SEVENTY-SIX PERSONS LOSE LIVES AS MOVIE HOUSE BURNS

Mostly Children Dead as Result of Most Terrible Holocaust on Record in History of Dominion

SITUATION IN CHINA IS STILL FAR FROM GOOD

CONDITIONS SOMEWHAT EASIER IN HANKOW BUT GROWING WORSE ALONG YANGTSE RIVER

PEKING, Jan. 10.—Official dispatches reaching here from Hankow said that the anti-foreign conditions, while somewhat easier locally, were growing steadily worse in other cities along the Yangtse-Kiang River. The British were evacuating all missionaries from accessible points in Hupeh. Honan and Szechwan as a precautionary measure and American women were being moved from Ichang, two hundred miles up the river from Hankow.

Although the Cantonese soldiers had left the British concessions at Hankow, they were still in an ugly mood and it was feared they might run amok because they have received no pay for several months. The British withheld fire when the Chinese besieged the concession entrance on January 1 and they are now being called "paper tigers" and the Chinese newspapers are advising the natives to fear them no longer.

FIRE DESTROYS TERRACE HOME

RESIDENCE OF MR. AND MRS. S. F. MILLS BURNED TO GROUND FRIDAY MORNING

TERRACE, Jan. 10.—The home of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Mills, southwest of town, was burned to the ground with all its contents on Friday morning between 2 and 3 o'clock.

Mrs. Mills was alone at the time. Mr. Mills and Frank being at Reno where they are hauling poles. The fire, which evidently started from an overheated stove, had gained such headway before she awakened that, except for a trunk which she dragged out with her, she was unable to save a thing. As the house was some distance from any neighbors, before an alarm was broadcasted, it was too late for anyone to be of any assistance.

The house which was a one story frame structure, was originally built for Frank Clapp of Prince Rupert who was at one time the owner of the property. The loss is partly covered by insurance.

Girls and boys crushed so tightly into deadly stairway that walls have to be cut open to extricate bodies

SPACE OF TEN MINUTES ENCOMPASSED DISASTER

Mass of groaning and shrieking juveniles are suffocated to death—proprietor and employees held by police

MONTREAL, January 10.—One of the most terrible holocausts in the history of the city took place when seventy-six lives were lost as the frenzied audience madly rushed for the exits of the Laurier movie theatre in which fire occurred yesterday afternoon. The theatre was filled with eleven hundred persons consisting mainly of children, a number of the dead being juveniles. In addition to the deaths at the scene many who were injured in the hectic scramble for safety may die. The fire started under the floor of a balcony and the cry of a youngster who saw it started the stampede. The flames were soon under control and little damage to the building was done. The dead were crushed and suffocated.

The stairway, which the firemen found jammed with children, was a death trap for the victims. The crush was so tight that, when a rope was placed around the body of one child, twenty men tugged at it in vain. At a turn in the stairs, five feet from the main floor, firemen again tried to remove a human mass but it was found impossible to do so. It was necessary to cut a hole in the outside wall and cut down a wooden stairway to get at the bodies of the victims of the stampede. A time of six minutes encompassed the whole tragedy.

Boys and girls in a vain stampeding mob from the balcony pressed suddenly from the rear and all tumbled and fell. Instant panic then seized the crowd and there was a shoving, scrambling heap of children. In a minute or two the stairway became solid with a suffocating, groaning, shrieking and dying mass. Nearly all those taken out of the stairway were dead. The number of deaths makes it the greatest tragedy of its kind in the history of Canada. Some families lost as many as three children. All the victims were taken to the morgue. Ameen Lawrand, proprietor of the theatre, and three employees are being held by the police for an inquest today. The provincial law prohibits the admittance

Efficiency of Local Elevator Becomes Increasingly Apparent; Two Freighters Rapidly Loaded

The Wheat Pool's elevator at Prince Rupert continues to make very satisfactory loading records and the more the plant is used the more is its efficiency being proven.

Loading of the Smith Line freighter, Welsh City, was completed Saturday night and the vessel laid at the elevator dock overnight, moving up to the Imperial Oil Co.'s plant Sunday morning to take on fuel before sailing at 4 o'clock in the afternoon for the United Kingdom or continent. She took on here a full cargo of 332,640 bushels which was loaded in the very satisfactory total time of 18½ hours. This is about the best time that could be made at an elevator on the coast with a vessel of the Welsh City's size. Incidentally, she took on the largest cargo of wheat ever loaded here.

