Worst Disaster in Wales' Recent History Mars Celebration of St. David's Day; 52 Miners Dead

Explosion this morning entombed men in gas filled coal working; rescue operations fraught with danger; pathetic scenes

NEWPORT, Wales, March 1.—Fifty-two miners are believed to be dead as a result of an explosion this morning which entombed many in the gas-filled workings of a marine colliery near here. Twenty-two of the bodies were recovered this afternoon and hope of recovering the thirty others trapped a mile and a half from the main shaft. At the time of the explosion, 135 men were at work in the mine, rescue squads bringing out eighty alive. The disaster, the worst in the history of Wales in recent years, occurred on the national day—St. David's Day—and the whole country is plunged in gloom.

The task of the rescuers was most difficult, owing to poisonous fumes and many who descended were overcome and taken to hospitals. The gas became so bad at noon that rescue work was abandoned to permit of ventilation. One hundred women and children, whose bread-winners were entombed, gathered about the pithead and there were pathetic scenes as they rushed forward to identify each man rescued.

PROPOSAL OF ATTORNEY GENERAL THROWN OUT BY AGRICULTURAL COMMITTEE

LET FARMERS SHOOT DEER

VICTORIA, March 1.—The agricultural committee of the legislature decided yesterday to oppose the proposal of Attorney General Manson that farmers be allowed to kill pheasants on the condition that they be left lying on the ground or be handed over to the nearest charitable institution. It was decided to recommend that farmers be authorized to shoot deer found destroying crops without notifying the game wardens.

The committee pointed out that the proposal of the attorney general was in direct contradiction of its earlier recommendation. Dr. H. C. Wrinch, M.L.A., said: "It's just a matter of the committee. We might just as well not report at all."

CITY COUNCIL WILL TAKE UP MATTER OF JULY CELEBRATION

Before the council adjourned last night Mayor Newton advised the aldermen that he had received letters from the Canadian Club of Vancouver and from the Women's Canadian Club in Prince Rupert concerning the celebration of the sixtieth anniversary of the Dominion on July 1. In speaking of the matter the mayor said he merely mentioned these letters so that the members of the city council could consider the question for a week before the matter came up at the next meeting.

Neither Party Has Courage or Policy with Regard to Pacific Great Eastern, Perry Declares

VICTORIA, March 1.—H. G. Perry, Liberal member for Fort George, speaking on the government's loan bill in the Legislature yesterday, made an appeal for the extension of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway to Prince George. In doing so, he said that he realized the country and government was not prepared to back up such a move but, he argued, that it would be good business for the government to do it. In this connection he said that, while he was ready to praise the business men of the province who had taken positions as directors of the railway, he did not approve of the methods they pursued. He said that the government must take full responsibility for the undertaking. It must do so. He also felt that the government was lacking in political courage in not proceeding with the line to Prince George and in the fact of not taking a stand as to any policy with respect to the matter. In this connection, he felt, the Conservatives were just as lacking in policy as the government—neither more or less.

Western Railway Rates Subject of Complaint in Budget Debate; Saskatoon Man Criticizes Board

OTTAWA, March 1.—Into the discussion of the merits of high tariffs, low tariffs and stable tariffs, which featured the budget debate in the House of Commons today, there were interjected complaints that the Board of Railway Commissioners had not yet forced the railway companies to put into effect reduced grain rates in the West. The complaints were lodged by A. M. Young, Saskatoon Liberal member, who recalled that some twenty months ago the government had ordered these reductions which were not yet in force. He thought that the Railway Board was getting too much like a court and that was the very thing the people of Canada did not want. He also thought that half of the board should represent the West as it had as much

Conservatives Unearth Another Liquor Charge for Cabinet Ministers

FRANK CARLOW'S AFFIDAVIT ALLEGES LIQUOR DEAL, ALSO LAND SALE, FOR BENEFIT OF LIBERAL FUND

VICTORIA, March 1.—Described on one side of the House as "another libel" and on the other as "a matter of urgent public importance," new allegations against cabinet ministers in connection with the purchase of liquor were brought up in the Legislature on Monday by the Opposition. The charges were contained in an affidavit purported to have been made by Frank Carlow of Victoria on which H. Despard Twigg, Conservative member for Victoria, based a resolution asking that Carlow's statement be investigated by the royal commission now inquiring into campaign funds.

