Attorney General Asks for Thorough Investigation on Behalf of B.C. Government

VICTORIA, March 17.—"It is the desire of the government, and I speak on behalf of the Legislature too, to have a thorough investigation into anything pertaining to this matter," said Attorney General Manson yesterday in addressing the first session of the royal commission investigating campaign funds which adjourned last Monday, half an hour after it had opened.

Calling the attention of W. H. Malkin and Rev. J. S. Henderson, commissioners, to the speech of W. A. MacKenzie, member for Similkameen, recently delivered in Vancouver, charging that the brewers had purchased returned beer barrels at prices much lower than the government had paid for them, Mr. Justice Morrison, chairman of the commission, asked that this be included in the investigation.

He continued with an exposition of the purposes of the enquiry.

"We shall guard against this commission being made a medium for unfounded aspersions of heresy evidence of various degrees of remoteness implicating those who have no opportunity of appearing before us or who have not voluntarily placed themselves beyond our reach," said His Lordship.

H. A. McLean, K.C., commission counsel, stated that he expected to announce within the next few days the witnesses that he desired called.

TWIGG SPEAKS
"I will leave it to the people to judge whether the government gives an enquiry that deals fairly with the issue," said H. Despard Twigg, Victoria M.L.A., addressing the Young Conservative Association here yesterday in commenting upon the appointment of the Morrison commission following his action in bringing the Gauthier and Carlow affidavits before the Legislature.

NEW ENGLAND FISH COMPANY

WILL HANDLE ALL SALMON FROM ALASKA CANNERIES THROUGH SEATTLE WHERE IT WILL BUY SUPPLIES

HAGER DENIES

SEATTLE, March 17.—R. B. Nariish, manager of the canned salmon department of the New England Fish Co., which has had its western headquarters in Vancouver, announced yesterday that the entire output of five Alaskan salmon canneries would hereafter be handled through Seattle where supplies would also be purchased.

VANCOUVER, March 17.—Referring to the Seattle report that Alaska Cannery products of the company would in future be distributed through Seattle instead of Vancouver, A. L. Hager, president of the New England Fish Co., said that the statement was unfounded and that a branch office had merely been opened at Seattle to assist in the distribution of Alaskan fish which had been going through Seattle for many years.

DO BUSINESS IN B.C.

Only three canneries in Alaska, including the Cordova cannery which was recently acquired by us, are affected," said Mr. Hager. "Our eighteen canneries in British Columbia will continue to distribute their output, worth $5,000,000 annually, through Vancouver and British Columbia ports. The purchase of supplies for Alaska canneries will be made in Seattle for it is obvious that duties would prohibit their purchase in British Columbia."

SECRETARY MAY TOUR DOMINIONS

MR. AMERY POSSIBLY WILL FULFIL LONG CHERISHED DESIRE

LONDON, March 17.—(Canadian Press)—If plans now being considered in ministerial quarters mature it is probable that the Dominion Secretary, Hon. L. C. M. S. Amery, will leave London in July on an Empire tour. Mr. Amery, it is understood, has long cherished a desire to make the tour, but has been prevented by official duties.

A tour embracing Australia, New Zealand, Canada and South Africa would occupy seven or eight months. If this is found to be too long a period it is expected that Mr. Amery will visit each Dominion in turn.

It is felt in official quarters that some closer contact between the Dominion Secretary and overseas politicians is desirable, and the projected tour would give an opportunity for discussions with opposition leaders as well as ministers of states or provinces.

HOLDING HALIBUT CATCHES OVER HERE.

On the excuse that there was not another passenger train east until Saturday, and that the quantity of fish offering was not sufficient to put on an extra train, some fifty thousand pounds of halibut, partly American and partly Canadian, was yesterday held over for sale on the local Fish Exchange, although an express train did leave about noon. The most of this fish had arrived during the night previous or early the same morning.

Some people have wondered why the local fish buyers could not have an early session on such mornings as this one and get the fish bought and packed in time for the train that goes out at noon. There is no visible reason why this could not be done. If it is a question of having information on market conditions, it might be observed that all fish that is bought here never does go out until the next day anyway.

The holding over of this catch in such a manner as this means just one day lost for the fisherman, who has to gamble with the weather and the fluctuation of prices, so that four or five local fish buyers, little recking whether it blows or snows, may not have to leave their comfortable beds an hour or so ahead of time. On the Atlantic coast, the day's buying is often done before 8 o'clock and, on other Pacific Coast ports, it is said, there is more despatch in this matter of buying than there is in Prince Rupert.

IS OUR LOT AS HARD AS THIS?

