STORMS IN ENGLAND MAROON SEVENTY THOUSAND FOLK

Floods in England as Result of Big Storm Maroon Many People

Seventy Thousand Spent an Alarming Night at Fleetwood, Lancashire; Patrol Boats on Streets in Deep Water

LONDON, November 1.—Fully 70,000 persons were marooned in Fleetwood, Lancashire, last night as a result of the week-end storm. They spent an alarming night while rescue was progressing.

Patrol boats toured the streets in deep water, occasionally being stranded upon piles of brick and wreckage from buildings. The refugees are being housed in public buildings.

Three tuberculosis patients were drowned in hospital beds on the outskirts of Lancaster through the overflowing of the Lune River.

LOADING GRAIN BOAT STARTED

Fishpool will not be Able to Clear for U.K. Continent Before Week-end

Loading started today of ss. Fishpool, the last vessel to load grain this season from the Alberta Wheat Pool's Prince Rupert elevator. Owing to much of the grain being wet and considerable time being needed to dry it, there is necessarily some delay in filling the vessel and it is not expected she will be ready to sail for the United Kingdom or Continent before the end of the week if that.

Since yesterday, thirty carloads of grain have arrived in the railway yards and those on the way are today numbered at 310.

CHURCH ARMY MEETINGS ON

Greatest Religious Demonstration in City of Prince Rupert Now in Progress Here

The first annual conference of the Anglican Church Army is now in full swing here, the doings of some three hundred natives who are gathered from all parts of the district, together with their clerical advisors, etc., in the most ambitious religious demonstration this city has ever seen, being of considerable interest.

Though there were proceedings of an informal nature yesterday afternoon and last evening following the parade of the Kitkatla band and choir to the station to meet Capt. Arthur Casey from London, England, the conference proper was not officially opened until this morning when the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered by Archdeacon G. A. Rix and Canon W. F. Rushbrook with the morning meeting following. Rev. T. D. Proctor presiding and the principal speakers being Rev. Oliver Thorne of Kinloch and Alfred Adams of Massett.

This afternoon there was another band parade through the city followed by this afternoon devotional and educational meeting, the feature of which will be an address by Archdeacon G. A. Rix on "Our Bible."

Headquarters of the conference are in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral Hall and the proceedings will be in progress until Thursday.

Vessel with Human Freight Drifted Across Pacific to Cape Flattery from Japan

SEATTLE, November 1.—With the emaciated frozen bodies of two Japanese propped up in the stern, a fishing smack, believed to have drifted across the Pacific, was picked up off Cape Flattery by the American mail liner, Margaret Dollar. The pair had evidently died of starvation after being helplessly tossed about by the seas. A radio message from the ship's captain said the information secured indicated that the men had been dead for weeks.

The Margaret Dollar is towing the derelict with the lifeless human cargo to Port Townsend where they will be handed over to the U.S. authorities.

There seems to be very little doubt that the fishing smack and its two dead occupants drifted clear across the Pacific Ocean, Clifton Peace, of the American Mail Line Company said.

The mine will be unable to operate for several days.

The dynamited mines are affected by the present strike under a Canadian union.

IMPORTANCE OF ONE WORD

The importance of a single word and its effect was illustrated in a small way yesterday in the editorial column of this paper when the letters P.G.E. were printed instead of the letters C.P.R. which were intended to be printed. The whole column of argument was made ridiculous because of this one slight error. So it is through life. One word is often the pivotal point in a person's life. Take as an example when a young man asks a young lady if she will be his wife. The difference between "yes" and "no" then becomes apparent. It is only the very strong-minded men who insist on "yes" or who refuse to understand the meaning of "no" who win out.

Words are tremendously important. We often judge people by their words, by their mode of expression, by the tone of voice, but the most important way of judging is by the words used.

Because of the desirability of using the best possible word, it is well to study the masters of words, the men who have clothed their ideas in literature. It is also a good plan to make free use of the dictionary and to have one readily accessible in the living room.