The affidavit stated that, for the specific purpose of applying the commissions to Liberal organization work, Carlow, a party worker, acquired an agency for the sale of liquor to the government and that, in pursuance of the scheme, he received commissions of two thousand cases of liquor and used them for party purposes. The document further says that, with the same object in view, Carlow secured from the provincial government for L. G. Thomas of Vancouver a lease of land at English Bay, Vancouver, for which Thomas was to pay $5,000 into party funds.

The affidavit was not permitted to be read in the House. As Mr. Twigg proceeded he attempted to read the affidavit but Attorney General Manson insisted that he conform to the rules and file his motion asking for an investigation with the Speaker who would decide whether or not it was sufficiently important to go before the Legislature. Speaker Buckham upheld this view and ruled Mr. Twigg out of order when the latter failed to send his motion up to the chair. The Opposition appealed the decision but the House sustained the Speaker on a division of 25 to 15. V. W. Odium, Liberal, Vancouver, and G. A. Walkem, Provincial, Point Grey, voting with the Opposition.

BRIBE QUERY ADJOURNMENT

OPENING OF HEARING BEFORE MR. JUSTICE MURPHY IS POSTPONED FOR ONE WEEK

VANCOUVER, March 1.—Shortly after it opened its hearings yesterday, the commission of one in the person of Mr. Justice Denis Murphy, which will inquire into the charges of bribery of Liquor Board officials, adjourned until next Monday.

J. W. de B. Farris, K.C., and C. W. Craig, K.C., counsel for the liquor houses of the province, applied for the adjournment on the ground that notice of the opening yesterday was too short to allow for proper preparation for the examination of witnesses. Pittsair Hogg, commission counsel, consented.

TYPICAL REPLY SOVIET RUSSIA.

Evasive and argumentative as usual was the typical note emanating from Soviet Russia in response to the British missive demanding a cessation of propagandist activity and threatening the consequences. The noticeable thing about the Red communication was that it had nothing to say about rectifying its own mistakes which were complained about but rather had everything to say about what would happen if Britain took punitive measures. Great Britain has stood a great deal from Russia and it now looks as if the advice of the extreme Conservative wing to call the Soviet bluff is about the proper thing to do.

HALIBUT FISHERMEN'S LIFE IS HAZARDOUS.

The halibut fleet has weathered another storm, happily, as far as can be learned, without loss of life, though not without some damage. Such incidents as these go to prove the hazard of these gallant men's calling. Now and then we hear of some of them cleaning up big money. The risks they take make anything they earn well deserved.

"CANADA AS A NATIONAL PROPERTY."

"Canada as a National Property" is the name of a splendid 75-page treatise that has just been issued by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. Dealing largely with matters industrial, the book tells of what has been accomplished and what is now going on though it seems to be designed more for the purpose of outlining opportunities for investors and workers in the line of agriculture, forestry, mining, waterpower and fisheries with also a chapter on the country's recreational wealth. Ample illustrated with maps and charts, the book is well worthy of a place on any bookshelf. Even a cursory glance at it makes one feel that the Dominion is even greater and more promising than the average person might think.

FINEST PRODUCTION OF TRADE JOURNAL.

One of the finest achievements in the way of a trade journal is the twenty-fifth annual statistical number of the Pacific Fisherman which has just come to hand. Replete with a wealth of records of all branches of the fishing industry on the coast, the volume is splendidly gotten up and illustrated. British Columbia and Prince Rupert is given its full share of space in a fine book on the production of which Miller Freeman, the publisher, and his staff at Seattle are deserving of great commendation.

VALUABLE WORK OF UNIQUE COLLEGE.

Beyond a doubt the strangest college in the world is the Frontier College of Canada. Although it has from 20,000 to 25,000 students, it has no buildings, no campus, no stadium and no degrees to offer. Yet it is doing a work no other college or university can do and is performing a service of inestimable value to its thousands of students and the Dominion.

The students in the Frontier College are laborers in the mines and logging camps of the Canadian frontier. The classrooms are box cars, shanties, barns, tents or any sort of available shelter. The students work days and study nights. Most of them "enter" the "college" with little or no knowledge of English, speaking only the foreign tongues of their native lands.

