WASHINGTON, April 12. — Demands for reparations from the recent Nanking outrages have been presented to the Cantonese coupled with the warning that, unless the authorities comply promptly, the five powers—Great Britain, United States, France, Japan and Italy—will find themselves compelled to take such measures as they may consider appropriate. The demands are as follows:

1. Adequate punishment of the commanders and troops responsible for murders, personal injuries, indignities, material damage, as well as all persons found to be implicated.
2. Apology in writing by the commander-in-chief of the Nationalist Army including an undertaking to refrain from all violence and agitation against foreign lives and property.

INVITED TO TURN SWITCH WHICH WILL PUT COLD STORAGE
PLANT INTO ELECTRICAL OPERATION

Lord Willingdon, Governor General of Canada, is being invited, through Mayor Weston, to turn the switch, next Saturday on the occasion of his visit to Prince Rupert, which will put permanently in operation the electrical power system which has been installed at the plant of the Canadian Fish & Cold Storage Co. during the winter in place of the old steam equipment. Greatly increasing the capacity of this important plant, this new system of power will constitute an important development at this port and it has been deemed fitting that His Excellency should officiate at its inauguration.

The new plant has been undergoing running up operations this week and is reported to be running well. The Governor General, if the invitation is accepted, will put the new unit in permanent operation on full load.

Good time is being made in loading the British freighter Sedge Pool at the elevator and the vessel will probably get away tomorrow with a full cargo of some 285,000 bushels of wheat for delivery to the United Kingdom or continent.

The steamer Sedge Pool is due about Thursday or Friday and, also being lined, will start loading at once for the United Kingdom or continent.

The "K" Line freighter Kofuku Maru is now reported due about April 25 if she makes good time, having left Muroan on April 11. She is also to load for the United Kingdom or continent.

SAN FRANCISCO YOUTH COMES TO VANCOUVER TO IDENTIFY BODY OF LATE MARSHALL DOUGLAS

VANCOUVER, April 12. — Balfour Douglas, twenty-year-old son of Mrs. Elsie Douglas, San Francisco, is here on an effort to identify the body of Marshall Douglas, advertising man who was found beaten to death in a local hotel a week ago, as that of his father. After seeing the body, he was unable to state positively if it was that of his father whom he had not seen for fifteen years. He is now awaiting further word from his mother.

Reconsideration and adoption of a bylaw consolidating certain local improvement bylaws was made by the city council at the meeting last night.

TIME TO PAY; NOT TO WAIL

WINSTON CHURCHILL PRESENTS
BUDGET IN BRITISH HOUSE OF COMMONS

LONDON, April 12.—"This is no time to bewail the past but to pay the bill," declared Mr. Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, in presenting his budget in the House of Commons yesterday. "It is not for me to apportion the blame but only to apportion the burden. I can present myself in the guise of an impartial judge. I am only the public executioner."

Apart from unexpected developments in China, the chancellor said, budget estimates would likely be solidly maintained. "We will maintain our position as the financial centre of the world and our financial position is unimpaired," he asserted. "We do not intend to renew credits obtained by us when they expire in May."

Mr. Churchill announced new taxes including heavier duties on wines, tobacco, automobile tires, certain moving picture films and matches, most of which will become effective today in order to prevent dumping of such goods in Britain before the imposition of the taxes.

BALLOON JUMPING is the wonderful new sport introduced into England. The balloon jumper is strapped to the gas bag in place of the basket; and, so strapped, he takes giant leaps into the air. The balloon is so inflated that the jumper is only five pounds heavier than the gas it contains, and he is weighted with ballast bags which he can release at will. He is also in complete control of the bag by means of a rope to the valve. The sport is causing a sensation.

The girls' game was the best of the evening although the boys showed good style in spite of the fact that the affair was a little lopsided.

Both sets of teams will arrive in the city on this afternoon's train and will play tonight in the Exhibition Hall, the Terrace girls and boys returning home tomorrow morning.

