SETTLERS FROM GREAT BRITAIN

Arrangements Made With Lord Lovat for Handling Number of Families

LOANS TO BE MADE

Another Plan for Erection of Cottages on Already Established Farms

WINNIPEG, Sept. 19.—Agreements covering the land settlement of a large number of British families during the next two or three years, have been completed as a result of recent negotiations between Lord Lovatt, representing the British government, and W. J. Black, director of colonization for the Canadian National Railways. Lord Lovatt is stated to be well satisfied with the farming openings he has found for British families in Canada, and impressed with the effective colonization machinery available for the handling of such settlement. The present movement of British settlers through the colonization department of the National Railways will be made effective in time for next year's operations.

Of major importance is an agreement covering the bringing forward by the Canadian National Railways of 1,000 British families, who when they take up land of their own will be assisted with a loan from the British government for the purpose of stock and equipment, the necessary funds in this connection being administered by the land settlement department of the Canadian Railways.

The keynote of this plan and its best promise of success is that under the scheme of settlement proposed each family will be required to secure Canadian experience, and no loan will be made until the family has demonstrated its fitness for Canadian farm life and has accumulated small savings sufficient together with a loan from the British government to enable a start to be made.

Another agreement of great interest is that providing for the erection, with the financial assistance of the British government, of 100 farm cottages in Western Canada for the accommodation of British families while they are securing farming experience. One of the great difficulties experienced in connection with the bringing forward and settlement of families is that many Canadian farmers who would be glad to employ a whole family have not the necessary housing accommodations and under this agreement it is proposed that arrangements will be made with 100 selected Canadian farmers to erect a cottage on each farm to be used for the accommodation of a British family to be employed by the farmer. It is anticipated that this agreement for the erection of cottages will be merely a preliminary to further development in this direction as all colonization authorities are agreed that adequate housing accommodation is one of the prime essentials to any satisfactory increase, in the movement into western agriculture of families from the old country.

Mr. Black who returned just recently from a business trip to the British Isles and the continent was in conference at Edmonton with Lord Lovatt, H. Skevington, of the British Treasury and G. H. Plant of the Overseas settlement board.

Sto my Session of Vancouver Police Commission Yesterday Mayor Calls Fletcher A Liar

VANCOUVER, September 19.—Another stormy session of the Vancouver police commission occurred yesterday morning when Chief Long presented his reorganization plans to the board. Mayor Taylor and Commissioner Fletcher engaged in an argument, the mayor finally calling Fletcher a liar.

Chief Long submitted names of eight members of the force for superannuation, including Deputy Chief Leatherdale, Senior Inspector D. D. McIntosh, and Inspector John Jackson. No dismissals were recommended.

"Personally I think Detective Joe Ricci should be let out. It is no use reorganizing the force if we are going to keep sore-heads on," Mayor Taylor commented.

"What about Detective Sergeant George McLaughlin?" asked Fletcher.

The discussion proceeded, developing into hot words.

"Well, you won't be on the board next year and we'll have no more open town," Commissioner Fletcher said.

"Dam you, Fletcher," the mayor came back. "You are a liar if you say I favor an open town."

WOODBINE MINE IS NOT SO GOOD

Engineer Who Examined It Says It Is Only a Prospect With No Commercial Ore.

VANCOUVER, Sept. 19.—Directors of the Woodbine mine of Stewart made public today the report of the engineer who recently examined the company's property. While the report has been very disappointing to the directors they state that they still feel optimistic as to the future of the property. The report says in part:

"There is no commercial ore exposed in the underground workings on this property and there are no surface exposures that show more than a reasonable possibility of further prospecting demonstration the presence of commercial ore. Occurrence of gold and silver values in the workings combined with the structural possibilities outlined in the body of our report is justification for the recommendation that this property should be thoroughly prospected. We recommend that the directors provide a sum of approximately $50,000 to be expended at the rate of $5,000 a month to cover the cost of the prospecting program. A further sum of $100,000 should be available for development if results of the preliminary work warrant this further expenditure."

ALL BASEBALL FOR THE FAIR

Suggestion Made for Consideration of Next Year's Board.