In the quarter of a century this unique institution has been in existence it has saved thousands of men from lives of illiteracy and unskilled labor. And it has given to Canada and the world thousands of good citizens.

Instructors in this college are graduates from Canadian, American and European universities. Some of them are employed where they teach, but many of them are underpaid "missionaries" of education.

RELIEF WORK IS DISCUSSED

CITY COUNCIL DECIDES NOT TO COLLECT POLL TAX FROM MEN
SO EMPLOYED

The question of relief work came before the city council last night when Alderman Brown stated that he had been informed that married men employed on such work had been given four days a week and single men two days. He had also been informed that the poll tax had been deducted from these men on this work. He moved that in future the poll tax be not collected from men on relief work.

In the discussion following, the members of the council agreed that it was unwise to afford relief work and then deduct the tax and it was finally decided that this should be refunded to those who had already paid and, in future the tax would not be collected.

Alderman Stephens inquired as to how long the relief work would last and how soon work would be started on Summit Avenue and other projects. He felt that those employed on this work should be selected very carefully and he asked the council to approve of having the list of names presented to the council.

It was later suggested that the names were available for any alderman who cared to ask the city engineer. Alderman Stephens said that he was satisfied if he could obtain the information in this manner.

Several members of the council spoke on the matter and it was intimated that it was intended to close relief work down as soon as anything else started up. In the meantime the applicants for relief work would be considered carefully.

Board of Works be authorized to accept the lowest tender for the pipe and fittings required in connecting up the Edward Lipsitt Co., Ltd. on the waterfront with city water.

Alderman W. J. Greer said that the committee had been considering the tenders and was to report back to the city council. They found that one tender could not be considered as it would take six months to deliver the material. The next lowest tender had been obliged to take up with Vancouver the specifications on some of the material. This information had not yet been received but, as it was expected on Wednesday, it was considered that the work would be advanced if the committee was given power to accept the lowest tender.

The council agreed to the suggestion.

The Affliction of "Big-Neck"

The unsightly goitre—big-neck—some people call it, is not alone an affliction in itself, but in certain types of cases is the fore-runner of very serious, sometimes fatal, consequences.

Due to a deficiency in the nerve supply to the thyroid gland a diseased condition develops and swelling occurs, sometimes entirely upon the surface, without dangerous consequences, sometimes inwardly with strangulation and impaired sight following.

Chiropractic spinal adjustments remove the interference with nerve lines and permit normal functioning of this gland. Cases are upon record showing as much as five inches reduction in neck circumference after three months of adjustments.

AFTER FORTY YEARS WITH A GOITRE—

"For forty years I have suffered with a goitre. I had been advised to have it operated upon, but would not hear of an operation. After witnessing the result of chiropractic adjustments with several members of my family, I decided to see if I too could be helped. I have now been taking adjustments for several months and can see my goitre reducing almost daily. I feel that I cannot say too much as to the merits of Chiropractic for human ailments."—Mrs. A. Powell, Chiropractic Research Bureau, Statement No. 2075-L.

A pretty scene is presented this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bert Morgan, 420 Fifth Avenue West, where a tea and sale is being held in observance of St. David's Day, the anniversary of the patron saint of the principality of Wales. Pussy willows, leeks and daffodils, together with the Welsh flag, have been used to produce a dainty decorative effect. One of two of the ladies in Welsh attire further lend to the attractiveness of the affair.

Campbell are pouring while those serving include Mrs. J. A. Lindsay, Mrs. Vic Houston (in Welsh costume) and Mrs. D. Orchard McLeod. Mrs. Hibbard is in charge of the home cooking table while Mrs. A. SOUTHERN ALBERTA HAY OFF TO CHINA

Order From British Government for 200 Tons is Promptly Filled

LETHBRIDGE, March 1.—"Southern Alberta alfalfa hay for China—200 tons of it."
Manager W. C. McKenzie of the Southern Alberta Co-operative Association scratched his head—China. Never had he been confronted with such an order. He associated rice and revolution with China but not alfalfa. Still there it was—200 tons of alfalfa hay for China. The request for quotations came from the British government agriculture department, London, and after an exchange of cables the deal was made and Saturday the huge consignment will start on its long journey by rail and water to Hong Kong.
Whether the hurried order for fodder from this area was brought about by the concentration of British emergency troops in the disturbed area is not known, but it may have been, for it is the first shipment of Canadian hay to China as far as is known.

