FISHERMEN PASS MANY RESOLUTIONS

DEATH TOLL FROM ITALIAN LINER MOUNTING STEADILY

Strange and Weird Are Stories of Horror Told Regarding Sinking Ship

More Than Three Hundred Still Missing of Those Who Were Aboard Italian Liner Principessa

RIO DE JANEIRO, October 28.—Strange and weird stories of the sinking of the Principessa Mafalda and of sharks tearing the bodies of victims who were precipitated into the water when the vessel sank following an explosion of the ship's boilers in the open sea. More than three hundred persons are still missing. The rescue ships have accounted for 936.

Some of those brought here by the rescue vessels declare that the ship was torn by an explosion while others say that she foundered in from four to five hours when water swept into her through a break in the screw shaft hold.

Naturally there were many horrors mixed with the stories. The tales of sharks tearing the victims is scoffed at by some of the people but others picture the horrors of men, women and children dying helpless.

The fate of Captain Simon Gull is not known for certain except that he is not among those recovered. Some say he committed suicide and others that he was engulfed by the sea and went down crying "Viva Italia."

BIG OPERATIONS AT KHUTZE INLET

Fifty-eight Men Employed There in Preparation Work for Mining on Large Scale

With five miles of light railway, which will connect the mine and shore, some fifty-eight men are still employed by the Revenue Mining Co. mainly on further construction work in connection with the company's mining development operations at Khutze Inlet, about one hundred miles down the coast from Prince Rupert, according to word brought to the city from that point. The railway will be used to take in supplies and, eventually, to bring out the ore from the property. A permanent camp is now being built at the mine and surveys have been made for a wharf in deep water to connect with which the railway will have to be extended another mile.

Khutze Inlet lies in Graham Beach about six miles north of Swanson Bay. Immense ore bodies, with gold the most important content, are said to have been blocked out in the mine. R. G. Campbell Johnstone, well known Victoria mining engineer, was one of the experts on the property during the past summer in a consulting capacity.

RAILWAY TO PEACE RIVER

Proposals Said to be Under Consideration by Rival Companies

VANCOUVER, Oct. 28.—The common belief at Edmonton is that the Canadian Pacific Railway will shortly extend its line from Lloydminster, north of the old Grand Trunk line, and continue westward through the Peace River Pass to Stewart, B.C. G. G. McGeer said here today.

Another opinion, he said, is that the Canadian National will endeavor to forestall both the P.G.E. and the C.P.R. by building northward from the present line to tap the grain growing areas.

The people of Alberta are losing faith in the P.G.E., he said.

AUSTRIAN PROPERTY BEING RETURNED TO OWNERS BEFORE WAR

OTTAWA, Oct. 28.—Canada has returned Austrian property sequestered during the war on the basis of adjustment in the payment of reparations. The claims between the two countries have been established by order in council passed approving an agreement signed in November, 1918.

A good deal of Prince Rupert city property owned by Austrians was taken over by the government during the war and some of it sold.

BULLLEY VALLEY GRAIN COMMENTED ON BY POOL PRESIDENT

In his address to the Rotary Club and the Board of Trade yesterday, Henry Wise Wood, president of the Wheat Pool, said that he had seen some Bullley Valley wheat at the elevator and he only wished his own Alberta grain was of such good quality. A country that raised such grain should develop into a grain country. If the Pool continued to operate the elevator they would guarantee to take care of all the grain raised in the interior of British Columbia and the farmers would get over cent there was in it.

Alberta Trying Sell Railways and on Outcome of Negotiations Depends Fate of Western Outlet

EDMONTON, October 27.—Premier Brownlee, who left for Ottawa today, will interview both the C.P.R. and the Canadian National heads with a view to selling the Edmonton Dunvegan and B.C. Railways, which will eventually, it is thought, be part of the system which will have a new western outlet for the Peace River country. Should either of these companies buy the Alberta Railway it is the one likely to build to the coast or to connect with the C.N.R. main line to Prince Rupert.

