Orient-Rupert Shipping Heralded By First Cargo

Japanese Freighter To Land Oranges Here

First Trans-Ocean Shipment Since Before First World War
By ERIC SANDERSON

First shipment of merchandise to Prince Rupert from the Orient since the frontier days will arrive here Saturday night, heralding what may be the start of lucrative trading.

The 10,000-ton K Line freighter Taigen Maru, about 12,000 bundles will be distributed in the Prince Rupert territory and three carloads will be transported over Canadian National Railway lines to other B.C. centres.

Nineteen other carloads will be shipped to prairie points as far as Winnipeg. The ship, under charter to North Pacific Shipping Company, left Shimizu, Japan, on Nov. 12 and after discharging the oranges here will head for Tacoma, Seattle, Portland and Vancouver with general cargo.

Unloading is not expected to get under way until Sunday. Prior to her arrival, the Ocean Venus is scheduled to leave with another 400,000 bushels of barley for Japan, and the Tatsui Maru, which is also loading barley, is scheduled to sail next Tuesday.

FUTURE CARGOES
The Japanese oranges were ordered brought through this port by the Mandarin Orange Company and Dave McNair & Company, Limited, general importers in Vancouver.

Shipping officials said there are no other orders on hand for direct shipments from the Orient but indicated future trade depends to a great extent on the time saved and clearance of cargo.

The Taigen Maru is the first freighter to come here loaded. All ships which have entered the port for grain since the Dominion Government Grain Elevator resumed operations last November 28 have come here empty.

The Tatsui Maru is the 28th grain ship to load here. One veteran shipping man said appointment of Hon. R. W. Mayhew as Canadian Ambassador to Japan a few weeks ago will probably bolster Rupert's chances of developing into a great port.

Prince Rupert is 500 miles closer to the Orient than any other port on the Pacific coast, either in Canada or the United States.

Recognized as Canada's most strategic Pacific port, it has direct rail connection with eastern Canada and the United States and during the past year has received much praise for the efficient handling of grain. Mr. Mayhew visited this city with Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent last September and at that time made a brief inspection of docking facilities.

GOING TO PARIS — Group Capt. Lawson H. Randall, DFC, 37, of Saint John, N.B., has been chosen to attend the third course of the NATO defence college in Paris early next year. A veteran of anti-submarine warfare in the Arctic, Atlantic and Indian oceans, he commanded Canada's first squadron to operate in the Far East. He was air attaché to Moscow from May, 1948, until his appointment as commanding officer of the RCAF station at Winnipeg in January, 1951. (CP from National Defence)

Throne Speech Starts Tax Speculation
OTTAWA — Parliament Hill speculated today that Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent has liberated himself from a condition which precludes substantial tax cuts before a possible 1953 general election.

The case rests on two quotes. In the Commons last March 6, Mr. St. Laurent said there may very well be some tax adjustments, "but so long as the world situation continues as it is, I cannot hold out any hope to the Canadian people of any substantial reduction in the scale of the rate of taxation in this country."

Yesterday, the Prime Minister's cabinet, through the speech from the Throne, said in reference to the world situation "there are signs of a lessening of the danger of an outbreak of war on a global scale."

The WEATHERMAN Says

Clear skies and light winds contributed conditions for a sharp drop in minimum temperatures in almost all regions of British Columbia.

Coldest spot in the province was the Kootenay Valley where the mercury fell to eleven above—lowest record this year and 16 degrees below the reading 24 hours ago. Temperatures near the coast varied between 30 and 35 above.

Southern half of the province will enjoy sunny skies today and Saturday. It will be clear and cold at night. Moist air from the Pacific is causing cloudy skies over the Queen Charlottes and along the northern mainland.

Skipper Drowns In Fast Rapids
VANCOUVER — Richard Robson 23-year-old tugboat skipper of Vancouver, was drowned Wednesday when a rowboat he was using to check the progress of a boom of logs overturned.

The mishap occurred in the turbulent rapids at the mouth of Bute Inlet, 100 miles north of here.

