DEATH SENTENCE FOR STRANGLER OF MRS PATTERSON

Strangler of Mrs. Patterson at Winnipeg to Hang is Sentence of Court Following Jury Verdict

WINNIPEG, November 5.—Earle Nelson, the strangler, was this afternoon found guilty of the murder of Mrs. Emily Patterson and sentenced to hang on Friday, January 13.

The case against the prisoner was completed last evening and this morning the jury was charged by Mr. Justice Dysart, the presiding judge.

The final chapters in what is described as one of the most revolting cases in criminal history, replete with dramatic moments, were recounted yesterday by prisoner's wife and aunt who between them pieced together the strange life story of Nelson.

PRISONER NOTHING TO SAY
The jury was out but a short time. Nelson heard the verdict without emotion, standing erect, his hands behind his back and his head thrown back in characteristic pose.

Mr. Justice Dysart asked the prisoner if he had anything to say before sentence was given. Without change of expression he replied, "By reason I'm not guilty."

The court asked if he had anything else to say and he replied, "No, not that I know of."

There was no disturbance of any kind in the court room as the judge pronounced the words of doom and Nelson was immediately taken by the guard back to the provincial jail.

CROSS-EXAMINATION
Dr. Alvin Mathers, a Winnipeg psychiatrist, was examined by the defense counsel yesterday for more than an hour and remained unshaken in his testimony that the accused was perfectly sane.

Defense counsel pursued the plea of insanity in the hope of saving Nelson from the gallows. In this connection he filed an affidavit of insanity from Napa, California, saylum.

With the exception of the period when Dr. Mathers was testifying, prisoner displayed little concern in the proceeding but he watched the doctor closely as he gave evidence.

CHARGE TO JURY
In his charge to the jury this morning, Mr. Justice Dysart emphasized the necessity of dealing with the case on the evidence because "you are almost sure to have read or heard a great deal about the case before it came into court."

The judge pointed out that there was no evidence of the lesser offense of manslaughter. The person who killed Emily Patterson must have intended to kill her. Every man was presumed innocent until proven guilty, therefore it was necessary for the crown to prove every step of the case.

"If there is any doubt in your minds, you must give accused the benefit of the doubt and you cannot find him guilty."

Referring to the evidence, the judge pointed out the coat and pants found lying over the feet of the victim and witnesses swore they saw accused wearing these clothes on the day of the crime. Also a witness had testified that the clothing taken from the Patterson home had been brought to him by Nelson. The judge also reviewed further evidence.

BOARD OF TRADE TO MAKE DRIVE FOR NEW MEMBERS

At the meeting of the Board of Trade last night it was decided to make a special drive for new members and with that in view the membership fee until the end of the year has been reduced to $10, this to include the time until the end of 1928.

It was shown by the secretary that a great many business and professional people in the city are not members of the board and a special effort will be made to have them join up.

At present there are no funds in the Board treasury and it is difficult for that organization to function. In order to make a canvas the president, W. O. Fulton, J. C. Brady, M.P., and B. J. Mellish were added to the membership committee.

MANSON GETS HIS SUBJECTS CONSIDERED

Bluesky Legislation and Incorporation and Other Matters Discussed at Conference

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—The Dominion provincial conference considered three all-important items Friday—"bluesky" legislation and the question of federal and provincial jurisdiction in the incorporation and operation of companies including trust, loan and insurance concerns. All these were referred to sub-committees.

These were the subjects urged by Hon. A. M. Manson.

Canadian Cattle Sold Chicago Fetch Highest Price of Year; Consignment Totals $53,000

CHICAGO, November 5.—The highest price of the year paid for range cattle on the Chicago market was paid by the packers yesterday for 18 Canadian steers from the farm of A. H. Cross of Calgary, Alberta. The average weight of the animals was 1043 pounds and they sold for $15.50 a hundred pounds.

This price is equal to the record high mark at the stockyards in all its history which was paid in 1920.