BINDING EMPIRE BY AIR

The latest method of binding together the several parts of the British Empire is to do it by air. The British under-secretary for that department has given this as one of the means and he says that the first big airship will be ready in two years.

But what will the poor old British Empire do in the meantime while those planes are being built? We wonder that Mr. Phillip Sassoon is not afraid it will tumble to pieces before two years are up. He is visiting in the United States and he takes time off sufficient to run up to Ottawa in an airplane and leaves later in the day for New York.

If the Empire depended on the men who just drop over for a few hours from the United States it would certainly fall to pieces in spite of the air binding. Happily no such bond is necessary. People here are not worrying about any binding material. They do not want to be bound to anything but are content to go on their way as they have always done. If the British statesmen find time to run over from the United States for an hour or two we shall try to make them welcome but our continuation as an integral part of the Empire does not depend even on that.

MANY DISAPPOINTED IN DUNWELL

Many people will be very much disappointed in the Dunwell mine and its failure has hit the Portland Canal district a hard blow. Those who invested in it feel that they were misled and will be very careful in future how they listen to the men who have issued reports from time to time on the property.

Dunwell but a short time ago was selling at as high as six dollars a share. Today it is worth about fifteen cents on the open market and the shares are not taken very readily at that.

The judgment of those who sold shares in order to put in a mill is questioned. The newspapers, including this paper, which have been made the innocent instruments of misleading the public, through the publishing reports, which have later proved incorrect, have lost that much influence. Everybody suffers when a failure like this is recorded.

LEGAL TECHNICALITIES

Legal technicalities are often difficult for a layman to understand. Take as an instance the murder trial which is now pending. While the prisoner is being tried he is simply referred to as "the accused." When convicted he is "the murderer." He is sentenced as a murderer and in the eyes of the law is such. But another court orders a new trial. It does not say that the man is no longer a murderer but it is to be assumed that his guilt is still in doubt. There has been no reversal of the decision of the former court but yet we must assume that possibly the first court was not correct in its finding.

The Daily News was introduced as argument in the request for a new trial in the case of Rex vs. Sankey. It was mentioned that this paper had called him a murderer, but so had the jury in the first trial and so had the learned judge who sentenced him to be hanged. Truly the ways of the law are wonderful and hard to understand.

MAYOR REBUKES BOARD OF TRADE

Differences Over Recent Incident are Aired Before City Council

A letter from the Prince Rupert Board of Trade to Mayor Newton, making explanation as to why the latter's guest, Mayor J. A. Gregory of North Battleford, was not accorded a seat at the head table on the occasion of a recent banquet in honor of members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce was read at last night's council meeting. The communication stated that seats at the head table had been reserved for speakers of the evening as well as for members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. The mayor himself was accorded a seat at the head table but it had not been occupied by His Worship. The letter was in reply to one written by the mayor submitting his resignation from the Board on the ground that indignity had been done his official position.

The mayor presented the following rejoinder to the council:

"In view of Mr. Fulton's apparent desire to have his letter aired before the city council instead of leaving the matter at issue with myself, I will explain more fully just why I resigned from the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, for evidently Mr. Fulton is either unaware of the true facts or else he is now attempting to apply a coat of white-wash at my expense.

"Mayor Gregory, of North Battleford, Sask., officially wrote me of his intended first visit to Prince Rupert. Upon his arrival I was particularly anxious to create in his mind a more favorable impression as to the port of Prince Rupert, for I had noted that he, and most other prairie representatives attending the Western Canada Development and Unity League gatherings, seemed to think of nothing other than the port of Vancouver.

"It so happened that upon the evening of Mayor Gregory's arrival the Board of Trade were to banquet the chamber of commerce visitors, so I invited Mayor Gregory thereto as my guest.

"Five hours before the banquet, however, I phoned for the privilege of having Mayor Gregory seated next to my official seat. When we arrived I was informed Mayor Gregory could not be so seated. Rather than leave my invited mayor to shift for himself among strangers I refused to take my official seat, and, consequently, sat with Mayor Gregory at the foot of the banquet hall.

