KETCHIKAN, August 2.—A bonfire kindled by children on the beach outside the city limits yesterday is blamed for a fire which destroyed two apartment houses here, the Boulevard and the Franklin, and also sending up in smoke a gasoline station, the total loss being estimated at fifty thousand dollars.

Sixteen families were burned out with all their personal belongings, but no lives were lost. Included in the destruction were two hundred feet of plank street and three automobiles.

The fire caused a great deal of excitement in the city, large crowds gathering to watch the blaze and the efforts of the firemen to hold it in check.

FAIR BOARD MEETING IS OPTIMISTIC

Preparations For Big Annual Event Indicates Successful Exhibition

The Fair Board held a regular meeting last evening when there was a full attendance and a very optimistic feeling pervaded as the plans of the board were discussed and reports of progress received.

F. Dibb presided. Plans for the corral and fences were completed and the contract will be let in a couple of days.

In connection with the Exhibition Hall a new fire-escape will be constructed at the back of the building.

The concessions for all the booths have been let.

While the stampee is the chief attraction, other lines are not being neglected. D. D. Munro of the Land Settlement Board is getting displays from the interior of farm produce. The extent and quality of this is assured as Mr. Munro plans on taking the same exhibit to Toronto Winter Fair. A request has been forwarded to the Peace River District for a display from that part and the request is almost certain to be complied with.

The Boys' Band will be in attendance and other local orchestras will be engaged for the evenings.

A feature of the outside attractions will be a prospectors' race. In this each competitor, who must be a bona-fide prospector, will be required to light a fire, cook and eat flapjacks, roll his blankets, go a certain distance to stake his claim and return to record the claim.

There are seven Indian football teams which are desirous of taking part in the competition for the native football championship won last year by Port Simpson.

The final of the Gilhuly Football Cup may also be played during the Fair week.

Financially the prospects are most encouraging. The collectors have met with much success in their canvassing

Partnership Between Those in the Orient and Others in Vancouver

Sir H. Denison says Canada Should Lease Strip Alaskan Coast

AUSTRALIAN HIGH COMMISSIONER TO U.S. MAKES SENSIBLE SUGGESTION TO GIVE ACCESS TO NORTHERN B.C.

VANCOUVER, August 2.—Sir Hugh Denison, Australian Trade Commissioner to the United States, urged before the Canadian Club yesterday that an arrangement should be entered into with the United States for the internationalization of Skagway and the vicinity or the lease by Canada of the strip of the coast in order that the Yukon and northern British Columbia might enjoy port advantages at tidewater.

Sir Hugh said it seemed a pity something could not be done to improve conditions on the northern coast. "I found Skagway practically deserted. Apparently the United States is not inclined to spend money on its upkeep and while it belongs to another country no Canadian concern cares to spend anything. I should like to see the port and adjacent strip internationalized or some effort made by Canada to obtain a long lease," he said.

FUNCTIONS OF NEWSPAPER

What are the functions of a newspaper? This is an often discussed subject and it is usually discussed from the critical standpoint in telling of the shortcomings of the press of today. In a city like Prince Rupert it must always be remembered that the newspaper depends upon the amount of advertising it receives and the price it is able to charge for such advertising. The income must always equal the expenditure or the paper will go on the rocks and eventually cease to publish at all.

One of the Eastern newspapers has been discussing this and here is what it says:

FOR ALL AGES AND CONDITIONS

It is impossible for any one man to produce a newspaper, and it is improbable that any one man will care for all the contents of it when, by many men, it has been produced.

A man of sixty need not consider his own case to learn that what interests him now did not always do so, and much that interests him at thirty or twenty does not concern him now at all. There was a time, perhaps, when he knew the standing of every ball club in the big leagues and the batting averages of all the leading players. He may recall that he could, at one time, have given the names of those who were considered the ten best lacrosse players in the country. Or he could have given you the records of the four best sprinters in the world or the winning mounts of this or that jockey. And now, at the age of sixty, he knows nothing about such things. It is, as far as he is concerned, as if these interests no longer exist. But they do exist. One frequently hears an old cricketer complain that the game is no longer played here; but there is more cricket played in Toronto now than ever before. The old players and old followers of the game have wandered away from it and have been replaced by others. Men change as they grow older, but the race is ever young, and there is always somebody playing marbles and spinning tops, playing frantic ball on vacant lots, following with hero worship the doers of deeds in athletics of every sort—the George Youngs, the Lindberghs, the Joe Wrights, the Don Carricks and a host of others more local and near to them.