Soon after the Welsh City had departed from the elevator wharf, the Ocean Transport Co.'s freighter, Ryoka Maru, which had completed lining at the dry dock, took up her berth there on Sunday and immediately started loading. During the afternoon 4,800 tons was placed aboard and the vessel should get away with the first grain cargo shipped from here to the Orient about noon tomorrow.

He particularly denied Gould's allegation that he had been paid $100,000 when premier to allow the construction of a railway to continue.

Canada and Motherland Connected by Air When Ottawa Greets England

OTTAWA, January 10.—The Empire wireless telephone connected Canada and the Motherland on Sunday over the beam radio system between England and Drummondville, Quebec, to which Ottawa connected with a land wire. Several conversations were successfully conducted between the two countries which are 3,500 miles apart. The tests foreshadow the opening up of direct telephone communication between all parts of the Empire. It is a new and distinct inter-Empire project which it is hoped to carry out through the Marconi beam system. Sunday's talk was with Bridgewater, Somerset, England.

TIT-FOR-TAT AT VANCOUVER.

The Liberal government tried treating Vancouver with generosity and made a good job of it, too, but Vancouver did not change her voting complexion except to become more Tory than ever. In Prince Rupert there was somewhat of the same state of affairs when the Mackenzie King government did something for the port only to get a slap in the face for it.

Apparently Ottawa has now decided to treat Vancouver rough by knocking their little five million dollar hotel in the head and other things. Here's hoping it doesn't follow similar tactics here for Prince Rupert is not quite out of the wilderness yet and we still might be able to find a little government aid handy at times.

SEWERS BADLY NEEDED IN CITY.

The Daily News knows of no very strong reason why the $35,000 sewer bylaw should not be endorsed by the ratepayers at the polls on Thursday. "One of the Sufferers from lack of sewer facilities" misunderstood us if he took it that we were opposed to the measure because we said we feared it would not pass. Sewer facilities are very badly needed in the greater part of the residential section of the city and they should be provided. If the passing of this bylaw will not embarrass the city's financial standing and will not be too great an addition to the taxation particularly to those who own property in the sections affected who will have to "pay the piper" in a large measure through the construction of local improvement laterals, we would unhesitatingly urge the ratepayers to vote for the bylaw.

WHAT IS PERSONALITY?

What is personality? Personality is that something indescribable about a person that attracts favorable comment or impression. It is indescribable, because one cannot just put a finger on any one characteristic, for it is a combination of many things that make up the whole. The eyes, facial expression, carriage, dress, affable manner, speech, etc.

One thing in particular may stand out prominently, but it is blended with some other characteristic that harmonizes and attracts favorable attention, like a picture that is set off by its frame.

We say of the person who is neatly dressed, with well-pressed clothes, polished shoes, clean linen and clean shaven face, that they have a very pleasing appearance, but if added to this, there is the smiling expression in the eyes and convincing speech, we say they have a wonderful personality.

STANDPOINT OF FRENCH-CANADIANS.

French-Canadians have always held the view that they could not be good British subjects if they ceased to be faithful to their religious beliefs, to their traditions, their customs, their laws and their language. And when they reject every attempt against one or other of these prerogatives, they are conscious of serving at least as much the interests of the Empire as the interests of their own nationality. It is their conviction that at the survival of their race is essentially bound up with their attachment to the British crown.—La Presse.

SOCIETY-SCREEN GAP IS SPANNED

NOBILITY AND BLUE BLOOD IS NOW CONTRIBUTING TO PICTURE RANKS IN HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 10.—Dramatic talents of gentle birth no longer blush upon the drawing-room air unseen. They are cast upon the movie screen in full view of the multitude.

Society and nobility are contributing to the picture ranks, especially since the war made refugees of some titled personages.

Lady Peel, the wife of Sir Robert Peel, made a film comedy. Off the lot she is a British peeress; during working hours an actress. As the latter she is professionally known as Beatrice Lillie. Mario Carillo is the non-de-cinema or the son of Filipe Caracciolo, Duke of Milet, and scion of an ancient family of Naples, who played in "Torrent" and "The Barrier." He too, keeps his identities apart.

Barons and Generals
Wilhelm Von Brincken, technical expert, actor, and research man, first came to America as military consular attaché for Germany, years ago. He bore the title of baron and the commission of lieutenant. The war took away his job and he gave up his title to become an American citizen.

