PRAIRIES IN GRIP OF FRIGID WEATHER

TWO GRAIN VESSELS IN PRINCE RUPERT HARBOR TODAY

Railway Service is Dislocated and Ships Sheltered from Gale

Terrific Storms Lashing Great Lakes—Blizzards and Sub-zero Temperatures Visits Canada and States

WINNIPEG, December 8.—The prairies are in the grip of severe sub-zero weather, varying from five to fifty degrees below today. Hudson's Hope, in the British Columbia Peace River valley, reports 51 below and Edmonton, 41 below. Railway service is dislocated throughout the west with many trains anywhere from two to twelve hours late. Owing to a storm in Minnesota, some of the trains from the south have been cancelled. The storm zone has shifted to the Great Lakes and into the United States.

Lake Superior is being whipped by a fifty-mile blizzard and all shipping has been forced to seek shelter with the danger of a number of vessels being trapped in the ice. The steamer Agawa is ashore on the south of Grand Manitoulin Island and is being battered by the seas, the crew being in danger.

It is the worst storm in the history of Port Colborne where a 100-mile gale is lashing the lake waters fifteen feet above normal, flooding the streets.

There are blizzards and sub-zero weather in the United States, the cold wave extending to the Gulf of Mexico.

PROTEST SHORTNESS SCHOOL HOLIDAYS

LABOR MOTION CENSURE FAILS

J. Ramsay Macdonald's Motion Defeated by British Parliament by Large Majority

LONDON, Dec. 8.—A motion of censure moved by the leader of the British labor party, J. Ramsay Macdonald, condemning the Premier Baldwin for failure to take part in the coal debate on November 16, was rejected last night on a vote of 347 to 142.

When the coal question was up for debate, it was considered so important by the labor members that they refused to hear a minor member of the Government but insisted that Premier Baldwin should himself speak for the Government. A lively scene followed during which the House was adjourned and acrimonious remarks were passed by members as they were leaving the chamber.

MAKE SURVEY PIONEER BELT

Canada to Co-operate in Ascertaining Potentiality of Land Possible of Settlement

OTTAWA, Dec. 8.—Canada will co-operate with a committee of the United States National Research Council in investigation into the five pioneer belts of the world. A survey will be made with a view to determining the capacity of these belts to assimilate immigration and increase the production of food supplies.

Canada, Siberia, Australia, South Africa and South America are the countries in which the leading pioneer belts are situated.

In Canada the belt extends through the northern portion of the country from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

NOMINATIONS KANSAS CITY

Republicans to Hold Annual Convention Next Year at That Centre

WASHINGTON, Dec. 8.—Kansas City was chosen today as the place for holding the 1928 convention of the Republican party at which a candidate for president will be chosen.

The definite elimination of President Coolidge and Secretary Hughes from the campaign leaves the result of the nomination open to much speculation.

FOUR EMPLOYEES SWEPT TO DEATH

PAUGAN FALLS, Que., Dec. 8.—Four construction company employees were swept to death in a race at the power dam this morning when a steel cable anchoring raft on which they were working broke. The dead are Robert Ballie, 27, of Breckenridge, Quebec, A. Gao, 31, Macko and J. Sanko.

UNITED STATES USING MOSTLY FOREIGN SHIPS

Out of $600,000,000 Paid Out $480,000,000 Sent to Foreign Owners.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Dec. 8.—Foreign ships carried more than two-thirds of the United States foreign trade in 1926. Of 6,761 vessels aggregating 26,330,000 gross tons required to move the trade only 1,072 were under the United States flag.

These figures are included in a Shipping Board report which also showed that entrances and clearances for the year totalled 56,400. Imports amounted to 44,860,000, long tons and exports 68,370,000.

United States shippers paid about $600,000,000 for ship carriage, the report said, of which amount foreign shipowners received about $480,000,000.

Current reports indicated that on October 1, 1927, there were 1,230 privately owned United States merchant vessels of 1,000 gross tonnage and over with a total gross tonnage of 5,034,845, more than 91 per cent being in active service. Of this number, however, only 170 vessels were engaged in overseas service, the remainder being on coastwise and Caribbean routes.