MEN GROW OLDER AND TASTES CHANGE

A man changes as he grows older. His interests become more serious. He buries himself in his profession or his business, and concerns himself with politics and issues of one kind and another. A newspaper, however, cannot change as it grows older—cannot relinquish youthful interests in order to immerse itself entirely in the concerns of statesmen. It must retain the enthusiasms of youth the longest day it lives. It is possible to do these things because a newspaper, from its nature, never grows any older. It is the product of many men, each doing a part, all joining in a common result. A newspaper should report the speech of the prime minister, but it should also describe how a group of boys ran from Toronto to Ottawa, carrying a Confederation day message. It should report what is going on in the world. That is its job. It should, on the page set aside for the purpose, give its opinions about what is going on in the world. That is its duty.

A man may interest himself in whatever he chooses. A newspaper must interest itself in whatever happens. In addition to that, it must anticipate rumor—keep rumor out of mischief—by trying to indicate what is likely to happen. This is a function of the newspaper that frequently brings it under criticism, yet it is a useful function when exercised with a sense of responsibility.

SOMETHING THERE FOR ALL

A newspaper usually contains far more reading matter than any one reader thinks necessary. One man finds in it more political matter than he cares for; another, not enough. One thinks too much space is given to sports; another, not enough—the lawn bowlers, for instance, think they are overlooked in favor of baseball. If it is not, and never will be, possible to please all. The most any newspaper can do is to do its best, and try to make today's issue a little better than yesterday's and plan for a further improvement for tomorrow—always keeping in view the fact that news is made by and that news is wanted by everybody from infants to centenarians.

Herd of Wild Horses and Steers Ranging Near Telkwa For Stampede

TEN FROM CARIBOO

Spectacular Parade of Cowboys, Cowgirls and Prairie Schooner for Prince Rupert

TELKWA, Aug. 2.—The Prince Rupert stampede has now reached its "round up" stage. Thirty-six cayuse bred cow ponies, as wild as they make 'em, and an equal number of steers and "she stock" are now ranging the grassy slopes of Grouse Mountain, 13 miles east of Telkwa. Day and night, cowboys are watching, ever on the alert, keeping them together. This is no easy job. Should a black bear frighten a horse, there is every chance the whole band would head off south for their native range, and every precaution is being made to keep the herd intact. Had the horses been trained buckers it would only have meant stall feeding them till they were wanted, but such a question with the stock in hand is altogether impossible.

Ten of the mustangs have just arrived from the Cariboo road, and the whole bunch will go through the chutes at Telkwa Barbeque, and be culled out before being brought down to Prince Rupert's first stampede. Peppy from the hoofs up, velvety coats, of eye wild and nervous, dilated nostrils and lightning footed, they are ever ready to make a break for freedom.

In charge of the stock at the present moment is McAbee, the 1927 Broncho Riding Champion of B.C. This title was courageously won at the noted Cariboo stampede held on Dominion Day, and Champion McAbee will perform in first-class company both at Telkwa Barbeque and at Prince Rupert.

The outstanding performers among the mustangs are—Bouncing Broncho, Two Jump Jimmy, Mustard Mamma, Tabasco Tom, Sunfish Sal, Jaz Chicken, and the notorious Dandy Devil.

The parade itself will not only be spectacular but instructive. There will be cow boys, hazers, cinche men, rope men and a bevy of cow girls who during the performance will give a perilous display of wild steer riding, and all will be a blaze of color. Rain, hail or snow makes no difference, they will all turn out with full regalia, colored chaps, handkerchiefs, rietas, arm bands and the clang of spurs. For the first time in Prince Rupert's history, a prairie schooner will traverse the streets and packs will be thrown on the horses backs with lightning-like rapidity, and thus give everyone the chance of seeing a diamond blint in operation.