Governor General Speaks of Trade With China---Forecasts Settlement of Difficulties

VANCOUVER, April 12.—Declaring himself a confirmed optimist regarding Canada's future, Lord Willingdon, Governor General, addressed the Vancouver Canadian Club yesterday. Referring to the possibilities of Canadian trade with the Orient, he said that he was convinced that China would soon be re-established under more settled conditions. "Certain propagandists in China have endeavored and, to some extent, have succeeded in stirring up anti-foreign feeling among the Chinese people by talking of imperialistic tendencies of foreign powers but," he said, "from my experience there I can verify and sincerely say that I do not believe there is a single honest fair-minded Chinese, and I found a great many, who think any of the powers have any imperialistic outlook with regard to their country. They all know well that the sole desire of all the great powers is to see peace come in their distracted country and to help, if the Chinese want help, in building up her national life until she takes her proper and important position among the nations of the world."

FIND SOMETHING FOR YOUTH TO DO.

"If the manhood of America will lend itself to the task of finding a moral substitute for crime, with a kick and punch in it, the boy would not seek the thrills that come from the terse command, 'stick 'em up,' and the crime wave would disappear," says Dr. George J. Fisher, chairman of the Kiwanis International Committee on Vocational Guidance.

"The glare, clamor and noise of the modern world; the mass play, mass education and mass production have taken the romance, color and adventure out of the life of the boy and the thrills he gets out of the breaking of laws have been substituted for the romantic lives of the barefoot boys of Whittier's day. The virile qualities that have made America are fast disappearing and the boy of today lives in an impersonal, crowded world. His play, school work and even his work are all arranged for him. He's long on action but short on meditation.

HOW GOOD COULD BE DONE.

"The greatest good that could be done for the boy of today would be the purchase of all the old swimmin' holes for the use of the country's youth. Then the boy would learn to stand on his own feet and regain his own personality. The ready-made world has robbed him of these rights. His mind is made up for him, he is handed ready-made toys, tools and amusements. We should be doing him a great favor if, instead of doing things for him, we were to help him to do things for himself, to make him do his own thinking and to teach him to be independent.

"That is the crime that North America manhood is guilty of committing! We are taking away from the boy the very things that are his birthright, the right to use his own ingenuity, the right to create things of his own making and the right to find his own beauty, romance and adventure. Instead of helping him we are softening him by our stereotyped form of living. The rugged generations that formed the backbone of this nation enjoyed the privilege of battling their way through life and of gaining strength and toughening themselves by overcoming obstacles. Today we are smoothing the way for the American boy, and with what results?

"The boy, made of the same fiber as his forefathers, is disgusted with the ease of life. He wants, as all real boys always wanted, to do things for himself. He wants to use his hands in fashioning his playthings. He wants to use his brain in thinking solutions to his own problems. But the world has changed and is constantly changing. The boys are herded together. They have no opportunity to observe the trees, the stars and the beauties of life. They are told what they must do; where they can play; what they must be and even what they must think. Red-blooded boys rebel at such conditions. They want the healthful pleasures of their ancestors and the comparative freedom from restrictions that their elders enjoyed.

WHAT BOYS REALLY WANT.

"Not knowing just what they want, because they are used to crowds and crowded conditions of life, they turn to the only thing that offers them thrills that their blood calls out for, and then we read of another wave of crime. They do not realize it but what they want is the freedom of the open fields, the joys of nature and the silence of the woods. Never having tasted these joys, many of them never even having been out of a city, they seek substitute thrills.

"The solution of this problem of training our boys to be good and useful citizens is not in teaching the boy to sing patriotic songs or in the recitation of patriotic essays. Rather, it is in the finding of practical tasks for him to perform, the doing of which will give him a consciousness that they are of service to the nation. Let him provide his own amusements and let the nation get away from the grip of commerce which now almost entirely provides our recreational devices.

