BRITISH LABOR PARTY IS OUTSPOKEN
SECOND BIG LEAGUE BASEBALL GAME WON BY YANKEES

British Labor Party
Asks Treaty with U.S. and Trade with Russia

Ramsay Macdonald Makes Plain That Present Position of Soviet is Untenable

BLACKPOOL, England, October 6. — The Labor Party yesterday called upon the Government to reopen negotiations with the United States with a view to the settlement of all outstanding political questions between them, including a drastic reduction of naval armaments, control of the seas in time of war and the conclusion of a treaty outlawing war between the two people.

The party also asks resumption of normal political and trading relations with Russia on the basis of a reciprocal relation of non-interference with each other's affairs.

Ramsay Macdonald, leader of the party, said that while favoring the demand in regard to Russia, it was to be noted that Russia had taken no effective steps to get into neighborly communication with the states of Europe. "Until the Russian Government makes its relationship with the Third Internationale clear, that desirable step can never be taken," he said.

MORRISON GETS A DIRECT SLAP

Court of Appeal Decides There Was Miscarriage of Justice in His Court

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6.—Expressing the view that there had been a miscarriage of justice and a mistrial, the court of appeal has sent back to the supreme court for re-hearing the petitions concerning the custody of the three young children of Edward M. McCabe, a seaman on the Dominion Government steamer Estevan. Mr. Justice Morrison had awarded the custody of the children to relatives.

SHERMAN CASE IN LIMELIGHT

Mother and Father Having Lively Tilt Over Boy—Grandmother Given Custody

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6.—Three-and-a-half year old Willie Sherman, son of Thomas and Elsie Mae Sherman, was ordered by Mr. Justice Aulay Morrison to remain in the custody of his paternal grandmother, Mrs. W. H. Sherman, of Prince Rupert, until after the action for judicial separation of his parents comes up next month.

Counsel for the mother claimed that the father had obtained the child by a trick at Kamloops and taken it to the home of his parents at Prince Rupert.

Counsel for the father alleged that the mother was not a fit person to look after the boy.

Mr. Justice Morrison expressed the opinion that the father should not have taken the law into his own hands and that the child should be with its mother unless it was shown that the mother was not a proper person to be entrusted with the custody of the boy.

Counsel for the father read affidavits from residents of Kamloops to the effect that the mother, on several occasions, had left the child alone in the home and had not returned until early morning.

The mother asserted that she had always left some one in charge of the child or had been visiting friends but a few doors away.

WHEAT SHIPS FOR RUPERT

Number Said to be Fixed to Load at This Port During Fall

VANCOUVER, Oct. 6. — In grain shipping circles here it is ascertained that a number of vessels have been fixed on behalf of the Wheat Pool to carry grain from Prince Rupert. The first of these should arrive at that port in about two weeks and from that time on there should be steady arrivals at this port.

Vancouver is expecting to do a big business if the ships can be secured. In anticipation of the big flow of grain through Pacific ports many tramp freighters are headed this way.

COAL OUTPUT

Even Telkwa Collieries Made Slight Gain Over Output of Last Season

VICTORIA, Oct. 6.—The output of coal by British Columbia Collieries in the first eight months of the year aggregated 1,612,434 long tons compared with an output of 1,453,561 long tons in the corresponding period of 1926. An increase this year of 158,873 long tons. The figures for the eight months period have just been compiled by the Provincial Department of Mines and have been issued by Hon. William Sloan, minister of mines.

While production, during the last two or three months, has been approximately the same as in the corresponding months a year ago, the long spell of cool weather in the early months of the year was chiefly responsible for the increased output over a year ago. Up to August 31 of this year, Vancouver Island Collieries produced 860,240 long tons compared with 787,236 in 1926. The Nicola-Frinceton district also showed an increase production aggregating 124,549 long tons compared with 104,498 tons in the first eight months of 1926. In the East Kootenay district production was 626,883 long tons this year as against 561,077 tons in 1926.

Coke production in 1927 amounted to 58,884 long tons compared with 65,651 tons in 1926.

The output of the Telkwa Collieries during the eight months of this year is 762 tons, which is slightly more than for a similar period of last year.

