifeboat on board.

Aviators Smith and Bronte cannot know that aid is coming because their receiving set broke down some hours ago.

Unless there is an unexpected division of opinion when matters are laid before the members, it is expected that an announcement will follow which will cover the plans of the premier and in case of his retirement, the naming of his successor and also decision as to whether or not an election will be held.

Some cabinet reconstruction is likely to follow the retirement of Premier Oliver as the present members of the government all retire automatically when the premier resigns and the new premier has a free hand in the choosing of his ministers.

DARK HORSE IS POSSIBLE

Several Men Said to Fancy Themselves Wearing the Oliver Mantle

VICTORIA, July 15.—While the generally accepted opinion is that Dr. McLean will succeed Premier Oliver, there are others in the cabinet and outside who are said to fancy that the Oliver mantle would look well on their shoulders. Prominent among these are Hon. A. M. Manson, Hon. T. D. Pattullo and Hon. W. H. Sutherland, inside the cabinet and Victor Odium, M.P., publisher of the Star newspaper, outside the cabinet. Each of these men disclaims any wish to be premier, but it is accepted as fact that either would be glad to serve the public that way if the call to do so was clear and loud. However McLean has fewer enemies than any of the others and, while not a particularly good speaker, is an able administrator.

BOAT STRUCK BY STEAMER

Two Fishermen Picked up by Prince George

While steaming slowly through the fog this morning inbound the Prince George struck and sank a salmon boat. The two occupants, Geo. Ness and Christianson, were thrown into the water but were picked up by a boat powered from the Prince George none the worse for their experience beyond the wetting. The boat was lost.

MORE TEACHERS IN ONTARIO THAN JOBS

CHESELEY, Ont., July 15.—"Though more than the usual number of women public school teachers are matrimonially inclined this summer," says the Enterprise, "so many are graduating from the seven Normal Schools that the supply is greatly exceeding the demand. For Gilles High School no fewer than 206 applications from teachers holding first and second class certificates were received by Robert Sloan, the secretary. The salaries asked ranged from $650 to $1,200."

The Camera As Hawk

The top part of this picture is what a 14,000 ton-liner looks like from a height of over 250 feet. This picture of the Cunarder Alania was snapped perilously from the topmost girder of the famous Quebec bridge over the St. Lawrence. It is the first time that such a photograph has ever been taken.

Below is what the bridge looks like from a Cunarder's deck. Although the centre span of the structure is 153 feet above high water level, the masts of the ship clear only just comfortably, and, to the watching passengers, miraculously.

VIENNA RIOT SUCCESSFUL

Police Unable to Quell Street Fighting Although Firearms Used

VIENNA, July 15.—Police are taking measures which virtually amount to martial law to break up the intense street fighting which followed the acquittal of soldiers accused of murdering socialists. The number of dead is variously estimated at from fifty to several hundred.

The police were powerless before the onslaught although they used firearms. Attacks were made on the University, the Parliament Buildings and the Court House.

LONDON, July 15.—The Evening News correspondent describes the Viennese riots as a revolution, apparently organized and succeeding. The troops are to be depended on, he says.

CANADA WINNER OF MACKINNON CUP AT BISLEY YESTERDAY

BISLEY, July 15.—Canada won the Mackinnon challenge cup yesterday by nineteen points from teams representing other parts of the Empire in the big rifle meet here.

HALIBUT BOAT IS ASHORE METLAKATLA

The halibut boat Atlantic which left Ketchikan yesterday forenoon ran aground in Metlakatla Passage last night. It is not thought that any serious damage has been caused and it is expected that she will be floated on tomorrow morning's high tide.

Ed. Chesley, old timer and ex-farmer, left today for Toronto where he plans to remain.

JURY VERDICT ENDS INQUEST

Painter at Royal Alexandra Exonerated of all Blame For Fire

OWNER IS CENSURED

Use of Chemical Was Contrary to City of Vancouver Fire Bylaws

VANCOUVER, July 15.—David Henderson, charged with manslaughter in connection with the Royal Alexandra apartment fire, was exonerated from all blame when the coroner's jury returned a verdict yesterday afternoon at the conclusion of the inquest which reads:

"We find Mrs. Emily Richerby and others came to their deaths through the effects of burns and asphyxiation on July 8.