GRAND AFTERMATH

"Then followed the grand aftermath—when my guest had to behold the spectacle of others than my official self extending the city's welcome to the visiting members of the chamber of commerce. It far eclipsed in ravenousness the insult administered by the Board of Trade some months ago to J. C. Brady, M.P., and myself.

"I lay the blame upon the entertainment committee of the Board of Trade, with C. H. Orme as chief cook and bottle washer.

"The committee may attempt to excuse itself on the ground that it did not know that Mayor Gregory was so notable a figure in western life, but the secretary of the Board of Trade well knew of his standing, for it was the secretary, after his return from the Boards of Trade gathering at Vancouver, who further informed me of Mayor Gregory's contemplated visit.

INFLUENTIAL VISITOR

"It is no reflection upon their worth to say there was not one member of the visiting chamber of commerce so situated as to be able to do more effective missionary work on behalf of Prince Rupert than Mayor Gregory. His position as president of the Saskatchewan Co-operative Creameries takes him all over the three prairie provinces and keeps him in close touch with all classes of industry there. He is another type of Henry Wise Wood, of the Wheat Pools. I foresaw, too, that Mayor Gregory was the coming president, as he has since become, of the Western Canada Development and Unity League, which represents the four western provinces.

"That is why I so keenly regretted the incidents which led up to his entertainment while here.

"In resigning from the Board of Trade, therefore, as a public protest against such peanut tactics, I have no apologies to offer to any one.

"Let me hope, though, from now on, the Board of Trade will yet see fit to broaden out a bit, become more worthy of public confidence, and more truly representative of the commercial welfare of the city."

STENOGRAPHER SEEN THROUGH EYE OF FUTURE

Writer Imitates Harlan Smith and Looks Back From Ten Thousand Years Hence

P. W. Luce, the humorous writer for the Vancouver Province gets an inspiration from reading some of the articles by Harlan Smith, Dominion archaeologist. He says:

A Dominican archaeologist, who has spent the summer restoring and preserving totem poles along the Skeena River, has learned a great deal concerning British Columbia Indians by a close study of these relics. Much tribal lore that the Siwash themselves had forgotten has been revealed to his all-seeing eyes, for the scientist can read a stirring story in broken carvings and blistered paint. Though he may have to draw upon his imagination at times, the picture he shows us is true enough in its broad outlines.

Some day, in the far-distant future, a patient archaeologist will come delving among the ruins of the long-since-forgotten City of Vancouver. By rare good luck he will stumble across a business office in which eight stenographers took dictation and pounded typewriters, answered telephones and informed callers that the manager was in conference and could not be disturbed.

In due course the archaeologist will submit this report:

Our researches in this chamber indicate that civilization is of much more recent date than has been thought. We found here indubitable proof that 10,000 to 12,000 years ago man was still addicted to music.

The fallacy that music was pleasing, however, was no longer so pronounced, for the musical instruments played by the young females held captive in this chamber were quite small compared to the organs and pianos of more remote times. Some of these musical instruments were called "Remingtons" and others "Underwoods" but we cannot tell which played the worse tune.

The Pasha who owned these girls himself composed all the tunes they played. It was apparently his habit to summon the slaves one at a time, then and haw for a few moments, and then dictate the melody. The girl would inscribe the musical notes in a book, then proceed to play these on her instrument for the delectation of the Pasha.

Traces of sulphur and brimstone discovered in the Pasha's quarters indicate that he was not always pleased with the result.

The slave played her instrument at a desk. While engaged in this work she was fastened to a revolving chair, but, unfortunately, we have not found any of the clamps used.

On each desk there was an upright cylindrical object of white metal with a black mouthpiece. This was attached to a bell which rang at irregular intervals. Wires connected this cylinder with a laboratory in a distant part of the city. Whenever the bell rang the slave breathed into the mouthpiece and her breath was automatically analyzed for symptoms of halitosis or pyorrhoeta, two insidious afflictions to which four out of every five eventually succumbed.

