First appearances indicating that she has sustained extensive damage. Union steamer Catala, Capt. A. E. Dickson, stranded at 1.15 o'clock this afternoon on Sparry Hawk reef in Cunningham's Passage near Port Simpson. The vessel piled up on an ebb tide about forty-five minutes after the flood of 23.2 inches and there will be no chance of her getting off before the high tide shortly after one o'clock tomorrow afternoon when the water will be higher than it was today, and then only if she is not holed too badly. ### Four Demands of Province Made by Premier MacLean at the Ottawa Conference

OTTAWA, November 8.—British Columbia, Manitoba, Nova Scotia, and Prince Edward Island pressed the question of increased subsidies at yesterday's session of the Premier's Conference.

The subject was introduced by Premier MacLean of B.C. who said the subsidies to British Columbia should be increased owing to its physical condition, which necessitates obligation on the part of the provincial government by reason of the lack of municipalities in unorganized districts and the pressing need for roads. ### "THE FLAG LIEUTENANT"

Those who think that Hollywood is the only place where they hip, a brilliant and sparkling affair, make good pictures could never have seen an English picture such the setting is delightfully and artistias that shown to crowded houses at the Westholme Theatre last cally arranged amid the back-ground night when "The Flag Lieutenant" was put on for their edification of a beautiful array of shining battleand entertainment. It is a thoroughly British picture showing the ships and destroyers, light-hearted and highest British attitude toward fight and honor and self-sacri- gay, beautiful women and stalwart sail-

We all know the Holly- are actively engaged in one of the wood stars, and even the names of the people who take small parts most spectacular productions ever to be in the American movies are known to the regular patrons of the released in Canada. pictures. Never was there so complete an invasion of another country as there has been of Canada by Hollywood.

It was noticed last night when the names of the actors in "The Flag Lieutenant" were flashed on the screen, that no one seemed to know any of them. The names were all strange both of actors! and producers. It was like looking at a foreign-made picture.

If the British people can make pictures just as good as "The Flag Lieutenant," it is a pity they cannot be shown here. To those who have not seen the film it may be interesting to know that it is being repeated tonight. We suggest that this is an occasion not to be missed.

BOARD OF TRADE MEMBERSHIP

The board of trade is about to commence a drive for new members. It is a time when a good many people look themselves ones, and they love each other very Fover with a self-satisfied smile and decide that they cannot get along just as well alone as tied up with their fellow professional and business people for the general advancement of the city.

We would like to remind the business people here that this is ance with Fosdick in his office, and a day of co-operation. It is an age in which all the big things are done by mass movements rather than by individual efforts. If the board of trade is not doing exactly what they wish, it is because they are holding aloof and not taking their rightful part in the organization. Possibly the board is lop-sided with so many names they meet socially, the wife introduces absent from its roster.

The board of trade is the only organization that represents all the business interests of the city. It is the organization to which wife the truth about his former intioutside people look when they want information about the city. Perched against a mountainous incline some distance from the sea a handful of Campbell Highlands were fighting desperately behind a small fort to ward off the attack of thousands of Arabs, with all means of outside communication cut off and with the fear at any moment of being captured or slain by the vicious savages and how they are finally rescued, the sacrifice which was made, and the hardship which were encountered. All is beautifully told in one of finest productions which England has turned out.

Babe Ruth again occupies his old the spotlight - Lindbergh, Dempsey. in the sensational happenings of the summer. But Babe is the perennial hero of young America, and of America that is not so young, for that matter.

The great achievement has not been in cracking out 60 home runs where only 59 had been cracked out-by himself-before. Nor has it been in "coming back," for he never has been within gunshot of being down and out as the culer of the empire of Swat.

The big thing that the genial slugger has done is to enthrone himself as the supreme and towering hero of the American national game. Long after other ephemeral stars have disappeared from the scene and there are no more home runs in Babe Ruth's bat, he may still be a legendary figure and his records will be embalmed in the "dope" of the game, to be pored over by the tans for generations to come.

Ban Johnson remained in power as president of the American League long enough to see the Yanks equal the Braves' record of winning four straight World's Series games. This must have been gratifying to Ban, if only for the reason that he was responsible for the engagement of Miller Huggins as manager of Col. Ruppert's team in the Fall of 1917. The inside story of the transaction is told for the first time. With no money to spend for ready made stars. Huggins was driving the St. Louis Cardinals into third place that year when a close friend of Johnson suggested the little fellow to lead the Yankees. Hug's St. Louis contract was about to expire and he wanted to get away. A secret conference was arranged between Johnson, Huggins and a mutual friend. Huggins waxed enthusiastic over the plan and agreed to follow Johnson's instructions. Col. Ruppert