Cross sold the entire consignment of 19 car loads for $53,500.

FLOODS IN NEW ENGLAND Are Worst in History

At Least Thirty People Have Lost Lives and Probably Many More While Loss of Property is Enormous

BOSTON, November 5.—Thirty persons are dead and the amount of material damage is staggering in the ever-mounting toll from the worst flood disaster that New England has experienced in the memory of man. Montpelier, the Vermont state capital, is isolated, and various reports put the death list there as high as 200 persons from the breaking of a dam.

Lieutenant Governor Hollister Jackson and six others are said to have perished at Barre, Vermont.

The light and power is cut off in central Vermont and at many places in New Hampshire and Massachusetts and bridges have been carried away.

Exclusive of Montpelier, the Vermont death toll is 16. Massachusetts 12, Rhode Island 1, and Maine 1. In Connecticut and New Hampshire the losses were confined to property.

Continuing rain and the inability of the railroads to cope with conditions continue the traffic paralysis. The railroads have lost hundreds of thousands of dollars in bridges and equipment, while countless hundreds of people have lost their livelihood. Factories, mills, lumber yards, and power plants have been caught in the swirling waters.

Ernest Lapointe Suggests Plan by Which Canada Might Secure Power to Amend Constitution

OTTAWA, November 5.—Hon. Ernest Lapointe submitted to the interprovincial conference rather as a question for discussion than as a formal proposal, a scheme under which Canada might have a right to amend her own constitution within certain limitations.

Ordinary suggestions for constitutional amendment would have to be passed by a definite majority of both houses of the Dominion and by the provincial legislatures. In matters affecting racial minorities and similar important questions, unanimity for a constitutional amendment would have to be secured.

Legislative authority for the scheme would have to be secured from Westminster.

During the discussion divergent and well defined opinions developed. Supporters of the scheme felt that minority rights would be assisted under the scheme. No decision was reached.

QUEBEC, Nov. 5.—H. Campden, section foreman, is dead and four railway workers are injured by the derailment of the Canadian National train between Stoyrille and Drummondville following a bridge washout.

CURIOUS OLD CUSTOMS

In order to keep up the agitation against Catholics the Protestants of England have been in the habit for hundreds of years of celebrating the anniversary of the discovery of the gunpowder plot in which an attempt was made to blow up the House of Parliament in Britain. The custom has pretty well passed away now but the date is still remembered by a great many people. It is only a few years ago when the Church Prayer Book contained a special service for this day as well as for the anniversary of the execution of "King Charles the martyr." As the people of the country became better educated and more broadminded both of these were by common consent dropped just as other changes will have to be made from time to time. We no longer blame Catholics for what their progenitors did, in fact we rather admire them for many of their acts for which at that time they were blamed. We no longer try to defend the persecutions of Catholics by Protestants or the methods of the gross old king, Henry VIII., who for his own ends threw over the papal authority.

Today we all live side by side and intermingling socially and politically, worshipping as we think well or not worshipping at all if we feel so disposed. We are living in a great age, but the next should be a great deal better yet, and every succeeding one should improve.

LITTLE MATHEMATICAL PROBLEM

A columnist in a prairie newspaper propounded this question to its readers. "If it takes a clock six seconds to strike six how long will it take to strike eleven?" Only a few people gave the right answer with the reason why. Possibly this little problem may interest some readers of this paper. We may say to begin with that the answer is not eleven.

SIGNING NEWSPAPER ARTICLES

An amendment which has just been introduced into the Australian Senate, removing the obligation to sign leading articles or reports of election meetings which do not contain comment, raises an interesting point in the ethics of journalism, says the London Times. Both Australia and South Africa have of recent years made signatures obligatory in election periods. The idea behind such legislation was that increased personal responsibility would check misrepresentation and injustice in the reporting of speakers or palpably unjust comment. In the event the attempt to fix individual responsibility has proved somewhat more difficult than was expected. So many members of the staff of a modern newspaper play a part in the collection and presentation of news that the list of names would often be comparable to that which patrons of the cinema are by now accustomed to endure as the prelude to any film—that long rehearsal of who wrote the story, who adapted it, who photographed it, who made up the sub-titles, and so on, in the manner reminiscent of "Who Killed Cock Robin?"