WATCH SAVED FARMER'S LIFE

LUTHER OTTO ARRESTED NEAR WETASKIWIN ON SHOOTING CHARGE

WETASKIWIN, March 1.—Just a cheap watch saved the life of Alex. Primrose, of the Mulhurst district, when he was shot with a 38 calibre revolver by Luther Otto, a neighbor. Primrose was a farm hand and was working for Louis Cleiminski, and Otto was at Cleiminski's place getting a load of straw. A quarrel ensued between Otto and Primrose, with Otto on top of the load and Primrose on the ground. Otto drew a revolver and shot at Primrose, who put up his arm to shield himself. The bullet went through his arm and struck the left breast pocket of his shirt. Primrose fortunately had his watch in this pocket and the bullet embedded itself in the watch, which no doubt saved Primrose's life.

The police were notified and Sergt. Broadribb arrested Otto at his home. Otto, who admitted the shooting, was brought to Wetaskiwin and remanded for eight days to enable Primrose to recover sufficiently to give evidence. Otto is charged with attempted murder and was taken north in charge of Sergt. Broadribb.

SOFT-NOSED BULLET

With a soft-nosed 38 calibre slug embedded in the wrecked interior, the watch is now in the possession of Commissioner Bryan, A.P.P.

Otto Luther, who is alleged to have fired the shot which pierced the arm of Primrose and stopped his watch, is now in the A.P.P. guardroom, and will come up in the provincial police court on a charge of wounding with intent. He served in the American army in France.

Could Not Sleep Heart and Nerves Were So Bad

Mr. Geo. Meek, Windsor, Ont., writes:—"I suffered with my heart and nerves and could not sleep at night for weeks in my head. I managed to keep at my work somehow, until I began to have dizzy spells which got so bad I could not go to my work. I was afraid to go out any place, for very often I would stagger on my feet, and everything in front of me would turn black and fade away. While I was home sick a friend told me to take I got four boxes and by the time I had used them the pains and noises in my head ceased and I was able to get a good night's rest. Although that was six years ago I have never been troubled with that complaint again."

BADMINTON TOURNAMENT AT CATHEDRAL HALL

Came to Close Last Night With Exception of Final in Men's Doubles

With the exception of the men's doubles, the badminton tournament, which has been conducted by the Cathedral Club of the Anglican church, was finished last night before a large crowd of spectators. All the games were well contested and the eighty-two entrants provided as keen a contest as has been staged locally in this popular indoor sport.

On Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights of last week the preliminary games were played and were witnessed by large crowds and last night a capacity house was present to watch the keenly contested finals.

The ladies' doubles between Miss Caroline Mitchell and Miss Molly Cross, and Mrs. Geo. Bryant and Miss G. Curtin was won by the former after a keen contest.

The mixed doubles were won by S. D. Johnston and Miss Lillian Cross from E. Himien and Miss Elliot.

The men's double between S. D. Johnston and Frank Russell and A. Rix and J. W. Scott was postponed for a week's time. In place of this, an exhibition game was played between L. Rinton and R. Bartlett and A. Rix and J. W. Scott and was won by the former.

SPORT CHAT

Credit is due the Prince George Hockey team which captured the amateur intermediate hockey championship for the province. The Prince George men met the pick of the province in their class and were not defeated once. Many of the intermediate teams possibly had better arrangements for practice and many had covered rinks where any amount of snow does not interfere with practices or matches. This made the victory of the Prince George team all the more praiseworthy as it overcame natural handicaps to win. It is significant that many of their players are boys who have been playing hockey in the odd ponds since they were able to wear skates. To make a hockey team it is necessary to have plenty of opportunity for boys to learn the game and play it while still attending school.

