NEW POSSIBILITY SUGGESTED REGARD TO PEACE OUTLET

Vancouver Worried at Slow Loading of Grain and Looking for Cause

Private Ownership of Elevators is Criticized by Some: Large Fleet in Harbor Makes Pretty Picture But Not Efficient

VANCOUVER, December 30.—Considerable complaint is being registered by numerous ship captains over the delay in securing grain cargoes. Yesterday Captain Wyatt of the British steamer Inverness, speaking before the Kiwanis Club, criticized the delay and the general summary of the opinion of the captains is that "a large fleet anchored in the harbor makes a pretty picture but does not spell efficiency in port administration."

No one seems to know exactly what is the trouble. The ships are here, the grain is here, yet the vessels do not get the grain with

SHIPS AND PIERS ARE DESTROYED

Disastrous $2,500,000 Conflagration Occurs Today at Hoboken, New Jersey

HOBOKEN, New Jersey, Dec. 30.—The Clyde liner Seneca, two 700-foot piers and eight barges were destroyed today by fire, the damage being estimated at $2,500,000. The Seneca, three hundred feet long and formerly in the run from New York to Miami, had been here since September and was valued at $2,000,000.

a speed that is considered businesslike. One explanation is that there is a shortage of the grades which the charters call for, but some shipmasters feel that private control of the elevators is not proving wholly satisfactory as it costs $250 a day to hold the ships.

The harbor board insists that all ships be given despatch according to rotation on the list and the amount of grain ready to be loaded on the vessel.

Tees Pool Is Due Tuesday to Load Grain at Local Elevator But Movement of Cars Slows Up

The ninth vessel of the season to load grain at the Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator will be the British freighter Tees Pool, which is due here next Tuesday, it was announced at the elevator offices this morning. It is expected that the vessel will load a full cargo for the United Kingdom or Continent in which direction all grain so far shipped from Prince Rupert this season has gone. The Tees Pool belongs to the "Pool" Line which has already had several boats in Prince Rupert for wheat.

Owing to extremely cold weather between Prince Rupert and the prairies, fifteen above being recorded here and as low as 55 below zero eastward, there has been a slowing up in the movement of grain to the port. While nothing arrived during the past twenty-four hours, railway offices this morning reported 375 carloads on the division bound here.

Loading of the big Swedish freighter with a full cargo for the United Kingdom or Continent is proceeding at the elevator but it is not expected to get the ship away before next week.

Writer Suggests C.P.R. Use Prince Rupert and Canadian National Line as Outlet for Peace River Country

A new slant is thrown on the Peace River problem by George Edward Van Buskirk of this city who writes to urge a move to get the Canadian Pacific Railway to take over the E.D. & B.C. Railway in Alberta and then build a western outlet to the Canadian National line, securing running rights from there over the C.N.R. to Prince Rupert, and making this port useful to the C.P.R. as well as the Canadian National. It is an interesting letter but as to the possibilities of securing what is advocated it is for readers to judge. The letter follows:

Editor, Daily News:
A stranger in your midst, taking a very keen interest in the question of a new province for the North and a suitable outlet to the Pacific Coast for the products of the Peace River country, I wish to give my views on the subject and present a solution that, if brought into effect, will perhaps satisfy the people living in the Peace River district as well as others vitally concerned.

The question may be asked: "Am I qualified to give expert opinion on Prince Rupert as being a first-class seaport—how it compares with Vancouver for the shipping of Alberta and Saskatchewan grain to all points of the earth; also how the port is for safe entrance and egress, at all times of the year, for the largest steamers afloat, as well as being the logical outlet for that great country known as the Peace River district? Yes, I consider I am qualified. My qualifications being the very best, viz., practical experience in shipping and harbor matters with one of the finest seaports of the world.

From 1899 to 1904 I was the active head of R. Bauld & Co., proprietors of the Halifax Coal Co., and was instrumental in revolutionizing the coal business of Halifax, both on land and water, as well as establishing speed records for discharging coal steamers and for bunkering ocean-going steamers. At that time my firm owned and controlled large waterside properties. I think I am correct in saying, outside of government owned property, the second largest for harbor frontage in the city of Halifax, having three piers capable of taking care of very large ships. I refer to commercial docks and our property in the south end of the city, now owned and used by the Dominion Coal Co.

FIRST TO BUILD ELEVATOR
My firm was the first to build a modern coal elevator in Halifax for handling large coal cargoes at a low cost.

We owned sixty heavy draught horses and at times had as many as 200 men working in our employ.

We had two vessels under time charter carrying our coal, one the Norwegian steamer "Eros," cargo capacity 1,500 tons, the other a 3-masted schooner carrying 600 tons.

We defied the great corporation known as the Dominion Coal Co. which brought on a desperate fight which finally ended (continued on page three)

SEARCH MADE FOR PIONEER

CORDOVA, Dec. 30.—An unsuccessful search continued for the 65 foot boat Pioneer, missing since it left Katalina a fortnight ago for Cordova.

The game commission boat Seal, one of the vessels searching for the Pioneer, returned to port, having developed engine trouble after battling with heavy seas for three days.

DAILY EDITION Friday, Dec. 30, 1927

WEATHER ALWAYS INTERESTING

Weather is always an interesting topic of conversation. Next to food and housing it affects us more than anything else in the world. We know conditions here and we like to know what are conditions elsewhere.