Thousands of snapshots will be taken at various points en route, and nearly everyone will wish he had just another roll to take one of that cowboy pulling off a stunt standing in the saddle. Let all the children see the parade, there will be no danger, and it is only right they should be acquainted with a pure western atmosphere.

"Have you camped upon the foothills, have you galloped o'er the ranges... Then listen to the wild, it's calling you."

THE world is flooded with committees and none of the members do any work.

IT is estimated that in Prince Rupert alone there are nearly a thousand people on committees and only about half a dozen of them are active. The others accept the honor but give no returns.

A FAVORITE way of sidetracking any proposal that comes up for consideration is to refer it to a committee.

The missionary in question is Miss I. Slessor, of Stonehaven, Kincardineshire, Scotland, over in Canada to take in the World Teachers' convention which is to open in Toronto in August. At her own expense, she has extended her trip to Alberta to examine the openings here for the settlement of growing boys and girls from her home district, to locate in Alberta.

While here, Miss Slessor was taken by the officials of the board into as much of the surrounding country as the state of the roads would permit. She was taken as far south as Wetaskawin and was also shown many agricultural exhibits at the Edmonton exhibition, where she met Miss Cora Hind, of the Winnipeg Free Press.

ARE GOOD FARMERS

Mr. Johnston, who is intimately acquainted with the part of Scotland from which Miss Slessor hails, was enthusiastic on her aims. Farmers from the northeast of Scotland are among the best that that country has, but few of them seem to come here, he said. As a rule, they are content to stay at home, many of the farms having been worked by the same family for generations. Also, they are prosperous there—another reason why they won't move. It is hoped that when Miss Slessor returns, that many youngsters will be induced to come to central Alberta. Mr. Johnston concluded.

IMPROVEMENT IN INDUSTRIES OF PROVINCE

Department of Labor Issues Statement Showing Improvement Made

That the year 1926 was a period of important advancement in the industries of the Province, is the main conclusion to be derived from the facts and figures given in the statistical section of the annual report of the Department of Labor for last year, which has been presented to the minister of labor, the Hon. A. M. Manson, by the deputy minister, J. D. McNeven. The information on which this section of the report is based is derived from returns made to the Department by industrial employers throughout the province. The number of returns actually received for the year is 4,521, an increase of 385 over the corresponding total for 1925. The number of these annual returns has grown surprisingly in the past eight years.

AMOUNTS EARNED
The 4,521 firms making returns for 1926 account for a pay-roll of $129,420,599.55. For 1925 the returns of 4,138 firms showed a pay-roll of $115,943,238.60, and in the previous year 3,566 firms paid out a sum of $107,798,771.36. The amount paid to officers, superintendents, and managers last year was $12,399,863.91. Clerks, stenographers and salesmen received a total of $10,627,258.93, and the sum received by wage-earners was $106,393,476.71. Of the total payment for salaries and wages in 1926 officers, superintendents, and managers thus received 9.58 per cent; clerks, stenographers and salesmen, 8.21 per cent; and wage-earners, 82.21 per cent. The comparative proportions in 1925 were 9.17 per cent, 8.39 per cent, and 82.47 per cent; and in 1924, they were 9.04 per cent, 8.29 per cent, and 82.67 per cent.

Supplementing the above totals are other items which should properly be included in the industrial pay-roll of the province, and these have been ascertained or estimated by the department in the following summary: Payroll of 4,521 firms making returns to Department of Labor $129,420,599.55 Returns received too late to be included in above 701,743.16 Employers in occupations included in Department's inquiry, not sending in returns—estimated payroll 6,350,000.00 Trans-Continental Railways 13,701,463.76 Dominion and Provincial Gov. workers 6,000,000.00 Wholesale and retail firms 4,000,000.00 Delivery, cartage and teaming, warehousing, butchers, moving-picture operators, coal and wood yards and auto transportation 5,500,000.00 Ocean service, express and telegraph companies 8,000,000.00 Miscellaneous 1,500,000.00 Total $175,173,836.47