The report showed that the sailing vessel has not been entirely relegated to coastwise shipping, there being 347 such craft, aggregating 280,000 tons, actively engaged in transporting United States goods to foreign ports. Of that number 205 were under United States registry.

BRITISH SHIP IN DOCK HERE ANDERBY HERE

Union Steamer, Wrecked Just a Month Ago, Delivered from Mist Island Yesterday

Fifth Grain Vessel of Season Arrives and is Nearly Ready to Start Loading

Towed by the Pacific Salvage Co.'s big tug Salvage King through a blinding snowstorm, the Union steamer Catala, which stranded on November 8 on Mist Island near Port Simpson being released on Monday of this week and beached in Pearl Harbor where she was patched sufficiently to enable her to be brought to Prince Rupert, arrived safely in port at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon and tied up at the government wharf overnight, moving up to the dry dock shortly after 8 o'clock this morning where, with the assistance of the Salvage King and Salvage Princess, she was placed on the pontoons. The snowstorm somewhat hampered the landing of the vessel yesterday but a good job was done of it and there were no eventual occurrences.

The Catala will receive further temporary repairs at the local dock and in a few days will be towed to Vancouver where, according to announcement in the south, she will be permanently reconditioned at the Burrard dry dock. Salvage work on the Catala has taken exactly a month's time. Credited to the successful conclusion of the work are T. W. Allen and W. Jordan of the Pacific Salvage Co., Capt. J. H. Hewison of the ss. Salvage King and T. C. Warkman, surveyor for the London Salvage Association. Capt. A. E. Dickson, master of the wrecked vessel, has also been on the job continuously and took an active part, on behalf of the owners in connection with the salvage.

Caught in a fierce northwestern gale fifteen days ago the Universe was swept high on the beach under a high cliff at which the sailors were barely able to climb. Only two of them were strong enough to walk the eleven miles to the trappers' cabin for aid. After fifteen days on the island, the steamer Starr, looking for the Universe since she disappeared after leaving Kodiak, took them off.

SHEEP HERDERS ARE VICTIMS OF BLIZZARD

CALGARY, Dec. 8.—The death toll from Monday's blizzard in Southern Alberta has been increased to eight with the discovery of the bodies of two unidentified sheep herders working for the Taylor interests east of Taber.

MASSIVE DREDGES BOUND FOR FAIRBANKS

SEWARD, Dec. 8.—The massive dredges, the first of a battery of twelve to be installed within the next two years, arrived here on the freighter Douna today for the Fairbanks Exploration Company. The dredges are insured for a million dollars each.

William Smith sails tomorrow morning on the Prince Rupert for Vancouver en route to Montreal.

Marketing War is on with Control Board in Ashcroft Over Shipping of Potatoes

ASHCROFT, December 8.—A car load of B and C grade potatoes shipped by W. H. Hammond left here last night for Vancouver with no license from the committee of direction responsible for the operation of the Marketing Control Act.

Hammond has defied the committee to take action against him.

Ashcroft land owners and growers state that their storage cellars this fall are filled with high-grade potatoes which cannot be moved because the Vancouver market is filled with potatoes from the uncontrolled Lillooet and Fraser Valley areas.

In Victoria yesterday Hon. E. D. Barrow said Hammond would be prosecuted if he shipped.

ANOTHER SPELL OF COLD IS EXPECTED

Prince Rupert Has its Heaviest Snowfall of Winter Followed by Sudden Drop in Temperature

Yesterday afternoon and last night Prince Rupert experienced its heaviest single snowfall so far this winter, a total of .6 inches having fallen during the 24 hours according to report made this morning by H. D. Tee, Digby Island, Dominion meteorologist. As the snow ceased, the thermometer dropped to 22 degrees above zero but one degree higher than the lowest reading so far this season.

With the barometer showing a tendency to rise and the varying wind seeming to centre from the northeast, the prospect this morning was for another cold spell with the possibility of a change to clear conditions.

LAST RITES FOR LATE MRS. MURRAY TODAY

Interment in Fairview Cemetery Follows Impressive Service in First Presbyterian Church

With a large congregation present to pay last tributes of sympathy and respect, funeral services for the late Mrs. John A. Murray were held this afternoon in First Presbyterian Church after which interment took place in Fairview Cemetery.