Yesterday we learned that people in rural England were snowed in and had to tramp miles to get their food; that Vancouver was one degree colder than Prince Rupert; that Ontario was under the spell of a warm wave, possibly having stolen our own Japanese current.

CONGRATULATIONS TO GYRO CLUB

The Gyro Club is to be congratulated on the new rink they have provided for local skaters. Possibly it may be that Prince Rupert is to be congratulated on having a Gyro Club that can provide a rink, something we have been needing these many years with no one capable of making it.

The Gyros are a real service club and it is to be hoped they will use their influence in many directions to make Prince Rupert a desirable city in which to live.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS

If someone sent out a questionnaire to every citizen in Prince Rupert asking what was the League of Nations and what was its scope, the answers would be varied. Many would return blank papers because they know nothing about it.

In order to educate the people on the League and its work an attempt is to be made to teach about it in the public schools of Canada. This will mean that the young citizens will know much more than their fathers and mothers.

THE BRAIN OF ANATOLE FRANCE

To the current issue of the "British Medical Journal" Sir Arthur Keith contributes some notes on the recent French report on the examination of Anatole France's brain. The report as summarized in the newspaper version reads as though Sir Arthur Keith, having consulted the official record in the bulletin of the French Academy of Medicine, has not found that the complete story is a very satisfying one.

The tests we apply for genius are not those which measure all the powers of which the brain is capable. Many of them are inarticulate or silent. Anatole France, above all, was an anatomist of human nature who sought, as is the habit of primitive minds, for clear and concrete expression.

So the British authority does, in point of fact, hint at a connection between the small brain and one kind of the great genius. And then how far is genius, or most forms of genius, "primitive?"

INDIAN WEDDING AT ALERT BAY FEATURED OLD NATIVE DANCES

ALERT BAY, Dec. 30.—An Indian wedding of much interest was solemnized on Tuesday in Christ Church, Alert Bay, B.C., by Rev. F. Comley.

The pretty little bride, Miss Flora Alfred, is the daughter of Moses Alfred, and the groom, James Sewed, has his home at Village Island. The bride entered the church with her father, attended by two bridesmaids and four little flower girls.

After the ceremony a large reception, open to all, was given in the Parish Hall. The festivities opened with two or three Indian dances. The first one was danced by the mother and grandmother of the groom in front of the bride; this was a dance of gratitude.

The bride is an ex-pupil of the Alert Bay Indian residential school. Christmas was spent quietly but pleasantly by residents of Smithers. Besides the usual home festivities there were special moving picture show, hockey game, special church services, skating, etc.

SMITHERS

Little interest is being taken locally in the village election which will take place less than four weeks hence.

The Christmas tree entertainment in connection with St. Joseph's Catholic Church was held yesterday afternoon with a large crowd of children and parents in attendance.

A new post office for Smithers is being advocated. In spite of difficulties, the staff gave a good Christmas service.

Optimism born of unprecedented evidence of huge forward strides in Smithers and other Central British Columbia, declares the Interior News in a New Year message to the public.

The local branch of the Canadian Legion carried out effective Christmas cheer work, all needy families being provided with toys and necessities.

Local merchants report good trade during the holidays, in many cases exceeding the volume of 1926. The day immediately before Christmas was much quieter than the previous day, early shopping having been the vogue here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Kilpatrick spent Christmas here with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Kilpatrick.

There was a reunion of the Henry clan at Smithers during the Christmas holidays. W. S. Henry having as his guests his brothers Jack, Bob and Dave.

Comparison with records kept over a number of years shows the snowfall at present to be already six inches greater than in normal years. Eighteen inches is the average snowfall for Central British Columbia but in the Bulkley Valley the snow is already two feet deep on the level.

Local citizens made generous donations of hampers and gifts which contributed greatly to the enjoyment of the patients and staff of the local hospital over the Christmas holiday.

Owing to the Christmas festivities, little interest has been taken in skating during the past week, the skating rink being largely patronized by children.

The annual Christmas tree entertainment in connection with St. James' Anglican Church Sunday school took place last evening. There was a supper, program and Christmas tree.

Miss Vera Doodson celebrated her birthday on Tuesday night with a party attended by a number of her girl and boy friends. Games, contests and dancing went to make a very pleasant evening.

Misses Agnes Erickson and Vina Eby celebrated their birthdays at a joint party in the home of the former on Tuesday evening when a large number of the younger set gathered to enjoy the entertainment provided.

A large number of the Duthie mine force as well as miners engaged on the Victory and King Tut tunnel contracts and from the Topley operations came to Smithers for the Christmas festivities.

Hugh Boswell of the Hanson Co. office here is on a brief holiday trip to Vancouver.

The Sam Kee house on Alfred Avenue was sold this week by E. E. Orchard to the Lamie Mitchell family of Moricetown who will now take up residence in Smithers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Goodacre and children were Christmas visitors at the home of Mrs. Goodacre's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. McDonald, Telkwa.

Raymond Moran, who is attending the University of Alberta at Edmonton, is spending the holidays here with his parents.

After ideal weather for Christmas, the thermometer has been ascending to record low levels during the present week.