Whenever the slaves were in low spirits the Pasha forced medicine upon them, chiropractic adjustments being apparently unknown. We found a fragment of the lid of a medicine box bearing the words "Sheba Cho—" and underneath "$1 a pound." "Cho" is an abbreviation for "carbohydrates," which was still in use five thousand years ago, or about the time that it was discovered that carbohydrates were unfit for human consumption.

Concentrated food of a semi-permanent variety was always within reach of the slaves. This was in the form of thin strips which were crumbly and brittle when dry, which acquired persistently adhesive qualities when masticated and mixed with saliva. The shape of the food quickly changed under the pressure of the back teeth and when extricated resembled shriveled peas in an advanced state of decomposition.

When the slave had extracted sufficient nourishment from this concentrated food she placed the pellet under her chair, or under the edge of the desk, so that it could be retrieved and used again whenever desired. Some of the pellets now in our possession had been used for many years, but apparently always by the same masticator. We therefore hazard the opinion that it was considered in bad taste to appropriate another slave's pellet.

In those rare moments when she was not occupied in playing the Pasha's musical composition, the slave applied herself to increasing her natural beauty, according to the peculiar notions of the age. She fashioned for herself a small leather pad with which she was forever rubbing her nose to make it red and shiny; she sprinkled her hands and arms liberally with an evil-smelling powder; she dyed her hair and eyebrows with vivid reds and blues, and she sharpened her teeth with a file.

It would appear that these young women were allowed a certain measure of freedom outside the building, but always under escort. We have found what is described as a "Date Book," evidently the possession of a slave called "Babe." In this are such entries as "Tuesday: Lions Gate Cabaret. Bill." "Wednesday: Pippin Dance. Jack." "Thursday: Midnight Frolic. Ted." "Friday: Nix. Demmitail." It is clear that Bill, Jack, Ted and Demmitail were provided by the Pasha to keep his musicians from being kidnapped by

Its Richness Means Economy

IT is the double-richness of Carnation Milk which makes it so economical. So rich that it can be used in place of cream at one-third cream cost. So rich that it can be greatly diluted when used in cooking and for other milk uses. Carnation is the most completely useful milk you can buy.

And it has the additional economy of keeping. None is wasted. It keeps several days after opening— indefinitely in the tin.

Carnation is just pure, fresh milk evaporated to double richness, kept safe by sterilization. Order from your grocer several tins or a case of 48 tins.

The report of Fire Chief D. H. McDonald for the month of September, read at last night's council meeting, showed that there had been but one fire during that period, a loss of $10, uncovered by insurance, having been sustained in a fire at the residence of J. Taylor, Fraser Street. The department's expenses for the month had been $1,220.26 including $1,140 in salaries. Equipment had been duly inspected and found to be in good order.

One of the outstanding features of public interest at the Church Army three-day conference now in progress here is the nightly singing between the hours of 9 and 10 in St. Andrew's Anglican Cathedral of the Kitchikan choir. Selections from Handel's "Messiah" are being specialized in and the choir shows remarkable talent both in technique and harmony. The first recital was last night and it drew a number of local persons as well as visiting natives.

P. Burns Co., Ltd., and the Union Oil Co. are to be informed by the city that it will be impossible to proceed this year with water extensions to their premises near Cow Bay. Deposits covering half the cost of the work will be returned to each concern. Ald. Jos. Greer made enquiry on the matter at last night's council meeting and was informed by Ald. Perry, chairman of the Board of Works, that funds were not available and the work would have to be laid over until next year.

Ald. Larsen suggested at last night's council meeting that a light should be installed at the rear of Both Memorial School over the walk through the school grounds which is being used extensively by pedestrians as a short cut to and from the east end of town. While admitting that the walk on a dark night was rather dangerous and that something should be done about it, City Solicitor E. F. Jones pointed out that it was school property and the city had no authority to place a light there without first obtaining the board's permission to do so. The matter was referred to the utilities committee for report.