Improved Weather Conditions
Here This Year Indicated by Figures from Meteorologist

While many other parts of the world have suffered from exceptionally unfavorable weather conditions this year, a compilation of official meteorological figures for the year 1927 to date shows a much improved record here. Though there has been a slightly decreased amount of rainfall during the first nine months of this year, it is in greatly increased sunshine where a considerable improvement has been shown. During the summer months of July and August this year there were over 350 hours of sunshine, the month with the least sunshine being February when 58.7 hours was recorded. Last year the best month was September with 170 hours, while in January, 1926, there was but 16.5 hours.

March and September were bad months for rain this year but June and July compensated for them, putting the 1927 total slightly below that for 1926 in precipitation which includes both rain and snow.

Figures for each month so far this year, with those for corresponding months last year for purposes of comparison, follow:

	Precipitation Inches	Sunshine Hours	1927	1926	1927	1926

Pittsburgh Pirates, Helpless
Against Opponents' Onslaught,
Beaten by Score of Six to Two

PITTSBURGH, October 6.—Two fatal innings—the third and the eighth—spelt the second defeat by a score of 6 to 2 for Pittsburgh in today's world series baseball game with New York. Three Pirate hurlers were unable to stem the terrific onslaught of the Yankees in the sweeping bid for the championship. Two men from down Gotham way outplayed and outgeneralled their local opponents whose performance was such that it even disgusted their own supporters. Pittsburgh scored in the first and eighth frame on scattered hits. It was the pitching of Pipgras, who was aided with stirring fielding, that largely won for the Yankees, holding the Pirates to seven hits. Vic Aldridge, Pittsburgh pitcher was driven from the mound in the eighth.

Tomorrow the scene will shift to New York where the next three games of the series will be played. On their home grounds, the Yankees are being looked for to win the next two games to give them the world's honors. Should, however, the Pirates come to in the strange land and take two of the games return will have to be made to this city to decide the issue.

Yankees, 6 runs, 11 hits, 0 errors. Pittsburgh, 2 runs, 7 hits, 2 errors.

FIRST INNINGS
Aldridge and Gooch were announced as batteries for Pittsburgh, while Pipgras and Bengough worked for the Yankees.

Pittsburgh—Pipgras commenced with a fast ball. On the fourth ball pitched Lloyd Waner smashed a three bagger to left and scored on Barnhart's sacrifice fly to Ruth. Paul Waner lashed out a vicious drive but it went foul by inches, then fanned on third called strike. Wright flied out to Ruth. One run, one hit, no error.

SECOND INNINGS
Yanks—Lazzeri splashed a hit on Aldridge's glove. Dugan up, and on a hit and run play fouled, and on another similar play Dugan fouled out to Gooch. Bengough fouled out to Gooch. Pipgras lined out to Grantham. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Pittsburgh—Pipgras threw Traynor out at first. Grantham singled to centre. Gehrig got Harris, grounder and threw him out at first. Grantham making second. Gooch fouled out to Bengough. No runs, one hit, no errors.

THIRD INNINGS
Yanks—Combs singled to right, ball bounding out of Grantham's reach. Koenig singled to centre and when Lloyd Waner let the ball go by, Combs scored. Koenig going to third. Koenig scored on Ruth's sacrifice fly. Gehrig lined out a two bagger. Meusel got a hit to the infield, Gehrig making third and scored on Lazzeri's sacrifice fly. Meusel made second on throw in. Pittsburgh—Pipgras threw Gooch out at first. Aldridge fouled out to Bengough. L. Waner flied out to Combs. No runs, no hits, no errors. Aldridge using curve delivery almost entirely.

FOOLISH POLITICIANS

Politicians often are very foolish in that they belittle the intelligence of the ordinary electorate. They try to "put things over" which any ordinary child would refuse to accept.

This reference is not intended for any particular party for they are all alike in this respect. Take an instance. Politicians who are at odds with the Government of the day always try to show that this particular government spends more money than did their party when they were in power.

Now Canada is a growing country and if more money were not expended by each succeeding government it would be a sign that the government was not carrying on successfully and that the country was stagnating. In any growing country where development is proceeding apace, expenditures are bound to increase. When we pay taxes we are giving the Government money to spend for us. The more we can spare, the better for the country. We want roads and bridges built, forests conserved, public buildings erected and new settlers brought in to fill up the vacant lands. Advancement is the motto of all parts of Canada, especially of the west. As the population increases the amount of taxes collected should increase and the expenditures must keep pace with that increase.