For the third time the department has segregated the returns according to the areas in which the industrial operations dealt with were being carried on. The result shows that 36.44 per cent of our industrial payroll was located, last year, in Greater Vancouver, compared with 35.05 per cent in 1925, and 36.05 in 1924. For the purpose of this calculation, Greater Vancouver is taken to include Vancouver City, North Vancouver, South Vancouver, West Vancouver, Point Gray and Burnaby. The rest of the Mainland, including also the Queen Charlotte and other Northern Islands, had 46.31 per cent of our industrial payroll—an increase compared with the 45.93 per cent for 1925, and 45.02 per cent for 1924. Vancouver Island, taking in also for this purpose, the Gulf Islands, has a lower percentage of the province's payroll for this year—the 17.25 for 1926 comparing with 19.02 per cent in 1925, and 18.93 per cent in 1924. The lessened activity of coal mining on the Island during 1926, is sufficient to account for this difference. Dividing the totals given in the preceding paragraphs in the same proportion as the figures in actual returns, the following apportionment is arrived at of the industrial payroll of the province for the past three years.

Greater Van.	$54,449,747.96	$63,833,346.01
Rest of Mainland.	67,992,347.26	81,123,003.67
Van. Island	28,595,220.99	30,217,486.79
	$151,037,316.20	$175,173,836.47

HEALTHY CONDITION

These figures show that our industries, during 1926, were, for the most part, in a very healthy condition—expansion being the general rule. The Building and Contracting group, for example, had shown such a marked advance during 1925, that many people doubted its ability to go further ahead in 1926 and yet, in this later year, the payroll of the industry went up by $1,700,000. The Lower Mainland—the region centring in the City of Vancouver—obtained the chief benefit of this, but improved records came from most of the other districts in the province. Some of the big contracts which helped to make up the return are now finished, but others have been entered upon, and small operations, such as the building of residences, are probably more numerous, so that appearances point to another good showing for the current year. Our wonderful Coast water-ways are becoming more important as the highways and byways of commerce, and the pay, roll in the Coast Shipping group went up last year by over a million and three-quarters. The wage payments in this group have more than doubled themselves in the last four years. The Food Products group improved upon its payroll for 1925 by more than a million, and while the fine record achieved by the Fish Canneries was mainly responsible for this, we should not ignore the expansion in other divisions embraced in this group, such as creameries and dairies, cereal milling, fruit canneries, bakeries, jam making and packing houses.

LUMBERING OPERATIONS

Coming to lumbering, our largest industrial group, nearly three millions was added to the payroll in 1926, a fact which is itself an eloquent comment upon recent legislation, of which the effect has been felt chiefly in lumbering operations. The increase of three quarters of a million in the payroll of metal mining follows upon a series of annual additions to the payroll, carried over a number of years, and the prevailing note in this industry today is one of continued advancement. The forward step by over $200,000 in our wood manufacturing industry is a welcome sign that progress is being made in the marketing of our lumber products in a more finished state. A similar increase was shown in the smelter industry, while ship-building and repairing after lagging somewhat in 1925, last year showed an increase of more than fifty per cent, the actual gain being over $600,000. Even a greater proportionate advance was made by the pulp and paper industry, which paid out $2,300,000 more in wages in 1926 than in 1925. This is mainly due to the fact that one of the largest concerns in the province virtually doubled its capacity during the year, and other operations were also on an extended scale. The full result of these developments upon the annual payroll will not be seen until the end of the current year, and by that time we shall probably know more about other important new projects which are now in hand.

Printing and publishing is in line with other industries in showing an advance of $369,000, and paint manufacturing, one of our smaller industries, goes forward proportionately. Another group which shows more than a fifty per cent increase, is that of oil refining, in which is included those flourishing new ventures, the fish reduction plants on the western coast of Vancouver Island and the northern mainland. The metal trades group, in which are included machine shops, boiler-making, foundries, garages, etc., are up by a round million and a half, a circumstance for which one can suggest no explanation than the general prosperity of the province, and the same condition no doubt explains the satisfactory increases in other groups such as laundries, cleaning and dyeing, manufacturing leather and fur goods, manufacturing jewellery, house furnishing, and garment making. The production of builders' materials makes another stride in step with the growth of building and contracting, and the payroll of brewers and soft drink manufacturers is also appreciably ahead.