A request from the Northern B.C. Agricultural & Industrial Association that the city convey direct to Old Hanson lot 7, block 18, section 1, which Mr. Hanson bought from Mrs. M. A. Dupuis of Haysport, who won the property recently in an Exhibition Board raffle, was complied with by the council last night. It was explained that, on receipt of the deed, the Fair Board had transferred it to Mr. Hanson but, when the latter went to register it, doubt was expressed as to whether it was proper for the Board to hold the property in such a manner. Cancellation of the old deed and the issuance of a new one to Mr. Hanson by the board would rectify the situation.

Ald. Perry inquired at last night's council meeting as to why the purchase had not been proceeded with of an engine for a rowboat on Shawatlan's Lake which had been authorized by the council at a former meeting. City Solicitor Jones replied that the delay had been due to the fact that the city treasurer was negotiating for a better price on the engine than had been originally submitted.

The city council last night was in receipt of a report from the city engineer estimating the cost of strengthening the plant roadway on Sixth Ave. from Immanuel Street to Seal Cove Circle by installing 12 by 2 stringers on each side of the road at $600. Ald. Perry, chairman of the Board of Works, thought the estimate was excessive and that $400 would cover the cost. The report was adopted.

The local improvement bylaw providing for the construction of a concrete sidewalk on the east side of Sixth Street between Second and Third Avenues was finally reconsidered and adopted last night by the city council. Ald. W. J. Greer stated that, owing to the lateness of the season, it might be inadvisable to proceed with the work before next spring. The city solicitor stated, in such case, the bylaw could be passed and the funding of it deferred.

The city council decided last night to defer action for two weeks on the amendments to the Traffic Bylaw, the gist of which have already been published. In the meantime, each of the aldermen have been furnished with copies of the new bylaw, which is a lengthy document, for their leisurely consideration. The amendments have been presented by a special committee of the council consisting of Ald. Jos. Greer, Ald. W. J. Greer and Ald. W. M. Brown.

NOT TO INVITE GENERAL SUTTON

Ald. Jos. Greer's Suggestion Not Favored by City Council Last Night

A suggestion by Ald. Jos. Greer that General Frank Sutton, who contemplates the continuation of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway into the Peace River country, be invited to inspect the port of Prince Rupert in the hope that he might be induced to drop some of his millions here, met with short shrift at last night's council meeting.

The general, Ald. Greer said, seemed to have plenty of money and he was taking considerable interest in the country. He wondered if it wouldn't be a good idea to invite him to visit Prince Rupert and show him what this city had. It couldn't do any harm, as far as he could see, and it might be a good stroke of business to invite him.

Mayor Newton said that he did not want to throw cold water on the idea and, if the council so decided, he would not object to General Sutton being invited here. All these money people were worth while Prince Rupert courting. General Sutton's proposal, however, with regard to the P.G.E. had been much to the fore at the recent convention of the Western Canada Unity and Development League but the big majority had deemed that the more feasible plan was to ask Dominion government engineers to locate a different route than that to the Peace River.

Prince Rupert, the mayor opined, was more likely to benefit in that way than it would if General Sutton built the P.G.E. into the Peace River to the sole benefit of Vancouver. He took the view that it was more advisable as far as Prince Rupert was concerned to leave the question the way the League had left it. As a matter of fact, he believed the odds were now in favor of Prince Rupert.

"General Sutton," concluded the mayor, "is bent upon linking the Peace River with Vancouver. Are we going to gain anything by inviting him here? I doubt it."

The matter was dropped when somebody suggested that the meeting adjourn.

The Three Important Points

When buying an engine, there are three things to look for: Reliability, Economy of Operation, and Durability.

Large corporations, who are keen buyers, are users of Fairbanks-Morse Diesel Engines, and are getting very satisfactory service.

Such companies as the Laurentide Pulp & Paper Co., the Canadian International Paper Co., the Newfoundland Power & Paper Co., use them for tug boat service; the largest fishery companies on the Atlantic Coast use them exclusively, and there are numerous owners on the Pacific Coast. When considering engines, ask us for a list of installations in your vicinity.