General Theodore Lodjensky was once commander of the Russian Imperial Guard, bodyguard of the czar. The war and revolution sent him from his native land, a fugitive. Today he may be found as technical expert.

There are a number of others in pictures who claim connection with nobility. They include Nathalie Kovanko, Russian actress, and Tourjanski, Russian director.

FAMOUS HORSE IS SEEN AS BUCKER

Fred Thomson and Silver King are Stars in First of Week Picture at Westholme

Sparkling with the touches which are fast coming to be associated in the public mind with Fred Thomson productions alone. "All Around Frying Pan," the latest picture featuring the western luminary and his wonderful horse, Silver King, comes to the Westholme Theatre tonight and tomorrow. Most famous cowboy rodeos in the country, was filmed as the background for part of the action of "All Around Frying Pan," and Thomson was an actual entry at this event, competing with some of the greatest riders in the world. The picture is a strong melodrama heavily loaded with comedy, and the round-up scenes make it really two big shows in one. Fred's exhibition of bucking on Silver King (and how that horse can "Sidewind," "Sunfish" and "Swap ends") is a masterly piece of horsemanship and certainly ranks high in any equestrian league. The story is an adaptation of Frank Richardson Pierce's famous western thriller, and under the skillful manipulation of Director David Kirkland, who also wrote the continuity, it becomes one of the best vehicles Fred had ever had. Silver King, as usual, has a fat role with plenty of comedy business to lighten the tension of his equine emotionalism.

"THE BLACKBIRD" IS CROOK MELODRAMA

Director and Star of "Unholy Three" Have Again Combined Forces

Tod Browning and Lon Chaney, director and star of "The Unholy Three," the picture which created such a tremendous sensation; again combine forces in producing another unique feature, "The Blackbird," which will be shown at the Westholme Theatre on Wednesday night only.

The new film is also a crook melodrama, and one of immense appeal both from the human interest and thrill viewpoints. It concerns a clever rascal whose ability to assume another identity, that of a crippled mission-keeper, enables him to defy the police at will.

In support Renee Adoree, Owen Moore, Doris Lloyd, Andy McClennan, William Weston and others.

PARIS, VENICE IN NEW SCREEN PLAY

Europe's Capitals as Background for "The Far Cry." Directed by Balboni

Paris, with its sparkle, its gaiety and its life, and Venice, with its lagoons, gondolas and moonlight, form the background of "The Far Cry," a new First National picture, slated for a showing at the Westholme theatre on Thursday.

The plot reveals how an American girl, lured by title, marries and as quickly divorces a French marquis in Paris and then goes to Venice to meet the American sweetheart whom she should have wed.

"The Far Cry" is a Katharine Kavanaugh adaptation of the Arthur Richman play of the same name and was filmed under the direction of Balboni, the young Italian screen genius who has just been made a director. Its leading roles are interpreted by Blanche Sweet, Jack Mulhall, Myrtle Stedman and Hobart Bosworth. June Mathis acted in an advisory capacity during the filming.

STORY OF OLD LADY WHO INTERITED ONE MILLION DOLLARS

A charming little old lady who is suddenly raised from direct poverty as a charity inmate of a grim institution to the possession of a million dollar inheritance; a beautiful girl who has also felt the pinch of want; a rich young ne'er-do-well who finally "does well" after all; a scheming lawyer trying to do the old lady out of her money, and a score of babies the old lady befriends in her sudden rise to affluence, make the plot of "Drusilla with a Million" one of the most entertaining ever screened. But a rehearsal of the story is not necessary for almost everybody read the popular novel of Elizabeth Cooper's and those who have not, will be sure not to miss the picture presentation at the Westholme Theatre at the week-end. Nothing has been lost in transposing the recent best seller to the silver sheet, and in fact under the skillful direction of F. Harmon Weight, the work seems to have taken on a new significance and to be fresher and more delightful than ever. Mary Carr, Priscilla Bonner, Kenneth Harlan, William Humphrey and Clarence Du Bray head a fine cast; not forgetting the babies, who prove very gifted actors and actresses, if of somewhat tender years.