When one considers stories of hardship and privation that come in daily from other parts of the world, the thought cannot be repressed that even the poorest of us here in Prince Rupert may be pretty well off. This week two Oregon children, resident far up in the mountains, froze to death in the woods as their mother foraged for good. Many of us, who may grumble at our lot in life, might buck up and consider ourselves fortunate that things for us are not a whole lot worse. There is never a situation so bad that it might not be a good deal more serious.

THIS IS ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

All the world is Irish today. Ireland is the only country in the world to see its own particular hero venerated by Christian peoples everywhere, and that is because of the humanity of St. Patrick.

A good and saintly man he was, to be sure, but a powerful, aggressive, yet kindly and loving character, too. He was the ideal Irishman, although long an exile from Erin. Perhaps it would be better to say that he who would be an ideal Irishman uses St. Patrick for a model.

Ireland has produced many poets, many statesmen, many noted clergymen, many famous warriors, but none who are held in such esteem as good old St. Patrick, and all because he had a great faith and an overwhelming sense of his duty to man and God and exercised them solely for the benefit of his adopted land and for the welfare of mankind everywhere.

Today we wear a Shamrock in his honor and in our hearts we cherish a loving memory.

NEW NURSES GRADUATED

FITTING CEREMONIES FOR FIVE MEMBERS OF 1927 CLASS FROM LOCAL HOSPITAL.

With fitting ceremonies, exercises for the 1927 graduating class from the Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses took place last night. Services were held in the First Presbyterian Church and were followed by a reception in the Imperial Order. Daughters of the Empire, Hall. The graduates were Miss Georgina Hunter, R.N., Miss Ann Castell, R.N., Miss Zada Palmboom, Miss Bernice Clay and Miss Hazel Cunningham. Both functions were largely attended.

The ceremonies in the church were presided over by Thomas McClymont. After the congregation had assembled, the graduating class marched down the aisles and, accompanied by members of the graduate and undergraduate staff, took their seats in the front rows, all being in uniform and the graduates carrying beautiful bouquets.

Rev. Evan Baker of Rupert East United Church offered opening prayer and, with a few brief remarks, Mr. McClymont opened the proceedings.

The address to the graduating class was given in eloquent and appropriate manner by Rev. J. R. Prizell, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. He directed the attention of the young women entering upon their life careers to the three great duties that were theirs, first, their duty to themselves; their duty to others, and their duty to the Creator. The speaker enlarged upon these requisites, applying them particularly to the work of the nurse. He gave sound and uplifting counsel.

PRESENTATION MADE

The graduates were then presented with their diplomas by J. H. Thompson, president of the Prince Rupert General Hospital, and were invested with their class medals by Miss Jean Harrison, R.N., superintendent of nurses.

In the course of the proceedings, there were acceptable vocal solos by Mrs. Ernest Anderson and John E. Davey, Miss Marjorie Lancaster accompanying. John E. Davey presided at the organ for the marches and other selections. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. Evan Baker.

Ushers were W. D. Smith, E. J. Smith, George Mitchell and Sydney Hunter.

The formal ceremonies completed, a large number of invited guests proceeded to the I.O.D.E. hall where refreshments were served. Dancing until midnight to the strains of music furnished by an orchestra consisting of Mrs. R. P. Ponder, Dave Eastman and Jimmy Currie brought to a close a memorable night's proceedings for five young ladies.

Guests at the ceremonies included Mr. and Mrs. D. McD. Hunter, parents of Miss Georgina Hunter; Mr. and Mrs. E. Castell of Evelyn, parents of Miss Ann Castell; Mrs. C. H. Clay of Anyox, mother of Miss Bernice Clay, and R. G. Cunningham of Port Essington, brother of Miss Hazel Cunningham.

When Men are enthusiastic over "Home Cooking"

A Hint to Housewives

Men like the same foods day after day. That makes it hard to vary the menu, yet, inconsistently enough, they complain because you do not serve "something different." What to do? Here is the answer—use Borden's St. Charles wherever the recipe calls for milk! Its double richness remarkably improves recipes that are old standbys. Your folks will exclaim over the delicious new flavor it imparts. Have the grocer include a few cans of St. Charles Milk (Tall Size) on your next order!

UNIONS URGED FOR CATHOLICS

NOT ONLY APPROVED BY CHURCH BUT AFFORD SAFE MEANS FOR WORKERS TO OBTAIN JUSTICE, CHAPLAIN SAYS

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 17. (Canadian Press)—Catholic Unions are not only recommended by the church but are considered the safest and the best means for the worker to employ to attain justice, fairplay and reasonable treatment, Rev. Father L. A. LaFortune, assistant chaplain of the Central Council of Catholics and National Syndicates, stated during an address on the occasion of the seventh anniversary of the formation of the syndicate here.