The Grand Terminals meet the Moose tonight in a regular billiard league fixture and on March 11 the concluding game of the league will be played between the Terminals and St. Andrew's. Two other games will be played between these fixtures. Tonight's game will be a very important one from the point of view of the leading Terminals as their lead over the Grotto is only small and should the Terminals lose the next two games it will give any one of the four teams a chance for the championship.

Two is company, three is an organization that will ask for a parliamentary appropriation.

A born buck-passer is one who calls the result of his own folly "an act of Providence."

Movies that talk will be fine unless we must call them the speakies.

Graham Island is Subject of Interesting Article Printed in Old Country Publication

(By E. J. Ashton, in United Empire)

Graham Island lies to the west of Prince Rupert, the terminal port of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway on the coast of Central British Columbia. The Queen Charlotte group, of which it is the largest island, was named after his ship the "Queen Charlotte," by Captain Geo. Dixon, who sailed along their west coastline in July, 1787. Graham Island itself was named by Commander J. C. Prevost, R.N., of H.M.S. "Virago," after Sir James Robert Graham, of Netherley, scion of an old English border family, who was at that time First Lord of the Admiralty. Hecate Strait, which divides it from the coast group of islands (Porcher Island, Banks, Island, &c.), is about 30 miles across, opposite Rosepoint on the north-east of the island. It widens considerably to the south, being about 80 miles wide opposite Skidegate Inlet, which divides Graham Island from Moresby.

For this reason, though reasonably near an important seaport (Prince Rupert), this group of islands is still seldom seen by tourists or travellers, and is but little known to any but the few settlers on Graham Island, the lumbermen who are exploiting its forests (some of the finest aeroplane spruce used during the War was cut here), and the fishermen who ply its waters.

While the beginning of the 19th century saw the termination of slavery in most parts of the British Empire, it is interesting to note that it persisted in this out of the way spot till some time after the arrival at Masset, in 1876, of Archdeacon Collison, the first missionary to reside on the island.

The Haida Indians of Graham Island are the descendants of a warlike race of seafaring Indians, who were originally much more numerous than they are today. Now they number about 700, and are concentrated in two villages, one at Skidegate in the south of the island, and the other at Masset in the north. The villages of their forefathers were scattered over the whole group of islands and the remains of their massive dwellings and curiously carved totem or crest poles can still be seen at a number of places. They were the Vikings of the west coast of America. People who know them well say that the islands were not peopled from the mainland, and there are very few points of resemblance between the Haida language and that of the coast tribes. Hewing splendid war canoes with their stone implements out of the large cedars, and carving them magnificently, they ranged the west coast of America, from Alaska to the south of Vancouver Island, a distance of 1,900 miles.

British sailors who visited these islands in the early days are unanimous in their praise of the graceful lines of their canoes. Their warlike foreign expeditions, from which they carried back slaves to the island, and the difficulty of pursuing them to their retreats on the fiords of their homeland, made them the most dreaded people of the coast.

Had Salt Rheum All Over Her Hands

Mrs. Herbert J. Mason, Grand Falls, N.B., writes:—"I had salt rheum all over my hands and especially between my fingers. It got so bad it was impossible for me to put them in water or do my housework. After trying many medicines and salves, that did me no good, I heard of being so wonderful, and after taking three bottles I am entirely relieved of my trouble. I am sure I can't recommend B.B.B. too highly to those who have salt rheum like I had."

Ball clay cliffs of considerable height were passed. Towards the north-east of the island a number of wagon roads could be seen from the plane. Dotted along these roads were settlers' shacks. The smallness of the clearings and the deserted look of the buildings testified to the report that the bachelor settlement had moved out almost en masse at the beginning of the War, and that but few of them had returned. Flying along the north shore between Tow Hill and Masset, motor cars were seen on the beach. These were found later to belong to the Langara Packing and Fish Co., who operate a clam cannery at Tow Hill and transport the finished produce of the cannery in Ford cars along the shore to the wharf at Masset. The sands between Tow Hill and a few miles from Masset are beautifully firm and white, and at low tide, when all journeys must be made, form a beautiful speedway, broken only by the mouth of a couple of small rivers which necessitate detours inland to bridges where they can be crossed.