To suggest anything other than an increased expenditure is to treat the people of the country as children. The great thing is to know whether we have received value for the money expended. We want money to be spent. We in Prince Rupert were glad to see it spent in building our elevator. We now want some more spent in building the road from Prince Rupert to Terrace. Public works such as these increase the total expenditures of the Government. If we want them we must be prepared to pay and also to allow other sections of the country to have corresponding expenditures. Then when the money is spent it is foolish to grumble at the amount the particular government is spending.

If your boy has a tendency toward laziness make a boss of him. He might succeed there.

BETTER STEAMSHIP SERVICE

For the past ten years the people of Prince Rupert have been asking for a steamer to ply out of this port in order to serve the surrounding settlements such as Stewart, Alice Arm, Anyox, and Queen Charlotte Island points. They have been asking the railway company or one of the big steamship companies to provide it but without results. The reasonable thing to suggest, if they really want the boat, is for them to buy or build it themselves and put it into service without any more talk. Passing resolutions does not help much.

In Ketchikan there are several local steamers plying to nearby points and they pay. Two of those vessels often come to Prince Rupert, and they also ply to and from Seattle. They can operate cheaper than do the big steamships and can compete very successfully.

Prince Rupert is a bigger city than Ketchikan, a terminal point, and the people here have money that they could put into such a concern. Several proposals have been made in the past but they have in each case been headed off by some rumored development which has failed to materialize. Now the local people should take action.

Yesterday we published a little interview with George Woodland, agent of the Imperial Oil Company's plant here. What he said is correct. We want frequent services between the mining camps and Prince Rupert with the lowest possible rates and the only way to secure that is to put on our own vessels operating out of Prince Rupert.

An optimist is a man who would go to Scotland and expect to draw a salary for teaching thrift to the people of the country.

FULL BASEBALL REPORT

Yesterday we gave the people of Prince Rupert a full Canadian Press report of the big league baseball game and if the wires hold up shall be doing the same today and possibly until the end of the series. These reports cost a great deal. They are the same reports that are published in the big papers to the south. Thus little by little we are advancing and in a year or two should be in a position to carry a full Canadian Press report of all world news with our own leased wire. Being somewhat off the beaten track, costs here are very high and it is often impossible to provide the service we should like to do. Sometimes we go a little too fast and the auditor's reports tell us we must hold back. Yesterday's baseball report was the only one received in the city, we believe. The many telephone calls coming to the office were an indication that the service was appreciated.

PRESENTATION TO THE CONSUL

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Wakefield
Recipients of Very Nice Remembrance From Friends

GLOWING TRIBUTE

Consul and Mrs. Wakefield, who are leaving the city today for Mexico, were the recipients yesterday afternoon of very fine tokens of remembrance from members of the Prince Rupert Club and other friends who gathered there to bid them farewell. Col. J. W. Nicholls presided and in the course of a glowing tribute to the recipients handed to Mr. Wakefield a beautiful leather hothouse for Mrs. Wakefield and a leather travelling bag and purse of gold for himself. At the same gathering the new consul, G. C. Woodward, was introduced to the people present.

In opening the proceedings Colonel Nicholls said that during the past fortnight Consul and Mrs. Wakefield had been "wined and dined and banqueted" and all he could say now was that he endorsed one hundred per cent of all the nice things that had been said about them on those occasions. He believed Mr. Wakefield to be one of the finest types of men. It would be a source of gratification to know that the little present they were giving was subscribed to not only by members of the club but by all sorts of people of Prince Rupert. The United States government was to be congratulated on the type of representative they had had here. The problems which arose and which had to be dealt with were those that led to more serious problems. So far Prince Rupert had been entirely satisfied with the courageous and diplomatic manner in which this had been done and he asked the consul to accept the little presents. In including a purse of gold he reminded the recipient that gold was the most precious in human life. He hoped that in his new home the consul would meet an even finer circle of friends than he had made here.