Forecast

Indian Plan Endorsed by Nehru Appeals Other Nations

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — Secretary Eden of Britain on Thursday endorsed the Indian plan to solve the prisoner-of-war problem in Korea. A speech to the UN's 60-nation political committee, called the plan a "timely and constructive way" to end the war over prisoners and thus about a truce.

"I have been right," Eden said, "in insisting upon the principle of non-forcible repatriation of prisoners-of-war."

"Never," he added, "when a man comes along which upholds these principles while at the same time offering the constructive way to end the war, I ought not to be silent."

While in New Delhi, Mr. Nehru appealed to all countries—including Communist China—to accept proposals for settling the war prisoners dispute as which "might well lead to ending the tremendous burden of an oppressive human-

Flying Vikings Blaze New Air Trail Over Polar Ice

COPENHAGEN, Denmark—Twentieth century Vikings, winging their American-built plane across the Polar icecap, blazed a dramatic new era of commerce in their California-Europe flight ending here last night.

Thirteen crewmen of the Scandinavian Air Lines plane "Arlid Viking" brought their 22 passengers to landing in a soft Danish drizzle at Kastrup airport—just 28 hours and seven minutes after leaving Los Angeles.

They had spent 23 hours, 38 minutes in flying 3,832 miles. Four hours, 25 minutes was spent on the ground at Edmonton and at the U.S. air force base at Thule, Greenland, getting gas for their DC-6B.

The flight is intended to blaze a direct air trail from sunny California to Europe, with the bleak and frigid Polar regions as the gateway.

It is 1,000 miles shorter than by way of New York.

A scheduled service will be started by spring if both United States and Canadian governments approve.

B.C. Group Urges 5-Year Road Project

VANCOUVER — The provincial government will be asked to embark on a five-year highway construction program and to extend the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Vancouver.

These requests and others were approved at the closing session of the British Columbia Chamber of Commerce annual meeting here.

The five-year highway construction request is aimed at completion of main routes first, then continued improvement of secondary roads.

It also requests early consideration of major bridge construction on a toll basis, under a "toll bridge authority."

In labor, the Chamber urged retention of the government supervised strike vote; opposed sympathy strikes, jurisdictional strikes and "mass picketing" but recognized labor's right to strike, and urged full enforcement of the law in case of violation of labor-management agreements.

Early completion of the Squamish-Vancouver link of the PGE was requested. Delegates also urged government action to counter a "potentially explosive situation" among Doukhobors.

Ship Grounds Near Alaska

JUNEAU (CP) — A 3,500-ton freighter, the Alaska Spruce, drifted around Thursday on Hinchinbrook Island at the entrance to Prince William Sound but was refloated four hours later, the U.S. Coast Guard reported.

A crew of 29 is aboard the Ocean Van Line vessel from Seattle. No apparent damage was done to the ship.

Lt.-Governor May Reappoint H.A. Members

Any member of the Prince Rupert Housing Authority established to administer the 50 homes being built here under a joint agreement between the Federal and Provincial governments and the city is eligible for re-appointment at the expiration of his term of office.

The order-in-council naming Orme Stuart chairman of the Authority for the next three years also says:

1. On expiration of the term of office of each member, and at intervals of three years thereafter, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appoint a member to hold office for a term of three years.

2. Where the office of a member becomes vacant during the term of the member appointed, the Lieutenant-Governor in Council may appoint a member for the remainder of the said term.

3. No member of the city council or city employee can hold office.

4. Members may make bylaws subject to the approval of the Lieutenant-Governor in Council governing the conduct of the business of the Authority.

Members of the Authority who will serve two-year terms are Norman Bellis and M. Willa Ray; R. G. Moore and Hugh A. MacKenzie will serve for one year.

In Telephone Booth

Triggerman Arrested by L.A. Police

LOS ANGELES (CP)—Leonard (The Lip) Mocerri, tabbed as the most wanted triggerman in the United States, was in custody today because he tried to use slugs in a telephone booth although he had $1,800 in his wallet and a Cadillac waiting outside.

With his arrest, police the country over sought answers from the deadpan mobster to unsolved gangland executions dating from the liquor bootlegging days to the modern Mafia.