"The criminal wave among the youth of America is easy to understand when we consider that the average boy does not commit crimes for loot. He does it for the fun and the thrills and the romance that the modern world has taken out of his life."

Central Interior Farming is Subject of Article in Family Herald-Weekly Star

Fifteen years ago the settlers who cleared up farms in the valleys of the Nechako and tributary rivers of Central British Columbia got away to a good start, writes John McMurchy in the Family Herald and Weekly Star. They grew hay and potatoes for a market that paid $50 per ton or more for the former and as high as $120 a ton for the latter during construction years on the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway. Money was easily made in those times but it was hard to save. Some of the old timers laid up their treasure and still have handsome deposits in the savings bank at Prince George and other centres. Others were broke in the good times and they haven't improved on that condition since. Rich and poor alike long for the return of the prices of farm products at that time, but they forget that what they had to import was proportionately high.

Prices fluctuated between 1910 and 1914 as they are doing in recent years but the fluctuations were on a higher plane then. The acreage under crop was small and cost of production was perhaps more than it is today. Not only were farmers able to make a profit on their seasonal farming operations, but they had opportunities of working on railroad construction in slack farming periods. Even in more recent times road work and employment in the lumber camps have contributed to the income of many settlers.

But road work and lumbering are passing, along with the prices that made profiteers out of the pioneers, and the settlers are finding that they must settle down to the normal conditions of an established farming community. The boom days are over and prices are to a certain extent, governed by world markets. Last fall, for the first time, the wheat from Central British Columbia was disposed of through the wheat pool of the West and was sent to distant countries through the elevator at Prince Rupert.

CREAMERIES IN OPERATION

The bulk of the cream produced on the mixed farms of the district is no longer made into dairy butter and sold locally or traded in at the grocery store. Cream from the farms adjacent to the Fraser River near Prince George, from all along the Nechako River and from far west in the Francois Lake section is shipped in to the creamery at Vanderhoof and manufactured into first class creamery butter that takes its place along with the products of the prairies, the Fraser Valley and even New Zealand. Another creamery operating at Quesnel in the direction of the famous Cariboo country draws on a vast section of the interior of the province for its raw material. These creameries have been assisted by the provincial department of agriculture and have been a boon to settlers who depend on their income from milk cows.

Although the creameries use up much of the cream there is a proportion of it made up on the farm. West of the Nechako Valley, at Forestdale, the butter is made up in the farm homes in the old-fashioned way and the make is assembled at the local store, here it is put up in airtight cans containing one or two pounds and crated ready for shipment into the far north. This canned butter is used by prospectors and miners who have to carry their provisions over long rough trails, cache them away for future use and store them in varying temperatures for long periods. Canned butter is an absolute necessity as far as the prospector is concerned. It seems that the locally made dairy butter has established a good name and the industry in the Forestdale section is an important one. The returns from the sale of the butter are satisfactory and the margin to the farmer is slightly more than it could be if the cream had to be shipped by rail to the distant creamery. Canned butter keeps at least two years under conditions that are anything but uniform.

Dairy farming is only in its infancy in these central valleys though cows are kept on practically all mixed farms. As the pioneers adjust themselves to the genuine agricultural conditions with which they are faced more cows will be kept. Forages of many kinds are here grown easily. Native grasses and forage plants thrive. Some of these plants are not well known to newcomers from the east and their qualities must be learned before the value of the pastures is ascertained. Large areas of pea-vine and other leguminous plants grow shoulder high in certain parts. Some of the lupins are very beautiful while in bloom whatever their value as a forage may be. Alfalfa and sweet clover are being included with the other clovers on many farms and most of the cultivated grasses do well. Awlneck brome is very common in the fields here and is looked on as a good hay grass by some farmers, but timothy alone or in mixture is the usual hay grass.

ILLUSTRATION FARM

Government illustration stations have been established in many localities and are demonstrating what can be done in the way of crop production and systematic farming. The farm at Vanderhoof has done excellent pioneer work in the matter of establishing sweet clover on heavy soil. The late R. J. Blackburn of Prince George, operator of the illustration station for this district was for many years a leader in all agricultural enterprises in the community.