Olof Hanson, Swedish Consul, said he represented a nation that had a lot to do in consular circles with Mr. Wakefield and he was sorry to see him leave. It had always been a pleasure to do business with him. He welcomed Consul Woodward and said he hoped business would be carried on as before.

CONSUL'S REPLY

In reply Consul Wakefield said he was well aware of his own weaknesses. One of his faults was being too outspoken. If he could lay claim to forty or fifty per cent of the virtues ascribed to him on this and similar occasions he would be satisfied that St. Peter would hold the gate wide open when his time came to apply for admission.

The Consul said he wanted to express his sense of gratification at the manner in which he had been treated and bespoke a like treatment for his successor. The people here were as warm-hearted as anywhere. Never before at any place had he made as many personal friendships as in Prince Rupert. If they had not always agreed, they had always treated him in a gentlemanly manner. There had been the kindly spirit of goodwill.

As for Mrs. Wakefield, the Consul said she deserved every word that had been said about her or she would not have put up with him for so many years. He was blessed with one of the finest women the Lord had produced. She was one who never said anything that reflected on anyone. He had no words to express the appreciation he felt. He was sorry to go and hoped later to come back and take his friends by the hand and renew old remembrances.

Man in the Moon

YES, sir, I lost a dime yesterday on the big game. Never mind, if I bet every day on the same team I'm sure to win at least twice.

THE question is what to take. When I was a boy if a person was run down she took a tonic and felt better immediately. Now if a person is run down, an ambulance is called and he is hurried to the hospital and he feels much worse before he is better.

WOMEN often buy new clothes in order to prevent themselves worrying over not having them.

CRABS are all right in a salad but not around where I work. I don't happen to like them.

Ten Years Ago in Prince Rupert

Chicago "White Sox" won the first game of the 1917 world series today from New York Giants by a score of 2 to 1. Cicotte pitched for the winners while Sallee was the moundman for the losers. Despatches place the attendance at 35,000.

Capt. Jimmy Thomas of the powerboat Alice B. will leave next week for Vancouver where he will enlist in the Royal Flying Corps for service overseas.

Word has been received of the death in action of Matthew Donald of Prince Rupert who left here with the 48th Battalion. A widow and son survive.

MISS McAULEY OF THIS CITY WEDDED TO ALERT BAY MAN

Pretty Ceremony in Which Well Known Nurse Becomes Bride of C. E. Etherington

A charming wedding took place at Christ Church, Alert Bay, recently, when Miss Muriel Elizabeth McAuley, only daughter of J. Wilmer McAuley of Prince Rupert, became the bride of Charles Edward Etherington, younger son of Mrs. M. Etherington of Victoria. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. Cumley, and the church was decorated for the occasion, white chrysanthemums and hydrangea being used with syringa.

Given in marriage by Milo Roy Chambers, the bride wore a white chiffon tulle frock, fashioned in bouffant style with hand-painted rosebuds outlined in silver. Her wedding veil of Brussels lace was arranged with a coronet of orange blossoms and she carried Orphelia roses. The maid of honor, Miss Margaret Kinney, of Victoria, was attired in pink and gold shot tulle, her imported hat being of chiffon felt to match. She carried mauve and pink asters. Miss Lorraine Ashby as bridesmaid was frocked in peach and silver tulle with bandeau of silver leaves, her flowers being pink asters.

Miss Beverly Milo Chambers and Miss Gloria Ashby as flower girls wore frocks of peach bloom crepe de chine and wore bandeaux of silver leaves. They carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas. The groom was attended by W. Ashby, while ushers were Fred Wastell, Hartley Burgess and Kenneth Bishop. Bridal music was provided by Mrs. Richard Felton, while during the signing of the register Mrs. S. V. H. Redman sang "O Promise Me."

A reception was held at the home of Mrs. Milo Roy Chambers, sister of the groom, autumn-shaded flowers being used as decorations. The bridal party received guests under a floral arch centred with a wedding bell. Silver sconces with pink tapers were used on the tea table, where a four-tier wedding cake was the centre-piece. Presiding at the urns were Mrs. Wastell, Mrs. R. Felton, Miss Moorhouse and Miss Close, while Mrs. W. Ashby served the wedding cake. Serving the guests were Miss Marjory Felton, Miss Jane Fotts, Miss Nita Munro and Miss Ellen Denton. Guests were received by Mrs. Milo Chambers, attired in a French gown of rose georgette hand-painted in mauve and silver tones. She was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Etherington, wearing a poudre blue gown. Violin selections were given by Miss Lorraine Ashby, accompanied by Rev. S. V. H. Redman.