As many as nine or ten names may appear at the end of any account of a political gathering where reporters have taken turns and several sub-editors have devised headlines. Leading articles, again, are only too often the work of several pens, where one supplies the idea and another contributes the grammar and spelling, while a third, who understands punctuation, put in the stops. There is a point beyond which it is foolish to attempt to limit and fix individual responsibility among the staff. Provided it is common knowledge who is responsible for the production of a newspaper, the best security against any dishonesty in reporting or violence in comment must be in its effect on the reputation of the journal that is guilty of such practices.

COLLECTION LOCAL ORES

Board of Trade Decides to Establish Centre Here With Headquarters in News Building

On the motion of S. E. Parker, seconded by W. H. Tobey, it was decided to accept an offer made by the Daily News to use a spare room in their building for making a collection of ores of the district where they will be kept on display for the inspection of mining men and others.

The matter was brought up by Mr. Parker who said the matter had been mentioned to him by H. F. Pullen on behalf of the firm which he represents. The room was a large one and was heated and could be open to the public during business hours. He thought it would be a good move as complaint was often made that Prince Rupert did nothing to make Prince Rupert a mining centre or to attract mining men here.

The proposal was referred to the mining committee with power to act.

MEET SKIPPERS OF GRAIN BOATS

Board of Trade to Extend Official Welcome to Each One on Arrival Here

At the meeting of the board of trade last night a letter was read from M. P. McCaffery suggesting that it might be a good thing, if the board would arrange for someone to meet the captains of the grain ships as they arrive and make them welcome to the port.

After some discussion in which the proposal was favorably commented on, it was decided to refer the matter to the entertainment committee for action, the suggestion being that the committee appoint some one or two members of the board to meet each ship. These will extend the welcome of the board and put the captain up at the Prince Rupert Club where he will be able to have all the privileges of membership during his stay in the city. It is also possible that those with cars will take the visiting skipper for a drive around the city or otherwise entertain him.

Disaster Befalls American Halibut Fleet—Dog Fishing Operations Continue Steadily—Many Hunting Parties Being Planned

The closing days of the season are being marked with disaster at least as far as the American halibut fleet is concerned. Storms at the first of the season caused the loss of several boats. Now the turbulent fall weather on the banks has resulted in loss of life, two fatalities having been reported during the past week.

Both casualties occurred on the Yakutat banks where mountainous seas swept the men overboard. A giant wave caught John Johnson and Carl Avestad off the deck of the American schooner Marmot, the former never being seen again while the latter was fortuitously rescued.

Adolph Anderson was swept off the deck of the Gladstone, also American, and, despite the efforts of Capt. Thorwick and his men to effect a rescue, he too was lost. Both victims were Seattle men, the latter being quite well known in Prince Rupert. He leaves a widow and family to whom general sympathy will be extended.

With the close season now but ten days distant, most of the halibut vessels now landing their catches here have made their final trips of the year.

the engine of his little powerboat "Pup," in which he was starting out to go from town to Digby Island, broke down and he started to drift helplessly across the harbor. His plight was observed from the headquarters of the B.C. Towing & Lighterage Co. and the manager, Paul Armour, dispatched the harbor boat Salvagee to his aid. Just as he was nearing the rocks near the mouth of McNicholl Creek, where his boat would undoubtedly have been broken to pieces, the salvage boat got a line aboard and a safe return was made to this side of the harbor with Dick a scared but a wiser man.

B. C. Towing & Lighterage Co.'s powerboat Naas River made a trip to Dominion and Inverness canneries on Thursday with Mr. Kerr, Seattle scrap and junk buyer.