Rev. J. R. Frizzell, assisted by Rev. A. Wilson, officiated and spoke words of sympathy and esteem. Hymns, favorites of deceased, were "Shall We Meet Beyond the River?" "O God of Eteth," and "Rock of Ages." Mrs. J. McLeod sang "Not Now, but in the Coming Years." John Davey presided at the organ.

Notable among the many mourners were members of the local assembly of the Native Sons of Canada, of which the widower is a member. Pallbearers were F. W. Hart, George Smith, William F. Cameron, S. A. Nickerson, P. W. Anderson and John Wynn.

Those sending floral tributes included the following:

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Woodland, Mr. and Mrs. James Parks, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Stuart, Mrs. Herbert McLeod (New York), W. J. Raymond, and Mr. and Mrs. John McRae, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mackay, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cameron, Alex Yule.

GOVERNOR AT WASHINGTON

Canadians must feel somewhat flattered at the reception accorded their representatives who have recently visited Ottawa. One after another of Canada's leading men have paid Washington a visit and the climax came when Lord Willingdon arrived and was given a royal welcome. Canada is every year becoming of greater importance economically and politically. We can now feel that we are citizens of no mean country. We have taken our place in the councils of the nations, we have a minister at the capital of the world's greatest and richest country, and we are prosperous at home. This is indeed Canada's century.

VERSES FROM ANYOX

Frank M. Kelly of Anyox is something of a poet and he has just published a little booklet of a few of his verses which he is sending out to his friends with the season's greetings.

Most of the verses breathe the life of the great outdoors, which is natural because Mr. Kelly is an outdoor man. Here is a verse or two as a sample from "The Surveyors":

We have jumped the gentle blacktail
From its covert in the brake,
Caused the black bear in the windfall
From its slumber to awake,
Seen the stealthy cougar questing
In the fading after light,
Heard the yelping of the wolf pack
In the watches of the night.

We have glimpsed the beaver cutting,
Know the structure of its house,
Sensed the whisky jack's haranguing
And the drumming of the grouse;
Seen the silvered salmon leaping
Up the plunging waterfall,
Heard the wild fowl from the sedges
At the feeding hour call.

We have rafted lakes of wonder
With our paddles going strong,
Woke the echoes in the timber
With many a lusty song;
Played the game of man's advancement,
All the strength of Nature fought,
Till we found a place of resting
And the guerdon we had sought.

PRINCE RUPERT NOT GUILTY

Today we republish from the Vancouver Province an editorial article in answer to strictures upon Vancouver emanating from Prince Rupert. While there is undoubtedly much truth in what President Fulton of the local board of trade states, we must also remember that smaller places in this district look upon Prince Rupert with equal distrust and make the claim that citizens here think and speak of nothing but their own city. They refuse to recognize that the progress of neighboring towns and villages is sure to benefit herself.

The fact of the matter is, we all have to cultivate the broader outlook. In this district Prince Rupert is the centre and citizens here should not only get to know the surrounding towns and villages but should interest themselves in the doings of those places. That is why the Daily News tries to publish as much district news as possible. We cannot live to ourselves. We must co-operate and as the larger centre for the north we should try to take the lead in promoting the welfare of the whole district.

WORK OF PLAYERS' CLUB

The splendid work of the Players' Club in putting on the play "Adam and Eva" this week marks another forward step in the development of amateur theatricals in this city. The play was the most ambitious ever attempted here and the result must have been gratifying to those responsible for it. Most of the plays in the past have been simply screaming farces designed to amuse. The play just put on has a motive and calls for a real display of histrionic art. The players are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts and Prince Rupert is to be congratulated on having such a band of clever exponents of the art here.

EUROPE HAS "NERVES" AND WAR SPOKEN OF

(Toronto Globe)

Europe just now is suffering from an attack of "nerves." Her statesmen are "jumpy," and while openly they are making protestations of good-will to all nations it is obvious that inwardly they are suspicious of the acts of neighboring governments. No one is really afraid that war is actually imminent. The world is not prepared for another great conflict, and the people of countries engaged in hostilities from 1914 to 1918 have too many unhappy recollections of all that took place during those eventful years to be willing so soon to face again the horrors which were then undergone.