Quoting the words of scripture: "He has given each one care of his neighbor" (Eccles. XVII, 12.) and the Papal encyclical of Pope Leo XIII, "Rerum Novarum," dealing with relations between capital and labor, the speaker gave a long discourse on the logical and moral reasons which led the workers to get together, not only for their own but for the protection of society in general.

In National Catholic Unions, he said, were found the elements of sane co-operation, combined with moral and social advantages which appealed to the workmen throughout the country but particularly in Montreal, where 85 per cent of workers were eligible to membership. These unions fulfilled every object of social union, in providing means for corporal, spiritual, material and moral advancement.

BENEFIT WOULD ACCRUE

Benefits in procuring better wages, better hygiene conditions, better working hours, observance of the Sabbath and holy days, would all accrue from membership in these societies, which did not oppose in any way the legitimate enterprise of capital or labor, Father LaFortune declared. In addition

DISPUTE HAS BEEN SETTLED

FRIENDLY SOLUTION OF OLD QUESTION IN AFRICA LEAVES BASIS FOR PERMANENT FRIENDSHIP WITH INDIA

CAPETOWN, South Africa, March 17. (Canadian Press)—Both in the Union of South Africa and in India there is general satisfaction at the solution of the Indians-in-South-Africa problem which has caused dispute between the two great members of the empire for years. The scheme arrived at after a "round-table conference" will make for lasting friendship and goodwill between India and South Africa. For many years India has been irritated at the position of Indian natives in the Union while South Africa asserted her right to manage her domestic affairs.

The main points of the agreement are: (1)—Both Government reaffirm recognition of the right of the Union of South Africa to use all just and legitimate means for the maintenance of Western standards of life. (2)—The Union Government recognizes that Indians domiciled in the Union who are prepared to conform to Western standards of life should be enabled to do so. (3)—The Union Government will organize a scheme of assisted emigration to India or other countries where Western standards are not required. Union domicile will be lost after three years' continuous absence, this provision applying generally and not only to Indians. Indians desiring to return to the Union within three years must refund the cost of the assistance granted them under the emigration scheme. (4)—The Government of India recognizes the obligation to look after the Indians on their arrival in India. (5)—The admission to the Union of the wives and children who are minors of Indians will be regulated by Paragraph 3 of Resolution 21 of the Imperial Conference of 1918. (6)—The Union Government agrees not to proceed further with the Areas Reservation Bill. (7)—Both Governments agree to watch the working of the agreement exchanging views from time to time as experience may suggest. (8)—In order to secure continuous co-operation between the two governments the Indian Government is to appoint an agent in the Union.

NOT A VICTORY

The agreement is regarded not as a victory for either side, but rather as the fruit of a common purpose carried out in a spirit of friendly collaboration. On the one hand, the Union has not surrendered freedom to deal with Indian problems by legislation whenever and in whatever way they may deem necessary and just, while on the other hand, the government of India has not bound themselves either permanently or for a limited period to co-operate with the Union in the practical solution of South Africa's problems as agreed upon. The agreement thus is more in the nature of an honorable and friendly understanding than that of a rigid binding treaty. These points were made by Hon. F. D. Malan, minister of the Interior, in outlining the agreement in the Union Assembly.

Two important points about the agreement are that it does not deal with any existing legislation and that emigrants will be assisted by increased bonuses. The full agreement shows that the Union undertakes to provide educational facilities for Indians at the native college at Port Hare and to advise the Natal provincial authorities to improve Indian education in Natal. When the Trades licensing laws are revised the Union undertakes to consider the Indian suggestion that the discretion of local authorities be limited. Although being part of the existing legislation, the Color Bar Act was not dealt with formally in the agreement. The Union Government undertakes that "the principle underlying the Industrial Conciliation Act and the Wage Act, which enables all employees, including Indians, to take their places on the basis of equal pay for equal work, will be adhered to." The agreement thus satisfies three very sore points of the Indian community in the Union.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household---every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare---should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