DECREASE IN COAL MINING

Of the industries which show a decreased payroll, the most conspicuous is coal mining. The reduction of its payroll by over $600,000 may be due partly to the severe competition of oil fuel in its various forms, and partly also to the extreme mildness of the winter of 1925-26, necessitating less than the normal consumption of domestic coal. However, the first few months of the current year have witnessed a notable increase in coal production in the Province. There is again a decreased payroll in the explosives and chemicals group, and a slight decrease in cigar and tobacco manufacturing. The reduction by over half a million in the payroll of the miscellaneous group is

The Mining Laws of this Province are more liberal and the fees lower than those of any other Province in the Dominion, or any colony in the British Empire. THE HONORABLE THE MINISTER OF MINES, VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA.

N.B.—Practically all British Columbia Mineral Properties upon which development work has been done are described in some one of the Annual Reports of the Minister of Mines. Those considering mining investments should refer to such reports. They are available without charge on application to the Department of Mines, Victoria, B.C. probably more apparent than real, as this group always embraces a number of operations which, by changing their character somewhat, become eligible for inclusion in one of the other groups. The wage payments for various public utilities in the province show a reduction in the interior of the province, included considerable payments for extension work. The large companies in the coast region nearly all paid larger totals under the head of wages in 1926 than in 1925.

HIGHEST IN SEPTEMBER

In the matter of fluctuation of employment, the movement was not unlike that of the previous year. The low point was touched in January, for which month 70,030 workers (male and female) were accounted for in the returns. Each succeeding month witnessed a decided advance, until mid-summer, but there was a slight falling-off between July and August, and then in September came the highest figures for the year, with a total of 89,912. For the next three months, the figures take rather a steep downward course, the month of December finding 73,383 persons in industrial employment, or 3,353 more at the end of the year than the beginning. In the past eight years the peak of employment has been reached three times in July, three times in August, once (in 1925) in October, and for the year now under review, in September.

The year 1926 was the third year in succession in which the lumbering industry arrived at its greatest activity during the month of May. The peak of employment in this industry seems now to be two or three months earlier than in former years. In all likelihood it is a case of meeting the requirements of the industry's more distant markets, which naturally wish to receive their supplies during the best building months of the year, and which are annually increasing their demands for British Columbia's lumber.

SALE AT SEATTLE OF FURS FROM THE WEST

SEATTLE, Aug. 2.—The regular monthly fur sale brought out a good many buyers. An offering of minks which contained some seasonably dark skins and also late caught springly pale skins, was practically all taken at an average price of $13.80 each, the top price for Alaskan dark choice being $27. All red fox were sold at an average of $30.65, the best bringing $40. The offering was principally Alaska interior skins. A high grade collection of white fox was almost sold at an average of $46.58, the most choice going for $55. Muskrats showed about a 5 per cent decline with an average price of $2.30. The best brought $2.50. The average price of cross fox was $38.85, with superiors bringing as high as $100. Silver fox was inferior and did not compare with the previous sale. In the opinion of Joseph E. Agnew, general manager of the exchange. Lynxes were almost all taken at an average of $34.95, with the best being sold at $45. Marten sold poorly, but ermine was all taken with the best price being $3.20, and the average $2.10.

Crown Colony Days

Away back in the late sixties thousands of acres of British Columbia's timber were sold for one cent per acre, which looked like a fair price—then. Today similar timber is worth from $150 to $200 per acre, so tremendously has timber appreciated in value within the scope of an average lifetime.

What the young growth of today will be worth sixty years from now is beyond computation if it is protected from fire and allowed to reach maturity.

The moral is obvious.

BIG POW-WOW OF TEACHERS

Educational Leaders From Britain, Ireland and China for Convention

TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 2.—Teachers and educationists are converging upon Toronto for the second biennial conference of the world's Federation of Education Associations which will meet in this city August 7-12. Approximately 200 delegates from Great Britain have arrived and a still larger number are heading for the city. Several Japanese delegates have reached the United States, as has also a small party from China which will be greatly augmented by Chinese teachers resident in America.