Alberta does not want the short line railways any more than British Columbia wants the P.G.E. and as they already open up a country producing eight or nine million bushels of grain the traffic originating on them is considerable and worth a lot to whichever system takes it over. This province is standing pat and holding out for its price and the railway companies are each looking for a bargain.

Directly either company takes over the Dunvegan line it will be extended across the British Columbia boundary and a western outlet is sure but whether it will be by the Portland route or to Prince Rupert will depend largely on which company gets it. Most people here are betting on the C.N.R. and Prince Rupert as Dominion aid is sure to be required.

Selling Efficiency Keynote of Wheat Pool Success Says H. W. Wood at Luncheon Yesterday

Formerly Farmers Were Unable to Either Buy or Sell and Were Victims of Inefficiency

The reason the farmers failed to prosper under the old system was that they failed to develop selling efficiency whereas the people of whom they bought were well organized and had fully developed that efficiency. That was the view of the situation as seen by Henry Wise Wood and passed on to the people of Prince Rupert through an address at the Commodore Cafe yesterday at a joint luncheon in his honor given by the Board of Trade and the Rotary Club. Colonel W. J. Nicholls, president of the Rotary Club, presided, and the visitor was introduced by W. O. Fulton, president of the Board of Trade.

"Forty years ago the farmers blamed everybody but themselves for their condition," said Mr. Wood but today he realized that he was responsible for his own inefficiency in marketing. The farmers today wanted efficiency in their own class and also in all others so that all might function together.

In opening his address Mr. Wood said the origin of the Pool was the failure of the former efforts of the farmers to sell their product satisfactorily. They were now trying to change the system for they realized that they had been creatures of circumstance. They did not want to injure anyone but were determined to carry on their business in their own way.

"What was wrong about the old system," inquired the speaker.

"There was nothing right about it. There was no efficiency in the system. (continued on page two)

FREIGHTER IS HELD BY GALE

Fishpool Now Expected at Midnight — Grain Flowing in Steadily

Held up by a raging southeast wind outside, the British freighter Fishpool, first ship of the season to load wheat at this port, is not expected now to arrive in port before 12 o'clock tonight. Capt. Larry Thomson of the Federal Harbors of British Columbia, goes out this afternoon to meet the vessel.

Making a total of 69 carloads within 24 hours, a second special grain train arrived in the railway yards this morning about 9 o'clock with 39 cars. The grain is being immediately taken into the elevator. It was reported at the railway office this morning that a total of 480 carloads, not including those already arrived, are on the way to Prince Rupert now.

Fishermen Pass Number Resolutions and Decide Send Telegram Ottawa

Large Number Attend Meeting Which Lasts for Three Hours and is Often Rather Discursive

A large and fairly enthusiastic meeting of fishermen called by the Hippo Island Trollers' Association and presided over by S. D. Macdonald, president of the Trades and Labor Council, with Frank Derry secretary, was held last night and in the course of the evening they passed a number of resolutions, ordered a telegram to be sent to Ottawa, and finally appointed a committee to form the nucleus of a salmon fishermen's organization. The meeting was composed of trollers and seiners but the trollers largely predominated. The resolutions were:

1. That an efficient airplane patrol be maintained in the fishery district throughout the salmon season.
2. That guardians be maintained at all important creeks during the fishing season.
3. That the number of gill net and trolling licenses be reduced 30 per cent, preference to be given to natives and citizens residing in the district.
4. That seining be abolished for four years in order to give the fishing industry a chance to recover.
5. That seining of herring and other food fishes for any purpose other than human consumption and bait be prohibited.
6. That if any person be caught illegally fishing for commercial purposes his boat and gear be confiscated without recourse and his license cancelled forever.
7. That the government at Ottawa be asked to thoroughly investigate the salmon fisheries in British Columbia and that a commission be appointed forthwith for this purpose.

A resolution providing that no fishing license be issued to men who were not fishermen was withdrawn.