WOMEN SMOKERS ARE DISCUSSED

MONTREAL GAZETTE SAYS GOVERNMENT REPORT MAKES UNKIND REFERENCE

MONTREAL, Quebec, March 17. (Canadian Press)—The Gazette in an editorial on "Women and Tobacco" considers that the recent report of the department at Ottawa on the consumption of tobacco in Canada, holds an unkind reference, an increase being set down as "due probably, to women smokers." It was reported from Winnipeg the other day that a number of local women had come out in defence of their sex; they ridiculed charges made by a clergyman that women, through smoking, were contributing to the moral delinquency of the homes, and asserted: "Our grandmothers and great-grandmothers smoked, and they did not upset the well-known good old times." There is, however, a difference between those times and today as regards the smoking habits of women. If the story books are to be relied on, women years ago smoked pipes, and their use was more or less concealed from the public gaze. Today, women smoke cigarettes openly, in the home and publicly almost everywhere, and hostesses who fall, as it were, to scatter cigarettes from top to bottom of their homes, feel themselves, or profess to feel themselves, guilty of a social error. The Winnipeg women, referred to above, declare that the average woman is not an addict to tobacco; they insist that she smokes merely to be sociable or keep her husband company, and maintain that "smoking is only a passing phase of social life."

In their diversity of opinion, make the question one of 'glorious uncertainty.' Therein, perhaps, lies the cigarette's irresistible attraction." Thus comments a Winnipeg newspaper.

Instead of a diploma the school of experience just gives you a conviction that you can't outguess the Stock Exchange.

ALASKA BIDS FOR LEADERSHIP

U.S. GOVERNMENT URGES DEVELOPMENT OF ALASKA AS SOURCE FOR AMERICAN NEWSPRINT SUPPLIES

WASHINGTON, March 17.—(Canadian Press).—Canada's position as the largest exporter of newsprint is threatened by the move just launched to make Alaska a big producer of newsprint. "Mills on American soil, using American timber and supplying American paper users" is the avowed object of the United States government, which has offered for sale ten billion board feet of soft timber in Alaska. The establishment in the far northern state of paper mills of at least 200 tons capacity is a condition of the sale.

The government tracts offered for sale consist of two reserves of 5,000,000,000 board feet each. One is near Juneau and the other near Ketchikan. They will be open for bids on April 25 and April 15 respectively. Companies tendering are invited to bid at the same time for permits to exploit water-power sites nearby. Tenders must undertake to develop the water powers and erect mills of at least 200 tons capacity in each place. Capital expenditure of from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000 is implied in the carrying out of each project.

In return the government offers to sell enough timber to supply a 500-ton paper mill on each site, running 300 days a year for 50 years. Secretary of Agriculture Jardine estimates that there is room in Alaska for five or six plants of this capacity, and that there is timber and power resources enough to maintain perpetually an industry producing at least 1,000,000 tons of paper annually, more than a quarter of the annual consumption of newsprint in the United States.

"The department is planning for a permanent Alaska paper industry of this size," the government's announcement says, adding that the Panhandle can furnish 78,000,000,000 feet of hemlock and spruce, with adequate water powers and sheltered channels of approach, open the year round.

The desire of the department, it is said, is to develop the resources of Alaska and to supply the users of newsprint in the eastern United States where "scarcity of available timber close to cheaply developed water power has prevented the growth of paper making in recent years and has led to the establishment of new mills in Canada and Newfoundland instead of in the United States."

It is understood that the department also has under consideration a new machine invented to make newsprint out of hardwoods and semi-hardwoods. It is claimed that this machine will make commercial woodpulp out of gum trees of the southern states and the ash and aspen plentiful in the states further north.

GIVING CREDIT TO USELESS COYOTES

Discovered, for all his faults to be Sworn Enemy of Grasshopper

BIG CREEK, March 17.—Most cattlemen and sheep breeders in British Columbia are agreed that the coyote is about the most useless animal on earth and they draw a gun on him at sight, but during the past few years, especially in the Chilcotin country, ranchers are beginning to give credit to the coyote for a lot of good work in their behalf. They have discovered that the coyote, for all his faults, is a sworn enemy of the destructive grasshopper and that his depredations against this pest have been of material value to stockmen.

Thousands of mice are destroyed by coyotes, according to these ranchers, who have investigated the worth of the four-footed prowler, and untold numbers of grasshoppers are accounted for, especially by the young coyotes.

ONTARIO WOMAN HAS REACHED 108 YEARS

WINDSOR, Ont., March 17.—(Canadian Press).—To have lived long past the allotted span, has been the good fortune of Mrs. Margaret McEae, who has just celebrated her 108th birthday. Born in Cape Breton Island, Nova Scotia, of hard pioneer stock, she was brought by her parents to Three Rivers, Quebec, and finally to Victoria Country where most of her life was spent. Her father combined the occupations of farmer and school teacher. She was the mother of 12 children, of whom two are now living. The stirring events of the days of the Rebellion of 1837, Confederation and subsequent political events are quite familiar to her.