Nevertheless there is a feeling of uneasiness in the air. It prevails in some degree on this side of the Atlantic. "The next war" is being referred to freely.

LON CHANEY IS

"He Who Gets Slapped" is Story of Clown in Circus who is Never Taken Seriously

The story revolves about a highly educated student who has spent his life in research and study, and as his life work writes the result of his efforts, which he is to read before a noted gathering of scientists of "He Who Gets Slapped." The day he is to present his discoveries, he finds Baron Regnard, his patron, has stolen his essay. The Baron reads it before the scientists, is decorated for the work, and as the crowning blow, steals his wife.

He heart-broken, joins Briket's circus and becomes "He Who Gets Slapped," a famous clown. He falls in love with Consuelo, beautiful young daughter of the poverty-stricken dissolute Count Mancini, who is living on his daughter's earnings as a bareback rider. He, a clown with a grotesque face, keeps his love for Consuelo unspoken, for she is in love with her riding partner, the

ATTITUDE OF TROTsky AND HIS FELLOWS

Are Fighting Against Absolutism
Within the Communist Parties

MOSCOW, Dec. 8.—Now that Trotsky and Zinovieff have at last been expelled from the Communist party they will only be able to conduct an illegal political agitation, which may end in their imprisonment. Considering the implacable character of the fight between them and the orthodox wing of the party, and considering their almost contemptuous rejection of every compromise, it would seem that they are afraid of nothing and will continue to struggle, legally or illegally, prison or no prison. It is not their intention to form a new party, nor is it their aim to rival, defeat, or weaken the Communist party, but to "democratize" it and to loosen the rigid bureaucracy by which it is dominated. They do not, of course, believe in political freedom or in democracy for anyone except Communists, but within the framework of Communism they stand for representative rule (representative, that is to say, of the Communist masses), and they do oppose the absolutism of a party that is aloof from all control by the men and women, mainly of the working class, who put it in power.

STERN REPRESSION
Other prominent Oppositionists, such as Radec, Kamenetz, and Smilga, while not as yet being expelled from the party, are being driven from office. It is doubtful whether they will be able to contribute to the press or to address meetings. It is even doubtful whether they will be able to earn a living. Against the Opposition in the Russian factories (where it would seem to be very strong) ruthless repression has begun, and will no doubt be more rigidly enforced from now onwards.

Considering the means which the Bolshevik dictatorship has at its disposal, it will probably succeed, perhaps not in exterminating the Opposition, but in eliminating it from the surface of Russian politics. In foreign affairs the Opposition has all along been a hindrance to the re-establishment of good relations with the outside world, and it may be that, having put Trotsky and Zinovieff aside, the Russian government will begin to moderate its foreign policy. But at home the war against the Opposition only means a consolidation of the dictatorship and a further step towards the disfranchisement of the Russian working class.

UNDER SURVEILLANCE

According to information received here, Trotsky has been placed under house arrest, that is to say he is confined to his own residence, which is watched and surrounded by agents of the G.P.U. It is expected that he will fight to a finish, but his influence and prestige are such that he cannot with impunity be thrown into prison. House arrest may be looked upon as a kind of imprisonment and as a test of Trotsky's real power. The effect on Russian public opinion will give the Communist party some indication as to how far, or rather how fast, they can go in reducing him to complete silence. If he remains implacable, as he surely will, there is no telling to what lengths they will not go—perhaps even to assassination or execution.

The case of Zinovieff is rather different. No one doubts Trotsky's almost superhuman courage. Fawning servility is prevalent in Russia today, as in all dictatorships, and to an extent inconceivable in a democracy. But whatever faults the veterans of the Revolution may have there is no doubt about their heroism and about the epic character of their struggle against Tsarism. The one conspicuous exception is Zinovieff, who even amongst his own collaborators is notorious for lack of courage. It is therefore believed that he will not keep up the fight very much longer and will sooner or later be reduced to silence by being exiled to some provincial town, where he may even obtain some sort of employment. Trotsky, Zinovieff, and Kamenetz have so little in common that effective co-operation between them is almost inconceivable.

"I hear Myself Sing!"