AT MASSET

In Masset, in addition to a picturesque Indian village, with its line of totem poles and, contrary to expectation, well-kept houses, there is a white settlement with a good store owned by a Mr. Martin, who settled there with the pioneers of white settlement in 1908, a couple of hotels, an Anglican mission, a school, and a nine-hole golf course.

The flight down Masset Sound was beautiful in the extreme. The Sound itself is 19 miles long, has an average width of about a mile, and is 10 to 12 fathoms deep. The country on either side rises to a height of about a couple of hundred feet above sea level, and for the first mile or so back is covered with a fine growth of spruce, cedar and hemlock. Inland the timber, though not so fine, was still a heavy growth with open spaces here and there, but not such extensive ones as were seen near Cape Ball on the east coast. About half-way down the Sound the Wallace Cannery was passed near the mouth of the Woden River. Running along Kumdis Slough to Graham Centre some fairly extensive clearings were seen, and one fairly large herd of Aberdeen-Angus cattle was passed. Crossing to the coast over Meyer Lake and past Lake Hickey, the Old Tom trail was again seen. Here the country is alternating tundra and bush. From Dead Tree Point to Queen Charlotte City the country is a high table-land, some of it over 1,000 feet high, and is, for the most part, covered with a dense growth of timber.

Queen Charlotte City, which is pleasantly situated on Skidegate Inlet, has a hotel, a couple of stores, a restaurant, a school, a small hospital, a telephone station, and a saw mill. Some good spruce logs from Dawson Inlet and measuring from five to eight-feet at the butt, were seen.

PHONE SYSTEM

There is a government telephone system on the island, connecting Queen Charlotte City, with Skidegate, Tiel, Port Clements, Masset and Tow Hill. Arrangements were made on the evening August 27, for E. S. Richardson, of Tiel, to meet the writer with a team on the morning of August 29 and take him to Tiel, and for Wesley Singer, the Dominion Fisheries guardian, to provide transportation from Port Clements to Masset on the morning of August 31.

The Well-Managed Home

THE manager of a household is the purchasing agent for a large proportion of the family needs. In order to do a good job she must know what, when and where to buy. She must study goods and the concerns which make goods and have them to sell. She must put her home on a business basis and run it on business principles in order to make the most of the family income.

Information is the only basis for intelligent purchasing. And the right way to get the greatest amount of necessary information is to read the advertisements.

Advertisements tell you what is new and good in merchandise. They reveal improvements and inventions to make your home life easier, more comfortable and more convenient. They give you information about a thousand and one things that are useful.

Every manager of a household—every member of the household who shares the responsibility for the family's welfare—should make a habit of reading the ads.

Read the advertisements in order to buy wisely

Flight was made along Skidegate Channel to the west coast. The weather was good at the start, but at Dawson Harbor a heavy rainstorm was encountered with stormy weather ahead, so the plane put about and returned to Queen Charlotte City. The flight along Skidegate Channel to the west coast was, through a mountain range where some of the peaks were over 3,000 feet high. Most of them were tree clad to the summit and were, for the most part, rocky. This mountain range continues up the west coast to Frederick Island, where the country becomes hilly. The beauty of this flight, in bright weather, through a mountain chain, at an elevation of about 1,000 feet, and over a ribbon of water, has to be seen to be realized.

That evening Dana Inlet on Moresby Island to the south was visited via Sandspit and the east coast of the islands. Passing to the south of Talunkwan Island the plane turned north and reached Cumshewa Inlet after passing between Louise Island and Moresby. With the exception of the extreme north-east of Moresby Island, these islands are mountainous in character. The evening sky was threatening and cloudy, and the gloomy grandeur of these narrow spruce-clad fiords, with their mountainous shores, was almost oppressive.

At Pacific, a cement-constructed factory built for extracting iodine from kelp by Von Alvensleben, the reputed agent of the German Emperor, and completed in 1914 at a cost of $500,000, was passed. It has never turned a wheel. Sandspit was crossed and Skidegate Mission reached at about 8 p.m. Here the writer went ashore to join Mr. Richardson. The plane had hardly alighted before the bay was covered by the boats of the Haidas rowing out to examine it.

The village here follows the shore for about half-a-mile, and consists of well-built frame houses, comfortably furnished. Domestic water is laid on to many of the houses.