BOYS' BAND TENDERS AS ATTRACTION FOR 14 PRAIRIE FAIRS

The Prince Rupert Boys' Band, through Thomas Wilson, the bandmaster, is being tendered as an attraction to fourteen Western Canada fairs this year. If satisfactory negotiations are completed, the band will make a seven or eight weeks' tour of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, starting about July 2 and ending about August 19. There will be some difficulties in the way and it is probable that financial aid will be sought from the Board of Trade and city council in connection with preliminary arrangements as the tour would undoubtedly be beneficial to the city from a publicity standpoint.

PARTY AT SEAL COVE HELD ON SATURDAY EVE.

The boys stopping at the Seal Cove Hotel gave a dance on Saturday evening to their many friends, the event being heartily enjoyed by over 80 people who were present. The music was furnished by Mrs. R. P. Ponder's orchestra and was very much enjoyed by the company which continued the evening's enjoyment until a late hour. The affair was held in the hotel which provided ample accommodation and a fine floor for the merry makers. Delicious refreshments were served at the hour of midnight under the direction of Mrs. Worstfold and H. A. Dodd. The affair broke up with many expressions of gratitude to all who had assisted in making the evening such a happy event.

SPORT CHAT

The basketball schedule will be resumed this week on Friday night when four games will be played. Other sporting features for the week include billiards on Tuesday and Friday nights, the Grotto and Terminals meeting on Tuesday and St. Andrew's and Moose on Friday night. There are no whist games during the week as the men will resume their schedule on January 20. There is a full list of cribbage games scheduled for tonight, however, when the following games will be played: Knights of Columbus vs. C.M. Operating; Cold Storage vs. Dry Dock; St. Andrew's vs. Sons of Canada; Moose vs. Orange Lodge; P.R. Hotel vs. Canadian Legion; and the C.N. Mechanics vs. Grotto.

The small boys were making good use of the small patch of ice at the week end bringing to our attention the lack of ice skating facilities in the city. Occasionally there is sufficient frost for a short period during the winter so that skating at the Salt Lakes is possible for a short time. This is however, only an aggravation so far as the winter season is concerned and only brings attention to the lack of this popular Canadian pastime in Prince Rupert. Since hockey has made such progress in the past few years and many American cities have built very costly rinks providing artificial ice, and many Canadian cities have as well turned to artificial ice as the only sure stand by for the season, it should not be long before this city should be able to support a rink of fair proportions. Skating is a delightful pastime which provides good exercise and the games played on the silvery surface are both fast and exciting. A swimming pool and a rink should scarcely be mentioned in the same sentence yet each is very necessary in this Canadian city.

Apart from the Labor day sports and the few races conducted on July 1 each year there is very little interest taken locally in field and track athletics. The intensive training which is required for this class of sports is very good discipline for any athlete. The spring time is usually the best season for these sports and is generally used all over the country as a fitting time for competitions. Athletes generally start early after the New Year to train and in the early spring a few indoor meets are held and, in the later spring, outside competitions become popular. There is plenty of room in Prince Rupert to cultivate an interest in this line of sport which is open to a very large number of aspirants.

The past year saw several track records broken, among them the 100 yard dash which was lowered to 9 1/2 seconds by Charley Paddock. Dr. Otto Peitzer, perhaps, was the sensation of the year on the track and he eclipsed Ted Meredith's long standing record for the half mile. Another record went by the board when Edwin Wide broke the two mile record established by Alf Shrubbs in 1904.

George Wright, was captain, shortstop and manager of the champion "Providence" baseball team of fifty years ago on which A. G. Spalding also played, will celebrate his 80th birthday anniversary this month. Mr. Wright, who is the head of a prominent sporting goods house in Boston attributes his longevity and general good health to his indulgence in the game of golf.

The golf season at Miami, Fla., will get under way on January 17 with the opening of the annual midwinter tournament.

Time was, a decade or two ago, when nearly all the great billiard professionals—the elder Schaefer, Slosson, Sutton, and others who might be named—were men well along in years. Now, Willie Hoppe, who is not quite 40, is the oldest of the balking stars, Edouard Horemans, the Belgian, is 38; Young Jake Schaefer, 31; Roger Conti, 25, and Welker Cochran in his middle twenties.

One hour and forty minutes is the average time required for a major league baseball game.

The size of the baseball diamond has remained the same since the earliest days of the game.