Mocerri was arrested by telephone company officers after he dropped slugs into a phone for a long-distance call.

Police found papers on him with names, addresses and telephone numbers reading like an underworld "Who's Who."

By-Election Ordered to Fill Victoria Constituency Seat

OTTAWA — Speaker Ross MacDonald Thursday told Commons he has issued a warrant ordering the chief electoral officer to issue a writ for a by-election in the constituency of Victoria.

The seat became vacant with appointment of Hon. R. W. Mayhew, former Fisheries Minister, as Canadian ambassador to Japan.

Issue of the warrant means the government has six months in which to fix a date for the by-election.

TURBINE AIRLINER—The Vickers Viscount, the world's first propeller-turbine airliner, has started a regular London-Paris service for the British European Airways. The Viscount is designed as a medium civil transport carrying 32 to 43 passengers at high altitude in air-conditioned and pressurized cabins. The plane is powered by four Rolls-Royce Dart propeller-turbine engines mounted on the wings. Trans-Canada Air Lines announces it will purchase 15 of the new craft.

Ripple Rock Shipping Menace May be Removed Speech Hints

OTTAWA—Removal of Ripple Rock, menace to coastwise shipping and dreaded by mariners since the discovery of B.C., may be undertaken by the Federal government.

While no specific projects were mentioned in the Throne Speech at the opening of Parliament Thursday, it was indicated improvements are in prospect for aids to shipping on the Pacific Coast and informed quarters said the huge rock in Seymour Narrows, about 350 miles south of Prince Rupert, was being considered.

The rock, 100 feet in diameter, lies just below the surface and is in the path of thousands of ships and small craft that ply to and from northern B.C. and Alaskan ports.

The Ripple Rock proposal, it is understood, has been under study by the National Research Council and scientists at the University of B.C. for some time.

The Council is reported to be trying to work out the type of explosive that may be used to blast out the dangerous rock.

Tides of 10 to 12 knots race through the channel, churning the water at the rock into a cauldron of whirlpools that have sucked several small boats under with loss of life and dashed big ships against the rock.

"Between 1934 and 1945 the Federal government spent several million dollars attempting to blast 30 feet off the top of the rock. Nine men lost their lives in 1945 working on the project when a whirlpool overturned their work boat."

A cannery and reduction plant are located on the opposite shore of the cove to the pulp plant site.

Ocean-going freighters will be able to dock at the wharf and while present plans call for shipment of much of the company's products by barge through Prince Rupert, it is expected ships bringing material here for the plant will load lumber and other supplies for export.

The plant will have an initial capacity of 325 tons of pulp daily and later the output will be increased to 550 tons.

A ferry slip also will be built at Prince Rupert. Work on a temporary four-car slip is expected to start shortly and a permanent eight-car slip will be completed later.

Make Teaching Attractive

A JUNIOR high school principal in Victoria, B. C. Gillie, has drawn attention to a serious situation in this province which is becoming more serious all the time.

By Mr. Gillie's calculation, 1,000 young men and women should be trained each year as teachers to keep pace with the province's rapidly increasing population.

Ten years from now, Mr. Gillie predicts, there will be 10,000 more children of school age in the province than there are now.

The problem is of grave and intimate concern to every parent in B.C. Upon the personal attention that a teacher is able to give a pupil depends much of that child's future development.

For the slow student it will become a hopeless proposition, and more and more will drop out of school as the shortage of teachers becomes worse.

The only remedy for the shortage is to ensure that, by one means or another, the profession of teaching is made as attractive as it is valuable.

A Flaw in Policy

SOMEWHERE there is a very bad flaw in our immigration policy as it affects Great Britain. In the past four years the number of Britons coming to this country has decreased from 38 per cent of the total immigrants to 16 per cent.

While it will be admitted freely that an infusion of many races gives vigor and enterprise to a nation, as it has to the British people, it is disturbing that Canada is taking such little advantage of the British desire for settlement in this country.

"Interest in the advisability of settling in some other country, particularly in Canada, is both widespread and sustained," reports the Montreal branch of the Royal Empire Society.