—says Gigli—the great operatic tenor—of his performances—as he hears them on the new Orthophonic Victrola.

Above—four short, simple words! What a wealth of meaning they hold! For a great artist does hear himself sing on the new Orthophonic Victrola. He hears himself as you may hear him—his highest notes pure and clear; his lowest intonations full and deep in their rich resonance.

The voice is perfect as in life, the instrumental music which accompanies is like the background in a beautiful relief, exactly in its proper relation. So it is in hearing all music on the new Orthophonic Victrola with its Victor-controlled principle of "Matched Impedance" or "smooth flow of sound".

Classic—yet beautifully modern in design—and convenient are these instruments. Electrically operated (no winding) at slight additional cost. Instrument stops when the record stops! Models from $1400 to as low as $115 on convenient terms from all His Master's Voice Dealers.

handsome young Bezano.
THE TRAGIC CLOWN
He is never taken seriously. During his act in the hippodrome he sees the Baron, who has ruined his life, and attempts to denounce him from the ring, but his denunciation is drowned in a roar of laughter from the crowds, who take this as an addition to his act.

Consuelo and Bezano plan to marry, but must wait until she becomes of age, as her father, who wishes her to marry someone of wealth, will not sanction her marriage to a penniless circus performer.

The Baron, having deserted his wife, wants Consuelo, but finds he cannot satisfy his lust without marrying her. The marriage is planned, unknown to Consuelo, by Mancini and the Baron. The Baron, although he often visits the circus, never recognizes her in his clown makeup.

THE WEDDING DAY

Consuelo learns of the marriage plans the day Mancini is to stage a wedding in the circus office. Both Consuelo and Bezano are horrified, and he, who has that same day voiced his love for the girl, only to find she thinks he is still clowning, restrains her lover from killing Mancini, with the words, "The Queen's fool can often accomplish more than the King's army."

While Consuelo and Bezano are performing their act in the circus, he discovers Mancini and the Baron in the circus office. He is almost insane with rage, and in a quarrel with them, he is thrown into the property rooms adjoining the office, where Zinda, the lion tamer, keeps her vicious animals. He, in a mad glee, pushes the cage up to the door leading into the office, pulls up the slide, and then locks all the other doors leading into the room where Mancini and the Baron are waiting.

THE CLOWN'S DEATH

He goes again to the office, quarrels with them again, and is stabbed in the heart by Mancini. The two men, fleeing from the room, open the door to the property room. As he is dying on the floor, the lion kills both men, and is discovered by Zinda as it is about to attack the clown.

He, by a superhuman effort, dying from a wound in the heart, drags himself into the circus ring as the signal is given for his entrance. He staggers and falls many times as the crowds roar with laughter, taking it for more buffoonery.

With the crowds still laughing, he dies, surrounded by the other clowns, and at last in the arms of Consuelo.

The "Flu" LEFT HER WITH A VERY WEAK HEART

Mrs. Beulah Demone, Pleasant River, N.S., writes:—Having suffered with the "flu" a few years ago, I was left with a very weak heart.