Having moved the Naas River and its fleet alongside the main dock on the east side, the B.C. Towing & Lighterage Co. has put in a new approach which will also serve the C.N.R. Yacht Club whose old approach will not be taken down.

The B.C. Towing & Lighterage Co.'s big power tug Salvage Princess, which went down for a tow of logs from Morgan's camp for the Seal Cove Lumber Co.'s sawmill, has been weather-bound most of the week at River's Bight.

Well! Johnny Wilson did not get skunked on his first bird-hunting trip of the season even if for a while he thought he was going to be. It happened this wise; the rest of the party went around by land to the head of a bay while Johnny came along the beachline in a rowboat. Everything was going nicely and Johnny was proving himself to be something of an oarsman as well as a coachman when a white bird loomed up on the landscape. There was a mad scramble as Johnny plunged overboard to get a steady footing and sure aim as well as soaking wet but Johnny brought down the bird. Much to his disgust, he discovered as he thought that it was only a seagull. As they started home, other members of the party told of a fine bird they had captured and Johnny wondered, nay finally became convinced, if his was not also a white Mackenzie River goose. Steps were retraced and, sure enough, it was found that Johnny's was indeed one of these specimens. So, Johnny didn't get skunked after all.

Capt. B. C. Marsh, former harbor master here, is reported to be investigating the possibility of establishing a new concern here for the buying and shipping of cod fish during the winter. Such a venture would seem to have good possibilities, particularly during the close season on halibut. Fish are abundant and it is believed, would find a ready market.

Capt. Larry Thomson of the Federal Pilots of British Columbia is accompanying the freighter Fishpool to Union Bay where it will follow the completion of loading yesterday a full cargo of grain at the local elevator for the United Kingdom or continent. If Capt. Thomson does not return in time, it is probable that Capt. J. R. Elfert, harbor master, will handle the next grain ship, King James, which is due about November 10.

Galt Freighter Salvor, Captain Rush, was in port on Monday from Vancouver discharging over the Albert & McCaffery wharf a cargo which included tile, steel and contractor's equipment for the business block being erected for Oiler Besner.

Many Indian boats, bringing delegates to the Anglican Church Army conference which was held in the city this week, have been tied up at the Cow Bay government floats. The proceedings concluding on Thursday night most of the visiting boats have left by today for their various village homes in the district.

DOG FISHING

Dog fishing operations for the Rupert Marine Products reduction plant continue satisfactorily. Boats during the past week have averaged better than a ton each per day, these being small boats with limited gear equipment. Some of the smaller halibut boats may engage in the industry now that the close season is approaching for it is believed that vessels with nine of ten slaves of gear can make large hauls. Headquarters camp is still located on Dolphin Island at the far end of Ogden Channel.

With better weather in prospect, many hunting parties are being arranged for the Thanksgiving holiday week-end. Some of them will make departure tonight to visit rather far removed fields. With snow coming down on the hills conditions are better for the pursuit of deer but the most of the parties will be in quest of the wily ducks and geese.

Acting Director H. N. Brocklesby and Louis Smith of the Fisheries Experimental Station have been making a number of trips to the Tucks Inlet reduction plant engaged in research work in connection with the dogfish reduction operations there. The trips have been made in the station's powerboat Surveyor which somebody says would look better if the government made an appropriation with a view to having it painted.

P.R.H. powerboat Pachena, Capt. Harvey Dumas, which made a trip to Anyox on Monday with freight, took the provincial public works engineer on a trip to Porcher Island yesterday. The "28," Capt. Alex. Saint, also went to Porcher on Friday, having on board the mines inspector who gave the Patterson mine the once-over. Boats of the P.R.H. fleet have been busy recently taking supplies to the government road camp near Galloway Rapids.

Rebuilding of the burned seineboat K and S, which the Prince Rupert Boat House recently purchased, is proceeding with Bob Thomas in charge of operations. On completion, it is likely that the vessel will be renamed "29." Captain Swanson has absolutely run out of originality as far as nomenclature is concerned.