Mr. and Mrs. Etherington left on a honeymoon trip to Victoria, and are now visiting the bride's parents in Prince Rupert. The bride wears for travelling an ensemble costume of blue tulle with hat to match, and fur coat, the gift of the groom. Mrs. Etherington is a graduate of the Prince Rupert General Hospital training school for nurses.

CHILDREN NEED this FOOD

Too many little folks spend forenoons in school without sufficient nourishment. Teachers notice it. The children are listless, nervous, irritable. Can't do their lessons—forenoons wasted.

Why? Not enough real food for breakfast. Often in too big a hurry to eat.

Children who are given hot Quaker Oats and milk, have the food that "stands by" them during morning hours. They are eager, energetic, alert both in work and play. They get the protein to build bone and muscle, the carbohydrates to produce energy, the vitamins and bulk to assist digestion.

Nowhere else can your children get so much nourishment for so little—costs but a cent a meal. A dish of Quaker Oats and milk daily provides a quarter of the protein needed for a growing child.

If you want speedy cooking, get Quick Quaker. It cooks in 2 1/2 to 5 minutes. Same superiority of quality, same flavour and same nourishment as in the Quaker Oats you have always known.

Be sure the Quaker's figure is on every package of Oats you buy. Cartons wrapped, sealed, dustproof.

Never a Milk Shortage

WITH Carnation on the pantry shelf there is never a shortage of double-rich, absolutely pure milk for every milk use. For Carnation can be bought a month's supply at a time—it keeps indefinitely. It even keeps several days after the tin is opened, so that there is no waste.

Because Carnation is just pure, fresh milk evaporated to double richness and kept safe by sterilization, it meets every need for milk or cream. Undiluted, it takes the place of cream at one-third cream cost. Diluted it gives superior results in all cooking. It is the most completely useful milk you can buy. Order several tins or a case of 48 tins from your grocer.

CARNATION JELLIED RICE—One cup Carnation Milk diluted with 1 cup water, 3 level teaspoons granulated gelatin, ¼ cup rice cooked in milk till tender, ½ cup sugar, ¼ cup cream beaten stiff, fruit to taste. MEETINGS OF PLAYERS CLUB PLAY NEW ROLE

Subjected to Police Plot While Tending Meeting and Dance Last Night

A new plot was provided last night for the Prince Rupert Players' Club for which they will not have to pay anything but, perhaps, a few small fines in police court. As members of the theatrical organization attended their annual meeting and dance in the Daughters of the Empire Hall last night the police were busy outside the scenes. Provincial Sergeant Hanna took the numbers of their automobiles parked on Fifth Avenue and tomorrow morning six of the members will be called upon to play roles in city police court, answering to charges of parking their vehicles on the public highway between the hours of 6 p.m. and 6 a.m. which is contrary to municipal statute.

TENDERS WANTED.

Tenders are asked for clearing and rough grading of about one acre at the Salt Lakes Park. Plans and specifications may be seen at Ormes, Limited. Sealed tenders to be in the hands of C. H. Orme not later than Saturday, October 8, 1927.

Neglected Eyes

NEGLECT is doubtless the cause of most of the ills that afflict humanity. This is so self evident that it seems hardly necessary to tell you. If your eyes are giving trouble, have them attended to—and at once.

OF ALL absurdities in the kingdom of foolishness, surely the loss of eyesight through neglect is the most inexcusable.

WHIST LEAGUE MEETING HELD

S. M. Newton Re-elected President

At the annual meeting of the Fraternal Whist League which took place last night in the City Hall, officers for the coming season were elected as follows:

President, Mayor S. M. Newton.
First Vice-President, Mrs. Joseph Howe.

Second Vice-President, H. M. Blake.

It was decided to open the Whist League this year to all organizations in the city and a further meeting will be held on October 19 in the City Hall to consider entries and make arrangements for the season's play.

An amendment of the rules was made providing that, in future, one day's clear notice must be given to the secretary to postpone a game and the meeting decided that this rule should be strictly enforced.