"Everyone connected with the work of emigration from Great Britain can confirm this, though one need look no further than the fact that some 350,000 have gone to Australia since the war, many after finding their finances were insufficient to enable them to reach this country."

That last remark contains the clue to the whole story, and it should cover us with a national blush of shame. In spite of the far greater distance to Australia, it costs a young married couple with three small children only $100 to get there.

It is not Great Britain's fault that we do not have a similar arrangement. It is ours. Aside from putting up advertising posters which make pleasant reading, but little else, Canada has done absolutely nothing to encourage British migration to Canada.

If we carried our policy to its logical conclusion, we would have those posters returned. The backs would be good for naughts and crosses, particularly naughts.

THE LETTERBOX

LOYALTY TO RUSSIA Editor, Daily News: Since when did loyalty to the working class become a crime?

Since 1917, I and millions of other class conscious workers throughout the world stood firmly behind Russia in the great experiment of developing a working class republic by and for the working class.

For my part, my loyalty has never wavered, nor do I regret my action during those 35 years. In my opinion loyalty to principle is not a bad religion to follow though at times it requires iron in both blood and bone.

In no way do I regret being a Canadian or that I reside in Canada, but I am forced to point out to Canadians do not own Canada. In great part she is owned by foreigners who owe no allegiance in any way to the crown but reap the profit of our resources and the labor of our people.

GEORGE B. CASEY

Explains Situation Editor, The Daily News:

Where did you learn that Leonard Nix was lighting a coal stove with the aid of naphtha or gasoline at the Yacht Club when he was severely burned in a recent explosion there? He did no such thing.

When he opened the door to enter the cabin of the barge, an explosion of coal gas that had concentrated therein, due to faulty setting of the dampener in the chimney of the coal heater, roasted all his exposed flesh and blew him back 10 feet into rocks and brush.

This painful action by Leonard Nix quelled the progress of the blaze sufficiently to save the barge (which carried cans of inflammable oils and paints) and the Yacht Club shed a few feet away, until the fire department arrived.

W. C. LEWIS Editor's note: The Daily News did not say Mr. Nix lit the coal stove with the aid of naphtha or gasoline. It reported that he was carrying a can of gasoline at the time, which information was obtained from the best sources available.

As I See It by Elmore Philpott

Socreds Plead Free Bite CANAL, FLATS, B.C.—After travelling from end to end of this vast Rocky Mountain riding, and talking with hundreds of people in speeches or private conversation, I figure the biggest political laugh of the century may be shaping up.

The temporary Social Credit government of B.C. brought on this by-election to find a 100 per cent seat for the attorney-general. They picked this constituency as the most likely looking pushover.

TO UNDERSTAND the sudden Social Credit alarm you have to remember that last June, when Socreds won on the third count, there were four parties in the field.

Now the CCF leaders have made strenuous efforts to educate their followers to the downright insanity of giving their second choices to Social Credit—which is far more reactionary than the Tory party.

A MORE ominous sign for the Social Credit candidate is that two prominent Conservatives—Ted Zinken and the noted surgeon Dr. Williams, have both signed the nomination papers of the CCF candidate.

TO ME the biggest laugh of all is the sheer impudence of the Social Credit appeal to Liberals. They say, in effect: "Let us take just this one bite out of you—and please don't resist—so that we may more easily eat you all up next year."

Bank Reports Regional Slump In Canadian Economic Aura

The Canadian Bank of Commerce in its monthly commercial letter says a measure of stability continued evident in the Canadian economy in recent months, but some regional weaknesses developed at the same time.

Canadian Personality Respected In Middle East, Says Speaker

Canadian diplomatic representation in the Middle East, now being considered, offers a promising solution to the tangled affairs in that part of the world, it was stated in two separate addresses here by Mrs. Anne Stewart Higham, widely-travelled lecturer who is touring Canada under sponsorship of the Association of Canadian Clubs.

Mrs. Higham, who is from Connecticut, spoke to the Women's Canadian Club on Wednesday night and to the Rotary Club on Thursday. Her talks were based on experiences in the Middle East where she spent two years under assignment by the British War Office outlining U.S. foreign policy to British forces.