"We believe the fire was caused by the use of a paint remover preparation, now proved to be of a highly inflammable nature in suite 401 and the storage and use of which is strictly prohibited by the city fire by-laws. David Henderson, user of the paint remover, said paint remover having been supplied to him by the management and the dangerous nature of which he was ignorant, we exonerate entirely from all blame as being the cause of the fire. We strongly censure the owner of the building, G. E. Lightheart, for supplying and permitting the use of such a dangerous compound and strongly deprecate the sale of it to an unsuspecting public."

PRETTY WEDDING AT PRESBYTERIAN MANSE

Miss Horning of Vancouver Becomes Bride of John Ellis Morris of Prince Rupert

A very pretty quiet wedding took place last evening at the Presbyterian Manse at eight o'clock. Rev. J. R. Frizzell officiating, when Miss Rhea Viola Horning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Horning of Vancouver became the bride of John Ellis Morris, broker of this city. Only the parents of the contracting parties and a few invited guests were present at the ceremony.

The bride looked very pretty in a gown of French beige georgette and large picture hat. Her bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Muriel Morris, who wore orchid taffeta. A little sister of the bride looked very sweet as flower girl in peach georgette, carrying a basket of roses and carnations.

The groom's man was a brother of the bride, Leslie George Horning.

Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was served at the groom's home. Mr. and Mrs. Morris will live in a suite in the Westenhaver Block.

DELIGHTFUL DANCE GIVEN FOR VISITOR

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bazett-Jones gave a delightful dance in honor of Sidney Bazett and his bride in the I.O.E. Hall last evening. The decorations were unusually pretty, the prevailing colors being pink and green. Mrs. Ponder's orchestra supplied the music for the dance, which was thoroughly enjoyed by the guests, of whom there were one hundred and seventy.

NO FAIR TRIAL FOR SANKEY IS BEING CLAIMED

Change of Venue is Sought For That Reason by Counsel for Prisoner

VANCOUVER, July 15.—On the ground that Joseph Sankey, 22-year-old Tsimphean Indian, would not be accorded a fair trial at Prince Rupert for the alleged murder of Miss Loretta Ghisholm, J. E. Bird, defense counsel, instructed by the department of Indian affairs at Ottawa, has applied to Supreme Court to change venue to either Vancouver or New Westminster.

The application will be heard on August 3.

Four affidavits have been filed in support of the application and one is by Mr. Bird. He deposed that recently, after Sankey had been granted a new trial by the Supreme Court of Canada, he interviewed many people in Port Essington, where the alleged crime occurred more than a year ago, and it was commonly reported there that Sankey had been previously involved in similar trouble owing to an alleged attack on an Indian girl.

The deponent was also told by L. W. Patmore, Prince Rupert lawyer, that it was common report that Sankey had an evil record. The wife of the Port Essington postmaster told Mr. Bird that there was strong feeling against the Indian accused.

Sankey's counsel contended there was antagonism between Dominion and Provincial Police in their handling of the case, which prejudiced a fair trial at Prince Rupert. He explained that the inspector of provincial police, Prince Rupert, had subjected himself to comment from judges of the Court of Appeal and of the Supreme Court of Canada, as being too anxious to obtain a conviction.

Similar affidavits were filed from J. Arthur Smith, Prince Rupert store proprietor; Max Heilbronner, Prince Rupert jewelry store proprietor; and by Mr. Patmore.

PRICES OF FISH LOWER TODAY

Fish arrivals were heavy at the Fish Exchange today but prices were low. The hot weather in the east and the fact that it is at the week-end had an adverse effect on the bidding and two boats, an American, the Onah and the Canadian, All, preferred to hold their catches till tomorrow. The Signal arrived after the bidding was over and did not offer for sale.

CRISIS IN CABINET

It is now considered a pretty sure bet that Premier Oliver is about to retire and that it is to be left to the members to choose who shall be their leader in the future. The moment Premier Oliver resigns all his ministers go out with him and cease to hold any executive position until reappointed by the new premier.

While it is confidently expected that one of the present ministers will be chosen for the position there is always the possibility of an outsider being called upon. Whoever is the man, he will be appointed by the Lieutenant Governor on the advice of Premier Oliver, but Premier Oliver will act in a thoroughly constitutional manner and will choose the man who is, in his opinion, most likely to have the confidence of his fellow Liberals in the legislature.