Those present at the meeting were Mayor S. M. Newton, who presided, and all officers: F. J. Fuller, representing the Society of St. George; Mrs. Thor Johnson, Moose Ladies; H. M. Hale, Oddfellows; George W. Johnstone, Native Sons of Canada; Fred Scadden, Moose Lodge; Mrs. W. Gilchrist, Pythian Sisters; H. M. Blake, Knights of Pythias; J. S. Irvine, St. Andrew's Society.

Not Decided Yet Whether Games
Can be Played This Winter

JOHNSTONE PRESIDENT

The Prince Rupert Basketball Association, at its annual meeting last night, decided that no definite action could be taken in the matter of drawing up a program for the coming winter's activities until it could be ascertained whether or not satisfactory arrangements could be made in the matter of obtaining a hall for the playing of games. To go into this matter a committee consisting of Ernest Anderson, Douglas Frizell and G. S. Russell was appointed. Report will be made by the committee.

at a meeting to be held in the near future.

The Northern B.C. Agricultural & Industrial Association has offered the basketball authorities the use of the Exhibition Hall at a monthly rental of $30, not including light and heat. This would amount to a total monthly cost of about $50 which the Basketball Association is inclined to feel it can hardly handle.

The meeting was held in the city police court with the retiring president, S. D. Macdonald, in the chair and about thirty persons present. Officers for the 1927-28 season were elected as follows:

Honorary President—E. A. Mann.
Honorary Vice-President—H. C. Milburne (Montreal).

Secretary-Treasurer—Ralph Smith.

PROFITS ON UTILITIES.

Editor, Daily News.

Mr. Rorie's explanation of the earnings of the Utilities in the yesterday's paper was much appreciated. It still leaves matters somewhat hazy, however.

According to Mr. Rorie, the Utilities made a profit of $6,880, while the Provincial Inspector of Municipalities says they made a loss of $4,734. The difference between these two authorities is, then, $11,614. Mr. Rorie explains this as the result of his giving effect to cross entries, quoting in part the Inspector's note, the whole text of which is as follows: "The figures submitted under the heading of 'Receipts' and 'Expenditures' are prepared very largely from an analysis of the auditors' reports, and although the classification of expenditures is not uniform in the different municipalities, and it is in many cases extremely difficult to make a distribution of the items, yet the statements have been prepared with a good deal of care and may be taken as substantially correct. Items which are of the nature of cross-entries, deposit accounts, and trust accounts, which would have the effect of inflating the figures, have as far as possible been eliminated."

Mr. Rorie gives the receipts of the Water Department as $45,693, while the Inspector says they were $34,676, a difference between them of $11,017 which is very near to the difference between them on the operation of the whole Utilities.

On examining the Annual Report of the city for 1926, page 19, we find that the Revenue account of the Water Department is made up as follows:

By Water rates, less discounts $32,429.62
" Connections and permits 836.97
" Fire department, for use of hydrants 2,000.00
" Tax Levy, special rates 10,427.12
$45,693.71

The last item "By Tax Levy, special rates—$10,427.12" is, apparently, one of the items which the Inspector has eliminated in his report, as being of the nature of a cross entry which has the effect of inflating the figures.

Can one rightfully consider monies raised by taxation as real earnings of this Utility? To the ordinary mind it seems that as this $10,427 is not earned by the Utility it should not be considered as a "receipt" in determining the loss on operation.

REALIST.

BRINE WANTS REPLY.

Editor, Daily News.

Not having received a reply to my request, I must again ask for space to publish the following. By the request of the finance committee I paid the sum of $20. I do not know until I get a copy of the auctioneer's bylaw whether I should pay this account or not. Following is a copy of the letter demanding the money from me:

"Your letter in connection with your license fee was considered by the Finance Committee yesterday, and I was instructed to collect the regular fee from you as required by the city by-laws.

"The amount due by you is $20.00 and I must request you to pay this forthwith, otherwise I will be compelled to have you prosecuted for carrying on business in violation of the By-laws."

I have all kinds of honor and respect for those in authority but I am not going to be browbeaten out of either a reply to my letter or a copy of the bylaw.