WINDJAMMER WAS ADRIFT

TUG CAPE SCOTT SCOURING NEAR QUEEN CHARLOTTE'S SEEKING FOR HELPS OREGON FIR

Helpless on the North Pacific, somewhere off the coast of the Queen Charlotte Islands, the American six-masted schooner Oregon Fir was being sought at the week end by the tugboat Cape Scott. It was feared that the windjammer, with sails blown away had drifted to sea before the strong easterly wind.

Anxiety has been felt in Seattle about the schooner for some time, as she sailed from Shanghai on October 29 and was spoken fairly close to the coast on December 3.

On Tuesday the Canadian National steamer Prince Charles spoke the Oregon Fir, then lying helpless with her sails blown away. The captain of the schooner asked the Prince Charles to wireless for aid, as he had no wireless on board. He said he had had been adrift for twenty-one days and had no means of progress until he could get a tow.

It is understood that the ship has plenty of provisions on board.

BOUND FOR SEATTLE
The Oregon Fir is a wooden vessel built at Portland in 1920. She was purchased recently by the Sterling Shipping Co. of Seattle and will be re-named Helen B. Sterling. She is of 2526 gross tons, 267 feet long, 49.6 feet beam, 25.2 feet deep.

The Cape Scott proceeded from near Prince Rupert on the search. She will probably tow the windjammer direct to Seattle, if no damage other than loss of canvas has been suffered. If her hull is damaged, she may go either to Prince Rupert or to Esquimalt.

The Oregon Fir had been off the coast for many weeks, her sails in tatters, herself at the mercy of wind and tide. A month ago she was near the Aleutians. Two weeks ago she was off Columbia River mouth, almost in sight of her destination. Winter gales came along and snatched her back to the roaring ocean, drifting her north to the Queen Charlottes.

NEAR VIRGIN ROCKS
When sighted by the Prince Charles, and later spoken, she was twenty-miles west-southwest of Virgin Rocks. The Cape Scott wireless that she had searched that area and found no sign of the vessel.
The tug intended to proceed further to sea in prosecuting her search.

TEARFUL SNOQUALMIE FALLS GIRL SITS WAITING FOR HER INTENDED

SEATTLE, Jan. 10. — With tearful looks at her trousseau and anxious glances out of the window, Ruth Briggs, 22 years old, a Snoqualmie Falls girl, sits waiting for word of her sweetheart, Harold Patterson, 26 years, who disappeared on Saturday evening with $2000 on his person. With plans for their wedding and honeymoon hardly off his lips Patterson excused himself to his fiancée and walked into the early evening darkness not to return.
She waited two hours on the street corner for his return, and then reported his disappearance to the police.
"I am growing more anxious each hour," declared Miss Briggs yesterday afternoon. "I am sure that he did not desert me, but that he has met with foul play or some accident. I went to Snoqualmie Falls on Sunday night, and I visited the hotel where he had a room. None of his clothing nor personal belongings had been touched, so that I know he did not return to the hotel. No one there has seen or heard from him. I saw the $2,000, and I know he had it on him when he disappeared."

REV. G. G. HACKER, IN SERMON AT UNITED CHURCH, VIGOROUSLY SUPPORTS PROVINCIAL SYSTEM

Taking as his text "Which things ought not to be done?" from the Book of Genesis, Rev. George G. Hacker preached a sermon last evening in the United Church in which he vigorously urged the continuance of the provincial police system in the city. At the outset, Mr. Hacker said that he was not speaking politically but rather upon the ground of religion. He felt that he had a right to speak in support of the provincial police.

Starting in the Old Testament the speaker quoted numerous passages to show that, soon after man's history began, it was apparent that there were things which he ought not to do and there was punishment awaiting him if he did certain things. "First: there was creation, then the law and then the policeman with a flaming sword" said the speaker. Passing to the New Testament he quoted the words of Jesus, that—"I am not come to destroy the law and the prophets but to fulfill."

Coming then directly to the subject of the local police force he dealt with certain criticisms to which he had listened. Upon inquiry, however, he had been reliably informed that the provincial police came here with no other purpose than that of giving good administration and cleaning up the city. It was true that certain cases had been withdrawn but due to certain technicalities it was not always possible to secure convictions on all charges. The situation in the city, while capable of great improvement, was vastly better than in previous years and the police should be given credit for what had been accomplished. He spoke of the Attorney General and could not believe that he was fool enough to be blamed for certain actions which had taken place.