"No game has ever drawn the crowds in Prince Rupert like baseball," declared a baseball player and fan to a Daily News representative, "and I am sure if the fair board featured the game next year to the exclusion of all others, holding the Northern B. C. championship games here, they would come out on the right side of the ledger."

"Yes, Prince Rupert can raise a good ball team any day," he declared in answer to a question. "There are plenty of good baseball players in the city and all that is needed is to spend a little money in organizing the final series here during fair week. Teams could be brought here from Ketchikan, Ocean Falls, Prince George and Anyox and a week of baseball would prove the greatest drawing card the fair could have."

BOOKIES WILL BE SUPERCEDED

Totalisators under Pari-Mutuel System to Take Their Place in Britain

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Next season will see a startling innovation on the historic race courses of Britain. The bookmakers will be put into secondary positions by the Totalisators, which are to be introduced as soon as possible, perhaps during the winter steeplechase racing. The bookmakers will probably be allotted certain positions on the course but the main "business" will undoubtedly go to the machines. Against this the "bookies" are putting up a strong protest.

The government has just appointed a Betting Control Board under the act passed during the summer to enable the use of the Totalisators. It is composed of Sir Rigenald Blair, chairman, Major Sir Percy Simmons; Sir Iain Colquhoun; Hon. Alexander Parker; Viscount D'Abernon; Lord Hamilton of Dalzell; The Earl of Ellesmere; Sir William McLintock; Hon. Gilbert Johnstone; Brigadier-General Sir Loftus Bates; W. E. Fry.

All eyes are now on the finish of the big league baseball schedules which terminate at the end of next week. Then will come the big annual world series the following week, possibly the greatest sport event of the year on this continent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Connie Mack's pennant hopes appear to be about ready to take wing. The Athletics ran into disaster at Cleveland yesterday. Meanwhile the Yankees staggered in drunken fashion to

SPORT CHAT

It seems fitting that Ty Cobb for many years the idol of the Big League baseball field and, after all is said and done, probably still the best known and most popular figure on the diamond, should choose to close his long career with just such a climatic campaign as he is now helping the Philadelphia Athletics to fight in this hectic eleventh hour struggle for the American League pennant. And, if the Mackmen do capture the flag, who will say that the Georgia Peach—whom many experts will call the greatest baseball player of all time—was not one of the biggest factors, though not so fiery as he used to be in his younger days and Cobb is over forty now, in bringing that long awaited honor to Philadelphia? It has been a quieter Cobb and not such a brilliant one that has played with the Athletics these past two seasons but at times there have been flashes of the old fire which was his in the heyday of his career when he was so long with the Detroit Tigers.

The curtain is to ring down on Ty Cobb at the end of this season as a professional baseball player but his memory will go marching on for many years and he will continue to be the ideal of many a youth to come in the game. Only the other day the writer happened along a reference to Cobb in a biography running in one of the large periodicals. He had just been drafted from the bushes and it so happened he was playing in his first World Series game. He was so excited that he could not see the ball and muffed it every time he came to bat. But it was not so long before he collected his sang-froid and came to be known as one of the most resolute and coolest hitters the great American pastime has ever known.

MANUAL TRAINING AND DOMESTIC SCIENCE IN SCHOOLS

By actual test it has been shown that school pupils who devote half the school day to manual training or other technical work and the remainder to their other studies make just as good progress as those who devote the whole day to book work. Even if this were not true, and it may not be in all cases, the importance of manual training and household economy is so great that some of the other subjects could well be eliminated in order to give them more time. We are glad to back up those who petitioned for continuance of the manual training and domestic science work in the High School. J. C. Brady laid the case well before the school trustees at their board meeting Monday night and deserves every support from those who wish to see progress instead of retrogression.

The department of education lays down clearly that where there is a manual training department the subject shall be compulsory for the two lower grades and of course optional with the others. As a matter of fact it would be a great thing to continue it all through the school instead of cutting off those already entitled to it.

ARGUMENT AGAINST

The chief argument used against the manual subjects is that it interferes with the other studies. In answer to this one is tempted to reply that the other studies interfere with manual training and domestic science and if either is to go it should be the other subjects. Some of them, at any rate, are nothing like as useful in after life and their cultural and development effect is not so great as is often claimed. It is suggested by some educationalists that in the course of a few years it is possible the heads of the public schools will be those skilled in the manual arts and men and women unable to teach those subjects may be relegated to lower places or excluded altogether. This may be an extreme view but it indicates the growing importance of manual work in the education of young people.