FRENCH TENNIS STAR TELLS OF SPORTS VALUE

Jean Borotra Handicapped by Cares of Business Yet Leads in Popular Game

(By John R. Tunis in "Rotarian")
Whenever you see in a magazine a highly colored picture of a lady in a sedan chair, or a lady walking along a promenade by the sea with a dog as big as a wheelbarrow on a leash, you know instinctively it's an advertisement for an automobile. And whenever you see a photograph of a figure in white jumping into the air to hit a tennis ball, you know by the same token that it's a picture of Jean Borotra of France.

Jean Borotra is probably the most photographed man in sports today. First because of his leaping acrobatics, his unusual and picturesque attitudes upon the court, his tense and sinuous figure in full pursuit of the ball. Secondly because as a prominent member of France's Davis Cup team he has played in nearly every country in the civilized world. Naturally whenever he plays the photographers crowd about.

But this blonde, slender Frenchman is more than just merely another famous international athlete. At the age of twenty-eight he is internationally famous in business circles. Ever since the war he has represented an American corporation in Europe which manufactures gasoline pumps; on behalf of his company he travels the length and breadth of the eastern and western hemispheres. Nor is it an exaggeration to call Jean Borotra an "international" in business as well as in sport. Sitting at lunch one day last winter in his apartment on the Rue de Longchamps in Paris, I heard him talk—at a special telephone connection so made that he is able to conduct his business at meals—with a German, an Italian, a Czech, and an Englishman all in their native tongues. That same fire, energy, and dash that he has put into sport until he has raised French tennis to the front rank he has also given to business, with the result that today Jean Borotra is one of the leaders of the younger industrialists of France.

A REAL AMATEUR

Something more is Jean Borotra. He is an amateur! He does not sell bonds, stocks, or insurance, write for the daily press, traffic in real estate or deal in any extraneous sidelines. In fact, he is one of the very few players of international sport who is actually handicapped by the cares of business. When he travels with the French team to play at matches in Denmark or Italy he counts on leaving Paris at the last possible minute by air to rejoin his comrades who departed by train the day before. He jumps out of the plane on the afternoon of the match and into his playing clothes; then, in addition, he sits up half the night transacting business wherever he happens to be, for the ramifications of his company are world wide. Last year before the final match at Forest Hills, when he played his teammate, Lacoste, for the championship of the United States, I was in his room in the Hotel Vanderbilt, in New York, shortly after midnight. Most of the tennis players had long since retired; not Jean Borotra. For hours he had been working and work still remained for him to do. In his hand, as I left, was a sheaf of telegrams; he was breaking engagements in Chicago, St. Louis, and Cincinnati because he was staying to play the next day.

"I should never have played in this tournament," he said, shaking his head ruefully. "I had appointments in St. Louis and Chicago that must be cancelled. I ought to be scolded."

WORKED TO 2 A.M.

The night of the Davis Cup Challenge round at Germantown last year Borotra was working on documents and reports connected with his business until 2 a.m. At three he was called upon an important long distance call from San Francisco. He never told me this; he is much too good a sportsman; it is a fact nevertheless. Everyone knows of Jean Borotra as the inspiration and the mainspring of French sport. But few know of him in his vast and complicated business relations in almost every country in the world.

I stress this to show that Jean Borotra is not a one-sided specialist devoted merely to the playing of games, a man who spends his life upon the courts. Rather he is a hard working and capable industrialist, who, by the force of his personality, has created for himself the same position in the world of business that he occupies in the world of sport. He sees nations and many nations, too, across the net; he also meets them across the conference table in business. Those who only know him superficially, who only see him impetuous and ardent in a close five-set match, will call him the Bounding Basque. But Jean Borotra is far more than that; this eager, smiling Frenchman is a man with a purposeful brain. And because of his connection with sport, because of his connection with a large international corporation he gets to know the peoples of various countries as perhaps few persons in Europe do. He greets them formally in serious and important deals in the morning; he greets them informally at play upon the courts in the afternoon. Not one country, but a score of different countries. Therefore what he told me recently about sport and its effect upon international relations is more important than the biased and often insincere words of hundreds of politicians the world over, given out to the press for a desired effect. Because Jean Borotra's words were unstudied and simple. Besides being the views of a man who does not spend his life thinking, but doing.