LAW ENFORCEMENT

The speaker then spoke of certain difficulties peculiar to this city in the matter of law enforcement. First, according to statistics, Prince Rupert was the third largest consumer of liquor in the province although there were many places with a larger population. Also in the amount of fines collected, Prince Rupert was second in the province being only surpassed by Vancouver.

The speaker then took up the question as to who was kicking against the provincial police and spoke from his own knowledge of men who had been compelled to go to work since the force had taken charge of the city. I think the greatest need of Canada and the whole world is respect for law" continued Mr. Hacker who considered it important that respect for constituted authority must be reestablished.

Taking up the negative side of the question, Mr. Hacker considered that if the citizens turned down the provincial police that it would be taken as an indication that a period of lawlessness was desired. The idea of continuing the provincial force was further supported by the fact that it was suggested that a policeman after four years in any one place lost his usefulness. "Preachers, bank managers and policemen" should not be allowed to stay too long in any one place," he said, and continued that this would not be possible with a force which was supplied by the city. He further thought that the body which was responsible for the selling of liquor should also see that the law was enforced.

BACKING OF CITIZENS

In concluding Mr. Hacker said that he thought the police needed the backing of the citizens and not so much criticism. Conditions in the city had greatly improved and the people knew this, and he, therefore, urged all to get out on Thursday and vote for a continuance of the system. If they did not, he considered it would be a calamity for Prince Rupert.

ETERNAL LIFE GIFT OF GOD

IMPRESSIVE SERMON BY REV. J. R. FRIZELL IN PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

(Sermon of the Rev. J. R. Frizell, B.A., L.L.B., Presbyterian Church, Prince Rupert, January 9, reported by A. E. McArthur.)

"When I die and am buried in Greenwood," said America's greatest pulpit orator, "let no man stand beside my grave and say 'Here lies Henry Ward Beecher'—for God knows I will not be there. Look up! If you love me and feel that I have helped you on your way homeward, then stand with one foot upon my grave and look up. For I will not hear anyone who does not speak with his face towards Heaven."

In the 6th chapter of Romans and the last verse you will find these words "The gift of God is eternal life." They are the words of the apostle Paul and they are our text this morning. "Will I be remembered by posterity when I am gone?" said a great American statesman. One thought, however, supports the inevitable, and that is that God can take these lives of ours and lift them across the tiny river of death and set them down forever among Elysian fields.

Two or three thoughts, my friends, arise out of these words of the great apostle. The first is—does not the dream of immortality arise out of the very being of God? Years ago it is said that a vandal entered the British Museum and lifted his hand upon a beautiful vase one of the richest treasures of the nation. The reason the vandal ravished the vase was because there was no caretaker there to prevent it. And if Lord Kelvin could walk up and down the Parthenon stripping it of its priceless treasures it was because there was no Greek Ruler there to protect that temple whose threshold was once pressed by the feet of Socrates and whose walls were made glorious by a genius of Plutarch. And so if our sweet wives, our mothers and our little children are swept together into one dark place which we call the grave and, if we are never to meet them or to see them again, then surely we can only arrive at once or two conclusions—either that there is no God or that the hand of the destroyer is greater than the hand of the Omnipotent.

But there is a God. And if there is a God he is a good God—he is a kind God, and death cannot mean the end.

AMONG MASTERS AND TEACHERS

Then again, my friends, this promise of a city in the clouds is found among all the great masters and teachers. Go home this morning and take down from your library the great masterpieces of Greek and of Rome, and if you read carefully you will see this dream of immortality running along between the lines. Think of the great Job—"I know that my Redeemer liveth and at the last day he will stand upon the earth." Think of Socrates, the philosopher, and listen to what he says—"Wherefore, O Judges, have no fear of death—know of a certainty that no evil can befall a good man either dead or alive. I see that to die and depart is far better for me."

Yes, take the dream of immortality out of the souls and you take the beauty and the fragrance out of the rose, the light out of the sunbeams, and the happiness out of the heart and the home. Again, does this foregleam of immortality not help, my friends, to take some of the sting out of life's thorns. The hymn we sang this morning—that hymn of Dr. George Matheson——is one of the most beautiful hymns in the book. It was written in that hour when the doctor placed his hands upon the shoulders of the great man and looking into his eyes said—"If there is a single individual in all the world whom you wish to see, go and look into that face now; for your sight is almost gone, and you will never get it back again. Pull yourself together, buck up, and be a man." Matheson sat down and wrote to the woman he wanted to make his wife, and when she heard of his approaching blindness she cut him adrift forever. Then out of the breaking of the alabaster box and the falling of the castles which he had built in the air, the great preacher wrote that beautiful hymn, which is not only a hymn of beauty, but which ranks high as a poem:

"Oh love that will not let me go,
I rest my weary soul in thee,
I give thee back the life I owe,
That in thine ocean depths its flow,
May richer, fuller be."