PRACTICAL ILLUSTRATION

Why do country children so often make better records than those in the city? Because they are apt to become skilled in manual work, developing the hand and eye and practical judgment while at the same time carrying on their regular school work.

When manual training and domestic science were introduced there were people who considered themselves so highbrow that they objected to their children learning to be carpenters or cooks. Today the work is so much esteemed that the best people consider those not so trained as under a very serious social handicap.

COST IS NOT LARGE

When it is considered that the greater part of the cost of an extra instructor in each of those departments is borne by the provincial government and that only a small amount has to be paid by the city, it is plain that there is no good reason why Prince Rupert High School pupils should be deprived of the advantages of manual training and household economy and thus be handicapped in the race in future. If it was good for those who passed through last year it is good for those now attending. Parents are realizing this and object to their children being deprived of the work. They want them to grow up fully developed in a scholastic way and this cannot be done without the two most important subjects in the school, manual training and domestic science.

WOMAN'S MINE PROVING RICH

Mrs. D. Stevens of Hyder, Owner of Melvin Property on Marmot, Went South Yesterday

Mrs. D. Stevens of Hyder, owner of the Melvin group on the north fork of Marmot River, was a passenger aboard the Catala yesterday for Seattle, accompanied by her son, Melvin Mathu. A strike of major importance has just been made on the Melvin property, an assay certificate on samples of same showing 937 ounces of silver per ton with galena, grey copper and some zinc. The samples were taken from a well defined vein of between seven and eight feet in width, situated in the upper portion of the Melvin Syndicate property at 500 feet from the Eureka claim belonging to the Prosperity group which is now being developed by Premier. The vein has been traced for about 250 feet and stripped for about half this distance. At its lower end it crosses into Porter-Idaho ground.

The management is so well pleased with the showing that it has decided to continue to work on it through the winter and material is now being accumulated for construction of winter quarters immediately. In the meantime, drifting on the ore is continuing with a view to getting under the moraine which prevents further prospecting. An ore shed is to be built at once and 2,000 ore sacks have been taken up the hill.

MOUNTAIN BOY IS EXAMINED

W. J. Trethewey Went South Yesterday After Making Minute Inspection of Stewart Property

W. J. Trethewey, managing engineer of the Red Top mine, was aboard the Catala yesterday afternoon returning south after having spent the past week at Stewart making a thorough examination of the Mountain Boy mine on behalf of the Pat Daly Development Co. of Montreal which recently turned down four attractive offers for the property and decided, instead, to develop and operate the mine themselves.

Work is continuing on the high grade vein at the Mountain Boy and it is probable that a contract for winter development will be let. It is Pat Daly's intention to ship eighteen or twenty tons of ore this fall. A camp has been built close to the present workings. The mountain is very steep but a safe place has been found for this camp. The property is located up American Creek.

Man in the Moon

Those who think themselves so independent that they cannot be swayed by the multitude would scarcely dare to grow whiskers, would they?

Size is not everything. Among things that lose their charm as they increase in size are rosebuds, children, and heads.

Jake asks why men like dumb girls. Couldn't say, Jake. Most of the girls I know are anything but dumb. It's hard to get a word edgeways.

When the Eskimos have a party in November they do not usually sing "We Won't Go Home Till Morning." There is a reason as old man Post says.

Usually the worst slam a girl could get would be to be told she was "just like her dad."

LUMBERING
1926 PRODUCTION
Increase 1916-1926 138.7%

Our leading Industry

WHEN 38c. of every dollar paid in industrial wages and salaries in British Columbia comes from lumbering, her ten-year production increase of 138.7 per cent. is vitally important to everyone.

Thirty per cent. of our Province's entire industrial production of 251 million dollars in 1926 was contributed by lumbering and its allied industries. British Columbia now ranks third in the Dominion in industrial importance, and forest products dominate.

Involved in British Columbia's lumbering industry is capital of more than 100 million dollars . . . 20,000 people are employed . . . 330 mills operated.