George Oulton has added an electric lighting system to the facilities at his dairy and farm home near Smithers.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Campbell spent Christmas at Telkwa with their daughter, Mrs. B. M. Hoops.

Douglas McIntosh and George Roberts of Prince George spent Christmas in Smithers.

R. B. Wallace, Duthie mine school teacher, is spending the Christmas and New Year holidays at Topley.

NEW HAZELTON

The campaign at Hazelton and New Hazelton against the changing of the Bulkley River bridge site to the vicinity of the Hazelton Hospital as advocated by Patrick Philip, deputy minister of public works, continues. New Hazelton citizens have unanimously signed a petition opposing the project.

Albert Mercer returned to Hazelton on Monday night after having spent two months trapping in the wilds on the south fork of the Copper River. Though hampered by snow, he had pretty good luck. An adventure with a mother grizzly bear and her two cubs was the outstanding experience of his trip.

The funeral took place last Saturday afternoon of Robert Langlands, aged 85, and a resident of Kispiox and Hazelton for the past twenty years. He is survived by two daughters—Mrs. Newick of Hazelton and Mrs. (Rev.) Lee, formerly of Kispiox and now residing in New Westminster. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. J. H. Young, assisted by Dr. H. C. Winch, M.L.A., and pallbearers were J. Boden, James Proctor, Robert Tomlinson, S. J. Winsay, W. W. Anderson and William Grant.

Christmas was spent very quietly in Hazelton and New Hazelton although all residents seemed to enjoy themselves.

A load of ore is being brought down every day from the Silver Cup mine and, as soon as the road is broken, this will be increased.

MODERN ETIQUETTE
Skit on Attempt to Make all Conform to Same Usage in Matter of Unimportant Details

"When fingerbowls are brought in on dolles how does one proceed?"
This momentous question is propoundated in the columns of an Island contemporary. Other queries that follow are: "When finished with dessert, what should one do?" and "Is it proper to dip the fingers of both hands simultaneously?"

It is borne in upon us that we have never given proper thought to these matters. We have not even noticed whether the fingerbowls were brought in on dolles or not. Presumably they are. We hope they are, anyway, for we now know, in part, at least, what to do when the practice is followed. You remove fingerbowl with dolle and place at the left of your plate." This is all right as far as it goes, but it does not state what you should then do with the dolle. Do you put it at the other side of your plate or do you drop it on the floor. We hope to hear from the Island as soon as possible.

It is necessary to point out, however,
that no advice is given on how to deal with a fingerbowl that does not come in on a dolle. Should so plebeian a fingerbowl be simply ignored or should you "place at left of your plate," and if so, do you pick it up with the edge of the tablecloth or use your napkin? This newspaper anxiously awaits a reply.

Then again, what do you do when finished with dessert? We have always just finished with it and let it go at that, but the Island authority on these matters indicates that there is a ritual to be observed. If the waiter removes the plate it is all plain sailing, of course. But if the waiter does not,
there you are, all cluttered up with the remains of dessert on a plate in front of you when you want the fingerbowl in that position. In these circumstances you gently edge the plate a little to one side (don't on any account set it on top of your neighbor's plate) and "draw your fingerbowl near enough to use." Then as to dipping with both hands at once, contrary to what might be generally supposed, this does not depend on the size of the fingerbowl.
Oh, no. "One at a time is the more graceful method."

We congratulate the Island newspaper on its enterprise in taking up these vital questions. The press is too apt to concern itself with the way they eat pork in Bulgaria rather than the way
one handles a fork on, say, Vancouver Island. Yet one may live a lifetime and never eat pork with a Bulgarian, while one can hardly sit down to a meal on Vancouver Island, or even on the mainland of British Columbia, without finding a fork beside one's plate.

The article on fingerbowls from which we quote is merely a hint of what can be done along these lines and we hope the Island contemporary will keep on doing it. We suggest as the next question to be taken up, whether it is more comely to drop the ashes of one's after-dinner cigarette (supposing ashtrays have been omitted) in the saucer of one's coffee cup or to lick them off surreptitiously, under the table.

Refreshments were then served and Santa Claus arrived on the scene, distributing gifts and delicacies to all.

The committee in charge of the event consisted of Mrs. S. Cox, Mrs. Brewton, Mrs. Daves, Mrs. J. Duran, Mrs.
Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Mahaffey.

WHAT EVERY WOMAN KNOWS
"My dear," remarked Baggs, who had just finished reading a book on "The Wonders of Nature," this is a remarkable work. Nature is marvellous! Stupendous! When I read a book like this it makes me think how puny, how insignificant is man.

"Huh!" said his wife. "A woman doesn't have to wade through five hundred pages to discover that."

COMING SESSION OF PARLIAMENT

Suggestion That Changes Will be Made to Tariff in 1928

(By R. J. Deachman)

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—The Cabinet of late, has been busy with the details of the coming session. There is in evidence, a desire for shorter sessions. If the work can be put in shape before hand, these things can be rushed along.
A session before an election is usually stormy. The opposition is looking for arguments and sometimes mud, to throw at the government. After an election, the storm is still in evidence,
the Government then wants to taunt
the other side with failure, and returns the mud—all this takes time. It is a safe guess that the coming session will be quiet—quiet, but interesting. Politics is waking up a bit. There is no longer the old faith in political parties
—there is an increase of tempered interest, that is the hopeful sign.