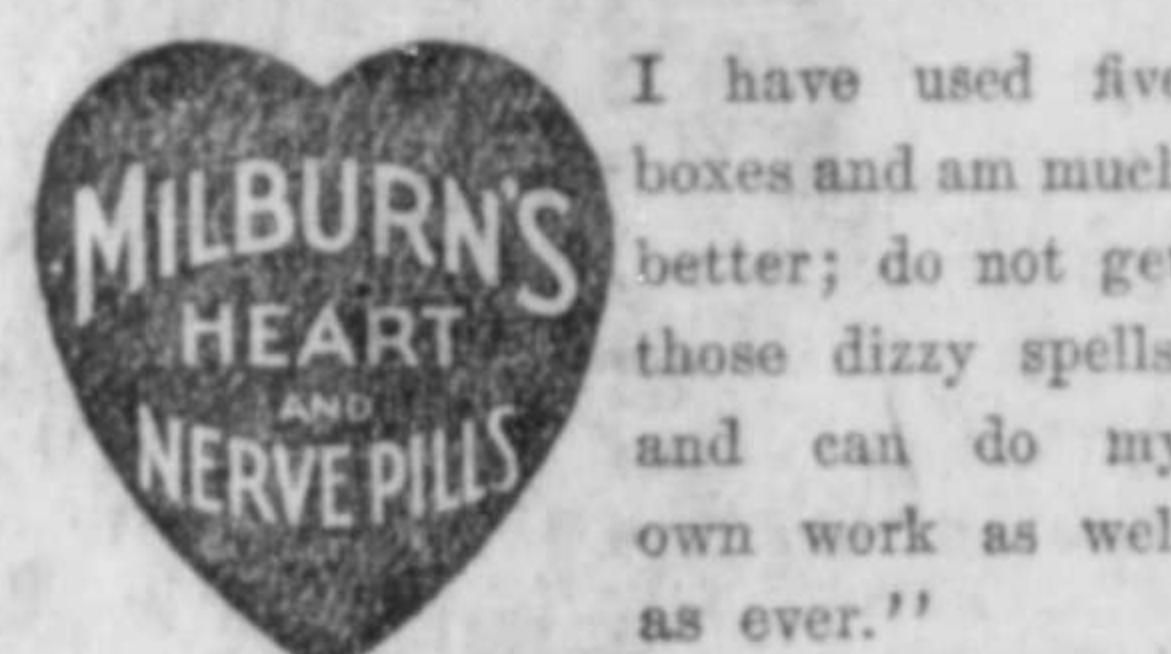

"I was unable to go about, and could not do my housework.

"I would get dizzy spells and would have to go and lie down.

"I could not sleep at night as the least little noise would wake me up.

"I tried different kinds of medicine, but they seemed to do me no good.

HILL 60 CHAPTER BENEFITS WELL AS RESULT OF FARCE

Estimated that Children's Ward Fund Will be Swelled by $350—Party Following Second Night

Another good house greeted the second night's presentation by the Prince Rupert Players' Club of the play "Adam and Eva," the performers again acquitting themselves most creditably. It was estimated this morning that at least $350 would be realized for Hill 60 Chapter, Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire, in its children's hospital ward work as a result of the putting on of the play.

Following the show last night, members of the Prince Rupert Players' Club were entertained in the I.O.D.E. Hall by Hill 60 Chapter. Dancing was enjoyed to the strains of music played by Miss Jean Currie and Tony Berlin and refreshments were served. Appreciation being reciprocated between the Players' Club and Hill 60 Chapter, speakers were Mrs. John Manson, Alex Connon and George Mitchell, the last mentioned acting as master of ceremonies.

BRINGING UP FATHER

GUNMEN LINED UP CLUBMEN

Money, Jewellery and Watches Taken Amounting to Several Thousands

TORONTO, Dec. 9.—Gunmen thought to have been participants in Detroit's recent gamblers' war carried their battle to Toronto when three masked, armed thugs swooped down on the clubrooms of the Riverside Athletic Association. Between twenty-five and forty members were lined against the wall and stripped of money, jewelry and watches, and other articles of value. Three alleged handbook operators caught in the room by the gunmen lost large sums. The amount of the money stolen, as reported to police, was $3,500. This was not an official report. In view of the fact that police were not called to the place, they have taken no action. At a late hour in the night it was made known to the press that police had not entered the clubrooms.

GUNS FLOURISHED

Of late the association has been operating as a "night club." Those trapped in the raid had returned some time after midnight from a bout at the Colliseum. A number of them were sitting in an anteroom, while others were gathered around two billiard tables in a larger room, facing Bolton Avenue, and situated on the third floor. The robbers, with handkerchiefs as masks, came in single file up the winding stairs from the second floor. Approaching the anteroom, they flourished their guns.

All those sitting around were herded into the big room and commanded to line up with their faces to the wall. Using bad language and swinging their revolvers as though they might open fire at any moment, the robbers ordered the men to "hustle" in getting into place. One of the robbers had a revolver in each hand. He stood just inside of the entrance to the clubroom. The other two took up positions at either side of the billiard tables, and directed the victims as to what they should do.

ALL SEARCHED.