FINE INDIANS

The Indians are a fine, intelligent-looking people who, like their forefathers, spend much of their time on the sea. They are still expert fishermen and earn a living in their motor boats. The village possesses a number of well-carved totem poles, and articles of Indian craftsmanship, such as baskets and small conventionally carved stone totem poles, can still be secured.

T. EDWARDS OF VANCOUVER CHARGED WITH EXCESSIVE FEE

VANCOUVER, March 1.—"I shall be very pleased to meet the city council or the civic finance committee and explain my side of the matter," declared T. Edwards of the undertaking firm of T. Edwards Company, in reference to the resolution passed by the civic finance committee to invite him to appear before it in connection with the charge of $436.75 for the funeral of a city employee who was recently killed while at work.

Mr. Edwards explained that the widow, her two daughters and son-in-law came to order the casket. In the showroom there were caskets ranging in price from $60 to $450, and he suggested choosing one of the less expensive ones, he said. This, he declared, the widow refused to do. He stated that he also communicated with the dead man's foreman, asking him to advise a cheaper casket, but this suggestion also was refused. Through his instrumentality, Mr. Edwards said, the taxic used, with the exception of one obtained at the last moment, were all donated free.

The bill, he explained, included caring for the body, which was much mangled, the funeral services and the plot in the cemetery.

Keep Baby's Skin Soft as Velvet

Prevent and Relieve Eczema

Mrs. Albert Bishop, 38 Laplanche St., Amherst, N.S. writes:—"In one week my baby was entirely relieved of eczema by the use of two boxes of Dr. Chase's Ointment. He had sores all over his back."

EVERYWHERE Dr. Chase's Ointment is known and appreciated by mothers who have with gratitude witnessed the benefit it has brought to their suffering children.

Chafing and cracking of the skin is often the beginning of eczema. The trouble develops where two surfaces of skin rub together—as in the neck, armpits or between the legs of fleshy infants.

Dr. Chase's Ointment applied after the bath brings relief from this condition and prevents eczema.

there are half-a-dozen fair sized farms along the river flats. Richardson Bros. farm here is 320 acres in extent; has 14 acres of ploughed land; 110 acres of river flats in hay and pasture; the balance is bush. He milks eight cows (Ayrshires and Holsteins), keeps about 90 head of Aberdeen-Angus cattle. He has a comfortable house, serviceable buildings, and an excellent garden, where berries and vegetables grow in abundance. His principal revenue is from beef, cream and butter, and his shipping point today the wharf at Skidegate, where the Canadian National steamer "Prince John" maintains a weekly service in summer and a fortnightly one in winter. His cattle range out near Cape Ball in the summer. Though they can winter out here, Richardson rounds them up in the fall and feeds them during the winter months.

IMPASSABLE TRAIL

As the trail between Tiel and Port Clements was impossible for a pack horse, owing to muskeg and streams bridged by a felled log, it had to be traversed on foot, carrying a small pack. The fact that it took eight hours' steady plodding to cross this 12 miles of bush, stream and muskeg, indicates the nature of the trail. The writer's fall from a log into a muddy stream, together with a downpour of rain, added to the joys of life on this solitary walk on a Sunday in August, and the aches which a tramp over the muskeg can give, to one unused to that kind of going, have to be experienced to be properly realized. The grading of this road will bring the settlers at Tiel within 12 miles of a deep water port and will open up a considerable stretch of country which, though needing the hardest of work to clear the bush and drain the muskeg, will grow heavy crops when released.

Masset was reached the following morning by a boat journey across Massett Inlet, and along the magnificent deep-sea highway nature has provided right into the heart of this island. A run was taken that afternoon through the woods to the north shore and along the sands at low tide to Tow Hill, returning early the next morning. After a day and a half spent in the neighborhood of Massett a return journey was made to Prince Rupert in Seaplane G.A. in lots of time to catch the s.s. "Prince George," which left that evening for Vancouver.

The west coast of the island is mountainous, and settlement possibilities all lie to the north-east of a line drawn from the mouth of the Jalun River on the northwest coast of the island to Queen Charlotte City on Skidegate Inlet. Favored by good weather, the reconnaissance flights were of great value, and give an excellent idea of the general character of a great part of the island; they facilitated the elimination of areas which palpably afforded no settlement opportunities from further inspection, and permitted concentration, during the limited time available, on areas which would repay further study.