TARIFF SESSION PROBABLE
This is a guess and one guess is as good as another, but this will be a tariff session. Practically a hundred applications for tariff changes have come before the Tariff Board. Last year
Mr. Robb told the House that nothing could be done because the Board had not had sufficient time. That answer cannot be given now!

On the other hand, there cannot be a complete revision of the tariff. Iron and steel is one of the basic factors in tariff making. Iron and steel was the first application before the Tariff Board, but nothing has been done about it. Shortly after the application was made, the British Empire Steel Company got into financial trouble and it was felt that time might straighten out that tangle. Had the government acted at once, the men behind the steel companies would probably have sold the tariff favors received by unloading stock on the public and the government was not willing to stand as stepfather for stock jobbing operations.
With steel untouched, there can be no general revision—too much hangs on steel.

Meanwhile there are rumors that the United States Steel Corporation intends to open out its long contemplated plant in Canada. That will bring a different factor into the operations. There are rumors also that the government contemplates a bounty on steel. This was the plan adopted some years ago by Mr. Fielding. It never was overly popular with the Liberals—it is doubtful if the western strong men of the party would take it even if favored by tariff reductions elsewhere.

There are however, numerous items on which the government can act. Thorough investigations have been made on woolens, cottons, linen, boots and shoes, harness, enamelware, alum-inumware and numerous other separate items. Then there is the excise tax on cigarettes. A reduction on this item would make it possible to sell cigarettes in Canada at prices approaching the American prices. As it stands at present, the Canadian price is so high that Mr. Smuggler finds it very profitable to bring them in and his ways of doing so are many and various.

In all these matters we have a new factor to consider—that factor is the tourist. If prices in Canada are made unduly high by tariffs or excise taxes,
it blocks the tourist trade—and tourists in a year, spend about $200,000,000 in Canada. A purse like that must be respected even in a national sense—it has its influence upon affairs. What the government will do—I do not know.

On one other item, prediction is easier. The sales tax was never popular. To chop it off at once is difficult—it's a great revenue producer. Still it will probably get another touch this year. Then the rich are protesting about the income tax. This does not interest the average man, but the men it does influence are powerful, so something may be done about it.

NEW TENDERS SEWER PIPES

City Council Decides to Ignore Former Bids and Call For New Ones

Accepting the advice of the city engineer, the city council last night decided to call for new tenders for the pipe for the trunk sewer which is to be laid the coming spring. Tenders were called last August and opened and then laid over. It is claimed now that freight rates are slightly lower and this may affect the cost of the pipe.

Alderman Perry urged the letting of the contract to the highest tenderer as the firm has gone to a lot of expense in calling for prices and had submitted the tender in good faith.

Alderman Stephens asked how long it would take to dig the trench. If the pipe was not needed at once the city might be saved a considerable sum by calling for new tenders.

Mayor Newton did not consider it fair after opening the other tenders to then call for new ones.

Alderman Larsen remarked that it would mean keener competition.

After considerable discussion it was moved by Alderman Linzey, seconded by Alderman Stephens that new tenders be called, and this was carried.

BRITISH COLUMBIA LEADS IN NUMBER OF NEW INDUSTRIES

New industries have been established in all the provinces, though in this respect British Columbia leads, says "The Last West," published at Winnipeg. It is said that the Pacific province manufactures practically everything required by its people. Agriculturally, too, this province is progressing in a marked degree. The extensive arable areas in the central region along the Prince Rupert line of the Canadian National Railways are attracting increasing attention though but little advertised, and settlement and production is growing. Mining developments from Prince George to Prince Rupert are assuming considerable importance with outside capital coming in more liberally than ever before, and the establishment of two or three ore mills in the near future seems certain. The lumber, pole and the business is also flourishing. Farmers who are able to handle the contracts deal direct with the railway company, thus finding a market for suitable timber cut in land clearing operations, and obtain a substantial revenue therefrom. Those who cannot take contracts direct deal with the regular contractors.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT CATHEDRAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LAST NIGHT

The annual Christmas tree in connection with the Cathedral Sunday school was held last night in the Cathedral Hall, the superintendent, E. W. Tucker, having charge and being aided by the teachers. A good supper was provided by the teachers, something like one hundred and fifty sitting down to a sumptuous repast.

The Christmas tree was unloaded by Santa Claus and a good program was given as follows:

PROVIDES CASH FOR COMMITTEE

City Donates $250 to Board of Trade for Campaign Favor of Railway

At the meeting of the city council last night it was decided to grant the Board of Trade the sum of $250 for the use of the committee on Peace River railway.

Mayor Newton, who is a member of the joint committee, made the recommendations that $500 be granted. Alderman Stephens urged that as the estimates had already been exceeded the sum of $200 be voted now and the city council could increase the amount later.

It was felt that $250 would enable the committee to carry on until the new council was elected and the vote was passed.

CHRISTMAS TREE BY ROYAL PURPLE AND ELKS IS SUCCESS

Children of members of the Elks and Royal Purple Lodges, orphans and inmates of the Ridley Home to the number of fifty or so were in attendance yesterday afternoon at a Christmas Tree held by the Elks and Royal Purple in the home in the Helgeson Block.

After dinner had been served and games played, Santa Claus put in his appearance, and distributed generously filled stockings and presents to each child present.