A fourth gangster stood on guard at the entrance to the building to prevent anyone from getting upstairs. Starting at one end of the place, one of the robbers took the men in pairs to the pool table located nearest the door. Here he told them to empty their money on to the table. After this was done each man was searched. Tie pins, watches and cuff links were pulled from their clothing and thrown on to the table. As each pair was searched, the men were sent back to stand in their former positions along the wall.

FORMER LOCAL LADY MARRIED IN SAANICH

Miss Sarah Coote Became Bride of Ross Patterson Recently, Rev. M. W. Lee's Officiating

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in the South Saanich United Church recently when Rev. M. W. Lee's united in marriage Miss Sarah Coote, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles John Coote, of Edmonton, and Ross Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson, of Tyrone, Ireland.

The bride, who was given in marriage by Alexander Patterson, looked charming in a gown of ivory flat crepe fashioned in cape effect, caught at the waist with a silver buckle and finished with touches of silver. The beautifully embroidered bridal veil was caught to her head with a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a shower bouquet of carnations, chrysanthemums and shamrock.

She was attended by Miss Sadie Patterson as bridesmaid and by Miss Matilda Patterson as flower girl. Nieces of the groom, who were prettily gowned alike in frocks of pale blue silk trimmed with lace, with silver ribbon bandanas in their hair. The bridesmaids carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations and fern, and the flower girl carried a dainty gold basket of similar flowers. The groom was supported by Harry Gibson, of James Island.

Miss Alma Heyer presided at the organ and played the wedding marches. The hymn sung was "The Voice That Breathed Over Eden." The church had been prettily decorated with autumn flowers and shamrock.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Patterson, East Saanich Road, attended only by immediate relatives.

and friends. The daintily decorated tea table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake, which was cut by the bride. The groom's gift to the organist was a brooch, to the attendants blue pearl necklaces, and to the best man a watch chain. The happy couple left on the midnight boat for Vancouver, where the honeymoon will be spent. The bride travelled in a gown of green crepe de chine trimmed with velvet, and wrap and hat of toast brown shade. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Patterson will take up their residence on James Island.

Mrs. Patterson formerly resided in Prince Rupert. She is the sister of Mrs. Dickens, 233 Eighth Avenue East.

URGES RIGHT TO SHOOT GAME BY PROSPECTORS AND LAND SURVEYORS

VANCOUVER, Dec. 8.—It is a serious thing that a prospector cannot shoot for food, when game is out of season," declared Alderman Frank E. Woodside, president of the B.C. Chamber of Mines, at the monthly committee luncheon.

Mr. Woodside, referring to a letter to him in the South Saanich United Church recently when Rev. M. W. Lee's united in marriage Miss Sarah Coote, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles John Coote, of Edmonton, and Ross Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Patterson, of Tyrone, Ireland.

VANCOUVER NOT REALLY AN OGRE

Province Newspaper Replies to President of Prince Rupert
Board of Trade

The Vancouver Province takes a whole column of its editorial page to reply to W. O. Fulton, president of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade in regard to a charge that the southern city was reaching out and trying to get everything. The editorial entitled "Not Really an Ogre" follows:

At a meeting of the Prince Rupert Board of Trade, Friday evening, the question of carving a new province out of Northern British Columbia and Northern Alberta was discussed, and W. O. Fulton, the president, spoke strongly in favor of the plan recently put forward by Charles Fredericks of Peace River. Vancouver, he complained, was reaching out and trying to get control of everything, no matter whether that control was best for the districts or not. He advocated the creation of a new province to offset, in a measure, the ambitions of Vancouver and, seemingly, he found some support among the members of the board present.

It is unfortunate if the idea has gone abroad in the province that Vancouver is striving to draw all the business of the province to itself, regardless of the best interests of those districts in which the business originates. It is unfortunate because such an idea must have a disquieting effect. It is unfortunate also, because it is untrue.

OUT FOR BUSINESS

Vancouver, as a commercial city, is, of course, out for business, and it may be there are some among our business men who in their enthusiasm talk Vancouver too much and use methods that might be regarded as over-aggressive. But even these men, if the matter were squarely put up to them, would be among the first to admit the foolishness of attempting to force to this city any business that does not come willingly. It is one of the first axioms of business that both parties to a transaction must be satisfied. Otherwise the transaction will not be repeated; and it is in repeated transactions that business profit lies.

