NEW MINE ERA AT ALICE ARM

INCREASE IN OPERATING PROPERTIES THIS SEASON IS BEING PREDICTED

According to present indications the present year will mark a new epoch in the history of Alice Arm says the Alice Arm Herald. It will be the commencement of an earnest endeavor to develop our latent mineral resources and from the results attained this year there will be no turning back. Alice Arm is better known on the outside at the present time than at any time since it came into existence. Our wonderful resources are known and a splendid future is predicted for the camp. From now on, the importance of the camp will grow each year. If development work is continued, no power can retard its growth. The district has an abundance of the most needed world's metals, and these will be extracted. More properties will be developed this year than has been the case for a decade. The properties will be developed on a bigger scale than heretofore, and the first concentrating mill will be operating in the district before the year ends. Some big mining deals, involving large sums, are already being planned, which, if successful necessitates the expenditure of vast sums of money. For the past three years the mining industry of Alice Arm has shown an improvement each year, and each year the improvement is greater.

Ore is now being taken from a pocket running over $400 per ton which will more than pay for development work it is declared. This discovery is said to be responsible for a recent rise in Coast Copper quotations.

SEATTLE, April 6.—Science lost a race with death and David Seplilu, Alaska's wealthiest Eskimo, died on Tuesday at his Arctic home on St. Lawrence Island in Bering Sea according to word received here by Jonathan Wagner, chief of the Alaska division of the United States Bureau of Education. The aged Eskimo, who had been kept alive for a week by radio advice for his treatment, died while an airplane winged its way across the northern wastes in the effort to reach the island in time to take him to Nome for an operation.

Prince Rupert provincial electoral district will have the largest number of voters in its history as a result of registrations which closed at the first of this week for the next court of revision to be held in May. Some 800 or 900 new voters have been registered which will bring the list here to well in excess of 2,500. Prior to this period of registration, the total was 1841. Prince Rupert riding includes the city of Prince Rupert, the Queen Charlotte Islands and such points as Haysport, Port Simpson and Smith Island.

BUYING GASOLINE BY PENNY IN SLOT

English Machine Rejects Bad Money and can be Adjusted to Market Prices

LONDON, April 6.—Just as simply as people purchase matches from slot machines, so motorists can now purchase gasoline on the Bristol-Weston-super-Mare Road. By inserting a shilling in the slot the motorist can get that amount of gasoline. The pump rejects spurious coins, and can be adjusted to meet fluctuation of prices. It is considered the first of its kind, and is in operation at Clevee. Some Alienists' idea of a sane man is anyone who can still write a check. Being popular doesn't leave much time for making real friends.

FISHING PROBE TO COME NORTH

MACKENZIE COMMISSION FINISHES VANCOUVER SESSION—CANNERY AND DEPARTMENT OFFICERS EXONERATED SO FAR

VANCOUVER, April 6.—The MacKenzie commission, which is investigating alleged breaches of the fisheries regulations with complicity of departmental officers, concluded its Vancouver sittings yesterday and adjourned to sit later at up-coast points as far north, it is understood, as the Skeena or Neas Rivers. The commissioner stated he was satisfied that considerable illegal fishing had been done but the evidence so far given had failed to show that cannery owners or officials of the fisheries department had committed offenses. The commission left last night aboard C.G.S. Malaspina for Smith's Inlet where sittings will be held aboard the vessel at various canneries in the inlet and at other points along the coast. It is possible that further sessions will be held at Vancouver upon the return of the board.

INVESTIGATING CAMPAIGN FUNDS.

The royal commission investigating political campaign funds in British Columbia has the most valuable, interesting and difficult portion of its work ahead of it—namely, the making of its report on how the situation is to be bettered or remedied. The commission's work of uncovering evil, as there have been plenty of accusations along that line, was not of much value, was uninteresting and easy. It has a real job in front of it, however, in devising some means of improvement. If it can produce some effective recommendations which the political parties of the province will adopt, it will have gone far in restoring to good name the political reputation of British Columbia which has been much blackened of late.

MR. PATTULLO AND ROAD TO INTERIOR.

Hon. T. D. Pattullo, member of the Legislature for Prince Rupert, and minister of lands, is coming soon. There are understood to be a number of matters to be placed before him, most important of which will again be the continuation of the road from Prince Rupert toward Terrace and the provincial highways. When the amount of road building being done in the south is taken into consideration, it would seem that Prince Rupert is entitled to a good deal more than it is getting. It is well to press our claim but we should also remember that, while we should expect Mr. Pattullo to exert every effort in that direction in his capacity of member for Prince Rupert, he also has his duty to the province as a whole as a minister of the crown. Prince Rupert wants only its fair share which it thinks it has not in the past been getting. We do not ask for more than our due.

TAXATION ON GROSS INCOME.