The event was a completely successful one credit for the arrangement of which goes to Mrs. H. A. Ross, Mrs. B. Skinner and Mrs. R. Arthur, Jr., comprising the committee in charge. Jack Cobb gave Santa Claus invaluable assistance in his work.

ROCK WORK PROCEEDS ON THE TRUNK SEWER

In connection with the calling for tenders for sewer pipes it developed at the city council meeting last night that some rock work could be done on the trunk sewer during the cold weather but that milder weather must be waited before the musk work could be carried on. The work would be carried out at the estimated cost.

SPORT CHAT

Several even such unsporting spirited individuals as have never previously taken an interest in the hoop game are promising to turn out for the inter High School basketball series which opens as far as Prince Rupert is concerned in the Exhibition Hall, continuing tomorrow evening, with three teams: Ocean Falls, Anyox and Prince Rupert, participating. So much general interest is being taken in this series, due no doubt to the close nature of the games at Anyox, that bumper crowds may be expected tonight and tomorrow. Prince Rupert and Anyox teams arrived from the north this morning, the locals reporting having been given a splendid reception at the smelter town which, however, did not diminish in the least the ardor of the two contending aggregations.

According to figures released in the east recently at Gagne, of Prince George, is in fourth place for scoring honors in the National Hockey League, first with nine points; Rangers, of the Canadians, is second; D. MacKay, of Chicago is third; and Gagne is fourth, each of them being credited with seven points.

BASKETBALL TEAMS HERE

Boys Back From Anyox Tell of Being Entertained in Northern Town

Reporting the playing of two interesting games and a splendid reception at Anyox, the Prince Rupert High School basketball team returned home on the Prince Rupert this morning from Anyox where they participated in the opening matches of the inter-High School championship series which will be continued here this evening and tomorrow with the local boys was the Anyox team which includes T. Asimus, coach; Eddie Gray, assistant coach; W. Asimus, W. McMillan, J. O'Neill, J. McDougall and J. Barclay. Like the Ocean Falls team, which arrived a couple of days ago, the players from Anyox are billeted in the homes of local High School pupils.

The local players report that the teams at Anyox were very evenly matched and the result was nice, clean basketball of a high standard. Prince Rupert won the first game by a score of 47 to 46 in five minutes' overtime, it being the first time that the Anyox High School suffered defeat on its home floor. All the way through it was a tight match with the score 14-14 at the end of the first half and 44-44 at full time, necessitating the five minute overtime period. Two players having been ruled off for personal fouls, Prince Rupert finished the game with only four men.

In the second game, which Anyox won by 37 to 30, Prince Rupert took a lead of five points soon after the opening of the first period but could not sustain itself and Anyox came up from behind to win.

Entertainment for the local players at Anyox included a banquet and dance in the gymnasium on Tuesday night; party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Wednesday evening, and the show on Thursday night as the guests of Principal Campbell of the High School.

Prince Rupert players making the trip were Allan Cross, Harold Macdonald, Bob Irvine, Danny Morrison, Joe Scott and Bronson Hunt. Ralph Smith went along as coach with Ernie Ratchford as a capable supporter.

With girls' exhibition games between on each occasion, the first game tonight will be Ocean Falls vs. Prince Rupert and Ocean Falls vs. Anyox, with Prince Rupert meeting Ocean Falls and Prince Rupert vs. Anyox tomorrow night.

MORTALITY FROM CANCER.

Editor, Daily News. The recently published report of the Medical Health Officer contains the appalling information that during the past eleven months the deaths from cancer in Victoria numbered seventy-six. Here is indeed food for thought. It

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 15 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 3,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording District in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner. Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands, not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

seems that instead of our wonted boasting of the achievements of modern medicine we should stand aside with uncovered heads and admit defeat. Are we never to grasp this problem? We are told by many of our prominent physicians and investigators that cancer is the end-product of a long period of systematic poisoning due mainly to improper, defective, yet sometimes excessive nourishment; and that it can be prevented by a proper diet and sufficient elimination. If so, should not this information be within the reach of the public? Are they to be allowed to suffer and become the victims of this continually increasing mortality ratio that is suggested in Dr. Price's report? "My people perish for lack of knowledge" is as true today as it was in the olden time. Must we think only of the menace of the public bar which the intelligent public has driven to cover, and the vendor's counter which soon must follow suit, and refuse to recognize a greater menace and a much more prevalent cause of disease than the abuse of alcoholic drinks, existing in the poisoned and devitalized food that our people are trying to live upon? The danger in our preserved and "improved" foods is far greater than that of the saloon.

Cancer is a preventive disease; then why not prevent it? Nature says: "I teach by killing. Let the others learn." Shall we learn and lie, or shall we let the cancer carnage wax steadily worse while we die in luxurious idleness? ERNEST A. HALL, 1029 Douglas Street, Victoria, B.C.

AMUSING STUNT PUT ON AT ROTARY LUNCH

George Rorie Entertained with Post Cards to the Members as Christmas Week Stunt Yesterday the Rotary Club had an interesting little entertainment feature by George Rorie. He told of walking out into the suburbs of the city to the Post Office where he had a box in which the post office employees seemed to put letters that should go to other people. He found there a lot of post-cards and he took them home with him. These he now proceeded to read. They were addressed to members of the club properly addressed and postmarked and some of them were very humorous. Here are a couple of samples:

ed in my covering my connection with R. Bauld & Co. I remained out of the coal business for some years.