Fairbanks-Morse Diesel Engines are made in the following sizes:— 20 h.p.—2 cyl. 120 h.p.—6 cyl. 40 h.p.—4 cyl. 240 h.p.—4 cyl. 60 h.p.—3 cyl. 360 h.p.—6 cyl. 80 h.p.—4 cyl. 480 h.p.—4 cyl. 120 h.p.—4 cyl. 600 h.p.—5 cyl. 120 h.p.—6 cyl. 720 h.p.—6 cyl.

MAYOR REPORTS ON CONVENTIONS

PEACE RIVER OUTLET

Received Support of Western Development League in Claim for Rupert Road

The following report was presented to the city council last night by Mayor Newton covering his recent attendance as the city's delegate at the Union of B.C. Municipalities convention in Nanaimo and at the conference of the Western Canada Development and Unity League at Victoria:

"As your delegate I duly attended all the sessions of the two-day convention of the Union of B.C. Municipalities at Nanaimo as well as those of the three-day conference of the Western Canada Development and Unity League in Victoria.

"These organizations being of an advisory nature, of course no present benefit can be pointed to as a result of your representation. But the time was most profitably spent, and I believe in due time will show forth fruit.

"No mistake can be made by future councils actively participating in the deliberations of these bodies, for it will indicate that Prince Rupert is fully alive to its importance as one of the chief centres of Western Canada.

MUNICIPAL DOINGS

"From the Prince Rupert point of view the main items before the Union of B.C. Municipalities Convention were as follows:

Hospital costs.—This proved the most contentious of the sessions. Many of the delegates desired to reduce the present 70c per day municipal grant to 50c. It was decided, however, to stay by the 70c grant for another year at least, as the only possible way of maintaining hospital efficiency. I spoke in support of this viewpoint.

Penalty clause.—The retention of the present 15 per cent on tax arrearages was overwhelmingly re-affirmed with my vote going in opposition.

School Tax.—It was decided to recommend the imposition of a one per cent school tax on all incomes. I voted against this proposal, but it carried by a small margin.

Mayorality Term.—A two year term was approved, providing the principle was first endorsed through the medium of a plebiscite by any municipality desirous of a change from the present one-year system.

Fire Insurance.—The proposal that fire insurance rates should not be changed without three months' notice was endorsed.

License Fees.—In agreement that the distribution of motor license fees and pari-mutuel tax should be the same as that for liquor profits, school attendance in each year should be the basis instead of the present basis of census figures, the union will ask the Government to make this change.

WESTERN LEAGUE

"Interested as I certainly was in the doings of the Union of B.C. Municipalities I still realized the proceedings of the Western Canada Development and Unity League, which embraces the activities of the four western provinces, were of much more vital importance to Prince Rupert, chiefly from the Peace River Railway point of view as well as that of an eastern highway outlet from this city.

"To my complete satisfaction in these respects may I add that the league accorded me the most loyal support along the lines of my standing out for the most feasible and practical Pacific outlet for the Peace River Railway project as well as that of connecting Prince Rupert with the chain of road-highways leading from Jasper particularly to the Pacific via Prince Rupert.

"Apart from these major essentials, hurriedly reported at the last moment, the Good Roads Association saw fit to elect your representative to an executive membership of their organization, followed up, as it was, by my being re-elected an executive member of the Western Canada Development and Unity League, and as a member of the League as well as having been named a member of the resolution committee. I thus had a splendid opportunity of successfully putting in my spokes against various proposals for the Peace River Railway project, which would in my opinion have proved to the disadvantage of Prince Rupert.

"Several other matters of a less important nature to Prince Rupert were dealt with, but time prevents their enumeration."

A recommendation from the finance committee that the interest of H. O. Crewe in the Soldiers' Housing property on lots 28 and 29, block 2, section 2, be transferred to Capt. J. R. Elfert was adopted by the city council last night.

WATER MAIN FOR THEATRE

City Council Delays Expenditure Which is Designed to Serve Railway and New Building

A report from the city engineer submitting an estimate of $550 as the cost of giving the Canadian National Railway a new 6-inch water main connection to the foot of Sixth Street to replace one which, with the building of the new theatre on the corner of Sixth Street and Second Avenue, could not longer be used was read at last night's council meeting and, after some discussion, referred to the board of works for further report.