Under the provisions of the provincial tax on gross income, enacted at the recent session of the legislature, every person engaged in any trade, business, or profession within the province is required to obtain a certificate of registration from the commissioner of income tax before April 30. This applies to everyone who maintains a place of business (no matter how large or how small) or who carries on trade of any description, or who is engaged in any business enterprise, or who practices any profession; but does not include persons connected therewith who are working for wages, or who are employed on a salary basis. The fact that taxation returns are already being made does not affect the liability to register. The penalty for failing to obtain a certificate within the stated time is $10.00 for each day during which the default continues.

Applications should be mailed to the provincial assessor for the district. Those who have not already received application forms should apply to any provincial assessor, government agent, provincial police officer, or to the commissioner of income tax, Victoria. Full details respecting subsequent returns required under this tax and other information will be supplied to each person with his certificate of registration.

VETERAN IN B.C. MINING

W. M. BREWER, RESIGNED AT NANAIMO, HAS LONG BEEN ASSOCIATED WITH INDUSTRY

VICTORIA, April 6.—William M. Brewer, Government mining engineer for the Coast District and one of the best known figures in the western Canadian mineral industry, has resigned from the Government service and will be succeeded by G. A. Clothier of Prince Rupert. Seventy-five years of age, Mr. Brewer has decided to take the first rest in a career crowded with experiences and adventure in many parts of America.

Mr. Brewer's retirement will rob the mineral industry of one of its most notable characters and the Mines Department of a highly successful official. Everywhere in British Columbia's mining districts the veteran engineer was a familiar figure. With an old Irish setter dog as his inseparable companion, he had ridden or tramped into every corner of the Province during his quarter of a century as an expert investigator of mineral properties. Of late years he has been in charge of mineral district No. 6 which embraces Vancouver Island and the lower Mainland and includes a number of important mining areas. Hundreds of mining properties in this big district have been examined by him since his appointment as resident engineer in 1917.

AN ENGLISHMAN
An Englishman by birth, Mr. Brewer came to America as a youth of nineteen. In the '70's he was a cowpuncher on the range in Texas which was in those days the real "wild and woolly" West. Then came an opportunity to quit the cattle business for journalism. He became the special travelling correspondent of the St. Joseph Missouri Herald.

All over the western states he wandered as a newspaperman and then the lure of mining attracted him. His first experience in this field was in the Black Hills of South Dakota, during the winter of 1876-77, when he prospected in the placer mines in Deadwood and other historic camps. Incidentally he was deputy sheriff in Lawrence County, where bad men made the district around Deadwood notorious.

LEARNED MINING
From 1882 to 1884 he learned the practical end of mining and milling of free gold ores while in the employ of the Homestake Mining Company and he followed up the experience gained there with careful study of the theory of mineralogy. Later he went into the iron and coal mining districts of Alabama where he mined iron ore and became a special investigator for the Alabama State Government and for private interests.

Finally as the representative of New York interests, which were anxious to find out the mineral possibilities of British Columbia, he came here in 1897. During 1901 he was engaged by the General Electric Company to report on copper mines and prospects adjacent to the British Columbia and Alaskan Coast, and in the following year he was in the employ of the North Western Smelting and Refining Company, which owned the blast smelter at Crofton, Vancouver Island. For six years he was employed by the Tye Copper Company and the General Electric Company but in 1913 started out on his own as an independent mining engineer.

RETAINED BY MURDER
Premier Sir Richard McBride retained him to make examinations for the Government as field engineer along the line of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. This was the beginning of a lengthy association with the government. He did extensive research work in the Skeena, Queen Charlotte and Adir mining districts in 1914 and in 1915 he travelled 1,600 miles on horseback as government engineer, making examinations in many districts.

After this work the Government retained him to make a reconnaissance of the iron ore and other mineral deposits of Vancouver Island and adjacent islands and in 1917 he was appointed resident Government engineer in district No. 6 with headquarters in Nanaimo.

VISITED ALL DISTRICTS

Despite his seventy-five years, Mr. Brewer continued field work which would have taxed the strength of most younger men. Up and down the coast he went, ever on the move. The remotest claims were not too far away for him to visit in the course of his inspection tours. During its entire lifetime, a fine old Irish setter invariably walked beside the veteran engineer, travelling with him in the bush or on trains and boats. This remarkable association ended a little while ago when the old setter died and of recent months he has been replaced by a giant English sheep dog but more playful than his predecessor but not nearly so sedate and thoughtful. Without the setter and later the sheep dog, Mr. Brewer never travelled a mile.