The soil types of this great central region are many and some are unusual. In the vicinity of Vanderhoof a deposit of clay possessing peculiar medicinal qualities has been exploited and, while of little interest to farmers, it is being retailed at so much a pound for use in therapeutical work. The price of this clay is not certainly known but even at a dollar a hundredweight a quarter-section of land should be quite an asset. Much of the land is a silt or clay loam that can be improved by the growing of legumes and the addition of humus. It is rich in lime and well supplied with potash and phosphoric acid.

At the foot of Stuart Lake on the sit of Fort St. James the first capital of New Caledonia which became British Columbia sixty years ago field crops and vegetables were first planted in 1810. Since that time potatoes, roots and some grains have been produced annually on the same plot of land by Indians or white men. The Indians of this section belong to the Dene stock whose several tribes occupy much of the territory North of the 54th parallel and even extend over the western plain and South to New Mexico. The Dene Indians in British Columbia number about 2,500. Adjoining them and occupying great areas of the interior southward, are the Indians of the Salishan stock numbering over ten thousand, or more than fifty per cent of the Indian population of the Province.

MUSKRAT RANCHES

Very little agriculture is practised by the Indians about Fort St. James and Fort Fraser although they have come in contact with farming for three generations. Hunting and trapping and fishing has been their interest and it no only occupies their attention but the attention of many whites. Fur bearing and game animals are plentiful in the wilds and attempts to establish fur farms are meeting with success. The muskrat farms of the interior of B.C. are widely known and in a small way other wild animals are undergoing a sort of domestication. Between Vanderhoof and Fort St. James a hunter of long experience has set out to make pets of mink and beaver. He has live specimens of both, but so far they are sufficiently close to the natural state to require close confinement to ensure their attachment to their owner.

Beekeeping offers one of the most attractive pursuits in this valley. Clovers and native honey plants bloom profusely over a long season. The summer temperatures are warm and the days long. Winters are similar to those of Eastern Ontario. Bees have been wintered outside in Kootenay cases for eight successive winters without loss from cold. Conditions for beekeeping as a considerable sideline on many farms are almost ideal but there are practically no bees to be found in an area comprising millions of acres. As far as can be learned there are less than ten colonies of bees in the whole Nechako Valley. With a market second to none, at hand, this should be a beekeepers paradise once he had mastered the methods suited to this country.

MANY PROSPECTORS

Gold seekers are nearly all the time running a temperature and just now a real fever is breaking out among them. A few miles from Topley, on the line of the Transcontinental railway between the Nechako and the Pacific Ocean prospectors have found gold and silver bearing ores, and many claims have been staked. Some prospectors believe they have struck it rich and at least one has exchanged his claim for cold cash. Away to the North gold fields of Manson Creek are ready to be washed out. Machinery for this far distant creek that lies 160 miles north of Vanderhoof has been on the way in over the trail for more than a year. Owing to the mild winter of 1926 it was impossible to get the heavy equipment through to its destination, but this winter there has been enough ice and snow to make the going easier.

Manson Creek and Topley will provide markets for local products and prices will be good. Mining developments are on the increase in many northern sections and marketing conditions in near-by settlements are stimulated. Also there are prospects of timber and pulp developments in the Prince George district. This city stands at the junction of the Nechako and the Fraser Rivers and at one time claimed a population of ten thousand. That was back in the times of fifty-dollar and a hundred-dollar spuds when town lots miles out in all directions sold for the present price of a sub-division. But conditions have wonderfully improved in this region during the past twelve months and substantial progress is being made.

Seed production has come to the front on a number of farms. The growing of certified seed potatoes has developed into a main operation in certain sections and seed grown in this northern section is in demand in the southern districts. The prices for beef have stiffened up and cattle raising is a dividend paying proposition on ranches that had almost been forced out of business during the years of slack prices. Farmers in Central British Columbia are still struggling and they will continue to do so for several years more, but in the end they will have a prosperous chain of communities built up in many fertile valleys.