FEW PEOPLE

The families who make their entire living off the land here are few in number; most of the settlers depend considerably on other sources than the land for a living, and the aggregate area of cleared land is small. Unfortunately, employment is not too plentiful, and new settlers with no money who desire to earn a living as they slowly clear the land may often find it hard to do so. The writer asked an old sealer, Captain George Haan, who is farming at Sandspit on Moresby Island, just across Skidegate Inlet from Queen Charlotte City, how he made his living. He said: "We farm a little, grow some hay and some cattle, and sometimes we fish." When asked for further particulars, he said: "There are eight of us settled at Sandspit, none of us has less than seven children; we have a good school, good health, a beautiful spot to live in, always get three square meals, and are happy. Can you do any better on the mainland?" His is the spirit needed here.

There are comfortable farm homes on the island, and the regularity with which its different districts have captured the trophy for the best collection of agricultural produce at the Central British Columbia Exhibition at Prince Rupert, has made it almost seem as though it belonged to the island by right. The population is about 1,700, of whom 700 are Haida Indians. If situated near Europe or near Asia, this island would soon be carrying a population of several thousands.

A pulp mill placed near Massett, which would enable settlers to earn their living while clearing the land would enable men of the same type as those who are clearing northern Ontario today to take root here.

DIRECT SETTLERS

In an island like this where communication is difficult and the cost of road building heavy, settlers cannot afford to take up land at any distance from a wagon road, and newcomers should be directed to districts where settlers are already established. The climate is equable. The Japanese current has a great influence over temperature, and extremes of heat and cold are unknown. Fresh and salt fish are numerous and varied; black bear are plentiful, but wolves and the larger predatory animals do not exist; grouse are found, and ducks and geese are numerous.

Some day, before many years pass, this island is going to waken to new life through the settlement of its lands and the development of its fisheries and natural resources.

SYNOPSIS OF LAND ACT AMENDMENTS

PRE-EMPTIONS

Vacant, unreserved, surveyed Crown lands may be pre-empted by British subjects over 18 years of age, and by aliens on declaring intention to become British subjects, conditional upon residence, occupation, and improvement for agricultural purposes.

Full information concerning regulations regarding pre-emption is given in Bulletin No. 1, Land Series, "How to Pre-empt Land," copies of which can be obtained free of charge by addressing the Department of Lands, Victoria, B.C., or to any Government Agent.

Records will be granted covering only land suitable for agricultural purposes, and which is not timberland, i.e., carrying over 8,000 board feet per acre west of the Coast Range and 5,000 feet per acre east of that Range.

Applications for pre-emption are to be addressed to the Land Commissioner of the Land Recording Division, in which the land applied for is situated, and are made on printed forms, copies of which can be obtained from the Land Commissioner.

Pre-emption must be occupied for five years and improvements made to value of $10 per acre, including clearing and cultivating at least five acres, before a Crown Grant can be received.

For more detailed information see the Bulletin "How to Pre-empt Land."

PURCHASE

Applications are received for purchase of vacant and unreserved Crown lands not being timberland, for agricultural purposes; minimum price for first-class (arable) land is $5 per acre, and second-class (grazing) land $2.50 per acre. Further information regarding purchase or lease of Crown lands is given in Bulletin No. 10, Land Series, "Purchase and Lease of Crown Lands."

Mill, factory, or industrial sites on timber land, not exceeding 40 acres, may be purchased or leased, the conditions including payment of stumpage.

HOMESITE LEASES

Unsurveyed areas, not exceeding 20 acres, may be leased as homesites, conditional upon a dwelling being erected in the first year, title being obtainable after residence and improvement conditions are fulfilled and land has been surveyed.

LEASES

For grazing and industrial purposes areas not exceeding 640 acres may be leased by one person or a company.

GRAZING

Under the Grazing Act the Province is divided into grazing districts and the range administered under a Grazing Commissioner. Annual grazing permits are issued based on numbers ranged, priority being given to established owners. Stock-owners may form associations for range management. Free, or partly free, permits are available for settlers, campers and travellers, up to ten head.