SOME EXAMPLES

And then also it helps to solve some of life's sorrows and some of life's unfulfilled plans. Many a man with great promise and intellect has been cut off when he was only standing upon life's threshold. A few illustrations should suffice:

Here is Percy Shelly, the ethereal winged songster. One day he was almost drowned in Lake Geneva. His companion rescued him and after an hour's unconsciousness he opened his eyes and whispered, "Why did you bring me back. I had almost solved the great mystery."

Think of Thomas Chatterton, the boy with the precocious intellect. It is said that he climbed old walls like the ivy and haunted twilight ruins like the bat. At the age of 17 he died and is buried in Shoe Lane in London among the paupers.

And what shall we say of Keat's Hallam—one of the most brilliant students that every passed through Eton? A little over 20, broken in health, his father took him to the continent to recuperate. After walking, they returned one evening to their home, and as his son lay down upon the couch resting,

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

his father addressed a letter to his friend in England, telling him how his boy was "fast regaining his health. When he turned to speak to him, lo! the soul had taken wing. Perhaps Mozart, the great musician, is still playing. Perhaps Robertson is still preaching.

The old man grown weary of life's struggles and having passed through the fire of life's battles, takes his grandchild upon his knee and putting his lips close to her ear whispers: "Eye hath not seen, ear hath not heard, neither hath it entered into the heart of man what God has prepared for those that love him."

GIFT OF GOD

The gift of God is eternal life, says Paul. The gift of God is eternal life. The gift of God is life. You have life. I have life. We all have life. The world has life. There is life in the trees and flowers and life in the forests. And life in the air. Our whole globe is filled with life—everywhere you go. But you want more—you want more than that. You want ageless life. You want eternal life; you want a life that knows no death.

"The stars shine over the earth.
The stars shine over the sea,
The stars look up to the mighty God,
The stars look down on me.
The stars shine for a million years,
For a million years and a day,
But God and I will live and love,
When the stars are passed away."
That is the life I want—the life that each individual wants. We want more than this life. We want undying life.

THE GREAT WHITE CITY

Once when I was in Chicago I thought it would be interesting to see the Old World's Fair Grounds, and so we went. And that reminds me of the story of the two little girls who went to see the Fair. A stern policeman met them at the gate, and asked what they wanted. They inquired if this was the "Great White City." He said "Yes, that is what they call it." They said they wanted to get into the "Great White City" because their mama and their papa were there. And then they told him their story. Some time before, their papa had died and left their mama and the two little girls alone. They were very poor and very often there was not sufficient food in the house for them and mama used to give them her supper and go without any and she had to work very hard. She said that papa had gone to the "Great White City." One day she took ill, and she called them to her bedside and she said she was

PRINCE OF WALES WAS SPEAKER AT DINNER OF WOLFE SOCIETY IN LONDON THIS WEEK—BYNG AND CHURCHILL ALSO THERE

LONDON, Jan. 10.—The Prince of Wales delivered an eloquent eulogy of General Wolfe at the dinner of the Wolfe society commemorating the bicentenary of the hero of Quebec. Viscount Byng of Vimy, former governor-general of Canada, presided. The guests included Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, and many prominent British and Canadian representatives.

Viscount Byng, in proposing a toast, evoked the heartiest applause by his reference to the prince—"Damme Sir, we love you for yourself."

"I am glad whatever prospects 1927 holds out for others, there are great prospects for my revisiting Canada," declared the prince in his address.

Speaking of General Wolfe, the prince said: "Every English-speaking boy is, as the saying goes, brought up on Wolfe. To our generation also, he has a special appeal, for it is impossible to read even the briefest sketch of his short life without being struck by the thought that here was a type exactly like so many of our brilliant young soldiers who made a name for themselves in the great war."

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, said the past year had witnessed a recognition of the spirit in which the constitution of the British empire depends solely upon devotion to the British crown.