Vancouver, of course, as Canada's principal gateway on the Pacific, could develop and grow even if it did no business with the country immediately surrounding it. But its people realize that it can have a more ordered and substantial development if it does business with the country round about. Doing business, however—especially doing the best and most profitable business—does not at all mean bleeding the country white. It means rather developing the country and encouraging its opening up and settlement. From a purely selfish point of view, it would be the depth of folly on Vancouver's part to force any industry or traffic into Vancouver which could, more economically, go to some other part of the province. The creation of a city like Prince Rupert or Nelson or Trail means almost as much in the way of business to Vancouver as would the addition of the same number of people to our own population.

COMING FAST ENOUGH

That is one reason why Vancouver has no designs on the business which the smaller cities of the province might claim as legitimately theirs. Another is that without any artificial stimulus Vancouver is growing quite as rapidly as is good for her. If the people came to us in larger numbers than are coming, it would try our capacity to take care of them. It would aggravate our traffic problems, upset our town-planning schemes, and throw undue expense upon us in the way of providing facilities before we are ready to provide them.

There is another reason, too, why Vancouver cannot properly be looked upon as an all-grabbing ogre. Vancouver has often been described as the child of Confederation. As a Canadian city, she is interested in the growth and orderly development of Canada, and

IF gambling is all to be stopped, people must be stopped from walking down the street and taking a chance on the slippery walks and the speeding cars.

THIS is the time of year when people seem to think up what fool things they can give to their friends.

But still we pay the bill and hope it is to be.

IF it wasn't for having to hammer out the fool things I say in this column, I think I'd take time off from my sleeping and dreaming to run for mayor.

I SHOULD be a candidate I know you'd vote for me. Because I'd see you get a drink Of stronger stuff than tea.

WHAT'S the use of sending all that Yankee money to London? We could do with some of it here.

I WISH I had a brick of gold And silver by the ton. I sure would have a crazy time And give the boys some fun.

SAD CONDITION CHICAGO TODAY

Amazing Condition Has Been Shown of Collusion With Police It is Said

CHICAGO, Dec. 7.—The Herald and Examiner said that "amazing evidence" of collusion between Chicago police officials and politicians and the operators of liquor and gambling resorts has been obtained by the United States government in a secret investigation during the last month.

Every police captain, said the newspaper, has been continually shadowed by federal operatives during the past few weeks. Ward and precinct committee men and their lesser lieutenants have been under surveillance.

The newspaper said it had been indicated that a number of indictments already have been prepared but were being withheld until the government's case is completed. If indictments are to be returned, the Herald and Examiner's information has it, they probably will charge conspiracy to violate the Volstead act.

Government men have learned, the newspaper said, that saloons and gambling resorts have operated only upon the payment of "protection money" which, in some precincts, went to "high ranking police officers."

DECLINES TO COMMENT

George E. O. Johnson, United States district attorney, declined to comment on the reported government investigation, except to reiterate the comment he made two days ago that the government was "naturally interested" in recent gang killings which seemed related to violation of the prohibition law.

The Herald and Examiner said that a mass of evidence has been stacked

Something Original in Vegetable Soup

Give the family a welcome change, something original—add a few "OXO" Cubes to your vegetable soup. They put in the rich goodness of beef, and impart a distinctly pleasing flavour that is "different."

BRIDE-TO-BE IS GUEST OF HONOR AT HOME OF BRIDEGROOM'S MOTHER

In Mr. Johnson's desk, the evidence for the most part being concerned with collection activities of ward and precinct politicians.

Among the things the federal agents have learned, the newspaper said, was that alliances have been made between some politicians and gang leaders who control whisky and beer distribution. Unless the saloon owner makes his purchases from specified sources, he is not permitted to continue operation, even though he makes his "tribute" payment, said the newspaper.

The start of the federal investigation was ascribed to E. C. Yellowley, prohibition director. The district attorney's office is understood to have taken over the investigation later with the co-operation of the prohibition department here and at Washington.

BIRTH

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Moore of 324 Fifth Avenue East at the Prince Rupert General Hospital on December 7.

Charges against fifteen Chinamen of being frequenters of a gambling place were adjourned for a further eight days in city police court this morning.