TELEGRAM TO OTTAWA
In view of the fact that a delegation of canners had gone to Ottawa and that John Dybhavn had gone to join them from Prince Rupert, it was decided to send a telegram to the minister of marine at Ottawa, enclosing the following resolution:

"Whereas active steps are taken by canners and others interested to secure changes in the existing fisheries resolutions under the guise of fish conservation, be it resolved by this meeting of fishermen held in Prince Rupert this 27th day of October that the Hon. Minister of Marine and Fisheries be respectfully urged to make no changes in the present regulations that will materially affect the taking of fish by net, troll or seine in District 2 without due notice so that an opportunity may be given for approval or dissent by those who make their living by fishing."

Another resolution passed was that no license be asked of men engaged in fishing for dog fish.

ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

It was then decided to organize by forming a general salmon fishermen's association and with that end in view a committee of seven was appointed consisting of Messrs. Reid, Paton, Hoffman, Baynon, Roberts, Arnold and Murray.

After the business of the evening was accomplished and many of those attending the meeting had left owing to the lateness of the hour, Fred Stork was asked to say a few words. He said he was glad to see the fishermen had started a permanent organization. He had been in Prince Rupert a long time and had seen the fishing monopoly broken. The canneries had ignored the rules and regulations and by their own actions had brought on a serious condition. Seines had increased 500 per cent and now it was proposed to reduce them 50 per cent and gill nets 30 per cent. The proposal was to bring back the monopoly which had been broken. He spoke of the sending of the delegation to Ottawa and said he thought the fishermen should have sent one from here. They should have appointed a delegate of their own. While he agreed with the idea of sending the telegram he regretted that they were not sending a delegate.

The discussions on the various resolutions and side issues lasted for three hours during which much was said that was irrelevant and it was noticed that most of the talking was done by three or four men.

One interesting discussion was as to (continued on page five)

PRESIDENT Wood of the Alberta Wheat Pool stated at the luncheon yesterday that he would like to be a financier. That is one of the aims of a great many of us but we set about it by spending every dollar we earn.

POOR OLD MAID IS VICTIM OF SLOTH, DECLARES COLLEEN

She Shows How to Land Husband in "Naughty But Nice" Here Tonight

No one need pity the "old maid." Her unwed state is her own fault. At least Colleen Moore, star of "Naughty But Nice," her newest First National picture which is being shown at the Westholme Theatre tonight, says that any girl can marry the man of her choice if she wants him badly enough, and she presents an example of what she means in this photoplay.

"It's just a matter of technique," Miss Moore explains. "Women have always permitted men to think that they were making a conquest when they marched down the aisle to the altar, but many a bridal sieve has been worn to tatters by the chuckles within it.

"All these hardheaded bachelors who make such a point of having preserved their freedom actually are still free because no girl has ever found them sufficiently interesting to really want to marry them. No man can escape his own wedding once a member of the fair sex has definitely and finally made up her mind she wants him for life.

"Her method of landing him for a husband may be the one I use as Derencie Summers in 'Naughty But Nice' to obtain the city's most eligible beau somewhat against his original intentions, or it may be a method worked out by the specific problem at hand. Opposition and helplessness are both efficient aids; but no matter what the procedure, that man is certain to be parading to the minister eventually and he'll be convinced that it is his own idea."

Donald Reed, Colleen Moore's new leading man, plays the role of the man in the picture who falls before the heroine's "system." Others in the supporting cast who are involved in the plot include Claude Gillingwater, Halham Cooley, Cathryn McGuire, Edythe Chapman and Clarissa Selwynne. John McCormick, general manager of West Coast production for First National Pictures, produced "Naughty But Nice" and Millard Webb directed it.

Grain was never sold. It was bought. There was no efficiency in individualism. At a certain point in development the individual began to give way to co-operation in the industrial classes and thus the manufacturers' association was formed. They had been trying to destroy each other but found co-operation better than competition.

The labor class also organized to a certain extent so the farmer was left alone and the result was that the price of farm products dropped. The farmer had no efficiency in selling. When he took his wheat to the elevator he did not set the price but took what the

The reason is this—language changes. Words take on new meanings. This would be disastrous for prescription work so medicine uses a language which does not change. HALLOWE'EN SUGGESTIONS

MACAROONS ARE DELICIOUS

Made with Eagle Brand Condensed Milk

At the right is given a recipe for Coconut Macaroons that has become famous. Once you have tried it you will always make them this easy way because you are sure of dainty, irresistible tidbits. The candy recipes are old favourites, too, and will add to your reputation as a hostess who serves delightful refreshments.