"Canadians with responsible positions there already enjoy the highest prestige," she said. "British and American relations have both suffered serious setbacks in recent years, but the Canadians are not tarred with the same brush. Lester Pearson is regarded there as a rising statesman of the world, and his own personality, as well as his position, is viewed with great respect by members of the whole Arab League."

In her address to the Women's Canadian Club she mentioned several Canadian women in the Middle East whose names are known and respected by all Arab tribes in the area. She said that Elizabeth MacCallum, Gertrude Bell, Marjorie Gordon and the Chambers family, who have been in Beirut for three generations as missionaries, are all pulling more weight through sheer personality and prestige than many officials with more money but less insight and imagination.

"The real trouble makers in the Middle East are the young intellectuals who have been to western places of education and have absorbed our ideas of independence in a democracy but not our ideas of responsibility which goes with it," she said.

"There are three types—those who want to be all out western and who feel frustrated; those who feel friction between heart and mind, trying to apply western tech- (Continued on Page 4)

HUON OF THE HORN—I like this book because it affords good reading and enjoyment for many hours.

I like it also because it tells of Huon of the Horn's thrilling adventures and his knightly prowess, all his battles and how he always gets out of his troubles; how he became king of Fairie Land and with the aid of magic horn and magic cup he conquered all his foes; of his adventures in the Garden of Paradise and how he ate the Apples of Youth.

It also tells how Huon was carried by his ship past the Gates of Hell and was shipwrecked on the Rock of Adamant; also how he, escaping, found the lost jewels of the Elfmen; and how he made friends with the Shah of Persia who gave him one of the apples of youth.

He went on a pilgrimage to Jerusalem and then went home to France and rescued his wife, Claramonde, from the Emperor of Alamayne.

I like to read of Huon making friends with the Emperor and

Biz-Pros to Play Santa At Hospital

The Business and Professional Women's Club has decided to be Santa Claus to the children in the Prince Rupert General Hospital. At the regular monthly meeting evening each member donated a dollar and the sum was given to Miss E. Clements, matron of the hospital, to buy toys suitable for use in the children's ward.

Miss H. Silversides was appointed as the Business and Professional Women's provincial chairman of the United Nations Committee. The problem of juvenile delinquency was discussed and it was decided to have authoritative speakers give the club their views on this topic.

Mrs. Marjorie Deane, past president of the Vernon club, brought greetings from her home club and told of the activities of Vernon business women.

Miss Clements won the Club's monthly prize.

200 Attend United Church Turkey Dinner

More than 200 persons attended the annual congregational turkey dinner at First United Church last night.

After the supper, Rev. L. G. Sieber spoke briefly and thanked all the ladies of the women's auxiliary who arranged and served the dinner.

A short program of community singing and showing of a film topped the evening's entertainment.

Mrs. E. Pedersen was convener of the event.

Aged Woman Survives Heavy Ordeal

HAMBURG, Ia. (AP)—A 60-year-old grandmother lay injured and helpless for five days and nights in the wreckage of a car concealed in a weeded gully beside a busy highway.
 Her hospital doctors described her condition as "remarkably good" in view of her experience—"a case for the medical books."
 The woman, Mrs. Glen McKnight, suffered severe shock, a broken left hip, a broken left arm and several fractured ribs. Her only food had been a few pieces of fudge and her only drink a little rain water and a bottle of boric acid.
 Her 120 hours of prayer and pain ended Tuesday when a highway grader operator spotted the wrecked auto from his high cab and summoned help.

Mrs. McKnight was driving from St. Joseph, Mo., to Bronson, Ia., last Thursday when she apparently lost control of her car on a curve. The car plunged down a 40-foot embankment and overturned against a culvert.
 Her injuries and a seat cushion wedged on top of her prevented Mrs. McKnight from reaching the light switch or horn to attract attention of the hundreds of passing motorists.