BRINGS NATIONS TOGETHER

"There are two ways, I believe, of bringing nations together," he said. "One is by sport, the other by business. Let me show you what I mean:

"I had just returned from the war, where I was in military service at the front. I found conditions changed. The world was distrustful. Nations were afraid, uncertain; we did not like the Germans and the Germans did not like us. Well, shortly after demobilization I became attached to the company for which I now work. In a few months I was sent to Düsseldorf, across the Rhine, on business for them. I shall never forget my first visit to Germany.

"For I a Frenchman was going into the enemy's land. I was shaking hands with men I had been shooting at a few years before. To my surprise I found that they received me courteously, treated me cordially, did business with me, and, without exception, kept their business word. I soon began to see they were not bad fellows. And as the years have rolled on and I have come to know them better I have made many friends there. I grew to like them, and perhaps they liked me, their traditional enemy. Today I visit Düsseldorf every week and it is something I look forward to. All this would have been impossible had we not been brought together in a business way."

"Then you believe, Monsieur Borotra," I asked, "that business has a better and more lasting effect upon international relations than sport?"

KNOW AND UNDERSTAND

"International relations can be improved in two ways," he replied. "First by exchange of personalities and ideas through business, and, second, by intercourse and understanding through meetings in sport. There is a third way, which we have been trying through the centuries, and which hasn't gotten us so very far. That is through the medium of our politicians. But really there is only one way; that is in getting to know and understand other peoples. And the best way you can get to know a man and what he is like is upon the golf links or the tennis courts. This, I believe, is the more important and the more effective way.

LIBRARY PAY SYSTEM BOOKS NOT YET HERE

Board Held Routine Meeting Last Night and Received Report of Librarian

It was reported by the librarian at the meeting of the Library Board last night that the books for the pay section of the library had not yet arrived and it would probably be two or possibly three weeks before it was initiated.

The librarian reported 3,372 books borrowed during the month of which 2420 volumes were fiction, 590 juvenile, and 362 non-fiction. The library was open 90 days, the average number of books loaned each day being 168.5.

During the month 41 new cards were issued to borrowers, 20 being cancelled. Books received during the month numbered 52, of which 25 were by gift and 27 by purchase. Fifteen volumes were discarded as no longer useful. There are now on the shelves approximately six thousand volumes.

G. V. Wilkinson presided at the meeting, Aid. M. M. Stephens was secretary and there were also present James Black, H. F. Pullen and the Librarian.

Waner. Meusel stole second and, when Wright dropped the ball, he tried for third but was caught. No runs, no hits, one error.

SPORT CHAT

Within a week or ten days now, winter indoor sporting activities will be well under way in the city. Organization for such lines as are to be followed is now well advanced and the prospect is that the season should be a successful one with plenty of interest and excitement for those playing or following the various activities. While there are a few forms of winter sports still that might well be engaged in here, there is, nevertheless, a wide diversity of sports which should claim, on the whole, general attention.

The ten leaders in the batting marathon in the Big Leagues this season are:

National — Waner, Pittsburgh, .382; Hornsby, New York, .362; L. Waner, Pittsburgh, .351; Stephenson, Chicago, .342; Traynor, Pittsburgh, .339; Frisch, St. Louis, .336; Harris, Pittsburgh, .330; Hafey, St. Louis, .328; Harper, New York, .326; Terry, New York, .324.

Leading pitchers are:
National League—Haines, St. Louis, .697; Benton, New York, .696; Grimes, New York, .693; Kremer, Pittsburgh, .692; Meadows, Pittsburgh, .679; Alexander, St. Louis, .677; Hill, Pittsburgh, .676; Henry, New York, .647; Root, Chicago, .634; Fitzsimmons, New York, .630. Because of the late arrival of Frankhouse in the league his remarkable average is not considered in the percentage leadership.

SAW THE PICTURES OF DEMPSEY-TUNNEY FIGHT

A Prince Rupert man who saw the Dempsey-Tunney pictures in Vancouver a few days ago says he is strongly of opinion that Dempsey had a raw deal over the count. When Dempsey knocked Tunney down, the referee did not begin to count until Dempsey returned to his corner but when Tunney knocked Dempsey down the count commenced at once with Tunney standing there beside him.