HAS SNOWED HERE IN PAST YEARS AT SAME DATE AS THIS

Landing Here on April 6, 1924, of U.S. World Flyers Was Under Similar Weather Conditions Recalled

Some people have said that they never saw snow in Prince Rupert so late in the spring as this. It might be pointed out that just three years ago today, April 6, 1924, the United States round-the-world-fliers lighted at Prince Rupert from Seattle on the first lap of their globe circuit in a thick snowstorm, the ship of Major Martin, the flight commander, "cracking up" as it hit the water at Seal Cove, the accident being attributed by Major Martin to poor visibility.

WHY IS S-W-P BETTER?

BECAUSE quality is the first and foremost ingredient in every can of S-W-P.

Quality is the first idea in the mind of every Sherwin-Williams man.

The Sherwin-Williams business was built on quality and Sherwin-Williams quality is standard for the whole world.

S-W-P is better because the quality of the color pigments is better, the lead and zinc are better, the oil is better.

S-W-P is ground finer, mixed more thoroughly, spreads smoother, brushes easily and covers most.

S-W-P is made to a formula which has been tested by time and exposure to the severest weather conditions. Behind this formula stand the best paint brains in the world.

The reasons for the superiority of S-W-P go back to the policy of the founder of the Company more than 60 years ago and spread out to the mines and the fields, the mills and factories whose products form the raw materials for the largest paint and varnish manufacturers in the world.

This Guide Will Help

The Sherwin-Williams Household Guide Manual charts all the common requirements for paints, stains, varnishes and enamels, and shows at a glance what to ask for. Get a free copy from the nearest S-W Agent or write Sherwin-Williams, 897 Centre Street, Montreal.

TRIAL MARRIAGES ARE ON INCREASE

In Russia Because of Abolition of Church and Civil Ceremonies

LENINGRAD, Russia, April 4.—Trial marriages are becoming increasingly numerous throughout Russia, due to the abolition of all church and civil ceremonies.

In many instances here men and women were married one week, became tired of one another the next week, and promptly obtained divorces so second trials with other persons could be made.

During the short time the new soviet marriage code has been in effect, the number of registered marriages in Leningrad alone has decreased 75 per cent, while the number of divorces has increased by 80 per cent, the daily average being about fifty-seven.

The sharp decline in marriage is attributed to the new regulations exempting newlyweds from registering their union with the state, common-law marriages being sanctioned. The increase in divorces is due to the ease with which unions can be dissolved.

The guardianship of children does not appear to be a serious problem. For example, one woman with five children applied for a divorce. Her husband made no protest.

"What shall we do with the children," asked the divorce clerk.

"He can take the two boys," said the woman sharply, pushing the youths toward her husband. "They'll probably prove to be as big hoodlums as he is. I'll take the three girls."

"SALADA" TEA

is the only brand which gives the public protection against old tea. Old tea—no matter what quality—is bad tea.

The date of packing is clearly marked on every "SALADA" label, thus—APR-1927.

Since 1892, every pound of "SALADA" has been sold in metal foil containers—first in lead and later in aluminum.

"SALADA" was the first tea packed in North America in air-tight metal, the best way known to preserve the goodness of tea.

Better tea—Better protected—Has always the same fine flavour.

POLICEMEN FROM COLLEGE URGED

ALBERTA COMMISSIONER WOULD GIVE OFFICERS UNIVERSITY TRAINING

EDMONTON, April 6.—In his annual report, Commissioner W. C. Bryan, Alberta Provincial Police Force, urged a university training for policemen. The commissioner argued that the average policeman was quite at sea in the police courts when faced with the skilled arguments of lawyers. He also stated that policemen should know what is admissible and what is not in the police courts when giving evidence at preliminary hearings.

In his report, Commissioner Bryan also pointed to the fact that bootlegging and crime in general is on the decrease in Alberta. There is less smuggling from Fernie, B.C., through Montana, than was formerly the case. He pointed out also that without doubt there was some illicit manufacturing of liquor going on in the remote parts of the province.

AVERAGE AGE FOR MARRIAGE

IS HIGH IN BRITISH COLUMBIA—32 FOR GROOM AND 27 FOR BRIDE

VICTORIA, April 6.—The average age when persons enter into marriage is higher in British Columbia than anywhere else in the world, according to computations made here unofficially. Instead of the old-fashioned marriage of the young man at 20 and the girl of 18, modern British Columbia finds the great event being postponed until the average age of the bridegroom is 32 and that of the bride 27. This is in the face of the fact that the proportion of young people of marriageable age is noticeably higher in this province than in the rest of Canada. Throughout Canada there are twenty-six children in every ten families, while in British Columbia there are nineteen to every ten families. According to the same statistician, there are fewer babies born in British Columbia per ten thousand people than anywhere else in the world except Sweden, and the "rate" at which babies are born in British Columbia is falling from year to year, despite the fact that the number of marriages is steadily increasing.

This abnormal condition is believed to be due to the preponderance of males in the more unsettled parts of the province and the influx of unmarried people to work in the basic industries of the coast and interior districts.