FOUND
 Then Tuesday Jack Kraschel "just happened to look back for some reason" and saw the almost hidden car.
 When he reached it, Kraschel said, Mrs. McKnight exclaimed: "Thank God! I am sure glad He sent someone to find me."
 Kraschel said "she grabbed my hand and held on to it tight and then asked me for water. She told me she had 'not suffered a bit.' She is really some woman."

 niques to Arab problems; and finally, the fanatics who want to get the British and Americans out of the country altogether."

In outlining strategic areas of the Middle East to the Rotary Club, Mrs. Higham expressed the opinion that the British had lost out in their Iranian oil negotiations due to poor public relations work. She laughingly claimed a right to pick out weak spots in British policy as she is a British citizen by marriage.

"They should have stated their case better and earlier," she said. "Having pioneered oil development in Iran, the British have done more for that industry and its workers in the whole Persian Gulf area than any other country. They have the best labor conditions there and at great expense ensure that their employees have ample fresh water, food and good housing. They also took special pains to train Iranian workers. However, they did nothing to emphasize all this."

Observing that Russia presents a constant threat along strategic trade routes of the Middle East, Mrs. Higham said that for the British and Americans it has necessitated a costly alliance with the Greeks and Turks. Much has been given already, and more is being demanded.

At the close of the Women's Canadian Club meeting Mrs. F. E. Anfield, who was in the chair, was congratulated by Mrs. Sheldford Dalton on behalf of the club on being elected to the executive of the National Association of Canadian Clubs. This is the first time that Prince Rupert has been so honored.

Harry Black was chairman at the Rotary luncheon, where Mrs. Higham was introduced by A. Bruce Brown.

Your Cards in Partner's Suit Govern Bid Shading

I have said that normally you need an average hand in high cards to respond to your partner's bid of one in a suit with a bid of two in a lower ranking suit. What about Mr. Champion's response of two hearts in today's hand, then? He was a queen short of an average hand.

He realized his slight deficiency in high cards. He also realized, however, that his spade holding more than made up for the absence of a queen in his hand.

He could have bid four spades, of course. There's nothing wrong with that call on the North hand. But it might do the partnership out of a slam. If the two hands were a perfect fit, Miss Brash would not have to hold a huge hand to have a good play for six-odd.

Mr. Champion's bidding was all right. If you want to question any of the bidding you might consider Miss Brash's four spade call, her third bid on a hand of absolutely minimum proportions. But be careful, because she made four spades.

The holding of an average hand in high cards, then, is only a general yardstick to an opening one bid. Exceptions branch out on either side. And the best way to remember these exceptions is this: The stronger you are in partner's suit, the more you are justified in shading the requirements.

When you are very short in partner's suit (holding a singleton or void) it is wise to tighten up the requirements a little.

Mrs. Keen got the defense off on the right track by opening a trump, but even this good opening couldn't beat the contract.

Miss Brash simply cross-ruffed diamonds and hearts. She lost three club tricks at the end, but made a total of eight trump tricks, the five in her own hand and three diamond ruffs on the board. These, with the two red aces were enough for the game.

SPORTS ROUND-UP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — The definite news that Tony Trabert of Cincinnati and the U.S. Navy will make the trip to Australia on his own time to join the skimpy Davis Cup forces in pursuit of the international tennis trophy changes the picture a little.

It doesn't mean U.S. chances of defeating the Australians in the challenge round at Adelaide are materially improved—not so long as Frank Sedgman and Ken McGregor remain sound of wind and limb—but it should make a better contest of the three-day series and will make the Aussie much happier.

We can testify that they were burned by what they considered the total inadequacy of our original selections—Vic Seixas, Straight Clark and the promise of young Ham Richardson late this month.

Letters from a couple of our friends out that way were caustic.

"It is a shame you blokes can't send out a better team when all the reserved seats at Adelaide already are sold," wrote a Melbourne man high in Aussie tennis councils. "We don't think you can beat us, but we would at least like to think you were having a go at it."

They will feel better with the news that Trabert is coming, as they know him from last winter as one of the world's most promising young players. Tony was immensely popular personally, too, and they will be glad to welcome him again.

Lady Curlers Stage Opening Match Saturday

The Saturday night opener of the Ladies' Curling Club will be a contest between President Mrs. J. L. Webster's and Vice-President Mrs. E. Turner's rinks.