P.R.H. gravel scow, which has been tied up for the past month undergoing installation of a new engine and winch, it is expected, will be ready to resume operations on Monday. A number of trips will be immediately made to the Skeena River.

AN INTERESTING TRIP

Though no game was got, it was a trip not lacking in excitement which the Edac had last Saturday night. Fresh with her new crankshaft and a general overhaul and with Skipper Doc Cade, Rupert Benson and two boys on board, departure was made about 9 p.m. under auspicious conditions which, as it turned out, however, were not long to be. As Miss Edac turned the corner around the Prince Rupert cannery, her wings gave a sudden flutter and she laid right down on the job. Examination of spark plugs and other gadgets showed positive reaction of water and no matter how many replacements were made the result was the same. It was a dark night with an adverse tide running but, nevertheless, Ben realized that duty called his two strong arms so soon the dinghy set out and in the wee sma' hours finally reached the Cold Storage plant. There the town's best taxi was called into commission and Ben soon reached the Yacht Club floats, bent of bringing Pointsettia to the rescue. But a sudden shower of rain came down and Pointsettia went out. Central was

Prizes as follows were presented by Col. S. P. McMordie, D.S.O.:

Regimental cup and gold medal for the highest average score of the season—R.Q.M.S. M. M. Lamb (average 93). Royal Arms Cup—Pte. A. Wylie (48 out of possible 50 in ten shots at 600 yards range).

Spoon winners at weekly shoots—Pte. A. Wylie, three; Lieut. W. Brass, 2; R.Q.M.S. M. M. Lamb, 2; Pte. R. Wilson, 1.

BOXING BOUTS

During the evening there were four fine three-minute round boxing bouts as follows: Tod Morgan vs. Nick Chenoski; Eddie Smith vs. Mike Gurvich; Bronson Hunt vs. Nina Gurvich; Brick Skinner vs. Battling Gurvich. Brick Skinner was referee of the first three bouts while M. M. Lamb acted as time-keeper.

There was community singing and the program of the evening included solos by Andrew Murray, Thomas Wilson, Walter Howarth, Johnny Hegarty and Bob James; violin solos by J. Campbell, and instrumental selections by the Busanich brothers. Sid Thomson presided at the piano.

Another feature of the evening's proceedings was the presentation by R. M. Winslow, president of the Prince Rupert Football Association, of the Gilhuly Cup to J. S. Wilson, captain of the regimental team which won it. In response, Capt. Wilson gave some interesting records of the team's activities during the season.

Refreshments were served and the whole evening proved one of much enjoyment, reflecting much credit on the work of the committee in charge which consisted of C. V. Evtitt, C. L. Youngman, Harold Ponder and Andy Murray. Guests of honor included Mayor Newton and J. C. Brady, M.P.

Drowsy, Tired Feeling Completely Gone

"Fruit-a-lives" Made a New Man of Him

MR. D. DUPERRON

Unnatural drowsiness and continual bodily fatigue usually mean constipation. In Maxville, Ontario, Mr. Donald Duperron experienced this serious handicap. How he overcame it he tells as follows: "After trying several so-called remedies for constipation," his letter runs, "I was recommended to try 'Fruit-a-lives,' which I did. The results are marvellous. That drowsy, tired feeling has completely gone. 'Fruit-a-lives' has made a new man of me. I cannot recommend it too highly."

Perhaps you are bothered the same way, have headaches and drowsy spells, are short on ambition and energy. If so, try "Fruit-a-lives." "Fruit-a-lives" is a splendid tonic-laxative. It contains the best of anti-constipation ingredients—the juices of fresh fruits—intensified and blended with tonics. It tones up the bowels and liver, assists the kidneys and soothes the stomach's lining. Obtainable everywhere, 25c and 50c. Go and get it today.

Lorne C. Rogers and Ed.