Committees of local teachers are busy arranging for the accommodation of the 6,000 delegates who are expected to attend. Half a dozen of the leading Toronto hotels have set aside blocks of rooms for the visitors, while the remainder will be looked after in the comfortable college residences. Meals will be served in Hart House, which is conveniently adjacent to University College, where the sessions of the conference will be conducted.

The majority of the British and foreign educationists visiting the city are leaders in public life in their native countries. Many of them have distinguished themselves as politicians and writers.

INSTRUMENT MEASURES HEAT OF STARS SAID EXTREMELY DELICATE

WASHINGTON, D.C., Aug. 2.—Carrying an instrument so delicate that it is believed it could measure the heat of a match 5,000 miles away if no atmosphere intervened, Dr. Charles G. Abbot, acting secretary of the Smithsonian Institution, has started for Mount Wilson, California, to continue the measurement of the heat of the stars.

The instrument, so frail that flies' wings are used in its makeup, is described as an improved radiometer, ten times more sensitive than the one used by Dr. Abbot in 1923, when he made the first determinations of the heat spectrum of ten of the brightest stars other than the sun in the history of astronomy.

With the new instrument, Dr. Abbot believes it will be possible to observe the heat of the spectra of stars fainter than the Pole star.

The Smithsonian official also plans to visit the Solar Radiation Observatory on Table Mountain, California, where daily observations of the variations of the sun are being made in cooperation with stations in Chile and Southwest Africa to determine the sun's influence upon weather conditions.

China is represented at the conference by Dr. F. W. Kuo, who has been honored with degrees by British and American universities in recognition of his scholarship. In addition to being a brilliant lecturer, Dr. Kuo is an author and editor. He edited the largest Anglo-Chinese dictionary in existence. He was organizer and first president of the National Southeastern University, at Nanking, China. In 1924 he was appointed by the Chinese government as a trustee of the China Foundation for the Promotion of Education, established with the Boxer Indemnity Fund recently returned by the United States. Dr. Kuo is a vice-president of the World Federation of Education Associations.

Mens' Clothing and Furnishings

The home of "SOCIETY BRAND" CLOTHES

THE RETURN to the home town of the "local boy" who has made good in the big city is rarely, we have understood, what it might be. In connection with this we have to report the particularly sad experience of a young banker, who, after eight years of absence, alighted at the station of the town of his birth. There was, despite his expectations, no one on the platform whom he knew. No one. Discouraged, he sought out the baggage master, a friend since boyhood. To him at least he would be welcome, and he was about to extend a hearty greeting, when the other spoke "first."

"Hello, George," he said. "Goin' away?"

DECLINE OF SPORT ANYOX SUGGESTED

(Alice Ann Herald)
It is regrettable that it was not possible this summer to sustain a senior baseball and football league in Anyox. Is this the commencement of the decline of all sport in Anyox? It shouldn't be.

The summer season is half over, and in about two months thoughts will again commence to wander to indoor sports. It is to be hoped that a greater interest will be taken in winter sports, so that youth can find an outlet for its surplus energy. When all is said and done, the chief blame for the decline of sport is the lack of, a sporting spirit of those eligible to take part. The Anyox Community League stands ready, as always to do its part in fostering recreation, but success cannot be attained unless it has the whole-hearted support of the community. Recreation is as necessary as work, and energetic recreation must be given youth if the mind and body is to be kept fit.

EDMONTON GAS RATE IS CUT THREE CENTS

EDMONTON, Aug. 2.—Proving to be a victory for the city, Edmonton's gas rates were reduced by three cents, from 45 to 42 cents net per 1,000 cubic feet under an order issued by the public utilities board, composed of Chairman A. A. Carpenter and Commissioner E. J. Fream, on Friday afternoon. The Northwestern Utilities Gas Company had applied for present rates to be maintained while the city had fought for a reduction which, it contended, should be a substantial one.