Without question this gigantic business is destined to continue at the same pace.

Climate, soil and drainage have produced our vast forests of soft woods . . . the greatest in the world! One-third of the British Empire's entire timber supply is in British Columbia. Today, the demand for soft woods is four times that of hard woods . . . and with the last great stand of soft woods located in our Province, continued progress and prosperity are certain.

Great as our timber stands are, our government realizes the necessity of safeguarding the future of this vast industry and is devoting much time, study and thought to the question of scientific reforestation, fire prevention and conservation.

Lumbering brought 84 million dollars to British Columbia in 1926 (the value of the cut that year), an increase of 49 million dollars over 1916. Every year more than 30 million dollars worth of supplies are purchased to enable this great industry to carry on.

Foreign markets have been sought . . . and captured. Water borne export of lumber has enjoyed exceptional growth. Ships laden with 2,616,419,000 feet board measure left our ports during 1922-1926 . . . an increase over the period of 1912-1916 equal to 98%. The log scale jumped 111% during the same period!

This activity represents real money in constant circulation. It keeps thousands of men busy . . . influences every phase of commercial life . . . builds markets for our farm products . . . spells "BRITISH COLUMBIA" the world over!

Add to this the sash and door factories, and pulp and paper production, which alone jumped from $15,450,000 in 1916 to $72,327,000 in 1926, and you have an idea of the enormous importance and far reaching influence which this, our chief provincial enterprise, is bound to exercise on the welfare and earnings of each and every citizen.

Read these announcements and understand your province's progress . . . clip them out and send them to friends. If you desire extra copies of these announcements a note to this newspaper will bring them. Advertise your Province!

Labor Delegation at Victoria Asks for Control by Department and Less Home Work

VICTORIA, Sept. 18.—Control of text book prices by the Department of Education, greater standardization of the books, and possible distribution of the books by the school authorities themselves, were points urged on the City School Board by a delegation from the Trades and Labor Council.

The delegation asked support for the suggestion that text books be purchased wholesale by the educational authorities and distributed at the actual cost of handling; that fewer changes be made in the text of the books from time to time, so that new books would not become obsolete and useless within a single season; that homework be reduced or eliminated wherever possible; and that school boundaries as set be rigidly adhered to in the placing of students.

Speaking about homework, the delegation thought six hours in school and two hours homework too long in one day for a student, in the interests of health. Either all the work should be done at school, or else the homework portions should be lightened considerably, they suggested.

Matter Discussed With Lord Lovat at Conference With Government

VICTORIA, Sept. 18.—In a conference yesterday between members of the government and Lord Lovat, under secretary of state for the dominions, regarding settlement of Britishers on land in British Columbia, the government offered fullest co-operation in the plan when it advanced to a tangible stage.

Premier Tolmie explained the situation as it presented itself to him and members of the government. He called attention to the fact that the government had recently taken over power and was not in a position to present a scheme along the lines suggested. He promised that as soon as the proposal of Lord Lovat reached anything like shape, the province would be ready to meet the proposition and devise a plan along which it would proceed.

A WIDE APPEAL

AS AN ADVERTISING MEDIUM

As an advertising medium the Prince Rupert Daily News has a wide appeal. Not only is it read by the people of Prince Rupert, many of whom look to it for mercantile guidance, but it reaches out to the country districts where its arrival is awaited with eagerness. The mining camps and the towns of the interior look to it for the first news of the outside world.

Prince Rupert people who wish to reach the surrounding districts find there is only one medium, that of the Daily News. It is better and cheaper than any other advertising medium and can be depended upon to bring results if anything can.

Past and Present

In the past when only about 1500 papers were being sold, advertisers in the Daily News claimed they got good results from outside points as well as in the city. During the present year the circulation has increased over a thousand, and the appeal to advertisers is consequently that much the wider.

Wisdom of Advertising to Keep Goods Moving

Very few merchants seem to realize the cumulative effect of advertising. Every new customer secured is worth a great deal and this new customer becomes an advertiser for others, if he is well treated. The newspaper not only brings customers direct but prepares the way for the spread of business by personal contact.

The advertising manager will be pleased to talk this matter over with prospective advertisers and show them the newspaper's mailing list.