The report explained that the railway itself was spending considerable money and had already ordered steel pipe for its part of the new connection. It was also mentioned that the building of the theatre on this site would necessitate the putting in of a new approach to the wharves and station via Sixth Street. Both the city's and company's old water connections had high outlived their usefulness.

Ald. Perry was in favor of giving the necessary authorization so that no delay might be caused in having the work carried out. Other members of the council felt that the matter was too important a one to make snap judgment on and, especially since the theatre was not to be built before February, it was felt that the board of works should give the matter more mature consideration.

On motion of Ald. Brown, seconded by Ald. Stephens, the city engineer's report was referred back to the board of works for further report, only Ald. Perry voting against this course.

I.O.D.E. PARTY MUCH ENJOYED

Affair Last Night Proved Novel and Caused Lots of Merriment

The I.O.D.E. party held last night in the hall on Fifth Avenue proved an outstanding event at which there was much merriment and the results were financially successful. The guests entered into the spirit of the occasion and had a wonderful time.

The hall was arranged with a group of stalls in each corner where refreshments and other things were sold, each according to the season represented. Winter was represented by the three months: December, January and February. December, the Christmas month, was decorated in red and green; January in white and silver, and February, valentine month, in red and white. Spring had March in green, April in mauve and white, and May, pink and white. Summer had June in rose and white, July in red, white and blue, August in black and white. Autumn was represented by September with its autumn tints, October in black and orange, and November with more autumn tints of rusty brown and green.

On entering the hall each guest was presented with a cap and carnival novelties and refreshments were sold at the stalls. Dancing was enjoyed to Miss Morrison's orchestra and the ballet dancing of Miss Campbell during the interval was a very artistic event, which was much appreciated. The whole affair was a triumph of artistry, the decorations of the stalls and the hall and everything combining to make it a really charming affair, and the Queen Mary Chapter, under whose auspices it was held, are to be congratulated.

TAG DAY GRANTED ACROPOLIS HILL GROUNDS LEAGUE

Permission was given last night by the city council to the Acropolis Hill Grounds Improvement League to hold a tag day for the purpose of raising funds to clear up the sum of $265 still outstanding on the pledge of $1,000 made to the city by the League earlier in the year.

On behalf of the league, Ben Sell appeared before the council, other members of the delegation—George B. Casey and A. J. Prudhomme—being unable to attend. Mr. Sell informed the council that the League emphatically expected to have the whole balance cleared before the end of the year and, if the tag day did not suffice, some kind of an attraction would be arranged to raise the money. It had been expected that some assistance might have been obtained from the Diamond Jubilee of Confederation Celebration Committee but it had been desirous of keeping its profits from July 1 celebration intact for the purpose of building a grandstand.

Permission to hold a tag day was granted on motion of Ald. Perry, seconded by Ald. Larsen.

PLEASANT EVENING AT UNITED CHURCH

Hallowe'en was spent in a pleasant and interesting manner by a large group of young people at a social given last night by the Young People's Society of First United Church. Badminton and other games were played in the gymnasium while the reception was being arranged and then the guests were led into the club room where they were serenaded by ghosts, ghost stories and other gruesome details before entering the main hall where special games, contests, etc. were engaged in and a delightful evening spent during which refreshments were served. The place was elaborately and appropriately decorated. Winners in the contests included Mrs. E. P. Jenner and Miss Betty Arney. The committee in charge consisted of George Stocks, chairman, Miss Garnett, Duncan Miller, Bronson Hunt, Ross Ingram, Miss E. P. Grassie, Miss Rogers and Miss Isabel Alger.

They grinned when the waiter spoke to me in Greek, but their laughter changed to astonishment at my ready reply.

"I wanna roasta bif san'wich, str-rromberry pie, two cups kawfee," was the clear statement I made without hesitation.—Life.
