AS BEAVERS BUILD HUMANS PULL DOWN

JASPER, October 18 .- The busy beaver that figures as an emblem of Canada sometimes is too busy, as a recent incident shows. There is a colony of beavers in the lake at the foot of A FIRST GRAIN SHIP Pyramid Mountain that has been altogether too industrious in the dam-building business peculiar to their species, and as a result the animals with the trowel-shaped tails have come into conflict with the humans who dwell in bungalows at the lake.

The bungalow-dwellers noticed that the water in the lake was rising, and they concluded that it was due to natural causes. Finally, however, they discovered that the rising water was not natural but was the result of beavers' work. The channel which runs under the Canadian National Railways line had become flooded, and trouble was in the offing. The trouble was traced to the beavers, who had dammed the outlet of the lake to make deep water for themselves. The game guardian liked the beavers, but he decided that they had better be more discriminating in their choice of questers.

He ordered the dam blown up. The beavers were somewhat surprised, but set to work again to rebuild. They gnawed trees, batted them over with their tails, and dragged them to the dam and began reconstruction.

There was another explosion and water poured through the dam again. Now, for the fifth time, dynamite has made a breach in the dam and the beavers are still stubbornly rebuilding. Eventually, however, they will have to give up and seek more secluded quarters.

Striking to Observer The revival of Seal Cove industrially is one of the most striking indications of what may take place at any time throughout Prince Rupert. People passing that end of the city in boats note what looks like a new city in the building. The new mill built by the Big Bay Lumber Company looms large and indicates real business at that point. The recent arrival of a boom of logs for the spring operations is still further evidence. Next from a spectacular point of view is the big new shipshed

CONSERVATIVES WILL BUILD

If the Liberals under Premier Mackenzie King will not build a lary mirrors giving focal lengths of 18, railway westerly from the Peace River country, the Conservatives will, so they say. That is encouraging. Between the two we are vacuum cells. . . . By means of a series likely to get somewhere. There is no such thing as grati- tary surrface." tude in politics, as evidenced in the result of the last election here. People support the party they expect to get most from or the candidate they like the best.

Now Prince Rupert wants a western outlet for the Peace River, it wants a post office and it wants fishermen's floats. Conservatives refused to come out straight in the matter of post office at the last election but they have now declared for the western out-· let from the Peace River. If they stick to that unequivocally and the ther, they found the mean annual tem-Liberals will do nothing, as intimated by Hon. C. A. Dunning, then the Conservatives will get western support.

NEARBY PLANET

Scientists Say it is Habitable and Similar to the Earth in Many Respects

tumn Mars came comparatively near to the earth. In early November only 42 .-000,000 miles separated us from our neighbor, and during the winter the red planet was perhaps the most conspicuous object in the evening skies. The opposition of 1926 was scarcely so favorable as that of 1924, for Mars was 8,000,000 miles farther away; but the greater distance and consequent smaller apparent size of the disk was compensated for by the greater altitude of the planet above the horizon. And as Mars is getting more distant from us at each opposition, last winter's was the nearest approach of the planet for a number of years to come.

It was known to astronomers a year ago that Dr. Coblentz and Mr. Lampland were engaged in seeking, at the Lowell Observatory, further confirmation or the reverse of the temperature measurements which they obtained at the oppusition of 1924. The results of last year's work have been embodied in a paper entitled "Further Radiometric Measurements and Temperature Estimates of the Planet Mars, 1926," just issued from Washington. Messrs. Coblentz and Lampland state that the telescope used was the 42-inch Lowell reflector, which is equipped with auxil-53, and 80 feet. "The radio-meters in of transmission screens of water, quartz, diation emanating from the irradiating surface of Mars was resolved into spectral components whereby it was possi-

The Lowell observers found that warm and cold areas were to be found on the uniformly illuminated disk. This indicates a new method of picking out Martian clouds invisible to the tele- habitable world. scopic observer; for the small regions of low temperature would seem to be due to cloudiness. The temperature measured in these cases is most likely not the surface temperature but that of a cloud layer, and this, of course, indicates that the atmosphere of Mars is cloudier than was believed fifteen or twenty years ago. This is confirmed b visual and photographic observation within the last ten years. Dr. Coblentz thinks that the evidence of so much cloudiness raises the question of "the extent of an absorbing and heat-retaining atmosphere, and perhaps the presence of a little more water-vapour the greatest of salmon pests. than the spectroscope has yet shown."

Does It Pay?

to wash at home

Many thousands of women are standing at the family washtubs every Monday morning under the impression that they are saving money by doing their own washing. In the course of their studies in household economy in an eastern university, four of the students decided to make a test of this for themselves.

They visited a home consisting of five persons, the parents and three small children, and actually did the weekly family wash, accomplishing the work complete in three hours, using a $150 electric washing machine.

Being students of economic costs, they were careful to accumulate cost data and this is what the wash cost without any labor charge:

Deterioration of machine 50c Electric current 10c Water 05c Fuel 15c Soap (actual cost) 10c Washing Powder 05c Blueing 02c

The same washing done at the laundry would cost $1.00 Would you wash all day for three cents? The answer is obvious. Send it to the

Neglected

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to-and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

DON'T lose health and efficiency through neglect. Come and see!

PARKING BYLAW

Council Committee Named to go Into Matter and Make Recommendations for Necessary Revision

city council last night decided to take steps with a view to having the city parking regulations revised. Ald. Green pointed out that there had been conderable confusion recently over measure which had been enacted in 1910. It was on his motion that the acting mayor appoint a committee of three to investigate the situation by conferring with interested parties and bring a report back to the council at its next meeting.

The motion was unanimously adopted and Ald. Jos. Greer, Ald. Brown and Ald. W. J. Greer were named the committee by Acting Mayor Stephens.

City Solicitor Jones suggested that the city's several traffic bylaws should be consolidated. The committee will also take this matter up.

Chinese Soon Arrested and Money Recovered Following Burglary in Sixth Street Restaurant

Quick work on the part of Provincial Police Constable R. Gilker resulted this morning in the arrest of Harry Wong. Chinese, on a charge of theft and the recovery of a sum of money estimated at $120 which was allegedly burgiarized between the hours of 2 and 6 o'clock Travellers' Cafe on Sixth Street.

The disappearance of the money in question was discovered before 8 o'clock this morning by Tom Wong, manager of the restaurant, who immediately notified the police. The fact that the accused had been discharged from the employ of the restaurant yesterday and had not turned in his keys, coupled with the fact that he was believed to have had knowledge of the combination of the safe, led to him being suspected. Soon the money, alleged to have been the room at the Regent Hotel of the accused who was then placed under arrest. The safe is said to have been stitution being accepted. cleaned of all the cash it contained.

Wong appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate H. F. McLeod in city police court this morning and was remanded to be held at Hallowe'en. for eight days on a charge of breaking and entering.

EDMONTON, Octo 1847 - Training some sixty prospective fliers who have enrolled with the Edmonton and Northern Alberta Aero Club will commence at the Prince of Wales armories on Thursday. This was decided upon at a meeting of the club when some 20 new names were added to the roll of those desirous of becoming aviators.

The ground school will be under the supervision of S. Ychke, who is an officer of the club, while it is intended that a series of thirty lectures will be held during the winter season. Details for carrying out the training course were left in the hands of a special committee which will also arrange for a number of lectures at the university. where aeroplane engines are available for instruction purposes.