As there will be two sheets of ice vacant during times of the opening match, club members have invited single women to try their hand at curling. Up to the present, membership has been open only to wives of the men curlers, but recently the club announced open membership.

Here are the draws for Saturday night's match, first named skipping the president's rink:

7 p.m.—Wilkins vs Anderson; Johnson vs Moore.
8:15 p.m.—Wakely vs McKenzie; Hamilton vs Bateman; Hadley vs McBroom.
9:30 p.m.—Webster (president) vs Turner (vice-president); Partridge vs Shier.

Remember when

University of Toronto beat Queen's University 10-3 in a sudden-death game for the inter-collegiate football championship 19 years ago today. The two had finished the regular schedule in a tie and it was Toronto's second consecutive title, their 15th since the senior college loop started in 1898.

SPRITWOOD, Sask. — Gerald Fontaine couldn't afford to buy an automobile so he made his own out of a motorcycle engine, wheelbarrow wheels, sheet tin and canvas. The vehicle will do 40 miles an hour and runs 30 miles on a gallon of gas.

HAMILTON TOUCHDOWN—The first time Hamilton Tiger-Cats got the ball in the second game of the four football playoff against Toronto Argonauts they went 78 yards for a touchdown. Rustie Custis caught a long pass over the goal-line from quarter-back Bill Mackrides. The Royal Copeland had no chance to stop him. Ti-Cats trounced Argos 27-11 to force an expected third game by tying the score on the round 33-33. (CP PHOTO)

Burns Lake Rod-Gun Club Seeks Lakeshore Clearing

BURNS LAKE — Tweedsmuir Park Rod and Gun Club will ask the B.C. government to commission Alan to clear the timber from selected portions of the Great Circle Route before they are flooded.

Members say the job should be done while the company has crews in the area but that the company should be compensated for the work by a remission of taxes over a period of years. Much of the attractiveness of the area they claim, will be lost unless clearing is undertaken. Members also requested that Stellako River be closed to all except fly fishermen because other types of fishing are rapidly depleting it, and that the daily permitted catch of juveniles be cut to four trout a day.

Burns Lake hunters and trappers are also decided against any move by the Game Department to open a season on cow moose. Members said their experience was that the proportion of female moose to bulls was "by no means too great."

Reports from aero surveyors during the winter months were "well known to be unreliable," they said because it was impossible to tell from the air a cow from a bull once the latter had shed his horns. It was also reported that bull moose this year are carrying their horns exceptionally late, taken as an indication of a late winter.

Those two glamor dolls started work together this week in a film version of "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes." They possess two of the most photographed frames in history, but until now they have generally posed alone. That presents the problem of how to shoot them together.
Gene Kornman, who has been lensing glamor girls at 20th-Fox for 20 years, said he didn't anticipate much trouble.
"Don't underestimate Marilyn's intelligence," remarked the photographer. "She's a smart gal when it comes to posing, and she's easy to get along with. From what I hear, Jane is a nice gal, too. And since she has been in the business longer, she can and probably will give some pointers to Marilyn.

"I think I'll use the same technique I used when Betty Grable and June Haver were making 'The Dolly Sisters.' I always went to Betty first, since she was the biggest star. If she said she was too tired or busy, I asked June to pose. And sure enough, when Betty looked out and saw June posing for pictures, she'd come out of her room and volunteer to work, too."

His easiest subjects? Gene cited two: Loretta Young and Billie Dove.

"They are the most graceful women I have ever photographed," he said. "You didn't have to pose them. They naturally assumed the most beautiful pose."

Chinese Pirates Forced Out
By Red, Nationalist Warfare

HONG KONG (Reuters)—There is not a famous pirate left on the entire China coast.
Even their centuries-old playground, Bias Bay, 50 miles northeast of Hong Kong, has been made safe for small merchant ships.

China's Communists strengthening their hold on the China coast against the Nationalist forces of Chiang Kai-Shek in Formosa have run them out of business.

By raiding and taking over the pirate shore bases, the Communists dealt a death blow to the harmless-looking junks that used to suddenly hoist the skull and crossbones and commandeer merchant ships.