PARENTS AND CHILDREN

The Edmonton Journal discusses interestingly the difference in the relations of parents and children today from that of old days. It follows:

One of the commonest complaints heard nowadays is that our young people no longer have any respect for their parents, and no longer yield them anything approaching to due obedience. The day of the stern Roman father is said to be over. No longer is the rod an ever present menace to the youthful spark intent on mischief. No longer does the demure maiden, in her teens and her first love affair, dread that she will be imprisoned in her locked bedroom on a diet of bread and water until she promises with tears to give up the unapproved swain.

What school boy nowadays addresses his father even on formal occasions as "Sir"? What parent would venture without fear of meeting the "Ha-ha" of youthful derision, to point out that "little boys should be seen and not heard"? The day of these things is over. The modern parent is inclined to think himself fairly lucky if he is allowed to know approximately what his children are doing, where they are doing it, and what it will cost him when they have finished doing it. Those who remember when things were quite otherwise, are apt to shake their heads sorrowfully, and say that this is a degenerate age which will assuredly come to a bad end.

ALWAYS WAS DISOBEDIENCE

It is not a new saying. It has been said in varying phraseology by the old people of almost every generation which has left any record behind it of its words and thoughts. How far is there truth in it now? One thing at least is certain, and that is that disobedient children have flourished like green bay trees from the dawn of the human race. There may have been at varying times in history more of outward respect, and formal submission rendered from children to parents. But the rebellion of young blood and inexperienced heads against the sober caution of grey hairs and experience is no new thing.

That being so, is it necessary to despair because the children of today do not approach their parents in fear and trembling? It is possible to argue that the old order of things made for a lack of mutual confidence as between parent and child. The father who was a sort of minor Providence to his children, and usually a frowning Providence at that, with a hand both strong and ready to smite on small enough provocation, might certainly exact superficial obedience. But he was apt to miss a good deal of sunny friendship, which was offered in generous measure to other men, who did not bother about standing on their dignity with the children. Is not the truth that parents who take the trouble to watch over and understand their children, and who are careful so to order their ways that they deserve their children's respect, will get that respect without the necessity of a cast-iron semi-mediaeval discipline?

AVERAGE MODERN CHILD

The average child is usually a fairly candid clear-sighted judge of human nature. He or she will take advantage of weakness—as will almost every grownup person—and will render respect to character more readily than most grownups. Parents who use the tact of years in giving to youth the advisory benefit of years will usually find in modern young people just as much genuine respect and obedience as in the days of the well worn rod and the locked chamber. With the respect and obedience they will get also the friendship which will repay all that has gone to the earning of it.

LIQUOR LAWS ARE TANGLED

Dominion and Provincial Regulations Seem to Overlap in Some Provinces

OTTAWA, July 15.—(Canadian Press).—Canada's liquor laws appear to be in an almost hopelessly tangled state. With seven out of nine provinces of the Dominion now functioning under a system of government control of the sale of liquor, several knotty questions have been recommended by Dominion law officers for interpretation by the courts.

POINTS TO DECIDE

Three leading points which the judiciary may be called upon to decide are: Is the importation of liquor into the provinces of Prince Edward Island, Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta still prohibited under the Canada Temperance Act?

Is the exportation of liquor out of the provinces of Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta still prohibited under the Canada Temperance Act? Is the New Brunswick Liquor Act respecting government control as restrictive as the Canada Temperance Act, and, if so, should seven of the counties in that province be again placed under a provision of the Canada Temperance Act prohibiting local sale?

ORDERS IN COUNCIL

With respect to the first point, there are Dominion orders-in-council prohibiting the importation of liquor into these provinces under the Canada Temperance Act. Do these orders-in-council, it is technically questioned, affect such of the seven provinces as have adopted government control? Under an old axiom, it would appear that, as laws do not apply to governments unless they so expressly state, the governments of these provinces are exempted from the provision of the Act, although private individuals are restrained. Again, it is asked whether those orders-in-council automatically lapse when the provinces to which they applied ceased to be dry. If the orders-in-council have lapsed, what authority is there to prevent the private individual from importing, seeing that the regulation of importation is a Dominion matter?