RUSSIAN TAFFY

2 cups brown sugar, 1/2 lb. butter, 1 tin Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, 1 cup corn syrup, 1/4 cup nuts (broken). Dissolve syrup, butter and milk over slow fire, add sugar. Boil for twenty minutes, stirring constantly. Add nuts and pour in buttered pan to cool, cut in squares and serve on waxed paper.

LAKEWOOD CREAM

1 can Borden's Eagle Brand Condensed Milk, 1 cup chopped walnut meats, 1/2 pound sugar, 2 tablespoons butter. Combine the milk and sugar. Bring to boiling point; add the butter and boil twelve minutes, stirring constantly. Remove from fire, add the nuts and pour into buttered pan. When cool cut in squares.

COCOANUT MACAROONS

Melt 2 squares of chocolate and mix well with 1 can of Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. Add 1/2 pound shredded coconut, mix thoroughly, and add 1 teaspoonful vanilla. Drop on greased pan 1 teaspoonful at a time, about an inch apart. Bake in a moderate oven until nicely browned. This makes 30 macaroons. Omit chocolate for plain macaroons.

A Bad Case of Eczema

Are you reading the weekly Canadian letters, telling stories of suffering from skin diseases and how relief was effected? Here is part of a letter from Mrs. E. Gibson, Box 1126, Midland, Ont. Write her if you desire. "I had a very bad case of eczema on my face and neck, also scalp. Could not find anything to give me relief. One small bottle of D. D. D. gave me great relief, so then I secured a large bottle, and I am now without a blemish."

The proof of the pudding is in the eating. When a prescription for skin disease has letters of endorsement from nearly every city and town in the Dominion, surely it is enough to convince the most skeptical. Relief from itching torment is immediate. Try one $1.00 bottle of D. D. D. today on the positive guarantee. And D. D. D. Soap, too. D.D.D. THE Lotion for Skin Disease. ORMES LIMITED.

LITTLE CHANGE MARKET LISTS

Flour Easing Off and Sugar May Stiffen—Thanksgiving Turkeys Due

A survey of the local stores this week indicates little change in market prices during the past ten days. In keeping with the season and the big wheat crop, flour has eased off 30c a barrel.

Expectations are that any further decline in sugar prices is doubtful and the chances are that there will be some slight stiffening soon.

With the approach of Thanksgiving Day on November 7, fresh killed turkeys, chicken and fowl will be arriving in quantity from interior points soon and ought to be seen in local stores early next week.

The season for McIntosh Red apples is practically over and the first car of other varieties should be here next week. This shipment consists of Spitzenbergs, Grimes Golden, Wagners, Rome Beauties, Stayman Winesaps and Jonathans.

SUN ANSWERED ON DISTANCES

The following explanatory letter has been sent to the Vancouver Sun: The Editor Vancouver Sun, Vancouver, B.C.

Dear Sir: In referring to the Peace River Coast Railway Outlet articles written by Mr. Oliver in your papers I beg to compliment you on the strenuous efforts you are exerting to bring about the construction of this railway which is so necessary to the prosperity of the Dominion. Vancouver must congratulate itself upon having such a wonderful weapon combatting on its behalf, and on such an elaborate scale.

The principal object of my letter is to draw your attention to the top paragraph of column six on page twelve of your October 20 issue which was mailed to Prince Rupert subscribers, wherein it is inferred that in the event of a Railway out of the Peace River district being linked to the northern branch of the Canadian National terminating at Prince Rupert, a 500 miles extra water haul would be necessary. If it is assumed that all business in and out of Western Canada must necessarily pass through the port of Vancouver then the inference is correct, but if it is a matter of the closest outlet via a Pacific port to the World's markets, I submit the following figures of distances:

Pouce Coupe to Vancouver via Pine Pass and Prince George 695 miles. To complete this route requires about 340 miles of new railroad constructing, and then it would travel over a grade which reputable engineers have stated will never be of value from a commercial standpoint.