EVERY WOMAN SHOULD READ HOW "FRUIT-A-TIVES" GAVE HER NEW LIFE

MRS. J. F. RUTKOWSKA.

"For several years I suffered with severe constipation and was a nervous wreck. I had great pain in my limbs, and such terrible headaches I thought I would go crazy. I had no appetite, could scarcely eat anything without stomach distress. After reading about 'Fruit-a-tives' I decided to try them. Before I had taken three boxes, I was entirely well. I sincerely think 'Fruit-a-tives' saved my life."
 —Mrs. J. F. Rutkowska, Tolstoi, Manitoba.

Indigestion, biliousness, headaches, nervousness, pains in the back and limbs are largely caused by allowing poisons to accumulate in the body. "Fruit-a-tives" is nature's remedy, made from intensified fresh fruit juices combined with tonics. "Fruit-a-tives" stimulates the bowels, liver and kidneys to normal action and brings about a condition of delightful health. Buy a box of "Fruit-a-tives" today. NOW FATHER MAY COOL OFF

AFTER HAVING BOWED ALL WINTER TO GOD OF FASHION

WINNIPEG, April 12. — (Canadian Press).—The Tribune says in an editorial entitled "Sacrificing Father": "Now that spring is coming the male Canadian will get a chance to cool off a little. Indoors, modern women now wear the same sort of clothing both winter and summer. We'd at any time simply not the thing. It is old fashioned, and may be all right in the backwoods and the settler's shack, but the modern city maid and matron will have none of it.

"The result is, of course, that inside the house it might be perpetual summer if one were to judge the climate by the thermometer, seventy-five degrees Fahrenheit is not an abnormal temperature in an average Canadian home in winter. Sarcastic remarks from the women folk to the effect that the house is 'like a barn' are vented upon the nominal head of the household if for a few minutes he should permit the thermometer to drop ever so slightly below 70.

"Due to the feminine fashion it is necessary that father stoke the furnace as full blast to keep the dear things warm. The fact that he himself may be appropriately clad in woollens and tweeds counts for nothing. And at evening affairs, such as dinner parties, musicales and dances, he is the victim of accumulate agonies. He is forced to divide his time between conversing agreeably under tropical conditions in the drawing room and playing winter golf with the bunkers in the basement.

"Some day it may occur to the worm to turn. Men may refuse longer to be sacrificed as burnt offerings to the great god, Fashion. At one of these functions the host will insist on appearing in his wife's drawing room appropriately clad in a suit of light-weight union overalls."

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Crawford of Stewart are passengers for Vancouver on the steamer Catala which arrived from the north today.

C.P.R. steamer Princess Mary, Captain C. C. Saintry, will arrive from Alaska this afternoon at 4 and sail for Alert Bay and Vancouver at 5 o'clock this afternoon.

TOTEM POLE TO BE TAKEN DOWN

CITY ORDERS MENACING STRUCTURE AT SECOND AVE. AND SECOND STREET TO BE MOVED

The structure having been a menace to traffic, the totem pole at the intersection of Second Avenue and Second Street will be taken down by the Board of Works at once and its re-erection at some suitable location will be determined later according to a decision of the city council last night.

The matter came before the council in the form of a recommendation from the finance committee, which asked that the pole be removed and that the Board of Works be asked to undertake the job.

Ald. Perry thought the action a little hasty as it would be better to ascertain the proposed cost of the removal and then the matter could be further considered by the council.

Ald. Stephens said that several members of the Board of Trade had recently interviewed the finance committee on another subject and the matter of the pole was discussed. Those members of the Board of Trade who were present, he said, favored the removal of the pole as it was considered to be dangerous to traffic in its present location. If an accident occurred there the city would be held responsible and he thought that the sooner it was out of the way the better.