In 1918 I went back to the coal business and two years after made a connection with a very wealthy man who furnished large financial backing. Commodious properties were then leased and purchased, a modern coal elevator of large size was erected at the Ocean Terminals which enabled the Geo. E. Van Buskirk Co. Ltd. to handle coal to better advantage than any competitor.

We had steamers with Welsh anthracite coal, some with over 3,000 tons, coming regularly to us. Not seeing eye to eye with my partner and not having enough money to hold up my end, in 1925 I had to get out and lost everything in the way of money and property that I possessed.

When I left Halifax in 1925 the Geo. E. Van Buskirk Co. Ltd. was known all over Nova Scotia and was quite a source of revenue for the C.N. Railway and C.P. Railway. It was a very busy time indeed at the Ocean Terminals when a steamer from Wales was discharging a cargo of coal and I was on the scene superintending the despatching of cars—50 ton capacity—loaded to the limit, to all points of Nova Scotia.

EXAMINED HARBOR

When I first came to Vancouver, July 1, 1925, I certainly thought the city was blessed with a magnificent harbor, and after rowing around it twice and taking numerous soundings, I still think so. But since I have been in Prince Rupert, which dates from August 17 last, and have become familiar with its harbor and its connection with a railway that for track bed and low grades through the Rocky Mountains (nothing higher than 4-10ths of 1 per cent) has no equal on the continent of North America, and which certainly means much to the port—I find Vancouver harbor has a great rival.

Vancouver harbor is somewhat wider, has better anchorage ground and from the standpoint of beautiful scenery has it all over Prince Rupert, but that is all, and with shipping men scenery doesn't count for much.

What advantages has the port of Prince Rupert over the port of Vancouver? Here are some:

PRINCE RUPERT HARBOR

Steamers can approach to within a few miles of the tying up dock at full speed having no navigation difficulties like Juan de Fuca and Georgia Straits to contend with, necessitating a slowing down of speed. Steamers like the Empress of Canada can dock at Rupert in a very few minutes without any assistance beyond the help of a man or two on the pier to take the cable lines. No powerful tugs are required to stand by and assist in docking. This is owing to the layout of the Rupert pier berths, they being parallel with the shore and at low tides there being nothing less than 45 feet of water at the pier head, this condition extending all around the harbor, about 40 feet from the shore line.

With regard to relative distances that steamers will have to travel when leaving for an Oriental port—say Yokohama—and for U.K. and continental ports, how does Prince Rupert compare with Vancouver? Let us see.

LOCAL ADVANTAGES

For Yokohama trade, Prince Rupert has the advantage of being 480 nautical miles nearer than Vancouver. Prince Rupert, while being some 500 miles north of Vancouver, is only 280 miles further away from the Panama Canal, and this difference in mileage really doesn't amount to anything. This seems somewhat paradoxical, but is accounted for by Vancouver being located much further east than Rupert.

To explain: Say two steamers capable of making the same speed in ordinary steaming, say 11 knots, leave port at the same time, one from Rupert, the other from Vancouver—the Rupert steamer after leaving dock, in a very short time would be out on the Pacific ocean going full speed for the canal, while the Vancouver steamer, after leaving dock, would have to proceed with caution a tortuous course for many miles through the Gulf of Georgia and Juan de Fuca Strait before getting on the open ocean. If weather should happen to be foggy, as I have seen it in Vancouver in the month of January, when all steamers had to tie up or anchor, for two or three days, not daring to leave or approach the dangerous Burrard Channel, the Rupert steamer would likely be at the canal quite a little time ahead of its Vancouver rival. If no fog to contend with in the Gulf of Georgia probably both steamers would arrive at canal within a few hours of each other. So taking all things into consideration Vancouver has really no advantage over Rupert for U.K. and continental cargoes.

In my opinion, if the marine underwriters at Lloyd's knew the true conditions as they exist for safe navigation by the largest steamers in the world, in making and leaving the harbor of Prince Rupert, the port would be given a San Francisco rating.

LOGICAL OUTLET

With regard to the claim that Rupert is the logical rail outlet for the grain of the Peace River country and entitled to a low haulage rate from the railway commission, I make the statement that if through the mountains, by way of Pine or Peace Pass, a grade can be found not to exceed one per cent, and the Edmonton and Dunvegan Railway at Spirit River is connected up with the C.N.R. at either Fraser Lake or Hazelton and roadbed put in condition for handling the heaviest engines used by the railways—that grain can be hauled from a point at or near Melan Junction on the E. & D. Railway to Rupert for 14 cents per 100 lbs. and give a good haulage profit. All of which, if consummated, would mean that the people of the Peace River country would be so stimulated by close railway connection with an Al Pacific port at a low haulage rate, that in a very few years they would be producing tremendous wealth in wheat and Prince Rupert would become a city of considerable size in a very short time, with Edmonton and Vancouver benefiting tremendously.

As I see it, to secure the best outlet from the Peace River country to the Pacific, it rests entirely with the Government of Alberta, owners of the Edmonton and Dunvegan railway and the railway commission of Canada controlling the making of freight rates. So I suggest to the people of northern Alberta as the easiest and most sensible course to pursue to bring it about, is for every man and woman living north of latitude 55 to petition the Alberta government and the railway commission.

