Miss Thelma Dingwall Becomes Bride of H. W. Stevens of Vancouver

THE DAILY NEWS

A pretty Easter wedding, artistic in all its details, was solemnized at the Oak Bay United Church, Victoria, recently by Rev. W. A. Guy, who united n marriage, Miss Thelma Gwendolin Dingwall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Dingwall of Prince Rupert, to Herbert William Stevens of Vancouver, son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Stevens, and nephew of Hon. H. H. Stevens. The bridal party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march, and proceeded to an arch-

BEST NOVEL FOR ATLANTIC MAGAZINE

CLARKSON, Ont., April 27.(-Canadian Press) .- This pretty village on the Toronto-Hamilton Highway was all agog over the announcement that Miss Mazo de la Roche of Toronto, who lives here in her own home during the summer, has won the $10,000 prize offered by the Atlantic Magazine for the best novel. There were 1,200 competitors. Her novel "Jalna" is a story of an English family. three generations of it, and their life on a huge estate in the Canadian woods. It was begun in May, 1925, and finished last December. The $10,000 prize is over and above royalties and serial rights, which makes the award one of the most notable ever won by a Canadian. Her great ambition, in her own words,