Ald. Perry inquired as to where it was proposed to erect it again and considered that it would be wise not to rush into the thing without first finding out what it would cost and whether it was going to be thrown away or put up in some other place.

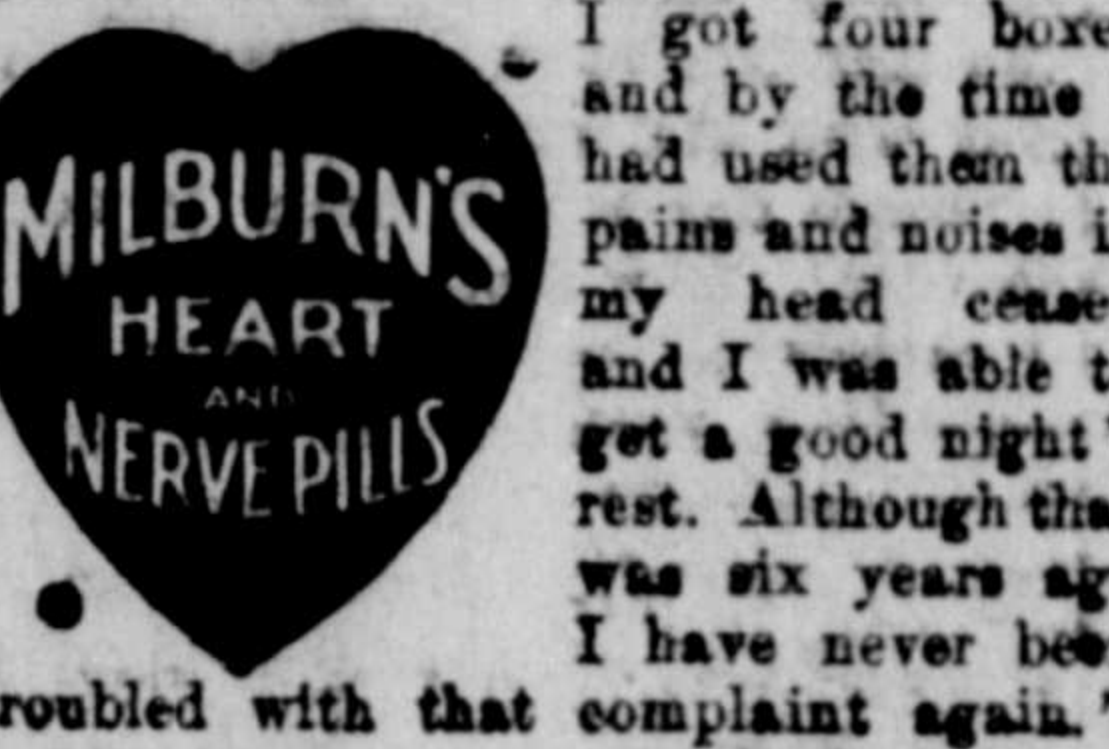

ON GOVERNMENT PROPERTY?
Ald. Jos. Greer said that at the meeting of the finance committee, it had been mentioned that the question might be taken up with Hon. T. D. Pattullo when he arrived in the city and perhaps a suitable location might be found on some of the provincial government property.

Ald. Brown favored the removal of the pole as soon as possible. He considered it very unsafe in the present location. It would be time enough to talk about putting it up again after it was down.

The recommendation was then adopted by the council on the understanding that the Board of Works confer with the Board of Trade as to a suitable location for the pole and then report back to the council for endorsement.

Could Not Sleep Heart and Nerves Were So Bad

Mr. Geo. Meek, Windsor, Ont., writes: "I suffered with my heart and nerves and could not sleep at night for weeks in my head. I managed to keep at my work somehow, until I began to have dizzy spells which got so bad I could not go to my work. I was afraid to go out any place, for very often I would stagger on my feet, and everything in front of me would turn black and fade away. While I was home sick a friend told me to take I got four boxes and by the time I had used them the pains and noises in my head ceased and I was able to get a good night's rest. Although that was six years ago I have never been troubled with that complaint again."