The petition to the government pleading that the Edmonton and Dunvegan railway be sold to the Canadian Pacific railway corporation at a fair valuation, subject to the condition,—that construction of road from Spirit River—present western terminus of the E. & D. railway—to a point on the C.N.R. west of Vanderhoof, be immediately proceeded with and be completed in 1929.

RUNNING RIGHTS

The petition to the Railway Commission pleading, that running rights be granted the C.P.R. from the connecting up point of the extension of the E. & D. railway with the C.N.R. to Prince Rupert, with necessary dock and track requirements, and a rate for hauling grain from a point at or near Melan Junction on the E. & D. railway to Prince Rupert, be fixed not to exceed 14c per 100 lbs.

The cities of Winnipeg, Regina, Calgary, Edmonton and Vancouver have all been made what they are today through being connected up with the C.P.R. Wherever the C.P.R. goes towns and cities immediately begin to flourish and the same will happen with Prince Rupert and the Peace River country, if the E. & D. railway is sold to the Canadian Pacific Railway corporation with running rights given over certain mileage on the C.N.R.

Should the E. & D. railway be taken over by the C.N.R., then in my opinion, the C.P.R. will be extended to the Portland Canal, opening up there a new seaport, and will compete for Peace River business, and certainly Prince Rupert will not be benefited if such a move is carried out.

ELIMINATE COMPETITION

From the standpoint of taxation, to have two railways like the C.N.R. and C.P.R. competing for Peace River business, would be a calamity, as it would, for quite a few years, place a heavy burden on the people of Canada, already overburdened with taxes.

It may be said that the C.P.R. directors would never listen to such a proposition as I have advanced—that it would be against their Vancouver interests to do so. I for one don't believe it.

The directors of the C.P.R., as clever business men, must see that the time has come to deepen Canada from south to north and not keep everything within a few miles of the boundary line, separating Canada from the United States, they are out for business and pay no attention to jealousies existing between rival cities.

I hold no brief to boost for the C.P.R. I have a tender spot in my heart for the great corporation, as when a young man, 21 years of age, in British Columbia in 1884, I helped to build the road.

ONLY POSSIBLE METHOD

I want to see this wonderful Peace River country go ahead and be settled with British people and their next of kin, and I firmly believe that the management of the C.P.R. are the right and only ones that can successfully accomplish it and if given a chance without bringing on senseless and ruinous competition they will do it. I hope through the medium of "The

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

DECEMBER 30, 1917. A cable received announces that the total soldiers' vote for Lieut. Col. C. W. Peck, Unionist candidate in the federal election, amounts to 1250 which will offset the majority at home for Fred Stork, Laurier Liberal candidate.

This afternoon's train due from the East at 5:30 is at least twenty-four hours late due to snow trouble in the vicinity of Kwikwitsa. Tomorrow's train for the East will not leave until the line is cleared.

Steve King is in receipt of a letter from Percy Tinker who is recovering nicely in England following injuries sustained when he was engaged as a gas and bomb officer. Percy Godenrath, Frank Salter and Samuel Harrison are mentioned in the letter.

A Woman Said---

"Women are not logical"

SHE said, "Don't talk facts to women, they want to simply have things suggested to them." We don't agree. What we think is that if the women knew how much better we could wash their clothes for them than they can at their homes, they would all be calling us. That's why we keep on talking facts to you. # EXPLOSION AT GOV'T. WHARF

Kitchen at Living Quarters of A. Clapperton Shattered by Blast in Stove This Morning

As Alex Clapperton surveyed the wreckage of his kitchen this morning, he perfectly concluded that troubles never come singly, even to the best of folk.

The water jacket in the monarch range of his living quarters at the Government Wharf evidently having been frozen, after he kindled the fire about 7:30 this morning, there was a terrific explosion which not only wrecked the stove but caused general havoc in the kitchen even as far as to blow all the windows out and blacken the side of the wharf building.

Fortunately for "Doc," he had left the kitchen for his bedroom about two minutes earlier, thus avoiding what might easily have been serious personal injury. The flames resultant from the explosion were extinguished without the aid of the fire department.

WOMEN OF TORONTO SIGH WITH RELIEF

Have Found Place Where Silk Hose Can Be Repaired

TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 30.—There is not a girl in Toronto who does not breathe a sigh of relief since she has learned where her silk hose can be repaired. The long-suffering modern woman can have the runs in the delicate silk and chiffon stockings knitted up by a unique machine which some kind of soul has invented. Only a few months ago, the process was introduced into Toronto, and the orders are coming in so quickly to the repair departments of the stores that the clerks say: "Yes, we can repair that, madam, but you will not receive it for ten days at the earliest." Then the clerk explains that over 100 silk hose are being brought in each day to have a short run, a long one, or a wide one knitted up in the repair department.

FIFTEEN ABOVE ZERO LAST NIGHT

The minimum thermometer reading during the night at the Digby Island meteorological station was again 15 degrees above zero. Though the wind was still in the north and the glass still high and steady this morning, a clouding up in the west suggested that there might possibly be a change. There was a perceptible amelioration in the temperature during the morning.