As a result, the pirates have nowhere they could take a captured coastal vessel to beach and loot her.

Police here say there is little chance of the pirates reviving their operations.
If they did they would be caught right in the centre of a relentless but unofficial war between rival patrolling gunboats of the Communists from the China mainland and the Chinese Nationalists from Formosa.

Another factor against the pirates has been the American and United Nations embargoes on China trade. Shipping has been reduced to a trickle since

Lady Mayor
Seeks Second
Capital Term

By H. DENT HODGSON

OTTAWA—Voters in Canada's capital predicted in the 1950 civic elections that Charlotte Whitton would "stir things up at city hall." Few had any idea how true that prediction would become.

They gave her the biggest vote any controller received in Ottawa. And by virtue of this vote the 33-member city council elected her mayor after the death in August, 1951, of Mayor Grenville Goodwin.

Even before his death and her formal succession to office Oct. 15, 1951, Miss Whitton was a force in deliberations of the five-man board of control and the city council.

PLENTY OF PUBLICITY

During her term as mayor she has taken up more space in the Ottawa newspapers than any other six mayors. The "32 men and one woman" fought out issue after issue on the basis of Charlotte's new approach to civic problems.

The 1952 biennial civic election will be held Dec. 1 and Charlotte will seek a term in her own right.

Where her campaign supporters last time had an ordinary needle and thread as their buttonhole election symbol they have chosen this time a daring needle "because the job is bigger."

Main opponent in the mayoralty contest will be controller L. L. Len Coulter, Ottawa business man, who ironically enough was the person with whom she got into the fewest arguments during her term as mayor.

The election campaign between supporters of the 56-year-old Miss Whitton and the 52-year-old Mr. Coulter has shown indications of becoming a knock-down drag-out affair.

Most Ottawans are either strong supporters or strong opponents of their first woman mayor. This was indicated recently by a move on the part of some citizens to elect "anybody but Charlotte." They went so far as to say "any man, rather than a woman."

While by no means all the Whitton supporters are women, Charlotte feels certain that a campaign on this basis would enlist the female vote in a landslide victory. She has also appealed to the feminine element on the basis that there aren't enough women in politics.

Political enemies describe her as a meddling busybody who has blocked civic progress by starting arguments on every motion before city council.

Charlotte, on the other hand, claims she is proudest of "the fact that the board of control has never in my term of office been turned back by council on anything in which we went to them."

She seeks a long-term program of making assessments more equitable, improvements in housing and child welfare and a start on the city hall "in this year of the Queen's coronation." Ottawa has been without a city hall since the old building burned down 21 years ago.

MALACCA STRAITS

The two principal areas in which pirates have been active since the war are the Malacca Straits, between Malaya and Sumatra, and the region lying between British North Borneo, the Philippines and the Celebes, including the Straits of Macassar.

Pirates in the Malacca Straits were modern desperadoes with quick-firing sub-machine-guns and fast motor launches. But the efficiency of patrols have curbed the smuggling on which they thrived.

Pirates still are active off the east coast of North Borneo, although their enthusiasm has been dampened by the appearance of British, Indonesian and Philippine warships in those waters.

In such remote areas as the Straits of Macassar, piracy continues on a reduced scale because the myriad islands provide the pirates with places in which they can hide, and they are assisted by intimate knowledge of local waters and tricky currents.

CNR Lays Suit
Of $250,000
Against Driver

Special to The Daily News

MONTREAL—A damage claim for $250,000 is being launched by Canadian National Railways against the Lakeshore Construction Company, general contractors at Pointe Claire, Quebec, whose trailer truck caused derailment of the company's train No. 2 near Valois Station, outside Montreal Tuesday morning.

In making known the company's intention of immediately entering suit for this sum, Donald Gordon, chairman and president of the CNR, said there is "a plenitude of eye-witness testimony that the driver drove his truck into the path of the approaching train despite the fact that the automatic warning signals were working and the train was clearly visible and the whistle blowing."

The company has no evidence to substantiate the allegation of the truck driver that his vehicle stalled after he had driven onto the tracks.