Pouce Coupe to Prince Rupert via Pine Pass and Fort Fraser 635 miles. The latter route requires only 265 miles of new railroad constructing to connect the Peace district with tide water over

SHOWER TEA HELD BY PRESBYTERIAN LADIES YESTERDAY

Generous offerings for the forthcoming annual bazaar were received at a shower tea held yesterday afternoon in the church social hall by the Ladies' Aid of First Presbyterian Church. The affair was originally intended to have been held in the Manse but, owing to bereavement in the family of the pastor's wife, it was moved to the church.

Mrs. D. C. Stewart, president of the Aid, was in general charge while Mrs. F. Garton poured tea, being assisted by ladies of the Aid generally. Mrs. McRobbie received gifts of plain sewing; Mrs. T. E. Pringle, assisted by Mrs. J. L. Lee and Mrs. W. L. Sandison, fancy work; Mrs. William Millar, novelties in place of Mrs. T. McClymont who is absent without discussion. Before the resolution dealing with the sending of a telegram to Ottawa was proposed, J. C. Brady, M.P., was asked if he would send a wire to Ottawa on their behalf. This he said he would do. He said he agreed with much of what the fishermen had said and he was in favor of conservation of the fisheries.

Toward the end the fishermen gradually dropped away until only a few were left in the hall at the time of adjournment. Several businessmen and professional men attended the meeting as well as the fishermen.

SPORT CHAT

The redoubtable "Batting" Dido Gurchich goes up against it again tonight at Anyox. How he will make out against this Jimmy Ferguson man, who is better known as a baseball player than a boxer, remains to be seen. Anyox seems to be just as sure that it's man will win as Prince Rupert is that Dido will carry off the honors. If the latter wins, two victories within eight days' time will be a feather in the crown he seemingly hopes to aspire to, in spite of the fact that his scalps to date may not be considered any particularly notable ones. But every notch on the old gun counts, even a small one. They say that this Jimmy Ferguson a wicked wallop in his left mit but Dido probably knows all about that and will act accordingly. General interest prevails in the outcome of tonight's mixing at the smelter town.

Considerable speculation is rife in baseball circles as to who will succeed Dave Bancroft as manager of the recently luckless Boston Browns. The names of several diamond stars are discussed, but President Fuchs spikes a report that Eddie Collins of the Athletics has been offered the post. When Collins joined the Philadelphia Club at the opening of the 1927 campaign, there was talk that he would eventually lift the managerial burden from the shoulders of Connie Mack and that is still the general expectation. Just where Ty Cobb and Tris Speaker will fit in next year's baseball picture still hangs fire. Either would furnish lustre to the Braves, whose fortunes in recent years have been at low ebb. The former manager of Detroit was signed by Mack for a single season, while Speaker had a like contract with the Senators. It is generally understood that Speaker is headed for another camp and that Cobb will shift allegiance also if he plays again. Speaker rose to fame and had his best days with the Red Sox in Boston, where he still has a large following. At the same time, Speaker was well liked in Cleveland and reports have been current that he would return to his old job as manager of the Indians under a new ownership.

In the removal of Walter Johnson from the Washington Senators to the Newark International, passes another brilliant and veteran landmark from the Big Baseball Leagues. Surely the old order doth change for the new and, with housecleaning general at this time, many a picturesque figure is disappearing to the minors there to gradually ease to close careers that are now on the wane. And there is a general sigh of regret that they should go which cannot be extinguished even by the brilliant stars of the present day's youth. None are more brilliant and none more missed will there be than the "Big Train" whose star, like the rest, is now going down. Outstanding in all his long career of brilliance will be his performance when three years ago he was credited with bringing their first pennant to the Senators.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Lipsett sailed by the Prince George last night on their return to Vancouver after having spent a fortnight in the city. Mr. Lipsett anticipates being back here again within six months' time.