SHIPOLOADS OF WIVES FOR B.C.

Lonely Bachelors Cheered in Early Days by Arrival of Mates From England

VICTORIA, B.C., Dec. 30.—While there does not seem to be any shortage of wives in the British Columbia capital today, less than 70 years ago the supply was so far beneath the demand that brides were imported by the shipload from England and assigned to the lonely bachelors of the island by the local authorities.

Speaking recently before the Canadian Club on some of the odd aspects of pioneer life in the Province, Justice Denis Murphy described the arrival of the first of these "marriage boats," in 1862. The little port town was all agog on the long waited day. Women were few and far between on the Pacific coast and the prospect of seeing them en masse caused many a husky male heart to flutter.

Farmers and miners deserted their pioneer labors and headed for the town. Long before the ship appeared in the harbor the quays were lined with eager, if somewhat sheepish, citizens.

NOT ONE LEFT

It is not reported whether the venturesome ladies who dared an unknown country and unknown husband on this occasion were overcome with bashfulness as they filed between ranks of wife-hunters. Probably they were sufficiently coy to conjure maidenly blushes to their cheeks, even if these did not come naturally. While many of the imported wives were past the first flush of youth and many more would have been rank failures in any beauty contest, they all looked good to the lonely island bachelors and when the great business of arranging who should marry who was settled, not one old maid was left to mourn her fate.

Since that day Victoria has been the scene of many society weddings which have been widely heralded and accorded columns in the press, but the great civic wedding day which followed the docking of this vessel still holds the record as an event of local interest. The few Victoria padres were over-worked and rings were at a premium. As the early settlers were addicted to heavy knee boots, the custom of throwing old footwear at the happy brides and grooms was fortunately abandoned and a shortage of rice in the colony obviated another popular amusement connected with the ceremony.

SOME FAILED

Of course some of the marriages contracted under these unique conditions failed to result in domestic harmony and ended in dismal failure, the wives regretting the separation from their friends in England and the urban life to which they had been raised and the husbands yearning for solitude among the wild and silent hills.

Other of the unions, however, proved highly successful and descendants of these are today numerous among the island population. Indeed the government was so pleased with the result of their experiment that they repeated it in 1868, with a like measure of success. From that date it has not been necessary to bring wives to Victoria in wholesale lots. If a resident doesn't find one to suit his taste on the island he goes travelling to the less favored shores beyond the sound and there chooses his wife without government aid.

PURE ENGLISH IS NOT SPOKEN

Old Country Criticism of Language Used by People of Canada

LONDON, December 30.—Do Canadians speak English "pure and undefiled"? Not according to English visitors to the Dominion who frequently comment upon the prevalence of "Irishisms" and the firm grip which they seem to have secured upon the speech of the country. Even well educated Canadians, they say get into difficulties with those tricky little words, "shall" and "will," displacing them with fine abandon. This particular straying from the standards of academic English is characteristically Irish and is common among the Scotch.

An Englishman is often surprised when, on asking the hour, he is informed by a Canadian that it is "half-after-four," instead of half-past, that idiom being native to Erin. He also remarks in Canada the stressed, often rolled "r" and the prevalence of closed vowel sounds. Of course Irish and Scotch immigrants have played as large a part in the development of Canada as have those from England and it is only natural that they should have made their mark upon Canada everyday speech.

Visitors from this country deprecate the addiction of Canadians to American slang, but Canadian philologists maintain that this is a merely superficial phenomena and that the invasion of colloquialisms from the south is not permanently affecting the speech of cultured Canadians. Philologists can do little to direct the development of a language. Transplanted to a new continent, English is inevitably acquiring new characteristics. During this period of change it may appear slipshod and ungainly, but there is no reason to doubt that with maturity will come clarity and precision.

UNDERTAKERS ENJOY THEIR PROFESSION

No Longer Are They Full of Gloom but Have Cheerful Personality

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—All happy and gay the undertakers of the nation assembled in convention here recently and, to use a trade phrase, "laid to rest" the old saws about their calling being lugubrious and full of gloom.

The 400 cheery embalmers, banded together and dignified under the name National Selected Morticians, at their tenth annual convention declared by resolution that all the ancient wheezes concerning the sad undertaker are out of date and that henceforth if you want a ray of sunshine in your home just call the embalmers.

Arthur G. Mann of Knoxville, president of the National Selected Morticians, made clear the new slogan and attitude before the convention sessions commenced.

"The old-time undertakers," said Mortician Mann, "were as melancholy as the Doolittle and seemed to walk to the music of the dirge."

"The modern mortician is a business man whose success depends in large measure on a cheerful personality and outlook. His business has no counterpart in its sympathetic human contracts. It is based on service, but on sentiment as well."

Nowadays, Mr. Mann pointed out, the undertaker sympathizes with sorrow without emphasizing tragedy.

PRICE OF WHEAT

VANCOUVER, Dec. 30.—Number 1 Northern wheat was quoted today at $1.45 1/2.

Mr. Billerton, the butcher, was a jovial soul. As he was cutting up an order of lamb chops for a lady customer, she asked curiously: "Mr. Billerton, what led you to choose your present occupation?"

"Well, really, I don't know, ma'am," explained Mr. Billerton. "Maybe it was because I have always been fond of animals."—New Outlook.