GYMNASIUM SITE REPORT

CITY ENGINEER PRESENTS HIS VIEWS TO COUNCIL IN DOCUMENT

The report of the city engineer on proposed sites for the erection of a gymnasium was read at the meeting of the city council last night.

The report showed that the city had not the right to construct buildings on the property at Sixth Avenue and McBride Street. The site next to the Post Office was admirably suited for the construction of such a building but the character of the building required in that fire district would cost about $8,000 more than if the building were erected on Fraser Street which was in another fire district. Either Acropolis Hill or Fraser Street property would be better from the point of view of the cost of the structure. In view, however, of the cost of the building, it would probably be better to know what money was available before any site was agreed on as, according to the plans, the building would cost in the

SPORT CHAT

Fully determined to annex the Underwood trophy and the international championship, St. Louis' crack basketball aggregation arrived in Edmonton last Friday night for their two game series with the Commercial Grads. The first match will be played tonight and the second game is scheduled for Thursday night. The Grads are expecting the toughest proposition since their American tour.

The highly technical pugilistic question "when is a contract not a contract" is settled once and for all, so far as New York state athletic commissioners are concerned. A learned opinion handed down last week rules that unless the document bears the signatures of two combatants it is not a contract, no matter how much it may look like one. In other words, the popular practice among fight promoters of taking blanket options on the services of boxers has received a knock out blow. In the light of the latest edict, it is said, Tex Rickard has no contract at all with Gene Tunney, Jack Dempsey, Jack Delaney, Jim Maloney or Jack Sharkey. If a rival promoter should get the signature of one of them and of an opponent this promoter would have the only binding contract in sight.

MORE HUSBANDS NOW DESERT WIVES AND CHILDREN 'TIS SAID

MONTREAL, April 12. — (Canadian Press)—The "Star" says editorially: "Pitiable suffering is caused by the tragedy of husbands deserting their wives and children. There has been a marked increase of this cruel conduct for some years past. Statistics compiled from court records, in our own city, demonstrate the sorrowful fact that fully 23 per cent of the children placed in institutions of all kinds, and who are practically supported on charity, are 'innocents' who have been deserted by their fathers. And, think of it, in 24 per cent of these desertion cases the mother was left ill. Here we have brutal cruelty on the part of husband and father."

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

WANTS TO KNOW IN HOUSE OF COMMONS OF MATTERS UNDER OVERSEA SETTLEMENT OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

Hon. Dr. S. F. Tolmie asked questions in the House of Commons recently regarding settlements of central interior districts and was answered by the minister of agriculture. Questions and answers were as follows:

- Mr. Tolmie:—
1. During the summer of 1926, did the Department of Immigration and Colonization conduct the Earl of Clarendon, chairman of the overseas settlement committee, and Mr. T. C. Macnaughton, vice-chairman, on a trip inspecting British family settlement and future settlement opportunities in Canada?

 3. If so, what districts were covered?
 4. What opinions, if any, were expressed by the British visitors as to the settlement opportunities in British Columbia?
 5. Have any agreements been negotiated providing for co-operation in settlement between the Dominion and provincial governments in Canada, and the overseas settlement committee jointly?
 6. Are any such agreements in process of negotiation?

GOODWILL DAY TO BE OBSERVED

MAY 18, NOW CELEBRATED IN B.C., MARKS ANNIVERSARY OF HAGUE PEACE CONFERENCE

Goodwill Day is observed in the schools of many countries of the world on May 18 of each year, commemorating the first Hague Peace Conference. British Columbia has observed Goodwill Day for the past two years, through the efforts of the Provincial Parent-Teacher Federation, which have been approved by the Department of Education.

This year the program is being prepared by a committee of the B.C. Teachers Federation, working in co-operation with the Goodwill Committee of the Parent-Teacher Federation. The program will consist of suggestions, lists of books, pictures, etc., from which principals and teachers may prepare their own program. There will be, for example, a paragraph on arbitration, showing what Canada can do for Peace in this way. Details of the program will be published in the April number of the "B.C. Teacher," the teachers' magazine.