In regard to the question of exportation, orders-in-council have been passed by the Dominion government prohibiting exportation of liquor from Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, as a consequence of resolutions passed by the respective provincial legislatures. These orders-in-council prohibit exportation on condition that prohibition is still in force in these provinces. Under government sale in these provinces, it is asked, is prohibition, within the meaning of the Canada Temperance Act, still in effect? If it is decided that prohibition is not in force in these provinces, within the meaning of the Act, then exportation, it is argued, is logically permitted.

NEW BRUNSWICK SITUATION

On the third point regarding the situation affecting New Brunswick, seven counties in that province by plebiscite expressed their desire some years ago to have sale of liquor prohibited locally under the Canada Temperance Act. Orders-in-council were accordingly passed by the Federal government. During the war, the Doherty Act was enacted permitting the suspension of such prohibitory regulations without a further plebiscite. Under this latter Act, the provision in question of the Canada Temperance Act was suspended for the seven counties, as long as the provincial Act of New Brunswick remained as restrictive as the Canada Temperance Act. The question for the courts to decide is whether the new New Brunswick Liquor Control Act is as restrictive as the Canada Temperance Act.

Man in the Moon

WHAT will the chronic grouser do about yesterday's weather? He might complain that it was too warm, of course.

IT is hoped that before any election takes place there will be legislation passed shortening the length of political speeches. Possibly they'll in time be like the women's dresses, gradually shorten themselves.

SHRINKING, shrinking, little dress. Yes, you're getting slowly less. Very soon some flapper rash. Will wear nothing but a sash.

This question of wearing things has always been an important one. Some women wear their hearts on their sleeves and others show their badge of slavery by a diamond ring on the third finger.

IT would be interesting to speculate on what the woman of 1950 will be wearing. Possibly . . . (I had to whisper the last bit).

MAN is said to be the only animal that can be skinned more than once.

QUITE RANK. A certain London theatre manager is punctilious about the retention of his war-service rank. A well-known actor called on him at the theatre and asked for "Mr. Dash."

The well-trained door-keeper replied "I will tell Colonel Dash, he is upstairs."

TO WRITE STORY OF HALIBUT FISHERIES

Noted Author in Ketchikan Getting Local Color For His New Book

KETCHIKAN, July 15.—Edison Marshall, author, is in Ketchikan to obtain material for a new book dealing with the halibut industry of Southeastern Alaska. He has left on one of the halibut schooners operating out of Ketchikan.

Mr. Marshall has written numerous stories concerning Alaska, but he probably is best known to Ketchikan residents through his novel, "Child of the Wild," which ran as a serial last year in Good Housekeeping magazine. His next novel, "The Far Call," starts in August number of Good Housekeeping and will run for six months, after which it will appear as a book and a motion picture.

"The Far Call" is laid on the Pribilof Islands, of Bering Sea. He visited the island and obtained the material for the novel through the co-operation of Henry Ward O'Malley, commissioner of fisheries, and the United States navy. The novel deals with the seal fisheries. The author intends that his next, to be written as soon as he collects the material, shall centre in the halibut industry at Ketchikan. He arrived here Sunday aboard the Dorothy Alexander from the north, where he has just completed a trip in the Yukon River country. His home is in South Carolina.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Reports state that a group of New York and Chicago capitalists is ready to expend the sum of $18,000,000 in opening iron mines and establishing smelters, blast furnaces and a steel manufacturing plant in British Columbia with headquarters in Vancouver.

King George, who was accompanied by the Queen has returned from his fourth visit to the front.

Over seven hundred perished when the British battleship Vanguard 19,250 tons blew up from an internal explosion.

A big copper strike is reported from Rochede Boule.

A fire near Beach Place destroyed the two and half storey building that J. Brooks and family had vacated the previous day.

The Prince Rupert Cadet Corps, under J. C. Brady, returned from a fortnight's camp at Terrace. Alex Rix, was unlucky enough to sprain his ankle while in camp.

It is reported that Sir Richard McBride, who recently resigned office because of illness, is partially blind, and will not leave for British Columbia till he is stronger.

STEWART

The Border Queen took out 25 tons of Riverside concentrates this week.

Emil Davis, well-known local mining man, put a shot through his little finger at American creek and Dr. Williams had to amputate it.

O. B. Bush arrived Saturday and has started diamond drilling on his Border claim.