Each year the program has contained a practical feature, as well as theory. In 1925 this took the form of a Goodwill Society of which the children become members. As a result, 32,000 school children's signatures were sent to be deposited in the Hague Peace Palace. This brought much favorable notice to British Columbia, not only on this continent, but in Europe.

This year the practical feature is a unique one—a doll-dressing contest for girls, and a boat-making contest for boys—doll and boat to represent the various nations of the world. These are to be sent to the Goodwill Secretary by May 10, and on May 18-21 an International Doll and Boat Festival will be held in the David Spencer store, Vancouver, where all the entries will be on exhibit, and will be judged.

John Kyle, superintendent of Technical Education will be one of the judges of the boats; and Miss McLennan, provincial supervisor of Home Economics, will be one of the judges of the dolls. The prize list will be excellent, as already a number of prizes have been promised.

It is hoped that the rural schools, and those of the interior will join heartily in the contests. The schools have been classified in the contest rules, so that the smaller schools will not be competing with the larger ones.

The directors of the N.B.C. Agricultural and Industrial Association will make a canvass of the city for funds. D. C. Stuart is to be this year's secretary.

A district union, affiliated with the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, was formed last night in the Carpenters' Hall.

The Prince Rupert Board of Trade has endorsed the position of the Regina Board of Trade against any change in freight classification in the west.

Mayor Ashwell, of Chilliwack, was in the city yesterday on his way home from Winnipeg.

The Board of Trade has again passed a resolution favoring the establishment of a smelter and refinery at or near to Prince Rupert.

Mrs. Herbert J. Mason, Grand Falls, N.B., writes: "I had salt rheum all over my hands and especially between my fingers. It got so bad it was impossible for me to put them in water or do my housework. After trying many medicines and salves, that did me no good, I heard of

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

GREAT PROBLEM IS NOW SOLVED

HON. T. D. PATTULLO NOW HAS NEW CLAIM ON FAME—DECLARES RHUBARB IS VEGETABLE

For more than a decade the Hon. Thomas Duff Pattullo, minister of lands for British Columbia, has had the distinction of being the best-dressed man in his adopted province. He has now another claim on fame, perhaps even on immortality, for he has settled a question that has puzzled scientists for hundreds of years.

Mr. Pattullo has definitely answered the question as to whether rhubarb is a vegetable, a fruit, a tuber, a tree, or what have you?

The problem was propounded during a discussion of the Produce Marketing Bill, which had for its object the compulsory co-operative distribution of agricultural products. Very casually, Joshua Hinchcliffe inquired whether rhubarb would be controlled by the fruit committee or by the vegetable control board.

Dr. H. C. Wrinch, father of the bill, slowly rose in his place, his classic features a study in bewilderment.

Looking across the floor of the house, Dr. Wrinch shot a mute appeal to J. W. Jones, of South Okanagan, who is supposed to know everything that is worth knowing about agriculture in British Columbia.

For the first time during the session Mr. Jones sat mute, his eyes focussed on nothingness. He was stumped.

DEEP SILENCE

There are lawyers in the provincial parliament. There are doctors, there are former school teachers, there are many men widely read who might be supposed to know where rhubarb stands, but they one and all preserved a deep silence.

Then up rose the Hon. T. D. Pattullo, resplendent in his sartorial superiority. "Rhubarb," he began, and paused.

Premier Oliver, who has sold many carloads of the juicy plant, leaning forward eagerly to listen, for he is always keen to learn.

Mrs. Mary Ellen Smith, whose rhubarb pies have endeared her to an intimate circle which cares not for politics, half rose in her eagerness to catch every word.

"Rhubarb," resumed the minister of lands, in his most emphatic manner, "is undoubtedly a vegetable. I have always known that!"
